

She is a ceo Chapter 243

“Julia ...” Kane could not think of anything else now but to call Juliana’s name softly.

Juliana was silent for a while, then suddenly her eyes lit up and she proposed, “How about this? Kane, let’s run away together. Take the baby and run far away. I can escape this time. When we settle down, I will find an opportunity later to explain to my parents. For Lucia, I will think of a way to revenge!”

As long as Arthur can not test the baby’s DNA, he can not determine whether she cheated him. In this case, even if she left, Arthur dared not feel free to get back together with Lucia. And that was what Juliana hoped, but she did not expect that Kane refused.

“Julia, we can’t do this ...” Kane didn’t dare tell Juliana that Poppy was here at this moment and well right beside him.

Kane was serving Poppy dinner when Juliana called just now, and she was staring at him while she was eating.

In the end, Kane still couldn’t be bothered to leave Poppy behind.

“Why?” Juliana asked and was disappointed on the other end of the phone.

Kane could not think of an excuse to answer Juliana for a while, and when he was silent, Poppy, who had been listening to him on the phone, said loudly, whether intentionally or unintentionally, “Why do you have to take so long to talk on the phone?” The sound reached Juliana’s ears clearly through the phone.

“Kane!” Juliana’s heart fluttered. The voice was all too familiar to her, and she questioned sternly, “You are with Poppy?”

Kane panicked and glared at Poppy. As he just wanted to say something, Poppy came closer instead. Seeing that she was about to speak, Kane anxiously hung up the phone directly.

“Poppy, what are you doing!?” Taking the phone behind her back, Kane asked Poppy angrily, who had clearly just made a sound on purpose!

Seeing Kane hang up, Poppy retreated back to the seat in a leisurely manner, picked up a fork and forked up a piece of toast, snorting coldly, “Don’t you dare leave me behind.”

Just now Poppy had been watching Kane. What he said the so-called confession was naturally heard by her. Poppy was not willing to see that the trap she set would be exposed easily.

“Didn’t I say I wouldn’t?” Kane’s mind was in turmoil, wondering how Juliana would feel when she heard Poppy’s voice. And he had even hung up on her, but the situation didn’t allow him to call back immediately.

Poppy looked askance at Kane, did not deny and never gave up the idea of using Juliana. Anyway, as long as Juliana was still ruthless to Lucia, she had a chance to turn the table.

Seeing that Poppy didn’t listen to him, Kane sighed deeply and rubbed between his eyebrows in distress. Now, what should he do?

On the other hand, Juliana stared in awe at the phone that had a busy tone. She could not believe that Kane had hung up just like that and Poppy was obviously right next to him.

Kane never said to her that Poppy was with him ...

Did it mean...?

With countless speculations and doubts, Juliana was so annoyed that she viciously slammed the phone to the floor. The phone hit the floor with a sharp sound, which immediately woke up the baby in the crib.

“Yah ...” The loud baby cries immediately resounded throughout the room. Juliana was anxious time at this time. The baby’s cry was undoubtedly increasing the speed of her emotional collapse.

Juliana glared at the crib, and the baby’s cries continued, interfering with her sanity. For no reason, Juliana walked towards the crib.

“It’s all because of you ...” Juliana’s eyes looked sinister and she muttered, “If it wasn’t for you, I wouldn’t be in such a dilemma now. It’s all because of you...”

When close to the baby, the evil in her heart screamed madly to end everything. “Kill the baby! Kill the baby!” A voice was urging Juliana fiercely.

Juliana listened to the voice and brought her hand to the baby’s neck. Just at the moment of going to strangle, a sharp voice woke her up from her hysteria.

“Julia! What are you doing!”

That was Kayla’s voice. Kayla can not rest assured. It was already at night. Juliana was still in the room so Kayla found a key to come in to see the situation. She did not expect to just enter the door to see Juliana’s strange look. Her hands had reached the baby’s neck. She shouted and rushed to Juliana. Then she pushed Juliana away and carried the baby who was still crying into the arms.

Kayla’s scream attracted Robert and Arthur’s attention. When they approached the room, they saw Kayla holding the baby and looking at Juliana in horror, while Juliana was bewildered.

“Robert, Julia is trying to hurt the baby.” As soon as she saw Robert, Kayla rushed over and shielded the baby while telling her husband about the scene she had just seen.

That was when Juliana really came to her senses. She was blinking and asking in confusion, “What was I doing?”

Arthur saw the scene in front of him and was also heartbroken. He did not think he would drive Juliana to such a point. There were always news about women who had postpartum depression, did self-harm and even harmed their own children. Then, he hesitated.

“Julia, why do you have to do this?” Arthur said with a sigh.

“Kayla, take the baby away first.” Robert, sensing the severity of the disorder, asked his wife to take his grandson away first and waited until they had left before addressing Juliana.

“Julia, I remember you are not such a fragile person. Why can’t we discuss properly? Why you have to make it like this?”

Robert’s words were full of a father’s love for his daughter and helplessness. Juliana heard his words and her tears immediately flowed down. She fell limp on the floor, remembered that just now she actually gave birth to the idea of wanting to hurt the baby, and even started to act. If not for her mother to stop in time, that baby ...

Covering her face and crying out loud, Juliana really broke down.

Robert was so distraught that he went over and helped his daughter up. Juliana fell into his arms and cried in a hoarse voice.

“Dad, I don’t want to, I don’t want to ...”

Robert hugged his daughter with bitterness in his heart.

Arthur didn't feel good either. He thought for a while and spoke to Juliana, "Julia, I don't force you. The DNA test thing is over. You can choose. I will not force it."

Juliana raised her teary eyes to look at Arthur. In the blur, she seemed to see Arthur when he was young. Every time she did something wrong, he would always appear by her side, telling her that with him, everything would be fine.

It turned out that Arthur hadn't changed, but what about her?

In an instant, goodness drove away the evil in her heart, and Juliana's eyes regained their clarity.
