

She is a ceo Chapter 305

Lucia's unspoken stubbornness was clearly aimed at him, but Spencer could even have the idea of admiration, and even thought she was so cute.

Leaning down slightly and stopping at an ambiguous angle, Spencer deliberately turned his head to the side, and sprinkled the breath he exhaled in Lucia's ear, saying,

"Lucia, whether you want to admit it or not, we're going to be couple-to-be soon. I don't want you to treat me indifferently all the time."

"I'm not indifferent," Lucia frowned to avoid Spencer, and answered without hesitation, "It's disgust!"

The smile on Spencer's face faded by Lucia's words. This was the first time Lucia expressed her thoughts so bluntly, which made Spencer very unhappy.

"Disgust?" Spencer raised his voice a little, stared at Lucia and asked, "Everything I do now, which one isn't for you?"

"For me?" Lucia really wanted to laugh. She looked back at Spencer fearlessly and said, "Are you doing it for your own selfish desires? You don't want Arthur to be better than you. You deliberately target him. In order to cling to Esmee, you pay court to me frequently. I would like to ask, if I don't have Esmee behind me, will you take care of me like this? If Esmee's goddaughter is another woman, would it be me who you stop today? "

Spencer was left speechless by Lucia's question, because he knew in his heart that he couldn't give her a satisfactory answer.

"But Arthur is not. No matter who I am, no matter what status I have, the person he loves is me. No interest is involved. There is no reason. The person he loves is only me. Spencer, you are no match for him!” Lucia didn’t show any sympathy, and when she spoke out about her feelings for Arthur, she also told Spencer of his own despicableness.

After listening to Lucia’s words, Spencer showed an annoyed expression in front of her for the first time. Being so belittled by the woman he liked, no man would be able to bear it. He said in a cold voice,

“Lucia, it hurts me to talk like that, you know? I’m not as good as Arthur? Arthur abandoned you because of a few words from his childhood friends. Have you forgotten? I’m the only one who is really good to you. I fell in love with you when I first saw you, and everything I did after returning was for you. Even if you don’t agree with what I did, you can’t completely deny my dedication to you!”

Lucia ignored the shackles on her arm. She sneered, looked Spencer in the eyes and said,

“Spencer, the person you dedicate for is Esmee. Everything you do is to win over the connection with her. Don’t talk about your selfish desires so high-sounding. I’m not a three-year-old girl. I won’t recognize whatever you say!”

Spencer frowned tightly. Why was Lucia just unwilling to believe his feelings for her? For her, he had quarreled with his father before. He was unwilling, unwilling that Lucia misunderstood him like this!

Without even thinking about it, Spencer obeyed a man’s most primitive desire to conquer, lowered his head and wanted to kiss Lucia, but unfortunately, his brain went blank and he forgot about Lucia’s skills.

Before his lips could touch Lucia, Spencer only felt his arms were grabbed, and he fell to the ground. When he came to his senses, he was shocked that he had been thrown by Lucia over her shoulder and fell to the ground.

A loud bang attracted Ewan, and the scene suddenly became extremely embarrassing.

“Are you alright?!” Ewan saw him fall to the ground, and hurried over to help him, but was slapped off by Spencer who stood up by himself.

“Lucia, don’t go too far!” Finally, Spencer burst into anger at Lucia.

Lucia withdrew her hand, with a chilling air all over her body, and she said coldly, “Spencer, before you do anything to me, you should also weigh yourself. Don’t always treat an utterly worthless thing like an order from on high. I will naturally explain to Esmee. It’s absolutely impossible for you to get engaged with me! Perish your thought!”

This time Lucia didn’t give Spencer any chance to keep her stay, and she turned around and walked away.

Ewan saw this posture. How dare he step forward to persuade her? He could only feel sorry for Spencer, and asked him, “Are you really all right?”

“Of course not!” Spencer said coldly, throwing his temper on the butler, “Don’t tell my father what happened today. Book me a plane ticket to Chicago right away. I’m going to watch Lucia!”

Perhaps the biggest advantage of Spencer was that he won’t give up easily. If Lucia’s attitude was not so decisive, his desire to conquer would not have been aroused. He stared at the door, and muttered to himself,

“Lucia, wait for me. If I don’t get you, let you obey me, I won’t be called Spencer!”

Lucia came home and felt suffocated. Thinking that she was almost forcibly kissed by Spencer just now, she shook her head, not even wanting to hold the slightest smell he breathed on her body.

As soon as she entered, Lucia saw Arthur sitting on the sofa looking at her.

“Arthur, I’m back...” Lucia knew it was wrong to hide him, and her voice softened a lot.

“Did you go to him?” Seeing Lucia entering the door with a displeased face just now, Arthur immediately guessed why she left home early in the morning.

“Well, I wanted to ask him about Jacob’s whereabouts, but...” Lucia lowered her eyes, like a child who did something wrong.

Arthur stood up and came to Lucia’s side, reached out and raised her chin to make her look at him, and said helplessly, “Since he helped Jacob escape, he would never reveal his whereabouts to you. Why should you go to him to provoke yourself?”

“I’m not willing to see that!” Lucia said indignantly, with light shining in her eyes.

“Don’t worry. I’ll help you find Jacob.” Arthur stroked Lucia’s cheek and promised softly.

“Can you find him?” Lucia asked excitedly with a twinkle in her eyes.

Seeing Lucia’s eyes light up, Arthur smiled slightly and said,

“As long as he appears in USA, I can find him. The Davis family is in a decent business and has never been involved in any underworld affairs. However, in such a complicated environment as USA, we will also know some underworld characters. I will talk about it later. I’ll give my Dad a call.”

She didn’t want to trouble Edwin, but Lucia also wanted to know Jacob’s whereabouts, so she readily accepted Arthur’s advice and thanked him sweetly,

“Arthur, thank you.”
