

She is a ceo Chapter 309

“Then Daphne, come to work tomorrow. I think you have been bored for a long time.” Lucia said to Daphne.

“Okay, I’ll be over tomorrow,” Daphne said cheerfully, and asked again, “Lucia, what is my job?”

“I already have an assistant. Nia, you saw just now, but because she’s from Eduard’s company, she doesn’t know as much about JTP as I do. If you want, do my assistant as well. Help me understand the company situation first. If you want to change positions in the future, just let me know.”

Lucia said generously that she believed that character was more important than ability. Daphne was simple and straightforward, and she was assured of such a girl in any position, not to mention that Daphne was smart and lively, not dull at all.

She can change positions at any time, and she only needed to mention it. This was Lucia’s promise to Daphne, and this promise was what countless people wanted. Daphne was naturally moved when she heard Lucia’s words, and her big eyes were even a little wet..

“Lucia, I really didn’t do anything but you’re so kind to me.”

Lucia stroked Daphne’s arm lightly. The intimacy was self-evident. She said softly, “Daphne, I know your good intentions in your heart. Just accept it and don’t feel embarrassed.”

“Yeah,” Eduard immediately echoed, “Daphne, you deserve it. Don’t be flattered by it, and if you’re not happy at work here, let me know. Jibillion welcomes you too.”

Lucia raised her eyes and looked at Eduard, while Daphne was very grateful. She really didn’t expect that she would be able to meet Lucia and the others because of a trivial matter in this city alone, and they were so kind to her.

How can she get this kind of treatment? Daphne was a sincere girl, and she secretly decided in her heart that she must do her job as an assistant and clear the way for Lucia.

After chatting for a while, Lucia brought Daphne to Nia's seat. She looked at the seating arrangement of the assistant seats, and then said to Nia,

"Nia, this girl is Daphne. From tomorrow onwards, she will return to work as my assistant in the company. From now on, you two will help each other and work as assistants together."

Nia stood up and greeted Daphne with a smile. Just now, she found that Lucia had been looking at the position of the assistant, so she offered to suggest,

"Okay, then I'll arrange Daphne's position today."

Lucia nodded with satisfaction, and then took Daphne back to the office. After they went back, Nia stood in her place. Her eyes fixed on the closed office door.

Nia's heart was very kind, but at this time, seeing Daphne getting the attention of Lucia, she felt very uncomfortable. Daphne used to be Poppy's assistant, and she should be the one who was not valued. When she wanted this position, she had to be cheeky and beg Lucia, but Daphne did it easily. And Lucia treated her so well.

Did she share her work as an assistant?

No matter how kind-hearted people were, they can't help but start thinking wildly under the current situation.

After sitting down, Nia took out her phone and complained to her boyfriend Lennie about it. She thought Lennie would comfort her, but she didn't expect him to think much more than her.

"What does your boss think? Is it because she thinks you are incompetent? Why does she need an additional assistant seat?"

Nia frowned slightly, but she still had Lucia in her heart, so she replied, "Lennie, I don't think Lucia should have such thoughts. She's not that kind of person."

"Nia, the workplace is ever-changing. You can't be as simple as this. You have to be good at speculating about other people's practices and thoughts, so that you can go further and further. Why does Lucia add an assistant for no reason? You have to think about this matter yourself. Only then can we know what to do in the future," said Lennie.

Nia looked at what Lennie sent back, and felt that he was right, but emotionally she didn't want to believe that Lucia was a person with deep scheming. In terms of leaving the workplace, Lucia was actually very pure. If there was something wrong with her, she would not express it in this way, but tell herself directly.

However, when replying to Lennie, she still euphemistically said, "Okay, I will pay attention to it in the future."

"Well, remember one thing. In the workplace, you can treat people with your heart. Others may not give you back with sincerity. You have to think more about everything." Lennie taught Nia so.

Nia replied with "okay" to Lennie and then went back to work. She was not very familiar with the situation of JTP. If she wanted to help Lucia and make a difference by her side, she must work harder. Nia believed that she can do it. At least, better than Daphne!

Lucia here didn't know that Nia was thinking so much. After chatting with Daphne for a while, it was almost five o'clock, so she invited Eduard and Daphne to go to Fragnererde Hall for dinner. They were all tense, and it would be nice to relax together.

Daphne was a little embarrassed at first, but Eduard simply agreed, and immediately took out his mobile phone and called Arthur to say that he was going to his house for dinner tonight, and asked him to prepare more meals. The two fought on the phone. When he opened his mouth, Daphne saw that they were so familiar. It would be bad if she was shy, so she happily agreed.

At five o'clock, Lucia left with Eduard and Daphne, and asked Nia something when passing by the assistant seat, while Eduard was teasing Daphne, saying that Arthur's house must be empty tonight. Nia also heard it. She nodded and followed Lucia's instructions, but kept glancing at Daphne who was smiling sweetly.

Her smile was a little annoying.

After explaining the work, the three people left JTP. Unexpectedly, they saw Arthur's phantom parked on the side of the road as soon as they went out. Eduard whistled frivolously and joked,

"Mr. Davies is coming by rocket?"

Lucia gave Eduard a sideways glance and walked towards Arthur's car. Arthur saw his beloved woman in the distance and got out of the car to meet her.

"Lucia, I've told Julia and Kane that we have guests tonight, and we'll go back now."

"Yeah." Lucia answered and got into Arthur's car. Eduard deliberately led Daphne into the car, but was immediately blocked by Arthur.

"Mr. Burton, where's your car?" Arthur asked Eduard, smiling.
