

She is a ceo Chapter 331

“Start from the beginning, everything.” Seeing Kane’s confession, Juliana bit her lower lip and stared at Kane, saying she wanted to know the truth.

Not only Juliana, but everyone, was looking at Kane.

Kane lowered his head, squeezed his hands. When he looked up again, he had a determination to give up everything and began to say,

“It was a coincidence that I met you. I met you in Kenya at the time, and I knew you and Arthur have a close relationship, so I told Poppy the news. She asked me to induce you to follow me back to visit Arthur, and then arrange for you to meet her first before meeting Lucia.”

“She told me, you used your rich family background to rob her boyfriend Jacob. After you married him, you didn’t trust him, so you asked your father to make a will. Whoever cheated in marriage, the property will belong to the other. But even with this will, you still hooked up with other men, and on your wedding anniversary, you were kicked out of the Webbex Group because you were caught cheating. Many years later, you came back with your child and used Arthur to take back the Webbex Group.”

Juliana asked Kane to speak first, and then added to Lucia what she had seen and heard, so as to restore the whole thing.

“Kane, is Poppy right?” Lucia turned to Kane without defending directly.

“It’s all made up by Poppy herself. The truth at the time was that Poppy coveted the Webbex Group’s family business, so she let Jacob approach you, and then she made you to sleep with ... Arthur. It was also a coincidence that you were successfully kicked out. Webbex Group, but Poppy didn’t expect you to come back with Arthur’s kid,” Kane answered honestly.

Juliana bit her lower lip even harder when she heard these words. The truth turned out to be the opposite of what she imagined.

“Julia, you are so talented. Why did you trust Poppy so easily? At the very least, you should ask me for proof.” Arthur asked Juliana with a frown, and the others looked at her, especially her parents, who didn’t believe her daughter could do this and trusted others easily.

“I didn’t believe it at first. I just wanted to get to know Lucia first and see if she was really like what Poppy said,” Juliana said, looking at Lucia and feeling complicated,

“Poppy said that you are willful and irritable, and you have two faces. The first time I saw you that day, I saw you dismiss an old employee in public, and your words were harsh and ruthless. When facing us, you smiled immediately, and I started to believe Poppy’s words.”

Arthur had an amazing memory. While Lucia was still thinking about whether or not it happened, he recalled,

“Julia, you just saw the surface. The reason why Lucia was so angry that day was because that old employee betrayed the company for a little benefit, and asked Lucia to let him go by relying on his family members. Lucia was angry because he had no sense of responsibility...”

So that was what happened... Juliana watched Lucia’s slight nodding movement, and guilt had begun to creep up in her heart.

“No wonder you always have inexplicable hostility towards me. I thought it was because my past was not graceful. I didn’t want Arthur’s most important friend to misunderstand, so I tried my best to be nice to you. Now when I think about it, what I did had another purposes in your eyes.” Lucia said with a self-deprecating smile.

The guilt in Juliana’s eyes had already confirmed Lucia’s guess.

“Poppy noticed Julia was starting to dislike Lucia too, and used this to come between you,” Kane continued,

“The reason Julia fell into the trap is actually because of you,” he looked at Arthur. “What Poppy has been suggesting to Julia is that Lucia is using you to take back the Webbex Group.”

Arthur looked at Juliana with complicated feeling. The friendship was too important for him to repay, and now he was exhausted by it.

“I was so sure that Lucia was using you,” Juliana said with a wry smile. “So I made things difficult for her in secret. Lucia...sorry.”

With her apology, Juliana revealed her guilt to Lucia without reservation.

Kayla and Robert also looked at Lucia with guilt, conveying silent apologies for their daughter, while Lucia shook her head gently and said generously, “It’s all Poppy’s fault. I don’t blame you. What’s next?”

Lucia wanted to know what happened next.

“If you’re just trying to stop me from being with Lucia, Julia, why were you doing this?” Arthur knew it wasn’t that simple.

Juliana glanced at the people present and continued,

“At first, I really just wanted to verbally dissuade you from being with Lucia. If I really couldn’t, I could seek help from your parents. Until that time, I saw Lucia pestering Jacob at a dinner party, and Poppy was there at the time. She said she had already found out that Lucia was still stalking Jacob behind her back, and Lucia hooked up with her boss Eduard. From that time on, I felt that dissuasion had no effect.”

“Pestering Jacob?” Arthur asked and turned his head to Lucia because he really didn’t know about it.

Lucia recalled it just now and remembered it, so she said,

“I was estranged from you because of Esmæ. Jacob asked me to meet him at that time, and let the paparazzi revealed it. Later, you had a car accident. I went to Jacob that night to warn him. Julia, when you saw Jacob and I, we definitely had no intimate behaviors, right?”

“No, I couldn’t hear what you were talking about at the time, but I could probably see that you were holding Jacob back. And Poppy kept urging me. I...” Juliana was angry. It turned out she was completely under Poppy’s control.

“Because of this, Poppy instigated Julia to plan a conspiracy at the charity event.” Kane lowered his eyes, being regretful.

“Details of this matter. I want to know every detail!” This matter was the key. Arthur said in a deep voice, with a gleam in his eyes.

Juliana nodded and began,

“At that time, you were going on a business trip. After I told Poppy about it, she said that this was the best time to test Lucia’s loyalty to you. Before leaving, she gave me a small packet of hallucinogens, saying that it would make Lucia temporarily unconscious. When Eduard went to the room to find Lucia, they will definitely have a sex... Then I will expose on the spot, and there will be no possibility between you and Lucia to be together.”
