

She is a ceo Chapter 417

Lennie didn't answer. He glanced down at Nia, then pushed her away and got up. Nia looked at him and was a little bewildered.

"I'm sorry. I just missed you too much just now. Did it affect your work?" Lennie said to Nia as he put his clothes on.

Nia shook her head. She didn't care if it affected her work now. What she cared about was, "Lennie, are you leaving?"

The lingering after the romance hadn't subsided, and Nia's cheeks were still blushing. She wondered why Lennie was leaving soon.

"Well, the company still has some business to deal with. We're going out for a candlelight dinner tonight, so you get dressed up." Lennie glanced at Nia and said. By this time he was all dressed.

Nia frowned. What she enjoyed most after every sex was the intimacy of the two snuggling together. At this time, Lennie's behavior made her feel that he was just trying to vent his lust. Because of this kind of thinking, Nia questioned Lennie, which was rare. She got out of bed and took Lennie's arm softly and said,

"Lennie, I'm back from leave now. Can't you stay with me more?"

Hearing this, Lennie frowned, stared at Nia for a while with some displeasure, and finally controlled her breath and said, "Nia, you should be more sensible. I am the director of the company, and the affairs to be dealt with are definitely not like you to take a leave. Babe, wait for me to get off work."

Nia felt even more uncomfortable after listening to Lennie's words. She ran back because of his one phone call. Can't he do the same for her?

“Lennie, don’t you think this is a little unfair?” Nia couldn’t help complaining.

“It’s not fair?” Lennie raised his brows instantly and looked down at Nia. After Nia showed timidity, he said in a deep voice,

“It is impossible to be fair between you and me. We have different identities, and we have to face different people and things. Just like you can take leave with Lucia and come back at will. I can’t neglect clients casually. Otherwise I will lose millions dollars. We are not on the same level. Naturally someone has to pay more. Nia, I thought you had this kind of awareness long ago.”

It was the first time that Nia knew the gap between her and Lennie so clearly. Yes, she was just an assistant, and he was the director of a large company. There was a chance to get close to him. Why was she still so dissatisfied?

Nia thought to herself.

Lennie continued, “That’s why I hope you continue to study with Lucia. Her ability is really good. When you have learned enough self-discipline and skill from her, when you come to me, you think there will be people who will question you?”

“I see, Lennie. I will definitely listen to you and will live up to your expectations!” Nia’s eyes firmly responded to Lennie’s “expectations”.

Lennie smiled slightly, stroked Nia’s cheek and said, “That’s good. Okay, I’ll go back first. Wait for me.”

“Okay.” Nia replied sweetly. All the unwillingness and complaints disappeared, and she even felt that she was cherished by Lennie in his heart.

Lennie left. Nia didn't continue to rest, but got up to take a shower, put on clothes and rushed back to the company. She wanted to show herself well in front of Lucia.

When she returned to the company, the high-level meeting had already ended. Daphne was in Lucia's office doing the summary of today's meeting. When Nia arrived, she knocked on the door without seeing her at her seat.

"Nia, don't you have something important to do?" Lucia asked her when she saw Nia come back.

"It's done. I don't want to delay work, so I'm back right away." Nia answered eloquently.

Lucia nodded to her approvingly, but she didn't say anything as she expected, but said, "Then you can go out and do other things first. Let Daphne do the summary of the meeting."

"Lucia, I arranged the process of this meeting, and I prepared the content of the meeting. It may be more comprehensive for me to summarize." Nia did not listen to Lucia, but put forward her own opinions. She was not willing that after she prepared it herself so long, Daphne finally took the credit.

Daphne had long wanted to ease the tense relation with Nia. When she heard what she said, she quickly expressed her opinion to Lucia, "Lucia, Nia is right. She knows the content of the meeting better than me. It is better for her to summarize."

Lucia looked at Daphne and Nia again. After thinking for a while, she nodded and said, "Okay, then let Nia do it. Daphne, go and contact President Leblanc for me. I will visit him in the afternoon."

"Okay." Daphne replied sweetly, returned the information to Nia and walked out happily. She thought Nia would forgive her for this.

But Daphne didn't expect that it would be fine if she didn't speak up just now. After she spoke up to persuade Lucia, she made Nia feel that she gave her the credit she should have received, and she minded it more.

"Nia, let's get started." Seeing Nia frowning and not saying a word, Lucia reminded her. Nia came back to her senses and started to work. But when summarizing the meeting, because she did not participate in the second half of the meeting, she had difficulties in doing this job. Looking at Lucia's occasional frown, Nia hated Daphne even more!

After finally finishing the meeting summary, Lucia didn't blame Nia for anything, but Nia was grumpy herself. She showed her displeasure to Daphne when she got out of the office and returned to her seat.

Daphne found that Nia's face didn't look good, and she seemed to be in a very unhappy mood. Although she was afraid that she said too much, she couldn't help but care,

"Nia, what's wrong?"

"How dare you say it!" Nia threw the document on the table angrily, glared at Daphne and said,

"Who told you to push the summary to me just now? You knew I didn't participate in the whole meeting. The meeting summary would definitely be bad. You did that on purpose. You wanted me to make a fool of myself in front of Lucia?!"

Daphne was immediately full of grievances, and she whispered while compressing her lips, "Didn't you just propose it yourself to do the meeting summary?"

Daphne's words sounded like irony in Nia's ears. She stood up and pointed at Daphne and cursed,

“Don’t pretend to be innocent here! Is self-recommendation same with you pushing it on purpose? I’ve had enough of you. You’re in this position because of your relation with Lucia. What can you do other than pretend to be innocent?”

Daphne had always been afraid of other people’s thoughts before, but she was really serious at work. She had never pretended to be innocent. Half of Nia’s work was done for her. Why did she still accuse her like this?