

She is a ceo Chapter 444

“Esmae, where is Teddy now?!” Edwin asked Esmae immediately.

Esmae covered her face and cried. When she heard Edwin’s voice, she tried her best to suppress her emotions. She choked and replied,

“Now Teddy has received chemotherapy in the medical center and is being taken care of by my husband. However, the effect of the drug treatment has not been obvious in the past two days. The doctor proposed to perform autologous hematopoietic stem cell transplantation as soon as possible, but if it does not work, allogeneic hematopoietic stem cells transplantation should be considered. That is, bone marrow replacement. It requires relatives matching, so I come to you right away.”

It turned out that was the case. Edwin understood after hearing this. No wonder, no wonder Esmae will take the initiative to contact them. They should have thought that the only person who can make Esmae let go was Theodore, their only grandson...

However, Edwin would rather none of this happened.

At this time, Sophie, who was sitting on the sofa, suddenly leaned on the sofa and sat up straight, and called Edwin weakly and firmly,

“Edwin, get in touch with all your relatives now and get Teddy matched!”

Edwin raised his hand and stroked Sophie’s shoulder. Instead of answering immediately, he asked Esmae, “Does Lucia...know it?”

Sophie frowned. Yeah, did Lucia know it?

Esmæ's expression froze when she heard Lucia's name, and the pain was even more intense. She muttered sadly:

"I haven't dared to tell Lucia... She has suffered so much over the years. Teddy is her only spiritual support. If I let her know that Teddy has this kind of disease... how can she bear it..."

Edwin couldn't help holding Sophie's shoulders tightly when he heard this, and the two looked at each other in misery.

"Lucia is Teddy's mother. She must need to know about it, and any treatment Teddy does afterward will need to be decided by her and Arthur."

After thinking for a moment, Edwin said to Esmæ. From Edwin's point of view, Teddy was the son of Lucia and Arthur. They must immediately stand up bravely to be Theodore's backing and give him the most meticulous care. But in Esmæ's view, that was not what it meant.

"What do you mean?" Esmæ stopped crying, raised her brows, stared at Edwin and asked, "Are you questioning my family's poor care of Teddy?"

"I didn't mean that," Edwin sighed when he saw Esmæ being so stubborn. "Teddy's guardians are his parents first. I just suggested that Lucia and Arthur should be notified first."

"Teddy's guardian is only Lucia !" Esmæ said sternly, "Arthur is just Teddy's biological father."

Esmæ took the initiative to contact Edwin and Sophie for Theodore's disease, not for accepting Arthur! On this point, she will never waver!

Sophie couldn't help frowning when she heard this. She stared at Esmæ and said earnestly,

“Esmæ, are you still saying this now? Arthur is Teddy’s biological father, and he is also a father who loves him. Now that Teddy is sick, are you still obsessed with the misunderstanding?”

Esmæ heard it and stood up. Her tears had dried up. She seemed to be the indifferent woman again, coldly looked at Sophie and said,

“Sophie, don’t get me wrong. I came to you today to find a suitable match for Teddy. You can help or not, but this is different from the grievance between us. For Teddy, I can even kneel down and beg you. But it doesn’t mean I forgive you the Davis family, and it doesn’t mean I accept the identity of Arthur!”

“Teddy is our grandson. As long as we can save him, we are willing to do everything we can. You don’t need to kneel down and beg us!” Edwin’s anger rose. He didn’t expect Esmæ to be so irrational as to cling to old grudges in the face of their grandson’s illness,

“Go back and ask Teddy if he wants his mom and dad to be there when he’s sick!”

” Teddy is still young. He only has a concept of his father, but no specific knowledge, so Arthur is not his indispensable spiritual dependence. I only need Lucia to come back to take care of him.” Esmæ couldn’t listen to Edwin’s words at all, and even thought he was taking the opportunity to make up for the grievances of the year.

“So you still insist on marrying Lucia to Spencer?!” Always knowing that Esmæ was very stubborn, when hearing her stubborn remarks in person, even the always gentle Sophie couldn’t help but get angry.

“That’s right!” Esmæ answered without hesitation, confronted Edwin and Sophie one by one, and did not lose,

“In the face of Teddy’s illness, I can put everything down. But as far as Lucia is concerned, I will never allow her to have anything to do with your son, even if he is Teddy’s biological father!”

“Esmae!” Sophie stood up suddenly, facing Esmae and saying sharply,

“How long are you going to be stubborn!? Back then, Edwin and I were wrong. We fell in love with each other for a long time but kept it from you, but I was also afraid that you would be sad. Back then, when you were so in love with Edwin, I was afraid that it would hurt you by speaking out directly. After we went abroad, we didn’t know your family’s situation at all. I felt very guilty about it, and I desperately prayed for your forgiveness. But you never wanted to see me. After so many years, we have already started our own families and businesses. Do you have to live in hatred? Don’t you want to let go?”

“How can I let go!?” Esmae yelled out of control,

“Have you experienced the despair of losing your father?! Have you ever experienced the guilt of your mother for holding on to death?! You didn’t. Even if you were more honest and told me directly that you and Edwin were together long ago, even if I hated you again, that was just my own business. It won’t hurt my parents!”

Sophie was heartbroken when she heard this. She knew that this was Esmae’s greatest pain and her most guilt.

“Do you dare to tell me to let go?” Esmae didn’t seem to stop being like this. Maybe she had buried her hatred for too long, and it was rare to have such a chance to vent out. She continued to ask,

“I ask you, how can I let go?! You have a wealthy family, how did you ever think about the efforts I made to go abroad, and the price my parents paid for it? You feel guilty? Ask for forgiveness? What’s the use of this? What can you salvage? Why do you think I should forgive you when you know you’re wrong?”

“Enough!” Edwin couldn’t listen anymore. In the final analysis, it was his fault. With a long sigh, he turned to Esmae and said,

“Esm e, how long do you want to trap yourself in hatred? Since you are so obsessed with me and Sophie falling in love with you, then there are some things, I won’t be afraid of hurting your self-esteem to ask you again.”
