

She is a ceo Chapter 450

“Look at you! Why be so polite!” Erik laughed heartily, and patted Arthur on the shoulder.

Edwin and Sophie in the next room heard the movement and went out to check, and just saw this scene.

“Erik, why are you here?!” With Edwin’s temper, after experiencing the public offending, he naturally wouldn’t be nice to him.

“Edwin, we came back specially to match Teddy’s blood type. What? Aren’t we welcome?” Erik smiled and said sarcastically.

It was just a Greek gift!

Edwin snorted coldly, and if Sophie hadn’t pinched his arm, he would have said so.

Sophie was a woman after all. She was more meticulous and her tolerance level was high. She secretly suppressed Edwin and said to Erik and his son with a smile,

“You’re so considerate. Now we have indeed encountered difficulties. There are so many eligible relatives in the family who have not been matched successfully. We are going back to New York to find you. I didn’t expect you to come first. Thank you very much.”

Sophie appreciated and welcomed them if they can save Teddy or not.

“You’re welcome,” Spencer said. “That’s what we should do.”

Erik nodded again and again, and said, "In this case, let's not delay. I also know the doctor in the next hospital, and he happens to be in the laboratory department. Now it's not difficult to find him for testing."

"Dad, we just got off the plane... this..." Spencer frowned slightly.

"What are you talking about? Do you know how anxious your uncle and his family are now? It's not a problem for us to be tired for a while. It needs to be done immediately!" Erik immediately scolded his son.

"Yes, I see." Spencer immediately bowed his head and apologized.

Erik and Spencer's "truthful love" was both true and false. The Edwin family just watched without saying a word. But seeing Erik's concern, they didn't delay. They decided to go to test together later. After they waited for Spencer and Erik to get a room at a hotel first and put down their luggage, they went back to Arthur's room together.

"Lucia, did you hear that just now?" Arthur asked Lucia as soon as he entered the small living room.

Lucia frowned slightly, nodded and said, "Well, I heard it, but something is wrong."

"I feel the same way," Edwin agreed. "Erik and Spencer are definitely not the kind of people who would come all the way back to save Teddy. They don't have that kind of character."

"You're right," Lucia added,

"It stands to reason that Esmée first found out about Teddy's condition. Without us coming forward, she would naturally inform Erik and his son about it and ask them to match up to save Teddy. But instead of staying in the USA, they used the excuse of knowing the news from other relatives. The motives are not pure, and the play just now was really exaggerated."

In the room just now, Lucia had actually heard the voices of Erik and Spencer. She was just too lazy to go out. After hearing what they said, she felt it even more disgusted, so she simply stayed in the room and pretended not to know anything.

“I think they came back and made it for us to show that they still pay attention to the kinship!” Edwin said it and was dissatisfied.

“Even so,” Sophie said with a sigh, “after all, they have the potential to save Teddy. No matter how impure their motives are, we should treat each other with nice attitude.”

“I can’t be nice when I see Spencer’s face,” Arthur said “willfully”.

“Arthur !” Sophie scolded his son and was slightly annoyed. If it weren’t for the emergency, did he think he would pay attention to Erik and his son?

“Mom, I understand. You don’t have to worry.” Arthur just complained in front of his parents and Lucia. If Erik and his son could really save Teddy, how could he embarrass them?

“Forget it. Let them play whatever they want,” Edwin said. “Our purpose is just for Teddy.”

Half an hour later, the door rang again. It seemed that Erik and his son were ready. Edwin and Sophie got up to open the door. Lucia and Arthur walked behind. Arthur lowered his voice and whispered in Lucia’s ear, “Lucia, don’t talk to Spencer.”

“I know, and I don’t want to talk to him.” Lucia made no secret of her distaste for Spencer.

Arthur was relieved to hear Lucia say that, and the two followed Edwin and Sophie out of the room.

This was the first time Erik saw Lucia. Of course, he had learned about Lucia through other channels earlier. At this time, seeing her haggard but still beautiful face, he finally understood why his son loved her wholeheartedly, even at the expense of himself. But Lucia was really not simple. At first, he thought she was just a merely beautiful lady. After learning about her detailed information, he was surprised that this woman was talented and virtuous, which was really rare.

“You’re Lucia, right? Nice to meet you. I’m Spencer’s father, Erik.” Erik calmly extended his hand to Lucia without caring about the Edwin family.

Almost at the same time, Edwin and Arthur frowned together.

Lucia reached out and shook Erik’s hand lightly, and replied, “Mr. Davies, it’s nice to meet you. Thank you for helping Teddy match.”

The address of “Mr. Davies” made her distant away from Erik. Lucia’s position was very clear. Erik didn’t care, but laughed and talked with Edwin and walked forward. Sophie was by Edwin’s side. Having no alternative, Lucia and Arthur were going to walk with Spencer, but Arthur walked between the two, literally separating Lucia from him.

“Lucia, why didn’t you tell me Teddy is ill?” As defiant as Erik, Spencer ignored Arthur and spoke to Lucia.

Lucia was silent and turned a deaf ear to Spencer’s words.

Spencer smiled and continued, “Lucia, my dad and I came all the way back for Teddy. It’s not good for you to be so indifferent to me.”

Arthur frowned tightly when he heard the words. Lucia grabbed his palm tightly when he was about to speak. Lucia comforted Arthur and then she said coldly,

“Why? Because I never thought you were a kind person.”

Lucia and Arthur both wanted to defend each other. Although Arthur told her not to have any contact with Spencer, Lucia didn't want Arthur to conflict with him.

“Lucia, that's too hurtful for you to say.” Spencer said with an innocent smile.

Lucia turned her head when she heard the words. Her eyes flashed with chill, like the light of judgment, scrutinizing Spencer's falsehood.

“If you're just here to help Teddy, why don't you just go to Chicago and see Esmae? Is it be fun to come back home and play this show?”
