

She is a ceo Chapter 93

Arthur himself was also very confused. The two had not had time to see each other in the past two days. On the phone, Lucia was very concerned about Juliana's condition, but she never mentioned that she would come to the hospital to visit her.

No time?

Juliana sneered in her heart that she didn't dare to come to visit her.

"Arthur, does Lucia dislike me?" Juliana asked Arthur with grievance.

Juliana herself was unconscious. In order to provoke dissension between Arthur and Lucia, she had started to be a bitch, who pretended to innocent, she hated the most.

"Why? She cares about you." Arthur sat down by the bed and spoke for Lucia.

Juliana blinked and continued, "Then why doesn't she come to visit me? No matter how busy she is, she still has time off work, right?"

Arthur was instantly speechless.

"Arthur, I know you love Lucia, but you never thought it was all a coincidence?" Juliana hinted at Arthur cautiously.

"What do you mean?" Arthur asked, frowning.

“I mean what happened between you and Lucia, and that child, how can there be such a coincidence in the world? You met by chance six years ago. She had your child. And five years later, she showed up with her child. Don’t you think things are a little strange in front of you?”

“I don’t really believe in fate, but I believe it’s up to people. Lucia... will she know your identity from the beginning? Now that she returned home with your child. Was it also directly aimed at you?” Juliana carefully said the “fact” she believed.

Her words made Arthur suddenly unhappy, and his brows were deeply wrinkled. He understood the hints in Juliana’s words and said coldly,

“Are you trying to express that Lucia knew my identity from the beginning? And she had a child with me six years ago, and then came back with the child five years later? And wanted to rely on my identity to take back the Webbex Group?”

Juliana saw Arthur’s cold eyes, but didn’t answer because she knew how to behave now.

“My first time with Lucia was purely accidental. She didn’t know I would be in the hotel at the time, and it was impossible to design anything in advance. Besides, she was Jacob’s wife at that time, and JTP Group was in her name. What reason did she have to do this? Not to mention that when she returned to the country with the child, she did not directly approach me. If it were not for the problem of the case, there would be no interaction between me and her at all. Julia, you think too much.”

“I’m just afraid you’ll be used...” Juliana said with grievance when she heard Arthur’s sharp words.

As soon as Juliana did this, Arthur immediately softened his heart. He sat down and began to patiently tell Juliana what Lucia had been through over the years. Although the story was objective, Juliana could hear it with a strong bias.

After listening to Arthur's version which was opposite of what Poppy told her, Juliana didn't say much, but she thought this was what Lucia told him, right? Why she made it up?

From Juliana's point of view, Arthur had been affected by Lucia.

It seemed that it was impossible to verbally persuade and warn Arthur, and she can only rely on Poppy's method, so Juliana said with a relieved look,

"It turns out I am oversensitive."

Hearing Juliana say that, Arthur felt more relieved, smiled at her and said,

"Julia, I know you're worried about me, but after getting along for the past few days, I believe you understand Lucia's personality. She is kind, optimistic, and brave. These qualities are very similar to yours. You are my friend and she is my girlfriend. I hope you can get along well."

"Of course," Juliana replied with a smile, but she was not truly happy.

In the hospital, even though Juliana deliberately delayed her illness, the daily medicine was delivered by the nurse, and Arthur watched her take it. After three days of hospitalization, she was cured and discharged. Just after she was discharged, Juliana asked Poppy out.

Poppy brought Kane to the appointment. She was sensitively aware of Juliana's affection for Kane, and it was more convenient to have him to speak with her.

As soon as the three said hello, Juliana asked straight to the point, "Have you thought of a way?"

Seeing Juliana's anxious look, Poppy laughed in the bottom of her heart. Why? Now it was you who was anxious? On the surface, however, she replied with a feigned concern,

“Not yet, Lucia is very clever. You know Mr. Davies is so committed to her now that you have to take a risk to separate them.”

“Take a risk?” Juliana raised her eyebrows and asked Poppy. She was pure after all, and she actually didn’t like Poppy’s scheming way of speaking.

“Yes, take a risk,” Poppy’s eyes looked sinister, and she said solemnly, “Mr. Davies just doesn’t realize that he is being used. If he is shown photo of Lucia entangles with another men, I believe he will awake.”

“Is it safe?” Juliana was skeptical, and Lucia was very shrewd. Maybe it was over with a few quibbles.

“So this photo can’t be too ordinary...” Poppy showed a smile and had actually planned a conspiracy, “It must be shocking enough.”

Juliana stared at the strange and ambiguous look in Poppy’s eyes, understood her suggestion, and tried her best to hide her disgust. She questioned,

“Is this design too deliberate?”

“Julia, of course. Doing extraordinary things requires some extraordinary means. Besides, it is not appropriate to say that it is a design. We just create opportunities for Mr. Davies to see the truth. If Lucia has a good character, she can get away with it. If not, she’ll have to blame herself for being lewd.” Poppy lobbied Juliana carefully with prevarication.

Juliana pondered for a while, then replied cautiously, “I’ll think about it.”

Seeing that Juliana still couldn’t make up her mind, Poppy looked at Kane who was beside her, and Kane said immediately,

“Julia, don’t make a decision in a hurry. You said you were sick two days ago. Are you healed now?”

Facing Kane, the prudence in Juliana’s eyes subsided a little, and she replied with a slight smile, “Well, it’s much better. I asked about Arthur’s opinion when I was sick. He trusts Lucia very much...”

“That’s why Poppy made this decision. I hope you will consider it carefully. After all, the biggest beneficiary of this incident will be Mr. Davies. If you drag it on, Mr. Davies will have a deep-rooted relationship with her. I am afraid that even if he sees the facts clearly, he will still defend for Lucia.”

“I know, give me a few more days. I’ve never done anything like this...” Under the protection of the Knight family and the Davies family, Juliana had been away from intrigue, and for the first time, she participated in it herself. That was why she was hesitated.
