

Read She Shocks The Whole World After Retirement –

Chapter 1081 – 1090

Remained Clearheaded Despite All The Allure (2)

1081 Remained Clearheaded Despite All The Allure (2)

“Yeah.”

After bidding farewell to Di Wu, Naris left with Yu Huang and the others.

Five Lake Street was where the miners lived. This area was actually an industrial area for mining. Although the ores in their tricycles were crystal clear, these ores were actually buried under the black coal mine in the beginning. When these ores were first mined, they were also wrapped in a layer of black ash.

The miners needed to send the dirty ores to the mining room at the end of Five Lake Street. After washing them, they would transport the clean ores to the ore concentration camp on the street and use the cargo hovercar to transport them to other places in the Cang Lang Continent.

Those noble pharmacists and refiners would not use their precious hands to touch the pitch-black ore.

Therefore, the streets of Five Lake Street were always filled with a layer of black dust.

Sensing the black mine ash in the air, Lin Jiansheng frowned and said, “This place is not suitable for children to live in.”

Yu Huang nodded and said, “If Ah Kong can get accepted to school, we can rent a house there.”

“Yeah.”

This was not the best way to save money.

Naris took out a few masks and handed them to them. “Put on your masks. This street is very long. Without masks, everyone’s faces will be dirty before we reach the end of the street.” This was also why the residents on the street loved to wear black down jackets.

Black was really resistant to dirt.

During working hours, everyone wore black clothes and masks. Naris was not eye-catching in the crowd.

But when they reached the end of the street, a young man suddenly stopped Naris. "Naris?"

Naris, Yu Huang, and the others stopped.

Naris looked in the direction of the voice and saw a twelve to thirteen-year-old youth. The youth was also wearing a short black down jacket and carrying a bag on his back. It seemed like he was going to school.

Naris stared at the young man's face and narrowed her eyes.

The youth suddenly made a face at Naris, then shouted with an expression that seemed as if he had seen a ghost, "Mom! That monster at the end of the street, Naris, is out!"

Hearing this, the families living at the end of the street ran out of their houses and sized up Naris with dismay.

Seeing this, Yu Huang was enraged.

However, Naris held Yu Huang's arm and told her in a low voice, "It's that child."

Yu Huang frowned and stared at the youth's back as he ran away. She said, "The child who was frightened by you back then?"

"Yeah."

Naris held Yu Huang's hand and continued walking forward. As they walked, she said, "The street is relatively clean. Most of the people living here are merchants sent by the city to buy ores. That child's parents are merchants. The miners on the street rely on mining for a living, so if the ores can't be sold, the profession of miner will cease to exist."

In other words, Naris was telling Yu Huang not to offend the child's parents for her sake, since that would cause many miners to lose their jobs.

Yu Huang took a deep breath and said angrily, "Sooner or later, I'll buy this street and become the boss of Five Lakes Street!"

Hearing this, Naris only smiled.

Regardless of whether Yu Huang could become the boss of this street, Naris was still happy that Yu Huang cared so much about her feelings.

Sheng Xiao looked at Yu Huang thoughtfully.

Purchasing Five Lakes Street and becoming the boss here?

If this was really one of her goals, Sheng Xiao would help Yu Huang achieve it.

Although Five Lake Street was called a street, it was actually the size of a prefecture on the Holy Spirit Continent. There was a transportation vehicle that looked like a bus parked on the street. Naris took out a pass and said to Yu Huang and the others, "This is a transportation vehicle. It doesn't cost anything to take, but you need to swipe your identity card."

Naris' pass was her identity card. It was a very ordinary citizen card.

As Yu Huang stared at her citizen card, her heart ached again.

Anna was clearly a Beast Tamer. What danger had she encountered in the abyss rift? Now, she was no longer even a Beast Tamer.

Naris got into the bus. Seeing that Yu Huang and the others were still standing outside the car in a daze, she urged her, "Yu Huang, swipe your identity card."

"Alright." Yu Huang was the first to get on the bus. She placed her arm on the bus identification table. The bus identification card device beeped, then a female robotic voice sounded

"Honorable S-rank Beast Tamer, welcome to Central Continent's Route 179 bus. I'm very happy to serve you."

Hearing this, the passengers on the bus raised their heads and looked at Yu Huang at the same time. Their gazes were filled with disbelief.

Why would an S-rank Beast Tamer come to the slums of the Central Continent?

However, when Sheng Xiao, Lin Jiansheng, and the others approached the identification table, the robotic female voice repeated the same greeting twice. Everyone in the car looked at them with respect and caution.

The residents who had recognized Naris looked at her strangely.

When did Mr. Di's daughter get to know such a group of people?

Naris brought Yu Huang and the others to find a seat. Just as they fastened their seatbelts, the bus flew into the air and jumped over the city.

Yu Huang was shocked and thought to herself, "As expected of a super big world. Even the buses here can fly."

Not only could it fly, but it was also free.

This benefit was quite convenient.

With that thought, Yu Huang heard Sheng Xiao say, "Look outside."

Yu Huang subconsciously turned her head to look out the window and saw tall buildings rising from the ground. There were even a few buildings floating in the air. The bus they were on was nimbly shuttling through the middle of those houses.

Soon, the bus landed on an air platform and reminded them that they could get off.

After Yu Huang and the others alighted from the bus, they discovered that they were in a parking lot. There were many buses parked nearby. They followed Naris out of the bus stop and arrived at a spinning platform. Naris told them, "After you guys go down from the spinning platform and take the high-altitude ladder, you will reach the Nine Gods District."

Yu Huang and the others silently followed Naris from the spinning platform to the bottom of the building. Then, they queued up to enter the elevator. The elevator was like a movie theater with more than 200 seats. The elevator came every ten minutes.

After Yu Huang and the others found a seat and sat down, the elevator suddenly sank.

"Ah!"

Ah Kong was so frightened that he hugged Lin Jiansheng's neck tightly.

Lin Jiansheng was also so frightened that he grabbed the armrest tightly.

In order not to embarrass themselves, Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao grabbed each other's hands and gritted their teeth.

But their hearts were racing.

As she sank, Yu Huang suddenly thought of her father, Yin Mingjue.

His father had lived in the Cang Lang Continent for more than a hundred years. He had seen all the prosperity of the Cang Lang Continent. When he decided to return to the Holy Spirit Continent to give back to his hometown, did he really not hesitate at all?

Perhaps he had also been enthralled by the prosperity and advanced technology of the Cang Lang Continent.

But he remained clearheaded despite all the allure.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1082 Lin Jiansheng: I Only Know How To Earn Money And Study

Ding!

“Dear passengers, we have arrived at the Nine Gods District. Please take your belongings and alight in an orderly manner.”

After Yu Huang came back to her senses, she stood up and queued up behind the other passengers as they left the elevator lobby in an orderly manner.

After getting out of the elevator, there was a wide and modern platform. There were many elevators here. It seemed that passengers from the other districts were also landing here.

Naris noticed that Yu Huang was staring at the passengers on both sides, so she went to her side and explained softly, “The Nine Gods District is the most prosperous area in the Ice River City. At the same time, it is the economic center of the entire Central Continent, so all the big shots of the Central Continent live here. Therefore, the traffic in this area is very congested.”

The passengers were dressed very warmly and carried a suitcase with them. It was unknown what they were carrying.

“What is in their suitcases?” Lin Jiansheng asked the question in Yu Huang’s mind.

Naris quickly replied, “It’s a changing box.”

“A changing box?” Lin Jiansheng was shocked. Were the people here so vain? They even had to carry a changing box when they went out.

In the past, Lin Jiansheng felt that girls bringing makeup with them were so troublesome. He did not expect that the people in the Central Continent were even more troublesome than the girls in the Holy Spirit Continent.

Seeing Lin Jiansheng’s dubious look, Naris explained in amusement, “Mr. Lin, in another two hours, you will understand the use of them carrying a changing box with them.” Naris deliberately kept them in suspense. She took out the map and studied it before saying, “Mr. Lin, if you want to register for Ah Kong, you have to go to the Nine Gods District’s administrative building.”

At this moment, they were standing on the third floor of the bus stop.

Naris walked to the window and pointed at a tall building with her leather-gloved finger as she said, "That's the largest administrative building in the Central Continent. Almost every department has an office there. We can go there."

"Okay."

They followed the crowd and took the elevator to the first floor. The hall there was even more crowded.

Naris led them out of the terminal through Gate 3 and to the administrative building.

Because many people went to the Nine Gods District to handle business in the administrative building here, when they were planning construction back then, the mayor built the administrative building closest to the bus terminal.

There were only two roads between the administrative building and the bus terminal.

When Yu Huang and the others were crossing the road, they saw many people in suits and leather shoes walking around with a kind of intelligent robot pet. Most of those pets were designed to be very agile and cute. In order to make the effect more realistic, the merchants even made simulated skin for such pets.

Other than its dull eyes, this intelligent pet looked like a real pet.

Seeing this, Ah Kong said to Lin Jiansheng, "Daddy, let Aofeng out!"

Ah Kong continued, "Aofeng is a real pet!"

Lin Jiansheng also felt that those intelligent pets looked dull and boring, so he let Aofeng out. After Aofeng ran out of its interspatial ring, it rubbed its head against Lin Jiansheng before rubbing its head against Ah Kong. Then, it jumped into Yu Huang's arms and wagged its tail at her.

Yu Huang stroked Aofeng's smooth and lustrous fur as she said, "Aofeng, show these people what a real animal is."

Hearing this, Aofeng jumped down from Yu Huang's arms and walked in front of them very smartly.

Aofeng's fur was glowing, while its white fur released a charming luster under the sunlight, like the light of a pearl. It was already 18 pounds. As it walked, its fur looked lustrous and mighty, causing passersby to exclaim in awe.

"Oh my God, what a beautiful and impressive pet!"

A photographer who was squatting by the roadside and taking street photos suddenly walked towards Yu Huang and the others. He said politely, "Hello, I'm Elok, a street photographer. Your pet is really beautiful and impressive. May I take a few photos of it?"

As he spoke, Elok took out his work ID and showed it to Yu Huang and the others. Then, he opened the artificial intelligence on his wrist and opened his personal social app. He pointed at the fan page as he said, "I'm a very famous street photographer. I have more than ten million followers."

Yu Huang thought that Lin Jiansheng would not agree to Elok's request. Just as she was about to reject his request, Lin Jiansheng agreed readily.

"Of course," Lin Jiansheng said.

"Thank you."

Elok squatted on the ground and knelt on the ground as he found various positions and angles to take photos of Aofeng.

Under Elok's camera, Aofeng, who was already mighty and domineering, transformed into a noble and intimidating animal. It was a companion beast, but it did not have the wildness of a beast. With Aofeng as a comparison, those intelligent pets instantly paled in comparison.

On the street, many pet owners holding smart pets stopped in their tracks and looked at the mighty Aofeng with amazement and adoration.

Staring at Aofeng, who was facing the camera without any shyness, Yu Huang said to Lin Jiansheng in surprise, "I thought you wouldn't agree."

Lin Jiansheng smiled mysteriously when he saw the reactions of the surrounding pets and suddenly asked, "With Aofeng as a comparison, do you still think those intelligent pets are good?"

Yu Huang lowered her eyes and sized up the obedient intelligent pets as she analyzed rationally, "Intelligent pets should be perfect pets customized according to the customers' requirements. Although they are obedient and cute, they lack novelty over time. Aofeng is a companion beast. It is an intelligent animal, so the surprise and joy it brings to people are incomparable to those intelligent pets."

"That's right." Lin Jiansheng lowered his voice and analyzed mysteriously, "Elok has a lot of fans. If he can really make Aofeng popular, I'll register a personal account for Aofeng later and turn him into an influencer pet. Then, I'll use Aofeng's fame to open a Spirit Grass Exchange and a Purifying Spirit Master training center. At that time, I'll definitely be able to achieve twice the results with half the effort!"

The more he spoke, the brighter the light in Lin Jiansheng's eyes became. "Aofeng is a living signboard!"

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao looked at Lin Jiansheng in surprise.

Sheng Xiao praised Lin Jiansheng. "Mentor, you're so smart."

Lin Jiansheng subconsciously wanted to stroke his bald head. When he raised his hand, he touched his knitted hat. Only then did he remember that he had worn a hat when he went out today. Lin Jiansheng rubbed his nose and praised himself, "You flatter me. I'm only a little smart when it comes to earning money and studying."

Yu Huang rolled her eyes while Sheng Xiao chuckled.

Because Elok wanted to take photos of Aofeng, they were delayed on the road for a while. When they arrived at the administrative building, it was already ten in the morning. This was the busiest time of the day in the administrative building, so the hall on the first floor was packed with people. Everyone was holding information documents in their hands and walking in a hurry.

After asking the front desk and learning that the office was on the 84th floor, Yu Huang and the others hurriedly went to the 84th floor.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1083 No Real Estate, No Property, and No Wife

Many newborns, accompanied by their parents, waited in line to register.

When Lin Jiansheng, a bachelor, walked into the hall alone with a four-year-old child, he naturally attracted the strange gazes of many young parents.

A robot with a human appearance walked over and took the initiative to ask about Lin Jiansheng's situation. "Sir, what service do you need?"

Lin Jiansheng said, "I'm here to register the child's name."

"Alright, please follow me." The robot led the way. Lin Jiansheng carried Ah Kong as he followed quickly, while Yu Huang and the others were a few steps behind.

As Sheng Xiao looked at the young parents with their children, he suddenly said, "One day, I will come here with you and your child."

Yu Huang thought of that scene and said jokingly, "How many children?"

Sheng Xiao looked at Yu Huang playfully and said, "That depends on your ability."

Yu Huang said, "That depends on your ability."

In front, the robot kept talking mechanically and interrupted Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao's conversation. "To register the newborn, you need to provide the newborn's birth certificate. You need to provide the parents' identification, property deed, and bank statement..."

The robot said a lot.

However, other than identification, Lin Jiansheng had nothing else.

When they arrived at the branch office, the staff said to Lin Jiansheng, "Hello, sir. Are you here to register your child?" The staff, who was used to all kinds of situations, wasn't surprised to see Lin Jiansheng bring a four-year-old child to register.

Lin Jiansheng nodded and carried Ah Kong as he said, "This is the child I adopted. I've already obtained his custody, so I want to register him today."

Nodding, the staff tapped his fingers on the counter and said to Lin Jiansheng, "Please place all your and your spouse's documents here. I need to review them."

Upon hearing this, Lin Jiansheng's lips moved before he said with a dark expression, "There's no property deed, no assets, and no marriage certificate."

The staff was speechless.

The staff looked at Lin Jiansheng with a slightly angry expression as he said in an unfriendly tone, "Single men aren't suitable for adopting children. We suggest that you..."

Lin Jiansheng frowned and suddenly summoned the Purifying Spirit Scepter. After he stomped the scepter forcefully, a majestic and monstrous psychic power instantly enveloped the entire administrative hall, and even the entire Ice River City. His angry roar spread throughout the entire Ice River City. "What do you suggest to me? Give my son away? Or will you guys find a wife for me?"

Ah Kong was Lin Jiansheng's bottom line.

Ah Kong was a treasure that Lin Jiansheng had regained. How could he give Ah Kong away?!

Upon hearing Lin Jiansheng's voice, many people in Ice River City stopped what they were doing and looked up at the sky in surprise.

In the residence of the richest man, the richest man, who was entertaining a chief engineer in research and development, was also frightened by this majestic force. He put down the coffee cup in his hand and muttered in shock, "When did such a powerful person come to the Ice River City?"

...

The staff standing in front of Lin Jiansheng was already covered in cold sweat. He wiped the sweat off his forehead and hurriedly asked Lin Jiansheng respectfully, "Are you a Beast Tamer?"

Lin Jiansheng snorted but didn't say anything.

The staff continued, "If you're a Beast Tamer, then... it doesn't matter if you don't have a wife, children, or assets. It's the child's fortune to be able to follow you."

Lin Jiansheng rolled up his sleeves and revealed his S-rank identity card. Then, he looked at the staff coldly and said, "They said that an S-rank identity card can help people obtain special privileges in the Cang Lang Continent. Let me ask you, can I register my child with this?"

The moment the staff saw Lin Jiansheng's S-rank identity card, their expressions instantly became filled with reverence.

There were less than a hundred people in the entire Ice River City who had an S-rank authority identity card, and these hundred people were all Beast Tamers with powerful statuses and high cultivation levels. One had to know that even the richest man in the Nine Gods District, whose cultivation level stagnated because of his incomplete beast form, wasn't qualified to obtain an S-rank identity card. Even now, the richest man's identity card was a B-rank identity card.

And the person in front of him was actually a person with an S-rank identity card. Even the mayor had to treat such a person as an honored guest when he saw him, so how could he dare to neglect him?

The staff immediately lowered his head and replied respectfully, "Sir, please follow me here to take photos. After taking the photos, leave your identity information and we can settle the paperwork for you."

In front of an S-rank identity card, a property deed, a marriage certificate, and a wife were nothing.

Lin Jiansheng snorted and carried Ah Kong to the photo studio next door to take photos.

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao, who had been watching how Lin Jiansheng intimidated the staff, looked amused.

It seemed that this S-rank identity card was indeed extraordinary.

With it, one could really receive preferential treatment everywhere.

At this moment, Naris suddenly said, “Mr. Lin has an S-rank identity card, so when you see the mayor, you might not even need to purify the mayor’s spirit. You can also help Ah Kong get a spot.”

“Is an S-rank identity card that powerful in the Cang Lang Continent?”

“Of course,” Naris told them. “It’s said that there aren’t more than a hundred Beast Tamers in the entire Ice River City who have an S-rank identity card. And there aren’t even two hundred in the entire Central Continent.”

At this point, Naris felt ashamed. She said, “Beast Tamers with S-rank authority might not be so rare in other continents, but there were too few powerful Beast Tamers in the Central Continent. Therefore, every Beast Tamer who has obtained S-rank authority is very respected in the Central Continent.”

“The mayor will give Mr. Lin preferential treatment.”

Upon hearing Naris’s explanation, Yu Huang had a new understanding of the use of an S-rank identity card.

Soon, Lin Jiansheng and Ah Kong finished taking the photos. Accompanied by the staff, they quickly settled the paperwork. After the paperwork was done, there were five words in the column of Lin Jiansheng’s identity card and family relationships—

Son: Lin Kongqing.

Now, there was only the ‘continent’ column left on the identity card.

Philand had once said that the Cang Lang Continent had eight independent continents and ascendants could freely choose the continent their identity card belonged to, but this choice couldn’t be changed. One would become a legal citizen of whichever continent one chose. In the future, the honor and praise one received would be related to that continent.

As for powerful Beast Tamers, after they revealed their individual strength, they would usually be fancied by various factions. At this time, if a certain faction extended an olive branch to a powerful Beast Tamer and he agreed, his identity card would automatically change to the continent where that faction was.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1084 Madam Brulee

Correspondingly, if the ascendant chose his own continent in advance, he would no longer be able to become a guest elder of another continent.

The reason why such a rule was set was to balance the strength of the various continents.

Among the eight continents, the Central Continent had the least number of Beast Tamers, the least number of experts, and the smallest number of powerful factions. Almost no ascendant would choose this continent.

Yu Huang and the others naturally wouldn't foolishly choose the Central Continent.

Seeing that Lin Jiansheng's identity card was still empty, the staff eagerly invited Lin Jiansheng, "Sir, do you have a continent you want to be a member of? If not, you can choose the Central Continent."

Then, the staff began to boast about how good the Central Continent was, how wise the mayor was, and how good the treatment Beast Tamers received in the Central Continent...

In short, he made it sound like the Central Continent was number one in the Cang Lang Continent.

Lin Jiansheng listened to his nonsense in silence and didn't interrupt.

After the other party's mouth was dry and he had nothing left to say, Lin Jiansheng interrupted all his fantasies with just one sentence. He asked, "If I chose the Central Continent, can you guarantee that all seven of my disciples will be sent to Cang Lang Academy?"

Hearing this, the staff immediately shut up.

Seeing that the staff was silent, Lin Jiansheng carried Ah Kong and left.

After Lin Jiansheng left, the staff member couldn't help but mutter softly, "As if you can go to Cang Lang Academy just because you want to? If you can go just because you're guaranteed admission, our mayor will be the first to resign from his position as the mayor and go to Cang Lang Academy!"

That was Cang Lang Academy, the only advanced academy on the continent that wasn't controlled by various factions. Even if the War God Clan wanted to send someone in, it wouldn't be easy.

The Central Continent didn't have the nerve and ability to do so.

After settling the matter of Ah Kong's household register, Lin Jiansheng had one less thing on his mind. After entering the elevator, he hugged Ah Kong and kissed him. "Good child, from today onwards, I am your father!"

Ah Kong called out sweetly, "Daddy!"

"Yes, from today onwards, your name will be officially changed to Kong Qing!"

"Okay!"

* *

"Madam."

This was a unique peony garden. A plump noblewoman was lying on a chaise longue. She was wearing a sapphire green tube top velvet dress. Her round and fair feet seemed to be casually crossed, but they inadvertently revealed her inner charm.

Lying in the peony garden, she looked like a noblewoman in an oil painting.

This person was the Central Continent's First Madam, the goddess beloved by the richest person in the Nine Gods District of Ice River City—

Madam Brulee.

When the outside world mentioned her, they used the word 'Madam Brulee' to describe her.

Madam Brulee was taking a nap. When she heard the housekeeper's call, she couldn't be bothered to open her eyes. She asked in a charming voice, "What is it?"

The butler, dressed conservatively and with a noble bearing, leaned behind the chaise longue and said softly, "Your favorite perfumer is about to arrive. She's coming from the administrative building."

Hearing this, Madam Brulee finally opened her eyes.

Those beautiful eyes were actually an extremely rare pink color, just like the pink peony flowers in the garden.

There was only one pair of eyes like this in the entire Cang Lang Continent.

Madam Brulee stared at the housekeeper for a moment before suddenly saying, "Change my clothes."

The female butler knew how extreme and unnatural Madam Brew's pursuit of beauty was. When she heard this, she hurriedly called a maid over to carry Madam Brulee's latest custom-made beautiful clothes over one by one.

Those clothes were all on mannequins.

These mannequins looked similar to Madam Brulee in terms of size and appearance. They were custom-made according to Madam Brulee's body data. They only had one use—

—be Mrs. Brulee's dress model.

In the end, Madam Brulee chose a black V-neck lace dress. The hem of the dress was very big, and there was a fluffy black gauze at the collar. Her figure was voluptuous, and with her smooth shoulders, she looked the sexiest and most charming in such a dress. Her every move was indescribably charming.

For her to dress up so lavishly, it seemed that Madam Brulee liked this perfumer.

Just as the stylist finished tying Madam Brulee's hair, she saw a man walking over in a hurry. He stood outside the peony garden as he said loudly, "Butler Mo, Miss Naris is here."

Butler Mo lowered her head to ask Madam Brulee, "Madam, should we receive Miss Naris here or go to the hall?"

Madam Brulee's peony garden only served her closest friends. After some thought, she finally said, "Bring her to the peony garden."

"Okay."

...

The mayor's manor was built in an ancient style. The door wasn't high, and the reliefs on the door were exquisite and dignified.

In this expensive place where even the administrative building towered into the clouds, it was very rare to see a building designed in an ancient style that occupied 150,000 square meters.

Yu Huang was sizing up the door of the mayor's manor when she saw a woman in a black dress and glasses walking out of the door and towards them.

"Hello, Miss Naris. I'm Madam Brulee's butler. You can call me Butler Mo." After introducing herself, Butler Mo glanced at Yu Huang and the other two people behind Naris. She guessed Naris' intentions, but pretended not to understand.

Butler Mo told Naris, "Madam is resting in the peony garden. She asked me to bring you to the peony garden for tea. Miss Naris' friends, please rest in the living room."

Butler Mo's arrangements seemed very appropriate, but she was secretly expressing her dissatisfaction with Naris.

Today was supposed to be a private meeting between Naris and Madam Brulee, but Naris took the liberty to bring her friends over. This was against the rules.

Butler Mo looked down on Naris and thought that she had ulterior motives.

However, although she didn't have a good impression of Naris, her expression didn't show it.

This was because she always remembered her identity. She wasn't the master of the manor. She was just a butler who was paid to do things. Her every move and word reflected on her master, so she couldn't show contempt or flattery to anyone.

Knowing her limits and identity was the main reason Butler Mo was able to maintain her position as Madam Brulee's butler.

Yu Huang and the others also understood what Butler Mo meant. Seeing that Naris was still hesitating, Yu Huang told her, "Go. We'll wait for your news."

Only then did Naris calm down and say to Butler Mo, "Then I'll have to trouble you. These friends of mine have just ascended from a small world, but they are all Beast Tamers who have obtained S-rank authority. There are many rules in the Central Continent that they don't understand. If they do anything rude, please forgive them."

In the Cang Lang Continent, it was impossible to keep a low profile.

One had to show all their strength to gain the recognition of others.

This world had always recognized strength.

As expected, when Butler Mo heard that Yu Huang and the others were all S-rank ascenders, she looked at them with respect. "Beast Tamers, please follow me into the hall. Miss Naris, please follow me too."

Sensing the change in Butler Mo's attitude, Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao were glad that they had obtained S-rank authority.

From the looks of it, it wasn't as difficult for them to gain a foothold in the Cang Lang Continent as they imagined.

After settling Yu Huang and the others down, Butler Mo brought Naris to the peony garden.

The news that Naris had brought three S-rank ascendant friends had long been heard by Madam Brulee. Therefore, when Madam Brulee saw Naris and realized that her dressing style was very similar to those lowly miners on Five Lake Street in the south of the Central Continent, she didn't show her disdain.

To be able to befriend S-rank Beast Tamers, Miss Naris must have something special about her.

Besides, Naris was able to concoct the perfume that Madam Brulee liked the most, so she had already won Madam Brulee's favor.

"Madam Brulee." Naris lifted the hem of her dress and bowed to Madam Brulee.

Madam Brulee stood up to welcome Naris and held her hand as they walked to the center of the peony garden. The chaise longue had been removed and replaced with two European-style sofa chairs and a coffee table. "Miss Naris, I've admired your work for a long time. I've always been curious about what kind of charming girl a perfumer who can make a perfume that I fell in love with at first sight is. Today, I finally have a chance to see you."

When this person spoke with a smile, she gave Naris the illusion that——She treated Naris as a friend.

Naris was a little afraid of dealing with such a person.

Because such a person's smile was deluding and enthralling.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1085 Madam Brulee: I Like It

Madam Brulee sat down first. Seeing that Naris was still standing, she looked at the empty chair. "Miss Naris, please sit."

Na Li wasn't shy at all and sat down.

After taking a seat, she placed the basket on her lap, lifted the lid, and took out a water ripple oval glass bottle. The bottle was filled with a faint golden liquid, while a rich and sophisticated fragrance floated out of the wooden bottle stopper.

Madam Brulee's eyes lit up when she smelled the fragrance.

Peony!

Madam Brulee was obsessed with peony. Otherwise, she wouldn't have planted peony all over the courtyard.

Naris placed the bottle beside Madam Brulee's hand. Her attitude was respectful, but she didn't flatter her. She said, "Madam, three years ago, I was still unknown, but the first piece I concocted was lucky enough to be appreciated by you. Because of your recognition, my reputation as a perfumer gradually spread. To me, Madam is Bo Le. In order to thank you for your kindness, I specifically concocted a new perfume for you."

"This bottle of perfume is unique in the world."

After Naris finished speaking, she noticed that Madam Brulee didn't reach out to take the bottle of perfume.

Naris' heart raced. She subconsciously crossed her hands and asked nervously, "You don't like it?"

Hearing Naris' question, Madam Brulee looked at Naris with a smile and said, "Miss Naris, to be able to concoct this unique peony perfume, you're so considerate. It can be seen that you've done a lot of research on me in order to concoct this perfume."

She seemed to be smiling, but she was actually conveying her dissatisfaction to Naris by hinting that, 'In order to please me, you deliberately investigated my preferences. This disgusts me very much.'

Naris was smart, so of course she could hear Madam Brulee's warning.

Naris didn't want Madam Brulee to misunderstand.

It was one thing for Madam Brulee to admire her talent in perfume, but if she dared to investigate Madam Brulee because of this, that would be disrespectful.

Naris wasn't frightened by Madam Brulee. She said in a neither servile nor overbearing manner, "I believe you can tell that I was born on Five Lake Street in the south of the Ice River City. In our place, information is relatively closed off, so before today, I didn't know that your favorite flower was peony flowers."

Madam Brulee listened without saying anything. It was unknown if she believed Naris or not.

As Naris tried to figure out Madam Brulee's thoughts, she said, "The outside world says that you love Magnolia the most, but when I saw you on the news a few times, I felt that pink peony suits you more. Perhaps this is my intuition as a perfumer."

Intuition.

Madam Brulee finally smiled, but it was still very faint. "Oh really? Is that so? Then tell me, how do I look like a peony?"

Naris knew that the next answer was the key to moving Madam Brulee.

She deliberated and said sincerely, "Everyone says that peony flowers are tacky and beautiful, so it has never been liked by scholars and powerhouses. However, there are thousands of flowers in the eyes of a thousand people. How do you know that the vulgar peony in your eyes is not something precious and sophisticated in other people's eyes? Although Five Lakes Street is closed off, the news of the mayor and his wife's deep relationship has long spread to every city and street in the Central Continent. Isn't the wife beloved by the mayor that peony?"

As Naris looked at the bottle of perfume, her gaze suddenly became gentle and envious. She told Madam Brulee, "Madam, it's called Love. Just like how you are irreplaceable to the mayor."

Naris had spent her entire life's worth of flattery here.

When Madam Brulee heard Naris' flattery, she remained silent for a long time. She stared at Naris with pondering and skepticism.

After a moment, Madam Brulee suddenly smiled.

"Your flattery is a little too much." It was impossible for Madam Brulee not to see that Naris was deliberately flattering her.

However...

"I like it." Madam Brulee said something that didn't match her noble temperament and status.

Naris was shocked, but she didn't show it on her face.

"As long as you like it."

Only then did Madam Brulee open the bottle stopper and take out two drops of perfume with the dropper. Then, she wiped it under her ears and smeared a little on her hair.

Since she was willing to use this perfume, it meant she had accepted the gift from Naris.

Smelling the floral fragrance that lingered in her nose, Madam Brulee said lazily, "I'm just vulgar. I like big peony flowers, just like I like burly men. I like sparkly jewelry and gorgeous dresses. Of course, I also like silly girls like you who suck up to me."

Upon hearing this, Naris finally felt relieved.

Madam Brulee finally asked, "Tell me, why did you come to see me and bring your friends?"

Naris was delighted.

Since Madam Brulee was willing to take the initiative to ask, she was most likely willing to help.

Naris didn't dare to hesitate, nor did she dare to beat around the bush with Madam Brulee, so she directly told her why she was there. "My friends want to see the mayor."

Madam Brulee wasn't surprised to hear this answer. "I knew it."

Madam Brulee didn't ask about the encounter of Naris' friends in detail, nor did she give Naris an affirmative reply on the spot. Instead, she made a difficult request.

She said, "It's not easy for a young lady to come to the bustling Nine Gods District, so you should have dressed up beautifully, but you covered yourself up tightly. I guess there must be some secret under your cloak and mask."

Madam Brulee suddenly leaned towards Naris and lowered her voice. "You can ask me to help you, but you have to exchange your biggest secret with me." Madam Brulee blinked as she said with a half-hearted smile, "Take off your veil and your cloak. Let me see what your biggest secret is."

Hearing this, Naris was stunned on the spot.

She didn't expect Madam Brulee to make things difficult for her.

She had long heard that Madam Brulee was an unpredictable woman. Naris originally hoped that Madam Brulee would be more tolerant of her because she admired her talent.

To be able to make such a difficult request, it could be seen that in Madam Brulee's eyes, she, Naris, was just an ordinary person.

If it wasn't for her talent in perfume, she probably wouldn't have the right to appear in front of Madam Brulee in this lifetime.

When Madam Brulee saw Naris' stunned and hesitant expression, her expression didn't change. She smiled faintly as she said, "What? Are you very disappointed in me? Do you think I'm completely different from the Madam Brulee you imagined?"

Naris didn't dare to answer this question.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1086 Put Down Dignity To Obtain Dignity

Madam Brulee didn't intend to force Naris to make a choice.

She shook her head and said, "You don't want to? That's fine. It's not like I have to see it." However, if Naris was unwilling, Yu Huang and the others wouldn't have had the chance to see the mayor.

Naris knew that Yu Huang and the others wanted to meet the mayor not only for the sake of Ah Kong's education.

Yu Huang said that they came to the Cang Lang Continent to become powerhouses and go back to save their hometown in the future.

If they wanted to obtain the resources of a super Great World and create a world, they had to obtain the help and recognition of local forces.

The Central Continent was a continent of technology, so scientists were the lifeline of this continent. Naturally, Beast Tamers were very rare here. Powerful Beast Tamers had long gone to other continents to develop and further their studies. Those who were willing to stay in the Central Continent were mostly Beast Tamers with mediocre talent.

If Yu Huang and the others wanted to create a world, then the Central Continent was the most suitable place for them to expand their power and shine!

This was also the real reason why Yu Huang and the others decided to find a school for Ah Kong in the Central Continent, find a house to settle down in, and think of a way to befriend the mayor.

All of this was seen by Naris.

Although Naris and Yu Huang had only known each other for a day, when facing Yu Huang, Naris had a feeling that they had known each other for a long time.

Naris wanted to help Yu Huang and the others.

Her father had said that helping others was helping oneself.

Seeing that Naris had not expressed her stance, Madam Brulee thought that she had given up, so she smiled and planned to order Butler Mo to send Naris back.

Just as Madam Brulee raised her hand, before she could call out Butler Mo's name, she heard Naris say, "It's not that I don't want to. It's just that my appearance is ugly and terrifying. Three years ago, I frightened a child to the point of falling sick. You're used to peonies and beauties, so I'm afraid that my appearance will dirty your eyes and scare you."

Naris wasn't exaggerating.

She simply wanted to give Madam Brulee a heads-up so that she could be mentally prepared.

Hearing this, Madam Brulee put down her slender hand and turned to look at Naris.

Her smile became even brighter.

She smiled like a peony blooming under the scorching sun, but her eyes were filled with mockery.

Madam Brulee said, "I've seen the most beautiful flowers and evil as well. At my age, what haven't I seen before?"

In other words, she was telling Naris

'I'm set on finding out about your secret.'

Hearing this, Naris nodded and said, "Alright, excuse me." Naris took off the hood of her cloak on the spot, revealing a pair of pigtails.

The dress she wore today was mid-collared and could cover most of her skin, but a portion behind her ears and neck was still revealed.

When Madam Brulee saw the blue scales behind Naris' ears, her eyes flickered with surprise.

This woman's skin was so strange.

Naris reached behind her head and prepared to remove the rope around the lace mask.

Naris' disfigurement was what bothered her the most. To expose her flaws in front of outsiders, especially in front of a beautiful woman like Madam Brulee, Naris felt even more embarrassed.

Her fingers were trembling.

Although the trembling wasn't obvious, Madam Brulee still noticed it.

Although Naris was very afraid, she didn't hesitate when untying the rope.

Her gaze was so resolute and without hesitation.

It could be seen that she really planned to abandon her dignity in exchange for a chance for her friend.

Just as Naris was about to take off her lace mask, she suddenly heard Madam Brulee laugh. "Hehe."

Madam Brulee pressed her hand on Naris' mask that was about to fall. Then, she looked at Naris with a smile and said in a low voice, "Naris, I was just teasing you. Put on your mask now."

When she saw the scales behind Naris' ears, Madam Brulee had already guessed how terrifying Naris' true appearance would be.

There was no woman who didn't care about her looks.

Madam Brulee wasn't an unscrupulous woman who liked to make fun of other people's flaws for fun.

She was just testing how serious Naris was.

The moment Naris was willing to put down her dignity for her friend, she obtained Madam Brulee's respect.

Seeing that Naris had not moved, as if she was stunned, Madam Brulee lifted the hem of her skirt and stood up. She walked around the coffee table and stood behind Naris, then she personally helped Naris retie the rope of her mask.

Madam Brulee said softly, "Naris, your friendship with your friend is worth me making an exception to help you this time."

Naris finally came back to her senses.

She looked up at Madam Brew in a daze. Seeing the sincere and kind smile on Madam Brulee's face, she realized that Madam Brulee's goal wasn't to humiliate her at all.

What she wanted was just Naris' attitude.

Naris' actions passed Madam Brulee's test.

Tears welled up in Naris' eyes as she said in a choked voice, "Thank you, Madam. You're too kind."

After tying the rope around Naris' mask, Madam Brulee walked to her seat and sat down again. Then, she asked slowly, "Tell me, what problem did your friends encounter?"

However, what Naris was about to say exceeded Madam Brulee's expectations.

Naris said calmly, "Madam, my three friends are experts who had ascended from the Holy Spirit Continent. The three of them successfully obtained S-rank identity cards."

Madam Brulee already knew about this. She nodded and asked, "Are they looking for the mayor's help?"

But Naris shook her head.

Seeing this, Madam Brulee became puzzled.

They had gone through so much trouble to meet the mayor, but they didn't need the mayor's help. Then what was their purpose?

Madam Brulee couldn't guess it, so she didn't say anything.

Naris took the initiative to mention, "It's like this. The oldest man among them is not a Beast Tamer, but a Purifying Spirit Master. It's said that a Purifying Spirit Master is a profession unique to the Holy Spirit Continent. A Purifying Spirit Master doesn't cultivate spiritual power, but psychic power."

This was the first time Madam Brulee had heard of a profession such as Purifying Spirit Master.

She asked in surprise, "What is psychic power?"

Naris conveyed Yu Huang's words to Madam Brulee word by word. She said, "Psychic power is benign psychic energy. There is spiritual power, evil thoughts, and ghost energy in this world. Naturally, there is also benign psychic energy. It is said that only people with pure hearts have the precious chance of comprehending the Psychic Pearl, cultivating the Purifying Spirit Art, and becoming a Purifying Spirit Master."

Madam Brulee's eyes lit up.

If what Naris said was true.

In that case, did that mean that the citizens of the Central Continent who had not successfully awakened their beast forms had a chance of becoming Purifying Spirit Masters?!

At the thought of this, Madam Brulee's heart raced.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1087 Empty Promise

Madam Brulee hurriedly asked Naris, “How are Purifying Spirit Masters different from Beast Tamers? Are they also Battle Masters?”

“They’re not Battle Masters.” Under Madam Brulee’s puzzled gaze, Naris moved closer to Madam Brulee and said in a low voice, “Purifying Spirit Masters are the masters of benign psychic energy in the world. Powerful Purifying Spirit Masters can purify all the dirty things in the Spiritual World. The most magical thing is that they can even evolve Beast Tamers with incomplete beast forms to perfect their beast forms.”

Hearing the last sentence, Madam Brulee’s heart skipped a beat. “You’re saying that a Purifying Spirit Master can evolve into a beast form?”

Nodding her head, Naris said with a hesitant expression, “Madam, I heard that the reason why the mayor’s cultivation speed is so slow is precisely that he hasn’t awakened his complete beast form. After I found out about Mr. Lin’s strange ability, I wanted to bring him to see the mayor and see if he could help the mayor evolve his beast form. If he can, that would be best. If not, just treat it as making friends and forming a good relationship. After all, since they are from a small world, having more friends means more paths.”

“Besides, there hasn’t been a Purifying Spirit Master in the super Great Worlds and great worlds yet. Due to various reasons, the number of Beast Tamers in the Central Continent is relatively small, and our status in the cultivation world has always been behind those seven continents. If a mysterious new profession that can evolve an incomplete beast form and purify spiritual filth appears in the Central Continent, what mindblowing change do you think the Central Continent will welcome?”

After hearing Naris’s words, Madam Brulee looked at her with a solemn gaze.

“What you’re talking about is too important.” Madam Brulee realized that this was a matter that could change the status of the Central Continent in the Cang Lang Continent, so she didn’t dare to make a decision rashly.

The more she encountered such a serious matter, the calmer she became.

Madam Brulee didn’t immediately agree to let Lin Jiansheng and the others meet the mayor.

She wasn’t sure if Mr. Lin really had the ability to evolve an incomplete beast form, so she didn’t dare to rashly invite the mayor over to give it a try.

In the past hundred years, in order to perfect his beast form, the mayor had personally visited many pharmacists and refiners to see if they had a way to help him.

But every time, he would go with hope and return with despair.

Madam Brulee couldn't bear to see the mayor sad again.

Besides, this matter concerned the future luck of the entire Central Continent. She didn't dare to make a conclusion so rashly.

"His incomplete beast form has always been my husband's concern. If I brought him hope, but in the end..." Madam Brulee didn't finish her sentence, but Naris understood what she was worried about.

Naris said, "Your considerations are right."

Seeing that Naris could understand her difficulties, Madam Brulee's expression relaxed a little.

Madam Brulee continued, "Out of caution, I have to see your friend first. I can only give you an answer after I see him." Madam Brulee looked at Naris seriously and said sincerely, "Please understand."

Naris said, "Of course we understand."

Madam Brulee stood up and shouted out of the garden, "Butler Mo."

Butler Mo immediately walked over quickly from outside the peony garden and bent down to listen to Madam Brulee's instructions. Madam Brulee instructed, "Immediately issue an announcement to find Beast Tamers with incomplete beast forms to come to the richest man's residence. Their fare will be paid."

Although Butler Mo was shocked by Madam Brulee's arrangement, he didn't ask her why she made this arrangement.

A butler should do whatever her master instructed.

If he asked too many questions, he wouldn't be a butler.

As soon as Butler Mo left, Madam Brulee smiled at Naris and invited her to lunch. "Naris, if it's not troublesome, I want to have lunch with you and your friends."

Naris was more than happy to oblige. "Then I'll have to trouble you, Madam."

* *

At this moment, it was almost noon.

The temperature in the Central Continent in the morning was zero degrees Celsius. It had already risen to about twenty degrees Celsius. Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao had taken off their coats and were only wearing black mid-collar shirts, while Ah Kong had also taken off his thick down jacket and was wearing a plush sweater. He was flushing from the heat.

Lin Jiansheng felt that the worst was him.

When Lin Jiansheng went out, in order to resist the cold, he also wore a sweater and a thick down jacket, but at this moment, the temperature was rising rapidly. He was already sweating profusely from the heat, but he was too embarrassed to take off his down jacket because there was a hole in the chest area of the sweater he was wearing from the cigarette butt.

Lin Jiansheng loved money as much as his life. Before his clothes were torn into pieces, he couldn't bear to throw them away.

So he kept this shirt.

But they would be meeting the mayor later, so he couldn't wear a torn sweater to meet the mayor.

God Ling Xiao still cared about his reputation.

Seeing that Lin Jiansheng was sweating profusely but refused to take off his clothes, Yu Huang asked him, "Mentor, I see that you're sweating from the heat. You should take off your clothes."

She finally understood why the people she had seen at the bus stop had a changing box with them.

She didn't expect Central Continent's temperature difference to be so great.

Lin Jiansheng wiped the sweat off his forehead and beckoned at Yu Huang. "Come here."

Yu Huang saw that Lin Jiansheng was acting weird. Lin Jiansheng only asked her to go over but not Sheng Xiao, so she stood up with a frown and walked to Lin Jiansheng's side obediently.

Lin Jiansheng lowered his voice and said to her, "There's a hole in my sweater."

Yu Huang was speechless.

Would her mentor, who was so stingy to himself, be willing to buy cosmetics, bags, and clothes for his wife in the future?

Yu Huang wanted to laugh, but she didn't dare to. In the end, she couldn't help but burst out laughing.

Lin Jiansheng glared at Yu Huang fiercely. "You're not allowed to laugh!"

Yu Huang laughed even more brazenly.

Sheng Xiao saw that Yu Huang was laughing so hard, so he asked in surprise, "What's so funny?"

Lin Jiansheng immediately roared at Yu Huang in a low voice, "If you dare to tell him, I'll kill you!"

Yu Huang still said it, but her voice was very soft. "Mentor's sweater is torn, so he's too embarrassed to take it off."

Sheng Xiao was speechless.

Lin Jiansheng was so embarrassed that he wanted to hide.

Lin Jiansheng was usually very thrifty and barely wore his personal clothes on the Holy Spirit Continent. He usually wore the long robe uniform issued by the Purifying Spirit Alliance.

He didn't have many decent clothes in his interspatial ring.

After Sheng Xiao found out about Lin Jiansheng's predicament, he didn't dare to laugh at him. He quickly found a loose knitted shirt from his interspatial ring and handed it to Lin Jiansheng. "Mentor, this is my loosest knitted shirt. You should be able to wear it."

Lin Jiansheng was taller than Sheng Xiao, so his clothes were bigger.

Lin Jiansheng took the clothes with a livid expression. After asking the servant where the bathroom was, he hid in the bathroom to change his clothes.

Lin Jiansheng could wear Sheng Xiao's clothes, but it made him look muscular and fierce.

Just as Yu Huang was about to tease Lin Jiansheng, she saw Butler Mo walk in. The moment she entered the room, she lowered her head and said respectfully, "Madam wants to hold a banquet to entertain the three of you. Please do us the honor."

Lin Jiansheng immediately regained his dignified demeanor and said with authority, "Please lead the way."

"This way, please."

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1088 Yu Huang Publicly Defending Naris

Along the way, Yu Huang guessed what kind of woman Madam Brulee was.

When she arrived at the dining room and saw Madam Brulee's true appearance, Yu Huang immediately felt that all her previous guesses paled in comparison to the beautiful and eye-catching Madam Brulee.

Madam Brulee had a voluptuous figure, but she wasn't chubby. The ratio of her waist and hips was perfect. Her waist wasn't slim, but she didn't have any excess fat. She was simply a sexy goddess.

Madam Brulee held an exquisite folding fan and waved it elegantly. Seeing that the guests had arrived, she stood up and walked towards Yu Huang and the others.

Madam Brulee walked out of the painting like the Grand Duchess of an ancient European oil painting.

She walked gracefully.

However, Sheng Xiao and Lin Jiansheng were unmoved when they saw the charming Madam Brulee.

On the other hand, when Yu Huang saw this scene, her heart raced.

When Naris saw Madam Brulee stand up first, she hurriedly arrived beside Yu Huang and the others and introduced herself to them.

"Madam, these three are my friends." Naris pointed at Lin Jiansheng and said, "This gentleman is Mr. Lin Jiansheng, whom I mentioned to you before."

With a smile, she looked at Lin Jiansheng and covered her face with a fan. Then, she lifted the hem of her dress and bowed to Lin Jiansheng. "Hello, Mr. Lin."

Lin Jiansheng wasn't used to Central Continent's etiquette. He hurriedly took a step back, cupped his fists, and bowed to Madam Brew. "I'm Lin Jiansheng. Greetings, Madam."

Madam Brulee nodded and used her fan to cover her face as she looked at Yu Huang.

Previously, when Madam Brulee saw Yu Huang walking in with Butler Mo from afar, she was mesmerized by this lady's stunning beauty.

Even in the Cang Lang Continent, this woman's appearance was enough to turn heads.

It was really unexpected that such a beautiful and charming woman could be raised in such a remote small world.

Without waiting for Naris to take the initiative to introduce Yu Huang, Madam Brulee smiled and said, "You must be Yu Huang. Previously, Naris put in a lot of good words for you in front of me." Madam Brulee told Yu Huang earnestly, "The older you grow, the more you realize that good friends are hard to find. Young lady, cherish your friendship."

Yu Huang was a smart person. When she heard Madam Brulee's words, she guessed that Naris must have done something behind her back.

Yu Huang glanced at Naris.

Naris lowered her head and said nothing.

Madam Brulee noticed the interaction between Yu Huang and Naris. She smiled and said, "Previously, in order to test Naris, I made a difficult request to her. I promised her that as long as she was willing to take off her mask and show me her appearance, I would agree to your conditions."

Yu Huang instantly frowned when she heard this and the gaze she used to look at Madam Brulee instantly became cold.

Yu Huang grabbed Naris' chin and forced her to raise her head. She asked her angrily, "You took off your mask?"

Not only wasn't she angry, but she was also vexed with her incompetence.

Just as Naris was about to shake her head, Yu Huang continued, "If that's the case, we don't have to come here!"

Seeing the mayor and obtaining his help was indeed a very important matter. However, if she had to trample on Naris' pride to achieve this goal, Yu Huang would rather not see that bullsh*t mayor.

Seeing that Yu Huang was angry, Naris hurriedly explained, "No, no. Madam Brulee was only testing me. She didn't really ask me to take off my mask." When Naris saw that Yu Huang had made a big fuss over this matter and even dared to say such harsh words to Madam Brulee, she was very touched.

However, after being touched, she felt a little vexed.

She was afraid that Yu Huang would offend Madam Brulee because of her.

However, when Madam Brulee saw that Yu Huang cared so much about Naris, she chuckled and wasn't angry at all.

Madam Brulee said with a smile, "Why are you so angry? I didn't really see her face."

Yu Huang narrowed her eyes and stared at Madam Brulee for a while before she regained her composure.

However, Yu Huang still couldn't accept Madam Brulee's actions. She looked straight at Madam Brulee and said in a neither servile nor overbearing tone, "Madam, as a woman, you should know how much a woman cares about her image. You shouldn't have tested her with her disfigurement."

"Besides, we didn't come to see the mayor today to seek help, strictly speaking, but to reach a cooperation. Madam, you should apologize to Naris for your rude behavior earlier."

Naris was stunned when she heard this.

She wanted Madam Brulee to apologize to her?

She was an ordinary commoner who had walked out of Five Lake Street, while Madam Brulee was the noble mayor's wife. How could Madam Brulee apologize to her?

But.

When Madam Brulee heard Yu Huang's seemingly overboard request, the smile on her face deepened.

Then, Madam Brulee took a step back and handed the folding fan to Butler Mo before bowing gracefully.

Madam Brulee apologized to Naris sincerely, "Naris, I went overboard with what I did just now. I'm willing to offer my sincerest apology for my rash actions."

Naris was shocked.

When Yu Huang saw that Madam Brulee was really willing to apologize to Naris, the hostility she had towards Madam Brulee instantly disappeared. At the same time, she gained a favorable impression of her.

As the wife of the richest man in the Central Continent and the wife of the mayor of Ice River City, it was impressive for Madam Brulee to apologize to a commoner.

The mayor, who had such a sensible wife, must have a good character.

Only by cooperating with such a mayor could Yu Huang feel at ease.

Naris came back to her senses and quickly bent down to hold Madam Brulee's wrist with both hands. "Madam, get up quickly. I forgive you."

Only then did Madam Brulee stand up.

This matter was over.

There was no need for Naris to introduce Sheng Xiao. Madam Brulee looked at Sheng Xiao and said, "I believe this young man is Yu Huang's husband, Sheng Xiao?"

Sheng Xiao nodded. "Greetings, Madam Brulee."

"It's very impressive for Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang to cross the Time Gate and ascend to the Cang Lang Continent at such a young age. I hope that you can obtain good fortune and opportunities on the Cang Lang Continent and become powerful as soon as possible."

"Thank you for your kind words, Madam."

"Alright, the meal is ready. Please take a seat."

After the short confrontation with Yu Huang just now, Madam Brulee could tell that Yu Huang and the others were straightforward people.

When dealing with straightforward people, sincerity was the best attitude.

Therefore, after they sat down, Madam Brulee showed her straightforward side. She even dismissed all the servants, leaving only Butler Mo outside the dining room.

When Lin Jiansheng noticed that there were no guards guarding the huge room, his impression of Madam Brulee improved greatly.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1089 Poor Mayor

Halfway through, Madam Brulee suddenly put down her chopsticks and tilted her head to look at Lin Jiansheng. It was obvious that she had something to say.

Lin Jiansheng also put down his chopsticks and said, "Madam, if you have something to say, just say it."

"Alright." Madam Brulee didn't beat around the bush and said bluntly, "Previously, Naris told me that Mr. Lin is a Purifying Spirit Master and can help Beast Tamers with incomplete beast forms evolve into complete beast forms."

Lin Jiansheng nodded, but his attitude was still calm. "Yes, all Purifying Spirit Masters can use their Psychic power to help Beast Tamers with incomplete beast forms evolve into their complete forms. The stronger the Psychic cultivation of the Beast Tamer, the higher the grade of the beast form they can evolve."

Seeing that Lin Jiansheng had also admitted his ability, Madam Brulee finally felt more at ease.

"I think Mr. Lin has heard about my husband's situation from Naris."

Lin Jiansheng glanced at Naris and told Madam Brulee, "Naris doesn't know much about the mayor's situation. I only heard that the mayor's beast form is incomplete. As for what the mayor's beast form is and what caused it, Naris doesn't know the details. I will have to wait for you to tell me the details."

When Madam Brulee heard Lin Jiansheng's words, she started to believe that Naris really hadn't investigated them.

Nodding, Madam Brulee fell silent again.

After a moment, Madam Brulee first sighed and said with a worried expression, "I wonder if everyone has heard of the Deep Sea Octopus?"

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao looked at each other.

Yin Fu's face appeared in their minds at the same time.

Yin Mingchong's youngest daughter, Yin Fu, had a Deep Sea Octopus beast form.

The beast form of the Deep Sea Octopus looked extremely similar to that of the Green Ghost Octopus. They were both extremely ugly. Their initial form was eight legs, and each leg was covered in pits.

They were so ugly that they could compete with the sea rabbits in the Kunlun Mystic Realm.

The Green Ghost Octopus was only an ordinary battle-type beast form, but the Deep Sea Octopus was an octopus that could continuously evolve. It would evolve every five years and the originally eight-legged Deep Sea Octopus would grow eight more legs every time it evolved.

After forty years of continuous evolution, the Deep Sea Octopus would eventually grow 64 legs and undergo the ultimate evolution to become a Deep Sea Dragon Fish.

After the Deep Sea Octopus successfully evolved into a Deep Sea Dragon Fish, its host Beast Tamer would completely awaken his beast form talent.

After that, the Beast Tamer's cultivation would advance at an unprecedented speed.

Thus, the Deep Sea Octopus was defined as a rare growth-type beast form.

Back then, Yin Fu had awakened the Deep Sea Octopus, and Yin Mingchong had been complacent about it for a long time. Unfortunately, Yin Fu had been killed by Yin Mingchong before she could fully mature.

The first time Yin Fu revealed her Deep Sea Octopus beast form was when the red elm fruit ripened.

That time, Yu Huang brought the assessment mission that Di Ruofeng had given her to the Yin Clan. With Lin Jiansheng's help, she successfully obtained the root of the red elm tree.

Therefore, Lin Jiansheng had also seen Yin Fu's beast form, the Deep Sea Octopus, before.

Hence, when he heard Madam Brulee's words, Lin Jiansheng said, "Madam, are you talking about the Deep Sea Octopus that only has eight legs in its newborn beast form and can evolve into a Deep Sea Dragon Fish after 40 years of continuous evolution and awaken its powerful cultivation speed?"

Seeing that Lin Jiansheng could accurately tell the evolutionary characteristics of the Deep Sea Dragon Fish, Madam Brulee thought even more highly of Lin Jiansheng.

Even in the Cang Lang Continent, there were not many Beast Tamers who could successfully awaken the Deep Sea Octopus.

Because the Deep Sea Octopus was especially similar to the Green Ghost Octopus's nascent form, many people didn't know that the mayor had actually awakened the Deep Sea Octopus.

Nodding her head, Madam Brulee sighed and said, "That's right. My husband awakened this beast form. Mr. Lin, you know that the Deep Sea Octopus should have eight legs, but my husband's awakening of his beast form was rather difficult. In the end, he only awakened six legs.” At the mention of this, a sad expression appeared on Madam Brulee’s charming face.

No one said anything. They waited quietly for Madam Brulee to calm down before speaking.

Soon, Madam Brulee calmed down and said with some difficulty, “My husband, Jun Qing, was born into a technological family. His ancestor was the chief designer of the Space Administration’s space station. In his father’s generation, his family had long developed into the number one technological family in the Central Continent.”

“My mother-in-law passed away early. My father-in-law was busy with scientific research and development and stayed in the research and development room all year round, so he didn’t have time to take care of my husband. In order to let the child receive better care, my father-in-law chose a daughter from a noble family to be his wife.”

“In the beginning, my mother-in-law was quite gentle and sensible. Although she didn’t dote on my husband, she was responsible. However, my husband was unlucky. When he was eight years old, the genes in his body mutated, causing his nerves to be paralyzed. My father-in-law invited many Healers and pharmacists to treat my husband, but this was a genetic disease. Even the Healers and pharmacists were helpless and my father-in-law could only accept this sad fact. Two years later, my father-in-law and mother-in-law gave birth to their son.”

“As the saying goes, a mother rises with her son. After my mother-in-law gave birth to a son, her status became higher and higher. In addition, my father-in-law was obsessed with researching and turned a blind eye to the trivial matters of the family, and my husband was a paraplegic, this family completely fell under my mother-in-law’s word. Gradually, my mother-in-law revealed her ambition. Under her instigation day after day, under the contrast of her smart and cute son, my paraplegic husband naturally paled in comparison.”

“A few years later, my mother-in-law sent my husband to an old house in the remote countryside to live alone because she was afraid that my husband’s disability would affect her son’s health and psychological well-being. Although my father-in-law couldn’t bear to see him like this, he still agreed to my mother-in-law’s request. After all, with a new lover and a new child, who could still devote themselves to their old lover? And that year, my husband was only 11 years old.”

A paralyzed child without a biological mother was sent to the countryside.

Everyone could imagine how tragic his encounter was.

But he had no choice. His father had already given up on him, so who could be his salvation?

At that time, even the servants his father had arranged to be by Jun Qing's side treated him harshly and bullied him. Because he was paralyzed, he couldn't control his bladder. Every time he peed, his stomach and thighs would be pinched by the servants and he would even be roughly thrown into the overly hot water to shower.

Over time, under the dual torture of his body and mind, and under his father's indifference, the young Jun Qing completely shut down.

He shut himself down and became mute.

"When my husband was 13 years old, a servant hung up a nutritional IV for him and secretly went on a trip. Because my husband had no one to take care of him, in addition to being paralyzed in bed all year round, his entire body became covered in bedsores. As soon as the servant left, my husband's wound was infected by the virus and he developed a high fever. However, the only servant ran away and he was alone at home. No one responded to him..."

At this point, Madam Brulee couldn't help but burst into tears.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

1090 Su Tingxue: Barbarian, Become a Live-in Son-in-law

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao frowned. They couldn't imagine how despairing that sort of life must have been for a child.

Naris quickly took out a handkerchief and handed it to Madam Brulee.

"I'm sorry." Madam Brulee took the handkerchief and wiped the tears off her face as she said in shame, "I'm sorry for letting you guys hear these things, but I really..."

Lin Jiansheng's eyes turned red.

When he heard about the mayor's tragic childhood, he couldn't help but think of the tragic past when he carried his seriously ill mother everywhere to seek treatment when he was young, but was rejected by the Healer.

Lin Jiansheng was a sympathetic and gentle person, so he also shed tears.

After wiping her tears, Madam Brulee raised her head and saw Lin Jiansheng wiping his tears as well.

She was stunned on the spot and forgot her own sorrow.

Lin Jiansheng looked fierce, like a cold and heartless villain.

However, Madam Brulee didn't sense any acting from Lin Jiansheng's expression.

He was genuinely saddened by Madam Brulee's husband's tragic childhood.

Recalling that Naris had said that only pure and kind people could awaken psychic power and become a Purifying Spirit Master, Madam Brulee immediately changed her opinion of Lin Jiansheng.

It seemed that Mr. Lin was really a kind person.

Madam Brulee smiled again. "Mr. Lin, it's all my fault for making you feel sad."

Lin Jiansheng wiped his tears and said in a choked voice, "The mayor's childhood was tragic. He finished all the hardships in his life in advance. From the moment he met Madam, the mayor's hardships were over, so he enjoyed wealth and glory after that."

Hearing this, Madam Brulee was even happier. "Thank you, Mr. Lin."

Yu Huang suddenly asked, "When did the mayor awaken his beast form?"

Madam Brulee immediately replied, "It was when he was seriously ill with a high fever and almost died. At that time, he was delirious from the fever and he was spouting nonsense. But my husband was never a coward. Even though he was abandoned by everyone, he never gave up his life."

"Perhaps it was because his strong will to live touched the heavens, but when he was on the verge of death, he accidentally awakened his beast form. However, because he was mentally weak and his body was seriously ill, his beast form didn't awaken successfully. The Deep Sea Octopus he awakened, which should have eight legs, only had six."

"But he also benefited from a disaster and healed his hemiplegic body."

If a person successfully awakened their beast form, the genes in their body would mutate and fuse with their beast form. Naturally, the mayor's hemiplegia would be cured.

"My husband is still at the Master Realm. A hundred years ago, his body began to show signs of decline. He originally planned to accept his fate and accept death, but under my threats, he spent a lot of money to buy a longevity pill."

At this point, Madam Brulee frowned sadly. "Calculating at the time, the effect of the longevity pill should have ended. Recently, my husband has started to suffer from insomnia again. His hair is turning white. If his cultivation level doesn't increase, I'm afraid..."

Tears welled up in Madam Brulee's eyes again.

She raised her head and looked at Lin Jiansheng. She choked on her tears as she said, "Mr. Lin, you guys came at the right time. I hope you can help my husband."

It could be seen that Madam Brulee had deep feelings for Jun Qing.

Otherwise, she wouldn't have cried as she spoke.

Lin Jiansheng hurriedly nodded and agreed. "I will definitely do my best to help the mayor evolve into a complete beast form!"

Madam Brulee nodded. Then, she thought of something else and revealed a hesitant and uneasy expression.

Noticing the change in Madam Brulee's expression, Lin Jiansheng asked, "Madam, do you have any other concerns?"

"It's like this, Mr. Lin..." Madam Brulee's face was filled with shame. She lowered her head and said in a low voice, "My husband is too obsessed with his incomplete beast form, so I didn't dare to rashly order someone to invite him over.... I really couldn't bear to see my husband disappointed again. Therefore, without asking Mr. Lin's permission, I took the initiative to send out a citywide notice and asked someone to find a person with the same incomplete beast form to accept Mr. Lin's evolution divine technique as soon as possible."

Madam Brulee was too embarrassed to look Lin Jiansheng in the eye and say this.

Just as Yu Huang had said, they were not here to ask the mayor for help. They were here to discuss cooperation with the mayor.

They were kind enough to help the mayor evolve his beast form, but Madam Brulee was questioning Lin Jiansheng's strength.

This was essentially a show of distrust.

"Heh, that's all?" However, Lin Jiansheng didn't care about this at all. He comforted Madam Brulee instead. "Madam, the mayor's situation is special. You have a deep relationship with the mayor, so no matter what, your actions are the most thorough. I won't be angry."

Lin Jiansheng picked up the wine glass on the table and sighed sadly. "I'm really envious of your sincerity to the mayor." Lin Jiansheng had been a bachelor for nearly two hundred years and had to put up with Sheng Lingfeng and Lan Yao's PDA every day on the Holy Spirit Continent. No matter where he went, he had to put up with Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao's PDA.

Now that he came to the Mayor's Mansion, Madam Brulee was showing off affection for the mayor.

Lin Jiansheng really didn't want to be a dog anymore.

When Madam Brulee heard this, she also laughed and said, "Mr. Lin is so righteous and powerful, so you will definitely meet a woman who is your match. If you're willing, I can summon all the unmarried women in the city for a gathering. Mr. Lin can also attend."

She was arranging a blind date for Lin Jiansheng.

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao looked at Lin Jiansheng with a smile. They were curious about his reply.

When Lin Jiansheng heard Madam Brulee's words, he immediately felt his scalp go numb.

In his Spiritual Abode world, Su Tingxue even urged Lin Jiansheng to attend the banquet.

Su Tingxue said, "Go. A beauty that this woman approves of can't be bad. If you marry a beauty, you will become a live-in son-in-law of the Cang Lang Continent. In the future, Yu Huang and the others will be able to bask in your glory."

Lin Jiansheng was speechless.

Upon hearing the woman he loved say such words, Lin Jiansheng's heart ached.

He shook his head at Madam Brulee with a serious expression and said, "I already have someone in my heart, but I still have to thank you for your kindness."

Hearing this, Madam Brulee was a little disappointed.

She had originally wanted to arrange a marriage for Lin Jiansheng to deepen their relationship.

After knowing that Lin Jiansheng had someone he liked, Madam Brulee didn't ask further.

Fortunately, at this moment, a male servant walked in from outside the courtyard and whispered into Butler Mo's ear. After the male servant left, Butler Mo glanced at the dining room.

Seeing that Madam Brulee and Mr. Lin were chatting happily, she didn't go in to disturb their conversation.

Noticing the situation outside, Madam Brulee looked up and asked Butler Mo, "What is it?"

Yu Huang and the others turned to look at Butler Mo.

Butler Mo walked into the dining room and stood behind everyone. Then, he bent down and told Madam Brulee, "Madam, the person with the incomplete beast form has been found and has been brought to the side hall."

Hearing this, Madam Brulee subconsciously wanted to get up and go to the side hall to take a look.

When she saw that the table was filled with food that had barely been eaten much, only then did she remember that Lin Jiansheng and the others hadn't finished eating yet.

Madam Brulee sat down again.

However, at this moment, Lin Jiansheng put down his wine glass and stood up. "No, Madam. Time is precious. Since they've already brought the person here, let's not waste any more time. Let's go over and take a look first."

These words were exactly what Madam Brulee wanted to hear.

"Then we'll listen to Mr. Lin."

As if afraid that Lin Jiansheng would regret it, Madam Brulee picked up her dress and walked out of the dining room. Lin Jiansheng followed half a step behind.

Yu Huang, Sheng Xiao, and Naris looked at each other in dismay.

Yu Huang said, "Are we still eating?"

Seeing that Ah Kong was already full, Naris said, "Let's go over and take a look."

"Okay."

Sheng Xiao carried Ah Kong and the three of them walked to the side hall.

As soon as they approached the peony garden, they saw a burly middle-aged man walking towards the peony garden with a few cold-looking guards behind him.

The man looked to be in his fifties. He was wearing a loose gray shirt, and his abs were faintly discernible. His hair was neatly combed back, and some of it had already turned white.

This person's eyes were almond-shaped and there were a few obvious wrinkles at the corners of his eyes. However, his strong physique and aura completely covered up the traces of aging.

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao didn't need anyone to introduce them to him. They could accurately identify him.

Mayor Jun Qing!

When Naris saw the mayor, Madam Brulee's words suddenly appeared in her mind—

[I like big peony flowers, just like how I like strong men.]

The mayor was indeed burly. One couldn't tell that he was a sickly cripple when he was young.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.