

She Shocks The Whole World After Retirement –

Chapter 1091 - 1100 Untitled

1091 Untitled

Naris pulled the clothes on Yu Huang's back and reminded her and Sheng Xiao softly, "This is the mayor!"

Although Naris had never seen the mayor in person, she had seen him on television and on the news. She didn't expect that the mayor was even more imposing in real life than on television.

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao exchanged looks and used telepathy to communicate.

As the mayor of the Ice River City and the richest man in the entire Central Continent, Jun Qing had an aura similar to Sheng Lingfeng's. Since they interacted with Sheng Lingfeng often, Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao were immune to this aura.

Therefore, Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang were not as nervous as Naris when they saw the mayor, Jun Qing.

A person's appearance, temperament, and outfits could be changed. Only their soul aura was unique. As a Purifying Spirit Master, Yu Huang was used to using her psychic power to investigate a person's soul aura.

Therefore, when she saw Jun Qing, Yu Huang subconsciously released the psychic energy in her body and silently extended the psychic tentacles into Jun Qing's mind.

Jun Qing was only a Master. Psychic power was the purest and gentlest power in the world, like a warm sun during winter. Once it entered another person's body, it would make them feel comfortable, instead of wary.

Therefore, when his psychic power entered Jun Qing's body, Jun Qing didn't notice anything strange. He only stopped and looked up at the sun in the sky suddenly as he thought to himself, "The sun is really warm today."

At this moment, Yu Huang's psychic power had already entered Jun Qing's Spiritual Abode world.

She smelled Jun Qing's soul.

A normal person's soul aura only had a unique aura.

However, the strange thing was that this mayor's soul had two auras.

The dominant aura was a cold and eerie aura. This aura was very similar to the aura emitted by the soul of a dying person. To put it simply, it was the aura of death. And the other aura was filled with the power of vitality, like...

Yu Huang looked at the peony garden in front of her.

It was the aura of a peony.

These two auras were mixed together strangely yet perfectly, injecting a trace of vitality into this soul that was supposed to have withered.

Yu Huang guessed where the peony aura came from.

It must be the mark Madam Brulee had left in Jun Qing's soul.

Perhaps the mayor had already accepted his disfigurement and was indifferent towards death. He was probably even prepared to die at any time. However, Madam Brulee made him reluctant to part from this world.

Even if it was very painful to live, he was still willing to live in this world for Madam Brulee's sake.

For a man who had lost his mother when he was young, was ignored by his father all year round, and was bullied by his stepmother and servants, Madam Brulee was like the warm sun.

At that moment, the mayor noticed Sheng Xiao and the others.

However, he didn't walk towards them. He only tilted his head and asked the guards behind him, "Are they guests invited by Madam?"

The guard captain looked at Sheng Xiao and the others. Then, he thought for a while and said, "I heard that Madam is meeting her favorite perfumer today."

"Perfumer?" The mayor remembered that Madam Brulee had become very fond of a perfumer called Naris in the past few years. She said that the perfumes made by that perfumer were very sensual and rich.

As a man, the mayor didn't know what else a bottle of perfume could contain besides fragrance.

But since his wife said it, he believed her.

Out of gratitude to the perfumer, the mayor nodded at them as a greeting and turned to leave.

At this moment, the young woman with a high ponytail suddenly asked, "Sir, you're suffering mentally and physically. You're clearly in great pain, so I want to know why you still want to continue living?"

The mayor suddenly stopped in his tracks.

When the guard captain behind him heard Yu Huang's bold words, his expression immediately changed.

The guard captain raised the weapon in his hand and berated Yu Huang, "How dare you! Do you know who the person in front of you is?! Hurry up and apologize to the mayor!"

In contrast to the guard captain's indignant reaction, the mayor, Jun Qing, didn't show any displeasure. His gaze, filled with contemplation and scrutiny, landed on Yu Huang for a long time.

After a moment, the mayor asked Yu Huang with interest, "You sensed my soul's emotions?"

Jun Qing had never shown his pain to anyone. Even in front of Madam Brulee, he had portrayed himself as strong and fearless.

No one knew that his organs had long begun to fail inside his seemingly muscular and healthy body.

His cultivation level stopped at the Master Realm and he had yet to break through, so he should have died a hundred years ago. If it wasn't for the fact that Madam Brulee hid in her room and cried often during that period of time, causing Jun Qing to be unable to bear to abandon Madam Brulee and die, he wouldn't have spent so much money to buy a Longevity Pill from a pharmacist.

Madam Brulee only knew that the Longevity Pill was powerful and could extend his life by a hundred years. She didn't know that the person who consumed the Longevity Pill was enduring the intense pain of his internal organs being gnawed on by the demonic insects.

The main ingredient for the Longevity Pill was a demonic insect with powerful vitality.

These demonic insects grew by absorbing the vitality of living people. They couldn't be burned to death by pharmacists. Helpless, pharmacists forcefully imprisoned these demonic insects in medicinal pills. After Jun Qing consumed the Longevity Pill, the demonic insects would parasitize Jun Qing's body and devour his flesh and blood to obtain vitality.

As it bit Jun Qing, it would also inject the vitality it had snatched from others into Jun Qing's body. At the same time, it would continuously steal Jun Qing's vitality.

This was actually a vicious cycle.

This cycle would last for a hundred years.

A hundred years later, after Jun Qing's vitality was completely devoured by the demonic insect, he would age and die within a short period of time. The demonic insect would be taken away by the pharmacist again and refined into a Longevity Pill before being sent to the next host.

For the past hundred years, Jun Qing had been enduring the intense pain of the demonic insect biting his heart day and night.

However, he was the mayor of Ice River City and the richest man that the scientists of the Central Continent relied on, so he couldn't show his pain. Therefore, no one in this world knew how much pain Jun Qing had been in the past hundred years. Other than Jun Qing himself, only the pharmacist who invented the Longevity Pill knew the truth.

For the woman in front of him to tell his true physical condition at a glance, there was only one possibility—

She could feel the pain in his soul.

1092 The Awkward Moment For The Mayor

Facing Jun Qing's suspicion and vigilance, Yu Huang didn't quibble. She explained frankly, "I'm a Purifying Spirit Master. We Purifying Spirit Masters can sense the existence of every soul."

This was the first time the mayor had heard of the profession of a Purifying Spirit Master, so he was somewhat curious. "Purifying Spirit Master? There's no such profession on the Cang Lang Continent." The mayor stared at Yu Huang's charming face as he asked thoughtfully, "Could it be that you're an ascender?"

Nodding her head, Yu Huang said, "My name is Yu Huang. I'm an S-rank ascender from the Holy Spirit Continent."

The mayor became interested in her when he heard the words "S-rank." He raised his chin at Sheng Xiao and asked, "What about him?"

Yu Huang answered for Sheng Xiao. "He's my husband. He's also an ascender with S-rank authority."

In the entire Central Continent, there were less than 200 Beast Tamers with S-rank identity cards. As a Beast Tamer who had cultivated for more than 200 years but was still only a Master, the mayor had a good impression of Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao, who had obtained S-rank identity cards at such a young age.

These two people were really impressive!

"Could it be that you're the mysterious perfumer my wife has been fond of for many years?"

Seeing that Jun Qing had misunderstood, Yu Huang hurriedly pulled Naris' arm and explained to Jun Qing, "My friend Naris is the perfumer."

Jun Qing stared at Naris, who was wrapped up tightly and only revealed a pair of round almond-shaped eyes. He didn't sense any spiritual energy fluctuations from this woman, so he knew that Naris was just an ordinary civilian.

However, since Naris could befriend two ascenders with S-rank authority, she must be outstanding as well.

Jun Qing smiled at Naris and said, "Young lady, my wife likes your perfume very much. I'm also very grateful for the joy you've brought her all these years."

These were all just pleasantries, but Naris still felt flattered.

Naris bowed to Jun Qing and replied nervously, "I feel lucky to be appreciated by Madam. I'm also very grateful for Madam's nurturing and help."

Nodding, Jun Qing looked at Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao again.

As the richest man in the Central Continent and the mayor of the Ice River City, Jun Qing subconsciously wanted to rope these two powerful figures to his side and make them choose Central Continent.

The first step to winning over big shots was to get closer to them and improve their impression of him.

The mayor had an idea when he saw Sheng Xiao holding a baby in his arms.

There was no better way to win them over than praising their child for being cute and smart.

At the thought of this, the mayor said, "The two of you are so young, but you guys have already obtained an S-rank identity card. How admirable. This little cutie is your child, right?"

Staring at Ah Kong's round and cute face, which clearly didn't resemble Yu Huang or Sheng Xiao's, the mayor praised against his conscience, "This child is so cute. One look and I can tell that he's smart. When he grows up, he will definitely be as outstanding as the two of you."

At this point, the mayor immediately had an idea and continued, "Nine Gods District's teaching standards are unrivaled in the entire Cang Lang Continent. Your son is school-age, so I wonder if he has started school yet. If he hasn't chosen a school, he can attend Nine Gods District's No. 1 kindergarten to study. I guarantee that before he awakens his beast form, he will be able to enjoy the best educational resources in the entire continent!"

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao were speechless.

Ah Kong looked at Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang in confusion.

When did he become Yu Huang's and Sheng Xiao's child?

Naris felt awkward when she saw that the mayor had misunderstood. When she saw that Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao didn't know how to respond to the mayor's words, she quickly explained, "Sir, you've misunderstood. This child is not their child."

The mayor was speechless.

It was awkward.

He felt utterly embarrassed.

The mayor resented the fact that the peony flowers were too short to block his tall figure. Otherwise, he would have hidden inside the bushes.

Everyone was very embarrassed and the atmosphere was awkward.

Fortunately, at this moment, the artificial intelligence on the guards' wrists suddenly flickered.

The guard captain opened the artificial intelligence system monitor and took a look. Then, he walked to the mayor's side and lowered his head to report, "I heard that Madam asked Butler Mo to issue a notice to search the entire city for Beast Tamers with incomplete beast forms to do an unprecedented experiment."

Hearing this, the mayor was instantly alarmed and asked in shock, "Experiment? What experiment?" It had only been half a day since he had last seen his wife. Why was she starting to cause trouble again?

The guard captain didn't know what was going on either. He only said, "I heard that Butler Mo brought the Beast Tamer with the incomplete beast form to the side hall." At this point, the captain suddenly looked at Yu Huang and the others as he said, "One of their friends is doing the experiment with Madam."

After knowing that one of Yu Huang's friend was conducting an experiment with Madam Brulee, the mayor instantly became alarmed.

His gaze was vigilant as he scrutinized Yu Huang and the others. His tone was filled with unconcealed menace and suspicion as he said, "I wonder what experiment your friend is doing with my wife?"

Clearly, Jun Qing thought that they had ill intentions and wanted to use his wife to cause trouble.

Despite sensing Jun Qing's anger, Yu Huang was unafraid. She said calmly, "The person who went to do the experiment with Madam Brulee is my mentor. He was also a Purifying Spirit Master. You might not know this, but not only can a Purifying Spirit Master purify resentment and all kinds of filth, but a Purifying Spirit Master's most powerful and magical ability is to evolve a complete beast form for a Beast Tamer with an incomplete beast form. As for my mentor, he is the most powerful person in the Purifying Spirit Sect. He is called a Purifying Spirit God by the people in our hometown. He has endless psychic power and can even evolve a complete beast form for a Prime Master Beast Tamer."

Jun Qing was stunned.

His hands that were behind his back suddenly trembled uncontrollably.

Evolve an incomplete beast form...

It was difficult for Jun Qing not to be tempted by the abilities of a Purifying Spirit Master.

"Then what experiment is he going to do with my wife?" Jun Qing was still suspicious of Yu Huang's so-called mentor's abilities.

With a slight smile, Yu Huang calmly explained, "Madam loves you deeply, so before personally witnessing my mentor's abilities, she doesn't dare to get your hopes up. In order to verify my mentor's abilities, she asked Butler Mo to find a Beast Tamer with an incomplete beast form for an experiment. At this moment, the experiment is probably about to begin."

Yu Huang was completely confident in Lin Jiansheng's strength. Hence, she told the mayor about this before the results of the experiment were even out.

After the mayor heard the whole story, his heart suddenly started racing.

"Let's go to the side hall!" With that, the mayor turned around and hurriedly walked towards the side hall.

Yu Huang and the others quickly followed.

1093 Natural Orator

At this moment, in the side hall.

The Beast Tamer they had found for the experiment was also a Master Beast Tamer.

It was a woman.

The woman was wearing a green halter shirt and a high-waisted fishtail dress that accentuated her slender waist and perky butt.

The 12cm tall golden high heels made her fair legs look even more sexy and slender. She also had very lustrous long brownish-black curly hair. The makeup on her face was subtle yet tasteful, making her already gorgeous face look even more glamorous.

This woman sat elegantly on the soft leather sofa. At a glance, she looked like a female celebrity from a fashion magazine. She was dazzling and imposing.

She was beautiful and eye-catching when she was sitting there all alone.

However, when the tipsy Madam Brulee walked around the screen and appeared in the side hall, the young woman instantly paled in comparison and became inconspicuous.

The woman stared at the voluptuous and graceful Madam Brulee, whose face was slightly flushed from drinking. Her gaze instantly dimmed.

She had also seen Madam Brulee's appearance in some news reports, and she had also heard countless good friends who had seen Madam Brulee praise her in the most exaggerated terms. However, she always felt that those were words of flattery her friends said in order to curry favor with Madam Brulee.

However, when she really saw Madam Brulee, the woman realized that it wasn't an exaggeration at all.

Madam Brulee's beauty and grace deserved the most exaggerated praise.

Madam Brulee was used to being stared at by strangers, so she nodded at the young woman calmly and said, "Hello, Miss Morica. Please summon your beast form for me to see."

Morica came back to her senses and asked nervously, "Madam, you know about me?"

Morica seemed flattered.

However, how could Madam Brue know who Morica was?

The reason she knew that the woman in front of her was called Morica was because she had heard it from Butler Mo.

However, from Morica's words, it seemed that Morica was quite famous.

Madam Brulee was good at putting on an act. She didn't know Morica, but she praised her without changing her expression, "You're quite famous, so it's normal for me to have heard of you."

The smile on Morica's face widened.

"Miss Morica, please summon your beast form and let me take a look." Madam Brulee's smile became colder. She was annoyed at this woman for being too slow.

When Morica sensed Madam Brulee's change in mood, she summoned her beast form immediately.

Her beast form was actually a simple and cute lop rabbit, but this rabbit only had one ear.

After seeing the lop rabbit with one ear with her own eyes, Madam Brulee finally believed that she had an incomplete beast form.

When Morica saw her incomplete beast form, she instantly became embarrassed and ashamed. She said, "Madam, I'm a Master Beast Tamer and a little-known singer. A beast form like the lop rabbit doesn't have strong combat strength, so it's more suitable for it to be a support Beast Tamer."

"I cultivate a kind of charm technique, and I've also relied on this charm technique to achieve a certain level of success in the music industry. Because my beast form is incomplete, I've never been able to unleash my strongest charm..." This was also the reason why Morica took the initiative to register and participate in this experiment.

After saying that, she looked at the silent Lin Jiansheng and asked skeptically, "Sir, can you really help me evolve a complete beast form?"

Actually, what she said just now was quite self-effacing.

She wasn't merely little-known in the entertainment industry. She was actually a famous singer. Because she was charming and had a pleasant voice, every concert was packed with audiences. However, her fame only extended to the Central Continent and she wasn't well-known on the other continents.

This was Morica's greatest regret.

After Lin Jiansheng heard that Morica was actually a famous singer, his eyes suddenly revealed an eager look. Lin Jiansheng didn't answer Morica's question. Instead, he asked her a new question—

"Miss Morica, do you have many fans?"

When she heard this, a hint of arrogance appeared on Morica's face as she said, "Although it sounds like I'm boasting, I'm quite popular." Mo Lika couldn't hide her pride as she said, "In the music industry, my number of fans and popularity have always been unrivaled."

Upon hearing this, Lin Jiansheng looked at her with a fervent gaze.

How did he look like?

He was like a money-grubber who had suddenly seen a cash cow.

Morica was stunned by Lin Jiansheng's gaze.

Madam Brulee also noticed Lin Jiansheng's abnormal reaction and she asked Lin Jiansheng uneasily, "Mr. Lin, is there a problem?"

Lin Jiansheng suddenly lowered his head and said to Madam Brulee, "Madam, I have a new idea."

Madam Brulee nodded hesitantly and said, "Mr. Lin, please speak."

Lin Jiansheng said, "I want to start a live broadcast."

"Huh?" Madam Brulee was stunned, and so was Morica.

Even Jun Qing, Yu Huang, and the others, who had already walked out of the side hall and were about to enter, were shocked by Lin Jiansheng's decision.

Madam Brulee came back to her senses quickly and asked in surprise, "Why do you want to do a live broadcast?"

Lin Jiansheng raised his head slightly and looked up.

At this moment, his body seemed to be plated with a layer of holy light.

He suddenly gave off a feeling that made people subconsciously want to follow and submit to him.

Lin Jiansheng's clear and dignified voice spread throughout the hall.

"I want to expand the influence of the Purifying Spirit Master profession. I want to make it the Central Continent's second claim to fame. Not only that, but I also want the Purifying Spirit Master profession to become a new profession that everyone in the Cang Lang Continent knows about. I want those who have not successfully awakened their beast form but have the purest and kindest heart to be able to cultivate psychic power and become a Purifying Spirit Master! I believe that in the future, the Central Continent's Purifying Spirit Masters will become transcendent existences, like the War God Clan."

Lin Jiansheng was very eloquent. With just a few words, he galvanized Madam Brulee.

Madam Brulee's heart was racing non-stop, as if she had already foreseen the future of the Central Continent through Lin Jiansheng's description!

At the thought that the headquarters of the Purifying Spirit Masters would be established in the Central Continent, and that in the future, the headquarters of the Purifying Spirit Masters in the Central Continent would be as famous as the War God Clan in the cultivation world, she was extremely tempted.

At this moment, a calm and dignified male voice came from the corridor outside the side hall—

"Mr. Lin, the future you're fantasizing about is indeed fascinating, but the premise of whether all of this can be realized depends on whether you can successfully evolve a completed beast form for Miss Morica. If you can, then the future is promising. If you can't, then be it Miss Morica, the Mayor Manor, or even the Central Continent, we will all become the laughingstock of the entire Cang Lang Continent!"

When he finished the last sentence, Jun Qing walked out from behind the screen.

Lin Jiansheng raised his head and looked at the mayor.

He didn't look at Jun Qing's face carefully at all because his attention was immediately attracted by the soul aura hidden in Jun Qing's body.

They were two completely different forces. One was filled with the aura of death, while the other contained endless vitality.

Lin Jiansheng saw through Jun Qing's true physical condition at a glance. He smiled mysteriously and said something that others didn't understand, but it shocked Jun Qing greatly. He said, "Stolen time must be very torturous."

Jun Qing's expression immediately changed.

Jun Qing found it unbelievable that Yu Huang could tell at a glance that his soul was being suppressed.

However, Mr. Lin was even able to accurately point out the harm the Longevity Pill had done to his body, which shocked Jun Qing even more.

"Mr. Lin..." Jun Qing had mixed feelings and didn't know how to reply to Lin Jiansheng.

Lin Jiansheng changed the topic and said smugly, "Do you know why you're living in such pain?"

Jun Qing subconsciously asked in confusion, "Why?"

Lin Jiansheng said, "Of course it's for the sake of my arrival."

His words were arrogant to the extreme and the guard captain behind Jun Qing couldn't help but frown.

However, Jun Qing felt a strange sense of respect for Lin Jiansheng.

"Mr. Lin, are you really confident that you can evolve a complete beast form for me?" Jun Qing felt that he must be crazy for asking this.

Because of his incomplete beast form, he had visited many super experts in the past 200 years. However, be it Healers, Pharmacists, or Refiners, none of them could help him obtain a complete beast form.

On what basis did this so-called Purifying Spirit Master from a last-rate small world spout nonsense?

What was wrong with him? He knew that this was impossible, but he still felt that the other party could really do it!

1094 Eight Continents Show, Mysterious Livestream

Lin Jiansheng smiled calmly and said, "Whether it can be done or not will naturally be determined later."

Lin Jiansheng stared at Jun Qing fearlessly with a proud and arrogant expression. "Do you dare to give me this chance?"

"Do you dare to?" These words were quite provocative.

After Jun Qing stared at Lin Jiansheng with a solemn gaze for a long time, he suddenly turned around and gave Madam Bruley a helpless smile and asked, "Madam, are you willing to take another risk with me?"

Hearing this, Madam Brulee smiled as she answered in a humorous and mischievous manner, "I even dared to marry a short-lived ghost like you. What else wouldn't I dare to do?"

Only Madam Brulee dared to say this.

When Jun Qing heard her answer, his smile widened.

Jun Qing told Lin Jiansheng, "Mr. Lin, I swear to you on the ground spirit of the Central Continent that if this matter is successful, it will prove that you indeed have a strange ability that can bring new vitality and change to the Central Continent. I, Jun Qing, promise that I will treat you as my closest partner and provide you with all the available resources. However, if you fail..."

The mayor's gaze suddenly became sinister and cold as he said emotionlessly, "...You will never set foot in the Central Continent ever again!"

Lin Jiansheng requested to start a live broadcast and evolve Morica's beast form in front of all the netizens in the Central Continent. If he succeeded, he would naturally gain both fame and fortune. If he failed, not only would he lose face, but the mayor and the entire Central Continent would also lose face.

Upon hearing this, Lin Jiansheng placed his hands behind his back and pointed at Jun Qing. "A gentleman doesn't go back on his words!"

Jun Qing raised his head and said firmly, "You can't go back on your word!"

"Alright!" Lin Jiansheng nodded at Yu Huang and the others confidently as he said, "Prepare to start the live broadcast!"

The mayor, Jun Qing, immediately ordered the guard captain to find a professional photography team and come to the mayor's residence to hold a live broadcast for Lin Jiansheng and Morica.

Morica sat on the sofa in the side hall as she watched the staff move the camera equipment to every corner of the room. She felt a little nervous when she thought about what was going to happen next.

She had held more than a hundred concerts, but she had never been as nervous as she was today.

However, Lin Jiansheng was very calm. He was eating amethyst grapes with his son in his arms. He even turned around to say to Morica, "Miss Morica, you can send a preview in advance and inform your fans to enter the live-stream room to wait."

Upon hearing this, Morica opened the artificial intelligence terminal on her wrist and entered the most popular social app in the Cang Lang Continent.

This app was called the 'Eight Continents Show'. It was similar to Weibo and was like a huge internet bridge that connected the eight distant continents tightly. However, the residents of each continent could only use the server of their own continent. If they wanted to obtain the privileges of other continents' users, they had to be upgraded to VIP customers.

Cang Lang Continent had a total of 1.2 million people. Eight Continents Show had a total of 6 billion users and Central Continent had a total of 800 million users.

As a singer with both beauty and talent in the Central Continent, she had the most fans in the Central Continent. Her fans had already exceeded 80 million. Hence, when she followed Lin Jiansheng's instructions and opened the 'Eight Continents Show' app to post that there would be an unprecedented live-stream preview in half an hour, the topic of #Morica's live-stream preview # quickly appeared on the top of the Central Continent's trending list.

Some VIP customers also forwarded this notice to the 'Eight Continents Show' international section.

Soon, this topic attracted the attention of some international VIP users.

When she released the preview, she sent a live-stream URL as well. In just five minutes, the number of users in the live-stream had already exceeded eight million.

Lin Jiansheng and the others were very poor and didn't have the money to apply for a personal AI terminal.

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao sat behind Morica. They wanted to use her terminal with her. However, the privacy of this artificial intelligence terminal was excellent. It was only open to the client. After the client got a smart terminal, the smart company would customize a private iris for them. The client could only use the artificial intelligence terminal after the iris was confirmed.

This kind of artificial intelligence terminal would be bound to the customer's brain nerves. The terminal would only stop working on the day the customer died.

This artificial intelligence terminal was also very convenient to use. Customers only needed to give telepathic orders in order to operate it.

Therefore, when she looked up, she could see the image of the 'Eight Continents Show' app page in the void through her iris. However, Yu Huang, Sheng Xiao, and the others couldn't see anything.

As the two of them stared at the empty void, they couldn't help but feel dejected. Sheng Xiao held Yu Huang's hand as he whispered into her ear, "When this is over, I'll get you an AI terminal."

Yu Huang held Sheng Xiao's hand as well and said, "I'll get you one too."

After scrolling around Eight Continents Show for a while, she closed the page. Then, she turned around and saw Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao sitting behind her. They were looking at the AI terminal watch on her wrist enviously. Only then did she realize that the two of them might not have gotten an AI terminal watch yet.

Morica turned off iris mode and turned on the shared mode of the AI terminal. Then, she gave Yu Huang a sweet smile. "Yu Huang, Sheng Xiao, if you don't mind, let's watch it together."

Yu Huang immediately had a good impression of this woman.

Yu Huang nodded solemnly and said, "If you encounter any difficulties in the future, you can look to me for help."

Morica's smile became even more sincere.

Thus, Yu Huang, Sheng Xiao, and Naris sat behind Morica and scrolled around Eight Continents Show with her.

* *

Half an hour later, the live-stream started on time.

At this moment, the number of users in the live-stream had already reached 30 million. New viewers couldn't join anymore, and once the audience in the live-stream left, they couldn't rejoin.

The administrator backstage of the Central Continent's Eight Continents Show had already received a call from the mayor. Knowing that Morica was about to do an important live broadcast that concerned the future of the Central Continent, he brought a large number of programmers and sat in the office to guard against any accidents that might happen midway through the live broadcast.

"Welcome to Morica's live-stream." The host, who had been hired at the last minute, didn't appear on the screen. The audience could only hear the narration. "What's up next is the important moment of bearing witness to a miracle. A Purifying Spirit Master who has ascended from the Holy Spirit Continent will give a demonstration during the live-stream. He will help Madam Morica perfect her incomplete lop rabbit beast form!"

The audience in the live-stream started commenting with exclamation marks.

In front of the live broadcast screen, exclamation marks and question marks appeared—

[Evolve an incomplete beast form?]

[What is a Purifying Spirit Master? Can he really evolve an incomplete beast form?]

1095 Mentor's Moment of Glory

Facing the various doubts raised by the audience, the host followed Jun Qing's instructions and didn't explain specifically. He only said concisely, "Whether it works or not, we'll have to wait and see!"

With that, the host smiled and said, "Please enter, Miss Morica."

Walking in 12-inch stiletto heels, she entered the venue gracefully and knelt on a white futon in front of the camera.

When they saw her, the audience praised her beauty.

The host continued, "Next, let us invite the respected Purifying Spirit Master Lin Jiansheng to enter the venue!"

Everyone's eyes widened. They were curious about how handsome such a mysterious person would look.

Then...

The person who appeared in front of the camera was a burly middle-aged man in a loose black robe and white spiky hair. Strictly speaking, the man's facial features were not ugly, but there was a menacing look in his eyes. His fierce and terrifying aura made people subconsciously associate him with bad guys.

The screen was blank for a while, then rows of ellipses appeared—

Perhaps they were speechless because of Lin Jiansheng's unexpected appearance, or perhaps they were questioning Lin Jiansheng's true ability.

Jun Qing also opened the Eight Continents Show app in shared mode. This way, Yu Huang and the others could see the audience's reaction.

Upon seeing the screen full of ellipses, Naris narrowed her eyes slightly and frowned. She was very worried about Lin Jiansheng, so she tugged at Yu Huang's arm gently and asked softly, "Yu Huang, will Mr. Lin be affected by them and fail?"

Yu Huang crossed her arms and leaned against the back of the sofa as she said confidently, "Mentor never disappoints."

Seeing that Yu Huang wasn't worried at all, Naris, Jun Qing, and the others gradually calmed down.

In front of the camera, Lin Jiansheng suddenly said, "Be quiet."

Upon hearing this, the audience in the live broadcast camera was so quiet that only the sound of breathing could be heard. Even the host subconsciously turned off the microphone.

Lin Jiansheng clenched his right hand gently, and an identity card that symbolized a high-level Purifying Spirit Master appeared in front of him. The moment Lin Jiansheng reached out to hold the scepter, the crystal ball above the scepter suddenly erupted with a milky white pure psychic power.

That power was so mellow and pure that Jun Qing and the others felt refreshed and invigorated when they sensed it.

As expected of the purest power in the world!

Lin Jiansheng lowered his head and said to Morica, "Close your eyes, calm your mind, and summon your beast form. Next, no matter what changes happen, you have to grit your teeth and endure it." Lin Jiansheng looked into the camera, as if he was teaching a student, and said to everyone earnestly, "A Purifying Spirit Master can indeed help a Beast Tamer with an incomplete beast form evolve into a complete beast form, but this process is very painful. Whether or not you can succeed has a 60% dependency on the ability of the Purifying Spirit Master. The remaining 40% depends on the Beast Tamer's perseverance."

"With perseverance, you will be invincible."

Hearing this, Morica nodded solemnly and closed her eyes. Then, she calmed down and summoned her beast form.

A simple and cute big rabbit appeared beside her. The rabbit was pure white, but its ears were a faint pink. The rabbit squatted beside her while maintaining a cute appearance as it faced the camera.

Unfortunately, this rabbit only had one ear on the right.

Lin Jiansheng raised the scepter in his hand and stomped it beside Morica heavily. In an instant, majestic psychic power turned into a huge spider web and trapped the lop rabbit. After the lop rabbit was attacked, it had no intention of resisting Lin Jiansheng.

Psychic power was the purest and gentlest energy. One couldn't sense the offensive power of this energy in their beast form.

After using his psychic power to restrain the lop rabbit, Lin Jiansheng closed his eyes. Then, he opened his lips slightly and chanted a mysterious yet profound incantation.

When this incantation sounded, a powerful and invisible summoning force quickly spread in all directions with the Mayor's manor as the center and quickly enveloped the entire Central Continent.

Sensing the existence of this powerful yet strange gentle force, the Beast Tamers on the Central Continent raised their heads and gazed at the empty sky with thoughtful and surprised expressions.

This power...

...It was so mellow.

They couldn't see the psychic power, but it was omnipresent.

As long as there was benign psychic energy, there would be traces of psychic power.

After receiving the summon of psychic power, many kind-hearted people suddenly fell into a strange trance. It was as if they had been instantly pulled from midwinter into spring. The sky was clear and the air was fresh. A warm breeze enveloped them.

These people felt revitalized in an instant. Then, waves of psychic power emerged from their bodies and flew into the sky.

At the same time, countless flowers and trees moved without any wind. They silently poured vitality into that energy...

In the end, the cleanest energy on the Central Continent surged into the mayor's manor in the shortest time possible. They circled around and gathered in the deep sky above the mayor's manor. Because this energy was so mellow, the originally invisible psychic power actually turned into drops of milky white liquid.

These liquids floated in the deep sky. They surged into the side hall of the mayor's manor and into Lin Jiansheng's Purifying Spirit Scepter. Then, they transformed into invisible, colorless, and odorless psychic energy that was injected into the psychic spiderweb by Lin Jiansheng.

When the spiderweb received the infusion of psychic power, it suddenly became brighter.

Countless net threads injected pure psychic power into the incomplete lop rabbit. When the lop rabbit sensed the invasion of external energy, it finally counterattacked.

The originally cute little rabbit suddenly pricked up its long ears and revealed its mouth full of fangs. It attacked the psychic spiderweb again and again. However, how could its mere Master-level energy be a match against a powerful Purifying Spirit God?!

Lin Jiansheng suddenly stopped chanting. He snorted coldly and the corners of his lips curled up slightly as he pressed his right index finger on the psychic spiderweb. He scolded in a low voice, "Filthy and turbid energy, disperse quickly!"

Boom!

Lin Jiansheng's entire body emitted a holy glow. In that instant, his fierce eyes actually looked compassionate.

When the live broadcast camera was aimed at his eyes, that benevolent gaze seemed to be able to pass through the camera and land on everyone.

When the audience saw this scene, they thought of the evil they had committed in their lives and the karma they had received. In an instant, love and hatred intertwined, and good and evil thoughts emerged together. Some people hugged their heads and cried, while others began to curse to vent their dissatisfaction.

1096 If You Can't Be a Beast Tamer, Be a Beast Tamer's Redemption

In a cemetery on a certain continent in the north, a young man in a gray sweater was sitting on a tombstone. Countless crows landed on his shoulder and cried out hoarsely and sorrowfully.

As the young man looked at the live broadcast camera presented by the AI terminal, he stared at the man's compassionate eyes in the camera. His heart, which had long been numb from the pain, suddenly started beating. The young man clutched his chest and groaned.

In an instant, the young man thought of the most tragic experience of his youth.

It turned out that the injuries and pain people had once suffered would never disappear.

Even after he worked hard to become stronger and became a ghost cultivator that everyone hated, admired, and feared, he still didn't dare to face his dark past.

* *

The lop rabbit was defeated quickly. It laid limply at the bottom of the psychic spider web. Since the camera was aimed at the lop rabbit, everyone saw with their own eyes that black foul aura was seeping out of the lop rabbit's body.

At this moment, Lin Jiansheng's voice sounded again. He said—

“The reason why some Beast Tamers have incomplete beast awakening is that the hatred in the host's heart is too deep. This hatred was indirectly injected into their beast forms. Then, their beast forms became incomplete.”

Lin Jiansheng suddenly turned to look at Jun Qing and said meaningfully, “Purifying the grievous energy in the beast form will allow the Beast Tamer to muster up the courage to face their past and stimulate the Beast Tamer's determination again. Then, they will be able to evolve into a complete beast form.”

“In the end, all we can do is help you get rid of the resentment in your beast forms. Whether you have the courage to move on from the past and face the future is the key to determining whether you can evolve a complete beast form.”

However, what Lin Jiansheng didn't say was that even if this Beast Tamer didn't have the courage to face the past, Lin Jiansheng still had the ability to let them evolve into a complete beast form.

However, that would be too tiring and would consume even more psychic energy.

When he said that, people who yearned to evolve complete beast forms would naturally cooperate with him.

After hearing Lin Jiansheng's words, Jun Qing revealed a thoughtful expression.

It turned out that the reason his beast form was incomplete was that his resentment back then was too deep.

At this moment, Jun Qing realized that Morica had suddenly cried. Her eyes were closed, and she looked like she had fallen asleep, but her tears kept falling. From the looks of it, the resentment in her beast form had been expelled. Her consciousness was now trapped in the most painful past.

Sensing her pain, Lin Jiansheng placed his broad palm on the top of her head and sighed softly. "Child, you have the love of tens of millions of people now. You are living a very happy life. Why make things difficult for yourself and dwell on your past?"

"Only by getting over the pain can you start a new life with a smile."

As if she had heard Lin Jiansheng's words, she gradually calmed down.

At this moment, everyone realized that the lop rabbit under the psychic spiderweb had woken up. It sat up and scratched its head in frustration. After it let out a chirp, under everyone's gaze, a long pink ear appeared on the left head of the lop rabbit.

At this moment, Morica also opened her eyes. After she turned to look at the little rabbit beside her, she suddenly broke down into tears and hugged the little rabbit tightly.

The lop rabbit demon beasts looked cute, but they had a mouth full of fangs and were actually rebellious beast forms, just like Morica's inner world.

When Morica was young, she was the cutest child in the orphanage. However, the dean of the orphanage refused to let her be adopted. She deliberately left her in the orphanage to become its signboard. The dean of the orphanage even helped her put on a cute and beautiful tutu dress and sent her to the residence of some adults.

That was the first time she had ever worn a tutu, so she was so overjoyed that she spun in circles.

But later, tutus became a source of trauma for her.

After she became a singer, she had tried all kinds of clothes except for tutus.

Morica hugged her big rabbit as she raised her head and stared at Lin Jiansheng with tears in her eyes for a moment before suddenly standing up and hugging Lin Jiansheng tightly. Then, she cried loudly. “Mr. Lin, thank you. Thank you.” From this moment onwards, Morica was willing to be Lin Jiansheng’s believer.

Lin Jiansheng patted her head, then he pushed her away. With a blank expression, he said, “Don’t hug me. Men and women shouldn’t be so touchy with each other.” After a pause, he said to Jun Qing, “Men shouldn’t be so touchy with each other either.” He would only be intimate with his wife-to-be.

Jun Qing didn’t notice what Lin Jiansheng was saying at all.

As he stared fixedly at the lop rabbit that had grown a new ear, his heart was beating wildly.

His heart was racing with excitement.

After so many years!

After so many years!

He had finally found hope!

“Mr. Lin!” Madam Brulee walked forward quickly. Without caring if the live broadcast camera was on or off, she knelt in front of Lin Jiansheng and begged him to evolve Jun Qing’s beast form. “Mr. Lin, I was blind to question your ability earlier. Mr. Lin, please don’t hold it against me. Please be magnanimous and help my husband!”

Lin Jiansheng hurriedly gave Yu Huang a look.

Yu Huang hurriedly helped Madam Brulee up.

Lin Jiansheng looked at the camera and started to advertise—

“Everyone, from today onwards, I will open a Purifying Spirit Master Academy in the Central Continent’s Ice River City and publicly recruit students! If you think that you are pure-hearted and have strong comprehension skills, but regretfully, you didn’t awaken your beast form, becoming a Purifying Spirit Master and helping Beast Tamers evolve complete beast forms and getting rid of all the dirty things in the world is your best choice.”

“If you can’t be a Beast Tamer, then be a Beast Tamer’s salvation!”

After saying that, Lin Jiansheng asked the staff to stop the live broadcast. Then, he turned to Jun Qing and said, "Are you ready?"

Jun Qing's eyes were slightly red. He wanted to remain calm, but he couldn't. He nodded vigorously as he said, "Thank you, Mr. Lin."

The next day.

The richest man in the Central Continent, the mayor of Ice River City, held a press conference. He invited social media personnel and media personnel from the cultivation world to participate in this press conference.

Lin Jiansheng, the Purifying Spirit God, who had become famous on the Central Continent's internet overnight, attended the press conference with him.

Lin Jiansheng was still wearing his iconic black robe. On his shoulder, there was a white Companion Beast. The Companion Beast's fur was smooth, and it looked smart and cute. The combination of the fierce man and the cute pet was quite adorable.

Without waiting for the mayor to speak, the reporters started taking photos of Lin Jiansheng and his cute pet.

1097 Purifying Spirit Master, Central Continent Sword

"There's still a long way to go. We still have a lot of time and opportunities for everyone to take photos." Jun Qing held back his laughter as he interrupted the reporters' photo-taking. He was also telling the reporters that he and Lin Jiansheng would become long-term partners.

As expected, after understanding what Jun Qing meant, the reporters quickly quietened down.

Jun Qing didn't prepare a manuscript.

He was unwilling to say anything else. He held the microphone as he calmly announced an exciting piece of news—

"Today, on behalf of the Central Continent's government, I officially announce that from today onwards, Purifying Spirit Masters will become a legal profession in the Central Continent. In the Central Continent, Purifying Spirit Masters can enjoy the same treatment as level-one scientists, Beast Tamers, Pharmacists, Blacksmiths, and Healers.”

Hearing this, the reporters were in an uproar.

In fact, on the way to the meeting, the shrewd reporters had already guessed that this meeting was definitely about Purifying Spirit Masters.

However, they only guessed that the Central Continent’s government would make Purifying Spirit Masters a legal profession. They didn’t expect that a Purifying Spirit Master could obtain the same preferential treatment as a Beast Tamer, Pharmacist, Blacksmith, and Healer in the Central Continent.

From this, it could be seen how much the Central Continent’s government valued the Purifying Spirit Master profession.

When they looked at Lin Jiansheng again, their gazes instantly became filled with respect and admiration.

This was because they knew very well that the black-robed man standing on the high platform would become a legendary figure of Central Continent in the future!

Seeing the commotion below the stage, Jun Qing reached out and gestured for the reporters to quiet down.

The reporters quickly quieted down and heard Jun Qing say, “After the research of the Central Continent’s government, we have unanimously decided to include the Five Lakes Street neighborhood in the new renovation area. The neighborhood map of Five Lakes Street will expand to the south by a million square meters.”

“We plan to establish the first Purifying Spirit Master Academy on the Cang Lang Continent here. We will also move all 10 universities, including the Central Continent University of Science and Technology, the Central Continent Interstellar Academy, and the Central Continent Military Academy, to Five Lakes Street. We will work hard to turn the Five Lakes District into the Central Continent’s Academy City. In addition, we will also build a comprehensive transportation terminal between the new area of Five Lakes Street and the old city. At that time, the headquarters of Central Continent’s three major transportation companies will be moved to Five Lakes Street...”

After the introduction, Jun Qing stared at the cameras with a dignified expression and said, “The construction of the new district is both a challenge and an opportunity. We sincerely invite all the major merchants to come to inspect and settle in.”

After he announced the important decision, as well as another wave of advertisements and sponsorships, the press conference ended successfully.

After this news spread, the entire Central Continent was in an uproar.

After some hidden experts heard this news, they immediately saw through Jun Qing's ambition. "Jun Qing wants to turn Purifying Spirit Masters into Central Continent's powerful force."

When a sharp sword was hidden in a sheath, it was to hide one's strength and bide one's time. When a sharp sword was unsheathed, it was invincible.

Some experts with sharp senses acutely realized that the Central Continent, which had kept a low profile for thousands of years, was finally about to shine.

* *

After the press conference ended, many scholars suddenly swarmed into Five Lakes Street.

Those Beast Tamers and scientists had never come to Five Lake Street, the most barren, dilapidated, and dirty area of Ice River City.

Even though they lived in the same city, there was an invisible river that divided them into two worlds.

North of Jiang River, there was prosperity.

South of Jiang River, there was poverty and filth.

However, on this day, Five Lake Street, which had been peaceful for hundreds of years, suddenly welcomed batch after batch of well-dressed tourists.

Most of them were young people. They were all wearing fashionable clothes that were popular in the Central Continent. When those bright-colored clothing appeared on Five Lake Street, which was mainly filled with dark colors, the entire Five Lake Street seemed to have gained vitality in an instant.

In broad daylight, Di Wu's tavern was filled with miners in black down jackets.

This was a very rare scene.

Miners usually worked during the day. Only after work would they walk into Di Wu's tavern to drink and relax in the evening. They would go home to rest in the latter half of the night.

Being able to patronize the tavern during the day was a luxury for these miners.

As a miner wiped the ice fog off the glass window with his sleeve and sized up the young man outside through the window, he couldn't help but joke, "F*ck! I've lived here for decades, but this is the first time I've seen so many strangers."

The others also laughed and teased, "Isn't that so? If it weren't for the fact that there were so many applicants for the academies that the streets were crowded and it severely hindered our work, how could the mine manager have given us a break? How could we have the chance to gather here to drink and chat?"

Everyone laughed loudly.

"Mr. Di!" An old man in his sixties stood up and raised his glass to Di Wu. "Ever since you came, our town has been developing in a good direction. Back then, you suddenly appeared on Five Lakes Street and opened the only tavern in town, bringing some joy to our boring lives. Now, the guests you're entertaining are powerful Purifying Spirit Masters!"

"Your arrival brought good luck to Five Lakes Street. Let us toast you!"

Upon hearing this old man's words, the other miners stood up one after another. Then, they picked up the glass in their hands and shouted at Di Wu, "Lucky Star, here's a toast to you!"

Di Wu looked at them with a smile as he picked up the wine bottle on the bar and bowed back to them. Then, he raised his head and finished the wine.

After a burp, Di Wu said, "You guys gave us a place to settle down. This is our home, so it's our duty to help our hometown."

The atmosphere in the tavern gradually became warm and cozy.

At that moment, Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang opened the door of the tavern and walked in.

When they saw that Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang were back, the miners in the tavern whistled at them. They gave them a thumbs up and shouted, "You guys have brought good luck to Five Lake Street. Thank you for your contribution to Five Lake Street!"

Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang nodded at the workers. Then, they walked to the bar and asked Di Wu for a glass of wine.

Di Wu leaned against the bar counter. lazily He didn't want to mix drinks, so he poured them a glass of ale.

Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang raised their glasses. Then, they turned around and raised their glasses to the workers behind them.

Yu Huang said, "From today onwards, we will all be people of Five Lakes Street!"

"Okay!"

After toasting, Yu Huang put down her wine glass and looked straight at Di Wu.

When Di Wu felt Yu Huang's gaze, he opened his eyes lazily and looked at Yu Huang unhappily. "Why are you staring at me?"

"So you're not from Five Lake Street." Yu Huang's tone was unreadable. No one knew what she was thinking.

Di Wu tapped his finger on the wine bottle and said, "Yes, Naris and I are outsiders." Di Wu raised his chin at the miners and said, "These people are also from outside. The only difference is the time we came."

Then, Di Wu looked at Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao as he said, "We are just like you guys. You guys will slowly become a part of this place."

This shabby street was magical. It could turn everyone who had been here into a part of this place.

Yu Huang fell silent when she heard this.

1098 Identity Confession

At that moment, Sheng Xiao pushed the wine glass in front of Di Wu. He stared at Di Wu's beard for a moment and suddenly asked, "Where are you from?"

Di Wu stared at Sheng Xiao unhappily and snorted. "You're staying in my hotel, yet you're investigating my identity?"

Sheng Xiao put down his long legs from the high stool.

He stood up straight and leaned his upper body towards Di Wu. As Sheng Xiao looked at Di Wu at a close distance, he suddenly said, "Naris is not your daughter, right?"

Di Wu's pupils dilated and he subconsciously pushed Sheng Xiao away.

Di Wu glared at Sheng Xiao angrily and scolded, "You're an adult, so please be mindful of what you say."

Sheng Xiao looked at Di Wu meaningfully, but he didn't probe further and sat back down.

Throughout the entire process, Yu Huang stared at Di Wu without blinking.

Yu Huang suddenly felt bored when she saw Di Wu pushing Sheng Xiao away. She raised the bottle in his hand and took a sip of wine.

Yu Huang muttered to herself, "Purifying Spirit Masters can sense the aura of everyone's soul. Mr. Di Wu, Naris' soul is exactly the same as the soul aura of a good friend of mine. She's not your daughter at all. She's my friend Anna Tao."

Di Wu's hand that was holding the bottle trembled slightly.

Di Wu forced himself to calm down. He snorted at Yu Huang disdainfully and retorted, "Nonsense! Naris is my daughter. How can I be mistaken? What right do you have to say that she's your friend? Just because you're a Purifying Spirit Master, you can spout nonsense?"

Facing Di Wu's accusation, Yu Huang remained very calm. "You know very well whether it's nonsense or not."

Yu Huang narrowed her eyes and said, "There's an ice-blue Heart-Protecting Scale hidden under the skin on my friend Anna's chest. That Heart-Protecting Scale is cold, so her body temperature is lower than others. That Heart-Protecting Scale is unique in the world. It's a token of love given to Anna by her fiancé."

"There's also a protective scale hidden under your daughter's chest. Are you still going to quibble?!"

"Why are you pretending to be Naris' father?!"

Yu Huang didn't know what kind of person Di Wu was, so she naturally didn't dare to leave Naris by Di Wu's side. The advanced academies' enrollment competition was about to begin. If she didn't settle Naris' matter, Yu Huang couldn't leave with peace of mind.

That was why she decided to expose Naris' identity today.

Upon hearing Yu Huang tell the truth about the Heart-Protecting Scale, Di Wu was speechless. Just as he was about to explain, he heard a hoarse and trembling female voice coming from the entrance of the tavern—

"Daddy, is what Yu Huang said true?"

It was Naris' voice.

Yu Huang, Di Wu, and the others turned to look in the direction of the door at the same time.

Naris came in from outside with a red cloak and a bamboo box in her hand. She went out alone today to go to the delivery station on the street to pick up the perfume tools she had bought online.

When she returned, she happened to hear the contents of Yu Huang and Di Wu's confrontation outside the door.

At first, Naris was angry when she heard Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang question Di Wu and suspect that she wasn't Di Wu's daughter.

She felt that Yu Huang and the others were disrespecting her and were saying such lies to provoke Di Wu.

However, when Naris heard Yu Huang mention the Heart-Protecting Scale under her chest, she realized that she really might not be Di Wu's daughter.

There was indeed a blue dragon scale hidden under the skin of her fair chest.

That dragon scale was different from the other dragon scales on her body. It seemed to be alive and would continuously send cold air out.

A few years ago, Five Lake Street wasn't this cold. Naris even suspected that the reason the temperature on Five Lake Street had been getting lower and lower in the past few years was related to the dragon scale under her chest.

Seeing Naris appear, Di Wu suddenly panicked.

Suddenly, Di Wu turned around and glared at Yu Huang fiercely as he said, "You did it on purpose, right?! Naris said that you're also a Purifying Spirit Master. You Purifying Spirit Masters are sensitive to everything around you. You knew that Naris was outside the door, so you deliberately said these words to let Naris know all of this, right?!"

At this moment, Di Wu hated Yu Huang to the core.

He regretted letting Yu Huang stay here.

Yu Huang didn't deny Di Wu's accusation.

She did do it on purpose.

Yu Huang originally didn't intend to reveal Naris' true relationship with Anna, but she realized that such a decision was very unfair to Naris.

Anna was petite, but her willpower wasn't weak.

Anna's petite body contained an unyielding soul.

For the past few days, Yu Huang had been thinking to herself that if she were Anna, she would rather live in pain yet lucidity than forget everything and live her life without knowing the truth.

That was why Yu Huang did this.

When Naris heard Di Wu accuse Yu Huang, she knew that Yu Huang was telling the truth. "Daddy, am I really not your daughter?"

Naris looked at Yu Huang again and asked with tears in her eyes, "Is what you said true?"

Nodding her head, Yu Huang said, "Naris, you're indeed my friend, Anna. I deliberately approached you that night because I had long discovered through your soul aura that you were Anna."

Naris was silent for a full minute before walking to the counter stiffly.

Staring at Di Wu's red eyes, Naris said hesitantly, "Daddy, tell me if what Yu Huang said is true or not. As long as you say it's a lie, I won't believe her."

Yu Huang's gaze flickered slightly, but she didn't say anything.

Di Wu revealed a pained and guilty expression.

After a moment, Di Wu let out a long sigh and said hesitantly, "Naris, you're indeed not my daughter."

Naris was stunned.

"Then..." Naris' mind was in a mess, and for a moment, she actually forgot what she wanted to ask.

At that moment, Sheng Xiao asked Di Wu again, "Mr. Di Wu, where did you meet Naris?"

Naris calmed down a little and looked at Di Wu in confusion.

Di Wu was silent for a long time before saying unhappily, "In the Black Eye."

"Black Eye?" Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang exchanged looks. This place was unfamiliar, so Sheng Xiao asked quickly, "Where is that?"

Di Wu said, "It's a very strange place that's located in a forest between the Central Continent and the Northern Yan Cang Realm. The Black Eye is hidden under a ten thousand-foot cliff. Because it looks like an eye from a high altitude, it's called the Black Eye."

1099 Untitled

Di Wu looked at Naris with grief in his eyes as he told Naris, "Naris, I was once a Beast Tamer, but because of an accident, I fell into the Black Eye. At the bottom of the cliff, I met you, who had climbed out of the Black Eye."

Noticing that Di Yong had used the word 'climb', Yu Huang couldn't help but think of Mo Xiao, who climbed out of the abyss.

Yu Huang immediately asked Di Wu, "She climbed out of the Black Eye herself?"

Nodding his head, Di Wu said, "Yes. At that time, I was falling into the Black Eye, and Naris happened to climb out while covered in blood. I remember that her wings and skin were stained with blood. As soon as she met the sun, she emitted an ice-blue light. She climbed out of the Black Eye covered in blood, like a demon that had escaped from the depths of hell, scaring me so much that I almost lost my wit's..."

As Di Wu recalled that scene, his shoulders trembled uncontrollably. "I thought she was a demon, but she caught me and climbed out with me."

At this point, Di Wu smiled in relief and said to Naris, "Naris, you're not my daughter. You're actually my benefactor. It's just that after you saved me, we both fainted. When I woke up again, I realized that you didn't remember anything. You didn't even remember that you saved me."

After knowing how Di Wu and Naris met, Sheng Xiao's doubts were finally explained. He said, "So, in order to repay Naris' kindness, you treated Naris as your daughter and took care of her. In order to take care of her, you hid at Five Lakes Street and became the owner of this tavern?"

Nodding, Di Wu said, "That's pretty much it. In order to avoid being hunted by my enemies, I had no choice but to cancel my identity card and bring her to Five Lakes Street to live."

Di Wu looked at the dilapidated tavern with a melancholic gaze as he said, "The residents on this street are all unregistered people with no past or future, so we won't attract attention here."

“I see.”

After knowing her true identity, Naris had mixed feelings.

She grabbed the basket tightly and said in fear, “I’m going back to my room.” Then, she left in a hurry.

Di Wu stared at Naris’ back as she fled. He felt a sense of heartache.

He lowered his head and drank all the wine in the bottle in frustration. Then, he sighed in relief and muttered to himself, “It’s good that I revealed the truth early on.” Otherwise, he would always feel uneasy, for fear that the truth would be exposed and that he would see Naris’ hurt expression.

After figuring out Di Wu’s true relationship with Naris, Yu Huang finally believed Di Wu. “Uncle Di, no matter what, I have to thank you for taking care of Anna all these years.”

Upon hearing this “Uncle Di”, Di Wu froze for a moment before realizing that Yu Huang was addressing him.

He raised his head and looked at Yu Huang with a complicated expression, as if he had many words to say, but in the end, he let out a long sigh. “What are you thanking me for? She gave me my life. I’m living to repay her kindness.”

* *

Naris locked herself in her room for a day and night before finally coming to terms with her identity.

She found Di Wu first and expressed her intentions to him. “Even if I’m Anna, this doesn’t affect the fact that you’re my father. Dad... Uncle Di Wu.” Naris asked him uneasily, “Can we still be father and daughter?”

Naris had lost her painful memories from when she was Anna. Di Wu occupied more than 90% of her current memories.

Di Wu was someone Naris cared about very much.

She didn’t want to lose Di Wu.

Di Wu’s eyes turned red when he heard this. He turned around and secretly wiped his eyes with his sleeve. Then, he turned back around and nodded heavily. “Of course, Naris!”

After talking it out with Di Wu, Naris went to Yu Huang’s room.

Sheng Xiao left the room when he saw Naris.

Naris and Yu Huang stood by the window. In the beginning, no one took the initiative to speak.

“Yu Huang.”

The two of them had a tacit understanding and called each other's names at the same time.

Then, they looked at each other and smiled.

Yu Huang said, “You can speak first.”

Naris asked Yu Huang, “Was I very unhappy in the past?”

Upon hearing this, Yu Huang was momentarily at a loss for words.

When Naris saw Yu Huang's hesitant attitude, she guessed that she must have had a difficult life in the past and felt conflicted. On the one hand, Naris wanted to know what kind of person her past self was. On the other hand, she didn't have the courage to face her past.

But in the end, the brave Naris decided to get to know her former self.

“Go ahead. I'm a very resilient person.”

“Of course I know how strong you are.” Yu Huang admired Anna very much.

On the Holy Spirit Continent, Anna had suffered too much.

She wasn't from a happy family to begin with. Later, because of her weak ant beast form, she was bullied by the students of the Divine Eagle Academy.

When she went out with her classmates to train, she fell into the Broken Cliff and was almost eaten by the Nightmare Spider. Later, Anna was schemed against by Su Xuanye and Na Luo and became a fiendish cultivator that everyone in the cultivation world wanted to kill.

When she thought of all the humiliation that Anna had suffered, Yu Huang felt angry for Anna.

But Anna had never given up.

She didn't turn to the dark side or become depressed. She remained tough and clear-headed.

Anna's unwavering determination made Yu Huang feel admiration.

"Then tell me about Anna in detail. Even if I don't remember my past, I'll only feel more complete knowing what kind of person I was in the past."

Naris' almond-shaped eyes curved as she smiled and said, "In the past, I always felt that my life was missing something. Now that I think about it, I think I'm missing twenty years worth of memories."

Yu Huang no longer hesitated and decided to tell Naris about Anna's past.

Yu Huang took half a day to tell Naris everything that had happened to Anna.

After listening, Naris remained silent for a long time.

She felt very heavy-hearted, as if a huge rock was pressing on her chest.

She couldn't imagine how such a young and helpless girl withstood all the injustice and grievances.

Naris suddenly laughed self-deprecatingly and said, "Even as a listener, I feel pained and dismayed when I hear about Anna's past. Yu Huang, how pained was Anna?"

Yu Huang couldn't answer this.

The pain in Anna's heart couldn't be explained with words.

Naris suddenly said, "But I don't think Anna is a saint. At least, I'm not. If someone treated me like that, I definitely wouldn't be able to repay them kindness. But..."

Naris sighed again. "She must have loved Mentor, the Icy Night T-Rex, and your group of friends very much. Her love for you guys suppressed her hatred for that world, so in the end, she was willing to sacrifice herself to save the five capital cities."

Yu Huang completely agreed with Naris.

"You're right."

Yu Huang held Naris' hand and said, "Naris, being able to meet you here is the best gift the Cang Lang Continent has given me. Naris, promise me that even if your body is incomplete and you don't have a beast heart, you have to live on."

Naris said, "Of course I'll try my best to live on." Even when she was despised by the people of the small town, Naris never thought about ending her life.

Life was indeed very tough, but she only had one life. Naris would never give up on herself.

Yu Huang's worries were actually unnecessary.

However, Naris liked the feeling of being cared for and doted on. It made her feel like she was cherished.

With someone cherishing her, her bitter life was sweeter.

Yu Huang promised Naris, "My mentor and I will definitely help you heal your body's incompleteness. I will work hard to find a way to help you recover your beast heart. In the future, I will definitely bring you back to the Holy Spirit Continent and help you reunite with your mentor!"

Grand Mentor had lost his proudest eldest disciple and his youngest disciple, whom he cared the most about. If Anna could reunite with Grand Mentor, even if he died, he would die in peace.

Naris nodded and hugged Yu Huang tightly. "I believe you. I'll wait for you."

"Okay."

After calmly accepting the fact that she was Anna, Naris decided to personally cook dinner for Yu Huang and the others as a celebration of their reunion.

She valued tonight's gathering very much and even specifically bought a bunch of precious ingredients that she usually couldn't bear to buy. Because the things she bought had reached the delivery limit, in the evening, the staff personally sent the ingredients to the entrance of the tavern.

Di Wu carried the two big bags into the courtyard and stood in the courtyard while shouting, "My daughter will personally cook tonight. Everyone, let's have a meal together."

After finding out that Naris was personally cooking, Yin Rong and the others didn't stay idle. Those who knew how to cook squeezed into the kitchen and helped Naris.

Feng Yuncheng was also in the kitchen. He stared at the overly wide red cloak on Naris and asked in surprise, "Naris, what important day is it today?" The ingredients in the basin were clearly precious and expensive ingredients.

Di Wu and his daughter were not rich. If it wasn't a holiday, they wouldn't buy such precious ingredients.

Naris turned to look at Yu Huang, who was helping wash the vegetables. Then, she said mysteriously, "Today is a good day to celebrate."

"Huh?" Feng Yuncheng thought about it and asked in confusion, "Could it be your birthday?"

"We'll find out later."

Seeing that Naris was unwilling to reveal it, Feng Yuncheng couldn't pursue the matter.

With everyone's help, Naris spent two hours cooking a table full of delicious food.

Seeing that the dishes were sumptuous, Di Wu even carried his hoe and ran to the largest tree in the courtyard. He dug out a jar of peach blossom wine from the depths of the tree roots and said, "This peach blossom wine was brewed in the first year we came to Five Lakes Street. Back then, I agreed with Naris to dig it out on a big reunion day."

Hearing this, Naris couldn't help but recall the time when she first arrived at Five Lakes Street with mixed emotions.

Di Wu laughed self-deprecatingly as he said, "I thought that I would only have a chance to dig it out on the day of Naris's marriage. Today is a good day, so let's dig it out in advance and drink it!" With that, Di Wu opened the lid and poured a bowl of wine for everyone.

That's right, not a cup, but a bowl.

Staring at the pink wine in the bowl that emitted a faint wine fragrance, Yin Rong couldn't help but ask Di Wu, "Mr. Di, what day is it today?"

Could today be a holiday of Central Continent?

Di Wu looked at Naris and said, "Naris, tell me."

Nodding, Naris stood up and said, "Everyone."

Everyone looked up at Naris. Yu Huang, Sheng Xiao, and Lin Jiansheng already knew her identity, so when they saw her stand up nervously, they guessed what she was going to say.

But Yin Rong and the others didn't know.

Therefore, Yin Rong and the others also became nervous when they saw Naris' uneasy expression.

"I'll tell you guys." Seeing that Naris was too embarrassed to speak, Yu Huang stood up and hugged Naris's shoulder. Then, she lowered her eyes and told everyone the shocking news, "Actually, Naris is Anna."

"What?!" Everyone was dumbfounded.

Feng Yuncheng suddenly stood up from his chair. His movements were so fast that his glasses fell off.

However, he couldn't be bothered to pick up his glasses.

Feng Yuncheng widened his eyes and stared at Naris in shock as he asked hoarsely, "Are... are you really Anna?"

Naris had long heard about her experience in the Divine Realm Academy from Yu Huang. She naturally knew that this handsome young man in front of her was one of her good friends—

Feng Yuncheng.

Nodding, Naris said, "I'm Anna Tao."

Feng Yuncheng's eyes turned red. With a sob, he asked Naris, "Anna, how have you been all these years? How did you survive? Why didn't you reunite with us earlier?"

Feng Yuncheng had too many questions about Naris. Without waiting for Naris to answer, Feng Yuncheng continued, "On the first day we came to the hotel, when I heard your voice, I thought you were Anna. Why did you lie to us? Do you know that we've been worried about you all these years?!"

"Fourth Brother, don't be agitated." Yu Huang walked to Feng Yuncheng's side and pressed his shoulder. Then, she explained for Naris, "Naris doesn't remember the past. She didn't mean to hide the truth from us."

Feng Yuncheng was stunned again.

"You..."

Feng Yuncheng asked Naris, "Have you forgotten about us?"

Naris nodded hesitantly as she said, "After I fell into the abyss rift, I was seriously injured. The current me no longer has a beast heart, cultivation, or any memories of the past. I didn't mean to lie to you."

How could Feng Yuncheng bear to blame Naris?

His heart ached for Naris.

Feng Yuncheng suddenly turned around with tears on his face.

Seeing that Feng Yuncheng was actually crying, Beatrice held Feng Yuncheng's hand silently to console him.

She heard that Feng Yuncheng had a deep friendship with Yu Huang, Anna, Sheng Yang, and Na Luo when he was in school. Today, upon seeing Feng Yuncheng cry for Anna, Beatrice realized how precious their friendship was.

Seeing that Feng Yuncheng was crying, Naris was also a little sad. Naris turned her head away and wiped her tears quietly. Then, she said in a low voice, "My body is disfigured, but I suddenly realized that I can't hide under my cloak and live in fear anymore."

"I want to take off my cloak and live under the sun."

Yin Rong and the others gave Naris a thumbs up. "You're right. We all agree with you!"

Seeing that everyone's eyes were filled with encouragement for her, Naris was instantly filled with courage.

After taking a deep breath, Naris took off the hat of her cloak and the wide cloak on her back.

The cloak fell to the ground, revealing the pair of ice-blue wings on her back.

The pair of wings only had the base of the wing and no tip. It was incomplete.

The wings were cut off by a sharp weapon, and the diagonally cut wound was covered in bloody scabs.

The sight of it made one's heart ache.

Naris placed her hand around the back of her head and untied the strap of her veil. Without hesitation, she took the lace veil off her face.

Without the veil covering her face, Naris' ugly face was completely presented to everyone.

That face was only the size of a palm, but there was no nose under her charming almond-shaped eyes!

Two flesh-colored holes were stuck in the middle of Naris' face, which was covered in ice-blue scales!

This was a face that made one's scalp tingle with fear.

"Hiss—"

Donor gasped at Naris's face.

Yin Rong and the others were also shocked.
