

She Shocks The Whole World After Retirement

Chapter 16: Sir, I am ugly, really

From Yu Donghai's frustrated and helpless expression, Yu Huang understood his thoughts.

Her father was always considerate of her, so how could she despise him for being a disgrace?

Yu Huang shook her head and said, "Selling alms bowl chicken isn't stealing, so it's not embarrassing! I'm proud of my father, who works hard."

Yu Donghai heaved a sigh of relief when he heard this, and his scrawny face revealed a kind and gratified smile. "Alright, eat quickly. I'll send you to school after you're done."

"Okay."

The Host spent most of her time filming and would not eat junk food outside the school when she occasionally returned to school. She really didn't know that her father was selling alms bowl chickens so close to her.

After the meal, Yu Donghai carried the alms bowl chicken and raw materials to the school with Yu Huang. After sending Yu Huang to the school gate, he stopped the car and said, "If anyone bullies you, tell me!"

Yu Donghai slammed his walking stick on the ground and deliberately said fiercely, "I'll beat him up!"

Yu Huang laughed. "Alright."

After watching her father drive away, Yu Huang took her bag and walked towards the campus. When she entered the campus, she was stopped by the security guard. "Are you a student? Which class are you from? Take off your hat and mask and let me take a look!"

Yu Huang wore a cap on her head and a sunblock mask on her face. Her face was covered tightly, only revealing her eyes.

Seeing that she was fully covered, the security guards suspected that she was a dangerous person who was disguised as a student. For the safety of the entire school, the security guards had no choice but to stop Yu Huang and order her to take off her mask and hat.

Yu Huang stopped in her tracks and tilted her head to look at the security officer. She told the security officer honestly, "Sir, I'm ugly. If I take off my mask, I'll scare people."

The security guard did not believe Yu Huang's explanation. Who would be so ugly that she was scary?

The security guard subconsciously grabbed the stun baton on his waist and threatened Yu Huang, "Cut the crap! If you don't take it off, I'll take you to the police station!"

Yu Huang removed her mask, revealing her scarred face.

When he saw Yu Huang's scarred face, the security guard's jaw dropped in shock.

Yu Huang blinked her eyes innocently and said helplessly, "See, I told you that I'm ugly and would scare people, but you didn't believe me."

The security guard also recognized Yu Huang. He swallowed hard before saying, "Miss Yu, please enter the school."

Yu Huang put on her mask and hat and walked towards the Year Three school building according to the route she remembered. The security guard stared at Yu Huang's tall and slender back and couldn't help but sigh. "She's so unlucky. What a beautiful girl. Sigh..."

Year Three Class 7 was on the second floor of the third building.

Yu Huang was late by a few minutes. When she arrived at the school building, her classmates were already sitting in the classroom for class.

Yu Huang's light footsteps echoed in the corridor, attracting the attention of some people. Some people saw Yu Huang through the open classroom door. They did not recognize her, but their curiosity was piqued by her strange attire.

Every time Yu Huang passed by a classroom, she would attract the attention of the entire class.

She stood at the door of Class Seven and knocked.

Su Weina stopped talking and turned her head to look at the girl who knocked on the door. The girl was dressed in a black sports suit and carried a backpack. She liked a good student. However, her cap and ridiculous sun mask made her look like a terrorist.

The teacher looked at her in shock and doubt. She was wary and didn't speak.

Yu Huang strode into the classroom and stood under the podium. She raised her head and said to Su Weina, "Ms. Su Weina, I am Yu Huang. From today onwards, I will officially report back to school."

Yu Huang?

Su Weina stared at Yu Huang with a complicated expression on her face. Even though Yu Huang was her student, the number of times she had seen Yu Huang on television was far more frequent than in school.

The only impression Su Weina had of Yu Huang was that she was beautiful and quiet.

When she was in school, she hardly spoke, but she listened attentively and did her homework.

When she thought about how such a beautiful girl had been disfigured, as Yu Huang's teacher, Su Weina naturally pitied her. Su Weina pressed down on Yu Huang's shoulders and gently said to her, "Yu Huang, since you've come back to study, you should study hard and strive to get into a good university for your future!"

Yu Huang nodded and replied, "I will, Ms. Su Weina."

Su Weina turned around and looked at the row by the window. Yu Huang's table was in the last row by the window. It had always been empty, but there was no dust on it. It was obvious that someone often helped wipe it.

Su Weina said to her students, "Students, Yu Huang is injured and cannot be exposed to the strong sunlight. Is there anyone who is willing to change seats with Yu Huang?"

As soon as Su Weina finished speaking, a thin girl slowly stood up from her seat in the middle of the corridor. She raised her hand and stammered, "Yu... Yu Huang, I can... I can... swap places with you."

This girl's name was Anna Tao. She stuttered and was Yu Huang's fan.

Yu Huang stared at Anna Tao for a moment until she blushed. Then, she said softly, "Thank you, Anna."

Anna Tao was extremely excited when she heard Yu Huang say her name accurately. She clutched her clothes tightly and stammered, "Then, then you, come over and take a seat."

Yu Huang grabbed her bag and went to Anna Tao.

Yu Huang didn't bring anything with her on the day she was discharged from the hospital. All her books were still in Yu Rufeng's villa. Without any books, Yu Huang sat next to Anna Tao and read with her.

During class, the students were secretly sizing up Yu Huang, especially her face. However, Yu Huang had been listening attentively and was indifferent to their scrutiny.

After class, Yu Huang went to the Academic Affairs Office to buy a new set of textbooks. When she returned to the classroom with her books, the students' gazes fell on her at the same time.

Although they were classmates with Yu Huang, they were not familiar with her. Yu Huang was a celebrity, and she looked beautiful. No one dared to speak to her in school.

Hence, Yu Huang was unique in class.

The youths at this age were all pure and kind. They looked at Yu Huang with pity, assessment, curiosity, and probing eyes, but they did not have any real malice or viciousness.

Yu Huang walked up to the podium and placed her book on the table. Then, she took off her mask in front of everyone. Instantly, her hideous face was exposed. "Just like what everyone saw, I'm disfigured. I can't act anymore."

Seeing Yu Huang's appearance, the entire class fell silent.

The girls were so frightened that their scalps went numb. If their faces had changed to Yu Huang's current appearance, would they still be able to calmly accept it? And when the boys saw Yu Huang's current appearance, all of them felt pained.

The former Yu Huang was the goddess they secretly admired in their hearts!

Yu Huang continued, "I've already severed all ties with the Yu Clan. Now, I'm living with my father."

"Also, my father is a cripple. He sells alms bowl chickens at the Lotus Plaza next to the school. If I have time, I'll help him sell alms bowl chickens too. If everyone looks down on me now, I don't mind. But I don't want to see everyone laugh at my father. It's not easy for him.. He deserves to be respected."

Yu Huang taking the initiative to reveal her family's situation was not her impulsive action.

She had her own plans. These things would be discovered by her classmates sooner or later. Instead of waiting for them to find out and discuss it in private, she might as well tell them honestly.

In her previous life, Yu Huang's mother was the King of Doomsday Mercenaries. Her mother was a woman with great leadership skills. Under her mother's teachings, Yu Huang had also learned how to win people's hearts.

She understood this principle very well. If she wanted to gain the trust and respect of others, she had to first show her sincerity and frankness.

As expected, after they heard Yu Huang's confession, the students' expressions changed. This was because they knew that not everyone could openly talk about their embarrassing family situation.

Most of the poor youths felt inferior inside. They were afraid of being ridiculed and looked down on, and they would wish that they could hide the existence of their poor and crippled father.

Yu Huang's frankness and courage were admirable, and she had won the respect of the entire class! From this moment onwards, Yu Huang was no longer that high and mighty celebrity. She was only an 18-year-old girl, a part of their class!

The handsome and tall class monitor was the first to stand up. He took the lead and said, "Yu Huang! Your current appearance is indeed not very pretty, but it's also not frightening. Moreover, we all know how beautiful you originally looked. In addition, we are all civilized people who have decency. We will definitely not laugh at laborers! So please rest assured that no one will look down on him, nor will they laugh at him!"

The others chimed in as well. "That's right! He will be our uncle from now on. We'll mess with whoever laughs at him!"

Yu Huang looked at this group of energetic young people. She knew that they had already opened their hearts to her and completely accepted her.

Anna Tao had moved to a seat by the window. Her desk was empty now. Yu Huang carried her book to the table and sat down. She had just finished arranging her books when a classmate came over to talk to her.

A pretty girl walked over and placed a hand on Yu Huang's shoulder. Her tone was very gentle as she said, "Yu Huang, can you send us the link to your mask? The weather is hot and the sun is poisonous. A mask of your type is the most practical."

The girl's name was Vivian, and she was also a campus belle in school.

Her attitude towards Yu Huang was very complicated. In the past, Yu Huang was beautiful, and her beauty was famous throughout the whole country. She was the girl that all the men secretly admired. With a bright moon hanging in the sky, who would notice the existence of a star?

Originally, Vivian was jealous of Yu Huang. She was jealous of Yu Huang's beauty, jealous of how she became famous at a young age and had countless fans, and even more jealous of how she was liked by the young master of the Xuanyuan Clan.

However, after seeing Yu Huang's face under the mask, Vivian suddenly felt a little sorry for this girl. As a beauty herself, she sympathized with Yu Huang's difficulties more than anyone else.

Hearing Vivian's suggestion, the surrounding students also nodded and said, "Yes, yes, I've been sunburned this year. Yu Huang, your mask must be very sun-proof. We'll wear this in the future."

Yu Huang understood that they were not really afraid of getting sunburned. They wanted to send her a message by wearing the same mask—

She wasn't an outcast. They wouldn't ostracize her.

Yu Huang's heart was filled with warmth. This was the first time she had been protected by so many people since she came to the alternate world. As Yu Huang put on her mask, she said, "I won't send the link. I still have a lot at home. If everyone really needs it, I'll bring one for each of you tomorrow!"

"That's great! How much is one? We'll pay for it!" They couldn't just freeload.

"It's not expensive. I do wholesale. It won't cost much."

"Alright then!"

It only took Yu Huang one day to befriend her classmates. After class, when she went to the bathroom, there were girls who went with her. They held her hand and shielded her in the middle, not giving the other classmates any chance to peek at her.

Seeing that school was about to end, the homeroom teacher, Li Shi, walked into the classroom with a bag in his hand. Li Shi was handsome and strong, while his biceps were hidden under his thin T-shirt, as if they could burst his clothes at any time.

He looked mighty and the students in his class were afraid of him.

Seeing Li Shi walk into the classroom, the students who had already packed their bags and could not wait to get home from school immediately quieted down.

Li Shi waved the bag in his hand as his deep voice resounded throughout the classroom, "From tomorrow onwards, our city will be holding an annual and three-day Beast Tamer Awakening Ceremony! All people above 10-years-old but not yet 20 will be heading to the Purifying Spirit Academy for the examination!"

The Saint Spirit Continent respected the strong. The performance of a country depended on the number of beast tamers in that country. Beast Tamers were too precious. For the Divine Moon Empire, the more beast Tamers, the better.

Because of this, the Divine Moon Kingdom held a Beast Tamer Awakening Ceremony every year.

"This is not the first time everyone is participating in the Awakening Ceremony. I will keep it short! This is everyone's number plate. Whoever I call will come up to receive it! The number you receive cannot be changed! You cannot lose it. If you lose it, it will be invalid!"

"Su Lingyu!"

"Jiang Shangfeng!"

"Vivian!"

"Yu Huang!"

Yu Huang received her number plate and saw that it read '1832'. When she lowered her head to look at the number, she heard Li Shi say, "Yu Huang, you missed the awakening ceremony a few years ago."

Yu Huang raised her head and stared at Li Shi. She replied, "I was filming. I didn't have time."

Li Shi frowned and his voice was filled with condemnation as he said, "The Beast Tamer Awakening Ceremony is an important event that happens once a year! You shouldn't be absent!" Thinking of how intimidating Yu Huang's inhumane adoptive parents were, Li

Shi felt that his tone was too harsh. "In short, you can't be absent this time. Yu Huang, you should be responsible for your own life."

Yu Huang immediately promised, "Teacher, don't worry. I will attend the awakening ceremony on time."

"Yes." Li Shi changed the topic and asked again, "When was the last time you participated in the Beast Tamer Awakening Ceremony?"

Yu Huang thought for a moment before replying, "When I was 13."

This was because most Beast Tamers would awaken their beast form between the ages of 10 and 13. According to the laws of the Divine Moon Empire, everyone had to participate in the test during these three years and no unexcused absences were allowed.

No matter how much Yu Rufeng and the others enslaved Yu Huang, during those three years, they didn't dare to delay Yu Huang's awakening ceremony. If they delayed it, it would be a crime!

But in fact, the youngest beast tamer in the Divine Moon Empire awakened his beast form when he was only nine years old. The latest one awakened his beast form when he was almost twenty years old. The former was Sheng Xiao, the number one genius of the Sheng family. The latter was Prosperous Capital's leader, Lu Yubei.

Since then, the Divine Moon Empire had relaxed its policy and allowed everyone under the age of 20 to undergo a beast form test every year.

Thus, Yu Huang, who was already 18 years old, could at most participate in two more rounds of tests.
