Chapter 13

Chapter 13

I looked at her, in her face floating two red, but it is to make people think it is very cute. I asked her what was wrong, but she said to me that she suddenly remembered that there was something she hadn't done and had to go out for a while.

I looked at her was a little funny.

Uncle Chen looked at her is also can not help but lightly laughed: "Little girl after all is little girl ah, so easy to blush."

I was not good and Uncle Chen said.

"Uncle, it's not you talking so loudly, all to people heard!"

"Huh, I just spoke loudly?" Uncle Chen played dumb and said.

"Of course!"

I said with a white glance at him.

Guo Xuefu red face, fled, in my head, it must be because of what Uncle Chen just said to me. That's why she wanted to take the opportunity to leave the ward. Uncle Chen gave a chuckle. And this is, I have not seen a smile on Uncle Chen's face for a long time.

After Uncle Chen saw that I was fine, is to say a word with me, first went back to the police station.

Guo Xuefu then returned.

The redness on her face had completely dissipated, and while she was peeling my apple, she asked me, "By the way Jinchao, that was the police uncle who raised you just now, right?"

I nodded without evasion and said to her, "Yes. You should have heard about it, right? My dad, when I was a kid, went to jail for hurting someone. If it wasn't for Uncle Chen who took care of me like his own son all these years, I wouldn't know which corner of the city I'm in now, picking up trash!"

She brought the apple to my mouth, then said to me, "Then you really should thank Uncle Chen."

I looked at the ceiling's reply.

"Who says it's not! My ideal is actually not very big, I just want to study hard, make money hard in the future, take care of my dad after he gets out of jail, and also filial piety to Uncle Chen."

"Well, go for it, I believe you can do it!" Guo Xuefu cast an encouraging look at me.

Guo Xuefu took care of me in the hospital for a day, almost to the point of being unfailingly attentive, and it even made my heart burst with warmth. Compared to those who rejected me before, Guo Xuefu was simply good to me. Until after seven o'clock in the evening, I asked her to go back first, she only then was to leave.

However, in the following days, she will rush to this end of the hospital every day after class, and even come over at noon.

I asked her if she didn't need a lunch break.

But she said to me that if she came over, she could also have someone to talk to. Uncle Chen must be busy with the police station, and can not take care of me. She said that she would be on the bus to school and just rest for a while. And her words, but also let my heart a burst of emotion.

"Xuefu, did those people come to you after the trouble ah?" I just rushed Guo Xuefu asked.

"Are you talking about that slate-inched Cao?" She asked as she peeled my fruit and looked up at me.

"Yeah, that's him!"

I nodded.

"He hasn't been around my house in recent times. But I heard that he has people checking up on you at school, and I'm afraid that when you go back to school, you'll be in trouble. It seems that he is still a quite powerful person ....., " Guo Xuefu said here, but is worried.

"It's okay, when the time comes, soldiers will stop, water to cover up!" I am also very worried in my heart, just did not show it, that is, do not want her more worried about it.

"You are open-minded."

Guo Xuefu smiled.

I can only force a smile: “can’t think of no use ah. After all, I am now lying in the hospital, even if I worry more, there is no point, right!”

Because of her company, time passed quickly.

It was time to be discharged from the hospital. The doctor said that I had a concussion, and that I should pay attention to my head after I was discharged. And after I went back to school, only Guo Xuefu, welcomed me out of the hospital. Everyone else was silent, and I got used to the indifference.

Life went on.

I also continued to maintain the ‘cowardly’ look in school, for the sake of the great conflict, I can only be between them, according to their uncle even do. Because soon to the end of the relationship, Guo Xuefu worried about my grades, said to me after school to do individual tutoring.

This, my heart is a little worried. Mainly because I am afraid that therefore, and get into trouble

But I can’t refuse Guo Xuefu, so I had to agree to it.

We sat face to face.

The sunset outside the window shone through the window and fell on her body, reflecting her youthfulness and liveliness. She smiled at me and stuffed a lollipop into my mouth. Because school was over, the class was filled with people other than us, the day student for today.

She asked me to open my textbook, and little by little, she taught me about the textbook.

I was a little dumbfounded.

“Jinchao, what are you looking at? Are you listening to me or not?” She poked me curiously.

I suddenly blushed and hurriedly just covered up a cry.

“Of course I am!”

“Hmph, look at your wandering look ..... Do you think I will believe you?”

Guo Xuefu said with a lollipop in her mouth.

“Then what else do you think I’m looking at?”

“Look at me ah!”

“I look at you for what ah? You’re the one who keeps looking at me!” That’s how I responded to her.

“Cut, who likes to look at you? You’re not handsome at all!” Guo Xuefu just gave me a white glance. And I listened to her words were a little funny. As we spoke, we focused our eyes on the textbook. But it is after some words, our atmosphere is a bit awkward.

She gave me a lecture on the subject while my eyes still couldn’t help but fall on her body.

She was wearing a summer school uniform, and the buttons on her chest were open a few times. With my angle, I could vaguely see something. I forced myself not to look, but I still had some restraint.

“Jinchao, does it look good?”

She asked me out of the blue.

I was startled.

“Huh? What are you talking about?”

“I asked you, do I look good? You’ve been staring at me so much that I can’t concentrate.”

She explained this to me.

I breathed a sigh of relief.

I thought she found out I was looking at her chest! If she had found out, she might have thought I was a big pervert!

I smiled dryly: “You just look good, that’s why I want to see more. Wouldn’t it work?”

“Eh ..... you adolescent boys, is easy to be these fancy things fascinated eyes, can not concentrate down to study, but also lead to your grades are falling.” She said very reasonably.

I can’t help but harrumph: “also fancy green ..... Hey, have you described yourself so?”
