

Silly Teen 50

Chapter 50

“Brother Cao, what’s going on here with you guys? Why are you all so excited?” Xu Dazhi also put down the game he was holding and came over.

“Just now, Brother Cao showed a wave, a big dragon plus three kills!” Cao Ge’s little brother said right at the side.

“What?”

“Big dragon plus three kills? Oh my god!”

“Brother Chao, you’ve only been playing this game for how long?” Xu Dazhi’s jaw was on the verge of dropping. Since Cao Ge and the gang were basically all above Gold, they were matched with, basically, Gold ranked ones as well. The gang on the other side had guarded against me before though, and had inserted eyes upwards as well.

And to say the least, half of the reason I grabbed the dragon was because of luck. It’s only because the opposite side’s hitman handed in his punishment early because he was in a hurry.

“Hurry up the middle group and try to demolish their home base straight away in the next wave.” Cao Ge then hurriedly commanded.

“With the Big Dragon BUFF in hand, let’s split into a 131 formation and take down all three of their home highlands!”

And the so-called 131 is one person in the top lane, three in the middle and one in the bottom lane. Cao Ge and I kept creating pressure in the middle. Because my gear was up, plus the gun carriage with the big dragon buff was quite strong. We split into three lanes and after demolishing an inner tower, we hurriedly gathered and the five of us helped to knock out all the defence towers on the three lanes.

“Ancient Dragon, hurry up! Double Dragon BUFF, next wave directly speak to the opposite side for nothing.” Cao Ge also got excited.

“Cao, the opposite side EZ is going to scrape big, wind wall in two seconds!” I instead also commanded Cao Ge.

Cao Ge was playing a Blast Swordsman, and his skills could completely block EZ’s big. And it was two seconds later that Cao Ge blocked EZ’s big move at the very limit, just like I said. It was almost as if he had just put the wind wall up and EZ’s big hit him directly on the wind wall.

Cao Ge obviously froze for a moment: “Damn Ah Chao, are you even calculating the time, so accurately now?”

I was a bit bad at coyly smiling, “It’s just a rough calculation when EZ scraped the Fire Dragon in the last wave.”

“Nima!”

“Relying on the opposite EZ’s move, and you still managed to time this out?”

“My pride has taken a ton of hits.”

“No more, I feel like with Chao around, this game, I can’t play anymore.” Guo was simply falling apart.

I distracted myself and asked him instead, somewhat curiously, how he couldn’t play anymore. And he then explained to me that he had been playing LOL for about a year now. He just knew when EZ was scraping big and could grab the opposite dragon. And it’s all got an element of luck involved.

But I’ve never played EZ, and I was able to figure out how many seconds it takes for EZ’s big move to come to the dragon pool. There was simply no one else!

“Win!”

“Damn-it, just now Chao went down and grabbed a big dragon wave and even three kills, it was just too crucial. If the opposite side had taken the dragon, it would have been us who lost.” Cao Ge said as he took his hands off the keyboard.

“It’s not that exaggerated!”

I scratched my head in embarrassment instead.

“Chao, don’t be modest. The key is that you led a wave of tempo at the Big Dragon, and then you had Cao put in the Wind Wall, otherwise our Double Dragon BUFFs were all a bit dangerous. If the opposite side had taken the Double Dragon BUFF, we would have basically lost!”

“Right, I just recorded a video, can we watch a replay?” As soon as Cao Ge’s junior said that, Xu Dazhi and his group rushed over. I felt like the wave of action I had just pulled was just shit. But Xu Dazhi and the others were watching in awe.

A cry of astonishment erupted from their mouths.

And from my point of view, I really felt lucky that I had just found a breakthrough just then. After all, I had only been in contact with this some, not even twenty hours, so what very high level of operation could I have to speak of? Obviously it was out of the question.

But after they watched the video, that is, the wave of my big dragon operation, it simply made them fall to their knees in admiration.

“Chao, let me double-row with you for one game. I’ve already won two games in the promotion tournament, one more and I’ll be on gold.” Xu Dazhi said in a rush.

“If you’re not afraid of me screwing you over, then come on.” I nodded my head in agreement.

“Chao, don’t be modest, just that wave of action you just did, I’m still waiting for you to take me flying!” Xu Dazhi said just that.

“I’m actually quite a novice. Really, don’t get your hopes up for me.” I wasn’t being modest either, or I wasn’t that confident in my own strength, yet.

“Chao, if you’re at this level, then I’m really rookie to the core!” Xu Dazhi said, and went to help me borrow a number. I thought Xu Dazhi’s level was good and I took his words as a joke. But after the fight really started, I realised that his consciousness was not working.

My awareness, on the other hand, had been developed for me through Cao Ge. I know when and what to dare. And I had nothing to do but delve into it and study what Cao Ge and I said about how to play.

I don't have the same mentality as them playing games for fun. Since I'm trying to do something, I'm going to do it right.

Just the one game I played with Xu Dazhi in ranked, I was just exhausted. If something happens on the top lane, you have to go to the top lane, if something happens on the bottom lane, you have to go to the bottom lane. I also had to steal a dragon and do a vision when I had nothing to do. I also had to voice with Xu Dazhi and tell him what to do the whole game down, it was not easy to play at all.

"Chao, I'm on gold eh!"

Xu Dazhi was very excited to say to me.

"It's good that it's on." I was finally relieved.

"Chao, you know what? I simply admire you to the core!" Xu Dazhi said with great earnestness.

"I was just watching from the sidelines. Chao, your fielding sense is simply Gold 1 or above. With you like this, who would dare believe that you've only been in the pit for just twenty hours!" Guo Xiaoming then said from the sidelines.

"Eh, you guys just don't praise me so much. If this keeps up, I feel like I'm going to be praised by you guys." I said this with my mouth, but my mood was also involuntarily excited. I felt that I was starting to get into the game. And I was enjoying that feeling of driving the pace of the whole game!

"Chao, it's not that we're complimenting you, but you're really bull-headed!" Xu Dazhi hurriedly added.

"Alright, alright, let's not be so nonsense. Chao, I'll lend you a number and get on the Gold Board ranking." Cao Ge then said from the sidelines.

I was just about to say yes, but then I looked at the time and it was already 10:15!

Oh no!

"No more playing. Brother Cao, I'm going back to school first! It's urgent!" I said, not even bothering to turn off the machine, I rushed out of the internet cafe and ran in the direction of the school. The security guards at the entrance of the school didn't stop me, and I was gasping for breath all the way while calling Xu Ying's phone, which didn't get through either.

That is, I reached the floor just in time to see Teacher Lin coming out of the office.

"Jin Chao, you're finally here. I thought you weren't going to show up." Teacher Lin sneered.
