

I Am Born With A Silver Spoon Chapter 298

“Is this some rich boy’s car?” More and more people crowded around.

As for Chen Hao, although his identity as Young Master Chen was not much of a secret at this point, but he still felt uncomfortable getting out of his car in public like this. After some consideration, he decided to turn around and go to the little woods instead of driving into the school, parking in his usual spot before walking in.

“Chen Hao?”

Just then, Chen Hao spotted a girl in military uniform and became shocked.

The girl also seemed surprised to see him, but she quickly put on a mocking expression and said, “Oh ho, what a coincidence to see you here!”

“You got into Jin Ling College?” Chen Hao had never expected to be able to meet her there.

“Yeah. Impressive right? You sure didn’t expect someone with results such as mine would be able to enter Jin Ling College, right?” replied the girl to Chen Hao. The girl in front of him was called Yang Lu, and she was none other than Yang Xia’s own sister. As Yang Xia’s ex-boyfriend, Chen Hao had met her before.

His first impression of her was that she was a wild one, always playing truant in high school and already visiting nightclubs at that age. She even had tattoos on her forearm and smoked like a typical street girl. Naturally, her grades were a mess.

The first time she came to Jin Ling looking for Yang Xia, both Yang Xia and Chen Hao didn’t have much money with them, so the two of them worked part-time jobs just to ensure her sister had a good time. She’d even asked Chen Hao to help Yang Lu with her homework, only for the girl to remark this upon meeting him for the first time, “Sis, how come you’ve found such a poor brother-in-law for me? No money or good background? That’s lame!”

Of course, Chen Hao didn’t take offense with that at the time, but the point was that Yang Lu had always looked down on Chen Hao. However, they’d since grown to know each other well over the years, when she visited Yang Xiao for the holidays.

Chen Hao just didn’t expect this year’s freshmen batch to include her. “It is kind of unexpected!” Chen Hao forced a smile.

“Who’s this, Lu?” several of Yang Lu’s friends asked.

“Heh, he’s my sister’s ex and a loser!” she said.

Clearly, Yang Xia didn’t reveal much to her.

As for Chen Hao, he got bored after a while and planned to leave, but he couldn’t help but stop in his tracks. “Your sister... Is Yang Xia alright?” he asked.

After that incident, Yang Xia was so humiliated that she had dropped out of school. To be fair, she’d brought this onto herself with the way she went overboard with certain things. But on second thought, ruining her future as punishment was also overkill. After all, everyone had a right to choose, and who was to say that she was wrong for refusing to choose him? So Chen Hao still felt a bit guilty on her behalf.

“Ha! I’m telling you, you little bastard, my sister is doing just fine. And just you wait! You’ll suffer the consequences for dumping her!” Yang Lu waved her tiny fists. Apparently, she’d become even more aggressive since they last met.

Meanwhile, Yang Lu’s mocking smile appeared to deepen as she watched Chen Hao’s retreating figure. “Lu, is he the Chen Hao you said you were looking for?” her friends asked softly.

“Not me, my sister. I don’t know how exactly he hurt her, but the gist of it is that he’s screwed for real!” Yang Lu sneered, then took out her phone and made a call...

By then, Chen Hao had returned to the dorm. “Chen, welcome back!” Yang Hui and Li Rui gave Chen Hao a big bear hug the moment they saw him.

Chen Hao was also very excited to see them and chat with them, since they were the reason he came here in the first place. After all, he still had to return to the company later.

Just as the three friends were chatting, the room’s door opened; Chen Hao was startled to find a girl standing there.

“Bro!” the girl called out to Yang Hui happily. “Hi, Li Rui. And you must be Chen Hao?”

“Hi, I’m Chen Hao! You must be Yang Hui’s sister?”

“Mm hmm, I’m Yang Xiaoru. You’re quite good-looking, Chen Hao!” she said with a smile. She then added, “Oh, right. My brother said he was treating me and my new roommates to a meal. Do you want to tag along, Chen Hao?” It seemed Yang Hui had told her a lot about him.

“That sounds great, but I can’t today. I’ve got something to take care of, but how about this? You all go eat first, and I’ll take care of dinner. My treat.” Chen Hao smiled.

“Aww, that’s a shame. Alright, Chen Hao. You do what you have to do...” Yang Xiaoru was very understanding, but there was still a flash of disappointment in her eyes. Then, her eyes lit up again. “So what time will you be finished? You’ve got to have something for lunch right? Come over if you have the time! We can always start later, no big deal.”

“That’s fair. Alright, I’ll join you all for lunch if I’m free by then! I’d better go now, then.” Chen Hao felt that he had no excuse to refuse.

“Great, then we’ll all go downstairs together. My brother still has to give me a campus tour, and my friends are all waiting there,” Yang Xiaoru suggested.

The four of them went down together, where a few girls were waiting outside the dormitory. After just one day of training, the girls were already looking slightly darker. However, some of them were good-looking enough that even their dark skin would not detract from their beauty.

After greeting them one by one and walking with them for a bit, Chen Hao left the school and went back to his company.

“Hey, that senior was quite handsome!” the girls started gossiping the moment he left. After all, it was in a freshmen girl’s nature to discuss boys; they were interested in who was handsome, who was ugly, which senior they met that day and so on. It was similar to the way freshmen boys discussed girls.

“I know, right? He was not only gentle, but charismatic too!” the other girls chimed in in agreement.

“Um, Yang Hui, does he have a girlfriend?” one of the girls asked.

Yang Hui forced a smile. “Of course he does. Besides, do you know who he is? Not even Xiaoru knows this.”

“What? Who is he?” Yang Xiaoru asked as the other girls crowded around him curiously.

“Have you heard of Jin Ling’s Young Master Chen?” Yang Hui said in a deliberately suspenseful tone.

“What, Young Master Chen of Jin Ling? That’s the really cool heir of Jin Ling with a gigantic fortune. I’ve read from the online forums that the last time he celebrated his birthday, half the bigshots in the entire Jiangnan province attended!” the girls exclaimed. Clearly, they’d heard of him.

“What?!”
