

I Am Born With A Silver Spoon Chapter 472

Chen Hao reached the lobby of the hospital.

“Ah!”

At this moment, a girl was in a hurry and accidentally twisted her foot.

Seeing as she was about to fall down, Chen Hao managed to catch her due to his quick reflexes.

“Oh my, that was so close. Thank you, handsome!”

After the girl found her footing, she tidied her messy hair and quickly thanked him.

At the same time, this guy gave her a strange feeling.

He was wearing a mask and a cap which gave off a mysterious vibe.

His gaze seemed familiar, yet it felt foreign at the same time.

The youth did not reply to her and merely nodded his head.

Of course, his eyes couldn't help but linger on the girl's body for a few seconds.

It was because Chen Hao knew this girl.

“Do I know you?” asked the girl with a smile.

Chen Hao shook his head.

“Well, thank you anyway.” The girl smiled.

“Ranran, what happened to you?”

Just then, a handsome guy in a suit came over.

“I just finished my medical examination and was going to find you when I nearly fell over!”

The girl held onto the handsome man's arms sweetly.

“Oh, if you had fallen down, then how would I explain it to Uncle Jiang?” said the man with a smile.

That's right, the girl was obviously Jiang Ranran.

“This handsome guy rescued me,” said Jiang Ranran as she looked at Chen Hao with a smile.

“Thank you, my friend. I am the attending doctor in this hospital. Can I help you with anything?” asked Jiang Ranran's boyfriend with a smile.

Chen Hao shook his head and left.

Hehe. He chuckled to himself as he still remembered that he used to have a crush on Jiang Ranran for a long period of time.

He felt that she was gorgeous especially when she dressed up.

Later on, although he had an ambiguous relationship with Jiang Ranran, it had already been six months, and she already had her own life now. Everything turned out great for her in the end.

“This guy is really peculiar!”

When he stared at Chen Hao’s figure from behind, the young man couldn’t help but mutter to himself.

“Not only is he strange, I feel that he looked familiar. Like I have seen him somewhere before,” said Jiang Ranran as she frowned.

“Ranran, what are you guys doing?”

“Jiao, why did you only appear now?” asked Jiang Ranran as she looked at an even more fashionably dressed girl.

“Don’t even mention it. I had to undergo a few extra examinations as I am going to get married next month. Hehe!” said Lin Jiao happily.

In that instant, she, too, noticed Chen Hao who had walked out.

“Huh? He...”

Lin Jiao’s beautiful eyes couldn’t help but wander toward him.

“What’s wrong, Lin Jiao? Did you think that he looks familiar as well? Or did you think that he’s a handsome guy just because he has a good figure? Ever since I got acquainted with you in Jin Ling, I know you like the back of my hand. Once you spot a handsome guy, you’re rooted to the ground!” said Jiang Ranran teasingly.

“Not really. I felt that he seemed quite familiar, especially from the back. It’s like I have seen him somewhere before,” said Lin Jiao.

“Sigh, forget about it! Let’s go then. After my husband is done with his work, let’s go out for a meal and do some shopping then,” said Lin Jiao.

“Alright!”

Everybody chatted and laughed away as they left the hospital.

Chen Hao did not expect to bump into Jiang Ranran. In order not to complicate things further, Chen Hao decided not to acknowledge her.

“Sir, can you please give me something to eat?”

“Get lost, how dare you beg at such a young age?! I would rather give the food to a dog. Get lost!”

A shabbily dressed young man with a wooden cane, who was missing a leg, was holding a cracked piece of bowl as he walked toward a small stall by the roadside.

In the end, he was driven away like a pest by the store owner.

The pedestrians on the road were also pointing fingers at the young beggar.

Meanwhile, Chen Hao happened to pass by and saw this scene. He could only shake his head helplessly and left.

However, Chen Hao stopped in his tracks after taking two steps.

He turned back and looked at the young man.

“Stop there!” shouted Chen Hao as he stared at the young beggar.

“Sir, can you please spare me some money or buy me something to eat? Please?”

On the other hand, the young beggar was so scared that he started trembling from head to toe. He did not dare to lift his head up while he cried and said those words.

“Yonghao?” Chen Hao cried out softly.

The young beggar’s body shook violently.

Immediately, he lifted up his head.

When he saw the gaze of the person in front of him, Huang Yonghao’s lips started to tremble.

“Y-You are? Chen Hao?”

Huang Yonghao’s tears streamed down his face.

Chen Hao took off his mask and looked at him in disbelief. “Yes, it’s me, Yonghao!”

Chen Hao grabbed his shoulders.

“Brother! You aren’t dead yet. You are still alive!”

Huang Yonghao threw down his cane.

“It’s nothing. Yonghao, how did you end up this way?”

Chen Hao was greatly surprised.

Huang Yonghao was a well-regarded person in the past. Now that he ended up in this miserable state, how could Chen Hao not feel sorry for him?

“Take your time to eat.”

Chen Hao ordered a large amount of food for him at the roadside stall.

Both of them sat opposite each other.

Then, Chen Hao poured Huang Yonghao a glass of water and patted his back.

Huang Yonghao nodded his head and proceeded to stuff food into his mouth.

“I did not expect so many things to happen within six months. It’s my fault that you all are dragged into this mess,” said Chen Hao as he blamed himself.

According to what Yonghao told him just now, the past six months could only be described as a drastic turn of events.

After Chen Hao got himself into trouble, Mo Jian came to Jin Ling. When Huang Yonghao heard that Chen Hao’s death had something to do with Mo Jian, he brought his men to avenge Chen Hao.

However, he wasn’t a match for him.

Because of this, Mo Jian made his old friends and his former allies suffered.

The person who suffered the worst was Yonghao as his leg was broken. It was nearly impossible for him to survive in Jin Ling.

On the other hand, Uncle Huang’s entire family was assassinated by Mo Jian.

Chen Hao’s sister, Chen Xiao, could only hold back her anger when she knew about this.

Hence, Huang Yonghao ended up this way.

On the other hand, in order to escape, Bai Xiaofei’s family moved away, whereas he went to join the army.

As for Lin Jiao, after her family was forced into bankruptcy by Mo Jian, she seemed to have taken up a job as a nurse. At this time however, her whereabouts were still unknown.

Everything had changed completely.

Furthermore, it had all started because of him, with the murderers being the Mo family.

“The Mo family! Mo Jian!”

There was a flash of strong killing intent within Chen Hao’s eyes.

“Brother, I am an embarrassment to you as I am a useless person now. Haha!” said Huang Yonghao with a bitter laugh.

“What do you mean ‘a useless person’? Rest assured, I will treat your injuries. Moreover, I will get them back for the Huang family’s misfortune. I will make sure that justice is served for Uncle Huang and the rest of them,” said Chen Hao coldly.

On the other hand, Huang Yonghao shook his head violently.

“Don’t ever do that! Brother, why don’t you leave Jin Ling tonight? Everything in Jin Ling isn’t the same anymore. Mo Jian isn’t like Long Shaoyun, and neither is he like any other ordinary young masters. He is a powerful man. Even if we had our previous background and identities, we are no match for him.”

“I understand, rest assured. You don’t have to worry about me.”

“Brother, you have been running away from the Mo family’s pursuit all this while. What are your future plans?”

“Haha! I don’t have any plans for now. I am going to take it as it goes.”

“Brother, why don’t I follow you from now on? As long as we are together, it will be worth it even if I die. I don’t want to continue living like this forever. I would be better off dead.”

Chen Hao hesitated for a while.

Indeed. Yonghao’s family was already gone and he was even tortured into this wretched state by Mo Jian.

Chen Hao couldn’t bear to leave him like this.

“Ok, if that is the case, you should go somewhere to recuperate first. From now on, you will follow me! Either we live or die together!” said Chen Hao.

“Yes, we’ll live and die together!” Huang Yonghao was moved.

Following that, Chen Hao recommended a place to Huang Yonghao. He wanted him to go to the border of the Southwest Region first and ask the Wei family for help. After all, he did send Zuo Zhongtao there as well, so Yong Hao’s leg injury shouldn’t be a problem.

“Then what about you, Brother?” asked Huang Yonghao.

“Me? Haha! Let me settle this matter first...”
