

Skeletons 176

Chapter 176 At the same time, Susan's surgery had just ended.

The doctor said regretfully, "I'm sorry, despite the best efforts to save the child, the child...was not saved. The pregnant woman's body has also suffered great damage and needs to be hospitalized for recuperation."

"My poor Susan!" The dean wailed, "Isn't this like killing her!"

Shawn said lightly, "I see." The nurse pushed the hospital bed and transferred Susan to the VIP ward.

She fell asleep, her face paled. Although... Shawn did not like her very much, but seeing her like this made him feel a little guilty.

L

It was he who did not protect her.

"Mr. Wood, you must not let Gale go! This time, she killed Susan's child. Next time, she will kill Susan!" said the dean.

"I will deal with her."

"It should be..."

Shawn raised his hand and interrupted the dean's words. "You can stay with her here."

"Mr. Wood, don't you want to wait for Susan to wake up?"

"No."

"This... if Susan doesn't see you when she wakes up, she will be sad."

Shawn pursed the corners of his lips slightly, turned, and left.

Of course, he could imagine what it would be like when Susan woke up, crying, making trouble, and wailing uncontrollably. He was also distressed. That's his child, his bloodline. Shawn never showed his emotions easily, so his sadness could only be digested silently in his heart. After all, it is his child.

On the horizon, a sliver of light appeared.

A new day begins.

After Shawn

left, the dean deliberately stayed for a minute, then ran to the door to probe his head to observe.

After confirming that Shawn had really left, he breathed a sigh of relief.

It was a really scary night. However, this is just the beginning! There is still a long and difficult road ahead!

"I have to find an old classmate in the obstetrics and gynecology department and ask if there is any way to make Susan become fertile. This way, it will be much easier for her to get pregnant!" the dean said to himself.

Shawn walked out and looked at the slowly rising sun in the sky.

It was dazzling. He could not help raising his hand to block.

Fiona

greeted him, "Mr. Wood, you haven't rested all night, so don't go to the company this morning." "We are going." Fiona had no choice but to nod.

Before getting into the car, Shawn thought of something.

He looked at Fiona. "What's going on with Gale? Ask someone to check and tell me."

"Okay, Mr. Wood." The car drove away from the hospital. Shawn lowered the partition in the car and put on the clean suit prepared by Fiona next to him.

It was the life of his child.

Gale... how dare she!

Her father killed his father, and she killed his child.

This hatred will exist in this life and the next life, and it cannot be repaid!

When he was about to get to the Wood Group, the phone rang, and Shawn picked it up. "Hello." "Mr. Wood, your wife is not in the hospital!" His eyes sank. "What did you say?" "The doctor said that last night, someone came and picked her up and transferred her!"
