

Skeletons 211

Chapter 211

He took out a cigarette and was about to light it when Susan stopped him. "Mr. Wood, smoking isn't good for your health. Besides, we still plan to have another child. In order to prepare, don't smoke."

He frowned slightly. Seeing that he was unhappy, Susan said quickly, "But you are busy with work, and you are under a lot of pressure. It's okay to smoke one every now and then." As she spoke, she took the initiative to get a lighter and help him light it.

However, Shawn was not in the mood to smoke any more.

Susan's words made him unhappy.

Did he promise to give him a child now?

Susan was stunned and said, "Mr. Wood... did I say something wrong?"

His expression became cold. "It's nothing. It's Gale who wanted to call you here."

"Gale?"

"Yes, it's me." Gale nodded. "Susan, you just had a miscarriage, and you are already thinking about getting pregnant. You must be in a hurry."

"This is between Shawn and me. None of your business."

"I just wanted to remind you to give your body a rest." Susan snorted. "Mind your business. What do you want? Why do you think I have forgiven you? It is impossible for me to forgive you! I have already said my condition for forgiveness. If you can't do it, I will never forgive you!"

Gale found Susan's confident appearance funny.

She said softly, "I'm not wrong. Why do I need your forgiveness?"

"That's such a big accusation, Gale. Are you not ready to apologize to me?"

"Yes."

"Mr. Wood!" Susan pointed at her. "Listen, she's really arrogant!"

Shawn was very calm. "Listen to what she had to say."

Gale walked up to Susan in a low voice, but it was enough for everyone present to hear it clearly.

"Susan, I don't apologize because I'm not wrong. You didn't have a miscarriage!"

Everyone's expressions were full of shock when these words came out

Shawn's sharp eyes quickly fell on Gale's face. "What did you say? She didn't have a miscarriage?"

"Yes."

"So, where is the child? still there?"

Gale shook her head. "She was never pregnant. There was no child. How would there be a miscarriage?"

Shawn stood up suddenly, the blue veins on his forehead throbbing

His expression was full of chills.

"Gale, you can't talk nonsense!"

"Aren't you willing to face the facts?" Gale looked at him. "Shawn, you are high and mighty. Yes, no one dares to go against you and deceive you because you can't accept such a person staying by your side. However, Susan deceived you so easily."

"The evidence! Where is the evidence!"

"If you don't believe me, check her."

Gale made it clear.

Susan was stupid.

"No...you, you are talking nonsense!" Susan denied it immediately, her voice extremely sharp. "Gale, in order to avoid responsibility, you can actually make up such words to slander me!"

"Am I slandering you?"

"Yes!"

You're spewing lies! Mr. Wood asked you for evidence, but you...you can't show it!" Susan was completely panicked.
