Still Loving You Nonetheless Chapter 1461

It was rather risky that Yanne hit her tummy early in her pregnancy.

But Madam Sheldon did not push any further as she thought that if it were severe, Yanne would have been more worried than her.

After all, Yanne needed the baby to keep Liam by her side.

Hence, Madam Sheldon said, "Alright then. Get some rest."

She then turned to Liam and said, "Liam, stay here and take good care of Yanne. Don't you dare step out of this place?"

Liam placed Yanne onto the bed, straightened his back, and said, " Yanne, get some rest. I'll get going now."

He then said to the maids, "Take good care of Miss Yanne, do you hear me?"

The maids nodded their heads.

Liam ignored the darkened expression on Yanne's face, turned around, and made his way to the door.

up to Liam, grabbed him by his arm, and said, "Liam, did you not stay right

urgent that I need more important than not want to argue with his mother. Pushing away her hands, he replied, "Mom, Madam Sheldon was wordless with she could only watch Liam walk out of the be too disappointed. Perhaps Liam really has something urgent that he needs to

"It's Ivy."

"I don't think so."

told me earlier." Yanne felt her heart

a calm front and stopped herself from breaking know how to be, she dare not make any promises to Yanne. All she want to get on the bad side of Madam Sheldon hence she

at the hospital,

He had his driver pulled over and he quickly rushed down from the car.

Ivy was startled by his sudden appearance, she felt her heart skip a beat when she saw him walking toward her looking all worried.

Ivy wondered what he was doing here when he had left earlier.

"Liam, we've talked about this..."

"And what did we talk about?" Liam cut her off. staring at her, he asked, "Did we say that you can leave the hospital today? Or did we agree on becoming strangers?"

"I'm feeling much better now and that is why I wanted to leave."

"What do you mean that you've recovered?" Liam sounded angry, " What about the wounds on your head and your legs? It's just been a few days and you're telling me that you've recovered? Don't you know how serious it can be if you get an infection? I know you want to die but I don't want you dead yet!'

Looking at Liam who was all worried about her, Ivy was slightly touched.

Taking a deep breath, Ivy replied with a straight face, "Liam Sheldon, you don't have to care about what I do. If you think that I am your woman just because I stayed by your side when I lost my memories, then you're overestimating yourself."

"You should know better what kind of person I am, shouldn't you?"