

Still Loving You Nonetheless Chapter 1485

"Okay, I'll come with you," Liam said without giving it any thought.

"Liam," Ivy suddenly pulled him back and said, "the procedure for Siena's adoption would happen so quickly. Why don't you head back first? I'll stay here doing it while looking for the child."

"No, I want to stay with you."

No matter how she wanted to look for the child or when she was going to look, he was going to stay with her.

"Your job is so busy. Also, I'm guessing your family has already thrown a fit for you leaving," Ivy bit her lips and said, "I'm going to say what I have been saying. I hope that you don't give up everything for me. It will be a huge pressure for me, and I will feel terrible."

Liam looked at her serious gaze. He pondered for a while before saying, "But if I go back, you'll be alone."

"I can be alone, it's fine."

"I'm afraid."

"What are you afraid of? I've said that this is my place, I'm familiar with this place."

afraid that you won't seeing how worried in her heart. Has she been gone for so long, which is why

I will

will come to pick you two up just take Siena back," Ivy saw how worried he was, and she added, fine. After all, it's only one or two days," Liam only

Yanne furious, but Liam's parents were also furious at

Madam Sheldon finally caught her half once threatened her that if she were to force him to marry Yanne, he would elope with Ivy. she never thought that he would elder son. Was she going to lose her

I give birth to such a heartless son that leaves just whenever he wants how anxious Madam Sheldon looked, and he consoled her, "Madam, although Liam has left, he has never given in the country right now. What use is

Mr. Crawford lowered his head and said nothing else.

After he left, Madam Sheldon turned around to see Yanne and was feeling much sadder.

"Yanne, I'm sorry. I can't do much to help you." she walked over and held Yanne's hand, she said apologetically, "Liam is not in the country. I don't know how to help you anymore."

Madam Sheldon swept a gaze at Yanne's flat stomach. "Yanne, I truly want this child, but if you don't want to keep it, I can't blame you. I don't have the right to blame you.

"I'm sorry, I'm useless. You guys can take care of the matter of Howard. I won't ask for anything anymore."

That was because, if she continued demanding more, she would lose both her sons.

Tears fell from Yanne's eyes. She was sad. She was sad that she was worth so little to Liam. Even if she blackmailed him with a child, it was pointless.

She had wealth and looks. She even had a so-called child, but it paled in comparison to Ivy.

What more could she ask for from a man like that?

This time, she should give up too.