Still Loving You Nonetheless Chapter 1486

Yanne took a deep breath and said, "Madam Sheldon, I'm leaving."

Madam Sheldon nodded. "I'll get the driver to send you."

"No need."

Yanne was just about to head out when the servant suddenly said from the door in surprise, "Madam Sheldon, Miss Young, Master Liam is back!"

"Ah!" Yanne was extremely surprised and delighted. "Really? Liam is back?"

"Yes, he is back."

Liam entered as if on cue. Madam Sheldon rushed up to him and hit him while scolding, "where have you gone for so many days? Do you know how worried Yanne and I were? How could you be so immature?"

Liam let his mother hit and scold him. He did not defend himself.

"Liam, you've gone too far! You're too selfish!" Madam Sheldon covered her face and cried.

She never thought that her son would be so terrifyingly heartless!

Liam ignored his mother's scolding. He only looked at Yanne fixedly. "I'm sorry."

Yanne sniffled. She forced herself to calm down before saying, " Liam, didn't Ivy tell you that I'm not pregnant at all?"

"What did you say?" Liam was stunned.

Madam Sheldon was stunned too.

"Yanne, what did you say? You're not pregnant?" Madam Sheldon grabbed her by the arms and measured her tummy up. "what happened? Weren't you pregnant? The doctor said that you're pregnant too."

Yanne looked at her and said bitterly, "Madam Sheldon, the doctor is a friend of mine."

Madam Sheldon was speechless.
