

Still Loving You Nonetheless Chapter 1488

Liam nodded. "Since you don't want to listen to it, I won't say anything anymore. I'll return to my room to rest."

He paused for a while before saying, "When are you going back? I'll get someone to send you."

"No need, I have a car."

Liam nodded and went upstairs with sprightly footsteps.

Madam Sheldon held Yanne's hands, she looked at her and said, "Yanne, why did you also lie to me? I was happy for nothing. I thought I was going to become a grandmother."

Yanna said guiltily, "I'm sorry, Madam Sheldon, I only thought of wanting to make Liam stay by my side."

"No, no, no. I can understand how you feel. I'm just a little disappointed. I'm not blaming you." Madam Sheldon patted the back of Yanne's hand. "I'm not asking you to apologize. On the contrary, I should be the one apologizing."

"Thank you for all these days. I'm sorry for you too," Madam Sheldon suddenly choked up and said, "since you have already decided to split up, I hope that you can be happy in the future."

"Thank you."

Of course, since using Yanne as a solution was no longer an option, it was unsure if the witness on their side would be harder to get in touch with. Liam was still a little worried, so he did not dare to promise his mother anything.

Madam Sheldon sighed and said, "I wonder if your brother could come out safely."

"He will. Don't worry," Liam comforted her and swept her a gaze before saying, "but, this time, you no longer forced me to get Yanneback. I'm quite surprised."

Madam Sheldon glared at him. "You two are already in such a state, what more could I say? You have already said that I can't use your life in exchange for your brother's. If I were to continue forcing you, what if you run away once more?"

"Do you know how I have been living for the past few days? I was angry and regretful. I thought I forced you too much."

Liam looked at his mother in shock. He clearly did not expect that she would say such things.

"So, does that mean you will leave me alone?"

"Oh, I don't want to."

"Forget about it," Liam chuckled and said, "I was finally a little moved and felt that I'm once more your biological son. Don't disappoint me again."

"What do you mean by that? Have you always felt that you're not my biological son?"
