

Still Loving You Nonetheless Chapter 1498

Ivy heard what Liam said and looked out at the door.

When she saw that it was Siena's adoptive parents, she was instantly stunned.

"They are the guests that you mentioned?"

"Yes." Liam stood next to her and smiled. He said, "They said they hoped that they could see Siena one more time."

"Is that so? That's great." Ivy held Siena's hand and walked out.

Outside the door, Siena's adoptive parents were extremely friendly. "Hello! Ivy! Haven't seen you in a while!"

"Hello." Ivy welcomed them. "Welcome."

They looked at Siena behind Ivy. "Hello, Siena. It's been a while."

Ivy did not understand why she was apologizing to her when she should be saying that to Siena.

Ivy smiled. "It's fine."

Siena's adoptive mother hugged Siena and said, "Siena, I'm sorry. I have never loved you properly."

"Mommy, it's fine," Siena said understandingly, "Mommy Ivy is right. You and Daddy brought me up. I should be grateful."

"Siena, we feel even more guilty if you say that," Siena's adoptive father said rather guiltily.

Siena's adoptive mother patted him on the back of his hand and said with a smile, "Luckily, Siena is very happy right now. We are relieved."

"Yes, we won't need to worry anymore."

"Siena's life will be great, at least much better than before once she returns with you all, right?" Siena's adoptive mother said to Ivy.

Ivy nodded. "Of course, we will love Siena and treat her as our child.
