"why is the last 2 I only get water bottle? aahhh.... never mind, let's check each item"

"I can use a sword later and spear with fencing is a good combination, a shovel... maybe I can use it to make trap? and for basic body tempering and basic cultivation... what is these two, system? I thought I can get stronger with killing monsters in this fantasy world?"

[Analyzing]

[Within explanation of the king yesterday, it seems in this world when a monster was killed, they release some kind energy, which the killer absorbed that energy thus resulting him leveling up. According to the legend, system speculated why he can't level up anymore, because the energy released from monsters wasn't pure enough. System can't speculate more than this without enough data]

"So this body tempering and cultivation manual is the solution?"

[Yes Host, the energy absorbed according to the manuals is heaven and earth energy thus containing a pure form of energy]

"I'm lucky to have them in my first gacha then. So how can I learn the manual?"

[Host just need to think what do you want to extract and say 'extract']

Thinking the name of the two manuals, he said "Extract". Two books appeared in front of him immediately.

"Hey system, you don't have instantaneous learning function? Like in the novels"

[No Host you need to learn it manually]

"..... you are a useless system"

[Host cultivation is a studious process, not a shortcut like what you want]

"..... fine fine I Just need to learn it right" He sigh, losing an argument with system.

He pickup the two manuals and start reading them. After reading the two manuals, it's already morning, and he didn' sleep last night.

"System, you have storage/inventory right?"

[As long as the items are from the system you can store them in me host. but if not you need to store them yourself]

".... You are really useless"
