

Chapter 391: Bo Jinyan Proposes to Ye Erruo

When Ye Erruo came out, Bo Jinyan happened to bring a group of people over.

“Xiao Ruo?” Yu Lingfeng’s eyes lit up.

She had almost scared him to death. He had searched for her for a long time but had not been able to find her. He had thought that he’d lost her.

Bo Jinyan’s face sank when he saw her.

“Where did you go last night?”

“He obviously took me to the water god yesterday. When I found out that he was missing, I went to look for him. In the end, I got lost,” Ye Erruo said as she pointed at Yu Lingfeng.

Whoosh!

Bo Jinyan shot a displeased look at Yu Lingfeng. Is she referring to me?

Sooner or later, he would lose his little bride.

Very soon, Bo Jinyan’s gaze was drawn to the jacket she was wearing.

Was this a man’s jacket?

“Who were you with earlier?” He stared at her jacket with a complicated gaze.

Ye Erruo did not panic at all. “I got lost with a man. He was the one who brought me out. It was very cold down there, so he gave me his jacket.”

As she spoke, she hugged her clothes tighter.

The man’s faint fragrance wafted up to her nose...

Bo Jinyan’s gaze was cold. He unbuttoned his jacket buttons one by one and stepped forward to take off the other man’s clothes and put them on himself.

“Let’s go home.” He reached out to hold her hand.

Ye Erruo instinctively avoided the attack. She managed to dodge it skillfully without attracting Bo Jinyan’s suspicion.

“Give me the clothes. They belong to someone else. You’ll have to return them to them in the future.”

Bo Jinyan’s coat also had his unique fragrance on it. Ye Erruo felt that something was amiss all over her body.

“It’s good that you found us. It’s good that you managed to find the way back. You almost scared me to death,” Yu Lingfeng said weakly.

“Don’t wander around in the future.”

“Mm...”

Bo Jinyan’s deep gaze landed on the coat in her arms. “You still want to return the clothes? Do you know where that man’s home is?”

Of course, Ye Erruo would not expose Mo Jiangye!

“I don’t know. I’ll return it to him the next time we meet.”

“Let’s go, let’s go,” Yu Lingfeng said.

He had brought a large group of people and had been almost about to flip the small island open to search for her. Thankfully, she had come out.

While they boarded the boat, Ye Erruo’s gaze was fixed on the huge tree. He was still inside...

“What are you looking at?” Bo Jinyan asked solemnly.

“Nothing. This tree looks nice at night.”

“Yes, I’ll take you over there next time.”

“Sure.”

Along the way, Bo Jinyan’s gaze seemed to land on the clothes in Ye Erruo’s arms. His face was gloomy. What kind of man had she met in there? She seemed to be very concerned about this jacket!

After returning home, Ye Erruo started to lose her focus. She sat there in a daze, and her face would turn red from time to time. Sometimes, she would smile like a fool...

She looked forward to meeting that man again tomorrow. He still owed her a rabbit toy. In just one day, that man had taken over her mind.

Bo Jinyan narrowed his dangerous eyes when he saw her in a daze while holding her coat.

“What are you thinking about?”

Ye Erruo was stunned. When she saw Bo Jinyan, she was shocked. “Nothing.”

Bo Jinyan glanced at the hairpin on her head and his gaze deepened. He could not remember the hairpin he had given her.

When he stepped forward and reached for her hairpin, Ye Erruo stood up immediately. “Brother Jinyan, is there something you need from me?”

“Mm... Let’s get married, Ruoruo,” he said softly.

Chapter 392: Can We Not Get Married For Now?

Married?

Ye Erruo was stunned.

“Why? Are you unwilling?”

“N-No...” She panicked a little.

She did not know what she was panicking about. She had been looking forward to marrying Bo Jinyan every day, so she should be happy to hear him mention marriage...

“Your elder brother and a few of my friends will be attending our wedding. Let’s get married in that sea of flowers. I’ve already prepared a wedding gown for you.” Bo Jinyan’s expression was gentle.

Ye Erruo furrowed her brows. “Shouldn’t we take wedding photos before we get married?”

Bo Jinyan, who was taken aback, chuckled. “That’s right. Look at how anxious I am. I’ll bring you the wedding dress tomorrow.” While she was not paying attention, he swiftly removed the hairpin from her hair.

In an instant, her long, flowing hair was let loose.

Ye Erruo hurriedly covered her hair with her hands. “Brother Jinyan, what are you doing?”

Bo Jinyan threw the hairpin out of the window, only to see a stream outside...

“You!” Ye Erruo hastily ran to the window, her heart burning with fury.

“This hairpin doesn’t suit you. It’s ugly. I’ll give you another one,” he said coldly. “Let’s go. I’ll take you to prepare our wedding attire now.”

He stepped forward and was about to hold her hand when Ye Erruo retracted her hand in shock, not allowing him to touch it.

“What’s wrong?”

Ye Erruo took a deep breath. “Nothing. I’m tired today. I want to rest. I don’t want to go out.”

Sensing that she was unhappy, Bo Jinyan softened his voice. “Ruoruo, I don’t like you wearing other men’s gifts. I am your fiancé. I can’t stand seeing you accept other men’s gifts.”

Ye Erruo was stunned. He was right. He was her fiancé...

A vicious glint flashed across Bo Jinyan’s eyes when he saw that she did not retort. The hairpin had indeed been the gift of a man!

Suddenly, he reached out and pulled her into his embrace. Hugging her tightly in his arms, he asked intimately, “What kind of wedding style do you like?”

Ye Erruo struggled, but the strength in his arms increased as he held her tightly.

“Brother Jinyan, let me go! You’re hurting me!”

Ye Erruo was at a loss when she saw this sudden intimacy.

Bo Jinyan finally relaxed a little. However, he had no intention of letting her go.

“What kind of wedding style do you like?”

“Anything would be fine.”

“Xiao Ruo, I’ve realized that something is wrong with you today. Are you hiding something from me?”

Ye Erruo placed her hand in front of him and said, “You... I’m not used to this.”

He chuckled and planted a kiss on her tender cheek before saying, “We are going to be a married couple. You have to get used to it as soon as possible. Don’t you like to be close to me?”

Ye Erruo’s body stiffened as she stared at him with wide, beautiful eyes. She touched her face and looked at him in disbelief.

The smile on Bo Jinyan’s face deepened when he saw the dumbfounded look on Ye Erruo’s face. “Do you know what being a married couple means?”

He leaned over and whispered into her ear, “On our wedding night, your heart will be mine.”

“...”

The absent-minded look on her face made him feel uneasy. He did not know where this uneasiness was coming from. He was the only one in her heart right now... What was he worried about?

“Alright, get some good rest. We’ll go and pick up the wedding dress tomorrow!” He rubbed her head.

Ye Erruo bit her lips. The way he had kissed her earlier had not felt right at all. She had not blushed or felt embarrassed. Her heart had not started beating faster. She just felt that this was a little sudden.

“Brother Jinyan, can we not get married for now?” Ye Erruo asked.

Bo Jinyan’s smile stiffened. “Why?”

Chapter 393: Going To the Water To Find What Mo Jiangye Had Brought Her...

Why?

Ye Erruo gave this some serious thought before replying, “I think something is missing.”

“What’s missing?”

“This is rushed.” Ye Erruo furrowed her brows.

When she’d woken up, she had not been able to remember anything except for her fiancée Bo Jinyan and her brother. She had not remembered anyone else.

It was strange. Too many things were missing.

Bo Jinyan heaved a sigh of relief. “This is not rushed, my little princess. I’ve been preparing to marry you for many years.”

“Oh.”

Seeing that she was unhappy, Bo Jinyan took a step back helplessly. “Alright, alright. Let’s put our wedding off for now. Let’s take the wedding photos first.”

He was indeed a little anxious. He had yet to get along with her well, but he had allowed her to marry him although she just had a small part of her memory. This was a little unfair to her.

“You can rest now,” he said gently.

“Yes, yes.”

When Bo Jinyan left, he took another glance at the jacket on her bed. He was very concerned about this jacket. It was just like the hairpin another man had given her. He had already gotten rid of her hairpin. If he were to dispose of this jacket of hers, she would probably get even angrier.

As soon as he left, Ye Erruo ran out of the door, dashed to the stream outside her window, and searched carefully.

The stream outside her window was very clear, but the water was a little deep and there were a lot of water plants inside. After searching for a long time, she only saw oily green water plants.

Forget it. It was just a hairpin. Why was she so concerned about it?

Upon returning to the room, Ye Erruo watched television in a bad mood.

That man owed her a toy rabbit. Would he really be waiting for her on that street? If she went, would he really appear?

At night, Ye Erruo could not sleep. She tossed and turned, her mind filled with scenes of her time with Mo Jiangye during the day. It was not until late at night that she climbed out of bed in frustration. For some reason, she took the torchlight to look for the hairpin.

After removing her shoes, Ye Erruo used a wooden stick to test the depth of the water. She realized that it was not as deep as she had imagined.

At most, it could only reach the bottom of her thighs. It was alright...

It was late at night, so the water was cold. Ye Erruo rubbed her hands and legs as she carefully entered the water. It was cold and refreshing, but it was still acceptable and not particularly bone-chilling.

She bent down and searched the place bit by bit. After a long time, a flash of light made her eyes light up. Ye Erruo excitedly held the torchlight as she walked forward.

When she pulled the hairpin out of the water, she was overjoyed.

It was dazzling under the lights.

When she climbed ashore and realized what she had done, she fell into deep thought. She wanted to regain her lost memories.

She knew her own heart very well.

A stranger could not turn her into a different person in just one day. Something had to be wrong with this man.

Perhaps, she would have agreed to Bo Jinyan’s request to marry her before this man had appeared.

Now, she would not.

She wanted to get back all the memories she had lost before falling sick.

“Achoo!”

Holding the hairpin in her hand, Ye Erruo returned to her room to take a hot shower. In the end, she hugged the jacket and slowly entered a deep sleep. She was infatuated with the smell of the jacket.

However, her actions that day had caught the attention of the servants, so Bo Jinyan naturally found out about it immediately.

When Ye Erruo woke up at daybreak, she saw Bo Jinyan sitting by her bed. He was holding her hairpin in his hand as he rubbed it with a sinister, dangerous look in his eyes...

Chapter 394: She Was So Gullible!

“Brother Jinyan, why are you here?”

Bo Jinyan glanced at her. “You’re awake?”

“Yes.” Ye Erruo fixed her gaze on the hairpin in his hand, afraid that he would throw it away again.

“Ruoruo, do you like this hairpin very much?”

Ye Erruo nodded heavily. “I like it a lot.”

He smiled gently and placed the hairpin aside. “Get up. Let’s go take the wedding gowns today.”

She asked hesitantly, “Can we not film it first?”

Bo Jinyan’s smile froze. “Hm?”

Ye Erruo sat up on the bed. Neither her brother nor he had wanted to tell her about the memory loss, so she naturally would not tell him that she wanted to regain her memory.

“Wait a minute. I-I want to give you a surprise.” Ye Erruo lied despite her conscience.

“What kind of surprise?”

“I told you it’s a surprise, so it’s not a surprise anymore.”

Bo Jinyan’s gaze was obscure as he gazed deeply at her. “Alright. You can film it whenever you want. We can get married whenever you want as well.”

“Yes.” Ye Erruo dared not look him in the eye.

“An important person will be coming to our house today. Be good and don’t run around.”

Ye Erruo’s eyes lit up. An important person? Didn’t that mean that no one would notice her?

“Alright!”

“Get up and wash up. When I’m done, you can take me somewhere.”

He took the clothes next to him, intending to dress her personally. When he saw the jacket on the bed, however, he felt furious!

Who was the owner of this jacket? Did he want to die?

“I’ll get dressed myself. You can go ahead.”

He was always busy and he would visit the royal family every day. She had no idea what he was busy doing.

After breakfast, Ye Erruo slipped out of the room. The important person Bo Jinyan was going to receive that day was Gu Feirou... Therefore, the servants were busy and no one noticed Ye Erruo.

The weather was a little cold that day. It was dark and gloomy, as if it was about to rain.

Feeling uneasy, Ye Erruo took the carriage to the main street.

She had met that man at the hoop stall previously, so she pretended to pass by and went there again.

This time, she had brought enough money with her. She paid for a bunch of hoops and aimed at small items aimlessly. Her peripheral vision kept scanning her surroundings.

The busy street was bustling with people. She waited and checked left and right, but no one came. In the end, she started eating in the snack shop nearby while waiting slowly.

Rumble...

The sound of muffled thunder in the sky caused many people to quickly buy something and leave. It seemed like it was going to rain heavily.

Half an hour later, rain began to fall.

The people at the roadside stalls were anxiously packing their things while Ye Erruo was eating a bowl of wontons. There were a lot of people in the snack shop that day. Ye Erruo, who was sitting in front of the door, did not notice that a few pairs of stunned gazes were fixed on her.

Her arrival had attracted many male customers. The boss was overjoyed, so he was very polite to her. Actually, he should have given her a bowl of wontons for free.

“Miss, the rain is too heavy. Will anyone pick you up?” the owner asked as he approached her.

“Someone will be here.”

“Oh... When is the person who’s picking you up coming?”

She pursed her lips and glanced at the owner. “What’s wrong?”

“It’s nothing. It’s nothing.” The boss waved his hand and left with a smile. He was hoping that the person who was coming to fetch her would come over later so that he could get a few more customers.

That man owed her a toy rabbit. He had said that he would return it to her. He had said that as long as she came to this street, he would appear.

She waited from morning till noon, and then from noon till afternoon. The rain outside gradually intensified, but Ye Erruo did not see Mo Jiangye.

Her heart gradually turned cold, and she let out a mocking laugh. She was so gullible!

Chapter 395: He Still Owes Me A Rabbit

Ye Erruo's heart gradually turned cold, and she let out a mocking laugh. She was so gullible!

She had actually believed his words.

They had agreed that as long as she came to this street, he would appear. They had agreed that he owed her a toy bunny and he would return it to her. What had happened in the end?

Rumble...

The rain outside suddenly intensified. Ye Erruo felt disappointed and upset and wanted to cry.

How stupid was she to believe the words of a man she had only met a day ago? How stupid was she? She liked his jacket and had even hugged it to sleep. How laughable was it that she had entered the water in the middle of the night to get the hairpin he had given her?

As the sky gradually darkened, the shop owner could tell that she had been stood up when he saw her expression. He shook his head helplessly. Who was stupid enough to stand up such a beautiful lady?

Upon seeing that Ye Erruo had been sitting there the entire afternoon, someone could not help but approach her.

"Miss, the rain is too heavy. I saw you sitting here the entire day. Where is your house? Shall I escort you back?" The man sat down opposite her as if he was very familiar with her.

When he saw that her eyes were red, his heart instantly melted. Indeed, a good-looking girl could be really lovable when she cried.

"Why are you crying? Did you quarrel with your boyfriend?"

Ye Erruo was furious. "I don't have a boyfriend!"

She was not that man's girlfriend. She pulled a tissue from the table and calmed herself down.

What was the big deal? Wasn't this just a man? Hadn't a man taken advantage of her for nothing?

This time, she had learned her lesson. The next time she met a man who wanted to take advantage of her, she would slap him to death!

The man was elated to hear that Ye Erruo had no boyfriend.

She's so pretty, yet she doesn't have a boyfriend. Will she give me a chance?

"What a coincidence. I don't have a girlfriend either." The man smiled.

Ye Erruo looked up at him speechlessly.

Whether he had a girlfriend or not had nothing to do with her. Plus, the fact that he was sitting in front of her was annoying, alright?

“Where is your house, pretty lady? I’ll drive you home later.”

There were a lot of Blue Tower carriages and expensive cars.

“My car is right there.” The man looked outside with pride.

A Bentley was parked outside the window. It actually looked cool.

Ye Erruo called the boss over and ordered another bowl of wontons that she proceeded to eat leisurely.

“Oh, thank you. I won’t trouble you anymore.”

“No, it’s no trouble. What’s your name?”

When he saw that Ye Erruo was ignoring him, his interest was piqued. Was she an ice beauty? He liked her!

“I can’t find a way to tell you about the things that I’ve been thinking about. I feel that it’s fate that I met you today. Let me tell you something. My dad works for the royal family and doesn’t earn much. He only earns 500,000 to 600,000 yuan a month. My mom works for the royal family and doesn’t get a big salary either. She only earns 200,000 to 300,000 a month. I’m the only male in my family, however, and my parents dote on me very much. I was admitted to a prestigious school at a young age and I know a lot of things. Sigh... It’s a pity that I don’t have a girlfriend yet. Don’t you think that’s troubling?”

The corners of Ye Erruo’s lips twitched as she ate even faster. She was really hungry, and the wontons at this place were really delicious.

“Wontons are low-class food. I’ll treat you to steak and high-class food later.”

If she hadn’t been there, he wouldn’t have come to such a lowly place.

“Have you eaten steak? There’s also foie gras, champagne, and so on. I eat those things every day. My parents bring them home from the royal family. Most people don’t see the royal family.”

Ye Erruo was speechless.

The man continued speaking before there was suddenly a commotion outside...

Chapter 396: You Look Like My Girlfriend And Future Wife

The commotion outside made Ye Erruo’s heart skip a beat. She looked outside with hope.

It was Bo Jinyan!

He had also brought a lot of people with him...

“Let’s not beat around the bush. Miss, I think I like you. You look like my girlfriend and future wife.”

“...”

Bo Jinyan slowly walked toward Ye Erruo in his black boots until he stopped before their table.

“Y-Young Master Bo?” The man stood up in horror.

He had actually come here!

Bo Jinyan’s gaze landed on Ye Erruo. “What did he just say?”

The man was shocked. “I-I want to be friends with this lady.”

“Is that so?”

“Yes, yes, yes.” The man nodded obediently.

“Get lost!”

“Yes, yes, yes.”

Bo Jinyan removed his gloves and sat opposite Ye Erruo. “Why didn’t you tell me you were going out?”

Ye Erruo finished the bowl of wontons. “Aren’t you very busy? How could I disturb you when you are receiving someone important?”

He looked at her solemnly. “How would you have returned if I hadn’t looked for you?”

“Didn’t you come looking for me?”

Bo Jinyan stared at her without saying a word.

Many people in the shop secretly took out their cell phones to take a picture of this legendary young master of the family, who was rumored to be very skilled in Gu. However, before they could take a few shots, someone immediately smashed everyone’s cell phones and cleared the scene!

Soon, the originally lively wonton shop was empty. All the customers had been kicked out.

The shop owner was trembling in fear as he asked, “May I know what kind of reason you have for coming to my shop?”

“Get lost!” The guard standing beside Bo Jinyan berated him sternly.

“Yes, yes, yes.” The store owner retreated to the back in fear.

“I’m full. Let’s head back.” Ye Erruo stood up.

Bo Jinyan suddenly grabbed her wrist. “Were you waiting for someone here?”

“Waiting for someone? Waiting for someone? You mean waiting for you?” Ye Erruo retracted her hand.

“We’ve been together all day. Why were you waiting for me?”

“I wanted to eat wontons, but it started raining. How was I supposed to get back?”

She was in a bad mood today, so she was not polite to him.

Bo Jinyan got up with a frown and draped his jacket over her. "Don't you know that you should wear more clothes when you go out?"

"How was I supposed to know it would rain today? Let's go home."

Very soon, Bo Jinyan led Ye Erruo out of the wonton shop.

A jacket and a hairpin were left beside Ye Erruo's seat...

The shop owner panicked while he was packing up. They would probably come back to get them.

The rain pattered against the ground as Ye Erruo got into the car and disappeared from the street.

Due to the rain and the fact that the customers had been kicked out earlier, the owner decided to turn in early.

Bang! The door was suddenly kicked open.

"I'm sorry, but we're about to close."

Mo Jiangye was feeling dizzy as he searched for Ye Erruo in the shop. However, he realized that there was no one inside.

"Where is she?" He grabbed the boss from his clothes angrily.

"What are you doing? What are you doing?"

"I f*cking asked you where she is."

"Where is who?"

Mo Jiangye was furious as he punched the boss hard.

"Young Master, be careful."

"Where's my woman?" he roared.

The boss was speechless. How am I supposed to know who your woman is?

Very soon, they both ran out and prepared to fight.

"Young Master, isn't this your jacket?" Bo Yu's sharp eyes caught sight of the jacket beside the service counter.

Mo Jiangye's eyes burned with fury as he hastily stepped forward to hug his jacket and hold the hairpin that he had personally put on her. She had indeed come looking for him.

His heart felt warm and fuzzy. Then, it turned cold again...

Chapter 397: She Cried and Broke His Heart

"Let me ask you, where did she go?"

Mo Jiangye grabbed the boss's clothes and threatened him with his murderous gaze. "She's gone. She's been gone for almost half an hour."

Mo Jiangye shook off the boss and ran out with the hairpin and clothes.

“Young Master, the rain outside is too heavy and your fever hasn’t subsided yet. You won’t be able to find Young Madam even if you go out now.”

“Get lost!” Mo Jiangye kicked Bo Yu angrily. However, he did not manage to kick Bo Yu and instead almost fell to the ground.

“Young Master, go back and rest. Young Madam will definitely come back tomorrow.”

His head hurt as he muttered, “Why couldn’t she wait for me?”

When the owner heard that, he was furious. “So that lady was waiting for you. She was waiting for a day.”

Whoosh!

Mo Jiangye turned around abruptly. “What did you say? Say it again!”

The shop owner tidied up his clothes. “That pretty lady was waiting here for a day. She was waiting from morning until nightfall, but she was taken away by Young Master Bo in the end.”

Bang!

Mo Jiangye turned around and punched Bo Yu. “Why didn’t you tell me earlier?”

He had been afraid that she would not be able to find him when she came, so he had specifically ordered Bo Yu to look after this street for him. As long as Ye Erruo appeared, he was supposed to inform him immediately. What had happened in the end?

Damn it! I’ve been waiting for him all day. Is he blind? Didn’t he see Ruoruo?

Bo Yu was stunned by the beating. “Young Master, I informed you immediately when I noticed Young Madam’s arrival.”

The Young Master had been running a fever, so he had been following him closely to serve him. He had instructed the bodyguards to keep an eye on the streets instead. The moment the bodyguards had informed him of her arrival, he had immediately told his Young Master...

“How dare you say that?” he bellowed.

“...”

Thank you for reading on myboxnovel.com

“Since Young Madam was here, she will definitely come again.”

Mo Jiangye pressed his head down and made him look at the jacket and hairpin. “Do you think she will come over tomorrow?”

Why would she come again after returning the items to him?

Mo Jiangye felt so much regret that his intestines had turned green. How could he have let this fool watch over her?

D*mn it! D*mn it!

The owner, who seemed to think that this was not a big deal, deliberately said, "Tsk, tsk, tsk. That lady was sitting here all day. She was waiting until she started crying. She was crying so hard that she looked like a pear blossom in the rain. She was crying really hard."

Mo Jiangye's heart ached even more when he heard that.

His breathing was strained, and his head was heavy. "The surveillance, the surveillance."

The boss swiftly pulled out the surveillance cameras. So this was the stupid guy who had stood up the girl and been abandoned? He deserved it!

Indeed, thanks to the surveillance footage, Mo Jiangye saw the person he had been longing for.

She had been waiting for him all this while... She had really been waiting for him. At first, she had been very happy, but she had been waiting to be disappointed. Then... she had started crying.

Mo Jiangye was so anxious that he lashed out at Bo Yu again. He had been getting more and more loathsome recently.

He had finally managed to seduce her and had been about to make her his girlfriend. Now, they had been ruined by this idiot.

After this incident, would he be able to talk to her properly the next time he saw her? Would he be able to seduce her again?

The more he thought about it, the more uncomfortable he felt, as though his chest was bleeding.

Bo Yu was silently enduring his Young Master's fury. He deserved to be punished after all.

"Alright, alright, sir. Please fight outside. Our shop needs a break."

Mo Jiangye shot a cold glare at him, frightening the boss so much that he immediately shut up.

"Young Master..." Bo Yu desperately wanted to ask him to take care of him.

"Shut up!"

Chapter 398: Bo Jinyan's Young Mistress

Mo Jiangye instantly felt dispirited.

I'm done for. I'm done for. The wife that I worked so hard to get is gone again.

When he looked at the surveillance cameras, Mo Jiangye saw another man hooking up with his woman and almost threw a punch at him. In the end, Bo Jinyan had put on her clothes and led her away...

Mo Jiangye stumbled and eventually fell to the ground.

"Young Master!"

The owner of the wonton shop was speechless.

When they returned to the hotel, Bo Yu got busy serving Mo Jiangye. When he woke up, he stared at the ceiling as if he had lost all hope. He did not eat or drink anything.

The doctor said that his gastric problem was quite serious...

"Young Master, something bad will happen to your stomach if you don't pay attention to it soon. It's getting worse," Bo Yu advised him earnestly.

Beside them, a servant was standing with a bowl of light food.

Mo Jiangye said nothing, but his deep gaze dimmed. "Go and tell her that I'm seriously ill and I'm about to die."

"Young Master, Young Madam is in Bo Jinyan's hands. His territory is very tightly-guarded, and our men can't enter."

"Are you f*cking stupid? Don't you know how to use the people around him?"

Bo Yu was suddenly enlightened. "Young Master, do you want to bribe the people around Bo Jinyan?"

Mo Jiangye took a deep breath, closed his eyes, and played dead!

"I understand. I'll go make arrangements for you now. Do you want to eat something first?"

"I'll eat whenever she comes."

Bo Yu's lips twitched. Their Young Master was becoming increasingly more like a child.

"Put all the drugs in the room."

"Yes, Young Master."

When Ye Erruo returned home, she felt much more cheerful. Her worries had disappeared, and she'd had something to eat and drink. She had clearly eaten a lot of wontons before coming back and eating a big bowl of noodles.

"Xiao Ruo, some important guests will be visiting us today. Wait for me to come back. Don't run away again, okay?" Bo Jinyan reminded her helplessly.

When he'd heard that she was gone, he had abandoned all these crazy people to look for her.

"It's already early in the morning. Are you still going to the front?"

"Yes. These are no ordinary guests, so we have to be careful."

"Go ahead." Ye Erruo waved her hand.

"Be good..." He caressed her head.

That night, Ye Erruo slept soundly. She forgot about that man and went back to being carefree Xiao Ruo.

The next day, Ye Erruo woke up early in the morning. It had been raining the entire night, but she did not stop. She had no choice but to finish her breakfast and walk around by herself.

"Princess, you can't enter this place." The maid stopped Gu Feirou.

“Why can’t I? Move aside.”

The servant looked troubled. “Princess, according to Young Master’s instructions, you can move around the palace’s front but you can’t enter the back.”

“Why can’t I enter it?”

“I don’t know. This was Young Master’s order.”

Gu Feirou was furious. “Alright. Is Bo Jinyan keeping a mistress behind my back? Even if I don’t want him, he still can’t bring a mistress home so openly. Get lost!” She insisted on going in.

“Princess, Princess...” The maid looked anxious.

“Get her away from me.”

“Yes, Princess.”

The bodyguards behind Gu Feirou stepped forward and carried the servant aside.

She quickly ran toward the backyard of the palace. “Where is that shameless mistress? Get the hell out!”

“Your Highness.” The maid greeted her respectfully.

“Where’s Bo Jinyan’s mistress? Hand her over, or I’ll teach you a lesson!”

Chapter 399: Taking Off Her Shoes To Slap Her

“Where’s Bo Jinyan’s mistress? Hand her over, or I’ll teach you a lesson.”

The servants exchanged a glance with one another. Young Master’s little mistress? Where was Young Master’s little mistress?

“Princess? What are you talking about?”

“Where is Bo Jinyan’s mistress?”

“...”

“Young Master is not keeping a mistress, Princess.”

Gu Feirou had a look of disbelief on her face. “He doesn’t have a mistress? If he doesn’t have a mistress, why won’t he allow me to enter this palace?”

The servant replied in surprise, “Princess, this is where our Young Master’s sister lives.”

Gu Feirou’s face was cold and aloof. “Move aside. I will take a look myself.”

Upon saying that, Gu Feirou sauntered into Ye Erruo’s residence to look for her.

Meanwhile, Ye Erruo was outside...

After searching for a long time, Gu Feirou did not find anyone. Only then did she believe that Bo Jinyan had not found a mistress. She then left the palace arrogantly and walked away.

“Is this the princess that the Queen lost many years ago?”

“She’s so vulgar. What kind of princess aura is that?”

“Ah, it’s no wonder. She’s been wandering outside for many years, so her upbringing definitely isn’t as good as the one provided by the Queen.”

“Tsk, tsk, tsk.”

Gu Feirou walked around aimlessly, feeling bored. Her so-called mother had wanted her to come here to build a relationship with Bo Jinyan.

What kind of relationship do I have with him? I don’t like him and I won’t marry him.

Suddenly, Gu Feirou saw a familiar face in the garden.

Ye Erruo?

Gu Feirou could not believe it. Why would Ye Erruo come to Blue Tower? Why was she there?

“Bring that person here,” Gu Feirou told the bodyguards behind her.

“Yes, Princess.”

“Who are you? Let me go.” Ye Erruo furrowed her brows. “Let me go.”

“Ye Erruo, is it really you?” Gu Feirou widened her eyes in shock.

“Who are you?”

Gu Feirou was stunned. “You don’t know who I am?”

“Should I?”

Ye Erruo was not really questioning Gu Feirou’s words, yet Gu Feirou slapped Ye Erruo hard on the cheek.

“Have you lost your memories of me? Ye Erruo? You are such a b*tch. You seduced my man, Lin Jingxuan, and now you want to seduce my fiancé.”

Ye Erruo, who was stunned by the sudden slap, was filled with fury when she regained her senses.

After shaking off the person who was holding her back, she pounced on Gu Feirou, grabbed her hair, and gave her two slaps.

“Ah!”

“Your Highness!” The bodyguard was shocked.

Even though Ye Erruo had lost her memory, Mo Jiangye still knew how to deal with anyone who bullied her when his subconsciousness was triggered.

“Princess? Why aren’t you a prince?” She grabbed her long hair and pulled her body as though she was carrying a chicken.

All of a sudden, she used all her strength to push her head toward the pillar beside her.

“Ah! Ye Erruo!”

The bodyguards standing by her side were dumbstruck. They had not expected Ye Erruo to be so strong.

Gu Feirou felt dizzy from the impact as a huge bump appeared on her head.

“Apologize to me,” she ordered her sternly.

How could she slap her face so casually? Did she know this woman who looked like a chicken?

No one had ever hit her ever since she’d been born. Who did she think she was? She had dared to slap her? No one could kill her!

“Ye Erruo, let me go! Let me go!” Gu Feirou yelled.

“Apologize.”

SMACK! Ye Erruo raised her hand and gave her another face slap. Meanwhile, her other hand grabbed her long hair. The moment she struggled, she tugged at her hair ruthlessly, causing Gu Feirou to not dare act rashly in her hands.

“Pull her away, you bunch of good-for-nothings!” Gu Feirou cried in pain.

Ye Erruo sneered. She took off her shoes, grabbed the back of her heels, and slapped Gu Feirou’s face again.

The bodyguards were speechless.

Chapter 400: Ye Erruo Is Missing!

“You feel insulted? Apologize to me!” Ye Erruo refused to let go. She did not intend to let her go either.

Gu Feirou wished she could kill Ye Erruo. How could she be willing to apologize to her?

“Useless pieces of trash! What are you looking at? Hurry up and pull this b*tch away!”

Ye Erruo nodded and smiled coldly. B*tch?

Pa!

“Ah!”

She picked up her shoes and started hitting Gu Feirou’s face. The strength she used to grab her hair increased.

The bodyguards were secretly pleased. They had endured this retarded princess for a long time. Now that she had been beaten up, they could not wait to release firecrackers to celebrate.

“Miss, please let go of the princess, or you will bear the consequences.” The bodyguard warned her sternly. He had no intention of moving forward and pulling her away, though.

Ye Erruo did not care. She would not let her go if she did not hear her apologize.

“Aby!” Ye Erruo then called out loudly.

“Awoo...”

Suddenly, a red ball emerged from the garden.

Aby wagged its tail and rubbed against Ye Erruo’s legs in a fawning manner.

“Bite her.”

With a fierce look on its face, Aby bared its snow-white teeth at Gu Feirou.

“Tsk... This dog of mine is a little crazy. I won’t be blamed if you get rabies when it bites your leg,” Ye Erruo said lazily.

Gu Feirou was furious. Suddenly, she grabbed Ye Erruo’s shoes and retaliated.

Upon seeing Ye Erruo being bullied, Aby jumped up and bit Gu Feirou’s hand.

“Ah!!!”

A scream echoed throughout the backyard.

Aby glared fiercely at Gu Feirou, its mouth covered in blood.

The bodyguard nearly pissed his pants when he saw Gu Feirou bleeding.

The meat in Gu Feirou’s hands had been ripped off by Aby, causing her to cry from pain.

Ye Erruo, who was stunned, loosened her grip and released her long hair. Many strands of hair fell to the ground instantly.

“Roar! Roar! Roar!” Aby stood in front of Ye Erruo and protected her. It looked like it wanted to devour Gu Feirou. It was like a rabid dog that could not be provoked.

Gu Feirou burst into tears.

“Princess? Princess, are you alright?” A servant hurriedly ran over from not far away.

Upon seeing this, Ye Erruo picked up Aby and ran away.

Soon, she disappeared without a trace.

The bodyguard was speechless.

This lady is so unlucky!

“Doctor, doctor... Call the doctor.”

The backyard was thrown into chaos.

When Bo Jinyan heard the news, he immediately questioned the servant about Ye Erruo’s injuries. As soon as he learned that she had been slapped, his entire body was flooded by terror.
