

Chapter 81: Thinking About His Woman?

Ye Erruo furrowed her eyebrows and broke away from his arms before saying softly, "If he loses, what do you plan to do with him?"

"I will throw him into the wolf pit and feed him to them, of course," Mo Jiangye responded icily.

He was thinking about his woman! He wouldn't even give him the chance to think about her any longer!

Ye Erruo was stunned. "Then you are not allowed to accept. You don't have to get down to his level."

His face darkened when he heard that. "You didn't allow me to make our relationship known so that other men can have ideas about you? Ye Erruo, are you doing this on purpose? You are not exposing our relationship so that it is convenient for you to fool around with other men?"

"What kind of nonsense are you talking about?"

"Isn't that true? I already found a man just a few hours after being here, didn't I?"

Sun You was feeling very uncomfortable as he watched them whispering to one another. "Ruoruo, I know that Young Master Mo is outstanding and so are you. You guys look compatible in terms of appearance, but you have not even interacted with Young Master Mo for more than 48 hours. You still don't know him that well. Didn't we hit it off right from the first day? You sing really well, and I can coordinate you. You are a professional singer, and I can become a singer for you. We have the same interests, and I know what I said today was very rude, but I hope you can consider this carefully."

Mo Jiangye was ready to explode when he heard this. His malicious gaze turned even icier. "You sang for him? You guys hit it off?"

"We didn't, no..."

She had only sung once for everyone to hear with Yao Tiao.

She hadn't sung just for him to listen. Plus, how could she possibly sing just for him alone?

"The bow," Mo Jiangye said coldly before waiting for Ye Erruo to finish her words.

Chen Zhanxiao passed the bow over to Mo Jiangye.

Ye Erruo was about to speak but kept her mouth shut after seeing his severe glare.

"Each person will have twenty targets that will be moving at different speeds and different distances. The one with the highest ring score will win."

Sun You was prepared to be the first to go. He had played with moving targets ever since a young age, which was why he had the confidence to make this request.

"Sun You, forget it!" The voice of a person who got along well with him advised him from behind.

"Sun You, it will be unsightly to clean this mess if it ends badly."

"Sun You has done this ever since he was young. I believe in you!" A few men began a lively discussion.

“Little lad, good luck!” Chen Zhanxiao patted Sun You’s shoulders.

“Don’t worry, Coach Chen. I will do my best.”

Chen Zhanxiao was speechless.

A few people stood on the sidelines to watch the archery challenge that was about to happen. Yao Tiao was just about to run over to Ye Erruo’s side when she was stunned by Mo Jiangye’s cold gaze.

He now felt as if everyone was having ideas about his woman.

“Come here.”

This was a hard-pressed situation, so Ye Erruo shook her head. However, Mo Jiangye took a huge stride forward and pulled her over.

“What the heck? No wonder Young Master Mo only took care of Ye Erruo when he came over. It seems like he’s had his eyes on her.”

“Look at Ruoruo! That little biscuit fished away my man easily. She has to take responsibility for me and take care of me for the rest of my life,” Yao Tiao said angrily.

“I think that Ruoruo and Sun You are rather compatible. Although Young Master Mo is good, he is too excellent. Ruoruo isn’t that compatible with him,” Shu Xin said faintly.

“Vixen!” Wu Mengran scolded angrily.

“You are just envious of Ruoruo.” Yao Tiao sighed in disdain.

Bang!

The targets were moving at a slow speed and the distance was small. However, the speed then started becoming faster and the targets began to move further and further away.

Sun You furrowed his eyebrows. Their speed had become too fast...

Chapter 82: Would You Be My Girlfriend?

The faster the speed, the blurrier Sun You’s vision became. He held the bow tightly as his forehead began to drip with sweat.

“Woosh!” The arrow was shot instantly but soon went sideways. It did not even touch the target at all.

“This is only the eleventh arrow. Sun You is gonna feel strained since he still has nine left.” Someone in the crowd spoke up.

“I already told him to give up. Forget it, he just wouldn’t listen. Look at what’s going to happen now.”

“Don’t panic. Perhaps this arrow went sideways by accident.”

“Woosh!” Another arrow went out. This time, it hit the target right in the middle.

“Look, I told you that it was accidental!”

At that moment, everyone fixed their attention on Sun You.

“Oh god, this speed is too fast.”

“Yeah, the target is also too far away. I can’t even see the rings on it.”

Mo Jiangye looked coolly at the moving target far away, not the least bit shaken as he held onto the small meaty hand. Every time Ye Erruo’s eyes landed on Sun You, he would squeeze her hand tightly.

He wished he could cover her eyes so that she wouldn’t be able to see another man and would only look at him.

“So fast!” Ye Erruo couldn’t help but exclaim.

Mo Jiangye sneered, “Is it fast?”

She raised her head and looked at Mo Jiangye, only for him to immediately add, “I will not let him off.”

Ye Erruo was at a loss for words.

“Why are you jealous of him?” She let out a helpless sigh.

“Jealous? Why would I do such a childish thing?” He sneered in disdain.

“Alright, alright, alright. You are the best. You can get rid of him in a second. This bet...”

Mo Jiangye’s lips curled up. “Based on how you’re acting, you are not allowing me to expose our relationship?”

When Sun You shot his last arrow, he finally let out a breath and wiped his sweat.

“Sun You, you missed two shots. Zero rings. The rest are perfect.”

“Amazing!” Shouts were heard all around.

“Young Master Mo, it’s your turn.”

Mo Jiangye looked at Ye Erruo with a gaze filled with unclear implications. “I am giving you half a minute to reconsider.”

“Ready.”

Far away, the new target began to move once again. This speed was faster than Sun You’s speed right from the beginning.

Five minutes later, the targets were moving so fast that everyone’s vision was blurry.

“How does one shoot like this? This isn’t fair!” Yao Tiao shouted angrily.

This was a lot faster than earlier.

Ten seconds later, twenty arrows were shot out consecutively without a single pause.

“Young Master Mo, all perfect rings in ten seconds.”

Everyone was shocked as they stood still.

Chen Zhanxiao smiled proudly, already expecting these results.

Sun You was dumbstruck. He had humiliated him indeed...

"You've lost." He stared coldly at Sun You like an emperor.

"Ah!"

Applause.

The enthusiastic applause and screams of worked-up excitement the spectators let out made Sun You's expression even uglier.

"Young Master Mo can handle me any way that he wants to." Sun You felt indignant deep down.

Mo Jiangye ignored Sun You and walked slowly forward before pulling Ye Erruo into his embrace.

"Would you be my girlfriend?"

Upon seeing his threatening gaze, Ye Erruo retorted jokingly, "Could I not be?"

It went without saying that this was impossible. He was such a petty man.

"Nope."

He paused for a moment before going back on his word. "Yes."

Then, he placed a target on Sun You's body.

"I will! I will be your girlfriend!" Ye Erruo's lips curved into a helpless smile. What a childish man!

"Young Master Mo, you are forcing someone to do something. Ruoruo, don't agree to his request. Do not worry about what he might do to me."

In Sun You's eyes, Ye Erruo was being completely forced to be Mo Jiangye's girlfriend.

Chapter 83: You Are Jealous Again?

Ye Erruo furrowed her eyebrows. "Young Master Mo is very outstanding. I am choosing to be his girlfriend willingly. This has nothing to do with you, Sun You."

Had he misunderstood something?

Suddenly, everything turned black in front of Ye Erruo's eyes. She widened her eyes in disbelief. In front of everyone, he had just...

"Wah, wah, wah..."

"Wow!" Yao Tiao's eyes glinted.

"She is my girlfriend, so please keep some distance from her in the future." He seized her shoulder and flaunted overbearingly in front of everyone.

Ye Erruo was speechless.

"Ruoruo." Sun You gripped his fists tightly as he stared at her, unresigned.

Mo Jiangye lifted the corners of his icy lips before walking away while holding onto Ye Erruo.

“Where are you going?”

“Shut up.”

A fire was lit in Ye Erruo’s heart. Fine, she’d shut up. It seemed as if he did not want her to talk to him anymore.

“Everyone, continue your archery session.” Chen Zhanxiao glanced at Mo Jiangye’s retreating back and gathered the rest of them.

“Young Master Mo was hooked the moment he came here. Ye Erruo is a vixen!” Wu Mengran’s face turned red from anger.

Yao Tiao sneered, “Young Master Mo simply likes vixens. Are you unhappy? Become a vixen too if you can.”

“Pfft!” Shu Xin tried to hold back her laughter.

“Wu Mengran, Yao Tiao, step out. Five kilometers.”

“F*ck. We are running again?”

“You stupid cuckold! It’s all because of you.”

“You are a stupid b*tch!”

The two of them couldn’t stand the sight of each other, so they could only helplessly run while cursing each other.

Chen Zhanxiao was too lazy to care about them. They would shut up and be honest when they started feeling tired.

“Everyone else, grab your bows and get prepared. There’s still more than a month left before this training ends. I am giving you three days. If you can’t learn archery by then, you can all forget about going back.”

...

Ye Erruo and Mo Jiangye walked for a long while. He didn’t stop even after her legs became sore, not allowing her to slow down as he continued to grasp her hand.

“I can’t walk anymore.” She stalled and remained where she stood.

“Stand up,” he said coldly.

Ye Erruo sat down on the ground bluntly. “No, I am tired.”

Her body was sore and aching every single day. She had to train every day non-stop, yet he still walked so fast...

He reached out and tugged at her arm, forcibly pulling her up from the ground.

“What’s wrong?”

“You sang for this man, didn’t you?” He couldn’t forget this.

The corners of Ye Erruo’s lips twitched. “I did sing, but it wasn’t just for Sun You.”

“You didn’t sing for just one man, but two?” The pitch of his voice was higher as he said these words.

Provoking him with one root of weed wasn’t enough? There were two?

“No, it was for everyone. I was singing a duet with Yao Tiao for everyone,” she explained with supreme effort.

Mo Jiangye’s expression improved a lot as he articulated each word unhappily. “I am only here for a short while, yet you have already provoked me?”

Ye Erruo flicked his hand away. “You are jealous again.”

“Jealous? Would I stoop so low?”

She was speechless. Not only do you do it, but you do it often. Yes, it is common.

As she watched his entire body emit sour jealousy, Ye Erruo’s lips curled up gently. “We are already like an old married couple. Why are you fighting with Sun You? I am your girlfriend. Who would dare to come and cause me trouble now?”

“This is petty and childish.” She jabbed him as she commented.

He held her hand. “It hasn’t even been four months since we registered our marriage.”

What old married couple was she talking about?

Plus, if he did not let everyone know that she was already taken, did she plan on finding a few more weeds to poke his back?

Chapter 84: He Likes to Stick Close To Her

“Even though we haven’t been married that long, we’re still married,” she said.

The man sighed. She looked so demure right now as he piggybacked her to the training camp that he could not bear to interrogate her any further.

“I’ll return in about a month. Are you going back with me?” she asked.

“Yes.”

She muttered under her breath, “I wonder what Gu Feirou is doing now! Pass me your cell phone.” Her phone had been confiscated by the instructors on the first day.

He handed her his cell phone. He hardly carried his phone around with him. Today was an exception, but this suited her just fine.

His phone was not locked. The moment she turned it on, she saw that the wallpaper was a lovingly sweet picture of the two of them. She did not remember when they had taken this photo. However, it was obvious that this image had been taken secretly.

She glanced up at him.

“Yes?” He looked puzzled.

“Hmph!” Her lips curved into a small gloating smile that she did not try to hide from him. Snorting, she turned her attention back to the phone.

She skipped to the latest news reports once she tapped on the Internet browser. A piece of news jumped out at her out of the blue. “Didn’t Lin Jingxuan deny their relationship a while ago? Why did he announce his engagement to Gu Feirou again so suddenly?”

“Aren’t you happy that he’s getting married?” A haunting voice reverberated above her head.

“I’m just surprised.”

She scrolled down the news further to find out more, but the signal was so bad that the screen froze before she could go on.

“Where is a better spot to get a signal?” She held the phone up and tried to secure a connection again.

“In my room. Come over and sleep with me tonight and you’ll get your signal.”

“...”

“My bed is comfortable and I have an air conditioner. Plus, the food is decent.”

“...”

“Do you want to come over by yourself tonight, or do you want me to invite you over personally? I’ve already asked someone to bring your stuff from the dormitory over to my place.” This meant that she would not be able to sleep at the hostel even if she returned to the dormitory!

If he was threatening and seducing her at the same time, she knew that she would not be able to refuse his offer. Otherwise, he would probably abduct her tonight.

Chen Zhanxiao gave everyone some rare time off in the afternoon, and the gang holed up in the hostel to gossip instead.

“She is so eager to move in with Young Master Mo. She just became his girlfriend! How shameless...” Wu Mengran said mockingly as she crouched outside Yao Tiao’s room.

Yao Tiao took a pail and splashed water in her direction.

“You dyke! What do you think you’re doing?”

PONG! The woman inside the room slammed the door shut on the mocking girl’s face.

This is between the couple. What does it have to do with her? What a blabbermouth!

...

The bathroom door made a squeaky sound as Ye Erruo pulled it open and walked out wrapped in a bath towel.

Mo Jiangye was on the bed working hard on his laptop when a sweet aroma whiffed toward him. He turned toward the bathroom subconsciously.

“Come over here,” he whispered as he put the laptop away.

The man pulled her down on the sheets beside him the moment she approached the bed.

“My hair hasn’t dried yet.”

“Did you miss me?”

She shoved him away. There was the same question again.

He had asked her the same question countless times, even though she had given the same reply each and every time. Somehow, this did not seem to satisfy him. It seemed as if he wanted to turn her into a recorder that would repeat the same words in his ear over and over again.

“Hey, tell me. Did you miss me?”

“Yes, I missed you. I missed you very much, every minute and every second.” Her head was full of him, in fact.

He held her captive within his reach.

“I just had a shower!” She pushed him away again, trying to keep him at a distance.

“I know. I have eyes, so I can see that.”

What a man!

Chapter 85: You Are My Princess

“Mo Jiangye, my hair hasn’t dried yet.” She gave him another shove.

“Are you still in pain?”

“Eh, eh!” She nodded earnestly.

The daily running, shooting, and various training had not allowed for a single day of comfort.

He took a towel and proceeded to dry her hair as she lay leisurely on his torso to swipe through the news on the phone.

“Gu Feirou, the lost princess of the Blue Tower Royalty?” She let out a hushed cry.

Furrowing her brows, she swiped rapidly through the recent news. The gossip in the last few days revolved around Gu Feirou.

How can she be the daughter of the Blue Tower Royalty?

“Do you know the Blue Tower Royalty?”

He caressed her cheek and said, "It's an independent nation close to the H Nation."

"How can Gu Feirou be the princess of the Blue Tower Royalty?" No wonder Lin Jingxuan had changed his mind and gotten engaged to her.

She looked flustered and crestfallen as she furrowed her brows.

Dipping his head, he placed a gentle peck at the corner of her lips. "She might be the princess of the Blue Tower Royalty, but you're my princess!"

She flushed with embarrassment and continued to look up on the Blue Tower Royalty on the phone.

Latest news: Since the news about Gu Feirou being "Little Ah Di" had spread, her fan base had expanded overnight. She had also changed her stage name to "Little Prince of Blue Tower" to keep up with her royal status. Her popularity and fan base exceeded Ye Erruo's by far now. One could sense the malice toward "Little Ah Mei" that came from her camp of supporters.

"There is no way she is the princess of the Blue Tower Royalty!" Ye Erruo declared resolutely. She had not heard that her former buddy had been a blue-blood in her past life. In fact, Gu Feirou's biological parents were commoners. She had been sold to a pedophile in the city who had tried to rape her when she was ten. The girl had made her escape and subsequently been adopted by an orphanage.

He looked at her with eyes that were dipping low. "Why are you so agitated?"

"I want to go back soon."

"I beg your pardon?"

"I'd like to go back soon." She looked at him expectantly.

She knew she would be free as long as he agreed.

"You can leave a week earlier. I'll take you away."

She was overjoyed. "Great!"

After a month of shooting, self-defense, and strength training, the group finally completed their foundational training. Two weeks later, the group gathered on a hill top at an altitude of about a few hundred meters. From the hill, they could glance over at the other hills that were linked by a glass bridge.

"Everyone has to cross this glass bridge to reach the next hill," Chen Zhanxiao said as he led the way.

"Instructor Chen, I have acrophobia."

"I... Me too! I have acrophobia, too!" A few girls backed away with a start.

Chen Zhanxiao turned around and glanced at them. "Those who have a fear of heights will form a separate row!"

Very soon, the team of more than a hundred participants was split into two teams.

"Those who aren't afraid of heights will walk over first," he declared lazily.

A group of men and an even smaller group of women cautiously made their way over.

“Now, those who have crossed over will pull the rest over.”

“Understood!” The few instructors standing at the back went up and started to drag the rest over to the bridge.

“Ah!”

“No, no way! I can’t cross over!”

A young man fainted after letting out a scream.

“...”

“Carry them over,” Chen Zhanxiao ordered sternly.

“There are only two options: You can either walk over by yourselves or have someone carry you over. However, no one will help you when it’s time for you to cross over to the starting point! If you can’t cross over, then be prepared to sit and wait on the mountain with no help.”

Acrophobia could be overcome, especially with the help of a team.

“Stare straight ahead! Don’t look down!” The head coach held on to one of them and issued a stern instruction.

Chapter 86: Taking Her Bungee Jumping

“There are only two options: You can either walk over by yourselves or have someone carry you over. However, no one will help you when it’s time for you to cross over to the starting point! If you can’t cross over, then be prepared to sit and wait on the mountain with no help.”

Acrophobia could be overcome, especially with the help of a team.

“Stare straight ahead! Don’t look down!” The head coach held on to one of them and issued a stern instruction.

“You have all overcome many challenges in the past few weeks. Is acrophobia worse than those challenges? Carry on walking.”

“Walk faster.”

As her head was spinning, Ye Erruo held onto the handrail beside her and took baby steps forward amidst the howling wind. Behind her were several instructors.

Mid-way, she could stand it no longer and threw up after squatting to the side.

“Are you alright, Ruoruo?” Yao Tiao caressed her back as she tried to calm her down at the same time.

“I’m fine.” She took a deep breath and stood up slowly to steady her feet.

“Ahh!” All of a sudden, she could feel her feet being lifted from the ground. Her hand reached out for whatever she could grab hold of instinctively.

“Young Master Mo!” Yao Tiao’s eyes lit up instantly.

“Don’t look anywhere else. Close your eyes.” He whispered into her ear as he hugged her close to him.

He immediately created a buzz with his intimate actions.

When everyone saw him openly hugging her to carry her across the bridge, they thought that they’d had enough of his daily mushiness.

Under everyone’s gazes, Mo Jiangye carried her to the other mountain.

He showed no intention of putting her down when he was done.

“We’ve here. Put me down.” She mumbled and struggled to leave.

“I’m not letting go.”

“...”

The people beside them were already used to this daily show of affection between them. At most, they would throw an envious look in their direction.

From afar, the cascading waterfall looked majestic. The scenery was beautiful, as the mountains were shrouded by floating clouds. A mist had enveloped the mountain top, while sounds of running water ran crystal clear. A number of soldiers were seen training as they abseiled up the steep, horizontal walls.

“It’s so beautiful...”

“What’s so cool about that?”

“I brought all of you here to admire the scenery. You can go back in two days.”

“Two days? Coach Chen, aren’t we supposed to stay for more than ten days?”

“Why, aren’t you elated that we are finishing the course earlier than expected?”

“What? Are we going back earlier than expected?”

The head coach put on his gear and said, “Whoever wants to try abseiling can look for their respective team coach or come find me.”

The sight of the magnificent scenery down the steep walls was tempting but also scary.

“Hey, yo! Let’s go!” After putting on the safety harness, a few young chaps called out to the girls standing not far from them.

“We’ll check out the scenery first.”

“That’s right. We’ll try sightseeing first.”

“Bring me along, bring me along!” Yao Tiao sped forward, leaving behind a group of starry-eyed girls.

“This is how a dyke behaves.” Wu Mengran mocked her sarcastically.

...

“Mo Jiangye, I’ve already told you that I’m afraid of heights. Let me go!”

“You’ll have nothing to fear with me around,” he replied in bemusement as he helped her into a safety harness.

“I’m not interested at all!” Ye Erruo struggled furiously against his attempt. She believed he was doing this to irritate her on purpose. Otherwise, why would he insist on bungee jumping with her?

“You are doing it.”

“Let me go, you bastard!” she yelled at him.

“Let’s play another game.”

“This is not good.”

“Young Master Mo, the harness is in place.”

The moment he let go of her hands, she tried to dash off. Alas, he would not let her off so easily!

“...”

The man chuckled. “Why didn’t I notice your cowardice earlier?”

“Yes, yes, yes, that’s right. I’m a coward. If you really want to play, you can do it by yourself. I’ll give you moral support from above and wait for your return.”

He had to drag and carry her to the platform in preparation for the jump. She was wailing by now. “You are doing this intentionally!”

“What are you afraid of with me around?” He personally checked her safety harness one more time.

Chapter 87: Kick Him

“What are you afraid of with me around?” He personally checked her safety harness one more time.

“...”

“Don’t be nervous,” he told her cheekily.

Don’t be nervous? Easier said than done.

She was like an octopus clinging to the man for dear life. She was standing close to him, not daring to move even an inch away from him. She was scared stiff, yet she anticipated this at the same time. This was her first time trying an exciting extreme sport.

He beamed with satisfaction. While caressing her head, he gently reassured her. “Don’t be nervous, baby. You’ll be safe. I’m here.”

He absolutely adored the way she looked now.

Meanwhile, she was speechless. Well, it’s very obvious that he’s doing this deliberately.

As they edged closer to the end of the cliff, she dared not move her legs at all. He had to carry her to the starting point.

Then, without warning, she found herself losing her balance. She was nosediving weightlessly down the side of the mountain, the ferocious wind beating relentlessly against her ears while her heart almost jumped out of her mouth.

The wind brushed past her ears as the man hugged her protectively close to him. Upon peeking down dreamily at the woman who had curled into a ball in his arms, he realized just how fragile and frail she was.

“Ahh...”

As the speed gradually decelerated to a steady pace, she let out a scream involuntarily.

“Open your eyes.” He coaxed her gently, trying to dissipate the fear inside her.

“Quick, open your eyes.” He had not brought her up there for a ride, so he would not allow her to waste this chance of enjoying the awesome view going down.

“Baby Ruo, open your eyes.” He cajoled again in a hushed voice.

Upon hearing the man’s strong and steady heartbeat next to her, she hesitantly opened her eyes.

His eyes shone when he saw her opening her eyes. “Isn’t it beautiful?”

When she looked down, she saw hills and valleys in a sea of green, accompanied by tiers of rice terraces along the edges. The little white houses that popped up amid the greenery were especially eye-catching, while the reflective water in the lake sparkled clear and bright. A few lone, misty clouds could be seen hiding behind the small houses against the magnificent hilly backdrop.

It’s so beautiful!

As the wind continued to howl in her ears, her fear had already started to disappear.

“Eh? Isn’t that Young Master Mo?”

“And Ye Erruo!”

“Ohh! They are bungee jumping. I want to do it too!” Yao Tiao and a group of guys were climbing up the rock walls carefully as the coach gave them tips.

Below them was a white yacht that was speeding toward them from a distance.

“It’s been a while since I tried bungee jumping. Let’s do it together!”

“Me too! Me too!” The group started to get rowdy.

Meanwhile, below the bungee platform...

“Hey, hey, is that the woman who was picked up by our boss?” After taking off his shades, Xu Xu stared right above him.

“Hmm... Looks like it.”

“Quick, speed over there.”

When the white yacht reached the couple, the three of them, Xu Xu, Zheng Yi, and Wang Yiyang, proceeded to remove the safety harness on them.

Deeply embarrassed, the protagonist was blushing beet-red by then. Hiding behind Mo Jiangye, she felt even more ashamed and vulnerable when Xu Xu sized her up without reservations.

“I dare you to look at her one more time!” Mo Jiangye threatened the three of them with narrowed eyes. After pulling the woman close to him, he gave them a warning look with his peripheral vision.

“Tsk, tsk, tsk...”

“...”

When he saw her embarrassed expression from the side, he grinned devilishly at her.

Furious, she reached out with a limb and kicked hard at his leg. He did not bother ducking away from this harsh beating. He merely gave her a half-smile.

“That’s a good kick!” Xu Xu bellowed.

His sudden, loud voice startled her so much that she took a step back unknowingly as her heart pounded wildly.

The man threw his follower a glint of displeasure. “You scared her!”

Ye Erruo was speechless.

Chapter 88: What Do You Do? (Xu Xu, Zheng Yi, Wang Yiyang)

The man threw his follower a glint of displeasure. “You scared her!”

Ye Erruo was speechless.

Xu Xu was perplexed by his chief’s vicious glare. How had he scared her?

After taking her in his arms, he introduced the three of them to her. “Xu Xu, Zheng Yi, Wang Yiyang.”

She nodded at them and bowed slightly out of courtesy. “How do you do?”

“Were you the woman he picked up that night?” Xu Xu persisted.

Ye Erruo looked confused.

“Address her as your sister-in-law!” The man did not intend to hide her status from them.

“Sis... Sister-in-law?” The three of them had incredulous looks on their faces.

“Hurry up and pay your respects.”

“Sister-in-law, how are you?” Their voices boomed loud and clear.

So this woman hadn't been picked up by him... Don't tell me she came looking for him because she's missed him?

"Were you the one who video-chatted with him that night?" Zheng Yi asked.

The woman was at a loss for words.

She could not understand what they were referring to at all.

"It's her," the man answered on her behalf.

"WOW!"

The three henchmen smiled suspiciously at her.

"Chief must have rushed home to marry his bride after being released from the army." Wang Yiyang chuckled wickedly.

Hooking his lips up into a grin, Mo Jiangye said, "Don't scare her."

Then, he tugged her protectively into the yacht cabin.

Food and wine were lined up neatly inside the cabin.

"Let's do it again." He picked a small piece of cut apple with a toothpick and brought it to her lips.

"What?"

"Let's jump again."

"No way." She refused without thinking about it twice.

"You didn't like it?"

She exploded in fury. "In what way did I seem to enjoy the experience?"

He was itching to do it again with her.

"Let's do it one more time." He coaxed her along.

"So that you can bully me once more?" She raised her voice this time.

"That's possible."

"You're shameless."

He poured her a glass of warm water. "Is this your first time bungee jumping?"

"If not for you, I wouldn't even have done it once."

He beamed. "Really?"

That made him so...

His three men entered the cabin and hastily retreated after stumbling upon their conversation.

Embarrassed, she pinned him down on the chair and threatened him. "You better behave yourself."

His eyes sparkled mischievously. "Let's go bungee jumping again. You won't get into danger with me around. Weren't you very safe with me earlier?"

She half-squatted on him and glared at him warningly. "You can give up on the idea." There was no way she would do it again.

"If one attempt is not possible, what about two?" He pushed her buttons further.

After pushing him away, she told him, "Dream on."

She had been scared beyond words during the first jump. How could she possibly do it a second time?

"My dream is for us to be together." With those words, he reached out and hugged her.

She quickly pulled herself away to a safe corner before throwing him a question with an angry stare.

"Are you going back tomorrow?"

"That'll depend on your performance."

"..."

"If you agree to go bungee jumping with me again, who knows, we may even be able to return home later," he told her with a knowing smile.

"I won't force you if you don't want to do it. Worst-case scenario, we can leave a few days later."

"Mo Jiangye, you can be so childish!" she yelled at him.

Outside the cabin, the three men cocked their brows as they eavesdropped by the door.

He looked at her seriously and said, "I'm not messing with you."

"If you aren't taking me back, then I'll go back myself." She reached for the fork and pierced some grapes lying on the table.

He raised his brow at her devilishly and moved his hand toward her. "Come over here."

Ye Erruo pointed her fork at him. "What are you doing?"

Chapter 89: Sister-In-Law

Ye Erruo pointed her fork at him. "What are you doing?"

"I'm doing you!"

"Pui... Cough, cough, cough!"

The grape in her mouth got lodged in her throat in an instant, causing Ye Erruo's face to turn completely red.

Mo Jiangye, who was stunned, speedily patted her back. "You can choke on a mere grape?"

“Cough, cough, cough...” Ye Erruo was coughing herself to tears.

“Drink some water.”

“Cough...”

After sipping on some water, Ye Erruo placed the glass back on the table and scooted far away from the man in front of her.

“Let’s go. Let’s do it one more time. One last time and we will go back.”

Mo Jiangye furrowed his eyebrows. He went forward and grabbed her dainty hand before using his rough fingers to wipe away the water stains at the corners of her mouth.

“Fine, if you don’t want to play, we won’t.”

Meanwhile, outside the cabin...

The tips of the three huge men’s ears turned suspiciously crimson. They had never thought that their boss could be so flirty. They shouldn’t have judged him based on his normally cold exterior. He could be unexpectedly flirty on the inside. If they had not personally heard this themselves today, they would not have believed it!

“Was eavesdropping on us nice?”

At that moment, Mo Jiangye walked out of the cabin eerily while hugging his own arm. He was wearing a white shirt, his jacket was off, and he had a pair of army green military pants, a black belt, and a pair of black boots on. He was wearing the same clothes as the rest of them, yet he looked the most dazzling.

“Ah ha ha! Hi, Chief Mo!”

The three men straightened their bodies and looked forward.

Mo Jiangye stepped forward slowly and walked lazily back and forth in front of them with a dark, evil aura emanating from him. “What did you hear?”

“Reporting! We didn’t hear anything.”

“Reporting! We weren’t listening.”

“Reporting! I have no idea what you are talking about, Young Master Mo!”

All three of them spoke in unison.

Then, they stared at each other dumbly before deciding to give the same response. “We have no idea what you are talking about, Young Master Mo.”

Mo Jiangye smiled dubiously. His dangerous smile and obscure gaze left them feeling goosebumps all over their bodies.

“We have reached the shore,” Xu Xu said as he let out a sigh of relief.

At that moment, Ye Erruo walked out of the cabin while biting on an apple.

“Are we there yet?”

“We’re here.”

“We are here, sister-in-law.”

Ye Erruo found it weird that they were calling her sister-in-law. They were practically all older than her...

“Sister-in-law, are you hungry?” Xu Xu asked in an effort to diffuse the awkwardness.

“My name is Ye Erruo. You can call me either Xiao Ruo or Ruoruo.”

“Ah... Alright, Sister-In-Law Ruoruo.”

“...”

“Cough. If you are hungry, there is a lot of delicious food on the boat and in the cabin. Please help yourself!”

“...”

“Oh, I forgot. Young Master Mo, we still have something to do, so we will leave first. We will stop disturbing you guys.”

“Yes, yes, yes. We still have some matters to take care of. We will leave first.” Zheng Yi pushed Xu Xu, eager to disappear immediately.

Before waiting for Mo Jiangye to speak, the three of them pushed one another and ran off as if they were escaping.

“Why did they look like they’d gotten a scare?” Ye Erruo muttered.

“Come, let’s head down.”

“Ruoruo, Ruoruo...”

A voice shouted from far away, causing Ye Erruo to turn back and look all over the place.

She saw a small boat carrying Yao Tiao heading toward them.

Mo Jiangye’s face darkened. “Let’s go!”

“Yao Tiao is here. Let’s wait for her together.”

“Together? For her? No way!”

He wanted to be with her alone right now. He would not allow anyone to interrupt them and intrude on their time together. He would kill whoever dared to do so!

Chapter 90: Hunting

“Let’s go!” He grabbed her waist and pulled her away.

“She’ll be here any moment now.”

Mo Jiangye did not care. He increased the strength of his grip and pulled her away.

Ye Erruo was speechless.

“Slower. Walk slower.” Ye Erruo followed him in a small jog.

Behind them, Yao Tiao looked at the two people who had abandoned her in astonishment. F*ck...

“Hungry?” He inquired as he turned his head to the side.

“I’m still alright.”

There was a small house in the forest beneath the mountains with a cooking fire. Mo Jiangye held her hand and walked toward it.

“Why is someone else here?” Ye Erruo asked in disbelief.

“There is nobody else.”

“What the heck! Why are they here again?” Xu Xu asked in alarm while holding a chicken in his hand.

“He couldn’t have come here to continue settling the score with us, right?” Zheng Yi stood up and walked around the fire.

Wang Yiyang’s expression remained calm. “How could you think of our boss in such a manner? Is he such a petty person?”

Xu Xu and Zheng Yi said nothing.

Was that not the case?

“Why, why are you here?”

Mo Jiangye glanced at the chicken in his hand and said lazily, “She’s hungry.”

Xu Xu let out a sigh of relief. So they were there to find food!

“Come here. Let me tell you, sister-in-law, my roast chicken is one of the best.” Xu Xu began to pluck the chicken’s feathers after sitting down.

“This chicken is a wild chicken. Its meat is chewy.” Zheng Yi placed the grill and blew at the fire.

There was another grill on the side with a small pot dangling from it and savory bone soup cooking in it.

Wang Yiyang went into the house to grab some ingredients and a fork.

Mo Jiangye pulled Ye Erruo to sit on a huge rock. “Wait a while and it will be ready.”

“Why is there a house here?”

Xu Xu handled the chicken roughly as he said, “This is where we frequently go hunting. There are wild rabbits, wild chickens, wild pigs, lions, and tigers here.”

Ye Erruo was shocked. Lions? Tigers?

Upon seeing her startled expression, Zheng Yi smiled. "This is the most primitive part of the forest and also the most dangerous part of it."

"Sister-in-law, have you eaten tiger meat before? If you haven't, we can get the boss to help you hunt one down."

Ye Erruo shook her head. "I don't eat that kind of meat."

"A chicken is not enough. You go hunt and get Yiyang to watch the fire." Xu Xu threw the gun at Zheng Yi.

"Give me the gun," Mo Jiangye said.

"You are going to hunt? Then our food today is going to be sumptuous." Xu Xu chopped off the chicken's head with one swing of the knife.

"..."

"Follow me." He took her petite hand.

Ye Erruo was excited. "Okay!"

Mo Jiangye brought a jacket from the house and placed it over Ye Erruo's body. "Let's go."

"I am not cold."

"Wear it!"

Very soon, Ye Erruo understood why he wanted her to wear a jacket.

The place Mo Jiangye took her to was eerie. The leafy branches blocked more than half of the sunlight, and every tree reached high to the sky. They wouldn't have grown so strong without at least a few hundred thousand years! The plants here were lush and taller than outside, as if they were about to become spirits.

Initially, she could still feel the sunlight. However, as they walked further in, the scenery became gloomier.

"Stand beside me and watch where you are walking." He held her soft hand tightly.

Ye Erruo found this strangely exciting. "Can you really hunt a tiger here?"

"You can."

"Woosh!"

Suddenly, a ball of white scuttled past them. Not far away, the fella's white butt peaked out from between the grass. Ye Erruo's eyes glinted as she asked softly, "Is that a rabbit?"

Mo Jiangye squinted his eyes and grasped his gun to aim at the little fella's butt. "Not a rabbit."

Bang!

The silent tranquilizer dart found the target without any error.