Chapter 672

Chapter 672 He Is Still Inside

Janet immediately dismissed the thought. He knew that Charis would never hurt Brandon. Chans must have arranged for the staff will remove Brandon immediately after having been separated.

Janet also knew that, given the circumstances, he would never come back for her, even if he knew that I was caught in that burning fire. Things they were different now. Brandon was no longer someone that he would do something stupid for her sake. Still Janet couldn't shake the feeling apprehension hanging over her.

He took a deep breath and kept asking. "Have you seen someone get out of the haunted house, just now?"

Please think carefully, a man, about a head taller than me, very handsome but aloof?

“No, we didn’t see anyone like that. go ask someone else. We were just going through here.” The person seemed impatient, so

Janet didn’t press any further. However, she did not realize defeated.

He shifted his attention to the other spectators and he asked one by one. Finally, it was found with a young couple who seemed to have a clue

about Brandon. “I think I saw the man you you mean! When the staff told us that evacuated because of a fire, he hurried to enter without thinking twice.

Hey! I'm not done talking."

Janet was already running back to the house.

bewitched before the woman could finish his words. How could Brandon risk his life in such a big fire?

Janet stopped at the entrance and tried to call him first. I try over and over, but he never responded. No one more left the establishment on fire, either.
Janet was beside herself with worry. She wanted to throw herself into the fire and look for him, just as he had done for her. “Hey, young lady! You want To die?” The people around him screamed just as he was about to lunge forward.
They reached out and yanked her back.

“Don’t you see the fire burning in front of you? Not even you can walk a few meters without getting burned!”

“No, you don’t understand. Please let me in! My husband is still inside!”

Janet struggled against his hold. They did not understand! The man I loved could be trapped there, suffocated, burning And it was all for her.

Janet I was shaking at this point.

He was barely holding on to his sanity. “Calm down, Miss. Leave this to the fire department.

Yes? They

are working hard to put out the fire and keep everyone safe. They will definitely save her husband. Don't worry."

A warm-hearted stranger patted her back. Janet in a gesture of consolation.

Another person chimed in: "That's right, it's too dangerous to get involved at this time.

Only be thankful you're safe."

Janet slumped to the ground, numb to his environment. He gripped his phone tightly and looked stare at the screen. by the White family.

“Call me as soon as you see him.”

The helicopter ended up making two rounds in the area, still unsuccessful. Brandon got news of Brandon.

At that moment, he felt a tug on his shoulder.

when the woman next to her yelled, “Look,

look! Other person just ran away!” The head of Janet jumped up. He saw a tall figure ran out the back entrance of the house nice to meet you.

The man discarded the thick coat he had been running down his veins like little lightning bolts. He stood up and met Brandon halfway holding him before he fell to his knees.

It wasn't until he felt the steady rhythm of the beats of your heart under the palm of your hand that he allowed himself a sigh of relief.

And then, she let go and cried like a baby.

Brandon she tried to reach out to wipe away her tears.

“Do not Cry. Everything's fine. I'm fine”.

But Janet only cried even harder. took a time to calm down

“Brandon, She mentioned his name. “Why you did that? Why did you go back inside?”
