

Chapter 24 - Part 2

Hey! If you didn't get the last chapter, hopefully this will clear it up. It was basically an email calling Ashton, Rhea, and Natalia back to the school after their education was done there. (they graduated) So this is what happens next :)

Chapter 24 - PART 2

(the next day)

We had returned to Acrylic once again. Rhea, Natalia, and I walked side by side into the wide dining hall, our footsteps echoing against the spotless floor. The school was completely different without the students traveling throughout the school, the new kids with wide eyes. I suppose it was an intimidating school, though it had become more of a second home to me over the years.

"Hello, Girls!" Madame Laurence came out of the kitchen rolling a cart with her.

"Hello, Madame!" We said in unison. As Madame Laurence neared we saw that on the cart was a meal. It was hot dogs and salad, with diet coke cans to drink.

"Your flight was good?"

"Yes, Madame." we all said together, once again.

"I made a welcome meal for you before you return to your room and get settled."

"Thank you very much, Madame." I said and we sat down at the table, digging into the delicious food.

"This is awesome!" Rhea said.

"Thank you very much. I'm glad you like it, because I'll be cooking for you this week."

"I could live with that." Rhea spoke again before returning to her food.

After the meal we said our good evenings and rushed to our dorm, eager to return to our second home.

Inside, it was good as I knew. The rooms had been re-done over the summer last year after the attack of the demon. Now they were modern, big, and airy. Even though the outside still looked old, the inside was shiny and clean. Our room had been personalized for us only, as a second home for our heads to live in.

The walls were a light blue with one big window across the room where we had a mini lounge. There was a TV mounted on the wall over a dark wood coffee table. A pot of daisies sat on the table, next to the remote. The couch was a chocolate-brown, super soft one that sat across from the TV. On each side of the couch were two tables with lamps sitting on them, giving off a warm golden glow. We also had a little kitchen that was green, black, and white. On the left we have a bathroom and bedroom that I claimed as mine. The other way there were two smaller bedrooms and a bathroom, which were Natalia's and Rhea's.

We each went into our own rooms to unpack quickly. I know I was excited to be back, if only for a week. I hung up my shirts and jackets, put my pants and undergarments in the drawers, and set up my laptop to email my parents quickly, letting them know that the flight was good and I was here safely.

After that we all met up in the mini lounge. As we stood in a circle we channelled our powers into the center of us, creating a yellow beam between us. Rhea, Natalia, and I had learned this last year. It was something only we could do only between the three of us together.

Until 10:00 we sang and got in practice with our elements once again. I knew that this week would be hard. Madame Laurence was very strict and hard working, besides expecting so much from us. I fell asleep dreaming of the future.

More for sure tomorrow, and Sunday! Vote~Comment~Fan
