

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 431

“Granny, Daddy is not a child. Leave him alone.” Alfie looked at her softly and cutely, “Pay more attention to us.”

“Yes, Granny! Just like Mommy. She always told us, stay away from the water, or you’ll drown! Don’t go with strangers, learn to protect yourself!”

Diana stared at the middle-aged woman sitting next to her while eating noodles, her eyes shining.

“Granny, Daddy is a big boy. He won’t listen to you. It must be annoying to worry about him. But we are little, we will listen to you. So, pay attention to us.”

Aubree was amused by the kids. “Since you are good kids, I won’t need to worry about you two.” She stroked their heads. “Now, have your breakfasts.”

Breakfast was done.

Aubree had just taken the children back to the living room when a piece of news on TV caught her attention.

She heard the reporter say—

“Yesterday evening, a fight occurred on the street. The scene was a mess. The police arrived at the spot. From the low-quality pictures captured by the witness, nearly 30 people were involved in the fight, and there were blood stains at the scene.”

“Two cars caught everyone’s attention, one was the limited-edition Lamborghini owned by Ivan Marsh, president of the Marsh Group. And the other was the modified Volvo owed by superstar Spencer Lawrence...”

“The special identity of the owners of these two cars had made the incident the center of focus. Currently, information has been blocked by the police. For now, we can only...”

Aubree stopped in shock!

Her face went pale.

She had been feeling weird since last night, although she couldn’t say why.

Blood! Ivan’s Lamborghini...

Gosh!

As a mother, she panicked. Her mind was a mess. She got anxious. “Get the car! Thomas! Get the car!”

She needed to go to Emerald Bay to find out what was going on!

After Aubree left, Alfie held Diana’s hand. They were also worried.

They looked at each other. They didn’t request to follow Aubree.

Maybe the news wasn't real.

"Alfie, I don't believe it. No one can beat Daddy. It can't be his blood!" Right?"

Alfie nodded. "Yes, Daddy is the best man in the world! He's a skilled fighter."

"Let's go, let's go upstairs!" Diana pulled him toward the stairs, "Granny will be back in a moment."

"Weird, why hasn't Mommy called us lately?"

"She has raised us for six years. She must be tired! Now she finally gets to rest. She won't call!"

"Are they planning to have another baby?"

"No way. They would have told us? We are also parts of the Marsh family!"

"Yes!"

In the Lincoln car heading towards Emerald Bay.

Aubree sat in the rear seat of the car, her hands clasped together, and her eyes fixed on the road ahead, "Mark, faster! Hurry up!"

In fact, the speed was already very fast.

"Yes, ma'am." Mark sped over cars one after another. He was a skilled driver.

Aubree didn't go to the hospital because she knew that only Rowan could handle this sort of thing.

Rowan was more professional and trustworthy. He was Ivan's personal doctor.

And Jennifer was also a doctor.

When the Lincoln car drove into Emerald Bay, Marry, who was arranging flowers in the living room, saw it when she happened to look up. She was shocked. She quickly called, "Jordan! Jordan!"

Jordan rushed out of the side hall and heard Marry whisper in a panic, "It's Madame Aubree!"

Jordan looked into the yard and saw the driver open the door. Then, Aubree got out of the car and hurry towards the living room.