Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 435

The sound was crisp. Spencer was stunned. The slap made his wound hurt.

Ivan's eyes widened. He was stunned as well!

Spencer, young and vigorous, lost control of his anger!

He instinctively raised his left hand and was about to hit back on Aubree's face!

"Spencer!"

Jennifer rushed in and grabbed his wrist, reminding him in a low voice, "She's just a mother."

"She doesn't look like one!" Spencer yelled; his face full of rage. "She's a lunatic! Can't you see that after being with her for so long?! "

"Spencer…"

"She's against me all the time when I didn't do anything!" Spencer was also annoyed.

At this time, Aubree answered him angrily, "You didn't do anything? Then who asked my son to block the knife for you?"

Jennifer took a few steps back to protect Spencer, "Stop arguing, okay? What can you get from it? Please, stop. I'm begging you."

She stood between Spencer and Aubree to prevent them from fighting each other.

At this time, Ivan's face was also extremely gloomy.

Rowan and Carla quietly exited the room. They knew that they should leave the Marsh family alone at this moment.

Aubree didn't want to bother herself arguing with a young boy.

Her concerned eyes fell back on her son, and she asked kindly and lovingly, "Ivan, I heard that your back was injured. Is it serious? Does it hurt? Let Mom take a look."

Those words hurt Spencer's heart…because he didn't have a mom.

"It doesn't hurt." Ivan met her gaze and said calmly, "You can go back."

Aubree didn't expect Ivan to say this. Her heart ached. Why was her son so alienated? "How did it happen? Who was Hanson looking for? Spencer?"

Ivan's eyes fell on Jennifer as if blaming her.

Jennifer was speechless. How could he blame her?

"Why did you risk your life for Spencer, is it worth it?" Aubree burst out suddenly. She blamed, "If they stabbed you in the chest, you'll be dead now!"

No one answered.

Aubree was still screaming, "Even ten Rowans wouldn't be able to save you by then!"

"No one asked him to save me!" Spencer interjected angrily. "He did it by himself!"

"You!" Aubree couldn't bear it anymore. She wanted to slap him again!

"Can you just shut up for a moment?" Jennifer was speechless.

"Leave us!" Ivan's voice was quiet, but his tone was serious. He stared at his mother. "Now, at once." He was blunt, showing little respect for his mother.

Ivan's attitude hurt Aubree. The corners of her lips twitched as she looked at Ivan in disbelief.

Ivan felt so unfamiliar.

But Ivan just wanted some peace.

Under Jennifer's comfort, Spence gradually calmed down. He gave up on the thought of hitting Aubree back.

At this time, Catherine's car was heading over.

Jennifer turned around and took Aubree's arm, "Madam, let's go out first." She forced Aubree out of the room, then said to Ivan and Spencer, "Have a good rest, no food if you guys go on fighting!"

She took Aubree away to avoid more embarrassment.

Aubree couldn't leave after being yelled at by her son.

In the living room.

Aubree shook Jennifer's hand away, and said arrogantly with a cold face, "Stop acting."

"Madam Marsh, I have to say this no matter if you agree," Jennifer calmly said, "They're all injured. Being angry does them no good. The police are investigating the matter. There are no criminals, only victims in the room."

"I will send Spencer abroad." Aubree glanced at Jennifer and said coldly, "This time, it was Hanson, next time it will be someone else. I won't allow such a dangerous person to be around my son."
