

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 47

Jordan didn't leave at once. He stood at the desk with a hesitant look, "When you just left for the company this morning, your mother came here."

Hearing this, Ivan looked up at Jordan, with his deep eyes.

With a guilty conscience, Jordan looked away and said respectfully, "I was going to call you, but Madam Aubree didn't allow me to do so."

There was no emotion in Ivan's deep eyes. "Did my mother come here for my wife?"

"Yes."

"What did she say?" After that, he picked up the chopsticks and began to eat the noodles.

Jordan briefly repeated what Aubree and Jennifer had said this morning. In fact, he didn't mean to betray Aubree. He just thought Jennifer was the only person who could make Mr. Marsh happy.

He hoped that they could be together, whether their marriage was true or not.

"I see," said Ivan in a low voice.

After saluting, Jordan left the study and he felt relieved for telling Ivan what happened.

Not long after Jordan left, Ivan put down the bowl and dialed his mother's number.

Before the person on the other end of the line could speak, Ivan opened his thin lips, "Mom, if you make trouble for Jennifer again in the future, I promise I'll kick Catherine out of the company."

Then he hung up the phone.

In the valuable villa of Kelsington Bay, Aubree smashed her phone irritably.

She even pushed off a limited edition of tea sets on the tea table.

Pippa's face turned pale with fear. "No, Madam!" She couldn't stop her.

In the quiet study, Ivan ate noodles. He seldom talked to his mother in this way. What happened to him? Because of Jennifer?

It reminded him of his mother's tragic experience, and also remembered that he rushed into the sea of fire to save his mother at the age of 17. His mother had gone through a lot of difficulties along the way.

He blamed himself.

If it weren't for Catherine, he and his mother would have been able to get along well with each other.

In the next room, standing on the chair, Diana held up a set of casual clothes, her big eyes blinking. "Mommy, this is your favorite color!"

“Let’s have a try!” Alfie was also very exciting. “Hurry up!”

Jennifer was stunned, “What are you doing?”

“Daddy said he would take you to the amusement park tomorrow. It’s not convenient to wear a skirt. So, we chose this one for you!”

“To the amusement park?” Jennifer’s eyes widened in surprise.

“Yes!” Like a little monkey, Alfie put his arms around her neck. “Mommy, you don’t know, do you? Daddy has been planning for a long time. He wants to give you a surprise, so he hides it from you!”

Jennifer didn’t believe it.

At this time, Diana also said, “We eavesdropped, so we prepared the clothes for you.”

“Have a good time tomorrow! Have a try!”

“Mommy, I think Daddy has fallen in love with you.”

“No, no!” Jennifer denied in a hurry. She had a clear mind. “He asked me out to the amusement park? Did you hear him wrong? I’m not a child. He’s going to take you there, isn’t he?”

“You cooked chicken soup for him last time, so he wants to thank you,” Alfie said. “Or he may want to thank you for cooking noodles for him recently.”

If what the kids said was true, then she wouldn’t hate this cold and domineering man anymore.

“Mommy, trust us! We never lie!”

She didn’t want to disappoint her children, so she tried on the clothes, which fit her well.

The kids were very happy. “You must have a good time tomorrow.”

She told them stories and lulled them to sleep as usual.

The night breeze gently blew, gently fiddling with the roses blooming in the yard.

Under the bright moonlight, everything was quiet and beautiful.

Ivan had a video meeting in the study. It was supposed to be held tomorrow, but he had to go to the amusement park with Jennifer tomorrow. Therefore, the meeting was advanced.

“We have been launching high-end brands in recent years, so we especially focus on design philosophy.” His voice was low, magnetic and pleasant, and he spoke French very fluently.

When Jennifer entered the main bedroom, there was no one there.

After taking a shower, she picked up a book and sat on the head of the bed. She read while waiting for Ivan.

When the door was gently pushed open, she closed the book and looked up.

Tonight, a certain amount of aloofness disappeared. Although they didn't talk much, they had eye contact.