The two of them only had their eyes on the seven keys Jack had. They wanted to slay Jack swiftly so they could get them.

The scarred man frowned as he turned to look at the other two. “Just wait for a moment, there’s no reason to be in such a hurry.

Something is wrong with this guy.”

The triangular-eyed man said unhappily, “Please! You’re just being too careful. What kind of problems could this guy have? I, for one, feel like he deserves a beating! Let’s not waste more time. Let’s just deal with him and move on to our next target.”

The scarred man motioned for the triangular-eyed man to be quiet before he suddenly said, “Do you know Jack, brat?”

Jack was stunned when he heard that.

The scarred man was quite sharp, he tried to guess who he was.

Jack had a mask on and was moving in the inner region alone, so the scarred man could not help but wonder if he was the rumored man.

Jack's name had been spread all around Chaos City, so much so that even the warriors that stood at the top of second-grade worlds were wary of him. His skills were not to be underestimated. A warrior like the scarred man was nothing in front of him!

Even though the scarred man felt like he was probably not that unlucky to meet someone like Jack, he still felt the need to ask.

Jack pursed his lips and slowly took off his mask. A familiar face suddenly appeared in front of all three of them.

The three of them were immediately stunned. Their jaws slackened, and they were so shocked that their jaws were about to hit the ground. The scarred man slapped his face, cursing his rotten mouth.

It was Jack!

He was that unlucky, and they even ran their mouths claiming his keys were theirs for the taking!

At that moment, the scarred man saw himself as a total fool.

Jack was above them all. Even though there were three of them and Jack was alone, they were still no match for Jack.

The other party could kill them off easily, and that was the undeniable truth. They were the ones who would be giving their keys to Jack.

The scarred man felt like he was about to stop breathing. His whole body trembled.

The triangular-eyed man's lips twitched. "Am I seeing things? Why do I feel like I just met that bringer of disaster, that he's right in front of us? Am I dreaming?"

The triangular-eyed man felt like crying at that moment.

The scarred man was not even in the mood to answer.

He stepped back and shouted out, "Run! Get away!"

As he shouted, he summoned his true energy and frantically fled. Unfortunately, Jack would not give them the chance to live.

Anyone who dared to rob him would pay the price.

Jack quickly formed seals, and the Soul Burst Ring immediately appeared in front of him. The Soul Burst Ring spun rapidly, and Jack let out a cold laugh as he pushed his hands forward, sending the ring at the three of them.

The ring expanded in the air, suddenly covering the three of them.

Seconds later, a deafening explosion resonated throughout the skies. The three of them were blown to dust, and only their golden keys remained. The golden keys were made of special materials. Even if Jack's technique was at the storm-god rank, it could still not damage the keys.

Jack smirked as he looked at the 15 keys scattered on the ground and slowly walked over to collect them. Coupled with the 13 keys he had, Jack had 28 golden keys.

Rudy laughed excitedly. "We've managed to get twenty-eight golden keys, and it didn't even take that long. I thought you'd need to spend an entire day to reach this number. I don't get angry at all when I see people coming to kill us. After all, they're practically giving away their golden keys to us."
