

Sweet Love 1041

Chapter 1041: Punish You

Speaking of Li Dongliang, this Global Pictures top brass had countless female celebrities at his beck and call, and over half of the artistes and singers in his company had past affairs with him.

Everyone in the industry knew that only a few artistes packaged by Global Pictures were pure and clean. This was also a transparent rule in the company.

Thus, after seeing so many women with thick makeup, Yun Shishi, with her white-lotus demeanor, was like a breath of fresh air and instantly evoked his desire for conquest.

She exuded a forbidden allure; such women tended to evoke desire and pity in men. She was exactly the type of woman he liked taming!

Thinking of this woman having been claimed by another man before him, he felt an irrepressible indignation, anger, and jealousy as if a cat were clawing at his heart!

He had seen prettier women than her, but she had a temperament that could tempt even the devil. Coupled with her tantalizing eyes, she was beyond stunning!

He could hardly rein in his desire at the thought of this. Pushing her into his bedroom, he proceeded to lock them inside. She moved to maintain her distance from him at once by crawling away on all fours.

He squinted his eyes at her.

The moonlight, which was this room's only source of light, seeped through the window and enveloped her in its glow entirely.

With gritted teeth and knitted brows, she supported herself up with her arms and guardedly retreated backward. As he stepped closer to her, her breaths quickened.

"You... Don't come over!" She shuddered.

"Hmph! We're here already, yet you're still fighting me?! Watch how I punish you later. He he!"

Watch how he would tame this little woman later!

His hands did not stop taking off his clothes as he stared at her fixedly.

In a jiffy, this middle-aged man stripped down to his waist.

One must admit that this old lecher was lacking in the looks department with his thinning hair, squarish face, sunken cheeks, and eye bags.

Looking down, his figure was even more unsightly with his greasy fats, potbelly, and lack of firm muscles.

Startled, her mind went blank for a moment. Looking at him in this state of undress, she felt revolted to think of him in that aspect.

Even the most foolish person would know what was about to happen next!

He intended to force her to comply!

She hated how she was treated like a cheap good by others and was given away as if she had no dignity to speak of!

Biting her lower lip, she saw the man stride toward her. Her heart stopped and got caught in her throat, feeling suffocated, at this sight!

“Don’t come over! Don’t you come over!”

She was practically screaming at the top of her lungs.

Her heart trembled as she took a step, relying mostly on her mental strength to maintain rationality. Like a cat, she bounced off the bed and rushed to the door!

She frantically tried to escape from this place – from his demonic claws!

Her body started quaking in her panic!

Save me...

With a smack, the man whipped his belt.

Chapter 1042: Dream on!

The belt left a harsh bloody streak on her arm. She stumbled a few steps backward and carelessly knocked over a chair, which caused her to fall to the ground.

Her spine and her nape painfully collided with the cold and hard marble floor. She felt her vision spin.

She was in so much pain that even her senses slightly dulled!

“D*mn it! B*tch, I gave you an inch, yet you really took a mile, huh?!”

This middle-aged man continued running off his uncouth mouth as he walked closer to her step by step. He impatiently moved to strip off his remaining clothes as a vulgar smile crept into his face. He took off his suit pants and pounced on her like a starving wolf!

She screamed and frantically rolled on the ground to get away. She tried to get up from the floor but was dragged backward by her hair.

Her scalp was in immense pain from his vicious pull; it was as if he were intending to rip it off. Clearly, he was not even the least bit merciful!

She groaned; her eyes were wet from sudden tears!

The man gripped her shoulders and subdued her at once. With a snicker, he patted her cheek using his rough palm and began voicing out his utmost dissatisfaction with her!

“Woman, let me tell you. You’re definitely going to be mine today! Don’t forsake my kindness! Did you think that you could mingle as you like in this industry and be successful with just a pretty face? Ha ha! Don’t be so naïve! How could you think that things would go your way the moment you entered this industry?”

She fought back intensely, resisting until the end!

“Let go of me!”

“Let you go?! Ha ha! Dream on!”

He stared at her exquisite face, his brows easing in contentment!

It was no wonder many people were drawn to her as if caught in a wild goose chase!

She was indeed a great seedling!

He had spent so much effort just getting her!

Yun Shishi’s hands pushed against his chest as she glowered at him steadily. Her long and narrow eyes filled with tears, yet she still had an air of seduction!

His interest in her increased, and upon meeting her gaze filled with hostility, he squinted his eyes and laughed.

“What? Are you still not resigned to this? Do you think that you’re suffering a loss by being with me?”

His one hand then reached for her collar while his other hand grabbed her clothes to rip them apart.

She was aghast. Gripping his hand in a vice-like grip, she stopped him from having his way!

Amid their struggle, her fingernails scratched the back of his palm!

Li Dongliang quivered in pain. Furious, he slapped her ruthlessly!

The strength of his slap was brutal.

As her face was hit to the side, her lip got cut by her teeth and bled. A trail of blood began seeping between her teeth and lips.

She was ashamed, angered, pained, and afraid. She tried to hold back her tears, unwilling to let a drop fall!

Enraged, his expression turned ugly. As his irk grew in intensity, he clutched her throat.

He leaned close to her with his cold face and harshly bit her cheek. He yelled angrily right beside her ear, “D*mn it! You ungrateful thing, why can’t you give me what you can give other men? Are you looking down on me?!”

Chapter 1043: Why so pretentious?

She gasped as he squeezed her throat. She was struggling for air and was unable to speak!

He bit on her earlobe harshly. She could feel his hot breath fanning neck and her cheeks red as her whole face burned in an instant!

His palm began touching her body unlawfully. The tenderness of her skin made him brace his body in excitement!

She struggled as if her life depended on it. She tried to push him away with all the strength she could muster.

Even though Li Dongliang did not work out on a regular basis, he was still a man. How could she even compare against his strength?

How could she push him away when he had his entire weight on her?

“No! Let me go... Stop!” yelled Yun Shishi, feeling extremely humiliated. Her voice sounded shaky and hoarse as she pounded on his shoulders.

The man would not listen, though. With a decadent smile, he kneaded her waist unrestrainedly and pressed against her lower abdomen closely. He then chased after her lips impatiently!

In this difficult situation, she did her best to avoid his lips. She felt as if her soul had fallen into an endless dark pit of despair—one she could not get out of!

Extremely displeased with her avoidance, Li Dongliang let out a mocking sneer.

“You are no longer a young chick! Why are you being pretentious?!”

She pursed her lips and shook her head. Her bloodshot eyes, which brimmed with tears, were open wide, making her look particularly amorous!

She was a woman who could easily trigger one’s desire for conquest, but she was also a woman who made men want to dote on her and be tender with her!

“Just let me have you! I can give you everything you want. If you follow me, you can start your singing career and release albums! I have the finances to promote you and help you clear the way! I can satisfy you and give whatever you want! How is that? Follow me, and I’ll lovingly dote on you! Be my woman! Don’t reject me anymore!”

With that, he nibbled on her cheek and kissed her wildly!

This woman was like an enchanting drug – one that could easily charm anyone and keep them captivated!

The deeper he pondered on it, the more severe his actions became. He tore open her blouse impatiently, touching her lean waist as he kissed and licked her cheek with his tongue. He began moving downward, his body pressing tightly on hers. He was getting more and more excited!

He sucked in a cold breath as his breathing got heavier by the minute. His eyes were blazing!

Rip!

Rip!

Following these ripping sounds were him brutally tearing apart her blouse. In the blink of an eye, her snowy-white shoulders were exposed for him to see.

His palm continued to rub her waist harshly as his lips formed a sickening smile. The man began biting on her shoulder blade like a madman, muttering in an infatuated manner, “Qingcheng, Qingcheng. Ah...”

She was scared foolish by his aggressive actions. She pushed impatiently at him and resisted him as she bit her lower lip. Her rationality was close to being demolished!

She began putting down her pride and her dignity as she begged, “P-Please let me go...”

With fire currently raging on in his body, why would he care about her words?

She was just a woman. He would not put much thought into her! There was no need to be merciful!

He finally had the girl of his dreams lying under him. What reason did he have to let this chance go?!

What was more; she was a woman from the entertainment industry! He he! There were not many pure and innocent ladies like her around.

Chapter 1044: Resistance

Nicely put, behind every big-shot celebrity was someone!

Which celebrity out there relied on their capability to break through?

Crudely speaking, to him, all those actresses were just high-class prostitutes.

They may have entered the industry clean and innocent, but after mixing into a dirty pot for so long, who would be left untainted?

As he thought about this, his movements became nimbler.

He pressed her against the floor and kissed her cheek messily, only to see her twisting her head to evade. He was reluctant to let go and threw his leather belt aside after unbuckling it. He kicked off his pants and began tugging at her skirt. Right now, he was ready to get down to business.

She cowered sensitively. She looked down, and seeing him reveal an ugly part of his body, her heart was filled with disgust!

The last shred of her rationality had completely snapped, and she madly kicked him in the crotch with her knee!

“Argh!”

With his frail manhood suffering such a heavy blow, Li Dongliang arched his back and bent over in pain. He was curled to the ground rigidly!

Yun Shishi backed away from him as he pointed a shaky finger at her with a face full of disbelief!

Never did he think that this woman would be so ready to die for her chastity!

He managed to spit out a few words, forcing each syllable out through gritted teeth. "D*mn... it! Whore!"

She swayed as she stood up, her bloodshot eyes focused on him. She was alert for any movement from him, afraid that he would pounce on her at any second.

As she kept her eyes on him, she backed away toward the door. She tried to turn the doorknob handle, but it would not open no matter what she did!

She remembered now that the door was locked from inside out. Therefore, she needed a cardkey to unlock it.

Yun Shishi dashed into the living room. The man was still lying on the floor; his body posture was twisted in an odd way, evidently in extreme pain. His forehead was soaked in cold sweat.

He continued to swear as he glared at her viciously!

She began to look for the key frantically in the dimly lit living room.

The man noted that she was thoroughly searching the place from behind; thus, he let out a breathless laugh. "Ha ha! Are you... looking for this?"

She turned around impatiently, only to see him slowly taking out the blue cardkey from his pocket. Her pupils narrowed as she yelled, "Give me that!"

"Did you forget what I had said earlier?"

He exerted his strength to stand back up as he spouted word by word, "Don't even think about ever leaving this place tonight!"

With that, he took out a bottle of medicine from his clothes.

It was Viagra.

His manhood had withered after being stunned by her.

After all, he was already at a certain age and his vitality was not the same as his younger days.

After eating two pills, he turned red at once and was in great spirits!

*D*mn it. This woman is really hard to deal with!*

He did love this type, though!

The more uncontrollable and wilder she was, the more desirable she became for conquest!

At the thought of this, he walked closer to her step by step, just like a predator waiting for the right opportunity to capture its prey!

She slowly retreated until she was forced into the dining room. From her periphery, she caught sight of a pair of scissors on the kitchen counter. Her fingertips began to shudder, the struggle and hesitation clear in her eyes.

Trembling, she reached out her hand and grabbed onto this pair of scissors. Her fingers tightened around it, but she was shaking all over!

Chapter 1045: When you are dead, he will not even bat an eyelid.

From this angle, Li Dongliang could not tell what she was doing. He did not expect her to be capable of causing disarray; thus, he drove her into a corner until she had nowhere to escape!

He then pounced on her!

Yun Shishi paled in shock and grunted. Turning around, she pointed the scissors right at him!

“Don’t come near me!”

He stopped in his tracks and eyed the lethal weapon in her hand. Unexpectedly, he laughed.

“Ha! Threatening me with scissors, are you? Do you even dare to stab me, huh?!”

Confident that she would do no such foolish thing, he closed in on her.

Her hands trembled badly as her lips turned as white as wax. She looked at him warningly and shouted desperately, “Don’t come near! Don’t come near me!”

He slapped her hand away.

She felt a jolt of pain on her wrist, and the scissors fell to the ground with a clatter.

He proceeded to grab her hair, slapping her cheek hard.

SMACK!

Following this slap was her groan. Her body slid lifelessly down to the floor.

He threw himself at her, going for her clothes. With much difficulty, she supported her body that was on the verge of collapsing. Her face, when she lifted it, was ghastly white with streaks of tears on both cheeks. Her once bright and beautiful eyes were now gloomy and dark – dull like dust-covered agate jade. Her lip, which had a cut, was dripping blood. Her miserable appearance was akin to a wounded animal that one could not help but pity.

The man grabbed her cheeks, his fingernails digging harshly into them, drawing blood.

She sucked in a cold breath of air and regained her consciousness from the pain. Her eyes widened fiercely at him, gnashing her teeth in absolute rage. “Li Dongliang, you b*stard! Scum! Let go of me right this instant! Let go!”

“Scum? Ha! Yun Shishi, don’t forget the rules! I’ll tell you once more: I will have you today!”

He served another slap to her face. The slap was hard enough to make her mind muddled as her temple ached. Her tears fell uncontrollably from her eyes, but she sniffed stubbornly in an attempt to hold them at bay. Alas, she was unable to stop it and sobbed softly.

“I beg you; I beg you! Let me go, please...”

She was terrified. This dire situation she faced with no chance of escape was horribly dreadful. Even an unbending woman like her could only throw away her dignity and pride to grovel for mercy. “Please don’t touch me; I beg you...”

Seeing her in tears, he was increasingly frustrated. This woman really could not be enlightened at all! Since she could climb into bed with Mu Yazhe, why could she not do the same with him?

“Do you think that chap really loves you? Just keep dreaming!”

He clutched her throat, his vicious face moving closer to her as he spoke in a cold, mocking tone. “You are just a plaything to him! Do you really think he loves you? Why would a man with a lofty status fall for a woman like you? Do you think that the Mu family will welcome you with open arms? Even if I kill you, he won’t bat an eyelid!”

Her heart ached.

Chapter 1046: Stabbing Him with the Scissors

Her heart ached.

She knew that Mu Yazhe, with his lofty status and limitless wealth, was an outstanding man.

She knew even better that a woman with her background did not match the man.

Still, she harbored a flimsy hope in her heart. She desperately wanted to get closer to him, even closer...

Hence, she was striving to become a woman worthy of him!

It had occurred to her before that she was just a temporary fling to the man and that he would tire of her day – lost interest in her and coldly pushed her out of his world.

However, his care, concern, and love for her, even if they were so beautiful like bubbles and would burst at a touch, truly existed!

She felt that she had the whole world when she was holding hands with him.

He was so important to her!

She would just have to be as important to him, too!

Her voice sounded empty and broken. “I’m very important to him! He is my man – the only man in my life!”

Enraged, Li Dongliang narrowed his eyes dangerously.

What that young chap could give her, he could afford to give as well!

Did this woman not have any tact?

She was already a part of society, yet she still knew nothing about tact. Her virtue truly made him feel sick.

However...

The man was aroused at the sight of her face.

It was the face that was on his mind for so many years.

Each time he recalled that he was unable to have a share of Mu Qingcheng despite pursuing her for so long, he could hardly hold himself together now.

The face in his mind and Yun Shishi's gradually overlapped. In his obsession, he held her face with bloodshot eyes and moved to kiss her madly. It was as if he had not touched a woman for dozens of years.

Her heart skipped a beat. His repulsive breath and disgusting face that were nearing her made her shudder in fear. She pounded her fists against his shoulders, screaming poignantly, "Let me go! Let me go! Get lost!"

"D*mn! Wh*re, you don't know what's good for you!" Infuriated by the woman's strong resistance, he frustratedly spewed vulgarities at her.

No one liked to dilly-dally on such matters; these slow movements were especially tormenting.

Feeling impatient, he fisted her skirt and tore it off with a forceful wrist.

She stiffened in shock at the tearing sound before her frenetic hands tugged on her clothes while trying to push him away. She cried out hoarsely, "Scum! Li Dongliang, you're a scum!"

"D*mn! Behave! I don't believe I can't settle a woman!"

He furiously and roughly pushed her to the ground, then sat on her body with his unruly hands groping her like an impatient horny beast.

She yelped in pain when her spine and the back of head collided against the hard surface of the floor. She felt that push almost knocking her out.

With pain-filled breaths, she struggled to open her eyes. Her face paled instantly when she caught sight of the fallen scissors!

She kept her eyes on the man sitting on top of her as her right hand fumbled for the pair of scissors, and when she finally got a hold of it, she stabbed it at him with a desperate cry!

Chapter 1047: A Case of Intentional Assault (1)

“Ah!”

A blood-curdling screech resonated across the massive room...

The ambulance and the police car were parked neatly beside each other at the front gate. The blaring siren attracted the attention of people.

Yun Shishi sat motionlessly on the living room’s sofa as she blankly looked at her bloodied hands; her body was trembling all over.

A strong wave of guilt engulfed her when she looked at the bright red blood on her hands; she found them filthy.

Hence, she took the towel the manager previously handed to her and wiped her hands hard with it.

Getting the gist of the situation from questioning the maids in the villa, a group of uniformed policemen walked up to her.

“Excuse me. Are you Yun Shishi?”

Raising her head dazedly, she found several uniformed policemen coldly sizing her up.

She nodded numbly with a frown.

“You’re suspected of intentional assault; you’ll have to come with us!”

She placed down the towel and slowly stood up with pursed lips and droopy eyes.

It was late into the night. The initial drizzle soon turned into a downpour, and fat raindrops hit the window with pitter-patter .

When she alighted from the police car, she was entirely drenched from the rain. Her face hurt from the raindrops splashing on it.

She slowly raised her face, allowing cold raindrops to drip into her aching eyes. The wound on her lips hurt when the rainwater seeped in.

Her footsteps came to a halt when she saw the nearing police station logo. Her heart, along with her despair, started sinking bit by bit in the cold rain.

There was a moment when she felt especially tired, be it physically or mentally.

Seeing her standing emotionlessly in the heavy rain, the police reached out to push her, and this caused her to stumble and fall to the ground.

Her eyes drooped vacuously as she belatedly held up her arms.

The policeman could not help feeling irritated as he walked over and helped her up while sighing audibly. “I’ve seen people with weak bodies, but I’ve never seen anyone so delicate like you! How could you fall with just a push? Can’t you stand properly? If you want to be drenched by the rain, then don’t implicate us, okay? Stop wasting time and hurry inside the station!”

With that, the man urged her forward by pushing on her shoulder.

She weakly replied, "I did nothing wrong. I didn't do it on purpose, too..."

"We must investigate the case before we can know whether you did something wrong or not! It's not on your word alone! Get in!"

"Let me make a call! Make a call!"

"What call?! Who are you calling when you haven't even been interrogated yet?! Get in!"

He then forcefully dragged her into the police station.

In the police station, the woman sat quietly on the sofa with her arms hugging her shoulders as she curled up in fear. She was so numbed that she looked like a lifeless puppet.

Holding a pen and a booklet in hand, Mo Chengan placed a cup of hot tea before her and turned to take a seat in front of the table. He was the captain of the police force and also the one in charge of her case.

She took a glance at him.

The man in uniform had a big build. His angular facial structure gave him prominent features, and coupled with a pair of sharp and narrow eagle eyes, guilty criminals tended to feel nervous with one look from him.

Chapter 1048: A Case of Intentional Assault (2)

He smiled when he found her staring at him and raised his head to meet her gaze. With her scrutiny having gotten discovered, she felt awkward and quickly averted her eyes from him.

In his capacity as a policeman, he had come into contact with all sorts of women, from the flirtatious type to the pure and cutesy type to the sexy and charming type, but he really had no idea what term should be used to define this girl before him.

In terms of cuteness, she had a very sexy figure, though. Her eyebrows were aloof and her eyes were narrow yet charming; they were very mesmerizing and, at the same time, revealed purity and innocence.

While her appearance came across as indecipherable to others, she just quietly sat there with a white towel draped on her drenched body. Her hair was wet like seaweed, making her look disheveled.

He could tell at a glance that she had been abused. All the signs were there; the right side of her face was red and swollen, the corner of her lips had a bloody wound, her slightly bared shoulders had some bruise marks, her clothes were in a mess, and her collar was torn.

From the maids' testament in the villa and learning that this lady was a beginner actress, he had a rough understanding of this situation's origin. As he was not one to pay attention to the entertainment industry, he naturally did not know who she was.

She was deemed as turning herself in for she called the police herself.

He also understood from the maids that this lady was unwillingly dragged to the villa by Li Dongliang, and not long after, she ran downstairs with bloodied hands to call the police.

Was this a case of the unspoken rules of the entertainment industry?

That was what he had guessed!

It was commonplace in the industry to send women to accompany producers, big bosses, and investors to bed.

These days, without someone generously supporting her, a newbie artiste could only rely on exciting scandals and gimmicks to get her name out there.

The majority of the newbie actresses were not famous from the get-go; generally, under such a situation, star companies would be unwilling to risk investing in them.

Of course, it was a different story if one willingly paid a little price in exchange.

He had encountered such matters before, but most of them were mutually willing.

A few years ago, a young model rushed to the police station to report a case of a well-known investor raping her and pleaded for the police to open a case about the matter.

His colleague was in charge of this case.

That colleague naturally received pressure from the higher-ups, so the investigation was quickly concluded.

That unknown young model later became a first-tier female artiste with a booming career and popularity.

In this world of material desires, how could a small civilian fight and win against those with power, influence, and status?

Yun Shishi's eyes drooped in discomfort under his unbridled watch; it was hard to conceal her tired look from her small and beautiful face. Slowly holding up the cup to warm herself up, she lightly sipped a mouthful of the tea and frowned at its bitter taste.

He laughingly said, "They're not premium tea leaves. You'll just have to bear with the taste!"

She sipped her lips at that. This was her first time drinking brewed tea leaves; hence, she had not yet adapted to the tea's taste.

Glancing several times at her, he asked, "You don't look like an adult; how old are you this year?"

He then flipped open the interrogation record and poised his pen at the ready. Upon seeing her dazed look and her continued silence, he gave her a puzzled look with a raised brow.

Chapter 1049: A Case of Intentional Assault (3)

“What?” The captain took another glimpse at her. “Are you so nervous that you forgot your age? Don’t be scared; this is the place station and not another wolf’s den.”

Only after she had licked her dry lips did she slowly respond to him. “Twenty-four years old.”

Surprise colored his face. “I couldn’t tell at all; I thought you’re a student!”

She felt slightly embarrassed at this.

Her expression remained stiff regardless of how the officer deliberately tried to ease the tension in the atmosphere, though.

“Come on; give me a recount of what happened.”

With her head hanging low, she kept silent for a moment before she spoke to him of everything that had happened after entering that bedroom.

While he jotted down her recount, from time to time, he would scrutinize her face.

There was, surprisingly, not a bit of panic or fear on her face. In contrast, she was relatively calmer than when she first stepped into the station.

He must admit that she was a beautiful woman.

As she calmly recounted the moment, her bowed head, drooping eyes, thick, long and curly lashes, and her trembling voice evoked pity from him.

Her two beautiful jade-like collarbones undulated along with her breathing, and just looking at that red lips of hers was enough to make him feel obsessed with her!

He now knew why Li Dongliang did whatever he could to get this lady!

This lady did have the capital to make people expend effort to get her.

Totally unaware of the meaning of his gaze, she continued to give her confession. The officer then retracted his distracted thoughts to hear her out properly, but the more he heard of this incident, the more his brows tightened into a knot.

If she came across as beautiful at first and aloofly haughty the next, his final impression of her was strong-willed.

Such a girl, in this era, would either stumble in this hypocritical society or easily offend people she should not.

Naturally, she was of the latter type.

Rather than sympathy, he felt pity for her more.

After she finished her recount, he checked through the statement with her and added some missing details.

She then left her thumbprint on the document after he amended the statement.

As he began to write this case's summary with bowed head, he lightly asked, "Your name is Yun Shishi, right?"

She nodded. "Yes."

"You're such a silly girl. You've landed yourself in such big trouble this time! A big shot like Li Dongliang isn't someone you can afford to offend."

She calmly replied, "I'm indeed guilty of assaulting him, so I have nothing to say about being detained, arrested, or convicted, but it's all in self-defense!"

That man molested and attempted to rape her. According to the law, he should be punished, too!

By law, she could request to be acquitted on the grounds that it was self-defense!

Mo Chengan shook his head helplessly before he looked into her eyes and softly retorted, "Do you think the rules of this society can be explained with such simple words?"

Startled, she regarded him with a frown and in disbelief.

"What... What do you mean?"

Chapter 1050: It was self-defense!

He looked back at her calmly and spoke in a hushed voice. "Do you know whom you have offended? Yun Shishi, let me tell you what will happen next so that you can be mentally prepared."

Pausing, he leaned forward. "Soon, the phone on that table will ring. The man on the line is someone high-ranking, and he surely has close ties with Li Dongliang. He will first notify the chief police officer to take this case off my hands. Next, you'll be detained here for twenty-four hours; it'll be a long period with lots of things happening in between. Someone will then replace me in supervising this case. What does this mean? This means that your speech rights will be revoked and your 'self-defense' plead will be turned into a simple assault case. This can even be escalated into a more serious and malicious crime. Indubitably, your criminal charges will increase. Although people may find your conviction incomprehensible, no one will dare to doubt the validity of it, and of course, no one will ask about your rights; bluntly put, you'll be coerced to make a false confession. After that, you'll be tried in court and be sentenced to jail for dozens of years or even for life. If you're lucky, you'll spend the rest of your life in jail, but do you know? Unforeseen circumstances are frequent occurrences in prison; there are prisoners who never live past the second day after entering the prison, and this is the harsh reality of it."

Leaning backward in his chair with a calm expression, he casually sipped a mouthful of tea from the cup he had lifted off the table.

The woman's face had long turned pale.

"Why? Why did things turn out this way?! Clearly, it was self-defense..." She only hurt him to protect herself, but she actually... would receive such a heavy sentence?!

He let out a grim laugh. "Isn't this world like this? It's the law of the jungle and the weak always get bullied."

As she looked at him despondently, she felt that the so-called rules of this game-like world were unfathomable!

In other words... that Li Dongliang might use his connections to throw her into jail, and she might be unable to extricate herself from this fate!

He sighed helplessly as he put down the cup. "I'm really sorry! Although I really wish to help you, I won't be of much help in this matter!"

With a bowed head, she fell into silence.

"If... things turn out just like you said, can you do me a favor?"

The man frowned. "What favor?"

She took the pen and wrote a string of numbers on his palm.

"Tell him that I'm here, please!"

She looked at him with pursed lips.

He calmly retracted his hand and clenched his fist.

Not long after, the phone on the table rang as was expected and its sudden ringing startled her awake from her slumber. Shuddering, she looked at the phone with a pale face.

The chief police officer patted his belly as he stood up and went to the table. His expression immediately turned respectful with a smile dangling on his lips the moment he answered the call.

Mo Chengan crossed his arms expressionlessly, but his brows revealed his sinking mood.

Sitting in her seat, her hands got increasingly cold while her face gradually stiffened; despair seeped through her eyes.
