

Sweet Love 1631

Chapter 1631: A guarantee!

Hearing this, the man's expression changed.

What kind of logic did this woman have?!

"That's different!" he refuted.

"How is that different?"

The woman stared at him pointedly and determinedly reasoned, "In what ways is that different? Is it because you are a man and I am a woman—that you are strong, and I am weak? As the weaker one, I lose the right to have my career and should just take care of our family? Am I expected to be like those rich housewives, waiting at home and expecting your return?! Living day by day dully—is that what I should be doing?"

He was suddenly short for words.

"Are you perhaps trying to imply that because I am a woman, you are confident that I will never be as capable as you are and that the money I earn won't be enough to take care of you?" she pursued.

His eyes tensed a little. "It's not like that!"

Yun Shishi kept quiet for a moment before looking at him pointedly. She sucked in a breath of cold air and asked, "Then, what do you mean?"

"I just..." Mu Yazhe muttered to himself for a moment before spitting out his next words. "I just want you to spend more time with me!"

Hearing this, the woman laughed a little before speaking in a low voice. "All this time, though, I've never been anyone's possession. Isn't that right?"

"...Mm."

"I can't be alive just for the purpose of spending time with you, can I?" She continued to probe.

He was unable to refute that.

She let out a sigh before saying coolly, "I know that you've never liked my career! Even though you said you won't interfere in it, I know that you don't like it. Your every glance, every expression, and every gesture—all these tell me that you hate that I am an actress. You hate that I am neglecting you because of my job."

She paused for a moment before nodding, her eyes filled with guilt. "Yes, I know that I've neglected you and the twins many times! Especially in this past month, I really had no time for any of you. That's my fault, and I admit it. I feel guilty about it, too, and I am sorry! After seeing this birthday surprise you guys prepared so carefully for me, I felt even more regretful... I am sorry!"

The man's gaze softened. "You don't have to apologize; it's not your fault."

“Still, I don’t want to lose my job; I don’t want to be like some of those upper-class women who are canaries in their special cages!”

She covered his hand with hers as she beseeched, “So please give me some time, alright? I have my plans and decisions laid out for the future! Please don’t interfere like how I will never interfere with your career; is that okay?”

“What plans do you have?”

The woman smiled. “I want to be a director in the future and hope to start my own filming company where I can invest in scripts, shows, and movies, but I have to be an actress first and foremost. Once I have sufficient capital, I will work hard to start transitioning to working behind the scenes.”

“If you want, I can fulfill your wish right away!” He held her hand.

Her expression stiffened, followed by her smile simmering. “But the person I am now isn’t very confident that I can operate such a big company. At least, give me some time to train myself!”

The man kept quiet.

She softly implored, “I promise you; I’ll make adjustments in my future schedules to maintain a balance between my work and my personal life, and I’ll also pay more attention to our family! I’m truly sorry for not taking your feelings into consideration during this period! I promise to do my best in avoiding a repeat of such a situation from here on!”

Chapter 1632: Give me five years.

She softly implored, “I promise you; I’ll make adjustments in my future schedules to maintain a balance between my work and my personal life, and I’ll also pay more attention to our family! I’m truly sorry for not taking your feelings into consideration during this period! I promise to do my best in avoiding a repeat of such a situation from here on!”

Even though the man felt conflicted upon hearing that, he maintained his stance of not interfering with any of her decisions.

He knew her well.

This stupid woman lacked a sense of security.

She had the chance to live her entire life as a sponger, but because of her innate stubbornness, she refused to do so!

Take Youyou as an example; the boy had plenty of assets to his name which he chose to keep secret from his mother.

His reasons were that he did not want her to worry about him and that he knew she would never depend on him for a living despite his net worth amounting to hundreds of billions.

These were her adorable and charming traits.

She was poles apart from her materialistic colleagues, who were only greedy for fame and power.

This woman probably wanted to earn her keep through her abilities and to spend her money proudly!

Honestly speaking, she did have a flare for acting.

This woman working behind the scenes in the future seemed to be a pretty wise choice, too.

“How much time do you need?”

His brow cocked quizzically; his stance made it clear that he had conceded.

The woman pondered about this question for a while before smiling and replying, “Give me five years.”

Five years was sufficient time for her to accumulate the experience she needed!

During that period, she would work hard to learn how productions were done and acquire more practical experience in preparation for her becoming a director in the future!

“It’s not that I’ve never thought of leaving the industry; it’s just I decided to be an actress myself, so it’s only right for me to be responsible for my decision. If I quit now, not only will I incur penalties for the breach of contracts, Qin Zhou will be implicated, too. Plus... quitting showbiz while a filming is underway seems a tad too irresponsible of an action for me. I know that I’ve been neglectful of you guys these past few days, and I truly feel guilty about that. I gave it much thought; I’ll let my manager talk about my situation to the production team and fight a chance for me to have two days off weekly so that I can return home! After this filming, I will only pick my favorite works and not let my schedule be so packed anymore!”

Since he had made a concession, she would sincerely do her part, too.

Being a family-oriented person, she had never expected her decision to become an actress to result in this situation where she would not have time for her family.

The woman had a shift in her priorities, in which she would prioritize her family while occasionally accepting filming contracts that she was keen on after the filming of ‘Lethal Beauty’.

During this process, she would work hard to study more about screenwriting and directing. After all, her interest lay more in directing rather than acting.

She could perhaps then help the man manage Huanyu once she fully mastered those skills.

In spite of knowing that it would be arduous for her, she still took pleasure in putting effort in such and using her abilities!

Relying on others for a living was not her thing, and she could not be forced to do so!

After speaking her mind, she looked at the man with apprehension for his possible objection and incomprehension.

He wrinkled his brows but eventually did not object to it.

As his gentle gaze landed on her, he raised his hand and lightly stroked her head, giving her a loving smile. “Alright. I’ll wait for you!”

He would give her five years, then!

Those five words brought her a great sense of relief!

Her lips were pursed as she hugged him tightly. His understanding and acceptance of her decision meant a lot to her.

Chapter 1633: Hard to Pull Away from Each Other

Resting her head against his shoulder blade, she whispered, “Thank you! Thanks for accepting my stubbornness and my decision!”

She leaned closer, pressing her soft, dainty body, to him.

Hugging her tightly, the man teasingly gave her red lips a peck as he asked, “So... how are you going to thank me?”

She lifted her head, only to see the burning desire in his eyes.

A beautiful smile graced her face out of the blue as the brilliant fireworks display outside got reflected in her bright eyes.

Under the sky lit by fireworks, the woman took the lead to hook her arms around his neck, inched her face close to his, and gently brought her red lips to his icy, thin lips.

The gentle kiss gradually deepened.

As the horse pulled the crystal carriage through the romantic Cherry Blossom Avenue, passersby chanced upon a beautiful woman and a handsome man engaging in a deep kiss when they peered inside. A succession of exclamations could be heard. “Heavens!”

“Look! Look inside that carriage! How romantic a sight this is!”

“I heard that the entire theme park had been booked by someone today to be decorated for a dreamy marriage proposal, and it’s open to the public for free so that they can witness it!”

“Could those two inside the carriage be the ones involved in that marriage proposal?!”

“A beauty and a hunk—gosh! How compatible they are...”

“...”

Under the beautiful illumination of the fireworks, with passersby bearing witness to this romantic scene, Yun Shishi tightened her hold on him and responded to him in the most intimate way she could muster—kissing.

He could not resist placing his hands around her slim waist, and from the smirk on his sexy lips, he was obviously extremely satisfied with her proactiveness.

The kiss lasted all the way until they reached the entrance to the theme park; even then, the couple found it hard to pull away from each other.

Her spontaneous display of affection was eventually dominated by him. The impatient and enthusiastic man relentlessly assaulted her lips and invaded her mouth cavity, unwilling to part from her at all.

She was about to be suffocated by his kisses.

When the woman tried to pull herself out of this intoxication, she noticed, in her periphery, that the carriage had reached the theme park's gates, where an extended Bentley silently waited. The driver standing in front of the car door, however, had his head and eyes down, not daring to look directly at the couple, let alone go up to disturb them.

Feeling even more embarrassed now, she balled up her fists and lightly thumped them against his shoulders.

He remained still, though. Not giving her a chance to evade him, he pressed his hand harder on her nape and forced her to give him a deep kiss; his tongue constantly robbed her of her sweet breath.

He had forgotten how long it had been since he last tasted her goodness!

Her kisses were irresistible; he just could not stop himself!

“Umph... umph—don't...”

The woman felt exasperated and embarrassed.

Why can't this man stop kissing me?!

There are so many people watching us from the entrance!

Doesn't he know how to be discreet?!

With a sideward glance at her surroundings, she found many tourists gaping and cheering for them as they raised their cameras high in the air and tried to capture this romantic and beautiful moment!

Isn't this a little too showy?!

She hit him in the shoulder blades again, but in the next moment, before she could squeak a protest, she felt the world spin around her. This man had actually lifted her in a princess-carry and was now bringing her out of the carriage in such a manner!

Even then, he was reluctant to part with her. Supporting her in his arms, he greedily continued landing kisses on her eyelids, nose tip, and lips...

Chapter 1634: Unbearable

The woman could see the burning desire in his eyes.

“You—”

“Shh!”

From his hoarse and heavy voice, she could tell that the man was trying to suppress something deep within him.

“Good girl, hush!”

Her soft and mellow voice was undoubtedly the greatest aphrodisiac to him at this moment. Should he lose his control, a fire would ignite in him!

He still had a rein on his desires, though it was just barely!

Mu Yazhe carried her in his arms and walked over to the waiting car.

With the concierge opening the door to it for them, he carried her inside.

As soon as the door was shut, and with a press of a button, he raised the partition between the front and the back seats. The hunger in his eyes somehow frightened the woman a little.

“You—”

Her words got cut off when the man pushed her down against the seat and pinned her body with his big torso.

“Don’t!”

In her wide-eyed panic, she instinctively pushed him away from herself.

Unfortunately for her, her resistance only fueled his desire to conquer her.

Men tended to have an innate desire for conquest of their women and often took leads in sexual explorations with them!

Her resistance was bound to be futile because, with that pathetic strength of hers, she was no match for him at all!

Furthermore, she was currently up against a horny man.

Keeping her under him, the nearly crazed man desperately stole the sweet breath from her lips, eagerly plundering away her sweetness through his kisses, just like a youth who had his first taste of the forbidden fruit.

Feeling short-winded, she tried pushing his chest away from hers, but his body was akin to a heavy mountain weighing on her. A suffocating feeling assaulted her; no matter how hard she tried to push him away, the man did not budge even a bit.

“Hey...”

She uneasily struggled under him, trying to push him away and hide away from his sight.

All of a sudden, he clamped down on her shoulders and opened his eyes, and when she accidentally met his dark orbs, all she could see was a bottomless pit of desires.

The heat in his eyes felt scorching when they landed on her face!

He gazed back at her.

The latter was helplessly staring at the former with her charming, doe eyes. Those pretty and enchanting, almond-shaped eyes gleamed of gentle passion.

Especially right now, she looked so d*mn delectable with what that seemingly layer of blush on her face!

An electrifying and numbing sensation shot through his genitals, nerves, muscles, and limbs. He was dying to take his woman right then!

The woman could tell that the two blazing fires in his dark orbs could practically reduce her soul to ashes.

Still, the man held onto his last shred of rationality.

With great effort, he curbed in his physical impulse and silently hugged her, instead. He dared not move another inch.

As he cuddled her close to himself, his heavy breathing continually reverberated in her ears from time to time, and it sounded like the panting of a covetous beast.

Trapped under his torso, the shy and helpless woman did not dare to move, lest she accidentally excite the man.

Even now, she could easily discern the growing change from a certain area in his body through the thin layer of her clothes.

It was burning hot there.

She, all the more, did not dare move now! Her face flushed in utter embarrassment.

W-What's this...

She could not help finding this situation ridiculous.

How can this man be so...

She really did not know whether she should cry or laugh at this!

Chapter 1635: Legs Seemingly Being Decorative Pieces

Mu Yazhe squeezed her further into his embrace with each passing second, which felt more like a century-long torture to him. His tense body was constantly clamoring for something he could not have now, and the fire inside him was just steadily growing. For every second of his suffering, his breathing got heavier little by little.

God knew what he was putting up with!

It was not at all his style to suppress his raging desires!

According to his usual behavior, he would have long eaten her clean and buried himself in her at this point!

However, he was afraid of her getting scared away.

He knew that this woman did not like doing it in the car.

Thus, in consideration of her feelings, he had to endure his urge until they reached the hotel.

It was just that he felt terribly tormented for holding himself back.

The beads of sweat seeping out from his forehead were a silent indication of his current predicament.

Yun Shishi found it amusing yet also felt sorry for him.

He had truly missed her a lot during their fortnight of separation.

He had missed her so d*mn much, be it physically or emotionally!

From his taut and burning body, she knew how much the man was suffering right now!

She tightened her grip on him. Feeling slightly sorry for him, she proceeded to caress his face and give him a peck on his glabella as a form of encouragement.

“Thank you!” She sincerely expressed her gratefulness to him.

She really appreciated all the things he had done for her, including the concessions and changes he had made for her!

He used to be such a proud man, but for her, he kept adjusting himself to her liking!

“Kiss me,” he requested, his burning gaze fixed on her face.

With a smile, she kissed him on his thin lips. It was not enough for him, though, and joined their mouths in a deeper kiss; as if by doing so, it could somewhat alleviate his burning desire.

It did not occur to them that this smooch would actually last the entire journey of their ride!

By the time the car came to a stop at the entrance to a certain hotel, the woman in the man’s embrace had already gotten dazed from all their shared kisses, failing to register where they were!

From outside, the driver lightly rapped his knuckles on the car window and carefully announced, “Chairman Mu, we’ve arrived at the destination!”

Only then did it rouse the couple inside the car from their passionate kiss.

He pulled away from her lips and saw the stupefied look on her face; that silly innocent face only made her appear even more alluring and charming.

She, however, was so deprived of oxygen that her eyes squinted at the spinning world around her once their lips parted!

The man’s kissing skills were improving by leaps and bounds by the day, whereas the woman was becoming more like a pathetic rookie to him; her kissing skills remained a little unsophisticated to date, so their kisses ended up being controlled by him!

He could not help laughing and lightly patting her on the face. “It’s time to alight, little fool!”

Despite still feeling slightly dazed, she forced her eyes open to check her surroundings as she drew window curtains. Only then did she realize that the car had already stopped moving!

She posed a silly question. “Where is this place?”

“Hotel!”

Before she could come back to her senses, he again lifted her and alighted the car with her in his arms!

A startled gasp escaped from her mouth when he princess-carried her and overtly entered the hotel, where rows of attendants were respectfully standing at the entrance.

Her face again burned in fury!

How could this man be so ostentatious?

Can't he be... a little low-key?!

What will these people think after seeing him carry me this way?!

She lightly hit his shoulder blades with her fists as she hissed, “Hey, put me down! I can walk on my own!”

“No, I’ll carry you!”

Chapter 1636: Weak legs...

It pained him to see her in such a groggy and feeble state that she could not even muster up the energy to walk.

If the woman were to find out what he thought about her, she would surely roll her eyes in exasperation again!

Heavens! Just how precious was she to him?

The man could not even bear to let her walk those few steps!

Sometimes, it was truly no exaggeration.

With him around, her pair of legs seemed to be decorative pieces—merely for aesthetic purposes and had no practical use.

If possible, he would willingly carry her in his arms all day long!

How he wished her body could be joined with his!

Ha ha!

She would likely be dumbfounded if she knew what was on his mind right now!

He nonchalantly carried her out of the car as if he did not notice her embarrassed look at all and strode toward the hotel.

Upon seeing him, the two rows of concierges bowed their heads low in greeting and dared not look up at all.

With the concierge leading the way, the man carried her into the lift and, under her relentless request, finally put her down on her two feet.

However, probably because of the long period of being pressed under his body earlier, but the moment her feet touched the ground, her legs gave way, and she nearly stumbled to the ground.

Good thing she held onto him for support and barely managed to stabilize herself.

The man's eyes gleamed mischievously at that. Stretching out his long, strong arm, he easily supported her slender waist and corrected her standing posture.

The lift gradually shut its doors. Now, only the two of them were left in this narrow, enclosed area.

The quiet space only accentuated the clarity of the man's panting, and from his successive, heavy and deep breathing, it was apparent that he had almost reached his limit.

Despite clinging only onto his arm, she could still feel his muscles tightening under his clothes. This somehow made her weak in the knees.

Her face reddened as she silently wondered what kind of storm would be awaiting her afterward for having the man suppressed his urges this long.

As such, she started feeling slightly jittery and at a loss!

The hotel was thirty stories' high, and his suite was located on the twenty-eighth floor.

As the floor level on the panel jumped increasingly, the elevator continually ascended to their floor level. Rising along it was the temperature inside the lift.

Upon sensing the man's body temperature soaring, Yun Shishi silently shifted away in an attempt to hide from him.

Alas, that small action of hers failed to escape his sharp eyes. He suddenly pulled her closer to him by the waist and chuckled. "What are you hiding for? I'm not going to eat you up!"

Not going to eat her up?!

She could not help questioning the truthfulness of his statement!

This man is truly a beast! The astonishing amount of energy he has seems inexhaustible as he doesn't seem to get tired at all!

Why was he so physically capable?

From what she had heard, the average man could only last one night at most and would be exhausted after all that intimate activity!

This man, however, could go at it for an entire night; he only required a short nap to recover his energy and a bath afterward to freshen himself. Once he put on his suit, he was again that elite leader of Disheng and could energetically put all his focus on his work!

Doesn't he get tired at all?

Is he naturally this strong?!

Even then, from her observation, this was considered a conservative situation; he would always have spare energy left after their lovemaking sessions, whereas she could feel her bones on the verge of shattering!

What will happen if he unleashes all his strength?

Ahh!

Why am I secretly curious about that?!

Chapter 1637: A Dirty Question

Yun Shishi could not control her thoughts from going wild. She clenched her fists, vexed that she would think of such a dirty question!

She forced herself not to think about it yet remained curious about the man's stamina!

Was it because he was too strong or she was too weak?

This was a problem!

As she continued thinking about it, her face flushed. Biting her lower lip, she felt her morals being devoured. She could not believe that she would actually thoroughly think about such a problem!

So shameless!

Mu Yazhe stole a glance at her, only to see her face reddening as she sized him up furtively. She held her burning hot face while looking lost. He had no idea what messy thoughts were going through in that head of hers!

Something was clearly amiss here, though.

Thus, he asked, "What are you thinking about?"

The sudden noise from him startled her!

She raised her head and frantically shook it in guilt. "I wasn't thinking about any weird question!"

He narrowed his eyes at her suspiciously.

It went without saying.

This stupid woman was so nervous when he had not said anything. Her words obviously showed that she was trying to cover something up!

Just as she finished her statement, the woman realized that her ridiculous words only roused his doubt!

"I..."

She was dying of embarrassment. She was laughable, just like a little kid. Perhaps she just was no match when it came to this man. She had never liked hiding her thoughts. When she had them, she was no good at concealing them, either; it went to the point that she became an amusement to him!

Suddenly, he advanced toward her and circled his arms around her waist tightly. "Tell me honestly: What were you thinking about?"

"I... I really wasn't thinking about anything..."

The more she spoke, the more she lost her spirit. Even she did not believe in her words!

Obviously, this man, whose skills were way higher than hers, did not believe what she had said, too.

Therefore, he drew close to her ear and, in an evilly charming manner, demanded, "Say it, or I'll do you right now!"

His words revealed a trace of danger!

She raised her gaze and matched his threatening eyes. Furious from embarrassment, she muttered, "You!"

"They are not empty words!"

The man smiled like an experienced hunter. With his elegant appearance, he looked at her as if she were prey trapped in his arms. He was getting excited!

The woman was even more furious!

However, under his warning, she tucked her head and hedged with great reluctance, "I wasn't thinking much about anything; I was just curious about... one thing!"

"What?"

"You..." She took a deep breath. "It seems as if you never get tired..."

The man was dumbstruck.

He was thoroughly amused by her serious expression. He could immediately guess what she had been thinking about from her statement!

"Why are you laughing?!"

"Dummy, it's because you are too weak!"

The elevator doors parted open.

He grabbed her hand and walked swiftly toward the room.

He walked so quickly that she could not catch up, causing her to stumble behind him.

"Mu Yazhe!"

He turned deaf to her coquettish protest as he swiped the key card and pushed open the door. Just as he entered the room, he pulled her in before the door was shut properly. He then trapped her between the door and him and pressed his fiery lips on hers!

Chapter 1638: Doing anything as he pleases...

“Mmph—don’t...”

The door was not even properly closed yet!

All she got in response was the man’s kisses as he totally disregarded her protest.

The man seemed to be finally releasing all his pent-up passion at this moment. In this past half a month, including their journey from Fairy Tale Valley to the hotel, he had been trying his best to hold it in. All of it was just for this moment!

He lowered his head and held her shoulders as he kissed her deeply. His fierce plunder was worse than what had happened in the car earlier!

No matter how much she squealed, she could not get him to wait.

He covered her lips with his, swallowing all her resistance and protest!

Before, because he wanted to take care of her, he did his best to control himself.

Now that they were in the private confines of this luxury suite, he could do anything as he pleased!

He needed not worry about the trivialities and treat himself unfairly anymore!

Now, all he must consider was how he should taste her goodness in the following moment!

In his head, he thought of over ten different postures. He felt a burning sensation when his fingertips touched her skin. He began kissing her even more ferociously!

Without her around this past half a month, he had missed her so much.

He was also surprised that he had been able to control himself from heading off to the production team to seek her!

This woman’s body had a special, attractive charm to it.

He could not stop thinking about her after having tasted her body before. No matter what he did, he would always recall how sweet she had tasted.

There was probably no other woman in this world apart from her who had such perfect chemistry with him!

Kissing her made him recall the times he had taken her. That wild sense of pleasure and those vivid images appeared in his mind!

It was as if, just by touching her, an unbreakable spell had been cast on him.

“Mmph—d-door... The door...”

Yun Shishi did her best to remind him about something he had not forgotten to do!

Mu Yazhe became a little impatient. With his long arm, he closed the door successfully just as she wished.

Seeing this, she sighed in relief. In the next second, she was lifted into the air. He managed to carry her body with just the strength from his one arm.

At this moment, she was facing him with her back against the entrance hall. She was held high in the air by him.

“Look at me...”

The man reached out with his other hand and caught hold of her lower jaw, forcing her to look at him.

“Look at me!”

She looked up at him, her eyes immediately trained on him.

“Dumb woman, be focused right now!”

There was some unhappiness in his eyes, upset that such a trivial issue had distracted her.

“All the time you have tonight belongs to me.”

With that, he held her stably and shed her of her clothes. The long, constrained passion he felt was now unleashed in full force. He entered her straight with all his effort.

It was as if he had not given her space to breathe as he held her down and took her for himself!

He was as ferocious as a wild beast. He wanted her so badly as he made splendid love to her!

Despite being mentally prepared for this, she was still stunned by his shocking intrusion!

After an intense session, he let out a grunt and held her tightly, unwilling to let her go!

He carried her into the living room and placed her on the sofa before he continued his way with her to his heart’s content.

The woman held his shoulders with trembling arms. Every cell in her body felt numb and limp.

Chapter 1639: The whole world has gone mad!

They remained in battle mode until midnight. The man worked her hard relentlessly with his boundless stamina, as if wanting to release all his pent-up yearning this one night!

He kept calling her name during climax, and she did the same thing, too!

She tried her best to accommodate him at first, but she could feel her energy slipping toward the end. The scent of their crazy endeavor could be sensed in every corner of the room. The whole world had turned mad!

The world seemed to be spinning and shaking around her. It was as if the sky would collapse on her any time!

Her rationality had deserted her by then.

The only thought she had was: He's mad—and so am I!

In fact, it was madness all around her!

Her body did not seem to belong to her anymore!

The two lay sticky and wet against each other. They looked as if they had just been fished out of a pond!

Outside, their children leaned curiously on the door, secretly trying to figure what was happening inside the room!

Alas, the hotel had a terrific soundproofing system, so much so that these two fellows could not catch anything despite plastering their ears to the door.

“Hai... Forget it!” The younger boy suddenly snorted. “I only agreed to this stupid act because of my belief in you! Snooping on daddy and mommy is just too despicable! Daddy will be upset if he finds out!”

His brother told him wryly, “Wah... It's you who wanted to snoop—”

“Keep quiet!”

Flushing red from embarrassment, Youyou clasped his brother's mouth with his hand and quickly added, “I'm going to ignore you if you continue spouting nonsense!”

“Alright, alright... I won't talk nonsense anymore! It's me who wanted to snoop on our parents, and I pulled you along to join me!”

As an older sibling, Little Yichen naturally gave in to the other and did not bother to argue with him.

His brother was finally pacified in this manner. Bestowing a smile on his older twin, he reached out his palm. “Alright! Let's go back to our room to rest, yeah?”

“Okay!”

The older boy took his hand, and the two then walked back to their room, hand in hand!

The night had turned dark outside the window.

The man let out a heavy huff and ascended to heavens with the woman before collapsing on top of each other, soaked in perspiration.

Toward the end, he grabbed her face and kissed her seductive lips.

“Umph...”

Her subsequent moans were all swallowed by him.

With that last-ditch effort, he let go of his tense body thoroughly and lay on top of her, panting fast and deeply!

His low and sexy panting reverberated in her ears.

His warm and moist breath tickled her ear, but she was too spent to push him away.

When the whole thing was over, she practically lay paralyzed in his arms, unable to move an inch!

Naturally, he was the one in charge of clearing the mess after!

Once his breathing settled, he could not help pinching her nose.

“Little sucker!”

He did all the heavy work this entire time, but this stupid woman refused to clean up after the affair.

She lay collapsed in his arms, refusing to move even for a bit.

The woman could not be blamed for this, though!

Any normal woman would be unable to step off the bed after such ferocious lovemaking, let alone clean herself up!

Chapter 1640: Chairman Mu’s Power!

She was still panting heavily even though his breathing had already settled. One breath after another—it was as if the air surrounding them was extremely thin as she could barely breathe!

He tried to fill it with all his might, but he still felt that it was not enough. Under him, her body appeared to have melted into liquid.

Mu Yazhe held her and walked into the bathroom. Filling the bathtub with warm water, he slowly placed her in. With that, both submerged themselves into the bathtub.

He loved hugging her just like this, when things were calm and quiet, and he also loved admiring her beauty silently.

Yun Shishi snuggled into his embrace, her face nestling against his chest. Her hair was drenched in sweat, sticking messily on her forehead, yet even if hundreds of years were to pass, her purity and beauty would seemingly remain untarnished.

Her beauty was exceedingly refined, with not a speck of filth.

Her eyes were half-closed, and there was a certain mist in them. Her long, thick lashes drooped, casting a shadow on her face.

These eyelashes of hers were also wet from the sweat, and water droplets clung onto them, which made her beauty even more ethereal.

He believed in his heart that if she were to be placed in ancient times, she would be a wicked concubine that could topple kingdoms. She would definitely be a beautiful woman who could cause calamity and chaos.

Even for someone like him who had a strong resolution, he could also be hit by such a sudden thought—it was of being willing to die in her hands!

The man helped clean her body while failing to resist kissing her lips obsessively!

The woman, who was enjoying his intimate caresses, hooked her arms around his shoulders as she responded to him. She swiped her lips against his at times in a teasing manner!

He intended to make a mess of her again, but just as he began to do so, the poor woman quickly begged for mercy, looking as if she had been wronged.

“I can’t do it anymore for today...”

“I’ll make you die in here...”

“Let me off, please? No more... I really can’t anymore...”

Seeing how pitiful she looked, the man decided to do her a favor and dismissed his plan.

When the two were done bathing, he wiped her clean and carried her to the bedroom.

Once they were settled in bed, the woman lay on his arm contentedly and fell into a sweet slumber.

This sleep was peaceful and free of worries. It was a dreamless sleep.

When morning came, a call was heard from the living room.

The woman remained undisturbed in her slumber, whereas the man was instantly roused by the noise. He put on a bathrobe and walked into the living room, only to learn that it was his woman’s phone that was ringing inside her handbag.

He answered the call, hearing Qin Zhou’s voice on the other end.

“Shishi, where are you? The production team knew of your birthday and prepared to celebrate it with you yesterday, but you disappeared without a trace!”

Hearing the manager’s voice, the man’s eyebrows sank gradually.

“She’s here with me!”

Those few words were filled with bombastic sovereignty!

In his eyes, the agent was indubitably the biggest ‘enemy’ against his and the woman’s love.

Taking away his time with her was the biggest sin of all!

The agent did not get to wait for his charge’s reply, yet when he heard the man’s deep voice, he almost dropped his phone in shock.

After the momentary shock, he smiled. “Chairman Mu, ha ha... So Shishi is with you. Then, I’m assured! Is she now...”

“She’s still asleep!”

The man paused for a moment before responding. "She's too tired from yesterday, so push back whatever work she has for today!"
