

Sweet Love 2881

Chapter 2881: Guilt-stricken!

Yun Shishi persisted, "Where's Xingze? I want to see him. I want to see him..."

"See him?"

Even the doctor could not take it anymore. "Miss Yun, your eyes are not functioning normally now. You'll need to at least wait for your eyes to recover before seeing anyone!"

"The condition of my eyes is not important! What's important is..."

Sensing that she wasn't getting through to them, she made an attempt to get up.

Hua Jin immediately held her down.

"Shishi, listen to me! Don't mess around! You can't get out of bed in your current condition!"

"Why aren't you telling me about Xingze's situation?"

She turned her head towards him. Her lips were trembling and extremely pale, as if they were coated with a layer of powder. "Is he... Is he..."

Suddenly, she reached out and grabbed Hua Jin's wrist tightly. A teardrop, lightly tinged with blood, rolled down her cheek at once.

"Is he alright?! Please, please tell me!"

Hua Jin could not bear to tell her the truth.

From the side, Youyou mustered up his courage and said, "Mommy, don't ask anymore! I just heard that Uncle Xingze has already fallen into deep sleep forever!"

The child had sensitive emotions and was not adept at using harsh and cruel words like "death."

To him, "deep sleep" was a more acceptable term.

Yun Shishi was stunned when she heard this. Her entire body stiffened and she did not move an inch.

All of a sudden, she smiled and said nonchalantly, "Impossible! He can't be dead... You're lying to me..."

Seeing her like this, Youyou's heart ached to the point of suffocation!

He would rather be the one suffering such pain than see his mommy trapped in such a cruel hell.

"It's impossible... It's impossible that he has died so easily..."

Yun Shishi suddenly broke into a smile. The expression on her face was blank, as if it would give way any moment.

Everyone noticed her abnormal reaction, it was probably from her inability to accept such a sudden change.

Feeling heartbroken on her behalf, Hua Jin took her arm and consoled her, “Shishi, don’t be sad. The most important thing now is for you to think about how to take care of yourself!”

“How could I not be sad?!” Without warning, she started crying hysterically. “It’s all my fault! It’s all my fault! No... I want to see him, I want to see him...”

Even if it was for the last time...

Yun Shishi stood up abruptly, but the operating table was still moving. Without thinking, she jumped off the bed and fell to the ground.

The venous retention needle in her hand shifted from the impact and fresh blood splattered all over the ground.

Ignoring the pain of the fall, she scrambled to her feet and struggled to get up, fumbling around with her hands.

Hua Jin immediately rushed forward and grabbed her shoulders.

“Shishi, calm down! Calm down, okay?! Don’t be like this; don’t punish yourself like this!”

Youyou and Little Yichen rushed over as well, each hugging one of her arms.

“Mommy... don’t scare Youyou! Don’t force yourself, okay?”

“If Uncle Xingze were still alive, he definitely wouldn’t want to see you like this!”

“I’m guessing that Uncle Xingze was protecting Mommy! Uncle Xingze will be glad that Mommy is safe and sound! So, Mommy, don’t let Uncle Xingze down!”

She gradually calmed down. Gritting her teeth, she found it impossible to forgive herself.

Chapter 2882: Let Him Have A Good Rest

“If it weren’t for me, he wouldn’t have died... It’s all my fault...”

Yun Shishi felt completely defeated and broke down in tears.

Youyou’s heart ached to hear her crying like that.

Now that Uncle Xingze was dead, he was even more worried that Mommy would live in guilt forever.

In this world, the heaviest and also most unbearable burden is guilt.

He was grateful for Gu Xingze’s sacrifice, and his heart ached for Uncle Xingze’s devotion to his mommy.

But it pained him even more to know that his mommy would forever live in self-blame.

Yun Shishi pursed her lips as her tears fell uncontrollably. “At least, let me see him one last time! At least, let me see him again. It’s okay if I can’t actually see him...”

Hua Jin took a deep breath and said, “Alright, let me think of a way!”

...

Twenty minutes later.

Yun Shishi came to the entrance of the morgue, with Hua Jin's help.

With Qin Zhou's "verbal instructions", the two were let in, leaving Youyou and Little Yichen waiting outside.

Yun Shishi could not see anything. Hua Jin helped walk her to a certain spot and then stopped.

She knew that she had probably been brought next to where Gu Xingze was placed.

She sucked in a breath of cold air and stretched out her hand, trying to feel around. Her fingertips touched something spine-chillingly cold!

So cold.

Unbelievable.

Why does a person's skin turn so cold after he has died and lost his warmth?!

Touching his icy cold skin, Yun Shishi found it even harder to suppress the pain in her heart as tears threatened to fall again.

"Xingze..."

Of all the words in the world, the only ones that she could mouth were but two that carried all the weight of the guilt she felt. "I'm sorry..."

Her body fell weakly to the ground as she knelt by the bed. She fumbled around and grabbed his hand. Those slender fingers were extremely cold, without a trace of warmth.

She grabbed his hand, but received no response.

She was filled with the hope that, in the next second, his hand would quietly hold hers in return. Then, he'd sit up on the bed and smile mischievously. He'd scratch her nose and tell her, "I was just teasing you, silly!"

She wouldn't be angry at him!

However, all these were wishful thoughts!

She knew very well that he would never wake up again.

But...

She still had so much to tell him.

A thousand words choked up in her throat. She couldn't speak them, but they wouldn't go away.

"Xingze..."

Yun Shishi choked. "Wake up. Even if you give me just a few seconds, I only want to tell you that I will never forget you!"

Will you forget me?

Will you keep me in your memory, even if it's only for a second?

...

"Yes, of course I will!"

Yun Shishi was filled with regret. She should never have given him the answer she did back then, and allowed him to misunderstand.

However, she thought that he would stubbornly refuse to close his eyes after hearing that answer. She did not expect him to believe her and now he had gone away forever with regrets. She could not bear it. She really wanted to tell him...

"I will never forget you! Xingze, do you hear me? Can you hear me?"

Yun Shishi said in a contrite tone, "I'm willing to use ten years of my life in exchange for a glimpse of you. Open your eyes and look at me, okay?"

Hua Jin could not bear to look at what was happening.

He knew that Gu Xingze's name would probably be engraved in her heart forever.

He reached out to hug her, only to hear her crying even more heartbreakingly.

"Xingze... Xingze..."

Her crying was like a knife stabbing at his heart.

Hua Jin could not help but tear up. He squatted down and held her shoulders. "Shishi, just treat it as if he's asleep. Let him have a good sleep, let's not disturb him."

Chapter 2883: Stop Punishing Yourself!

"Don't be sad, okay? My heart aches to see you like that."

She continued to sob uncontrollably.

She did not bawl. Instead, she clung onto the bed and gripped the bedsheets tightly with both hands. She crumpled the bedsheets and gritted her teeth, trying to hold back her tears, but she could not control them at all.

It was as if the entire world had completely fallen apart!

It only took one look to clearly see how devastated she was!

She had a nagging feeling that everything that was happening before her was just a dream. After she had cried enough, she'd wake up from the dream and find Gu Xingze still alive!

However, every time she closed her eyes, the scene in the parking lot would repeat itself!

Every time she thought of Gu Xingze in her arms, struggling to keep his eyes open and making every effort to speak those words, his weak but smiling expression seemed to say, "Shishi, you must not be sad. I have no regrets."

But alas, she did!

She was sad!

She was devastated!

She could not believe that Gu Xingze would die just like that!

She did not believe the rubbish that people said, about how people would go to heaven after they died!

Once a person died, they would truly cease to exist!

However, there were still so many beautiful things in this world that he had never experienced before!

His life shouldn't have ended so abruptly!

If he were to fly to America, perhaps it would be the start of a brand new life. He might be able to welcome a new life, meet a girl who would love him and whom he would also love equally. They would grow from knowing each other, to loving each other, then finally holding hands for the rest of their lives!

In her heart, Gu Xingze always had a beautiful image.

He should deserve happiness... he should deserve happiness!

But now?

It was exactly as Gu Xingze had said.

He arrived into a cold world, lived a cold and lonely life, and finally fell into a cold and lonely sleep.

Yun Shishi cried her eyes out in despair. Even though she did not cry loudly, she was on the verge of collapsing!

Hua Jin could not take it anymore. With reddened eyes, he knelt beside her and hugged her shoulders tightly. "Sister, if I could bear this for you, I'd do it willingly! But don't force yourself anymore, alright?!"

His hot tears fell on her shoulders.

Hua Jin also started crying sadly.

"The dead can't be brought back to life! No one would have expected such a thing to happen! I know that Senior Xingze liked you and held you dear to his heart. Even if he had to choose all over again, I think he would still make the same choices! However, he wouldn't want you to punish yourself like this! This isn't your fault! Why don't you cut yourself some slack?!"

She cried and shook her head, unable to say a word.

She cried, and so did he.

She cried, because she was sad that Gu Xingze was gone.

He cried, because he realized that now, Gu Xingze would forever be a thorn in her heart.

This thorn would probably never be removed, and every time she breathed, she would feel the pain deep within her being.

However, he could not allow her to continue crying like this!

She must not cry, not only because of her eyes!

It would also be because of the unborn and undeveloped child within her. She must not cry like this!

Hua Jin hardened his heart. With a strike from his hand, Yun Shishi felt a sharp pain at the back of her neck, and her vision went dark as she passed out!

She fell into his arms, her face still wet with fresh tears!

Chapter 2884: Surprise and Joy!

Hua Jin felt heartbroken as he gently caressed her face and leaned his forehead against hers.

He was sad as long as she was; and the more she cried, the more he wished he could die in place of Gu Xingze!

This way, she could stop being that sad!

Just as these crazy thoughts were running through his mind, he heard a loud bang behind them.

Mu Yazhe burst through the door.

“Shishi!”

He rushed in, only to see his unconscious wife in Hua Jin’s arms. Stunned, he strode over and took her from him.

“Shishi...”

Mu Yazhe gently stroked her face. It was frighteningly cold and deadly pale.

He frowned in response then looked up and asked, “What happened to her?”

“Brother-in-law, don’t worry. She just passed out temporarily!”

Hua Jin immediately explained, “She insisted that she wanted to see Senior Xingze one last time, so I brought her here! However, perhaps because she couldn’t accept reality, she wouldn’t stop crying. I was worried that it would affect her health, so I knocked her out! She’ll come to after resting for a while!”

Mu Yazhe looked at the body lying silently on the bed.

Gu Xingze’s eyes were shut, his clothes had been removed and a white sheet covered him up to his shoulders.

His appearance had already been tidied up. At first glance, he appeared to be taking a short nap, and was extremely quiet.

Generally speaking, people who die from serious injuries would die looking extremely hideous due to the immense pain.

However, Xingze's expression was very calm, and it almost made one wonder what sort of dreams he might be having.

Mu Yazhe suddenly felt a complexity of emotions. He wasn't sure how he should feel about Gu Xingze.

In the past, he probably only felt disgust towards him.

However, after what had happened, he could not bring himself to detest this love rival no matter what.

He had always thought that Gu Xingze's feelings for Yun Shishi were just a passing whim or that he was merely feeling restless from being unable to get what he wanted!

A man's desire to conquer is most evidently manifested when it comes to both women and career!

The more one can't have a person, the more one will feel the desire to conquer!

Mu Yazhe had thought that Gu Xingze only had a desire to conquer Yun Shishi!

He did not expect the man to love her so deeply, to the extent that he would actually sacrifice himself.

He could not care about that right now, however.

Mu Yazhe carefully carried her in his arms and walked out of the room hurriedly.

Hua Jin followed closely behind.

Youyou and Little Yichen too, toddled along behind them.

Arriving in the intensive care unit, Mu Yazhe gently placed her on the bed and covered her with a blanket. Hua Jin also heaved a sigh of relief!

"What's her situation?" He immediately asked.

Hua Jin at once repeated the doctor's words in a concise manner. Finally, he observed Mu Yazhe's expression and slowly said, "Shishi is pregnant. Did you know?"

She's pregnant!?

Mu Yazhe abruptly turned his head, his piercing eyes boring into the man as if doubting the truth of his words.

"What did you just say?"

Hua Jin patiently repeated, "She has been diagnosed to be pregnant. The doctor said that she should be about seven weeks along now!"

Mu Yazhe froze.

He turned his head sharply to look at Yun Shishi with mixed emotions in his eyes!

Pregnant...

She's pregnant!?

This news surprised and delighted him!

However, he was also worried.

Right now, her health wasn't in the best condition. He doubted if this child had come at the right time!

Chapter 2885: Suggesting A Cornea Transplant

He was worried that she'd be too emotionally unstable to carry the pregnancy through the first three months.

The first trimester is the most dangerous period for a pregnant woman.

If the fetus is not properly nurtured, and if there were to be any mishaps in the first trimester, the fetus will stop developing, or it may not even have a heart of its own.

Given her emotions, if she continued to feel down, a miscarriage would be highly possible.

If that happened, it would be a huge blow to her!

He feared that such a blow would only send her straight to hell!

Hua Jin seemed to have guessed what he was worried about and quickly consoled him, "But fortunately, the child is fine! If she recuperates well, her condition should stabilize in a few weeks!"

Mu Yazhe leaned on the edge of the bed and held her hand tenderly. He steadied the back of her hand and lightly pecked her fingertips.

"It will get better..."

He spoke so quietly that it was unclear whether he was comforting Hua Jin or Shishi.

...

In the hospital ward.

Yun Shishi woke up to find her eyes heavily bandaged.

She could hear the doctor and Mu Yazhe conversing in a grave tone.

Mu Yazhe sat by the bed expressionlessly as he quietly listened. It was so quiet that there was barely any movement.

Standing beside him, Hua Jin listened attentively. His face was full of anxiety and worry as he looked at the doctor.

Youyou and Little Yichen, on the other hand, looked solemn.

Having not rested all night, Hua Jin looked somewhat haggard, and it was the same for Mu Yazhe.

The doctor was busy writing his report, but his face was not as cold as usual.

He carefully sized up Yun Shishi, who was lying on the bed. At the same time, he looked fearfully at the gloomy Mu Yazhe, and said regretfully, "Mr. Mu, your wife's cornea was injured by sharp objects, which has caused damage to her vision. It's very likely that she's lost her sight."

Hua Jin's face turned ashen when he heard this. Still holding onto a ray of hope, he probed further, "Doctor, what do you mean by that? What... what blindness?"

The doctor raised his head. There was helplessness in his eyes behind his thick glasses. He said calmly, "It means that her eyesight is only 0.03. Her eyes have lost almost all sight and cognition, and she can only see light vaguely."

Upon hearing this news, Hua Jin almost passed out.

Youyou stumbled and nearly lost his balance.

Yun Shishi had long woken. Upon hearing this conclusion, she clenched her fists reflexively as her throat tightened.

In that moment, her heart almost fell into the abyss of despair.

She could not see a thing, but she could clearly feel that Mu Yazhe was holding her hand tightly. Her fingertips were trembling slightly, and she even heard Hua Jin's heartbreaking question. "Does... does it mean that Shishi's... Shishi's eyes have not been cured? It... it can't be cured?"

"That might not be the case. If you will consider a cornea transplant, then the sooner we can get that done, the better. After all, it's hard to find donors in medical institutions in China. Even if we can find a suitable donor, the surgery is not a guaranteed success. So, we have to be mentally prepared... But, considering that she's pregnant, we can't rush the surgery. After all, for a pregnant woman, any surgery is very risky!"

Lying on the bed, Yun Shishi's body suddenly stiffened!

What!?

Pregnant?!

Pregnant woman...

Why are these words so unfamiliar!?

What do they mean?!

Confused, she forced herself to pay attention to what the doctor was saying. Prior to that, she was only half listening.

Chapter 2886: Keeping The Child Safe Is A Must!

Lying on the bed, Yun Shishi's body suddenly stiffened!

What!?

Pregnant?!

Pregnant woman...

Why are these words so unfamiliar!?

What do they mean?!

Confused, she forced herself to pay attention to what the doctor was saying. Prior to that, she was only half-listening.

Cornea transplant...

Pregnant...

Pregnant woman...

Any surgery will be very risky...

However, whatever she had heard right up till now was already enough to shake her to the core and the information was rather hard to digest!

Was she pregnant?!

She was so nervous that her whole body tensed up!

Sensing the subtle implications in the doctor's words, Mu Yazhe frowned and asked, "What do you mean?"

The doctor deliberated for a moment and observed his expression. Then, he said unhurriedly, "My suggestion is that we either keep the child, but it might affect the cornea transplant... After all, cornea donors can only be chanced upon by luck! Once we miss a good opportunity, we may have to wait for a long time! If that's the case, once the surgery is delayed, the eventual situation may be regretful! Otherwise, we can save her eyes and abort the child as soon as possible so that we can perform a cornea transplant as soon as a suitable donor becomes available. This may be a safer strategy!"

The doctor's dispassionate words lingered in his ears.

However, the cold and unfeeling assessment undoubtedly weighed down on their hearts, turning the atmosphere in the ward extremely icy.

Mu Yazhe glanced at him and said in a dangerous tone, "Abort the child?"

"That's right."

The doctor said seriously, "Based on her health condition, the chances of her being able to conceive again in the future are still very high. If she loses this child, she can have another one. But once a cornea donor is lost, it's not something that will come by again at will!"

Mu Yazhe suddenly stood up and lunged at the doctor. Grabbing him by the collar, he pinned the man against the wall.

The doctor felt the back of his head hit the cold wall with a jolt. When he opened his eyes again, he was met with Mu Yazhe's cold and dark stare.

He could not help but feel a chill run down his spine, and his hair stood on end. With a trembling voice, he said, "Mr. Mu, let's discuss this! Let's discuss this!"

Mu Yazhe's lips curled into a cold smirk as he said menacingly, "Whose child do you think you're suggesting to abort?"

"..."

"Speak up!"

Clearly, Mu Yazhe's blood was boiling, and his icy aura pervaded every corner of the ward!

"I... I..."

The middle-aged doctor who was in his forties, was nearly suffocated by Mu Yazhe's spine-chilling gaze!

"CEO Mu, don't misunderstand! I'm only suggesting this in your wife's interest!"

"Is this in her interest really?! Abort the child? You're forcing her to her death!"

Mu Yazhe tightened his grip on the doctor's shirt. If it weren't for his self-restraint, he would probably have strangled the man!

The doctor was on the verge of tears as he tried to explain, "But... although it's cruel, these two possibilities are the safest!"

"I'm warning you! Don't even think about touching the child! Keeping the child safe is a must!"

His wife would not be able to take another blow of this magnitude!

The doctor nodded his head in fright.

Mu Yazhe loosened his grip and immediately, the doctor scrambled out of the ward.

Hua Jin vaguely heard a movement on the bed. He turned around and saw that Yun Shishi had already woken up. She sat up and gently leaned against the headboard of the bed.

"Shishi, you're awake!"

Mu Yazhe was stunned on hearing this. He turned around, only to meet with her cold, expressionless eyes.

Chapter 2887: Our Child

Mu Yazhe was stunned on hearing this. He turned around, only to meet with her cold, expressionless eyes.

She could not see anything. She could only vaguely see a black silhouette in the hazy light.

However, this silhouette was too blurry, he did not even know who it belonged to.

Mu Yazhe slowly approached her until he was right in front of her. He sat down on the edge of the bed and got closer to her.

However, he did not get a reaction from Yun Shishi.

She could not see him.

She could not even see him walking towards her.

Mu Yazhe held her hand tightly. But because it was so sudden for her that she got a fright and curled up slightly.

"It's me."

He consoled her gently and held the back of her hand. "Shishi, are you feeling better?"

"..."

"Are you feeling unwell?"

"..."

Mu Yazhe frowned deeply at her silence.

His heart ached as he kissed her fingertips. His voice was slightly hoarse as he said, "Shishi, don't scare me. It's okay if you can't see. I'm here for you. Just don't keep so silent..."

Yun Shishi opened her mouth, but she could not utter a sound as her throat was hoarse from crying.

Youyou and Little Yichen came up to them as well. They stood on either side of the bed and looked at her worriedly.

"Mommy, say something..."

The boy choked on his sobs. "It's alright; things are fine now! With Youyou, Little Yichen, Daddy, and Uncle Hua Jin around, they'll protect you and not let you get hurt again!"

The child was sensitive enough to know that a person who had just regained consciousness would probably still be in a state of confusion and panic.

The first thing he did was to comfort her. He only hoped that she would stop being afraid.

Yun Shishi clenched her fists tightly. Biting her lips with a lowered head, the first thing she said was, "I'm sorry..."

Everyone was stunned.

Hua Jin walked over and said angrily, "Why are you apologizing for no reason?!"

“I’m sorry...”

Yun Shishi only cared about apologizing and kept repeating, “I’m sorry... I’m sorry... I’m willing to do anything to atone for my sins... I’m willing to exchange my life for it too... I’m sorry...”

Mu Yazhe could not stand it anymore and hugged her tightly.

“Shishi, did you hear what the doctor said? You’re now pregnant with our child.”

These words seemed to stun Yun Shishi, making her feel suffocated.

“Child...”

So what she had just heard was not her imagination!

She... was really pregnant?

“Perhaps it’s a little princess, or perhaps it’s a mischievous little fellow. Whether it’s a boy or a girl, I will like them both and dote on them! When I heard this news, I was pleasantly surprised! This must be a precious gift bestowed by the heavens, huh?”

As he spoke, he put his arms around her shoulders and gently kissed her trembling lips. “That’s why you need to take good care of yourself, huh?”

“I’m sorry...”

“Stop apologizing!”

His voice was thick with pleading. “You didn’t do anything wrong. No one is blaming you. Stop apologizing; I don’t want to hear it!”

Hua Jin chimed in, “Shishi, did you hear that? You’re having a baby now, and it’s in your belly right at this moment!”

Youyou added, “But he’s still very young. I don’t think we can’t tell if it’s a boy or a girl just yet?”

Chapter 2888: I’ll Dote On My Sister Too!

Youyou added, “But he’s still very young. I don’t think we can tell if it’s a boy or a girl just yet?”

“It would be awesome if it’s a little princess! Daddy has always wanted a little princess!” Little Yichen said.

“Daddy says that he’ll dote on both boys and girls!” Youyou immediately added.

His large, clear eyes looked curiously and lovingly at Yun Shishi’s belly. He then said gently, “I will also dote on the baby! Mommy, I swear that I will be a gentle brother and take good care of my sister!”

Little Yichen started complaining, “How do you know for sure it’s going to be a sister?!”

“Oh! Probably telepathy!”

Youyou grinned. "I'm guessing that the baby in mommy's belly must be a little sister! Because Daddy keeps obsessing over having a little princess! Don't you like little sisters too?!"

"I..."

Little Yichen's face turned a strange shade of red, and he let out a low hum. "It's true that I wish to have a sister!"

Although Yun Shishi could not see what was happening, she could still imagine the anticipation in the children's eyes.

Mu Yazhe gently placed his hand over the back of her hand and said tenderly, "Shishi, you still have me, Youyou and Little Yichen, and a seven-week-old baby in your belly! She's very lucky and strong! The doctor said that given the harsh situation, her survival has been a miracle!"

Her chest tightened.

She's very lucky...

And strong...

Yun Shishi's lips suddenly quivered as she said in a trembling voice, "At the time, the car almost hit me and ran over me..."

That scene replayed in her mind again.

As she held onto her phone, she saw the oppressive headlights of the car that was trailing her flashing right into her eyes.

If Gu Xingze had not shoved her out of the way in the nick of time, she would have been crushed under its wheels.

Even though Gu Xingze had knocked her onto the ground, all of her weight had been buffered by him.

He had rolled her into his arms and used his back to absorb all the impact.

As a result, she could only feel Gu Xingze's breath being knocked out of him violently and painfully the moment he landed on the ground.

Obviously, if it had not been for him, the child in her belly wouldn't have survived!

And if it had not been for him, perhaps she might have been run over by Yun Na's car dozens of times.

How much did Yun Na hate her?!

She even talked to her through gritted teeth, as though wishing she could transform into a ferocious beast, tear her apart and chew her up!

She did not care about the consequences of her actions.

Nor was she concerned with the law.

All she wanted was the woman's life, and she was willing to die for it.

When Yun Na acted on this desire, it was as good as a suicide mission!

Even if she had to die, or suffer the consequence of breaking the law, she would take them down with her!

Yun Yecheng was a good example.

He was her biological father!

One could imagine how cruel she was to have thought of such a brutal act of mutilating him using not just acid, but concentrated acid!

What if it hadn't been for Gu Xingze?!

Yun Shishi could already imagine how cruel Yun Na would be. She would have gorged her flesh till she was tortured to death!

Chapter 2889: It's More Brutal Than Death By A Thousand Cuts

"If it hadn't been for Gu Xingze, I would be the one lying on that bed..."

Yun Shishi clutched her chest in deep sorrow as tears rolled uncontrollably from her eyes.

Her heart ached so much that she could barely breathe.

She was not a fragile person, much less a person who would cry at the drop of a hat, but she could not stop feeling sad.

She really couldn't.

She could not force herself to smile and live happily after losing Xingze!

This was too cruel.

Too cruel...

She sobbed and said, "He could have gotten away. He knew that they had guns and that the bullets were blind... but he didn't run! He did not have to protect me. If he hadn't, he wouldn't have been stabbed so many times! Sob, sob, sob... He had every chance to live. Why... why did he end up like this..."

Mu Yazhe held her in his arms, feeling the pain. His eyes turned red and his heart almost broke.

Other than hugging her tightly and feeling her pain, there was little he could say.

Hua Jin choked on his sobs. "Shishi, don't keep thinking about this matter. Since it has already happened, let bygones be bygones! The dead are gone, and the living are still alive! Because Xingze is no longer around, all the more you should cherish life! He would most certainly want you to be well and not torture yourself!"

“But... I don’t understand. I don’t understand...”

She could not stop crying.

“I don’t understand. I don’t understand. I just want him to come back—”

“Stop crying...”

Mu Yazhe lowered his head in pain and gently kissed her injured eyes through the gauze. “Shishi, don’t cry anymore. Go to sleep and don’t let your thoughts run wild, huh? Don’t let your thoughts run wild...”

He knew that asking a heartbroken person to stop crying when she was in extreme pain, was even more brutal than death by a thousand cuts.

But she must not continue to cry.

Every time tears flowed out of her eyes, it was literally rubbing salt into her wounds.

He did not want her to be in pain anymore!

Youyou rubbed his eyes and tried his best not to cry. However, every time he saw his mommy in pain, he felt terrible too!

Everyone was flustered and finally managed to comfort her to the point that she could sleep!

After she fell asleep, the ward returned to silence.

Only then did the nurses enter the ward. The retention needle on her wrist had been removed earlier on, hence they set her up on the IV drip using her other hand.

Mu Yazhe had been holding her in his embrace, hence he lay down on his side with her snuggled in his arms and her head resting on his upper arm.

Even though half of his arm was numb from supporting the weight of her head, he could not bear to let go.

Just like that, he wrapped his arms around her, held her, guarded her, and watched over her.

Yun Shishi did not sleep well, and her breathing became rapid from time to time. Perhaps she was having nightmares, given how her forehead was covered in a sprinkle of cold sweat.

Youyou fetched a basin of hot water, squeezed the towel dry, and carefully wrapped the towel around her forehead to soak up the droplets of perspiration.

Little Yichen, on the other hand, quietly tucked her under the blanket.

The father and sons worked together, each playing their role.

Hua Jin was tired after staying up all night and all morning. Hence, he lay down on the guest bed to rest.

He thought that once Mu Yazhe got tired by tonight, he could then help take over the care of Shishi.

The two little lads also applied for leave from school to watch over her.

Chapter 2890: It’s Him?

In the afternoon, Yun Shishi finally fell asleep. At the same time, Hua Jin woke up.

As they were hungry but did not want to leave the ward for too long, they ordered takeout.

Hua Jin did not know what to order and consulted the rest. Eventually he settled for fast food since it was quick and hygienic, and included both meat and vegetables.

They were all starving.

Although Mu Yazhe did not say it aloud, he had not eaten breakfast and lunch, and his stomach had been growling.

Hua Jin was a little nervous. He did not know if the takeaway he had ordered would be met with disdain by Mu Yazhe, who was a man of status.

After all, his net worth was in the hundreds of billions. He probably rarely ate fast food.

Unexpectedly, when the takeaway arrived, My Yazhe personally carried the lunchbox to the table like he was an ordinary person. He even laid out the chopsticks and spoons neatly, before he picked up a lunch box, held it in his hand and started to eat elegantly.

This was the first time Hua Jin had seen a man eat so elegantly. The man was like royalty. Even though he was holding an ordinary fast food box in his hand, he had the air of a gentleman dining in a fine dining restaurant!

Doesn't this man seem just a little too perfect!

He muttered to himself. Standing next to Mu Yazhe, he found himself fumbling around with his chopsticks!

Mu Yazhe lowered his head as he ate, seemingly deep in thought.

Yun Na had been bailed out.

He had only paid up part of the bail, and on top of that, the police station dared not charge him too much. The case had yet to be recorded, so it could be perfectly covered up!

Yun Na had been registered as a missing person at the household registration center to begin with. As long as there were no records, she would continue to be a missing person with no leads.

The reason why he bailed Yun Na out was not because he had any concrete plans for dealing with her, but certainly, he was not going to let her off.

Instead, he planned to handle this matter personally.

It wasn't that he didn't believe in the law.

He believed that, given the seriousness of the law, the penalty for Yun Na's case would likely be a death sentence.

Besides, he could just imagine how sensational the news of Gu Xingze's death would be!

This case would definitely not be treated as a simple criminal case.

Even though Huanyu was still trying their best to keep this matter under wraps, they would at all cost avoid announcing Gu Xingze's death before the release of a PR statement.

And even though it was agonizing for the fans to keep on speculating, they would not announce Gu Xingze's death so soon.

My Yazhe didn't believe that the law could provide a satisfactory outcome for him.

Sometimes, when it comes to evildoings, using violence to curb violence is the only way to achieve true fairness.

...

At night, Mu Yazhe decided to make a trip to the office as the nutrient solution and stabilizer drip that Yun Shishi was given kept her asleep.

Earlier on, he had hurried over to the hospital halfway through a board of directors meeting and now, all sorts of matters had piled up.

He needed to distribute the work as soon as possible. Hence, he urgently summoned Lu Jinyu and Jiang Shen to the office together. He had to stay in the ward for the next few days, until Yun Shishi's mood was stabilized.

The company matters had to be temporarily put aside.

Hua Jin was taking care of Yun Shishi on his behalf, in the meantime.

Not long after Mu Yazhe left the hospital, Hua Jin washed up the dishes and returned to the bed. At this point, he heard hurried footsteps coming from the corridor.

The heavy footsteps were quick and strong. Thinking that Mu Yazhe must have left something behind in the ward, he looked up expectantly at the door.

The next second, the door flew open.

Gong Jie, dressed in black and looking very anxious, walked in.

Gong Jie?
