

Sweet Love 3031

Chapter 3031: The Love Of Your Life (2)

"I don't mean to threaten you. I'm just stating a fact. You've been by Old Master's side for so long. You should know how stubborn he is."

With that said, Butler Fu placed the cleaned laundry down and simply said, "Goodnight", and left.

Chu He walked over and picked up the pile of freshly laundered clothes. She furrowed her eyebrows and fell into deep thought.

Yun Shishi's patience was almost exhausted after a long period of recuperation.

When she was in the mid-stage of her pregnancy, she even cut her hair, as much as she couldn't bear to part with it.

Mu Yazhe initially did not understand why she had to cut her hair when she was pregnant, but it is said that long hair feeds on the nutrition provided by the body. Furthermore, as her belly gradually enlarged, it became harder to manage her long hair.

Although it was a pity to cut her long tresses, it would grow out again. On the other hand, he could not possibly neglect the little princess!

So no matter how reluctant he was, he had to give in for the sake of this little princess.

Having decided on the haircut, Mu Yazhe did not take her to the salon. Instead, he called for the service to be provided at home. After all, the smell of chemicals in the hair salon was too overpowering!

When the hairdresser arrived, Mu Yazhe opened the door to let her in. When the hairdresser saw his sullen expression, it scared the wits out of her.

During the haircut, Mu Yazhe watched them like a hawk. With every snip, his face would turn darker. Every now and then, he would remark icily, "You've taken off too much!"

"Just a little trim will do!"

"I'm warning you not to take off too much!"

...

Even Yun Shishi, who heard these remarks, was frightened and worried for the poor hairdresser.

Having had her hair cut shorter, washing it became much easier.

Youyou flipped through the calendar every day and kept making a mark on the dates, feeling that the baby's due date was too far away. There were still two months to go.

The pregnancy period was rather boring throughout. She had nothing to do on most days, so she would put her hands over her belly and talk to the little guy in it. "Yueyao, oh Yueyao, can you come out quickly?"

When she was five months pregnant, the fetal movements became more obvious.

Once, when Yun Shishi was listening to music on the sofa, she felt the fetal movement and immediately tugged on Mu Yazhe's sleeve saying, "The little guy is naughty again!"

She complained, "You're already so restless in my belly, I can't imagine when you grow up! You'll definitely be a mischievous kid!"

The man curled his lips into a smile as his gaze fell on her round belly. To his surprise, he saw a movement under her skin, and then the shape of a small claw appeared. It looked like a child's tiny hand. He couldn't help being amazed. In the recent months, he had been interacting with the little one, often hugging her belly and talking to his daughter inside. He told her to behave herself and not be naughty.

However, inwardly, he was hoping that his daughter would be mischievous so that he could listen to her movements more. But, this was the first time he had seen such a magical thing happening.

He immediately stretched out his finger and poked at it lightly. The little claw retracted at once, as if it had been frightened by something. After that, it stopped moving!

He had asked the doctor before. In the later stages of pregnancy, the fetal movements would become more obvious. Sometimes, the little girl would even perform somersaults inside.

Of course, the somersault was an exaggerated analogy, but it was a fact that the fetal movements were becoming more and more obvious.

Mu Yazhe sighed inwardly. It turned out that giving birth was such a magical thing!

He was increasingly looking forward to the arrival of this little treasure!

Chapter 3032: The Love Of Your Life (3)

He was increasingly looking forward to the arrival of this little treasure!

However, Lu Jinyu and Jiang Shen would often whisper in his ear that abstinence after getting pregnant was only the start. There was a whole bunch of activities not allowed and food to be avoided. And after giving birth and following the confinement period, there would be a long period of breastfeeding.

As a new father, he would have to wake up late at night to feed and change the diapers for the child. In short, there were countless chores.

Even then, his anticipation for the little princess did not waver at all.

Sour grapes!

How could he possibly take these two old bachelor's words to heart!

However, the abstinence after getting pregnant was indeed quite painful.

When the little princess grew up, there would be yet another pair of prying eyes at home.

Mu Yazhe unenthusiastically thought ahead to a likely future when there would be another person at home whom he had to be wary of, when he should wish to get intimate with his wife. It would be hard for them to enjoy a peaceful time together.

Although it was said that intimacy was not a problem, as long as one was careful and things were not too intense, it would not cause any harm.

However, Mu Yazhe always felt that it was a little awkward to do that sort of thing during pregnancy, especially when he thought of the little princess inside her belly.

Sometimes, he could not help himself and could not help but misfire. Yun Shishi's heart ached for him and even offered to comfort him with her hands, but he refused.

The man said righteously, "Your daughter will hear the commotion."

Yun Shishi's face turned red, hearing about what he thought!

Where did that come from!?

Jiang Shen said, "If I were you, I'd have waited for Little Youyou to grow up a little more. Look, he's so capable at home and at work. He'd be really good at helping out with caring for a child."

This gave Mu Yazhe an idea and he then set his sights on Youyou. Hence, for the past two months, he made the kid learn how to prepare milk and took him to watch parent-child-related programs.

Of course Youyou knew what his father was up to!

Wasn't it obvious the man was counting on him to take care of the new baby?!

However, he'd be quite glad if it were a younger sister. But even if it were a younger brother, then so be it!

For the sake of his younger sister, he put in considerable effort, so that when his little sister finally arrived, he would be prepared and not be flustered.

Sometimes, while walking with Little Yichen along the streets, they'd see many pretty lolitas, and they would pay extra attention.

Youyou proudly snorted. "I'm quite sure my little sister is going to be much cuter than her!"

Little Yichen added, "Since Daddy and Mommy have such strong genes, our little sister will definitely be the best-looking girl in the world!"

"Pregnancy is so torturous! It's only been eight months, and there are still two more months before my little sister arrives! I'm going nuts thinking of her!"

"What?"

Little Yichen was amused. "You make it sound like I haven't waited for eight months!"

Youyou added, "After Little Sister arrives, we'll be looking forward to her growing up next!"

Little Yichen said, "I'm not looking forward to that! How great would it be if Little Sister never grows up! That way, I can always carry her in my arms and dote on her!"

Youyou complained, "Who doesn't grow up? Our sister will definitely grow up! Then, a man like Daddy will appear and take her away like how he took Mommy away..."

With that, he sighed dejectedly. "Then, we'll marry our younger sister off, just like how we married Mommy off!"

Just thinking about it made their hearts ache!

Chapter 3033: The Love Of Your Life (4)

Just the thought of it was enough to make their hearts ache! It was as though he was at his sister's wedding and watching that slender and elegant figure holding onto a man's arm and walking into the wedding hall.

Little Yichen was also depressed by his words. He said, "I will protect my sister and ensure she doesn't end up with a bad man! At the very least, he has to be better than Daddy. Only a man like myself can marry my sister!"

"You're not even as good as Daddy. The man has to be like me!"

"No way! He has to be like me!"

"No way! He has to be like me!"

The two of them argued all the way home. When they reached home, their eyes met. When they saw each other blushing, they could not help being amused!

For the past few days, Yun Shishi had been feeling unwell. Walking and moving around with her big belly gave her a backache. The doctor prescribed calcium supplements for her, she was to take two pills a day. It was also suggested that she should get up and about after her meals. He said that it was appropriate exercise to assist a smoother birth process.

Every time they took a walk, it made everyone in their little family of four nervous.

After all, she lost her sight, and every step she took was nerve wracking and on tenterhooks, with fear that she would fall or walk into something. Mu Yazhe supported her like the empress dowager. Hua Jin complained that his appearance reminded him of the eunuchs who served the empress dowager in ancient times.

Mu Yazhe's expression changed instantly when he heard this.

Youyou even enthusiastically called him 'Little Zhezi', instantly cracking Yun Shishi up!

It's said that after getting pregnant, a woman gets treated differently, her status would rise significantly.

Why else would people say that it's only during pregnancy that a woman enjoys the treatment reserved for an Empress Dowager?

Yun Shishi thought sourly. Although the days of pregnancy were rather boring, once the child was born, she would immediately transform from an Empress Dowager to a nanny and her days would revolve around the child.

Fortunately, she had had some experience. After all, she was the one who raised Youyou, so she was confident in taking care of the child.

On the other hand, Mu Yazhe was rather worried about the child's arrival!

He had a strong sense of responsibility, and as the baby's arrival neared, he was worried about not being able to do a good enough job of taking care of the little princess. This would be bad.

Youyou said that he was confident of taking good care of his sister, but if that were the case, it could turn out that she would only be close to him growing up.

When Mu Yazhe heard this, of course he was unwilling. Hence he took the time to learn more about bringing up children.

Sometimes, he would even try brewing soup for her.

Little Yichen had once used the phrase "not fit for human" to describe his father's culinary skills. However, as long as one has determination, nothing is ever too difficult. Mu Yazhe painstakingly honed his culinary skills, and gradually, the soup he brewed did improve.

Before presenting it to Yun Shishi, the soup had to go through Youyou's "poison test".

After drinking a mouthful of the hot soup from the previous few times, Youyou had frowned and made him discard it. On the fourth try, the boy finally commented, "Although it's a little bland, at least it's passable enough to have Mommy drink it! Daddy, it's a great improvement!"

Mu Yazhe, who was covered in grease and smoke from the cooking, finally looked proud of his efforts.

He carried the soup to Yun Shishi and observed her as she finished it in one gulp. He smiled but did not say anything. His heart was content as he looked at her dotingly.

Then, he asked in all seriousness, "Does it taste good?"

Although Yun Shishi felt that the soup tasted a little bland, she could not dampen this man's enthusiasm, so she said, "It's delicious!"

Chapter 3034: The Love Of Your Life (5)

"Delicious!"

"I'm asking my daughter."

“...” Yun Shishi was almost tempted to roll her eyes!

Before they realized it, the baby’s due date was just round the corner.

Yun Shishi’s belly had ballooned. Describing her hugely swollen belly with the term “big” was an understatement. In Youyou’s words, Yun Shishi’s belly seemed to be hiding a ball.

Little Yichen naively fantasized, “Will two sisters pop out at once?!”

Yun Shishi broke out in a cold sweat upon hearing that. Youyou nodded his head in agreement.

He explained, “Twins seem to run in our family! Look, Mom and Uncle are twins and they gave birth to us. Given his, it shouldn’t be surprising if twins do pop out!”

Little Yichen was so happy that he clapped his hands. “That’s great! Mommy might have two little sisters in her belly! That way, you and I won’t have to fight over them! You get one and I get the other!”

Yun Shishi laughed when she heard their exchange. “You guys treat your sister like a toy!”

Youyou and Little Yichen chuckled.

Yun Shishi dashed their hopes. “You can stop dreaming. There’s only one little sister in my belly. That’s what the doctor said after the ultrasound scan, so don’t hold on to fantasies that that you shouldn’t have!”

“Sob...”

The two little lads almost wept with disappointment.

Into the ninth month of pregnancy, Yun Shishi’s sufferings were not insignificant. She could no longer have a peaceful night’s sleep. As her appetite was rather poor, she could not eat much at dinner time. Mu Yazhe would coax her to eat some fruits, but at night, she’d be hungry again. She’d wake up from feeling hungry, yet would have no desire to eat.

Sometimes, she didn’t wake up from hunger, but from cramps in her legs.

Her legs were a little swollen and her steps were weak.

Sometimes, when she was lying on the bed, Mu Yazhe would massage her legs. A massage that was neither too heavy nor too light, and it was a relief for her.

She felt extremely guilty.

After all, as the CEO, it was not an easy job to manage such a huge corporation. He had to rush to the office early every day and rush home after settling business matters. He also had to attend regular checkups and learn how to take care of the child. His life was kept very busy because of her.

Although she could not see, she could clearly feel and compare this to the first time she was pregnant. Having the man around gave a great sense of bliss throughout her pregnancy.

Gradually, she had become rather lazy and did not like to go for walks anymore.

Mu Yazhe, on the other hand, kept a close watch on her. Hence her daily after-meal walks became an inevitable activity.

The doctor speculated that the due date would fall in mid-November, and as it drew closer, Mu Yazhe could not help but become nervous. After a long period of anticipation, they finally managed to safely enter the due period. Naturally, the next twenty days would be critical.

He took care of her even more meticulously. About ten days or so before her due date, he booked a special ward at the OBGYN Hospital and arranged for her to be admitted.

When Gong Jie learned that Yun Shishi's due date was approaching, he tied up the loose ends for his work at hand and rushed over. He stayed at the hospital to accompany her every day, waiting for the little princess to arrive.

However, just as the due date was approaching, a small accident happened.

On this day, at the shareholders' meeting, Min Yu received a call from the hospital saying that Yun Shishi's water broke.

Her water broke!?

How could that happen?

Chapter 3035: The Love Of Your Life (6)

Mu Yazhe was at a loss. There were still a few days before her due date, and the doctor said that a premature birth was not likely. It was only with this assurance that he had returned to the office to settle some work. But now they're saying her water had broken? How did that happen prematurely?!

He left the office and drove to the hospital anxiously. Just as he arrived at the entrance of the delivery room, a few doctors walked out. He rushed forward and grabbed one doctor's collar, asking, "Where is she? Has she given birth?"

"Chairman Mu, calm down! How can one give birth so quickly?!"

He turned around and realized that there was a group of people waiting at the door.

Gong Jie, Hua Jin, and Xiao Xue had also rushed over after receiving the news. Youyou and Little Yichen stood by the side, guilt written all over their faces.

Hua Jin had not informed anyone else, as he had no time to do that, as well, he thought that overcrowding would cause inconvenience.

The group stood at the door of the delivery room, discussing the situation anxiously. They were worried but also eagerly anticipating!

Mu Yazhe could feel a headache coming on. He questioned the doctor, "Isn't it still days to the due date? Why did the water break?"

The doctor's lips twitched as he thought to himself, 'Shouldn't you be asking your wife that question?'

It turned out that Youyou and Little Yichen were afraid that Yun Shishi would be too bored, so they switched on the television and tuned into talk shows to help ease the boredom.

However, this episode's talk show was simply too hilarious. Yun Shishi listened to the content with relish. When she heard a certain joke segment, she laughed too hard and broke the amniotic fluid.

When the water broke, Gong Jie was dumbfounded. He could not figure out what was going on!

He scrambled for a doctor, who explained that the amniotic fluid had broken early.

As such, the two boys could only shrink into a corner guiltily.

Since the water was broken, they could perform a premature delivery. Fortunately, the due date was not too far away. It was not a big deal, but they needed to induce the delivery.

The doctor pushed her into the waiting area and gave her a catalyst for delivery. After an internal checkup, Yun Shishi was in excruciating pain.

Internal examinations were rather painful. Yun Shishi had experienced it once before, but had almost forgotten what they felt like after so many years. Now that she had suffered it again, she instantly regretted it!

According to Hua Jin's description, her screams during the internal checkup sounded worse than pigs being slaughtered.

It is said that a woman's temper is most explosive during childbirth. Yun Shishi pointed at him and complained, "Hua Jin! How dare you gloat over my misfortune? How dare you claim that I sound like a pig being slaughtered? I'll won't let you off, just you wait till I've delivered!"

The doctor then gave her some medicine saying that her dilation was only two fingers wide. She had to wait till the dilation was ten fingers wide before she could be taken to the delivery room.

As for the internal examination, the doctor would use his fingers to examine the cervical opening.

Just as she was done with the internal checkup, Yun Shishi heard a shrill scream from a mother-to-be in the delivery room next door. "I want a cesarean section! I want a cesarean section! I don't want a natural birth! Ahhh—"

Yun Shishi shuddered when she heard this.

Although this was not the first time she had experienced childbirth, she still felt a sense of desolation when she recalled the pain of labor!

Just as she was on tenterhooks, another pregnant woman was pushed into labor. She was in so much pain that she kept changing positions. She would kneel, stand, lie down, and wail.

Yun Shishi became increasingly disheartened at the thought of how unbearable the next ten hours would be!

The entire world seemed to have turned dark!

It was said that giving birth was like walking through the gates of hell. Even though medical science is advanced nowadays, the pain of childbirth is still an inevitable.

Chapter 3036: The Love Of Your Life (7)

When Mu Yazhe entered the waiting room, he saw Yun Shishi lying on the bed in a very strange position. She had her hands around her swollen belly and was groaning in pain. Her face was covered in a sprinkling of perspiration as if she was trying her best to suppress the pain.

Seeing this, he felt an indescribable pain in his heart.

Previously, he had read a lot of information and it was said that it was especially painful for a woman to give birth. In a woman's life, the greatest pain is childbirth, all other pain is simply fleeting in comparison!

There was an employee in the company who suffered massive bleeding during childbirth. It was so painful she thought she'd die.

He walked up to the bed and sat down on it. When Yun Shishi turned and realized that it was him, she immediately started complaining, "Mu Yazhe! It's all your fault! If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have to suffer like this! It's all your fault!"

Mu Yazhe's gave an awkward laugh, it wasn't an elegant smile but it did look apologetic!

Yun Shishi was most indignant when she heard him laugh, she said gloomily, "What are you laughing at?! You have the cheek to laugh! I'm about to die from the pain..."

The man's heart ached as he gently caressed her cheeks. The expression in his eyes was tender. Naturally, as a man, he did not argue with her now that she was about to give birth. Even if she rebuked him, he would accept it.

"If you feel better scolding me, then go ahead."

Yun Shishi was stunned for a moment. Then another bout of contractions came. The corner of her eyes twitched in pain as she narrowed them. The thought of the grievances and sufferings she had had to put up with in the past nine months made her angry.

"Hmph! I don't want to have a baby anymore!"

Mu Yazhe coaxed her, "Alright, alright. Let's not have a baby anymore!"

"I'm serious! I want to go home! You can have a baby by yourself, I'm not having one!"

"Okay, okay. I'll have a baby by myself, I'll do it."

His response only made Yun Shishi even angrier. Feeling really upset now, she started crying, "I don't want to give birth anymore. It hurts..."

At this point, she couldn't care less about being reserved and started wailing, "I really don't want to give birth anymore..."

At this point in time, how could she possibly get out of having a baby?

Mu Yazhe was both angry and amused, but coaxed her patiently, "Bear with it. Bear with it and it'll pass!"

He could understand her anxiety and uneasiness, but his heartache aside, he was more than willing to bear all her pain if he could, however, he was helpless.

After all, he was a man and did not have such an ability.

"Standing... it's so easy to talk while standing! This is all your fault!"

Yun Shishi stroked her belly, feeling extremely wronged. "This lass is really worrisome. She's been kicking up a fuss in my belly for a few days, but now that the time has come for her to come out, she refuses to!"

A nurse who was passing by remarked, "Your cervix has dilated only the width of two fingers. You have to endure for a while longer. The process will hasten once it has dilated to a width of five fingers! The pain now is because of contractions. Bear with it!"

After saying that, she hurried off.

Yun Shishi let out a muffled groan. Yet another person spoke without a care!

Mu Yazhe let out a soft laugh and lowered his head to kiss the corner of her lips. He said gently, "Honey, try to behave. When our daughter arrives, I'll help you teach her a lesson and smack her butt!"

"Would you bear to, when she finally arrives?"

As she spoke, she felt another strong wave of contractions and convulsions. She almost screamed in pain.

It was fine when it didn't hurt, but when her uterus contracted, the pain made her want to scratch the wall!

It was simply killing her!

Yun Shishi was in so much pain that she smashed her head against the wall. Mu Yazhe hurriedly protected her and chided, "What are you doing?!"

"Just let me pass out! It won't hurt if I pass out!" she said boldly.

He asked, "How are you going to give birth if you pass out?"

Chapter 3037: The Love Of Your Life (8)

Passing by the delivery room yesterday, she heard the people inside crying and screaming. She had made a joke out of it, but in the blink of an eye, it was her turn!

How was this childbirth?

This was death row!

Her contractions were especially intense. She was in so much pain that her eyeballs couldn't move. She was moaning on the bed, and Mu Yazhe, who was standing guard by her side, was even more nervous!

Outside the door, Gong Jie and the others were waiting anxiously as well. They were not allowed to enter and could only stare at each other.

This was especially so for Gong Jie. He was so anxious that he had summoned all the gynecologists in the hospital. A group of people in white coats came over and checked again. They said that her cervix was not fully dilated yet.

Not fully dilated yet?

Gong Jie got more anxious. He grabbed the doctor's collar and asked, "When can she deliver?"

The doctor was so terrified that he couldn't speak properly. He explained that every woman's physical makeup was different, so he couldn't be sure.

As the day dragged on, another few hours passed. In the blink of an eye, it was evening. Yun Shishi was in so much pain that she was about to collapse, but there was no sign of the baby.

The contractions became more and more frequent. Gradually, from ten minutes to three to five minutes.

The nurse told her to rest for a while and save her energy. If she indeed had to give birth later, she might not have the energy for the push and that would be troublesome.

She thought to herself, I want to sleep too, but I can't sleep.

Mu Yazhe remained patient and silently prayed for his daughter to arrive soon. He even leaned close to his wife's belly and said to the child, "Yueyao, come out quickly. Don't torment your mommy anymore."

Yun Shishi her teeth in exasperation.

What's the use of that!

Later that night, after another internal examination, the nurse shook her head and said that the dilation was only three fingers wide.

What!?

After all that time, it was only three fingers wide!?

Yun Shishi literally passed out from anger at this stage. When she woke up, she realized that Mu Yazhe still guarding by her side in the waiting room.

She did not know how she had fainted. She even suspected that she had passed out from the pain.

Xiao Xue, who was outside the door, was also very nervous. When dinner time came, she ordered takeout, but no one had the appetite to eat. They all stared at the waiting room nervously, afraid that they would miss even a second of the event.

At eight o'clock in the evening, Yun Shishi had her most intense wave of contractions. She was in so much pain that she wasn't thinking straight. In her daze, she saw a few nurses coming in and out, and then someone came to give her a prenatal checkup. The person then said excitedly, "The cervix is now the width of seven fingers! We can enter the delivery room now!"

The nurse then asked Mu Yazhe, "Sir, are you going to accompany your wife to give birth?"

Mu Yazhe nodded without hesitation. "Of course! I wish to accompany her."

"Okay, come with me then, to change into a sterile outfit."

...

Mu Yazhe turned around and held Yun Shishi's hand tightly. Smiling, he said, "Madam, wait for me, hm? I'll be right back to accompany you."

"Okay..."

She nodded weakly, and he turned to leave.

A few minutes later, a few nurses walked in and pushed her into the delivery room. Only then did she regain some consciousness.

However, the cervix was still in the process of dilating and every minute and every second was pure torture.

When Mu Yazhe walked in after changing his clothes, he saw her lying on the bed. Because she had been struggling, her face was extremely haggard, her hair was in a mess, and her clothes were disheveled. He was stunned for a few seconds before he came to his senses. He walked to her side and held her hand tightly, his heart aching for her.

Chapter 3038: The Love Of Your Life (9)

When Mu Yazhe walked in after changing out of his clothes, he saw her lying on the bed. Because she had struggled, her face was extremely haggard, her hair was in a mess, and her clothes were disheveled. He was stunned for a few seconds before he came to his senses. He walked to her side and held her hand tightly, his heart aching for her.

She called out his name in pain. "Mu Yazhe..."

"I'm here."

"Hubby..."

"I'm here."

"Hubby, I'm in so much pain I don't think I can make it..."

His heart ached terribly. "What do you mean you don't think you can make it? My wife is the best."

"I don't want to give birth anymore... Boohoo..."

She felt utterly defeated.

Mu Yazhe's heart was aching so much that his eyes reddened. He turned around and grabbed the nurse. "My wife said she doesn't want to give birth anymore! She's in so much pain. Is there any way you can help?"

The nurse said, "Hold on."

Then, she turned around and left. After a while, the nurse brought the delivery ball over. It was a ball about half the height of Youyou. It was very elastic and looked like a yoga ball, only larger.

She said, "Help your wife sit on this ball and squeeze it a few times. That will help open the cervix."

Mu Yazhe nodded and helped Yun Shishi to sit on the delivery aid. He supported her body and held her steadily.

In the past, this sort of thing would truly be too childish for this man, and he would absolutely not do it.

But now, he was willing to pay any price to help stop this torment as soon as possible.

Yun Shishi was tortured by another wave of intense pain.

The pain at this point was not like before!

It was as if two of her bones were being separated bit by bit. She was in so much pain that she desperately grabbed his arm while her other hand was like a cat's paw, desperately scratching at whatever she could reach.

Mu Yazhe's heart ached even more as he watched her going crazy from the pain!

Especially when he saw that her nails were now broken and embedded into her flesh because of the scratching, his felt even more distressed.

He suddenly stretched out his arm and said, "If it hurts, bite me. Don't torture yourself like this!"

Feeling aggrieved, Yun Shishi hugged his arm. She opened her mouth to bite it, but she could not bear to use force.

When the nurses saw this, especially when they saw the heartache in Mu Yazhe's eyes, they felt warmth in their hearts.

In this delivery room, there were many husbands who accompanied their wives to usher in their babies. However, most of them would stand rooted to the ground like a block of wood. There were even some men who were impatient and full of complaints. When dealing with their wives, they did not have anything good to say. They only said, "Bear with it! Bear with it!"

When the women gave birth, many men were shocked by the scene. Some of them couldn't accept it and ran out.

But this man was different.

They could see that his heart was aching for her.

Gradually, Yun Shishi could not take it anymore and wanted to lie down. The nurse came over to take a look and said that it was about time, so she helped her to lie on the bed.

Lying on the maternity bed, the pain engulfed her. Yun Shishi felt as if she was struggling on the sea and was about to drown. Waves came one after another, and the world was spinning.

“Push hard...”

The nurses rushed forward and surrounded Yun Shishi anxiously. Mu Yazhe held her hand tightly by the bed and encouraged her, “Shishi, you can do it. She’ll be out soon...”

Then, he followed the nurse’s instructions and stuffed a piece of chocolate into her mouth.

Yun Shishi felt her abdomen tighten as if something was being pulled from inside her. Two bones that were originally joined together were being forcefully pulled apart. She seemed to be begging the little guy in her belly to come out quickly...

Chapter 3039: The Love Of Your Life (10)

At midnight, after four hours of struggling in the delivery room, while outside, Gong Jie and the two little guys were anxiously pacing along the corridor, they heard a long and crisp cry coming from the delivery room!

Stunned, Gong Jie rushed to the door and peered inside excitedly. Soon, a nurse walked to the door and said with relief, “Alright! Alright! Mother and daughter are fine! Mother and daughter are fine!”

“Wow!! Little sister! Little Sister has arrived!”

The beloved little princess of the Mu family had finally come into this world!

Gong Jie was inexplicably excited when he heard that. He immediately carried Youyou and Little Yichen up in his arms as he laughed like a child.

Youyou humored him. “Uncle’s beloved niece is finally here! You’ve waited so long, but it’s not for nothing!”

When Yun Shishi was pregnant, they were separated by a vast ocean. Gong Jie often video-chatted with her, and just like Mu Yazhe, he would talk to her belly seriously, saying, “Yueyao, it’s uncle! We’ll be able to meet in a few months! Uncle will be waiting for your arrival!”

Hence, knowing that Yun Shishi was about to give birth, Gong Jie flew over. Unfortunately though, Yun Yecheng could not be present at such an important occasion.

He was still unable to move around and could not be taken off his breathing mask. Hence, it was impossible for him to witness this event for himself.

Xiao Xue was also over the moon. She hugged Hua Jin without any reservations and laughed hysterically.

Hua Jin had waited all day outside the delivery ward. Having learned that mother and daughter were fine, he finally heaved a sigh of relief.

“Aiyo! It’s a little princess, so pretty!”

The nurse carried the baby and wiped its body clean. She took its footprints and weighed the baby. The girl weighed all of six pounds and nine ounces. After a series of tests, she was declared healthy. She opened her chubby paws and cried loudly. Her voice was bright and clear.

She was wrapped in swaddling and carried to the man who was standing guard by the bed.

Yun Shishi was exhausted after giving birth. Her clothes were drenched in perspiration.

Mu Yazhe’s heart ached for her and kept giving her kisses. He was smiling, however his eyes were bloodshot and moist!

“Shishi, I love you.”

He didn’t seem to tire of giving her little kisses and although she didn’t have the energy to respond, she could hear his mellow voice choking with emotion. Her nose became a little stuffy too!

“I love you too!”

Mu Yazhe sighed inwardly.

Pregnancy is such a miracle!

They had once again created an adorable little human. It was different from the first time she was pregnant. This time, he had walked the whole journey with her. And the most fortunate thing was that he had personally witnessed this moment!

Thank the heavens!

Both mother and daughter were safe!

“Sir, look, your daughter is so beautiful! She’s a newborn, but she has a head of glossy black hair.”

Mu Yazhe carefully took the child from the nurse’s arms. Finally was meeting the baby who had spent nine months in her mother’s womb. His expression was sincere and solemn, even a little nervous.

Even though he usually looked like he was in control and always had a calm and composed expression, he was now rather flustered as he hugged the child, worried that he’d be inadequate!

Until... a magical thing happened!

For some reason, the child stopped crying in his arms.

He looked at his daughter, who, like Little Yichen, had a red and wrinkled face. The nurse said that she was pretty, but he found her quite ugly!

Chapter 3040: The Love Of Your Life (11)

Just like Little Yichen, she was born with a red and wrinkled face. The nurse said that she was pretty, but he found her quite ugly!

However, he knew that the child is a newborn who had yet to grow up!

Although, just by looking at the child's eyebrows, one could tell that she'd be very pretty when she grew up, just like both Little Yichen and Youyou.

At this point, the child suddenly stopped crying. My Yazhe looked up nervously and asked, "Why isn't she crying?"

The nurse smiled and said, "This is also the first time we've seen something like this! When we carried her, she was crying so hard! Why did she stop crying the moment you carried her!"

"Probably telepathy between father and daughter!?"

"Sir, don't worry. We've given the baby a check-up and she's very healthy!"

Only then did My Yazhe feel more settled. It was good that the baby was in good health!

His contentment grew as he looked at the chubby little angel in his arms. There was a loving smile on the doting father's face, and he appeared more relaxed now.

As he smiled, the corners of the child's lips curled up slightly as if she was smiling too.

Feeling surprised, he carried the child to Yun Shishi and said gently, "Wifey, look, Yueyao is smiling!"

Yun Shishi held onto the handrail of the maternity bed with all her might and sat up slightly. She suddenly smiled weakly and said, "I can't see..."

Mu Yazhe felt upset when he heard this.

"Can I touch her?"

The nurse said, "Yes, of course."

Hence, she reached out and touched the child's slightly curled lips. She was surprised. "Eh? She's really smiling!"

Worried that she would not have the strength to sit herself up, he brought the child nearer so that she could be close to her.

Yun Shishi was overwhelmed with emotions!

When she first found out that she was pregnant, she was caught off guard. She thought that the two clowns, Youyou and Little Yichen, were already more than a handful!

However, with the arrival of this little fellow now, she was filled with endless emotions. She could not help but tear up. Suddenly, she felt that this was well worth all the pain she had suffered!

All the sufferings was worth it as long as her child was born healthy!

"How adorable!"

Her maternal instincts were triggered at once. She reached out to carry the child as well. Mu Yazhe carefully watched over her, but he realized that although she was exhausted, she was still holding the child steadily. This was probably the power of motherhood!

“Yueyao, you’re finally here! Daddy and Mommy have been waiting for you for a long time!”

As Yun Shishi spoke, she gently kissed the corner of the baby’s brows.

She touched the child’s eyes. They couldn’t open at this point, but her lashes were long, thick, and a little perky. In that respect, she resembled her father.

In her warm embrace, the child suddenly opened her mouth and moaned. Her little mouth moved and she instinctively wanted to suck on something!

The nurse was amused. “She wants milk!”

She asked, “Can she eat now?”

“There’s no hurry to feed her!... The little guy is so well behaved and doesn’t make a fuss. Most newborns will just keep crying!”

“You must be like Daddy in this aspect, right?”

Mu Yazhe’s face turned strangely red as he curled his lips in embarrassment!

“Stop it, Daddy is shy!”

Hearing the nurse’s comment, Yun Shishi smiled and said, “Hubby, you’re now a father again!”
