

Sweet Love 3041

Chapter 3041: The Love Of Your Life (12)

"Hubby, you're now a father again!"

He smiled, raised his hand, and gently caressed her cheek. His voice was full of emotions as he said, "Madam, you've worked hard!"

"Not really!"

Yun Shishi lowered her head again and blinked her eyes. She wanted to see the little princess more clearly, but her vision was blurry. Even though she could not see, she felt content and happy with the child in her arms. "As long as she can be healthy. I feel that all the pain and sufferings are worth it!"

"You must be tired? Why don't you take a rest?"

Mu Yazhe took the child from her arms so that she could have some rest.

Yun Shishi nodded and did not force herself. Although she was happy that she had delivered finally and wanted to carry the baby for a while longer, she was truly exhausted after the whole episode. Hence, she closed her eyes and quickly fell asleep.

When she woke up again, she found that arrangements had been made and she had been returned to the ward.

The next time she regained consciousness, she heard Gong Jie and Hua Jin arguing in the background. "Yueyao is smiling at me. This means that my niece and I have telepathy!"

Hua Jin emphasized, "Before you came over, she smiled when I held her hand!"

"Shut up!"

"It's true. You're the one who's being unreasonable!"

"You better believe it that I'll beat you up."

"...Yes. Yes I believe it."

"So then tell me, who do you think she's smiling at?"

"You."

Gong Jie's overbearing tone was a stark contrast to Hua Jin's bitter tone.

The child had already been sent into the room. Gong Jie and Hua Jin had rushed over excitedly to take a look at the little princess. Hua Jin, being the first to approach, grabbed Yueyao's hand. Then just as Yueyao curled her lips, Gong Jie came over and said in surprise that his niece was smiling at him.

Hua Jin made it clear that Yueyao was smiling at him and not at the man who had only just made an appearance.

Gong Jie did not take it sitting down of course, and his expression darkened!

Mu Yazhe, on the other hand, stayed by her bedside, holding her hand throughout. Although he wanted to accompany his daughter, Gong Jie, Hua Jin, Youyou, Little Yichen, and Xiao Xue surrounded the little princess. With so many people accompanying the little princess, his heart ached for his wife, so he naturally stayed by her side – she had suffered so much for their little princess!

As for the baby, there would be no lack of opportunities to spend time with her in the future!

But his wife had suffered so much, he naturally had to take good care of her.

Yun Shishi did not open her eyes, nor did she have the strength to do so. She had fallen asleep again.

Youyou looked at the little princess curiously. “Little Sister has such a wrinkled up face!”

Little Yichen remarked, “I was like this when I was born! My face was wrinkled and ugly!”

The boy cast him a sidelong glance. “You’ve seen yourself that way?”

“Of course I have!” Little Yichen said. “Daddy took a photo of me and even showed it to me! Ewww... so disgusting!”

Hua Jin was stumped. “Why would anyone describe themselves as ugly?!”

“But it’s true!” Little Yichen said aggrievedly. He then changed the topic and gloated. “However, Daddy said that I was only a newborn at that time and had not grown into my looks yet. But see how good looking I am now?! And Litter Sister will definitely be better looking than me!”

Youyou, who was standing by the side, glanced at him silently before voicing his venomous words. “Mmm... I just hope Litter Sister won’t be as thick-skinned as you.”

Little Yichen was belligerent when he heard this and complained, “You want to fight, right? What do you mean by thick-skinned? Is there something wrong with what I said?”

Chapter 3042: The Love Of Your Life (13)

“You’re not good looking.”

“Hehehe!”

Little Yichen, however, was not angry. Instead, he retorted, “We’re twins. If you say that I’m not good looking, aren’t you just saying you’re not good looking too, in a roundabout way?”

“I’m more charismatic than you. I’m a little gentleman!”

“I’m a little gentleman too!”

Gong Jie and Hua Jin had stopped arguing by now, but the two little guys continued their debate.

Gong Jie shushed them. “Lower your voice.”

“That’s right. If you wake the little princess up, are you going to feed her milk?” Xiao Xue asked.

Only then did the twins shut their mouths.

Gong Jie said, "I want to carry her."

Hua Jin replied, "You can't carry her. Shishi is still asleep and there's no one to feed the baby if she wakes up and starts crying. Besides, the nurse says that it's best to wait until the child wakes up from hunger before feeding her."

Little Yichen said, "When Little Sister was in Mommy's belly, she didn't drink milk for nine months. Wasn't she hungry?"

Everyone was speechless.

This question stumped Youyou, and Gong Jie didn't have an answer as well.

The group of people looked at Mu Yazhe in silence. Gong Jie finally said, "Brother-in-law, you are knowledgeable. Please answer this question."

Mu Yazhe suddenly felt like a bespectacled old professor, but at the same time, he also felt that this bunch of people before him were all like grown-up babies.

He wasn't going to entertain them.

Everyone was tactful enough to know that Mu Yazhe was not in the mood to bother with them now that his attention was focused on his wife!

The group of people looked at the little princess and couldn't bear to part with her. In their eyes, Little Yueyao was like a little angel bathed in the glow of holy light, waving her wings.

News of Yun Shishi giving birth was heavily guarded by Mu Yazhe's men, and the hospital was tightly surrounded. However, there were still many reporters who rushed over upon hearing the news.

Ever since she got pregnant, due to Mu Yazhe's thoughtfulness in protecting his wife, Yun Shishi had disappeared from the public eye for a long time. Fans had been curious and had hoping to hear news of her.

However, the reporters who had rushed over were stopped by the bodyguards at the door. They drove every single one of them away. Some of them were persistent and insisted on entering the hospital. They were immediately driven away by the bodyguards who smashed their cameras.

Mu Yazhe's rude attitude was only because he did not want the little princess to be exposed to the public. Naturally, he had to protect his daughter well!

These paparazzi did not dare to voice their anger. After all, with the huge Shengyu Group there, it was not as if they did not understand Mu Yazhe's methods. Naturally, they did not dare to voice their anger!

Some of Yun Shishi's close friends came to the hospital to visit her when they heard the joyous news.

However, at this moment, Youyou and Little Yichen were like door gods. No one could hug, kiss, or touch their little sister.

At most, they were allowed to take a few glances, exchange some pleasantries, and leave.

When Qin Zhou rushed over, he wasn't even allowed to enter because the little princess had woken up, and Yun Shishi was now carrying and feeding the baby in her arms! Being in a hurry as he had some matters to attend to, he wasn't able to catch Shishi, so he could only leave a few words with Hua Jin, give his blessings, and leave.

The moment Qin Zhou left, Jiang Shen and Lu Jinyu arrived with some fruits and tonics. Mu Yazhe shooed them away the moment they appeared.

Since he had not been in the office for the past few days, Jiang Shen and Lu Jinyu naturally had to stay in the office to help him deal with outstanding matters. They still had a lot of things to deal with, so they were asking for trouble sneaking off to the hospital!

Chapter 3043: The Love Of Your Life (14)

Jiang Shen felt that this was unfair and complained to his boss. "Can't we even visit the little princess?"

"Exactly! We're her uncles after all, so we really should visit!"

Mu Yazhe glared at Jiang Shen. "Has the acquisition of Ya Ge been sorted out?"

Jiang Shen looked away guiltily.

Mu Yazhe then questioned Lu Jinyu, "Have you signed up for Central Guangzhou's land shoot?"

Lu Jinyu coughed and cleared his throat. "Ahem..."

"Get lost!"

Lu Jinyu and Jiang Shen were dismissed and in a torrent of bitter tears, dejectedly returned to the office with their arms around each other's shoulders!

A week after Yueyao was born, she started to look different from when she was born. While her face was wrinkled before, now her skin was taking on a normal hue. It was white and tender, and looked very fragile!

Sometimes, when carrying Little Yueyao, Yun Shishi would sigh with emotion, "This is probably happiness, right?"

However, while there was joy, there were also times when one would feel rather crushed.

For example, when Little Yueyao would snuggle up in her embrace to enjoy the feeding, but perhaps because of extreme hunger, she would suck rather forcefully, as though trying to suck away her soul!

Mu Yazhe said that this little lady was like a greedy little kitten when it came to breastfeeding!

Yun Shishi felt that it was especially so, but... having the little one happily sucking away so aggressively was really quite painful!

Greedy child!

Youyou had never drunk milk this way when he was young. Unlike his little sister, he was reserved, quiet, and not so aggressive.

But then again, why else would there be a saying: “Using all the strength from the milk one drank when being breastfed as a baby”?

Ha ha!

The breast milk was magically attractive to an infant in swaddling clothes!

Whenever it was time for breastfeeding, he would carry the crying child into Yun Shishi’s arms. The child would instinctively burrow into her arms, accurately zoom in on her target, and then start to suck forcefully.

Youyou said that he had seen the little piglets sucking milk under the belly of an old sow on television. They had that same look of eagerness.

Well...

Although there were indeed similarities...

Mu Yazhe was the first to disagree, however.

“Who are you calling a little pig? Who is an old sow?”

Youyou laughed sheepishly and ran away.

“This kid deserves a beating!”

He immediately coaxed Yun Shishi, “Don’t you listen to him. You’re not an old sow at all.”

Initially, she thought that it was just a joke from a child. However, the more she listened to his serious explanation and coaxing, the more awkward she felt.

While she breastfed, he watched from the side with undivided attention, his eyes fixed on her. He moved closer and stared as the little princess’ lips rubbed against each other. He even felt himself gulp rather loudly.

Startled, Yun Shishi asked, “What was that sound?”

Why did it sound like someone gulping?

Mu Yazhe snorted with what seemed like displeasure. “Nothing!”

Mu Yazhe felt a little uncomfortable when he saw how well his little Yueyao was enjoying her food snuggled against Yun Shishi’s chest, occupying what was originally his own place!

Fortunately, it was a daughter this time round. If it had been a son, he would feel even more indignant!

But, perhaps it was because she was a little princess that he was happy to give her this privilege.

Yun Shishi was very much amused and asked, “What’s wrong?”

“Feeling greedy.”

She blushed and gave him a shove. “Hey! Don’t tell me... you want milk too?!”

“I do.”

Yun Shishi did not know if he was serious or just messing with her. She subconsciously covered her chest and glared at him. “Hey, don’t mess around! You have such a big appetite. If you finish it, what will Yueyao drink?”

Chapter 3044: The Love Of Your Life (15)

“Hey, don’t mess around! You have such a big appetite. If you finish it, what will Yueyao drink?”

“Pfft!”

Her serious expression caused him to snap out as he lightly scratched her nose and said, “I was only teasing you!”

Yun Shishi smiled and added, “I was teasing you, too!”

The two of them looked at each other and smiled, their love for each other evident in their eyes.

Outside the door, Youyou and Little Yichen sat on the bench. Even though the two children were still young, Mu Yazhe insisted that they stayed away when Yun Shishi was breastfeeding. His attitude was firm and would not tolerate any protests.

Youyou was indignant. “Hmph! Daddy is really petty.”

Little Yichen, on the other hand, said enviously, “I actually think that Little Sister enjoys drinking milk! Poor me, I grew up drinking milk powder!”

Youyou asked curiously, “What sort of milk powder were you given?”

His brother shook his head. “I don’t know... I knew nothing at the time. I was weaned at the age of three.”

“Oh, I’ll ask Daddy later.”

Little Yichen could not help feeling perplexed at his brother’s persistence in finding out the brand of milk powder. “You wish to drink milk too?”

“No.”

“Then why do you keep asking about the brand of my milk powder?”

Youyou said seriously, “It’s just to ensure that Little Sister will never be given that brand of milk powder.”

Little Yichen was astonished. "Why?"

"I wonder if you're so stupid because you drank this brand of milk powder."

Again, the boy was struck by his brother's venomous tongue. He slumped back in his chair, wanting to cry but unable to bring himself to do so. After all the time they had spent together, the boy had gotten very used to his brother's vicious tongue.

Ignoring Youyou, he clenched his small fists tightly as if he was swearing an oath. "From now on, with another woman in our family, I have to become stronger! Only then can I protect Mommy and my beloved Little Sister!"

Youyou said, "It would be good enough that you grow smarter, so that you don't take Little Sister down with you."

Feeling aggrieved, Little Yichen said, "Youyou, it hurts when you say things like that about me!"

"Since you know that you're the eldest brother, imagine how embarrassing it would be if Little Sister beats you at everything!"

Youyou continued, "In the future, when Little Sister goes to school, she'll bring her workbook to you to solve the questions. If you can't answer them, she'll despise you for sure."

Little Yichen let out a grunt, but he said, "Don't I have you? In the future, if Little Sister has any questions she can't resolve, she'll only need to look for you!"

"What about you?" Youyou gave him a look of disgust.

"Me?"

Little Yichen smiled smugly. "If anyone dares to bully Little Sister in the future, I'll let them have a taste of my fists!"

"...violent."

"How else?"

Unconvinced, Yichen put his hands on his hips. "If Little Sister were to get bullied, would your fancy little tricks be adequate?"

Youyou blushed guiltily. Indeed, his punches and kicks were not as solid as Little Yichen's. However, he did not know where his strange strength came from.

After Little Yueyao had her feed and settled down. Mu Yazhe opened the door and let the two little guys into the room. Youyou excitedly ran to the bed and strained his neck eagerly. "Mommy, Mommy! I want to carry Little Sister!"

Mu Yazhe said, "No!"

Youyou pouted at once and asked reluctantly, "Why?"

Chapter 3045: The Love Of Your Life (16)

Youyou pouted at once and asked indignantly, "Why?"

"What if your arms aren't strong enough to carry your sister and you end up dropping her?"

Little Yichen also came over and threw his arms open. "Mommy, let me carry her! I'll definitely do a good job. She'll be fine!"

Mu Yazhe grunted upon hearing this request, but he did not turn the boy down. Yun Shishi trusted him too, for he was taller and bigger than Youyou, hence he would be able to carry the little princess steadily. However, she still asked worriedly, "Do you know how to carry a baby?"

The boy nodded his head vigorously. "I know, I know! Auntie Yue taught me! And I did pay attention when she was teaching me!"

The method of holding a baby is also very particular. If the posture is wrong, the child would feel uncomfortable and cry loudly. Furthermore, newborn babies have very soft bones. If one were not careful, they might even get hurt.

Yun Shishi reminded him, "Then you must be gentle and careful."

"Uh huh!"

Little Yichen immediately walked over and solemnly took his little sister from Yun Shishi's arms. Youyou, who was standing by the side, could not help feeling envious. He was quite sure he could handle the baby but he was not allowed to!

"Biased! Biased! Daddy is biased! Mommy is biased too!"

He crossed his arms and sulked. Then he turned his head around and ignored all of them!

Yun Shishi smiled helplessly, only to hear Little Yichen suddenly whisper, "Little sister has opened her eyes! She's looking at me!"

Hearing this, Youyou's anger immediately dissipated. He quickly came over and saw that the little princess in Little Yichen's arms, had suddenly opened her eyes. She had a pair of large clear eyes with long and curly eyelashes. Her eyes were dark and shiny like black agate!

She blinked, clenched her tiny fists, and looked at Little Yichen. The corners of her eyes crinkled up, and her cherry lips parted to reveal a radiant smile!

Youyou's heart almost melted when he saw this. His face was flushed and he wished he could snatch little Yueyao into his arms to carry her.

However, this was just a thought!

Yun Shishi suddenly said, "This child doesn't seem to cry much? I've observed that most other newborns do cry in the middle of the night, but little Yueyao only cries when she's hungry! When the nanny changed her diaper, she was amazed as well. She said that this child loves to laugh and smile, it's quite amazing."

Mu Yazhe replied, "Just like you, she looks good when she smiles."

Little Yichen treated the baby like a treasure. As he carefully carried her, he had a surprise when her chubby little hand suddenly reached out and grabbed his collar. He had no idea that a baby could be this strong, as she gripped his shirt and tugged at it. Suddenly, her two little feet kicked him excitedly!

Youyou was terribly excited as he observed his sister's antics. He cried out and begged, "Daddy, let me carry her too? I'll sit on the bed and carefully carry her. I won't drop her!"

Seeing that he really wanted to carry the baby, Mu Yazhe nodded. "Alright!"

Thus, Youyou excitedly took Yueyao from Little Yichen's arms. He had also learned how to carry a child from the nanny, together with Little Yichen. This was the first time he held his sister in his arms. She was so small and soft that he was extremely gentle.

When little Yue Yao saw him, she seemed surprised. She widened her eyes slightly and looked at him curiously. Youyou stared at her gently, his heart filled with tenderness.

Chapter 3046: The Love Of Your Life (17) – Must-See Announcement

When little Yueyao saw him, she seemed surprised. She widened her eyes slightly and looked at him curiously. Youyou stared at her gently, his heart filled with tenderness.

He had been looking forward to the arrival of this little guy for a long time. He had always dreamed of having a little sister and had been in anticipation for a long time. In this regard he had also placed high hopes on Mu Yazhe, and sure enough, his daddy didn't disappoint by making him wait too long!

It had been more than a week since his sister was born, because most of the time she was quietly asleep. He rarely saw her open her eyes.

It was especially rare to see the baby smiling with her eyes wide open.

Once, he heard his daddy mention that his little sister loved to smile. When she smiled, her eyes were like a pair of crescent moons. This made him even more curious, but he never had the chance to see it.

Although he was not in good health and had needed more rest recently, he could not bear to go home when his sister was in the hospital.

Every time he reluctantly returned home and lay on the bed, the image of his younger sister, with her tiny tender face, would inevitably appear in his mind. His heart felt so full to the brim!

A voice kept repeating in his head, "Youyou, you finally have a little sister! From now on, you must be the best brother in the world! Make your sister the happiest little sister in the world!"

When Yun Shishi was pregnant, he and Little Yichen would solemnly make entries in their diaries, writing every night about how they were looking forward to the arrival of their sister.

When Jiang Li came to visit Yun Shishi, she even teased him, “When your little sister finally arrives, Daddy and Mommy will dote on her! They won’t dote on you anymore!”

Now that the policy allowed every family to have a second child, Jiang Li also wanted to have a second child, a son if possible, so that she could have a girl and a boy.

However, when she mentioned this matter to her daughter, her daughter was averse to the idea. She said that she did not want a younger brother or sister, and if Jiang Li were to have a second child, she’d run away from home!

Nowadays, most families had only one child, and in many cases, the child would be averse to the idea of a second child!

Initially, the family’s attention would have revolved around only one child. With the arrival of a second child, it simply meant that the younger child would take some of that attention and love away that used to all belong to the first child!

The eldest child would naturally be unwilling!

However, Youyou said, “Mommy will still dote on me after Little Sister is born!”

“Says who? Look, your sister is so adorable. Your mommy likes her so much that her love will no longer be exclusive to you and Little Yichen!”

Youyou smiled gently when he heard that. “It’s alright because it’s Little Sister!”

He lowered his head and looked at the crib. His heart seemed to be infused with boundless love and tenderness as he looked at this tiny newborn dotingly. He said gently, “Because it’s a little sister, it’s fine even if Mommy were to give her all the love that was meant for me! I’ll dote on her myself too, and be by her side as she grows up!”

Jiang Li looked at the boy in surprise, only to see a very gentle expression in his eyes. She was extremely touched by this child!

She said to Yun Shishi, “Shishi, you’re so fortunate to have these two caring little boys! I’m so jealous of you!”

Yun Shishi was also moved beyond words. In private, she had previously asked Youyou if he would be jealous when his little sister arrived and all the attention went to her.

However, the little fella said, “I love my Little Sister.. I should be happy that Mommy and Daddy dote on her. Why should I be jealous? Hmph! I’m not such a petty person!”

Chapter 3047: The Love Of Your Life (18)

The boy’s words warmed Yun Shishi’s heart!

At this point, Youyou felt even more emotional as he carried his little sister in his arms.

Every day since his sister was born, there had been constant changes. Even though these changes were minor, they were significant to the boy.

Now, the baby was gradually growing and forming. He lowered his head and gently sniffed. The little fellow still had the unique milky scent of a baby.

How fragrant!

Was he like this when he was young?

Youyou contemplated.

However, the moment he lowered his head, little Yueyao's nose suddenly wrinkled. Her beautiful brows knitted together tightly... an impending storm!

Little Yichen cried out in surprise when he saw her odd expression. The next second, her mouth opened and she started bawling!

“Wah—Wah—”

Startled by her crying, Youyou looked at her helplessly, not knowing why this had happened all of a sudden!

“Daddy! Why is Little Sister crying?!”

Mu Yazhe walked over, looking rather nervous as well. When he saw little Yueyao crying and her face was flushed red, he thought that she was feeling unwell and was puzzled.

He ventured a guess, “Could she be hungry?”

Yun Shishi, on the other hand, asked curiously, “How could it be? She's just been fed.”

Little Yichen said, “Could it be that she's wet herself? The nanny said that if she peed, she would feel uncomfortable and cry!”

Mu Yazhe placed little Yueyao on the bed and undid her diapers to take a look. The baby's tender butt was dry.

Little Yichen made an observation and smiled. “Has Daddy been changing Little Sister's diaper all this while? I see how skilled Daddy is at removing diapers!”

Yun Shishi replied, “Your daddy only changes your sister's diapers occasionally. Usually, it's the nanny who takes care of all that.”

“He looks very practiced!”

Little Yueyao was still crying non-stop. Mu Yazhe held her in his arms and tried all ways to coax her as he gently patted her. However, the little guy did not seem to care and continued to wrinkle her tiny face as if she had suffered a great grievance. She started to cry even harder.

Little Yichen walked over and said precociously, “I'll sing for Little Sister! She won't cry when she hears me sing!”

“Don’t!”

Mu Yazhe said nervously, “You’re tone deaf; don’t scare your sister!”

“I...”

Having suffered another blow, Little Yichen was stumped.

Why was it that his daddy was hitting out at him, just like Youyou!

He was hurt!

Just as the two boys were feeling disappointed, Yun Shishi said, “It’s probably because your sister doesn’t recognize you. After all, this is your first time carrying her!”

Little Yichen immediately said, “Little Sister didn’t cry when I carried her! Could it be that Youyou didn’t do a good job of holding her?”

“How is that possible?!”

Youyou felt a little uneasy. He did not know what happened, why his little sister would suddenly cry when she was fine just a short while before. His heart ached. “Could it be that she’s feeling unwell?”

“No! It’s probably because she doesn’t recognize you. She just needs to be coaxed.”

Mu Yazhe carried Yueyao and coaxed her. Strangely enough, the baby’s cries gradually weakened.

Everyone was amazed. Mu Yazhe patiently pacified the child for a long time. She lay in his arms with her eyes wide open and tears in her eyes, but she had stopped crying!

Even Youyou found it fascinating!

“She’s stopped crying!”

Youyou said, “Daddy, let me carry her again! I haven’t seen enough of Little Sister!”

Chapter 3048: The Love Of Your Life (19)

“Daddy, let me carry her again! I haven’t seen enough of Little Sister!”

Mu Yazhe nodded, but before Youyou could take over the baby, she wrinkled her nose and burst into tears again!

Youyou instinctively retracted his hand and retreated to the side. He stared at her innocently, and thought that he must have done something wrong. He looked rather lost as he stood there pinching the corner of his shirt!

Mu Yazhe looked at Youyou’s expression and, for some reason, felt his heart ache. He immediately tried to make the boy feel better, saying, “It’s because your little sister wants to sleep!”

“Is that so?”

Youyou, however, still felt sad. His sister did not seem to like him much!

Little Sister was fine when Little Yichen carried her; she was fine when Daddy carried her. But why did she cry so badly when it was his turn?!

He felt sad, dejected, and a little disappointed. He sat by the window and watched helplessly. His heart ached so much that his eyes started to redden!

Mu Yazhe finally managed to put his sister to sleep and placed her into the crib. Little Yichen leaned on the bed and watched, but Youyou did not dare to go near. He watched from afar, afraid that his sister would start crying again if he went near!

Gong Jie and Hua Jin knocked on the door and walked in. Hua Jin was holding a lunch box in his hand as he said, "Meal time!"

During this period when Yun Shishi had been hospitalized, Hua Jin and Gong Jie were at the hospital every day. Yun Shishi's meals were all prepared by Auntie Yue. Tonight, she had specially cooked white carp soup, claiming that it would improve the circulation of the spleen and expression of breast milk.

She drank it for two consecutive days and did not feel that it made any difference, but the fact was that the saying existed.

Of course, for Mu Yazhe, Gong Jie, and the others, they had to sort out their own meals.

Under normal circumstances, Mu Yazhe would not leave Yun Shishi's bedside, and when Gong Jie and Hua Jin went out for a meal, they would return with fast food for him. Sometimes, they would bring him a lunch bento, and sometimes, Hua Jin would cook.

Hua Jin had decent culinary skills, even Mu Yazhe had to acknowledge that so he sometimes would take the initiative to request for the man's cooking.

Youyou sat at the table gloomily. Holding his chopsticks, he looked at the sumptuous dishes but had no appetite.

When Gong Jie saw this, he could not help but tapped the boy on his nose. "What's wrong? Why do you look so unhappy?!"

"Uncle, does Little Sister cry when you carry her?"

Gong Jie was rather thrown off by the question and raised his brows, saying, "No. Yueyao doesn't cry much and especially likes to smile... Why are you asking this?"

The boy continued with another question. "What about Uncle Hua Jin?"

Hua Jin raised his hands to clutch his own face. "I... I haven't tried carrying her."

He wanted to carry the baby too, but the two men Mu Yazhe and Gong Jie, simply wouldn't let him.

Youyou felt even more dejected now.

"Little Sister cries really hard whenever I try to carry her!"

Hua Jin said, "Isn't it normal for little babies to cry and throw tantrums?"

“But they say that Little Sister loves to smile and rarely cries! Why does she cry whenever I try to carry her?”

Gong Jie ran his hand over his round face and said, “Try again next time! Maybe little sister is tired and wants to sleep! Babies at this age love to sleep. Don’t overthink things, okay?”

“Okay!”

Youyou initially thought that this was just a coincidence, so he did not think too much about it.

However, he did not expect this situation to repeat!

The next day, after Youyou arrived at the hospital, he waited till Auntie Yue had changed the little one’s diaper. Then he walked over and insisted again that he wanted to carry his little sister.

Seeing how persistent he was, Mu Yazhe, of course, understood the boy. Hence, he nodded.

Chapter 3049: The Love Of Your Life (20)

With his consent, Youyou was elated and took Yueyao into his arms. The little one, who was initially grinning broadly, did not react at first. However, after a short while, her expression started to turn stormy, just like the night before. After whimpering for a while, she blinked and two drops of tears formed!

Then very quickly, tears streamed down her cheeks, as she started to bawl loudly!

Youyou was caught off-guard. Looking into her wide open mouth, he could even see the quivering little fleshy bit deep in her throat!

“Wahhhhhhh!”

She cried so loudly that it shook the heavens and the earth. She even lifted her little foot and kicked his arm, kicking and kicking as if she despised him.

She was kicking with great force as well, causing Youyou to squirm in pain, but he dared not let go for fear of dropping his little sister.

Auntie Yue quickly took the child from him. After coaxing her for a long time, the child finally settled down in Yun Shishi’s arms!

Seeing this situation repeat itself, Youyou was extremely upset. He hid in a corner with his handsome brows slightly furrowed. Disappointment was written all over his face!

Yun Shishi could not see his disappointed expression, but Mu Yazhe could. He stood the boy before him and stared into his face. “What’s wrong? You don’t look happy?”

“Daddy...”

Youyou fiddled with his soft fingers aggrievedly. His eyes suddenly turned red, and his voice became choked with tears. “Does Little Sister not like me?”

Startled, Mu Yazhe frowned and said, "How can that be?"

"Little Sister must hate me! Otherwise... why would she cry whenever I carry her!"

Youyou sobbed as if he had suffered a great grievance. His tears fell at once. He raised his hand to wipe the tears from the corners of his eyes and sniffled. He was extremely sad!

He rarely cried and rarely showed the sort of helpless and flustered expression that was on his face now. He always looked calm and composed. It was probably because he was too upset, and a little afraid, that his thoughts started to run wild. He was worried that his sister really hated him, so he felt aggrieved.

Mu Yazhe had never been good at comforting others. Seeing how sad the little lad was, he could only pat his shoulder lightly, but that did not really achieve anything with the child.

Yun Shishi's heart ached when she heard that. She immediately said, "Youyou, don't let your thoughts run wild. Why would your little sister hate you?!"

"Then why does she cry whenever I try to carry her?"

Youyou was heartbroken as tears rolled down his cheeks. He was now crying even harder than Yueyao. "I don't want my sister to hate me! I like Little Sister so much; I thought she'd like me as her brother too!"

Mu Yazhe hugged him gently. Little Yichen stood beside him too, but he did not know how to comfort him.

At this point, Auntie Yue walked over and said with a smile, "Youyou, could it be that the smell of Chinese medicine on you is too strong? Although your sister is still young, her nose is very sensitive. Naturally, she won't like the smell of Chinese medicine!"

Upon hearing this, Little Yichen immediately leaned over to sniff at Youyou and nodded. "Hmmm, the smell of Chinese medicine is indeed a little strong!"

He had been drinking Chinese medicine the past few days.

"Is that really the case?" The boy stopped crying. He raised both arms and sniffed himself, but could not smell anything.

Because he had drunk Chinese medicine himself, his nose was already used to this smell and had become unconscious of it!

He had a weak heart and every season, if he did not take care of it, he would suffer palpitations.

Chapter 3050: The Love Of Your Life (21)

He had a weak heart and with every change of the season, if he did not take care, he would end up with heart palpitation. Hence, he had been drinking Chinese medicine for the past few days and had not missed a single dose.

People who took Chinese medicine would more or less have the smell of Chinese medicine on their bodies. They might not be able to smell it normally because if they kept their distance, the smell of the medicine would be very faint. However, if they were to come closer, one would be able to catch a whiff of it for sure.

Hence, Yueyao, who was in his arms, could smell it clearly, and that was why she resisted.

The child was still young and could not speak. Hence, she could only express her dissatisfaction by crying.

Auntie Yue only said that to comfort him so that he would not take this matter to heart. However, Youyou loved his sister dearly and kept this matter in mind.

When they got home that night, Auntie Yue brewed his medicine and placed it on the table. She called out to him, "Youyou, time for your medicine."

After Yun Shishi had given birth, Mu Yazhe had arranged for the best confinement center in the capital for Yun Shishi to go through her confinement period. While she was away from home, he hired a nanny to take care of the two children's daily lives.

Youyou walked over and took a look at the medicine. Suddenly, he recalled his sister's crying face and his heart ached again!

It was all the fault of this Chinese medicine.

He hated this medicine to the core.

However, although he felt this way, he did not show it on his face. Instead, he said to the nanny, "Auntie, I'll take it back to my room to drink."

"Okay, be careful, it's hot. It's fine to drink it after it cools!"

"Alright."

Youyou picked up the bowl of medicine and walked towards his room. The nanny reminded him from behind, "Be careful, don't spill it!"

"Okay, got it!"

Youyou carried the bowl of medicine back to his room and shut the door behind him. He lowered his head to take a sniff and frowned.

Indeed, Chinese medicine smelled terrible.

If not for the fact that he was used to the smell and drank it often since he was young, he probably would not have been able to stand the smell too.

Thinking of Yueyao, he hesitated for a moment, then walked to the bed and opened the window next to it. He brought the bowl of medicine to the window and poured all the medicine into the flower bed.

Being a rather street-smart child, he didn't empty the bowl completely, because every time he drank it, there would be a bit of medicinal dregs left. If he were to empty it all at once, it would raise suspicions.

After sitting in the room for half an hour, he walked out with the emptied bowl and placed it on the table. He said to the nanny, "I'm done!"

The nanny walked over with the clean clothes. She nodded without a second thought and said, "Leave it there. I'll wash up later!"

"Okay! Thank you, Auntie."

"Don't mention it!"

Youyou's thoughtfulness warmed her heart, so she did not realize the child had done something fishy behind her back!

Little Yichen was reading in the study room. He remembered what his younger brother had said a few days ago, so he worked hard at night. He took out his math book and racked his brains to do the sums.

Youyou entered the bathroom. During his shower, he used a lot more shower gel to wash himself, than he normally would. After he was done showering twice and dried his body, he took a sniff of himself. He was really worried, so he secretly applied some body lotion to ensure that he smelled nice. Only then did he change into his pajamas and enter the study room.

Little Yichen was still working out the sums when he suddenly saw a shadow fall over his exercise book.

He looked up blankly and saw Youyou, who had his hands on the table. The boy asked mysteriously, "Do I smell good?"
