

Sweet Love 3281

Chapter 3281: Sudden Changes (22)

The freighter slowly came to a stop.

As Gong Jie disembarked the ship, he saw Youyou standing at the harbor, looking at the castle in the distance, unable to take a step forward.

Perhaps it was a feeling of homesickness?

In any case, now that he was really here, he suddenly felt as though he could not go a step further.

Gong Jie turned around and saw that the boy was rooted to the ground, looking lost. The man was highly amused.

“Why? Afraid to see your grandfather?”

Youyou snapped back to his senses and curled his lips. “Why not? Rumor has it that Gong Shaoying holds a high position and is ruthless. Even though such a figure is my grandfather, I’d be afraid.”

“Are you really afraid?”

Gong Jie continued casually. “My little nephew is not afraid of anything. How could he be afraid of Grandpa?”

He walked over and picked the boy up in his arms. Scratching the bridge of his nose. “Don’t worry. It’ll be fine.”

Youyou finally made his worries known. “Uncle, what if Grandpa refuses to accept Daddy?”

“I’m here.” Gong Jie continued, “Speaking of which, you haven’t shown your face in the EITS task force.”

EITS. An abbreviation of Eye In the Sky, which was also Deva Eye.

There was a special team working on the Deva Eye Project, and he was one of them. The team comprised all kinds of smart and talented experts who had mastered cutting-edge research technology. The elites of each field were the treasures of the Hurricane Group.

Youyou had only interacted with them on the internet before. The ones he had the deepest impression of were the chief designers of the special team.

“Are they in the Hurricane Group too?”

“Of course. Apart from you, all members of the EITS team are stationed at the headquarters.”

Gong Jie added, “I’ll take you to meet them.”

“Alright.”

The large island was divided into five major areas. The Gong family’s residence was located centrally, while the other four areas were the medical center, research center, Hurricane Group headquarters, and the Deva Eye Special Unit.

The island was covered by an extensive invisible protective net. This protective information net, in addition to intercepting missiles, also prevented the location from being discovered by even the most precise radar.

In addition, invasion by outsiders would activate the protective mechanism over the entire island.

Although it was an island, one should not underestimate it. It used to be an important strategic fortress in M Nation. Now that it had been taken over by the Hurricane Group and was heavily guarded, no one could approach it.

The Special Investigation Unit was about half an hour's drive away. The car pulled to a stop in front of a magnificent building. Youyou alighted and found himself staring in amazement at the magnificent building before him.

"How grand!"

Gong Jie instantly found the stunned expression on the boy extremely adorable, and it put the man in a good mood. Ravaging the boy's tender little face, he said, "I like this look of wonderment on your face. It's as though you've not seen that much of the world."

"What!?" Displeased, Youyou slapped his large palm away and protested, "What do you mean I've not seen that much of the world!?"

"Alright, we're going in!" Gong Jie continued, "I'm curious what the team members would think when they see you."

"What do you mean?"

"Some people still don't believe that you're really only seven years old."

Youyou was dumbstruck.

What was there to not believe?

Gong Jie squatted down in front of him and asked mysteriously, "Do you know how old the youngest doctor with the highest degree is?"

Chapter 3282: Sudden Changes (23)

"How old?"

"23 years old!"

The boy rubbed his chin.

"Guerlain?"

Previously, he'd had some clashes in ideas with Guerlain.

The man had once doubted his Deva Eye plan and dismissed it as a cock-and-bull story that would not work. Furthermore, he made a long list of substantial reasons why it was not feasible.

Youyou was unwilling to admit defeat. He had proposed this plan only after careful consideration and calculation!

This thought was first conceptualized in the elevator. He and Mommy were taking the elevator together, when there was a slight malfunction in the elevator. When Mommy tried to make a call, there was no signal. It was impossible to dial out or send out a distress signal.

However, it was this insignificant incident that gave him an idea...

That if this world was also monopolized by a very powerful signal network that could be blocked by a transmitter, then it would mean that planes could be prevented from flying, communications could be interfered with, and missiles could be rendered useless.

We are in the age of information, where we are constantly part of the signal network.

So did that mean that whoever controlled this network would become the ruler of the future world?

When he proposed this idea, Guerlain immediately refuted.

He said it was impossible.

However, Youyou believed that although it was very difficult to implement, it could be done if he carried out this plan and continuously perfected it, the plan would take shape in the next ten years. After it was developed, it might not be far from being realized.

However, his idea was way too bold, and no one would dare to go along with it.

Youyou spent an entire night designing a blueprint for the signal transmitter and submitted it to the Hurricane Group's scientific discussion board. Guerlain was speechless after seeing it and agreed with the implementability of this plan. Further to this, Hurricane Group then quickly established the EITS special team.

The EITS team continuously recruited members and now, it had 25 top researchers.

However, the young kid who proposed this idea had been absent from the research and development project for a long time.

Prior to this, when Yueyao was born, coupled with his mommy's wedding, Youyou stopped bothering about the twenty-five team members. He was so busy with these two things that he completely forgot about the Deva Eye plan.

Just as Gong Jie was leading Youyou into the huge team office featuring a 5-meter high ceiling, a man in a black shirt walked towards the office entrance. He was holding an apple in his hand and had just taken a bite when he saw Gong Jie.

"When did you return to the headquarters?"

"What a coincidence." Gong Jie's lips curled into a smile as he held Youyou's hand and pushed him toward Guerlain. "Guerlain, let me formally introduce this child to you."

"A child?!"

Youyou lifted his head and sized up the man in front of him. The man was especially tall, with deep-set eyes. He was a classic handsome-looking European man. He had beautiful golden hair, dark blue pupils, deep-set eyes, and exquisite facial features. He was outstandingly dashing.

This man was Guerlain?

Guerlain took a bite of the apple and saw the young kid standing in front of him, looking at him curiously with his wide eyes. He returned the gaze and saw that Youyou's eyes were very similar to Gong Jie's. He was so shocked that the apple in his hand dropped to the ground.

"Oh my god!"

Chapter 3283: Sudden Changes (24)

Youyou stood there looking puzzled as Guerlain grabbed Gong Jie's collar in shock and asked, "Gong Jie, this child... this child is..."

"You recognized him?"

"Of course! He resembles you so much..."

Gong Jie thought that Guerlain had already guessed Youyou's identity, when the man suddenly looked to the side and lowered his voice to interrogate him, "When did this happen?"

Gong Jie was stumped.

"When did you start dating?"

"..." There seemed to be some sort of misunderstanding.

"Does boss know of this?"

Gong Jie's expression turned livid as he clarified, "He's Youyou."

"..."

Guerlain was stunned for a moment before his gaze fell on the elegant young kid in front of him. A sudden realization hit him and his mouth fell open.

"Si—"

...

"Youyou?!"

Everyone in the meeting room looked up in surprise at the funny little boy standing beside Gong Jie. For a moment, commotion broke out!

After the truth had sank into Guerlain, he pointed at Youyou and exclaimed, "Youyou is really only eight years old! What a crazy world!"

Alice stood at the side and sized Youyou up. "Is there really such a genius child in this world? He could come up with such a crazy idea at the age of six... I think I should use him as an experiment to see if he's a mutant!"

Gong Jie immediately pulled Youyou into his embrace. "You dare to, Alice! This is my nephew, so don't you even come near him!"

"Nephew?!"

Everyone was shocked yet again, when they heard this!

"Nephew?!"

"Jie, did you say that Youyou is your nephew?!"

The people started discussing fervently.

Youyou rolled his eyes.

Initially, he had imagined that the office of the EITS team would be a high-tech environment. Furthermore, the researchers coming in and out were all dressed neatly in suits and had wore solemn expressions on their faces. However, the twenty-odd people sitting in front of him were all in white lab coats, some wore thick-framed glasses, and some were carrying notebooks. Most of them had disheveled hair.

It was hard to imagine that these were all elite scientists of the Hurricane Group.

Even more unimaginable was that most of the Hurricane Group's precise military firearms blueprints came from these people.

The boy glanced again at Guerlain, who was crouched beside him, studying him curiously. He pinched his cheek at times and rubbed his small hands at other times. He had a look of disbelief on his face, as if the boy before him were a mannequin rather than a human being.

"Oh my god! What a cute little boy! He looks like a cuddly ball..."

Youyou calmly slapped his hand away with a loud smack. The back of Guerlain's hand turned red.

The tall man rubbed the back of his hand and said innocently, "So fierce."

Youyou replied plainly, "Guerlain, your attitude toward me online is not like this."

The EITS task force had a special internet connection for communication. On the internet, Guerlain's attitude towards him was completely aloof and arrogant. Just like Gong Jie said, Guerlain had always thought it ridiculous that the person who suggested setting up an idea and had such a talented mind was a seven-year-old child.

However, reality slapped him in the face.

Originally, Guerlain had some prejudice against Youyou, but when he saw the little lad in real life, he was immediately smitten by his cuteness!

Chapter 3284: Sudden Changes (25)

It was not that he intentionally treated Youyou differently on the internet. The main point was that Youyou's words and manner on the internet resembled that of a mature adult man's.

However, it was not until he saw the tender and adorable little fellow standing in front of him that he found it difficult to communicate with him as though he were an adult.

The first meeting was too impressionable. He was a child, an eight-year-old child. Even though he knew very well that this child had an astonishing mind, it was very difficult for him to interact with him in an overly mature manner.

Although this child had a cute and tender face and wore suspenders, making him look like a little gentleman, there was not the slightest hint of childishness in his expression that one would inevitably see in children of the same age. Instead, there was an extremely steady and imposing aura.

What a presence he had!

This was Guerlain's first impression of this child!

Youyou glared at him coldly.

Guerlain suddenly said with seriousness, "Alright, let's stop fooling around."

His expression recovered as he looked at Gong Jie. "Has it been a smooth journey back?"

"Not at all."

"...?"

Gong Jie said, "We ran into the Interpol on the way and was almost invited back to the ICPO headquarters for tea."

"Snow Fox?"

"Uh huh."

"Indeed."

Guerlain's face clouded over at once. "That woman is relentless."

Gong Jie was expressionless as he replied, "Apart from her, all the members of the Alpha team that she served in the past, had died under cross-fire with my mercenary team. Naturally, she hates me to the bone."

"And what happened eventually?"

"She didn't have a search warrant or any material evidence. She had to turn back."

Guerlain smiled. "You must have discovered that she was tailing you and set her up."

“There are political power shifts within the ICPO now. Everyone is vying for the position of Chief of the Police Department. The power is divided and dispersed. Therefore, even if they were to invite me back to the headquarters, they won’t be able to deal with me at the end of the day.”

Gong Jie looked at Alice. “Where’s Father?”

Gong Shaoying had left a while ago because of Yun Shishi’s wedding. Initially, he had deliberated if he should go. Without telling anyone about this, he left the island one morning with a mercenary team.

Until now, he had not returned.

“Not back yet?”

Gong Jie had not expected this and was concerned.

He and Youyou looked at each other in surprise. He did not expect Gong Shaoying to not be on the island.

Where could he be if he was not on the island?

Gong Jie was a little worried. Because of his sister’s wedding, his father seemed to have suffered quite a blow. He did not know where the man had gone or if he was in danger.

Alice reassured him, “Don’t worry, Boss is fine. We received news yesterday that he has gone to the Middle East.”

Gong Jie was puzzled. “Why did he go to the Middle East?”

“There’s been a lot of war going on in the Middle East. There’s an order that needs to be negotiated.”

Guerlain added, “The boss has to attend to it personally when you’re not around.”

“If that’s the case, when will he return?”

“I don’t know. He didn’t tell us when either. However, I’ve already sent a team over to protect him. Jie, don’t worry.”

Gong Jie nodded.

Chapter 3285: Sudden Changes (26)

In the meantime.

The Bahamas.

Yun Shishi lay on the beach chair, leisurely basking in the sun.

The Bahamas Archipelago sees a warm climate with no autumn or winter; it is warm all year round.

Once here, she did not want to leave!

Initially, the Bahamas was only the first stop of their honeymoon. Mu Yazhe only planned to stay there for five days, but since Yun Shishi had no intention of leaving, he simply let her be.

After all, she was the focus of their honeymoon.

On the first day they arrived at the Bahamas Archipelago, Mu Yazhe had her try riding on a horse. The next day, she woke up especially early. Under Mu Yazhe's special training, she finally learned how to ride.

However, the so-called learning was because Mu Yazhe never left her side. She sat on the horse while he held the reins and led her to the beach.

Yun Shishi was quite confident that she would be able to pick up horse riding and believed that soon she would be able to ride even without him accompanying her.

But would the man allow it?

Hence, when Yun Shishi's fifth request for riding independently was rejected, she turned sullen at once!

"You look down on me! Do you think that I'm stupid and that's why you're so worried about me?!"

"I worry about you taking a fall."

"How would that be possible? I've already learned all the tricks you taught me!"

Yun Shishi refused to give up. "I want to ride around, too! Ever since I started learning how to ride, you've been leading the horse. That's no fun at all."

The man replied, "If the horse starts running, an inexperienced rider would definitely lose control. If you were to fall with your head hitting the ground first, it won't be as simple as breaking a leg or arm!"

Yun Shishi finally stopped arguing.

On the fourth day, Yun Shishi became obsessed with diving.

Mu Yazhe had a diving certificate and had knowledge of photography. He did some underwater photography and Yun Shishi highly anticipated it when she saw these photographs.

She could not have imagined that the underwater world was so mesmerizing!

She was a person who yearned to explore all things unknown.

So she said she wanted to dive.

A certificate is required before one is allowed to dive independently. However, if one does not have a certificate, they could also experience diving in places like the Bahamas, as long as they stayed in the shallow waters.

There were professional trainers on the island. Yun Shishi first learned simple breathing techniques and ear-pressure balance techniques from the trainers before she put on her diving suit and entered the water.

Mu Yazhe also changed into his diving suit and held her hand as they dived into the water.

Yun Shishi's first dive was a most unforgettable experience for her.

The first time going down into the water was exceptionally memorable.

The noisy world suddenly became quiet.

Other than the hissing sound of the respirator, she felt as if her entire body was floating in the water. This feeling was very strange. On land, due to the gravitational pull, the sense of center of gravity was very strong.

It was also different from the feeling of free-falling while bungee jumping. It was very disturbing.

In the water, the body loses its center of gravity and becomes suspended. The cumbersome equipment carried on one's back will not feel heavy at all in the water. In fact, all the diving equipment felt almost weightless.

Underwater, a person's sensory functions are greatly reduced. The visibility in the water can be very low, and the diver's nose is covered by a diving mask. Speech is impossible and the ability to hear anything is reduced. It can also be quite cold, being submerged in the seawater.

Chapter 3286: Sudden Changes (27)

The seawater exerts a very strong resistance, so it's impossible to walk as nimbly on the seabed as on land.

It was Yun Shishi's first time doing underwater diving. Such an unfamiliar environment and feeling made her nervous.

However, once she got used to it, she found it very exciting. Moreover, the underwater world had many mysterious aspects waiting for her to explore.

The coach said, "Seventy percent of the surface of the earth is ocean, so if you can master diving, you can go to places that most people can never access in their lifetime."

This was an indescribable sense of accomplishment.

The water in this area was not deep. One could vaguely see the bottom of the sea six meters below.

Mu Yazhe held her hand and led her into the underwater world. A breathtakingly beautiful growth of coral greeted their sight!

The corals were colorful. Some were in the shape of an embroidery ball, while others were shaped like tree branches. They swayed along with the currents of the sea, looking exceptionally beautiful.

Schools of fish swam past. It was unclear what kind of fish they were, but they were very beautiful.

Everything was so magical!

By the time they returned to the shore, Yun Shishi was still unsatisfied and wanted more, however she was not allowed to.

First time divers should not spend too long underwater, otherwise, they may not be able to keep up physically.

She suddenly realized in frustration that she knew too little about this world! In comparison, Mu Yazhe was more knowledgeable and had seen much more of the vast world. His rich experience was something she could never hope to attain!

After dinner.

Yun Shishi leaned against the balcony, looking out into the beautiful night sea view!

At night, the moon cast its light on the sea, making the water surface sparkle. Microorganisms floated on the sea, emitting a beautiful glow that was like starlight.

Mu Yazhe put his arms around her from behind and rested his chin gently on her shoulder. "What are you thinking of?"

"Looking at the sea view." She exclaimed, "It's so beautiful!"

While she indulged in the scenery before her, she was unaware that the man behind her was also indulging in the scenery before him.

He slipped his large hand gently under her shirt, teasing her endlessly.

To his annoyance, she grabbed his wrist to stop him. He held her waist firmly and forced her to turn around to face him.

He snorted and questioned her, "Is the scenery that good?"

"Of course!"

Yun Shishi laughed. "Hubby, you know, I've never seen such a beautiful sea view in my life!"

The beautiful scenery would truly compel a person and broaden their heart. At the same time, they would sigh at the beauty of life and at the fact that they have the fortune to witness such beautiful scenery.

Mu Yazhe pressed his forehead against hers and lightly kissed her lips. He chided her with a look of great affection, "I think you've been having too much fun these past two days!"

"It's rare for us to be alone, and I rarely get the chance to see such beautiful scenery!" After a pause, she smiled and added, "At one point, I thought I might never see again."

This only made her feel all the more grateful towards the man!

She was grateful to him for giving her a new life and allowing her to see such beauty again!

"Stop being silly." He kissed her forehead and said, "You're not allowed to say such silly things in the future.. Madam, I promise to show you more of this vast world."

Chapter 3287: Sudden Changes (28)

His words undoubtedly moved her.

She couldn't help smiling. "With you here, wherever we go, it's a vast world."

Her smile was a smile that could conquer cities. Her charming eyes seemed to be laced with electricity.

He held her tightly and lowered his eyes to gaze at the unbelievably beautiful details of her face.

He could feel her slender waist barely filling his arm around her, and her warmth through the thin fabric of her shirt.

Thinking back to the goodness he had tasted in the morning, he couldn't help yearning for more.

Of course, just thinking was not enough to satisfy him.

Thus, he took action.

Holding her in this little world that now belonged to only the two of them, he lowered his head and sealed his lips over hers.

Even though she was not wearing any lipstick or lip gloss, they had a charming luster. They were soft and tender, like a cherry, or even softer.

Like jelly, only sweeter.

Mu Yazhe hugged her but restrained himself.

After marriage, his sense of responsibility and awareness as a husband was gradually awakened.

In the past, when they were in bed, he had always dominated and had the say on whether to stop or continue!

Moreover, he was so energetic. Sometimes, he would take a break, but only from what he considered unfinished business. He had no intention to stop!

Hence, he would keep going until she could no longer bear it!

But now, he was more concerned about her feelings!

He desperately hoped that she would have a better experience in this aspect.

Thus, he was not as radical in this aspect as he was in the past, conquering the city and seizing it by force. Instead, he had more patience and knew how to take her feelings into consideration.

She nudged him and pouted. "I... I haven't showered."

"You have to shower afterwards anyway, so why don't you just do it all at one go!"

"You..."

Although angry and anxious, Yun Shishi could not dissuade him, so she let him do as he pleased...

Under the mellow light of the wall lamp, the man lowered his gaze to look at her, the corners of his lips turned upwards in a devilish smile!

In the darkness of the night, it was as if his handsome face had been bestowed with something deeper, so much so that even now, when she looked at him, she was actually captivated by the wicked curve of his lips.

She held his face and planted a soft kiss on his cheek. "I love you..."

"Mmm hmm..."

"Hubby, I love you..."

"I hear you, ma'am."

The man was finally satisfied. He grabbed her waist and hugged her...

"I love you too!"

It was not until two hours later, when they finally stopped to catch their breaths, that he held her in his arms and whispered sweet nothings.

She was exhausted after their lovemaking, and was too lazy to move. He wanted to carry her to the shower, but she was nestled firmly in his arms, refusing to move.

Her length of silky black hair was draped across his chest, complementing his tanned skin, making him look even more attractive and alluring.

Yun Shishi felt extremely satisfied just hugging him like this.

She heaved a long sigh of relief. While her limbs were weak, her heart was filled with happiness.

She liked quietly snuggling in his embrace.

His warmth made her yearn for him.

The world she wanted, the warmth she desired, and the reliance she yearned for—only he could give it to her!

He had set his mind on her, but she had also set her mind on him. This man was her harbor for life!

Mu Yazhe lowered his head to look at her. His large palm gently caressed her back as he hugged her tightly.

Chapter 3288: Sudden Changes (29)

Yun Shishi suddenly raised her head to look at him. Her chin rested on his chest, her eyes reflecting the tenderness of her gentle smile.

"Hubby, you know, these last few days have been the happiest days of my life!"

Life always presents various perceptions of blissfulness. In the past, she had thought that having a pair of adorable children like Youyou and Little Yichen was her happiest moment.

But in reality, to a woman, only being loved, respected, cared for, and taken care of by a man... is true happiness!

She felt very fortunate to have met him and gained such happiness.

Mu Yazhe held her tightly in his arms, and noticed that a slight frown had appeared on her face, as though a thought had crossed her mind.

“What are you thinking about?”

“I’m thinking about...”

She suddenly sighed. “I’m thinking... about my father!”

“Oh.”

Mu Yazhe then fell silent.

She suddenly grasped his hand uneasily and slid her fingers between his. “Aren’t you worried that he’ll find trouble with you?” she asked with great concern.

“What’s there to worry about?”

Mu Yazhe was indifferent as he continued, “There’s nothing to worry about!”

To him, the most important thing was not the Shengyu Corporation, nor was it his billions of assets. It was his wife, his son, and his adorable little daughter.

These four people were his untouchables. Anyone who laid a finger on them would suffer his fury.

However, Gong Shaoying did not pose such a threat to him.

For one thing, Yun Shishi was his biological daughter and the love of his life, the daughter Mu Qingcheng bore for him.

Then, there were his granddaughter and two grandsons.

Even a vicious tiger would not eat its cubs.

Besides, he could tell how desperate Gong Shaoying was to reunite with Yun Shishi at the wedding. How could he possibly hurt her?

Given these, he had nothing to worry about.

He knew very well that if the Hurricane Group really wanted to deal with him, then even the huge Shengyu Group would have no chance of survival.

But while he wasn’t worried, Yun Shishi was.

Even though Gong Shaoying was her biological father, she had never spent a single day with him. She did not know what kind of personality this man had and what he would do in a fit of anger.

She told herself that she'd give this man the benefit of doubt, however she would never forgive him if he were to hurt her family!

"I'm worried that he'd find trouble with you." After a pause, she continued, "I don't know how he feels about me or how much he hates you, but I don't want him to hurt you."

"It's not as though some things won't happen just because you don't want them to. A stubborn man like him won't be appeased by a few words from you."

"Yes... I know..."

Yun Shishi continued, "However, I can do it. No matter what, I will stand by your side. No matter what happens, I will be with you! We will never be apart!"

"Uh huh." Mu Yazhe smiled and held her hand tightly. "No matter what, we will never be apart."

Yun Shishi smiled gently and held his handsome face in her hands. She leaned forward and planted a gentle kiss on his lips.

The two of them gazed at each other and smiled, unable to hide their love and affection for each other!

Chapter 3289: Sudden Changes (30)

It's said that the honeymoon will be the most romantic trip that a couple will ever take.

During this period, Yun Shishi put all her worries aside and stopped asking questions. She focused on enjoying her romantic journey.

After leaving the Bahamas, the two of them went to the Maldives to relive the sweetness of days by the sea.

Before they got married, they had been to the Maldives for a vacation. However, now that they were married, it was a different feeling altogether!

In the Maldives during their honeymoon, it was as if the entire sky was filled with romance!

They stayed in a seven-star hotel in an over-water bungalow. The moment they opened their eyes in the morning, they could see the endless ocean through the floor-to-ceiling windows.

The blue sky seemed to merge with the dark green seawater, with no end in sight.

The over-water bungalow in the Maldives was a luxury accommodation built entirely over the seawater. Beyond the floor-to-ceiling windows was a balcony.

There was a flight of stairs leading from the balcony into the sea. One could walk down the stairs and sit on the steps and soak one's feet in the cool seawater, allowing the water to lap at the submerged ankles. It's so relaxing that one would feel as though one was floating!

The Maldives is an unforgettable scenic spot.

Lying on the beach chair here, one would not want to move at all.

After leaving the Maldives, the two of them flew to Paris to enjoy some French romance. She initially thought that Paris was their last stop.

However, when the plane landed and she looked around, she realized that the man had sprung her yet another big surprise!

Santorini is a small circular archipelago on the Aegean Sea, the remnant of a volcanic caldera. The largest island on the circular archipelago of Santorini, is called Thira.

This was the southernmost part of the Cyclades group of islands, with a surface base of only 96 square kilometers. There were more than 14,000 people, most of whom were Greeks.

It is said that this is the world's most romantic place.

There was truth in this.

"Mu Yazhe, how... how long are you planning for our honeymoon to be?"

She was highly amused by the man.

However, the man emphasized, "A wedding happens only once in a lifetime, and it's the same for a honeymoon. Why don't we just take advantage of our honeymoon and enjoy our time together more?"

She was touched by what he said, however she also felt conflicted.

She knew that this man had always wanted to do his best to make it up to her. She also knew that this man spoke little but gave much.

In the past, she did not have much time. He also clearly knew that in the future, having to take care of the three children would leave them little time to themselves!

Hence, he wanted to make good use of the honeymoon period opportunity to make it up to her.

When they came to the end of their honeymoon, as much as they were reluctant to leave, they missed the three children, so they went home quickly.

By the time they arrived home, Youyou had already returned as well.

He did not stay with the Hurricane Group for too long. It was unknown when Gong Shaoying would return hence he stayed on the island for a few days during which Gong Jie brought him to familiarize himself with some matters at the headquarters, and then he hurried home because he missed Yueyao.

Naturally, he did not mention his trip to Hurricane headquarters with Gong Jie as he was afraid that Yun Shishi would be worried.

Mu Yichen kept mum as well, of course.

During the few days when Youyou was not around, the little guy was badly tormented by his sister.

Taking care of a child was not a simple matter. Furthermore, Mu Yichen had to do everything himself. This was all thanks to someone's alarming words earlier.

Chapter 3290: Sudden Changes (31)

“It’s said that nannies nowadays are unreliable. Some of them are irresponsible and actually hit and scold the children! I even heard that a murder happened in a high-end condominium.”

“A nanny threw her employer’s child off the balcony. The child died on the spot.”

“It’s said that she coveted the wealth of her employer’s family and stole some valuable jewellery. When the employer’s wife found out, she was kind enough not to lodge a police report, taking into consideration their relationship. Instead, she only reprimanded her. In the end, not only did this nanny not show any gratitude, she even bore a grudge against the employer and held a grudge against the mistress for exposing her.”

“So, at night, when the master and mistress were asleep, the nanny secretly carried the child out of the nursery and threw it off the balcony...”

Mu Yichen shuddered when he heard that!

He would never allow anyone to lay a finger on this sister of his!

If his sister were to be abused like this, he would be devastated!

Therefore, even though the nanny came every day and Little Yichen was not familiar with many aspects of caring for a baby, he would hover close by and watch the nanny closely in all the big and little tasks that she undertook.

The nanny felt uncomfortable being observed closely by him. She was also curious about how this child could be so patient. If it had been any other boy, he would have frowned and run away in disgust when his sister had her diaper changed. This boy, however, stood by the side and monitored her as if he was afraid that she would abuse the little princess!

The nanny was kind enough to advise him that when changing diapers, it was inevitable that it would smell unpleasant. She suggested that he could retreat to the living room for a short while.

He refused, however.

Hence, the nanny could do nothing about it. She really could not understand this child, so she simply let him be.

On the way home, Yun Shishi was worried if the three children had caused a ruckus at home in the time that they’d been away. However, she had a pleasant surprise when she saw that Yueyao was clean and well-fed. On the other hand though, she noted that Little Yichen had lost a lot of weight.

Wouldn’t that be right?

He would be woken up by Yueyao’s crying in the middle of the night. He had to then get out of bed and prepare milk. After the milk had cooled, he would feed the little baby, and by the time feeding was done, the sky would be starting to turn bright.

It was only at this point that he could go back to bed and lay down, before the nanny reported for work at nine in the morning.

At this point, he would not dare to sleep. He would wait for the nanny to leave before he could finally sleep in peace.

At night, he would wake up on time to feed his sister, change her diaper, and play with her.

It was hard enough for adults to have to take care of children, let alone an eight-year-old child.

However, he did not pay that price for nothing in return!

Because Little Yichen had been taking care of Yueyao for the past half a month, his sister was extremely close to him. Between Mu Yazhe, Youyou, and Little Yichen, she would now lean more towards Little Yichen's embrace.

Sometimes, when Mu Yazhe was carrying Little Yueyao, Mu Yichen would pass by. When the little fellow saw him, she would open her arms and try to reach for Little Yichen. She would even start kicking at him with her short legs, insisting that he carried her.

When this happened, Youyou would walk up to her, pretending to be Little Yichen, and try to hug her.

But to think that such a young child could differentiate between the two brothers!

She was no longer interested in Youyou; she only wanted to be carried by Little Yichen.

Youyou and Mu Yazhe, this pitiful pair of father and son, lost their princess' favor all of a sudden. They felt depressed and aggrieved!
