

Sweet Love 3551

Chapter 3551: A New Addition (167)

Chu He also closed her eyes. Perhaps it was because she had traveled through the night, and coupled with the intensity at which she was working, she was too tired, so she immediately fell asleep.

She fell into a deep sleep.

Then at some point, she felt Linxi trying to wake her up.

Chu He opened her eyes and found herself staring down the black muzzle of the gun. It was as though cold air was emitting from it.

Almost instinctively, she reached out to grab the gun at her waist, but in the next second, a bayonet was thrust before her.

She recognized it. An AK47, equipped with a sharp triangular bayonet.

The blade of the triangular bayonet was shaped like a prism. It was a knife with three sides and three blood grooves. This meant that a stab from this blade would cause rapid bleeding. The muscles would contract and they would not be able to stick close to the surface of the blade, there would be no suction to the surface of the blade. A square-shaped wound would be formed that is unable to stop bleeding and heal.

This type of injury, if not treated immediately, would simply result in death from bleeding. Furthermore, in such an environment, being stabbed by a triangular blade would most certainly result in death.

Chu He's gaze moved along the gun to the hand that held it, and saw a black man in tattered clothes with a red scarf. She immediately recognized him as belonging to the rebel troops!

The triangular blade was only an inch away from her forehead. Even if he didn't make a move, she would be stabbed in her forehead if she moved ever so slightly...

However, Chu He calmed down very quickly. From the corner of her eyes, she saw Linxi kneeling on the ground with his hands over the back of his head. From afar, there was a large group of black men with red head scarves standing in the middle of the field. Rows of civilians were kneeling on the ground with their hands over the back of their heads, trembling...

Chu He immediately realized that this place had been invaded by the rebel army!

She let go of the pistol and raised her hands in a gesture of surrender.

Another black man walked over and took the gun from her waist. Then, he grabbed her collar and threw her into the middle of the field.

Within a moment, she had the current situation figured out.

The lane she'd driven down yesterday was muddy. The car drove past, leaving deep tire marks. These marks probably attracted the attention of the rebel army. They followed the tracks and came here, exposing this shelter.

Chu He was dragged downstairs. Everyone was glaring at her angrily! Her arrival had attracted the rebel army!

They originally had the chance to hide till the rescue team came, but now, she had exposed this place and implicated so many people!

Chu He was thrown to the middle of the field and interrogated, "Whose car is it?"

She kept silent.

The car had been locked. These men had smashed the window and found her combat bag. They had also dug through many things. They had found the pass documents in the bag, so they suspected that the owner of the car was a spy from the government army who had come to gather information.

Chu He did not speak.

She must not admit it.

Besides, there was a lot of cash, food, and fresh water in the car. If she admitted to it, they would definitely take away her car keys, open the car, and plunder all the supplies inside.

The rebel army saw that there was complete silence. Their eyes searched the crowd. Suddenly, they walked into the crowd and pulled Linxi out.

He was the youngest person among the crowd.

The soldier took a bucket of oil from the side, unplugged the cap, and poured oil all over him.

The cold and sticky fluid drenched his entire body!

Chapter 3552: A New Addition (168)

Linxi hugged himself tightly but did not beg for mercy. Kneeling on the ground, he raised his head and looked at the soldiers with eyes filled with hatred! He knew that the car belonged to Chu He but he didn't tell on her.

That person lit a match and shook it, threatening, "I'll ask again, whose car is it!"

Everyone was so nervous that they could not utter a coherent sentence. However, many people started to look towards Chu He, as if they were signaling something to the soldiers!

At this critical juncture, they naturally wanted to protect their own lives!

The lives of others did not matter!

The soldiers looked at Chu He suspiciously.

Seeing this, Chu He could no longer remain silent. She suddenly said, "This is my car! It has nothing to do with this child."

Linxi looked at her in surprise, he seemed deeply moved.

“Hand over the car keys!”

Taking a deep breath, Chu He calmly took out a key from her pocket and threw it to them.

When the soldier saw this, he sneered and threw the lit match at Linxi. At this point, the boy was drenched in gasoline. If the matchstick landed beside him, it meant certain death! He closed his eyes in despair.

Chu He reacted quickly and lunged towards Linxi. At the same time, alerted by her sudden movement, the vigilant soldier raised his gun and pulled the trigger. The bullet tore through the air and brushed past her waist, and then hit a man behind Chu He, piercing through his thigh. The man cried out in pain, clutching his thigh and twitching.

...

The fire that was expected did not happen.

Linxi opened his eyes in disbelief, and saw Chu He lying on top of him. She had caught the matchstick tightly in her palm, it was broken into two pieces. The skin on her palm was scalded, and it was a ghastly red!

Chu He pulled him into her arms and said seriously, “I promised to protect you. I will keep my promise.”

The boy’s eyes flickered, and tears streamed down his face!

A few soldiers raised their guns and pointed them at Chu He. Chu He turned around and shielded Linxi behind her. She said unhurriedly, “There’s cash in the car. And food... I hid them somewhere and I will exchange that for the child’s life!”

“Take us to the stuff!”

“Let this child go and I’ll tell you!”

The soldiers looked at each other before putting their guns away.

Chu He immediately said to Linxi, “Hurry up and find a place to hide!”

Linxi shook his head and said firmly, “I want to be with you!”

“Be good, I’m fine. Find a place to hide, okay? No matter what happens, don’t come out!”

Linxi wavered. He gritted his teeth and stood up. After taking a few steps, he saw that the soldiers seemed to have tacitly agreed to let him go. He then ran to the warehouse and found a secret room to hide himself.

Chu He stood up, covering her wound before following the soldiers to the parking lot.

“Where are the money and items?!”

Chu He pretended to be in pain and said with difficulty, “It’s in the armrest.”

“Take it out!”

“...I’m injured...” Chu He said with difficulty, “I have no more strength...”

“Behave yourself!”

The two soldiers opened the door and entered the carriage to search.

Chu He narrowed her eyes and looked around. There were a total of four soldiers here. Two of them had entered the carriage to search. Their backs were facing her and they weren’t able to see her every move.

This was a rare opportunity!

Chapter 3553: A New Addition (169)

In a flash, Chu He kick-shoved the two soldiers into the car and locked the door behind her. Her smooth movements were completed in a few seconds!

Before the other two soldiers could even react, Chu He had positioned herself behind them. As they raised their guns and aimed at her, She grabbed one of the men’s arms, twisted it, and slashed it at his elbow joint. With a crack, the joint was severed. She lifted her leg and kicked the man several meters away.

She grabbed the gun and fired two shots at the other soldier who was about to pull the trigger. The next moment, the soldier’s forehead was pierced and he collapsed to the ground.

The soldier who had been kicked away struggled to get up from the ground. He drew his triangular bayonet from around his waist and swung it at her. Chu He nimbly dodged and took the opportunity to raise her fist and punched him squarely in his nose!

The most fragile parts of a person’s face are the eyes and nose bridge. Her punch broke that person’s nose.

The soldier clutched his bloody nose and howled in pain.

However, before he could even utter a coherent sentence, Chu He’s ghost-like figure flashed behind him and locked his neck from behind. She exerted force with her arm and broke his throat!

These two pitiful soldiers, now dead, would never have expected this frail-looking woman to have such deadly combat skills! They were afraid of her only because she had a weapon on her. They were more worried about which forces she belonged to or if she was sent by the government. However, it was beyond their imagination that her skills were comparable to that of the top mercenaries!

The two soldiers in the car watched this scene and knew that they were no match for this woman. Hence, they frantically hit the car honk, hoping that the sound would attract the attention of the other soldiers keeping watch at the factory!

Chu He was alerted by this. She suddenly walked to the front of the car, grabbed the edge of the roof with both hands and kicked the gas tank at the bottom of the car!

She was wearing combat boots on her feet, and they were equipped with short blades. With a kick, a dent appeared in the oil tank. She kicked again, and the sharp short blade punched a hole in the oil tank. A steady stream of air entered the oil tank, and she turned and plunged into the trees beside her.

When the soldiers guarding the factory heard the honking, they hurriedly armed themselves and rushed out with submachine guns on their backs. However, when they reached the door, they saw that there was no one around. It was dead silent.

They glanced at the car and saw two corpses lying beside it.

When the leader saw this, his expression turned cold. He walked over, grabbed one of the men by the collar and checked his breathing. He was dead!

What was going on?

Where was that woman?

The two soldiers in the car kept banging on the window. The leader walked over, bent his arm, and used his elbow to break the window. The two soldiers scrambled to climb out through the window.

However, the leader signaled them to keep quiet.

He could vaguely hear some beeping sounds. In this quiet night, it was especially clear.

The leader looked around and suddenly realized that the sound came from the bottom of the car. He squatted down and realized that there was a pool of liquid on the ground. The smell of gasoline was pungent. There was a hole in the fuel tank and gasoline had leaked.

The leader's eyes widened in fear.. Realizing that things were not looking good, he suddenly turned around and shouted, "Danger!"

Chapter 3554: A New Addition (170)

Before the thought of running even came to him, Chu He narrowed her eyes in the bushes and pulled the trigger. Bang! A bullet whizzed past!

Boom!

The bullet hit the gas tank accurately. The gas tank, being exposed to oxygen, was already on the verge of exploding. Now aided by the sparks produced by the bullet, an intense explosion instantly occurred!

The entire car was immediately engulfed in flames!

The powerful airwaves swept everyone onto the ground like a tsunami. A row of soldiers who could not dodge in time were instantly swallowed by the flames!

The fire lit up half of the night sky, the intense explosion was deafening.

Chu He was also thrown to the ground by the shockwave. She prostrated on the ground until the shockwave subsided. Then, she got up and slowly walked out from among the shrubs. She glanced at the angry flames and turned around to walk towards the factory.

One of the men who was pushed to the side by the shockwave started to throw up blood continuously. Vision blurred, he struggled to support his body, raised his hand, and aimed his gun at her abdomen!

Pfft!

Chu He felt as if her abdomen was hit by something, followed by a burning pain and the appearance of a shocking wound. Clutching her bleeding abdomen, she stumbled and fell to one knee. Turning around, she saw the soldier's head fall heavily to the ground as he took his last breath.

She stood up with great difficulty. At first, she did not feel anything after being shot, but when she took a step forward, she could not stand on her feet anymore. She tottered and fell to the ground. Intense pain consumed her, causing her to break out in cold sweat!

Chu He tried her best to support her body as she tore her vest and applied pressure on her wound to stop the bleeding.

There was a dagger tied to the back of her waist. The bullet had accurately pierced through the surface of the dagger and embedded itself into her skin.

Fortunately, the bullet did not bury too deeply given the dagger had reduced some of the impact. However, there was excruciating pain where the dagger was pierced through and the iron sheet stuck to her wound.

Chu He crawled to the tree and knelt on the ground with great effort. Biting her collar, she tied the cloth tightly and pulled out the dagger. After disinfecting it with fire, she endured the pain and made a cross on the wound before extracting the bullet.

The pain from the fresh and gaping wound made her break out in cold sweat! She closed her eyes, disinfecting the wound, then went in for the bullet. She made a cotton pad with material from her pant legs to stop the bleeding and roughly bandaged the wound.

It hurt. It was so painful that she couldn't think straight.

She held onto the tree trunk and stood up. However, she only felt that the world before her eyes had turned dark, and her back seemed to have lost all feeling. It was numb, except for the pain that kept coming.

Chu He lost her balance and slipped into unconsciousness. Before she closed her eyes, she vaguely saw a few black soldiers running towards her with guns raised, glaring at her...

...

She was woken up by a cold splash of salt water. The salt water flowed into her wound so that the pain shocked her into consciousness!

"Tssss—" Chu He's eyes snapped open, they were painfully stung by the salt.

Immediately after that, the tight grip around her wrists and her feet that could not feel the ground told her that she was now suspended from a tree branch.

A few black soldiers pointed their guns at her. One of them, who was holding a red scarf tightly, pointed at her and asked in a local language, "Who are you?"

"..."

"Did you kill these brothers?"

"..."

Chu He remained silent throughout..

Chapter 3555: A New Addition (171)

When the man saw this, he was so angry that he kicked her. Chu He's body slammed into the thick tree trunk and the pain was so excruciating she couldn't even scream.

"Speak!"

Chu He sneered and said scornfully, "I'm not from the government."

The leader did not believe it at all. He was certain that Chu He was a mercenary sent by the government or an intelligence agent from some organization. Because of this, Chu He did not bother to explain. In any case, they might not believe her even if she said that she wasn't!

Chu He heard someone asking, "Captain, what should we do with this person?"

In a daze, she heard the leader's reply. "Behead her as an example to all!"

Decapitation was the most common tactic used by terrorists.

Perhaps the people living in peaceful countries could not understand this way of doing things.

What the rebel army meant by beheading, was to bind the hands and feet of the person, who would then be made to kneel on the ground while a blunt knife, like the sort used to slaughter cattle, is used to cut through the throat bit by bit!

It would be more accurate to call it throat-cutting rather than beheading.

The victim would not die immediately, but would instead be able to see clearly how his own throat was being cut. This method of death was especially agonizing. The blade was very blunt, so that the victim suffers maximum pain and this would show the rebel to be powerful.

Chu He did not show much fear on her face when she heard this.

She was pushed to the ground. A soldier grabbed her by the hair and forced her to kneel on both knees. He drew out a small rusty knife from behind him and slowly pressed it against her neck.

Chu He could feel the cold blade against her skin. She slowly closed her eyes.

However, the pain that she expected did not come.

Vaguely, she felt the hand that gripped her loosened and the knife fell to the ground. Immediately after, fresh warm blood fell on her shoulder and soaked through her clothes.

Chu He snapped out of her daze and looked up in surprise, only to be greeted by a lifeless face.

The soldier's eyes widened as someone attacked him from behind. A sharp triangular blade nearly pierced right through his heart. He fell limply onto her.

Chu He was unable to bear the burden and fell to the ground.

She heard loud cracks and immediately recognized that it was the sound of a shotgun.

Shotguns have thick barrels. The diameter of the muzzle may measure up to 20 mm, it has great firepower and is a weapon with terrifying explosive power in close combat.

If a bullet hits a human body, the wound would expand explosively and the person would be killed in one shot.

If fired at close range, the bullet could send a person flying.

As Chu He fell to the ground, she could vaguely see a tall man. He was fully armed with three pistols on his back and two rows of bullets strapped around his shoulders. He held a shotgun and nimbly dodged the attacks of the soldiers. Within a very short time, more than ten soldiers had been shot dead.

At this point, a child ran to her side and gently patted her face. He asked nervously, "Big Sister, are you alright?"

Chu He looked up and met Linxi's anxious gaze.

"It's... you?"

"Uh huh!"

Linxi dragged her to the tree and used the dagger to cut away the ropes that were binding her. However, he noticed the wound on her abdomen and frowned with heartache.

"How are you feeling? Are you alright? You've been injured!"

Chu He shook her head, indicating that she was fine. However, she was puzzled and asked with difficulty, "Why... why are you here?"

Chapter 3556: A New Addition (172)

"Didn't I tell you to hide?"

Linxi said, "There's a secret passageway behind the factory. I escaped through it. According to the clues you provided, I found the person you were talking about. Is Gu Jinglian his name?"

Chu He was startled and reflexively turned to look at that man.

In the darkness of the night, the man kept his gun away and checked the corpses on the ground one by one, finishing off anyone who showed any signs of life.

He stood up and turned around, suddenly registering his handsome face in her field of vision.

“Gu...” She opened her mouth and widened her eyes in disbelief. She did not expect him to appear!

Gu Jinglian strode over and squatted down in front of her. As he moved, the rounds he was carrying made clanking sounds. He was wearing a combat uniform with a thick bullet-proof vest. His limbs were decorated with a range of guns, ammunition and various weapons.

Upon leaving Wirth, he had taken all the equipment, guns, ammunition, including bullet-proof vests with him. He was fully armed. Fighting their way out of Wirth, he led his men in an attempt to get out of the fallen area.

En route, however, he did not expect to run into a child who was almost attacked. Initially, he did not want to bother with the boy. But for some reason, he suddenly thought of Baby Chu, and it compelled him to save that child.

The rescued child grabbed him and nervously asked him for information about a person he was seeking. Coincidentally, he was the person the child was looking for.

The child said that a young lady had come to North Africa to look for him and was now in danger.

Gu Jinglian asked who she was, but the child could not give him a name. He only said that it was a person with amazing combat skills.

He immediately thought of Chu He.

Only, why would she turn up here? It was beyond his imagination..

On the way here, in front of the factory, he spotted a person hanging from a tree branch. He recognized her immediately and planned an ambush. A few soldiers had been shot dead.

Gu Jinglian nervously looked at Chu He. When he saw the wound on her abdomen that was so carelessly bandaged, he was shocked.

“You’ve been injured?”

“I’m fine... I was shot.”

“Where’s the bullet? Have you removed it?”

“Yes... yes...” As Chu He spoke, she tried to support her body and stand up. However, she overestimated herself and fell back onto the ground on her knees.

Gu Jinglian reached out to support her. Seeing that she was seriously injured, his tone turned cold. “Why are you here?”

“I... I came to look for you...”

Halfway through her words, Chu He’s voice trailed off. Her eyelids twitched and she passed out. Gu Jinglian caught her swiftly and pulled her into his embrace, he seemed pained by her sorry state.

This silly woman actually found her way here.

Looking for him? She was obviously courting death!

He was a little angry.

What sort of place was this? So chaotic, crossfire everywhere, smoke of war, and endless disputes in the war zone. People couldn't wait to get out, but she actually barged her way in here recklessly.

Was she mad?

His heart ached as he held her tightly in his arms, as if he was afraid that she would disappear into thin air. He frowned and said, "Crazy woman!"

"What should we do now?"

Linxi asked nervously, "Will Big Sister be alright?"

"Let's return to the base first and check on her injuries."

"Uh huh."

As Linxi spoke, he made a move to carry Chu He.

However, Gu Jinglian was one step ahead of him. He carried Chu He with one hand and held a gun with the other, ready to deal with any sudden attack.

Linxi was stunned!

Chapter 3557: A New Addition (173)

Linxi was stunned!

He did not expect this man to be so tough that he could carry a woman with one hand! It was too terrifying.

Although Chu He was very thin, at her height, she certainly had some weight on her. Gu Jinglian actually carried her with one hand without batting an eyelid.

Carrying her now, he turned around and saw that Linxi was still rooted to the ground. He frowned and said coldly, "Follow close."

"Yeah... okay."

Linxi immediately ran to catch up.

...

The three of them traveled some way and arrived at a bomb shelter. Gu Jinglian was with the main group earlier, but as Yi Linxi had suddenly appeared along the way and subsequently they had gone to look for Chu He, he had lost contact with the main group as a result. They had initially planned to head to the signal tower to recover the signal that had been cut off so that they could make contact for reinforcements.

In this way, they parted ways and in addition, Chu He was injured. Hence, Gu Jinglian planned to find a place to manage her wound first.

The bomb shelter was dark and damp. Gu Jinglian placed Chu He in a relatively dry place. He turned around and instructed Linxi, "Bring me the gauze and iodine."

Linxi carried Chu He's combat bag over. He took out some iodine and gauze from the bag and handed them to Gu Jinglian.

The man untied the cloth and checked the wound. There was an obvious gunshot wound on her waist and abdomen. There was a cross on the wound but he saw no bullet shell. The bullet had been extracted.

Gu Jinglian was taken aback.

This cross was probably made to extract the bullet. Who did it?

Did she extract it herself?

How did she do it?

How could a woman have such a terrifying willpower to extract a bullet from her own wound?

However, due to the limitations of the situation, the wound had not been properly treated. If left this way, it would easily be infected.

Gu Jinglian disinfected the wound with iodine. After cleaning it thoroughly, he stopped the bleeding and covered it with a clean bandage.

It is especially painful when one's wound is being cleaned.

Chu He woke up from the pain. She hissed and opened her eyes, frowning slightly.

Gu Jinglian glanced at her. "Painful?"

Chu He nodded as her breathing quickened. "Yes, a little."

Gu Jinglian said, "Bear with it."

If the wound was not treated well, it would easily get infected and become inflamed.

After he bandaged the wound, Chu He finally closed her eyes and her breathing gradually calmed down.

Gu Jinglian suddenly asked, "Why are you here?"

Chu He furrowed her eyebrows, but her face was strangely flushed. She turned her face away and did not look at him. She remained silent for a long time.

She had her pride and would never tell Gu Jinglian that it was because she was worried that she would risk her life to look for him in such a chaotic place.

She could not possibly say that she was worried that something would happen to him or that Baby Chu would lose his father...

Now, seeing that he was safe, her heart was at ease.

Gu Jinglian saw that she would not say anything, and the flush on her pale face made her look extremely strange.

He asked suspiciously, "Is it because you're worried about me?"

"Of course not!"

Chu He interrupted him almost reflexively and said icily, "Do you think I came for you?"

Gu Jinglian fell silent.

Wasn't it?

Wasn't she making it obvious?

Seeing that her words were not convincing, Chu He said expressionlessly, "I came here, just... to..."

Chapter 3558: A New Addition (174)

Seeing that her words were not convincing, Chu He said expressionlessly, "I came here, just... to..."

"To what?"

"To sightsee."

Gu Jinglian was speechless.

Sightsee?

The war was raging, and most of North Africa had fallen into it. And she was saying she was here to...

Sightsee?

Gu Jinglian remarked indifferently, "Stubborn."

When Chu He heard this, she refused to bother with him. It was only then that she realized that she was in Gu Jinglian's arms and they were very close to each other. The ambiguity between the two of them sent alarm bells ringing in her head!

"You... don't have to be holding me in your arms!"

"Oh." Without another word, Gu Jinglian let go of her. Chu He fell to the ground and her wound was stretched, causing her to frown in pain.

The anxious Linxi immediately rushed over and chided Gu Jinglian, "Hey! Why are you being so ungentlemanly? Big Sister is injured."

Gu Jinglian said calmly, "She said she didn't want me to hold her."

Linxi replied very aptly, "Women never mean what they say! They might say that they don't want you to hold them, but they might want you to!"

Chu He couldn't take it anymore. She grimaced and said, "I didn't say that!"

Linxi pouted and asked worriedly, "Big Sister, are you alright? Does your wound hurt?"

Chu He groaned and said sullenly, "No it doesn't."

Gu Jinglian glanced at her casually and pulled her into his arms again. Chu He struggled unnaturally, but Gu Jinglian softened his voice. He patted her back lightly and said in a quiet voice, "Enough, stop talking already."

Chu He fell silent.

"Don't worry, go to sleep." He added, "Have a good sleep and we'll continue our journey when you wake up."

She nodded and suddenly asked, "Where are we going?" She was curious to know. "Where do we go from here? How are we going to leave North Africa?"

"There is a signal base station more than ten miles away from here. My men and I have agreed to meet at the signal tower. Once the signal is restored, we'll contact the rescue troops stationed in North Africa. Then, we can leave this place."

Chu He nodded and closed her eyes. She was exhausted, so she fell asleep immediately.

When he heard her soft and steady breathing, Gu Jinglian could not help but curl his lips. He lowered his eyes and gently planted a kiss on her forehead.

How could he not know why Chu He came here?

Even though she was harsh with her words and did not mean what she said, for whom did this woman risk her life and end up injured? However, although she was stubborn and refused to admit it, he was kind enough not to expose her.

Linxi also found a place to lie down. After going through so much, he was extremely tired, so he quickly fell asleep. Gu Jinglian also closed his eyes.

The bomb shelter here was very remote. Furthermore, before he entered the shelter, he had specially planted a land mine at the entrance. If an enemy were to enter, it would definitely trigger the mechanism, giving him plenty of time to react.

Gu Jinglian hugged Chu He tightly and fell asleep. The three of them huddled in the bomb shelter.

When Chu He woke up again, it was already dark outside the cave. Opening her eyes, she saw Gu Jinglian's head resting lightly on her shoulder. His warm breath brushed against her cheek.. For a moment, she felt as if she was inhaling every breath that he exhaled.

Chapter 3559: A New Addition (175)

Opening her eyes, she saw Gu Jinglian's head resting lightly on her shoulder. His warm breath brushed against her cheek. For a moment, she felt as if she was inhaling every breath that he exhaled.

His breath seemed to be slightly hot, and she felt herself flush. She subconsciously pushed him, but his body remained firm. He held her so tightly that she felt like she was his most precious treasure.

Chu He's expression became increasingly unnatural. She saw that Gu Jinglian's breathing was heavy. It was probably because he had been too tired these past few days that he now had fallen into a deep sleep.

She did not know when he had fallen asleep, so she could not bear to wake him up.

Chu He closed her eyes, intending to rest for a while longer, until a shocking explosion came from the cave entrance. The sound was deafening and caused her ears to ring. Gu Jinglian also woke up instantly.

He looked up and heard a soft rustling sound coming from the cave entrance. "Someone's coming."

Chu He reacted and stood up immediately. She picked up the submachine gun from the ground and crawled to the corner. Gu Jinglian hid at the entrance of the cave, vigilantly holding his breath. However, the soft rustling sound outside the cave suddenly faded away. They did not seem to have discovered the cave entrance covered by the bushes.

Immediately after, they heard the rumbling sound of tanks passing by outside the cave.

Chu He carefully walked to the entrance of the cave and pushed aside the bushes. She looked outside and saw several helicopters hovering in the sky above the coconut tree forest. There was a thick fog and visibility was extremely low. The huge leaves overhead were flapping.

"We should go." Gu Jinglian said, "Let's go now."

Chu He nodded.

Gu Jinglian asked nervously, "Are you able to walk by yourself?"

"Yes, I'm fine!"

With a few hours of sleep, the pain from the wound had eased. She walked over and lifted her combat pack over her back while Gu Jinglian woke Linxi up and handed him a gun.

After leaving this place, they might be ambushed by the rebel army at any moment. He wouldn't be able to carry the boy. All he could do was to cover him as best as possible.

However, even though he was a child, under such circumstances, he still needed to carry a weapon with him.

Linxi said, "It's okay. I know how to use a gun." Growing up in such an environment, he had learnt how to use firearms to protect himself.

Gu Jinglian gave him a few more magazines and Linxi kept them close. The three of them left the cave and just as they walked out of the cave, the loud sound became clearer. There was a hail of bullets in front of them.

Gu Jinglian protected Linxi while Chu He followed behind him. One of them charged forward while the other had his back facing Gu Jinglian as he observed the situation behind. The three of them ran wildly in the rain of bullets.

The noise was accompanied by the sounds of the AK gun firing.

Gu Jinglian gave the only helmet he had to Linxi. There were three heavy rounds of bullets slung around his shoulders and three guns strapped to his back. He held the heavy Gatling gun with both hands as he ran at the front to open up a path, his pace unhurried.

He turned around and looked at the distance before shouting, "Fire."

Behind, Chu He raised the semi-automatic in her hand and took aim. A soldier suddenly appeared in front of her.. With two bangs, she shot him right in the head.

Chapter 3560: A New Addition (176)

The two of them coordinated seamlessly.

At this moment, someone seemed to have noticed their intentional tracks and threw an infrared timed grenade at them. Chu He saw it immediately.

This grenade would take about ten seconds to detonate. Chu He immediately walked over and kicked the grenade away. Gu Jinglian raised his AK47 and fired a bullet, detonating the grenade.

Chu He turned around and threw Linxi to the ground. A scorching heat wave blanketed them.

Behind them, a huge fire rose, accompanied by a heart-wrenching scream, forming a towering wall of flames about a hundred meters long in the coconut tree forest.

Chu He struggled to stand up. She looked back and saw several tanks passing through the raging fire and slowly approaching. They could feel waves of air sweeping towards them.

The tank crossed the line of fire and charged down a dozen soldiers.

Gu Jinglian had a long belts of bullets slung across his shoulders and his face was covered in sweat. Carrying the extremely heavy Gatling Gun, he fired fiercely at the troops behind them!

Chu He held the XM109 sniper rifle, and the blood and white liquid sprayed endlessly amongst the forest. She didn't know how many people she had killed, but she vaguely felt that she had returned to the time when she was still a mercenary, when she would only stop when she ran out of bullets.

Several laser beams quickly scanned the forest.

These were special instruments used to detect signs of life and electronic devices.

Gu Jinglian immediately recognized it. Gritting his teeth, he nimbly flipped over, pulled off all the radio communication devices on him and Chu He, and threw them far away.

This messed up the laser's positioning. There was a loud "boom", and a missile was launched towards the direction of the radio. Gu Jinglian grabbed Chu He's hand, and Chu He directly hugged Linxi in her arms. They ran into the forest and were temporarily covered.

Chu He took out the straw from her collar and drank two mouthfuls of water. There wasn't much water left in her jacket, and she didn't even have the time to add any cleansing powder. The stench of the water made her retch.

However, there was no time to think about it.

"Ten miles from the signal tower." Gu Jinglian paused for a moment. "The signal base station is built by Wirth and is very safe. The communication equipment inside is rather complete. After we enter, we will transmit the signal and block the surroundings. We will be able to find temporary cover there."

Chu He expressionlessly shook out the things in her pack and handed the energy bar and night vision device to Gu Jinglian. She then threw the AK and RPG-7B quiver that she was carrying on her back in front of him and started to fire the scorching hot Gatling gun.

Gu Jinglian broke off an energy bar and stuffed it into his mouth. He swallowed a mouthful of water and quickly put the AK and rocket launcher on his shoulder. The atmosphere instantly became heavy. He looked at Chu He in front of him and his hand froze. His brows gradually became serious.

"We may be doomed." Gu Jinglian continued, "You also know that this place is surrounded by the rebel army. At the critical moment, I'll cover you. You leave first."

Chu He lifted her face and twitched her lips. Getting onto her feet quickly, she said to the man, "Listen, Gu Jinglian, we're in it together and we will leave together."

Gu Jinglian did not say anything. He knew that Chu He also understood that the current situation was not optimistic. He hoped to protect her, even at the cost of his own life.

However, Chu He never thought that such an arrogant man would sacrifice himself to protect her.