

Sweet Love 3611

Chapter 3611: A New Addition (227)

She returned to the bed and gently caressed Youyou's cheek. She then continued, "At night, she came to the prince's room and gave him a kiss."

With that, she bent down and kissed Youyou on the forehead.

His eyes widened in surprise.

"She didn't kill the prince. Without her fishtail, there was no way she could return to the sea. At the prince's wedding, she endured the pain and danced until at last she turned into foam and disappeared forever."

Youyou asked, "Why? Why didn't she kill the prince? This prince is ungrateful; it was the little mermaid who saved him!" He seemed rather indignant.

Yun Shishi laughed when she heard that. Youyou was already immersed in the story and involved his own emotions in it.

Just like before, when he heard this story, he clenched his fists and asked sadly, "If it were me, I would definitely have killed the prince and returned to the sea to be with my family."

"Because the little mermaid loves the prince very much. Even if she has to sacrifice herself, she doesn't want to hurt the prince."

Youyou sneered. "If it were me, I wouldn't sacrifice myself for someone who didn't love me."

Yun Shishi was taken aback by the iciness in his gaze. In the past, Youyou would not have shown such a cold expression when he heard this story. This pair of eyes was filled with hostility, and there was a murderous hint that the former Youyou would never have.

Feeling uneasy, she hugged the boy tightly.

"Youyou... Don't be like this..." Her warm hug somehow calmed Youyou down. "Not everything can be solved by killing," She added, "You weren't like this in the past!"

Youyou suddenly pushed her away and said expressionlessly, "In this world, it's always been the fittest who survives! Only by becoming strong enough will your interests not be violated!"

Yun Shishi was stunned as she recalled what Youyou had told her before. "Only by becoming stronger can we protect those we want to protect! Mommy, I want to protect you, so I must become stronger. That way, no one can hurt you!"

"Youyou, why do you want to become stronger now?"

Youyou gave her a blank look. The question stumped him. Indeed.

'What was his purpose now? What was his reason for wishing to become stronger? Youyou looked at his own hands. In the past, Youyou yearned to become stronger to protect his mother. But now, without that goal, he was at a loss. He said in a daze, "Only by being strong will you not be reduced to being dominated by others.”

“Yes.” In this world, the strong prey on the weak. Yun Shishi could not deny it. One becomes strong necessarily at the expense of the weak. She could not deny this too. However, if the strong became apathetic, cold and heartless, then what meaning would there be in life for such a person?

“I’m tired.” The boy turned away from her. “I want to sleep.”

Frowning, Yun Shishi said nothing more but tucked him in and left quietly after he lay down. However, as he lay in bed, he tossed and turned, unable to fall asleep! Saying he was tired and wanted to sleep was just an excuse. In reality, he was just too confused, especially when Yun Shishi hugged him.. His heart was beating wildly!

Chapter 3612: A New Addition (228)

It was a great confusion! Her embrace was warm and made him yearn for more. He... he could not suppress his own desire to hug her back tightly! However, this sense of warmth made him feel at a loss and terribly confused

Why was he feeling such a strong reliance on this sense of warmth?

She kept telling him about what he used to be like. But was there really such a past? Youyou suddenly felt a splitting headache! It felt as if a pair of hands was ripping his head apart and the pain was intense! The boy clutched his head and arched his body in agony, he was pouring with cold sweat!

It was not until dawn that his headache eased a little. Exhausted, he wrapped the blanket around himself and fell asleep. When he woke up, it was already the afternoon of the next day. He slowly pushed the door open and saw Yun Shishi sitting on the sofa in the living room, humming softly while knitting a tiny glove.

Yueyao was sitting on a blanket on the floor, holding a teething toy and gnawing at it. When she heard footsteps walking out of the room, the child raised her head and was the first to notice Youyou. When she caught sight of him standing at the door, she immediately stuck her butt out and got onto her feet. She held tightly onto the teething toy and walked towards him step by step.

“Big Brother...” She hobbled over to him. Her grip loosened, and the teething toy fell to the floor.

Yun Shishi heard the sound of the toy falling to the floor and looked up at the boy. She put her gloves aside. “You’re awake?”

Youyou did not speak, he only lowered his head and looked at Yueyao. Yueyao had similar eyes as him – wide and compelling. Especially her beautifully curled eyelashes. When she blinked, they were like fluttering butterfly wings. They were incomparably charming.

The girl suddenly threw open her arms. Her cherry lips opened and closed, and she said in a soft voice, “Big Brother, carry...”

This cuddly glutinous rice ball wanted her brother to carry her! The little fellow was so forgetful that she did not remember the coldness Youyou had displayed the last time she asked him to carry her.

Yun Shishi froze for a moment. She looked nervously at Youyou. She noticed that his attitude was no longer as cold as before. At least, he did not dodge when Yueyao walked towards him!

“Big Brother... carry...” Yue Yao stretched out her arms again and tiptoed. She lost her balance and fell onto the ground. All this time, Youyou watched her coldly without helping her up.

Yueyao fell, but did not cry like a delicate child. She only furrowed her pretty brows, clearly feeling aggrieved. She used her hands and feet to get back onto her feet and raised her head to look at Youyou. He was still cold and indifferent. For a moment, she felt extremely sad. She pouted, looking like a storm was about to come!

Yun Shishi knew that this was a sign that the child was about to burst into tears!

She quickly stood up and was about to walk over to carry Yueyao when Youyou suddenly bent down and gently picked the child up in his arms.

He seemed rather unfamiliar with how to carry his sister. He wasn't too sure what to do and did not even know how to support her bottom with his arm.

Yueyao was delighted that he was carrying her. Like a koala bear, she hugged him tightly and refused to let go. She leaned against his shoulder with extreme attachment and broke into a smile! Youyou hugged her a little tighter. Seeing that her body was sinking, he finally understood and used his arm to support her.. Seeing this, Yun Shishi was greatly relieved!

Chapter 3613: A New Addition (229)

Yueyao felt inexplicably close to Youyou! This surprised even Yun Shishi.

After all, the child's memory was limited. Even if in the past, Youyou used to be the closest to her and doted on her the most. He would carry her, and take photos of her endlessly like a smitten fool.

Except that at the time, Yueyao was extremely cold towards Youyou. However, Youyou had left for more than a year, so Yueyao should not have remembered! She clung on to Youyou like a koala bear and rested her head on his shoulder, looking extremely satisfied.

Yun Shishi teased the child, “Yueyao, what about Little Yichen?” She thought that Yueyao had mistaken Youyou as Little Yichen.

‘When Yueyao had finally started learning how to speak, Little Yichen taught her his name. Yueyao also learned to recognize the names of all her family members except Youyou.

Whenever Yun Shishi asked, “Where's Little Yichen?” Yueyao would point at Little Yichen. When asked, “Where's Mu Yazhe?”, she would also look in the appropriate direction and point at her father.

Yun Shishi did not specially teach her Youyou's name, for this name had become an unspeakable pain in her heart. Whether it was Mu Yazhe or Gong Jie, they would try their best to avoid bringing his name up if they could. Hence, Yueyao did not know Youyou's name.

However, because Youyou and Little Yichen looked alike, the child could have had them mixed up.

"Where's Little Yichen?"

When Yueyao heard Yun Shishi mention Little Yichen's name, she responded by looking around. However, she did not see Little Yichen and asked in a daze, "Where's Little Yichen?"

Yun Shishi was stunned. If Yueyao had mistaken Youyou for Little Yichen, she would have pointed at Youyou. But he did not. Yun Shishi never expected that after more than a year... Yueyao actually remembered Youyou's face and could even differentiate between Youyou and Little Yichen.

Youyou was a little suspicious of her question. "Who is Little Yichen?"

Yun Shishi said gently, "Little Yichen is your elder brother, and you two are twins. You look exactly the same. No one else can tell you apart except your family, but I didn't expect Yueyao to be able to tell you apart from Little Yichen."

After a pause, she continued sadly, "After all, Yueyao was only less than a year old when you... when you had an accident."

Hearing this, Youyou's thoughts were thrown into confusion.

"Thave... an elder brother?" There was a hint of surprise in his eyes.

Yun Shishi immediately flipped through the photographs. She found a family portrait and she showed it to Youyou. Youyou looked at the family portrait. In the picture, Yun Shishi was sitting with Yueyao in her arms. She was flanked by a pair of identical-looking boys.

Sunset.

Of the two children, one was smiling gently while the other was smiling as brightly as the sun. They looked exactly the same, except for the slight difference in height. Even he could not tell which child was himself.

This was his first time seeing such a family portrait ever since he returned to the Mu family home.

At first glance, it was extremely shocking!

Yun Shishi had insisted that he was her son and her precious one. All along, Youyou had his suspicions about it. The reason why he was not so resistant towards her now was not because he believed that he was her son, but because he felt inexplicably close to her.

'When he saw this photograph, he could not help wondering if it was really as she said. He... was closely related to her.

Was it possible?

This was too conflicting with his own memories..

Chapter 3614: A New Addition (230)

The memories that Alice had instilled in him were that he was the scion of the Gong family. He had always been in poor health, so he had been receiving physical therapy on the Acklan Island.

He did not know who his mother was, much less who his siblings were. He only knew that he had an uncle by the name of Gong Jie. However, even Gong Jie told him that his real name was Yun Tianyou, not Gong Fan, that he was the son of Mu Yazhe and Yun Shishi, But he was not able to fully accept this information within a short period of time!

Nonsense! He had been staying in the Gong family without any memories of Mu Yazhe, Yun Shishi, or even Little Yichen. But now, the photograph threw him into confusion!

Youyou lowered his head to look at Yueyao, who was in his arms. Seeing him staring at her, she reached out her soft hands and gently patted his face. It was so fun!

Youyou, however, was not annoyed by this. Her grabbing didn't hurt as her nails were neatly trimmed, so even when she grabbed him, it wasn't painful.

He was no longer as resistant to this child as before. He no longer avoided her closeness like plague. This change was a great comfort to Yun Shishi!

Perhaps he would regain his memory sooner than they thought?!

Yun Shishi personally prepared dinner. By the time Gong Jie and Mu Yazhe returned, the dishes were ready and being served up.

'What surprised them was not the fact that for the first time, Yun Shishi was cooking, but the sight of Youyou sitting at the dining table and Yueyao sitting on the baby stool beside him, playing with toys.

He rested his chin on his hand lazily and quietly watched her play with the toys.

This fellow... he actually came out from his room!? This was simply a miracle! Ever since he returned to the Mu family residence, he had locked himself in his room and refused to come out.

'Why was he out here now?

Gong Jie and Mu Yazhe looked at each other, but they did not react openly lest they alarmed him! They sat down at the dining table, as though everything was normal.

Youyou did not look at them, but continued to stare at Yueyao.

Gong Jie was already plotting something!

Youyou, you hopeless slave to your little sister!

Why do you have eyes only for Yueyao!?

Is your uncle not good-looking enough? Huh?

Having been back for so many days, other than smashing the bowl of noodles that he had brought into the room, this kid had only glanced at him once and never looked him in the eye!

Gong Jie felt indignant!

‘Mu Yazhe as well, thought it was unfair. Hence both he and Gong Jie stared at Youyou covetously as they silently lamented: Were the two of them combined not even as attractive as Youyou?’

Yun Shishi walked out of the kitchen carrying the rice and noticed that Gong Jie and Mu Yazhe were home. The two of them sat opposite Youyou, forming a strange triangular arrangement with the boy.

Her lips twitched as she placed the food on the table.

“Diner’s ready.”

Yun Shishi placed a bowl of rice noodles before Yueyao, tied a napkin around her neck, and sat down beside her. They started eating.

Youyou, on the other hand, sat there and did not pick up his chopsticks.

‘When he was on Ackland Island, he always ate alone. He was used to the cold and cheerless dining table and had never been at a dining table with so many people around eating together. Although, strangely, he actually did not reject this little crowd.’

“What are you waiting for?” Yun Shishi picked up a roasted chicken wingtip for him and instructed, “Eat it while it’s hot.”

Youyou picked up his chopsticks and started eating.

‘When Gong Jie saw this, he also picked up some vegetables and placed them in the boy’s bowl.’

“Youyou, have some vegetables.”

Chapter 3615: A New Addition (231)

Youyou finally looked up at him. It was just a cold, emotionless glance, and then... he pushed the vegetables aside in disgust.

Pushed aside.

Initially, Gong Jie thought that it was just unfortunate that the boy had pushed the vegetables aside. Unexpectedly, Youyou then proceeded with picking up the vegetables and tossing them into the little plate meant for disposing of bones.

Gong Jie’s heart shattered!

‘Mu Yazhe muttered, “Youyou doesn’t like vegetables.” Hence, the man picked up a chicken thigh and placed it in the boy’s bowl.’

Youyou did not bother to even glance at him. The boy simply picked up the chicken thigh with his chopsticks and flicked it onto the dining table. Then, he picked up the wingtip that Yun Shishi had given him and started eating.

'Mu Yazhe was flabbergasted.

Emmmmmmm.

Gong Jie held back his laughter until his stomach hurt. He lowered his voice and said, "Brother-in-law, he wouldn't eat what you've given him, even if it's a drumstick! Youyou simply despises you, haha."

'Mu Yazhe turned around and smiled elegantly at him. Then, he picked up a piece of braised pork with his chopsticks, stuffed it precisely into the man's mouth and said, "Shut up and eat."

With a piece of braised pork stuffed into his mouth, Gong Jie was unable to utter another word. He could only watch as Mu Yazhe calmly picked up his bowl and continued eating.

Once Youyou finished the wingtip in his bowl, he stopped eating. When Yun Shishi saw this, she picked up some vegetables for him. He hesitated for a while before eating them as well.

Realizing that this might be fun, Yueyao suddenly used a spoon to scoop some rice noodles. She raised her tiny hand and thrust the spoon towards the boy to feed him.

Yueyao wasn't really adept at using a spoon. As she held the spoon in her hand, some rice noodle fell onto the table.

Youyou looked at her in surprise, as the girl said indistinctly, "It's-yum-my!"

Yun Shishi said to him, "Yueyao is trying to feed you!"

Youyou was stunned for a few seconds before he turned, stretched his neck towards Yueyao and sucked the rice noodles from her spoon.

The gooey rice noodles was not seasoned with any condiments. It was bland and had a strong milky fragrance.

Youyou took a bite, and when Yueyao saw this, she was extremely excited. She waved her tiny limbs happily as she scooped another spoonful of rice noodles. With great effort, she held the spoon to his mouth.

Youyou was a little conflicted. The rice noodles were not particularly delicious, as it was cooked for a baby. Hence, it was terribly bland. Except that Yueyao insisted on feeding him. Possibly, she thought it was fun to do so.

Youyou helplessly took another bite.

Yueyao turned around and smiled at Yun Shishi as if she was presenting a treasure, revealing her two adorable tiny front teeth. "Mommy! Brother ate it!"

Yun Shishi smiled and coaxed, "Yes! Yueyao should eat some too."

"No, I want to feed... Big Brother..." As Yue Yao spoke, she fed Youyou one mouthful after another.

Eventually, Youyou was full from just eating the rice noodles. Yun Shishi tried to suppress her laughter. She was also a little surprised that Youyou did not show any resistance to Yueyao's closeness to him. He did not even reject anything that Yueyao fed him.

On the opposite side of the table, the two men who had been neglected the whole time were frowning.

Unwilling to give up, Gong Jie picked up another chicken wingtip for the boy. Youyou removed it once more without another glance at it.

Speechless.

Gong Jie could not take it anymore and protested, "Is there any difference between the wingtip I picked and the one your mommy picked?"

This was the love of an uncle!

Youyou replied coldly, "Dirty."

"There's saliva on it. It's unhygienic."

Gong Jie was flabbergasted.

Was there no saliva on Yun Shishi's chopsticks?

Yueyao's spoon was full of saliva. Why didn't he mind that!?

'Wasn't this bias way too harsh?

Chapter 3616: A New Addition (232)

After dinner, Youyou was about to return to his room when Gong Jie suddenly put his arm around the boy's shoulders and asked, "What do you do in your room every day? Meditate?"

Youyou slapped the man's hand away and glared at him, as if giving him a silent warning: Don't touch me.

"Why are you glaring at Uncle?" Gong Jie said righteously, "I'm doing this for your own good. If you weren't my nephew, I wouldn't care less if all your limbs degenerated from lying down all day."

Yun Shishi chimed in, "That's right, Youyou. You can't stay in your room every day. You have to go out for a walk occasionally."

Upon hearing this, Mu Yazhe suddenly suggested, "Why don't we take him out for a walk? It might be beneficial to his memory."

She found his words reasonable.

Gong Jie added, "I heard that there's an outdoor music festival at Manhattan Plaza tonight. It starts at eight. Why don't we go for a stroll and take a look at the event?"

Yun Shishi readily agreed.

Gong Jie was about to pick up Yueyao when Yun Shishi immediately said, "Yueyao can't go. It's an outdoor music festival and the noise is too loud it will scare her so much she'd end up crying."

"What do we do with her then?"

Although there was a nanny, Yueyao wouldn't want to be away from them. Hence they worried about this.

'Mu Yazhe said matter-of-factly, "As an uncle, you should stay and take care of Yueyao."

Gong Jie immediately protested, "No way! Why should I?!" He hooked his arm around Mu Yazhe's shoulder and said disdainfully, "Don't think I don't know what you're up to! You're using this event to build closer ties with Youyou! No, I want to go too!"

"What's wrong with our family of three building closer ties?"

"Huh, are you practicing discrimination?" Gong Jie said indignantly, "I want to build closer ties with my nephew too!"

The other man replied coolly, "Your surname is Gong, not Mu. You and I are not family."

Gong Jie was speechless.

Yun Shishi added, "Xiao Jie, just stay at home and take care of Yueyao."

Mu Yazhe added, "Yes, you love fawning over Yueyao. No one will be fighting with you over her now. Be good." With that, Mu Yazhe picked Youyou up and left with Yun Shishi!

Gong Jie was left standing alone in the living room with a bitter expression. He cursed in silence. Did the man think he was a nanny?

Just as Gong Jie was about to flare up, Yueyao suddenly walked to his side, squatted down, and quietly stuffed a toy into the leg of his pants.

"Hahaha!" Yueyao let out a peal of silvery laughter. She grabbed his pants and gave it a tug.

Gong Jie lowered his head and saw that she was having fun with his pants. The look in his eyes softened as he immediately squatted down and pulled her into his embrace.

"Yueyao, Uncle will keep you company at home, okay?"

Yueyao suddenly raised her chubby little paws and slapped his face.

Gong Jie's expression darkened as he grabbed her hand. "Don't hit Uncle's face."

The girl raised her hand and slapped his face again.

Gong Jie furrowed his brows in displeasure. However, when he saw Yueyao smiling so heartlessly and was so irresistibly lovable, he caved. He curled his lips and gently kissed her cheek. "Yueyao, be good. Daddy and Mommy don't want you around but Uncle will keep you company."

Yueyao suddenly grabbed and pulled at his cheeks. She was amused by his contorted handsome features and could not stop laughing.

Manhattan Square was about half an hour's drive away.

Yun Shishi carried Youyou and sat in the back seat. Even though it was just a short ride, and her legs went numb from him sitting on them, she could not bear to let go of the boy..

Chapter 3617: A New Addition (233)

Youyou was cooperative and allowed her to carry him as he looked out of the window at the scenery. It seemed familiar.

Was this... where he used to live? Especially when they passed by the park and the River Bridge.

Noticing that he was staring at the bridge, Yun Shishi immediately asked, "Youyou, do you remember? We let off fireworks here during the new year."

"Fireworks?"

"Uh huh." Yun Shishi continued, "At that time, you were fighting to be the one to light the fireworks. I didn't allow you to do so in the past, so you thought it was a novelty and kept insisting on lighting the fireworks yourself. It made me really nervous!"

Youyou stared at the bridge curiously. Through the window, he could see many people under the bridge, standing around, sitting on benches or flying kites. The kites were lit for night flying, they rose and fell in the wind. He watched, entranced.

As Mu Yazhe drove, he glanced at Youyou through the rear view mirror. He was filled with emotions. The boy had disappeared for a year, and everyone missed him. However, no one readily gave up the hope in their hearts. Even if it gradually diminished over time, it never disappeared entirely, for if that happened, it would only mean that Youyou had 'died' in their hearts!

At that time, searching became the motivation for them to persevere!

'When Youyou really came back, although Mu Yazhe appeared calm, he was actually ecstatic inside! His son was still alive, the boy came back alive! However, as a father, he had no choice but to maintain his composure. As a result, he did not display any emotions. But still, his care and patience for his son were no less than Yun Shishi. It did not matter even if Youyou did not acknowledge him or remember him. Youyou would always be his son!

This was a fact that even the heavens could not change!

Many people were gathered in Manhattan Plaza.

Fortunately, the weather was fine and it was perfect for the outdoor music festival. Everyone was gathered in the plaza. At a glance, the venue was packed with people. Among the crowd, there were people waving glow sticks, forming a sea of lights that made it look like the galaxy.

There was a huge crowd in the tens of thousands. It was too dangerous with so many people. If there was any disturbance, a stampede could easily happen.

Yun Shishi got a little worried. She always had worries. After all, women are more meticulous. Moreover, there were always many reports on the news of stampedes or falls or injuries happening in such crowded places. With so many people, it was inevitable. Hence, she tightened her arms around Youyou.

“Why are there so many people?” She muttered to herself as she surveyed her surroundings. They were considered to have arrived early, but because of this, the crowd that came later had choked up the only exit. Now, they found themselves stuck, and could neither advance nor retreat.

There was a constant stream of people trying to squeeze to the front, to get closer to the stage. There were too many people. If she had known that there were so many people, she would not have come! However, since they were already here, they might as well take things as they came.

Yun Shishi carried Youyou in her arms, but even so, Youyou still found it hard to see the stage. Not that he was interested. He did not like crowded places, much less places that were too noisy. It was frustrating, He hated it.

Mu Yazhe felt sorry for Yun Shishi for having to carrying Youyou, so he offered the boy, “Here, sit on my shoulders..”

Chapter 3618: A New Addition (234)

Yun Shishi, however, said, “No, it’s too dangerous. There are so many people here. If you accidentally fall, you might hit your head.”

Mu Yazhe also felt that it made sense, so he took Youyou from Yun Shishi, worried that she would be too tired from carrying him. Initially, Youyou struggled a little when the man carried him.

‘Mu Yazhe said to him, “You’re so heavy. Mommy’s hands will get sore. Let Daddy carry you for a while, okay?”

On hearing these words, the boy stopped resisting. Except that he turned away from Mu Yazhe, refusing to look at the man. Clearly, he did not appreciate it! However, Mu Yazhe was glad enough that the boy had stopped resisting and struggling.

On stage, accompanied by music, bands took turns performing their songs. The atmosphere was electrifying, Everyone was waving their glow sticks in their hands, completely immersed in the compelling music.

Youyou was tone deaf and was not particularly interested in music. However, when the third song was performed, it very oddly caught his attention. It was an English song!

"Tm in here can anybody see me

I'm here. Can anyone see me?

Can anybody help

Can someone help me?

Tm in here, a prisoner of history

Tm in here, a sinner of history

Can't you hear me calling?

Can't you hear me calling?

Are you coming to get me right now

Will you take me away now?

Tve been waiting for

Tve been waiting for you

To come rescue me

You must come rescue me

Tm in here, I'm calling out but you can't hear

Tm in here, I'm calling out loud but no one hears

Can anyone help

Can someone help me.

Iwas hysterical until I broke down.

Tm lost in a cage. Tell me there's still hope. Is anyone out there listening?

This was an English song about a person who was lost and trapped in the sad memories of the past, waiting to be redeemed and saved.

However

This song actually made Youyou feel an indescribable sadness. He gently closed his eyes. In the darkness, he could vaguely see a cage. A child who looked identical to him was grabbing the cage bars tightly and shouting.

But he couldn't hear, there was no sound. All he could hear was the music and the hum of voices. The youth in the cage seemed to have seen him as well. He shook the iron bars and roared like a madman, "Let me out of here!"

The boy furrowed his brow in confusion. "Who are you?"

"Let me out! I don't want to be here!" The boy held onto the metal bars with a desperate expression. "I don't want to be here alone..."

"Don't lock me up here alone..."

Between the bars, the teenager's delicate face was pale. "Mommy, Daddy... Can you hear me? Mommy.

"Youyou..."

"Youyou...?"

A series of urgent calls finally brought him back to the present. When he snapped back, he realized he was in Mu Yazhe's embrace. He seemed to have fainted. Mu Yazhe and Yun Shishi were scared out of their wits and kept slapping his face. He finally came to.

However, when he opened his eyes, he found himself crying.

Yun Shishi was shocked to see his tears. As she reached out to caress his face, she noticed his helpless expression. "Mommy... Mommy..."

He called to her urgently, his brow furrowed.

"You... Youyou...?"

Chapter 3619: A New Addition (235)

Yun Shishi was both surprised and delighted. He had taken the initiative to call out to her, which caught her off guard! Before she could embrace him, the child in her arms suddenly lunged towards her and hugged her, his little hands tightening around her!

"Mommy... Mommy... Youyou misses you so much..."

'Mu Yazhe was stunned! Yun Shishi was similarly taken aback! That familiar tone was enough to make her heart burn! She hugged him tightly in surprise!

"Youyou, you're back! Is that you? Youyou..."

Gong Jie had told her about Youyou's situation. Youyou had a split personality. One was the Son of Light, while the other was the Son of Darkness. One was pure, innocent and kind, while the other was evil and cruel.

Gong Jie said that Youyou's memory was sealed, and the first personality had been killed by the second personality. Perhaps, the memory could be restored, but the naive and kind Youyou from the past might never return. When Yun Shishi first heard about this, she was shocked and panicked!

She knew little about split personalities or dark sides. Her Youyou was so innocent and cute, how could he be evil and cruel? However, she subsequently looked through all sorts of information about split personalities.

There are many conflicted views on the subject of split personalities. After all, the research done in this area isn't too extensive. There aren't too many patients in the world who have split personalities. While some believe that the first personality would not be eliminated by the other personalities, others believe that not only would the first personality be killed, or suppressed, once the other personalities occupied this body, it would never be able to return!

Yun Shishi was also mentally prepared that the Youyou of the past would never return. Even though Youyou had changed and become cold and introverted, she did not ask for more! As long as the boy was safe and sound by her side, she would do her best to take good care of him! Even if the Youyou of the past could never return to her side, she did not care! Deep inside, she still had hopes for a miracle!

This process might be more difficult than ten months of pregnancy, but she was undaunted and looked forward to the return of the old Youyou.

“Youyou, are you back?”

Yun Shishi expected that Youyou's first personality had returned, and was extremely emotional. She hugged Youyou tightly and cried her eyes out. However, the child in her arms gradually stopped crying until it was dead silent.

‘Mu Yazhe looked towards the boy in surprise. Yun Shishi was also puzzled. She lowered her head and looked at the child in her arms. His eyes had regained their usual coldness. When he raised his head and looked back at her, it was with that initial icy expression.

“Why are you crying?” He asked and suddenly frowned. He lifted his hand and touched the corners of his eyes with his fingers. He could feel the dampness of his tears. Why... Was he crying as well? Youyou was puzzled. He frowned and wiped his tears away bit by bit.

Yun Shishi looked at him nervously and did not move. She tentatively called out to him, “Youyou?”

The boy only looked at her emotionlessly. Just like before, his face bore no expression..

Yun Shishi's heart sank at once!

Youyou was gone again.

He had become... that cold personality once more

Chapter 3620: A New Addition (236)

How could things have turned out this way?

Youyou... She really thought that Youyou was back! She really thought that the gentle Youyou of the past was back! However, in the blink of an eye, he had gone back to being that cold, emotionless person.

“How did this happen?” Yun Shishi said anxiously, “Just now, it was clearly Youyou...” She cried with heartache and said to Mu Yazhe, “I just heard Youyou calling me ‘mommy *...’”

The man felt a dull ache in his heart as well. He put his arms around Yun Shishi and kissed her forehead. “Shishi, don’t be like this. Don’t be anxious. Didn’t we say to take it slow?”

She turned to look at the child in her arms and suddenly begged, “Please! Let Youyou come back, okay?! I wish to see Youyou, I wish to see Youyou...”

She had no idea what nonsense she was spouting! Her thoughts were in turmoil. The only thing she could sense was that there seemed to be two souls residing in this child’s body.

‘One was the former Youyou. The other was the present Youyou, who had been given the name “Gong Fan”. She missed the Youyou of the past, and wanted to see him again and hear him call her ‘mommy’. She wanted that Youyou to return. She had been waiting patiently all this while!

But

Her hopes were dashed again! Her disappointed expression undoubtedly agitated the child.

The child looked at her coldly and finally spoke. “I’m not Youyou.”

“Then, can you let Youyou come back?”

Yun Shishi humbled herself as much as she could and was practically begging him!

The child suddenly felt extremely annoyed!

Youyou, Youyou, Youyou... Listening to this name that did not belong to him every day made his ears grow calluses!

So it seemed this woman treated him so gently only because she wanted to wake up that “Youyou”?!

Who she needed was this “Youyou”, and the same went for Yun Shishi, Mu Yazhe, and Yueyao.

All of them wanted the other “Youyou, and not him.

‘The strange thing was that he was actually moved by her gentleness. He even instinctively yearned for her warmth and tenderness. Instinctively, he wanted to rely on her and... hug her!

However, right from the onset, he had been treated as another “Youyou”! What she needed, what she loved, what she missed, was never him! All along, he had been needed’, cared for, and loved because they wanted to find the shadow of the other “Youyou” in him! It was as if this body had always belonged to “Youyou”, while he was treated as an invader. He dominated this body and was treated as an enemy!

He has never been needed. To the extent that he was even rejected? Abhorred? And detested! He also had hoped to work hard to adapt to the role of "Youyou". But he was not Youyou! So... stop calling him Youyou!

'The child was anxious and frustrated. He pushed her away abruptly. "I told you! I'm not Youyou!"

Yun Shishi fell to the ground in shock! Mu Yazhe looked at the boy in disbelief as well. He did not expect him to return to that cold personality of when he first came home! The child was clearly losing control of his emotions!

He stood up, his body swaying slightly. The child struggled to regain his balance and turned to look at Yun Shishi. He said in disappointment and anger, "Don't call me by that name again! I'm not Youyou, I'm not!"

"Youyou.

The child trembled and suddenly interrupted, "That's enough!"
