

Sweet Love 3661

Chapter 3661 A New Addition (277)

Using this bone shrinking technique, she freed herself quickly from bondage and crept to the door. However, she was surprised to find that the lock on the door was not a numerical combination lock, but a secured chain on the outside of the door.

She gently pushed the door open. A gap appeared as it was pushed to the limit. She stuck her tiny hand out through the gap and felt around for the lock. Frowning, Lisa thought for a moment and looked around. There were no suitable tools.

Suddenly a thought struck her. She removed her earring. The earring was made from stainless steel. She used some force to unbend and smoothen it into a long wire. She gripped the lock with one hand and inserted the tip of the wire into the lock cylinder.

Just as she was about to pick the lock, she suddenly heard approaching footsteps. She immediately retracted her hand and leaned against the door, holding her breath. When the footsteps gradually faded away, she waited patiently for a while before turning around. Her tiny hand reached out again for the lock, and gently picked it with the metal wire.

In less than three seconds, there was a click and the lock was unlocked! Lisa set the lock gently aside and carefully pushed the door open. The chains loosened and fell to the ground with a crash.

She heard hurried footsteps not far away. The commotion had probably alerted the guards. Or perhaps it was because of the surveillance cameras outside the door that her actions were discovered!

When the footsteps got closer, she threw caution to the wind. She kicked the door wide open and bumped into two fully armed mercenaries!

These two mercenaries were the ones guarding this island. Normally, they would be subordinate to her.

Even though the girl was much younger than them, the moment they saw her walk out through the doorway, they looked at each other and took half a step back timidly!

They were well aware of their strength. Even if they were two strong grown men, they might not be Lisa's match if they fought her together!

Lisa was young, but she had strength that was far above theirs! She was a killing machine! They were not her match!

The girl glanced at them and said icily, "I don't want to hurt you! Do as you see fit!"

When the two of them heard that, they hesitated! Gong Shaoying had ordered them to guard Lisa. They did not dare to disobey! However, they knew very well that they were no match for her. Even if they fought her, they would only end up in a crushing defeat. Moreover, after staying on the island and working with Lisa for so long, they had affections for each other.

One of them suddenly pulled out a dagger from his waist and gestured at his shoulder. He picked a spot that was easier to heal and stabbed himself twice!

Lisa was surprised to see this, but she immediately understood what he was doing!

When the other man saw this, he immediately took out a short knife and did the same, stabbing his own thigh a few times.

They covered their wounds and said to Lisa, "Lisa, we don't want to make things difficult for you! This... is the best solution we can think of! But... there's one thing you must be clear about! There are consequences for betraying Old Master Gong! Don't do anything rash!"

After a moment of silence, she asked, "Where has Old Master Gong held Little Yichen?"

"Secret chamber A892."

Upon hearing that, Lisa nodded and said softly, "Thank you!" With that, she swept past them and headed for the hidden door of A892!

Chapter 3662 A New Addition (278)

The two men looked at each other and sighed. They sat down with their backs against the wall and silently smeared the blood that gushed out of their wounds onto their bodies. They also forged the traces of an intense fight.

Lisa felt around and found the secret door. There were two locks on the secret door.

One was secured with iris recognition technology, while the other was a password secured lock.

Only by presenting the correct iris could one unlock the password secured lock.

Lisa's iris was recognized by the system, but as she crouched down, her suspicion was inevitably aroused-Could Gong Shaoying have changed the recognition status for her iris? If that were the case, an error would trigger an alarm.

Lisa did not dare to act rashly. If she activated the alarm system, all the standby forces on the island would gather immediately! If that were to happen, it would be difficult for her and Mu Yichen to escape death!

She might lose her life if she angered Gong Shaoying! She was not afraid of death! After seeing so many deaths in her lifetime, she was already numb! Except that, even if she had to die, she must bring Mu Yichen safely back to Youyou!

The alarm had a control panel on the third floor. Lisa thought for a moment and ran up to the third floor. She nimbly avoided a few infrared defensive checkpoints before arriving at the control panel. There were two guards standing guard inside.

With her back against the door, she made use of the metal wire and easily gained entry. Before the two guards could react, she knocked them out with quick chops to the back of their necks! She immediately disconnected the alarm system on the island and logged into the system to investigate the iris recognition list. Fortunately, as she had suspected, her iris recognition status had already been removed by Gong Shaoying's men. However, one of the approved irises came from the guard responsible for guarding the control panel!

She crouched down and lifted the guard into her arms almost effortlessly. She walked as fast as she could to the secret chamber door. She pried his eyelids open and aimed his iris at the scan panel. The first lock was quickly unlocked.

As the guard started to show signs of waking up, Lisa immediately knocked him out again with a quick chop to the back of his neck. At the same time, she hurriedly broke the second password lock and entered the secret chamber.

Little Yichen heard the commotion and looked up. He was so shocked when he saw her!

"Lisa!" He said in surprise, "You're alright!"

"Shh!" Lisa signaled for him to keep quiet and immediately walked over. She removed the dagger from the guard's body and cut away the rope binding the boy. The rope was very sturdy, and took some effort to cut through even with a sharp dagger.

Little Yichen struggled out of the cut rope and was finally freed. He said worriedly, "We'd better leave this place immediately! But..."

How were they going to leave!?! This was an extremely tricky problem! This was a lone island on the sea, and it was like a cage surrounded by a huge moat. How were they going to leave!?

Lisa said, "I'll sail the yacht. There are some food reserves and plenty of fuel on board. That should be enough to get us out of here."

Little Yichen hurriedly nodded. "Then, let's leave immediately!"

"To be safe..." Lisa continued, "we'd better inform Master Jie beforehand! In case anything goes wrong, he'll be able to handle it immediately."

"How are we going to inform him?"

"There should be a radio on the yacht that can connect to Master Jie's satellite phone."

Little Yichen nodded, awed by the girl's calmness and decisiveness. "By the way, how did you free yourself?"

Chapter 3663 A New Addition (279)

Lisa said coldly, "Most ropes can't keep me bound."

Little Yichen could not help but look impressed. "Lisa, you're really amazing!"

Despite his praise, Lisa remained indifferent and said expressionlessly, "Now is not the time to talk nonsense! We must leave this place!" "Uh huh..." Little Yichen pouted resentfully but did not say anything! Lisa suddenly said, "It may not be easy to leave this place! Are you mentally prepared?". Little Yichen nodded. "Of course! Even if I die, I want to return to Mommy!"

"Stop talking about death all the time." Lisa said unhappily, "I promised Master Jie that I'd protect you. Even if I have to sacrifice my life, I will send you back to Youyou."

This was Lisa's loyalty. Little Yichen's heart skipped a beat when he heard that. He asked worriedly, "Then... what happens after I return home?"

Lisa raised an eyebrow, puzzled by his question.

He nervously ventured, "Are you planning to go back to the Hurricane Group after I return home?"

Stunned for a moment, she nodded. "Uh huh. I'll send you back to the Mu family, then I'll return to Hurricane."

"Why?!" Little Yichen was confused and said, "Isn't Youyou your master? Shouldn't you stay by his side and be loyal to him? Why would you come back?! If you came back, that Gong Shaoying..."

Lisa said seriously, "Hurricane is where I first pledged my loyalty. I have betrayed Hurricane and should be punished! I... won't run away!"

Little Yichen widened his eyes in shock and suddenly hugged her tightly. His voice trembled as he protested, "No!" Startled, she instinctively tried to push him away, but he held her tightly and refused to let go!

She said angrily, "What are you doing!?" "Lisa! Don't come back here! If you do, Hurricane Group will not spare your life! I don't want you to die!"

She was initially pushing Little Yichen away with all her might, but when she heard his words, she was stunned for a long time. She was stunned by the words "I don't want you to die"!

"You... what are you doing!?"

"Lisa, when I return to the Mu family, can't you stay too?! Since you're Youyou's personal bodyguard, then... then stay by his side!"

"Shut up!" The girl shouted, "You're not my master. What right do you have to give me orders?!"

Orders!? Little Yichen was stunned into silence. How could she say that he was giving her orders?!

He retorted angrily at once, "Lisa, you're not a machine or a beast. Why should you abide by anyone's orders?!"

". "I

You're not a machine or a beast. Why should you abide by anyone's orders?!

No one had ever said that to her before!

“You have your own life; you can have your own will! Why do you have to be ordered around by others? Even Youyou has never treated you like a machine! Why do you think so lowly of yourself?! What betrayal are you talking about? Hurricane Group has been using you; why are you willing to be used by others?!”

Why are you willing to be used by others?!

These words echoed in her mind.

Chapter 3664 A New Addition (280)

A bitter smile suddenly appeared on Lisa’s face.

She said calmly, “I was born to be a killing machine. My life has never been under my own control. Therefore, I have no personal will.”

Little Yichen anxiously argued, “...How can that be?! Don’t you have aspirations? Haven’t you thought about what your life could be like?”

“My life?”

“When you grow up, you’ll be like my mommy. You’ll have a job that brings satisfaction. Perhaps, you’ll even have a man you love and have children with him. Haven’t you thought about this?”

When Lisa heard this, she fell into a daze. She shook her head sincerely, her face devoid of any real expression. “I’ve never thought about it.”

She had once imagined her own future. Perhaps she would die protecting her master. Perhaps she would kill countless people in the process of completing her mission. She had once wondered what would happen if she were to leave the Hurricane Group one day. But she had no idea what her fate would be if she did that.

From the moment she could remember, she was treated like a killing machine. To her, human lives were just cold numbers. They did not carry warmth. She was already numb to it and even thought that life was just like that.

Kill or be killed.

Life and death was only separated by a single thought. Her life might come to an end in the blink of an eye.

Little Yichen continued indignantly, “Life can become wonderful! Lisa, give up on the Hurricane Group! Stay with the Mu family and be with us, okay?”

Lisa fell into a dilemma. While she was deep in thought, she suddenly heard some strange movements outside the door. She immediately snapped to her senses and held his shoulders. “Now is not the time to talk about this. Leave this place quickly!” “Okay.” Little Yichen stood up immediately as well. However, he had already made up his mind. No matter what, he would not let Lisa return to the Hurricane Group!

Just as Little Yichen walked towards the door, Lisa turned around and suddenly shouted, "Wait! Don't try to get out there in a hurry!"

"What's wrong?"

"Come here!" Lisa walked to a hidden door. She reached out and gently tapped on a button. There was the sound of machinery operating and the faint stirring of gears. Immediately after, a huge sunken area appeared on the originally bare and flat wall. Following that, a row of weapon racks slowly rose from below. On them were all kinds of weapons, including submachine guns, sniper rifles, grenades, flash grenades, and some close combat weapons. Lisa walked to the weapons rack and expressionlessly reached for a Defense Master and a Desert Eagle and secured them around her waist.

Little Yichen also walked over and casually picked up a Nepal army knife. He strapped a bag of magazines across his back, picked up a revolver, and an M4A1. He saw that Lisa had already slung the AK47 over her shoulder.

How valiant! The AK-47 has very strong recoil. He still found it hard to believe that Lisa, with such a frail frame, could wield a weapon with such powerful recoil.

Realizing that Little Yichen was sneaking looks at her, she asked frostily, "What are you looking at?!"

"Must you... use such a powerful gun?"

Lisa ignored him and continued loading herself with a few grenades and flash grenades, buckling them around her waist.

She asked, "Are you ready?"

Little Yichen nodded.

"Don't you need a bulletproof vest?"

"That's not necessary!" Lisa smirked. "Bulletproof vests are useless against these weapons. They're more of a burden."

Chapter 3665 A New Addition (281)

At close range, these bullets are able to penetrate a wall, let alone a bulletproof vest. Therefore, no matter how tough the bulletproof vest was, it would be useless when coming up against the bullets.

Lisa had never used a bulletproof vest. To her, life and death depended on who was a better marksman, who was more accurate, steadier, and faster. Whoever killed first, won. Lisa was gambling too. Would Gong Shaoying's men really shoot Little Yichen? No matter how cold and ruthless Gong Shaoying had always been, surely, he would never shoot his own grandson!?

Lisa handed him a pair of goggles and said, "Put this on!"

"Why?"

The girl replied, "To protect against flash grenades."

After Little Yichen put on his goggles, Lisa gave instructions, "Let's go!"

The boy nodded. He was a little surprised as he followed behind Lisa. He'd seen plenty of tough guys in his special training camp, but he'd never seen a girl like Lisa, so young and yet so decisive. Simply... Cool!

A look of admiration appeared on Little Yichen's face, making him look just like a little fan boy. Lisa shouted, "What are you waiting for?!" Carrying the AK-47 in her arms, she walked to the door, raised her leg high, and kicked the door wide open. At the same time, she casually tossed a flash grenade. There was a strange sound, and the flash grenade exploded. However, Lisa and Little Yichen had worn goggles beforehand. Their vision turned white before quickly recovering.

Lisa swept a glance over. As expected, the entrance was surrounded by fully armed mercenaries. Following the explosion of the flash grenades, everyone's vision had been damaged and they fell to the ground, with their weapons still in their hands.

Lisa smirked and said indifferently, "We've worked together for so many years, it's not my desire to harm you. Right now, I want to leave with this person. If you dare to stop me, don't blame me for not valuing our friendship!" "Lisa, we're carrying out Old Master Gong's orders. We can't let you take him away!"

"I don't care!" Lisa said expressionlessly, "I'll shoot whoever dares to get in my way!"

Everyone fell silent. Then, one of them spoke, "Lisa, you should know us better! Old Master Gong's orders are the highest orders! Even if we had to go through fire and water, we won't hesitate! Even if we die, we must fulfill our duty! This is our mission."

"Very good then." She nodded in satisfaction and aimed at the mercenary's thigh, then she squeezed the trigger and fired! The bullet penetrated the muscles of his thigh. The man groaned but did not show his agony.

Lisa turned around and instructed Little Yichen, "Follow close. I'll lead you to fight our way out!" Little Yichen did not think much of it. "Even if I were alone here, I can get out. Don't worry about me! Just take care of yourself."

Without a word, Lisa rushed towards the end of the long corridor.

Little Yichen saw her turn a corner before the sound of the rapid fire of the machine gun rang out. It seemed to be the sound of the sweeping fire of the AK. He was slightly stunned and immediately rushed over. He saw that Lisa was safe and sound. However, the mercenaries that were lying in ambush in the corner had all been shot.

He was startled, but then realized that Lisa hadn't caused them any fatal injuries. She'd only shot them in the arm. Ultimately, Lisa was a person who valued relationships. She did not take their lives even in such a situation! Given her ability, it would have been easy for her to leave a bloody trail behind!

Chapter 3666 A New Addition (282)

Given her ability, it would have been easy for her to leave a bloody trail behind! Except that she did not go all out, and left them some leeway!

These mercenaries knew very well that Lisa had the ability to kill all of them, but she had only shot them in the arm. Firstly, it was to make a point that she was leaving them some leeway, hoping that they would also do the same for her.

Secondly, this was so that they could give Gong Shaoying an explanation!

Little Yichen followed Lisa to a corner and reloaded the gun. He had initially thought that he would have to fight his way out of this place! However, he was shocked to discover that the mercenaries did not make things too difficult for them along the way!

Lisa took the initiative to shoot at the mercenaries. When shot in the arm, they immediately fell to the ground, motionless! The injuries on their arms were considerably minor injuries. It would not have affected their fight at all! However, they could not bear to kill Lisa!

Could so many people really not stop the two youngsters? Impossible. No one dared to shoot Little Yichen, and neither could they bear to shoot Lisa!

Lisa was also surprised that no one had been too hard on them. Even when they were almost at the port, she still found it hard to believe.

“The yacht is there!” Little Yichen pointed at the white yacht docked at the harbor and exclaimed in surprise.

Lisa immediately said, “Quick, board the yacht first!”

The boy nodded and immediately ran toward the yacht.

surro

As she followed behind him, she surveyed her surroundings. Suddenly, she noticed a few barrels of gasoline neatly piled at the gate. She immediately picked up two barrels and caught up with Little Yichen.

Before boarding the yacht, Lisa spread the gasoline evenly across the sea. Once they got on the yacht, the two exchanged glances.

Lisa asked, “Do you know how to drive a yacht?”

“If it’s not too complicated, I’ll be able to do it.”

“Are you sure?”

“Uh huh!”

Lisa immediately said, “Then go and start up the engine. I’ll stand guard here.”

“Okay.” Little Yichen immediately headed into the cockpit. He first took a look at the dashboard and control panel, only to make the awkward discovery that everything was written in freaking English! He wasn’t fluent in English!

This put Little Yichen in a dilemma. For a long time, he tried to figure it out, but simply failed. However, he was nowhere near Lisa now, so it would take too much time for him to seek her help. It would be dangerous if Gong Shaoying's men should come after them!

Little Yichen braced himself and looked at the colorful buttons with deep-seated misgivings. Although he was not particularly fluent in English, he recognized a few English words. With his shallow vocabulary, he finally located the ignition. First, he spun the key, pressed a button, adjusted the gear, lowered the lever, and set the route. He could feel the yacht vibrating and starting up!

"Success!" Little Yichen was pleasantly surprised. After some adjustments, he was already pouring with cold sweat.

Finally!

It started up!

He was going home... Little Yichen was filled with emotions! He could finally go home! He could also see Mommy, Daddy, Yueyao, Youyou... His family that he had been sorely missing!

Just thinking about it made the little fella tear up. He stubbornly wiped the corner of his eyes and picked up the communication mouthpiece. "Lisa, did you hear that? I've successfully started the yacht! We... we can go home now!"

Chapter 3667 A New Addition (283)

With the gun in her hand, Lisa spun around in surprise when she heard Little Yichen's voice coming from the loudspeaker. She raised her head to look at the loudspeaker, as Little Yichen's excited voice said, "Lisa, let's go; I'll take you home!" Upon hearing that, Lisa was filled with a sense of warmth. It was as if warm currents were surging within her!

Finally... Lines appeared on her icy face. The corners of her lips twitched a little, it was a feeling of genuine happiness!

The boy said, "We can go home now!" Then he added, "Lisa, come. I'll take you home!"

He used the word "we."

He wanted to take her home...

It made her feel, somehow, that she had a home too!

"Alright, let's go home!" she said.

Even though she knew that she was barely audible and Little Yichen could not hear her at all.

The yacht started up slowly and gradually sailed away from the harbor.

When Lisa saw the large group of people that had dashed towards the harbor, she immediately aimed at the spot where she had spread the gasoline. She fired a shot at the surface of the sea. With a loud “boom”, the bullet ignited the gasoline, and a wall of fire immediately erupted in the vast sea, preventing the large group from approaching!

She then returned to the cabin and found her way to the cockpit. She saw Little Yichen holding the steering wheel, concentrating on keeping the boat on course.

She was a little surprised. “You really know how to sail a yacht?”

“Yes, I’ve done it before.” Other than the complicated fighter jets, tanks on land, yachts on the sea, and small helicopters in the air, he knew how to drive them all.

Lisa did not expect this little one to be so capable hence it was a surprise to her! She returned to the store and carefully counted the oil, food, and water reserves. She calculated that the food and mineral water reserves were enough to last them more than a month at sea. It was more than sufficient!

She handed some food and water to Yichen and told him, “Eat something first and drink some water.” As she spoke, she pushed him to the side and took over the steering wheel from him.

The boy asked nervously, “Do you know how to sail a yacht?”

Lisa turned around and said disdainfully, “Unlike you.”

IL PII

“I’ve even flown fighter jets.” As she said this, she hurried the boy, “Have something to eat first!”

“What about you? Have you eaten?”

“I have.”

Little Yichen then sat by the side and wolfed down the bread and mineral water.

He was so hungry that he did not care about his eating etiquette. He finished up every bit of the bread and water, even licking the bread crumbs off his fingers afterwards.

Lisa was aghast at his shocking table manners.

“Are you that hungry?”.

“We can’t waste it!” Licking his fingers, he asked curiously, “I wonder if there’s enough food on the yacht!”

“Don’t worry, a month is definitely not a problem.”

Little Yichen could not help but feel suspicious when he heard that. “Are you sure it was calculated based on my appetite?”

Lisa was speechless.

“I need to eat at least four loaves of bread a day! That’s the standard.”

“Are you a pig? How can you eat so much?” Lisa snorted again. “There are lots of energy-dense biscuits on the ship, it will be enough for you.”

Little Yichen laughed bitterly. "Fine! In order for us to last till the end, I just have to eat less!"

Chapter 3668 A New Addition (284)

On the island.

Gong Shaoying stood by the port and looked at the raging fire on the sea. The mercenaries were hovering over the water in helicopters to extinguish the fire. The waves were strong on the sea. The wind fanned the tongues of fire and they were hit by a wall of heat.

A man in a suit rushed towards Gong Shaoying. "Master Gong, the wind is too strong here. Why don't we go back first?"

Gong Shaoying nodded but remained silent. He turned around and headed back to the huge castle. The moment he entered, he saw a group of mercenaries kneeling on the ground, looking solemn and ashamed. He glanced at them and noted that they were all suffering various degrees of injuries, but at the same time, they were all injured at the thighs.

He had already guessed what must have happened, so he did not look too surprised.

"Are those two kids hurt?" he suddenly asked coldly.

The men shook their heads. How would they have dared to hurt Little Yichen and Lisa?

Gong Shaoying asked again sternly, "Are you sure?"

"Little Master isn't hurt. We didn't shoot him."

Gong Shaoying was relieved and his expression softened when he heard that.

One of the mercenaries asked cautiously, "Master Gong... should we continue to pursue them now?"

"No need!"

Gong Shaoying waved his hand in frustration. "You may all step down!"

"Yes." Everyone nodded but remained kneeling on the ground.

As Gong Shaoying was still around. They didn't dare to stand up. The man glanced at them and turned around. Through the French window, he looked at the boundless sea and felt a little desolate!

Forget it!

Forget it!

Let the little guy return to his family! Now, he was all sobered up! And enlightened!

Gong Shaoying knew that some people would not stay! Even if he had managed to keep him there physically, the boy's heart would be elsewhere!

He closed her eyes for a moment, then walked towards the escalator and disappeared from view. One of the mercenaries asked cautiously, "I think Master Gong has no intention of stopping Little Young Master from leaving."

If Gong Shaoying wanted to stop them, this huge castle was undoubtedly a prison on the sea. No matter how capable the boy was, he would not have been able to escape!

How did Little Yichen and Lisa board the yacht so easily? There were keys on the yacht, as well as all sorts of excellent weapons and radio communications equipment, as well as abundant food and fuel. This was clearly something Gong Shaoying had secretly instructed his subordinates to prepare!

Gong Shaoying was a proud man. How could he tell Little Yichen that he was letting them go? He appeared stone cold outwardly, but in reality, how could he be so hard-hearted towards Little Yichen?! Perhaps, it was a result of having personally witnessed Little Yichen's longing for Yun Shishi to the extent that his memories could not even be sealed through hypnosis! It was the boy's persistence that finally moved him!

Gong Shaoying also understood that some relationships could not be torn apart! Even though he was reluctant, he had no choice but to let go! The Hurricane Group was neither Little Yichen's home nor Youyou's home, much less...

Yun Shishi's home...

"It actually takes two months to reach the capital city's harbor from here!?" Little Yichen's jaw dropped. Lisa said, "Acklan Island is indeed very far from the capital city. Moreover, this is a yacht, not Master Jie's ship. It doesn't move so quickly."

"But we only have enough food reserves for a month."

"Then we'll go to France." Lisa pointed at the map and said, "We're not far from France. We should be able to get there in a month."

Chapter 3669 A New Addition (285)

Lisa pointed at the map and said, "We're not far from France. We should be able to get there in a month."

With that, she patted his shoulder heavily and said, "Be more conservative. Our food reserves will last us for two months. I've calculated it. If we only ate four pieces of bread a day, we can last for two months. Water, on the other hand, won't be a problem."

"Four pieces of bread a day!?" Little Yichen grumbled, "Are you trying to starve me to death?"

"I don't have a choice. There's only this much food. If you're hungry, just drink more water."

Little Yichen put on a bitter and vengeful expression.

“Why are you showing such an expression!?” The girl continued, “The food reserve is enough for two months, alright? We’re running away, not on vacation! You have to be clear about your priorities.”

“Lisa...” Suddenly he was staring at her, his eyes twinkling.

The girl took half a step back warily and narrowed her eyes. “What is it?”

“You’ve changed.”

“What’s changed?”

Little Yichen said, “In the past, you were a person of few words. Now, you speak more than before.”

hore

Startled, the girl turned her head away awkwardly and stopped talking! She was going to ignore him!

Little Yichen lamented in silence, but that’s a fact! In the past, Lisa was like a block of wood, ignoring everyone except Youyou! “Oh! Do contact my uncle quickly so that he can expect me any time now!”

As he spoke, he started to feel troubled again. “There should be some sort of wireless communication equipment on this yacht, right?”

“Uh huh.” Lisa turned on the radio and connected to Gong Jie’s satellite radio. She waited for a long time, but no one picked up. Little Yichen frowned. “What’s going on?!”

“Could it be broken?” Muttering to herself, Lisa opened the panel of the equipment and checked the radio’s wires and signals, but everything seemed to be in place. The fact that they were able to send a message out meant that it was working fine.

“Maybe he doesn’t have his satellite phone with him!” Lisa said to Little Yichen.

The boy nodded. “So what do we do now?”

“We’ll take turns and sail day and night.”

The girl told him, “Get some rest first. I’ll sail till night time. You can take over from me at night!”

Little Yichen immediately replied, “I’m not tired.”

“Go and get some rest!” Lisa didn’t allow any excuses, it was clearly an order.

The boy had no choice but to return to the cabin.

The cabin was divided into six areas. Two of the rooms were bedrooms each fitted out with a 1.5-meter bed, a sofa, wine cabinet, television, coffee table...

Even though it was small, it contained all the necessities.

However, one wouldn’t consider this to be a small yacht. It was worth a few hundred million yuan each. Although it was not as big as the one Gong Jie had given him, it was considerably large. Little Yichen lay down on the bed and drifted into sleep.

Halfway through, Lisa entered the bedroom to take a look. Seeing that Little Yichen was still sleeping soundly, she guessed that he had not been sleeping well for the past few days. She smiled helplessly when she saw that he had kicked his blanket aside. Then she walked over to the bed and gently placed it back on him.

Suddenly, Little Yichen, who was just about to wake up, reached out and grabbed her wrist tightly. "Lisa..." He called her name silently.

His hand felt scorching hot against her skin. She tried to quickly draw back her own hand, but Little Yichen's grip was so tight that she could not shake him off!

"Lisa..."

Chapter 3670 A New Addition (286)

"Lisa..."

At the sound of him calling her name, Lisa fell silent and furrowed her brow. She did not know if this guy was really asleep or just pretending to be so.

She leaned closer to him suspiciously, only to hear him mutter dreamily, "Come home with me..."

"Uh..." Lisa's pupils dilated slightly. She looked at Little Yichen in confusion. His words were unclear, but every word made her heart beat wildly!

"Let's go home together..." As the boy mumbled, he held her hand tightly as if it were a treasure!

Lisa was a little surprised and forgot to retract her hand. Only after a long time did she suddenly snap back to her senses and did so. The contact left a burning sensation on her hand! It was as if it had been soaked in hot lava!

Feeling extremely confused, she turned around abruptly and left the room without looking back at Little Yichen. At her age, she had seen too much of life and death. She had escaped near-death situations and stepped over countless lives to survive until now. She had never dreamed of having a home!

However, this guy was saying to her, "Lisa, let's go home together!"

Her heart pounded in confusion!

Lisa returned to the cockpit. The yacht had been set on an automatic cruise. She canceled the automatic cruise and went into manual operation according to the route.

Initially, according to schedule, she should have woken him up. However, because she saw that he was sleeping so soundly, she could not bear to wake him up. Let him sleep a little longer! She could still last one more night.

The girl quietly stared at the surface of the sea. However, at this moment, her heart was like a raging storm!

When Little Yichen woke up, he sat up in bed and looked through the porthole to see that the skies had already brightened.

It was already dawn.

Dawn!?

He was stunned! Was it already the morning of the second day? Why didn't Lisa wake him up? What happened?!

He anxiously got out of bed and rushed to the cockpit, his hair still in a mess. He spotted Lisa sitting by the side. The yacht had been set on automatic cruise. She was having some milk and a compressed biscuit. When she heard the sound of footsteps, she turned around and was surprised to see Mu Yichen with his tousled hair.

"You're awake?"

"Why didn't you wake me up?"

"Oh, you were sound asleep and I wasn't able to wake you though I tried. So I gave up."

Lisa said and took another bite of her compressed biscuit. The compressed biscuit was very hard, and when it was bitten, it made cracking sounds.

Little Yichen looked at the dashboard and pointed out that the automatic cruise was on. However Lisa explained, "The yacht has been set on automatic cruise, but someone has to watch over it to prevent any accidents." Rubbing his hair in frustration, he said to Lisa, "Go get some rest!" "Uh huh. Once I'm done." Lisa finished her compressed biscuit swiftly and stood up. "I'm going to sleep. Wake me up in the evening."

Little Yichen immediately said, "I won't wake you up. You can sleep a little longer. It's alright."

Lisa turned and actually smiled at him. "My biological clock is very punctual. I will wake up by that time." With that, she left the cockpit.

Little Yichen remained rooted to the spot. Lisa rarely smiled. However, she smiled at him just then! His heart thumped wildly.
