

Sweet Love 3671

Chapter 3671 A New Addition (287)

Little Yichen remained rooted to the spot. Lisa rarely smiled. However, she smiled at him just then! His heart thumped wildly.

He pretended to be calm as he sat down in his seat, still in a daze!

So... Lisa was actually so beautiful when she smiled!

While the boy was still in a daze, the door opened again. Lisa stood at the doorway and frowned when she saw him in a daze. "Are you still not fully awake?"

"No!" He immediately explained, "I... I was just thinking about something." After a pause, he asked in confusion, "Do you have any other instructions for me?"

"I've just radioed and contacted Master Jie. He says he'll send his men as soon as possible to meet us at the nearest port." As she spoke, Lisa pointed to the blinking red dot on the dashboard. "I've turned on the radar coordinates. Remember, don't touch that green button."

The radar coordinates would constantly send coordinates to Gong Jie's system so that he could locate them at any point of time.

Little Yichen nodded. "Uh huh. Don't worry; I won't touch it!"

"Uh huh." She gave him a long look but did not say anything else. Then she turned to go, shutting the door behind her.

Little Yichen guarded the dashboard and grinned contentedly when he recalled how Lisa had smiled at him.

Lisa... smiled at him!

Little Yichen casually took out an energy biscuit and a bottle of milk from the food storage box, unwrapped the packaging, and took a bite.

The biscuit had been force-compressed. Although it was just a tiny biscuit, it was able to replenish an amount of energy tens of times more than what the biscuit held. Furthermore, it was able to fill the stomach.

He took a sip of milk and remembered the dream he'd had. He'd dreamed it. He'd brought Lisa home and lived the life of a normal person. Then he grinned foolishly.

"What? Xiao Jie, is what you said true?" In the living room, Yun Shishi widened her eyes in disbelief.

Gong Jie nodded and glanced at Mu Yazhe. He said with certainty, "Lisa just spoke to me on the phone. She said that she and Little Yichen have already left the Acklan Island and are now on a yacht." "Lisa?" Yun Shishi looked a little lost.

"Who's Lisa?"

“Lisa is the personal bodyguard I assigned to Youyou. It was only with her help that we were able to switch the boys and bring Youyou home!”

Yun Shishi understood and nodded. “I see!”

She thought for a moment and asked worriedly, “How are they coming back? Are they escorted?”

At this point, Gong Jie looked worried. “No, they are coming back on their own from Acklan Island!”

Mu Yazhe could not help feeling suspicious and asked worriedly when he heard this, “...Why are there only the two of them?! Isn’t that dangerous?”

There were too many uncertainties out in the open sea. The two of them were sailing a yacht alone without anyone’s help. It was hard to imagine if they could navigate successfully and arrive home safely!

Gong Jie immediately comforted her. “I might not trust others, but I definitely have faith in Lisa! She’s not an ordinary child, so you can rest assured!”

“A child? Lisa is a child?!” Yun Shishi became even more uneasy. “Two children? Gong Jie, how can I be at ease that there are just the two children? What if... something happens?”

Gong Jie’s lips curled into a confident smile. “Sis, trust me, alright? I’ve already sent people to receive them! I’ll get to them as soon as possible!”

She nodded in relief at his words.

Chapter 3672 A New Addition (288)

“Lisa... Lisa?” Little Yichen’s warm smile greeted her as Lisa opened her eyes groggily. She sat up nervously and backed up against the wall, staring at him warily.

“What do you want?” She looked out of the porthole and realized. Rubbing her eyes, she asked, “Time to change shifts?”

“No!” The boy winked at her mysteriously. “I found treasure.”

The girl followed Little Yichen to the deck. She had no idea where he found a charcoal stove, but after lighting the fire, he had set up a sheet of wire netting over it. On top of it sat two large fish. As they were grilled, they emitted an alluring fragrance!

“Fish?”

“Uh huh! I just don’t know what kind of fish it is, but going by the looks of it, it’s edible.”

Lisa frowned. Indeed, not only was the fish meat tender, it was also suitable for grilling. However, some marine fish are poisonous and couldn’t be eaten.

Lisa walked over and identified the fish. She often sailed at sea, so she recognized it at once.

“This is chum salmon.”

“Chum salmon?”

Little Yichen did not know what chum salmon was and only cared about one thing.

“Is it edible?”

“Of course. Idiot.” Lisa sat down on the deck and asked curiously, “How did you catch this fish?”

“I found a fishing net and caught it just like that.”

Beneath the calm surface of the sea, a school of fish happened to swim by and the boy caught them easily.

Lisa looked at the various seasonings beside the stove and asked suspiciously, “Where did these things come from?”

“From the store.” Little Yichen smiled smugly. “I was rummaging through the store closet to see what I could find, but I smelled pepper. I found these condiments and a sheet of metal netting in the cabinet. Since there were these things, there had to be grilling equipment, right? I rummaged through again and found this stove in the corner.”

After listening to this, a realization dawned upon Lisa. A foodie’s capabilities are limitless! However, thanks to Mu Yichen, this little foodie, they were able to eat meat while drifting out at sea!

Lisa sat down, took one look at the fish, and quickly turned one side over so that it wouldn’t burn. Little Yichen brushed oil over it again. Just the smell of it made him restless.

Lisa complained, “You said you encountered a school of fish. Why didn’t you fish more?”

“Uh... I caught a few and the rest escaped.” Little Yichen said helplessly, “I don’t know how to fish. It’s rare enough that I’ve been able to catch two such big ones!”

“This size is considered small among chum salmon.”

“...” Little Yichen had no way out of this embarrassment.

“Besides, if it’s grilled fish slices, it’ll be even more tender.”

“...You seem to be very experienced in this.”

Lisa raised her brows and said, “I didn’t know we had all these equipment. Otherwise, I’ll show you how I can fish a bunch.” “...” Little Yichen’s ego inevitably suffered a setback! He felt that Lisa simply excelled at everything!

Lisa glanced at him and surprisingly explained, “I used to fish when I was training on the island.”

“Oh.” Little Yichen glanced at her and suddenly asked curiously, “Actually, I’m not sure if I should ask this...”

“Huh?”

“Ask away,” Lisa said with indifference.

“You mentioned that you went through a lot of cruel training as an assassin? Were you the only trainee then?”

“Uh huh.”

“Well then...” Little Yichen hesitated. “Didn’t you feel lonely on your own?”

Lisa looked startled by his question. No one had ever asked her such a question.

“Lonely?”

Little Yichen nodded and looked at her seriously. “Being alone without anyone to talk to or play with. Isn’t it lonely?” As he asked this, he inevitably recalled the time when Mu Yazhe led an extremely busy life. At the time, he was not close to Mu Wanrou.

He liked to lock himself in his own little world, talk to his toys, talk to the walls, even talk to thin air. He’d imagine there were others sitting in front of him, talking to themselves, enjoying themselves.

Being alone was really lonely

The girl furrowed her brow when she heard this, but she kept quiet for a long time. Just as Little Yichen thought that she was probably trying to avoid this question, she said in a low voice, “At that time, I didn’t know what it meant to be lonely. I only knew that I’d only have a chance of survival if I was the last person standing.” She turned around and asked in the same serious tone, “Have you ever killed anyone?”

Little Yichen’s heart sank a little.

He shook his head and replied, “Hmm... I don’t think so!”

“Oh.” Lisa lowered her head and looked at the grilled fish on the wire netting. She said calmly, “I personally killed someone whom I once regarded as my best friend.” She had never mentioned this to anyone before. Lisa stared at the sizzling fish, but her tone was flat. “At that time, he and I were the only two children left in the training camp. We were locked in a cage. I told him that even if we died together, I would not do anything to harm him. He said the same thing to me.”

At that time, only one out of a hundred children would be able to walk out of that cage alive. When there were only ten people left, the other eight children did not dare to mess with her, so they prepared to attack the boy.

She finally stood up, picked up the knife, and killed the eight children. She walked up to him, covered in blood. She sat down and said to him, “Only one child will be able to walk out alive now. Only one of us gets to live. But I won’t kill you. What about you? Will you kill me?”

The boy shook his head firmly and said, “I won’t!”

“Well then...” Lisa held his hand and smiled at him. “Even if we both have to die, don’t betray me, okay?”

The boy smiled back at her.

That night, she slept very lightly. She felt a black shadow walk up to her. Even with her eyes closed, she could sense the cold gleam of the dagger reflecting the moonlight! She opened her eyes and reflexively reacted to pin that person down. When she saw his face clearly, she fell against the wall in disappointment!

It was him!

They had a deal not to betray each other even if they had to die together. But he chose to betray her and decided to attack her in her sleep. The boy held the dagger nervously and stood up unsteadily. He was crying hard and tears were flowing down his face!

"I don't have a choice! I don't want to kill you either... but... but I don't want to die!"

"Number Nine, you know, you know too... only one person gets to walk out of this cage alive! Since you're not afraid of death, then why don't you be the one to die?!"

Chapter 3674 A New Addition (290)

She looked at him quietly. At that moment, her heart had completely turned cold!

However, she did not move until the boy walked up to her and raised the dagger in his hand!

"I killed him." Lisa said calmly, "I strangled him with my own hands. I didn't realize he was dead until his body turned cold."

As she looked at his lifeless body, Lisa realized that tears were streaming down her face. She did not know his name, only his code name: 76.

He was the 76th chosen child.

Usually, he would save his food for her. He sang very well. When she could not sleep at night, he would sing softly to her. She would listen to his songs until she fell asleep. It felt extremely peaceful. But in the end, her best friend still died in her hands. She became the last child standing, but she killed her best friend.

"I broke my promise."

Little Yichen looked at her in surprise. Lisa lifted her gaze and saw the look in his eyes. She thought he was surprised at her cruelty. "I'm sure you think I'm being cruel, too, don't you? I think I'm cruel too... like a demon." She mocked herself.

"You're not a demon," Little Yichen said firmly.

The girl raised her brows in confusion. "Don't you think I'm cruel? I promised that I wouldn't do anything to him no matter what, but I still did!"

"He betrayed you first."

Lisa smiled. "Thank you."

Even though Little Yichen said that she was not a demon, she still felt that she was cruel.

Just as she lowered her head and was lost in her thoughts, a pair of arms hugged her gently. She froze and her posture stiffened like a stone!

He gently hugged her and chuckled. "How can you be a demon? You're obviously very kind. If it weren't for you, Youyou wouldn't have had the chance to return to Mommy. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have been able to escape from the Acklan Island on my own. Lisa, how can you say that you're a demon?"

Lisa looked stunned. Little Yichen's embrace was so warm that it made one yearn for more. He gave her a great sense of security! It seemed like even if the sky were to fall, he would be able to hold it up with his own strength!

Regaining her senses, the girl suddenly looked down at Little Yichen's hand and realized that it had accidentally touched her...

Now, she was at the age of puberty. The little lotuses were just about to reveal their subtle horns. Although Little Yichen did not have this consciousness, it didn't mean that it was the same for her!

"Lisa, you..." Before Little Yichen could finish his words, the girl grabbed his arm and threw him over her shoulder in a swift and graceful motion, causing him to land on the ground like a big backpack!

"Ohhhhh..." Before Little Yichen could understand what was going on, he had been thrown to the ground, his head spinning from the pain. Lisa stood up and said expressionlessly, "Don't tell me you don't understand that a boy and a girl should keep a distance!"

Talking to a young kid who was less than ten years old about gender differences?!

Little Yichen was even more stunned.

Lisa turned her flushed face away awkwardly. Without looking at him, she deliberately sat on the far side away from him and snorted. "Don't touch me so casually in the future."

Little Yichen sat up with his hands on his shoulders and muttered to himself, what's with the sudden craziness?

Chapter 3675 A New Addition (291)

Girls are not to be trifled with! It doesn't take a grown woman to have deep and hidden thoughts. Even a girl as young as Lisa had deep and hidden thoughts, apparently! She was smiling just a moment ago, but suddenly she turned hostile!

"It hurts!" Little Yichen grumbled at her.

The girl snorted indifferently. "Serves you right!"

Little Yichen was even more baffled. What he didn't see, though, was Lisa pursing her lips and snickering when he lowered his head to examine his bruised body.

“How long are we going to grill this fish for?” Little Yichen smelled the aroma that kept drifting over, but yet it was not ready for eating. It made him restless. He was quite convinced that the fish was cooked. If they continued grilling it, it would be burnt!

It wasn't easy for him to catch these two fish. If they were to burn them...

Well, if they burnt them, he'd eat them crying! He had not eaten meat for a long time! All he had been eating was compressed biscuits with milk these days, and he was going crazy!

Protein! Protein!

Oh wonderful meat!

Little Yichen's emotions surged when he smelled the aroma!

“When can we eat?”

Lisa rolled her eyes at him. “We can eat when it's cooked.”

What nonsense! Little Yichen immediately said, “Many people around the world eat sashimi. Raw fish is edible too!”

“It's better if it's cooked. Raw fish may be contaminated with parasites.”

The moment he heard that there might be parasites, Little Yichen obediently waited for the fish to be cooked.

One had to admit that Lisa's cooking skills were top-notch. Once seasoning had been added, the girl skewered the fish and passed it to him. Yichen was so moved by the aroma that he was almost in tears! “It smells so good!” Little Yichen could not wait to take a bite. At that moment, the fresh and tender chum salmon meat triggered an amazing chemical reaction in his mouth! He felt countless little flowers blooming in his mind. The delicious texture almost made him shed tears of happiness!

“It's so tender! So delicious!”

After taking a bite, he wished he could jump into the sea and fish a few dozen more so that he could eat to his heart's content!

“The fish meat of the chum salmon is very tender, even more tender than salmon.”

As Little Yichen munched on the fish, he solemnly vowed, “I'll fish a few more for tomorrow! Yes!”

With Lisa's skills, it would be a pity not to open a barbecue restaurant! Little Yichen held the skewer close to himself and munched on the grilled fish with relish. He was so happy that he forgot about everything else.

Lisa also took a bite of the grilled fish.

She often ate chum salmon, so eating this again, it didn't feel amazing. But certainly, it was better than an energy cookie.

Little Yichen finished the grilled fish in no time. Once he was done, he stared at Lisa with wide eyes. There was still half of the fish left. Unfortunately, the girl ate very slowly, which made Little Yichen hungry as he looked on. Lisa kept eating without looking at him.

Little Yichen stared at her as she ate, licking his lips and gulping down his saliva. He eagerly said, "Your grilled fish must taste better than mine."

"...Why do you say that?"

The boy admitted earnestly, "Because it smells better than mine."

Lisa's jaw dropped. After a moment, she squeezed out the word, "Idiot."

She wondered if this guy was a single-celled organism.

Little Yichen stared at her until she finished the fish. He could not help but feel disappointed! He had thought that Lisa would not be able to finish a whole fish by herself. He had been waiting to "take over" the plate at any time, but this fellow...

She was even cleaner than him!

How infuriating!

Lisa asked, "Do you want more food?"

Little Yichen nodded frantically.

Chapter 3676 A New Addition (292)

Little Yichen nodded frantically.

Lisa smiled and gave the flat reply, "There's no more even if you wanted some."

Little Yichen's expression froze.

"What's with that expression? There's no more fish even if I don't mind grilling it for you." With that, Lisa stood up and said earnestly, "If you want more, then fish for some once you've woken up tomorrow. I'll grill them for you." He laughed heartily again. "Really?!" "Yeah, really." She urged him, "Go back to the cabin and get some rest now!"

The boy nodded and put away the stand and the stove. Lisa suddenly turned to him and said, "Oh, there's a water tank on the boat. So take a shower if you want."

"Uh huh." Little Yichen found the shower stall and took a hot shower before retreating to bed comfortably. Before he knew it, night fell.

Lisa stayed in the cockpit. The night was silent, and only the sound of the waves could be heard. The yacht sailed on the calm sea. As she sat leaning against the wall with her arms crossed, Little Yichen's words echoed in her mind.

How can you be a demon? You are obviously very kind.

If it weren't for you, Youyou wouldn't have had the chance to return to Mommy. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have been able to escape from Acklan Island on my own.

Lisa, how can you say that you are a demon?

Lisa could not help smiling.

Although this guy seemed a little silly generally, he was rather adorable!

As she smiled, she again recalled what he said:

Lisa, have you realized that you're smiling a lot more than before?

She immediately retracted her smile and massaged her sore cheeks before pursing her lips.

Indeed. She was smiling more than before. She was also trying to be more communicative.

This...

Was it a good thing?

To begin with, an assassin was not allowed to have any emotions. Once an assassin developed feelings, it could be fatal. Because, as an assassin, any one of the more than six billion people in the world could be her target. And relationships shouldn't be in the way. Without feelings, one would not have any hesitation.

Hence, she forced herself to be cold, she forced herself to not have any feelings for anyone. Just like how she had once regarded him as her best friend and had feelings for him. If it hadn't been for these emotions, she would not have such unforgettable memories.

She wouldn't have been so torn apart, or hesitated so much, when she had to kill him.

But...

After all, she was still a child. Lisa yearned for warmth more than anyone else. She wanted to have a warm family, just like Little Yichen, and a companion like Youyou. Although she understood that a wish like this was too extravagant!

The next day, Little Yichen woke up on time and took over the shift from Lisa.

During the day, he threw the net into the water to fish again. This time, he paid attention to his technique. In addition, he was really lucky and caught four chum salmon. Two of them were quite big

That evening, he set up the stove in advance and prepared the seasonings. When Lisa got up, he hurried her to grill the fish.

They were the only two people on the huge yacht, drifting on the open sea. Fortunately, they had each other for company so that they weren't lonely.

During the days on the yacht, Lisa often smiled. Little Yichen liked to see her smile because it made her look so beautiful! In order to see her smile, Little Yichen tried to amuse her. She did not know what Little Yichen was thinking, nor did she know how he always managed to make her smile.

Chapter 3677 A New Addition (293)

With his company during this time, she did not have a chance to feel lonely. Every day, Lisa would make a mark. In the blink of an eye, they had already spent five peaceful days at sea. Lisa thought it was wonderful that they could sail together so peacefully.

Alas, this thought came too soon.

On the seventh day on the sea, they encountered a sea storm! Just as she was dozing off in the cockpit, she was startled awake by a violent turbulence! She suddenly sat up and saw a huge wave surging towards the bow of the ship. Then it crashed and caused a huge tremor! "Damn it! A sea storm!"

The strong turbulence woke Little Yichen too. The entire hull was shaking. The boy immediately rolled out of bed and stumbled to the cockpit, only to find Lisa standing in front of the dashboard, calmly controlling it.

Startled, he asked, "What's going on?!"

Lisa took over the instrument panel as she said steadily, "We've encountered a sea storm!"

"Sea storm?!" Little Yichen had never encountered such a situation before! As such, he inevitably felt a little helpless!

"What should we do now?!"

Lisa turned around and looked at him calmly. "We're preparing to turn back."

"Turn back?!" Little Yichen protested in disbelief, "Isn't that just a waste of time?!"

"If we don't turn back and insist on sailing into the storm, things can go wrong easily." Lisa added, "We can't take this risk now!"

A sea storm might be accompanied by a tornado. Hence, she did not dare to take the risk. She would rather waste some time and turn back for now! Little Yichen did not know what to do, so he could only agree with her.

Very quickly, the yacht began to turn back and sailed away from the center of the storm. After a few hours of turbulence, the sea gradually calmed down. Only when she was certain that they were far away from the storm did she finally relax.

By now, it was already dawn.

She told Little Yichen, "We're safe!"

Little Yichen suddenly saw a familiar island. He could not help but narrow his eyes. He felt that this iconic island was too familiar, as if he had seen it somewhere before!

He asked Lisa, "Have we really sailed back the way we came?"

"No." In her panic, she had instinctively steered away and sailed towards calm water. In reality, she did not sail back the same way they had gone.

“What’s wrong? Where are we now?!”

Looking at the route map, Lisa felt her heart skip a beat. She started to feel uneasy.

“Somalia...”

“That would be right then.” Little Yichen furrowed his brow. “This is Somalia,” he said solemnly. “That island. I’ve seen it in the newspaper at the special training camp.”

ne

At that time, there were newspapers at the special training camp. He happened to see the headlines in the newspaper about the Somali pirates hijacking Chinese ships, killing and robbing the people on board. The photo published on the front page then was this island.

Because the image was deeply impressed upon him, Little Yichen could clearly remember the island’s appearance.

“Be careful.” Little Yichen reminded, “The pirates are very rampant here.”

Lisa knew this more than he did. In the past, when she was sailing with Gong Jie, they often encountered pirates at sea.

The Somali pirates were notorious and fearsome!

Chapter 3678 A New Addition (294)

Compared to the pirates in the other seas, the Somali pirates were armed to the teeth, and their methods were cruel and astute. They were even equipped with weapons as lethal as rocket launchers!

But things were different then. Gong Jie’s battleship was armed to the teeth and even had a missile interceptor.

This yacht wasn’t armed and they only had some weapons and firearms. However, such firearms would probably not be able to resist the Somali pirates, who operated in big groups.

“We have to leave this place as soon as possible.”

“No.” Lisa replied, “Are you crazy? There’s a sea storm ahead. Wouldn’t it be more dangerous if we went back there again?!”

Little Yichen frowned, but Lisa continued, “The Somali pirates are rampant, but we may not necessarily run into them. We just have to be on guard.”

“Okay.” Little Yichen did not dare to go to sleep and stayed in the cockpit with Lisa.

The water from the waves had gone into the cabin. However, the yacht was equipped with some equipment that could drain the water directly from the rooms.

Following this, the rest of the day was peaceful.

However, that night, just as Lisa was about to fall asleep, she suddenly noticed the yacht coming to a stop. She woke up with a jolt and looked at the screen. There was a message that said that the propeller had malfunctioned.

“What’s going on?”

“The ship’s propeller has malfunctioned.”

After a pause, Lisa asked him, “Did you hear any strange noises just then?”

“Yes I did.”

“Stay here,” Little Yichen said to Lisa. “I’ll go to the bow and check it out.”

“Okay.”

Little Yichen made his way to the bow of the boat. The view from the cabin had cleared somewhat, however there remained a layer of ankle-deep water. He waded across the water to the bow of the boat and peered over the railing. He could see a large area of blood stained water in the direction of the bow.

This threw the boy into shock!

What was going on!?

Little Yichen’s alert was raised. Then at this point, he suddenly saw an arm floating out from under the propeller along with the seawater. He thought it was a person and was confused. Then he suddenly realized that this arm was actually a severed limb!

It was a corpse!

A corpse had drifted to the bottom of the propeller, and the propeller had severed the arm, but the corpse was stuck. That was the reason that the propeller malfunctioned!

Crap.

The boy’s eyelid suddenly twitched violently as he returned to the cockpit. He told Lisa, “A dead body has been caught in the propeller, now it’s stuck.”

“Why is there a corpse?!”

“I don’t know either. What should we do now?”.

Lisa said, “First we’ll shut down all the devices on the yacht and dive into the sea. Then we’ll have to clean up whatever’s stuck in the propeller so it can function properly.”

In other words, they had to personally go into the water and clean up the corpse before they could resume normal operations.

Little Yichen went into a daze!

Seeing his expression, Lisa immediately said, “I’ll do it!”

“That’s not necessary! I’ll do it.”

Lisa smiled, however, and said, "I've seen so many dead people in my life. It's just a corpse. Besides, I'm a better swimmer than you are, it will be safer for me to go. Get me the diving suit from the storage room."

"Okay." Little Yichen immediately went to the store to retrieve the diving suit.

Lisa turned off all the devices on the yacht and carried her diving suit to the bow of the boat. Suddenly, she heard some noise coming from nearby.

It was the sound of a man shouting through the loudspeaker.

She frowned and immediately reached for the binoculars strapped to her waist. She took a look and was so shocked that she took half a step back.

Chapter 3679 A New Addition (295)

"What's wrong?"

Little Yichen immediately snatched the binoculars from her hands and look through it. To his surprise, he saw that there were a few speedboats speeding towards the yacht!

On the speedboats, a few dark-skinned people were making random hand gestures at the yacht, clearly trying to provoke them!

Lisa finally realized! "They were the ones who released this corpse!"

Yichen turned around, not quite understanding what she meant.

Lisa then explained, "They deliberately threw a corpse in the water so that it would jam the propeller. This way, the yacht will not be able to sail normally." "They are... pirates!?" "I'm guessing so!" Little Yichen instantly calmed down because he knew that it was useless to panic in this situation! "I've just estimated that there are about a dozen of them. They'll be here in five minutes."

Lisa immediately told Little Yichen, "We have five minutes."

"What do we do now?" Little Yichen immediately expressed his stance. "I'll do whatever you say!"

Lisa nodded, then suddenly grabbed his hand and started towards the armory.

The two of them nimbly equipped themselves with all their weapons. Finally, they locked the doors of the arsenal and ammunition store. Lisa gestured to Little Yichen, and the two of them acted in unison!

Soon, the speedboats arrived. About a dozen pirates instantly surrounded the yacht. One of them raised the loudspeaker and directed instructions to the yacht occupants, "I'll give you one minute to hand over all your valuables and weapons! Otherwise, we'll kill without mercy!"

Immediately after, the crew members waved ropes with iron hooks and secured their boat to the yacht's railing. Using the ropes, they quickly boarded the yacht. Alas, after they all boarded the yacht, the crew realized that there was no one on it!

An empty fort strategy?

The pirates instantly became alert!

Holding their guns, they searched one cabin after another. They kicked open the cockpit door, but there was no one inside!

“What’s going on!?”

They looked at each other. How could there be no one on such a huge yacht?! Did they jump into the sea and escape?! Impossible!

They then leaned over the railing and looked down. They picked up their binoculars and searched through the viewfinder, but did not see anything suspicious. Not daring to let their guard down, they split up to search the yacht.

“You! Go to the second floor! You, search the basement! And you, search the other cabins!”

“Yes, Captain!”

The small group of pirates had a clear system and division of labor. The crew members immediately split up! Four of them headed to the basement. As soon as they opened the door, they were greeted by a strong musty smell of mold and salt after soaking in seawater.

One of them turned on the flashlight and slowly entered the basement. As he was searching around, the door behind him slowly swung close!

All the devices on the yacht were switched off, so there were no lights at all.

Bang! The sound of the door closing startled everyone!

“Who’s that?”

“Who shut the door!”

“No! Not us!”

“We didn’t shut the door!”

The leader of the group turned pale with fright. He immediately picked up the flashlight and shone it at the door, only to see a sinisterly cold and pale face!

From the time they entered the basement, Lisa had been hiding behind the door, shutting it only when everyone had entered the basement!

Chapter 3680 A New Addition (296)

Lisa narrowed her eyes and pulled out a sharp dagger secured to her waist. She swung it at the nearest person! “Ahhh!”

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Gunshots rang out in the basement.

However, in less than a minute, the basement returned to an eerie silence!

The other crew members moved towards the storage room. They were very vigilant and carried their guns close to them. The moment they broke through the door, they raised their guns away and scanned every corner vigilantly.

Entering the room, an acrid smell assaulted their noses. It smelled as though someone had been floating out on the sea for a month without a bath. The stench permeated the air.

Seeing that there was no one in the store, the group put away their guns and started rummaging through the cabinets! The pirates were here for valuables. When they saw that there was no one on the boat, their first reaction was that the occupants had escaped in a small speedboat. Hence, they quickly searched for any assets that had been left on board.

The cabinet door suddenly flew open. Everyone immediately became alert. Before they could raise their guns, however, an unknown object was suddenly tossed out. The pirates looked at each other curiously. In another sudden move, the flash grenade exploded. In the tiny room, the powerful flash blinded everyone!

“Shit!”

The pirates wailed like ghosts and howled like wolves. Wearing a pair of goggles, Mu Yichen, flipped out of the cabinet with his M4A1. Kneeling on one knee, he lifted it up and fired a series of shots at the crowd!

Da da da!

In a flash, a large number of corpses lay scattered on the ground.

Mu Yichen stood up and walked over. He examined the corpses one by one, and for those who still showed any signs of life, he shot them between the brows!

When the remaining pirates on the second-floor cabin heard the gunshots from the store on the first floor, they exchanged glances and immediately rushed to the store location. They fanned away the smoke inside and a bloody scene filled their vision!

“What happened!?”

They clearly did not expect such a scenario! As they started to panic, the overhead covering of the store was suddenly pulled open. Immediately after, a Gatling was stuck in.

Lisa squatted on top of the cabin and aimed the machine gun into the cabin, opening up a sweeping fire as she did so.

Da da da da

A few minutes later, the world returned to silence.

Lisa and Little Yichen met up and stepped carefully into the room. She held the dagger in her hand and examined the bodies on the floor.

At that moment, there was overpowering smell of blood in the room! The two of them exchanged glances. After confirming that all the pirates inside had been killed, Lisa and Little Yichen put away their daggers and left the cabin, securing the room with a lock on the outside of the door.

At night, Little Yichen and Lisa dragged all the corpses onto the deck. After checking and making sure that they were not missing anything, they threw the corpses into the sea.

Dressed in her diving suit, Lisa dived under the water until she had cleared away the mangled dead body on the propeller. Then she climbed onto the yacht and gestured towards the cockpit. She finally let out a sigh of relief after Little Yichen engaged the start lever and the propeller returned to work smoothly.

Using the radio, she sent out a distress signal. Through the navigation map, Lisa saw that the sea storm was still raging. Feeling troubled, she put a hand to her forehead and said, "I wonder when the sea storm will pass."

"I'm only worried that we might encounter pirates again."
