

Sweet Love 3761

Chapter 3761: A New Addition (377)

Chu He was not an active WeChat user, but ever since she got pregnant, she had been bored out of her mind. She started to play with her phone and joined a WeChat group of mothers-to-be in the same city. This was a group of new mothers or mothers-to-be, some were actually lying in the labor ward, sharing their experience of waiting to give birth, for example, how painful the contractions were, or how they had only dilated the width of 3 fingers after one whole night. Some wanted natural birth but ended up having to do a C-section...

All sorts of situations.

Initially, Chu He thought that it was interesting and approached it with an attitude of learning. Thus, she also enthusiastically posted in the group chat. Later on, she realized that this WeChat group was like a tree hole. Many mothers were complaining and seeking solace.

Chu He had the deepest impression of a woman who was seven months pregnant. She cried in the WeChat group because she couldn't have sex during her pregnancy. Her husband had made some outrageous request that she was unwilling to perform. Later on, at seven months pregnant, she found out that her husband was having an affair. It left her in despair and pain.

Her story resonated with other pregnant women.

Sexual intimacy was not allowed during pregnancy. Actually, it was not entirely true. At least, other than the first and last trimester, sexual intimacy was possible as long as it was not too intense.

However, most mothers-to-be are eager to protect their babies and refuse acts of intimacy. This results in many conflicts between husband and wife, and some husbands simply will not tolerate it. Hence, they have affairs...

Many women are unable to accept this when it happens, but they do not know how to face it. Most of them end up turning a blind eye.

"What else can I do? My belly is huge and I'm about to give birth. I can't simply get a divorce right?"

"If we get a divorce, I can't afford bringing up the baby. However I'm unwilling for the child's custody to go to him too. I will have nothing left. The house and the car are all premarital assets. I don't get a single cent..."

"As long as he doesn't go overboard and the woman doesn't come knocking on my door, I can only bear with it and let it pass. It can't be helped. I've been pregnant for so long, a man won't be able to bear it."

"That's right. Men are creatures who think with their lower bodies. Can they really endure for more than ten months, seriously? After giving birth, there is confinement. After confinement, it'll be a long period of breastfeeding. We'll be busy taking care of the baby. Married life will definitely suffer. After this period of time, everything will be fine I guess! As long as they don't go overboard."

However, Chu He didn't think much of it and said, "It's unforgivable for a man to cheat on you. Having an affair is betrayal. You can't forgive him. If you forgive him once, there will be a second time, a third time, and countless times because they will realize that such a mistake has no consequence."

No one acknowledged her words, however.

But many of them kept silent on this matter. One of them though, for some reason, perhaps her husband had cheated on her, said angrily to Chu He, "All men are the same! I advise you to be more careful! Your husband may seem fine in front of you, but who knows what he is like behind your back? How many affairs has he had? How long have you been pregnant? Looking at your note, more than five months! Normal men wouldn't be able to take it!"

Chu He replied, "I don't understand what you mean. Firstly, my husband doesn't gallivant outside after work. He will always come home immediately."

Chapter 3762: A New Addition (378)

"He'll join me for dinner and a walk. I don't have to keep an eye on him. I trust him."

Without anything to compare against, Chu He would not have realized how gentle and responsible a husband Gu Jinglian was. Every day, other than attending to company matters, he spent most of his time around her, afraid that he would miss her for half a day.

There was too much negative vibes in the WeChat group. Many of the members were full-time housewives. They did not have a job and their focus was primarily on their husbands.

Many of them were furious that during the pregnancy period, their husbands had affairs, but they did not dare to say anything. Even if they knew, they could only cry and throw tantrums, nothing more. Men with some conscience would often admit their mistakes and say that there would not be a next time. They would not dare to do it again.

This was giving the woman an out. But if she were to push him too hard, he would say, "Fine, then let's get a divorce!"

Often, many people would be helpless and not know what to do! It was as if they were lost without a man!

The woman was aggressive. "Ha! You believe him! Back then, before this happened, I believed him too. I didn't suspect at all that he'd have an affair. But since it happened, I had no choice but to accept reality! Men are all like this. You don't know it only because he hides it well, it doesn't mean it's not happening! And even if it's not happening, it doesn't mean it won't happen! Just wait and see. Your man may be able to put up with it for five months. But can he put up with it for ten months? Can he put up with it through your confinement and breastfeeding period? Don't think too highly of men! Men are all like that!"

Her last sentence was filled with contempt!

Chu He laughed. "Because you were betrayed by your husband, you perceive all the women in the world to be as miserable as you! You don't have to impose your own misfortune on me to make your husband look dignified. My husband is a responsible man, you don't have to criticize him!"

"How confident are you?!" The woman remarked derisively. "Your man must be very ugly! Otherwise, how could he not find a woman?"

Seeing that the atmosphere was getting tense, the other members remarked nervously, "Don't be like this. Let's all just get along harmoniously and don't make things unpleasant! Since this has happened, everyone should think of a way to face it together. Let's not argue!"

"Exactly!"

Chu He stopped chatting and threw her phone aside angrily. She was angry not because of the cheating men, but because these women condoned betrayal. If it were her, she would not tolerate such betrayal.

She had even thought about whether Gu Jinglian would one day get tired of this marriage and fall in love with another woman. If that were to happen, she would not try to salvage the marriage. The moment he had a change of heart, he would have betrayed his own marriage. She would not accept the slightest betrayal. No matter physically or mentally, she would not condone it.

As for her, she would never betray him! Even if a man more outstanding than him appeared one day, she would not betray him.

Since she had chosen him, since she had prayed to heaven and earth during the wedding and made a promise, she would be faithful to her promise and be with him for the rest of her life, she would never abandon him!

This was Chu He's understanding of marriage!

Other than natural disasters and death, there was nothing that could separate them.

And would Gu Jinglian think the same?

Chu He firmly believed that he was different from those men. Although he was not good with words, he was a responsible man.

Chapter 3763: A New Addition (379)

Chu He put her phone aside and stopped bothering with WeChat.

However, a few people in the WeChat group had established a separate small group. The pregnant women who had the conflict with Chu He earlier was unhappy with Chu He and started throwing tantrums!

"That person by the name of Chu He... who introduced her into the group? How can there be such a naive woman in this world? Men aren't good people. It's not that I want to overturn the whole ship. But that's a fact! How many men nowadays are truly responsible?!"

The group started to discuss this matter.

“I admit it too. There are also men who don’t cheat. However, look at us. We’re pregnant and even with our huge bellies, we have to do some house work. At the end of the day, when the men return home, they either lie on the sofa or on the bed like an old master!”

At this point, the flood gate opened in a grievous outpour. Most of the pregnant women in this chat group did not have a harmonious family life. After complaining about their disappointing husbands, one of them sent a disdainful emoticon.

“That Chu He just wanted to show off how much her husband loves her, how well he treats her, and how much he dotes on her. She just wants to feel superior!”

“Hmph, I don’t think so. Her husband must be very ugly. I’ve also seen men who are obedient to their wives. They’re either very ugly or very honest. I’ve seen many rich people and second-generation heirs. All of them have a wife at home and mistresses outside.”

At this point, the pregnant woman who had invited Chu He into the group spoke up. “I was the one who introduced Chu He into the group. Back then, we met during the prenatal checkup. I was accompanied by my mother-in-law for the prenatal checkup. I think Chu He was accompanied by her husband!”

“Her husband accompanied her to the prenatal checkup?!”

Everyone was stumped.

Not that it was strange for a husband to accompany his wife to a prenatal checkup. It was just that the person had exaggerated and described how Gu Jinglian was protective towards Chu He and how considerate he was.

Many of them felt rather indignant.

“Then her husband must be very ugly!”

“Exactly! How can there be such a handsome and gentle husband who is so considerate towards his wife? That’s too good to be true and a rarity. How could she have run into a man like that?”

That woman continued weakly, “I’ve seen Chu He’s husband before. I’ll never forget him... He’s even more handsome than a celebrity! You guys know Gu Xingze, right?”

Everyone reacted at the mention of Gu Xingze.

“I know. The nation’s male idol. But isn’t he dead?”

“Chu He’s husband looks quite similar to Gu Xingze! When I first saw him, I thought that Gu Xingze was still alive. I even suspected whether his supposed death was an excuse for him to retire from the entertainment industry. Perhaps, he’s not dead, but married. He wants to leave the entertainment industry and return to his family. He’s afraid that his fans will find it unacceptable so he had directed and acted his own suicide by jumping off a building.”

“Impossible. The media reported that they saw Gu Xingze’s body at the memorial service. He’s really dead. It’s true.”

“How similar do they look?”

“He’s even more handsome than Gu Xingze. Moreover, when he accompanied Chu He to the prenatal checkup, he was accompanied by a butler. I heard Chu He call him ‘Butler Fu’, and that ‘Butler Fu’ called him ‘Master Gu’.”

Butler Fu had always addressed Gu Jinglian as “Master Gu” when they were outside of the Gu family residence.

Chapter 3764: A New Addition (380)

“His surname is also Gu?”

“Could you have misheard ‘son-in-law’ as ‘Master Gu’?”

Many of the group members felt indignant.

“Really? Amy, are you sure? Is Chu He’s husband really handsome?”

“Uh huh. Well, in any case, it made me very jealous. My husband didn’t even accompany me for a few prenatal examinations. However, I saw that Chu He’s husband seemed to take very good care of her. He couldn’t even bear to let her carry a bag like those from a normal hospital. Chu He’s belly was slightly bigger than mine. While waiting for the prenatal examination report, I saw her husband holding her hand and walking slowly outside the long corridor. They didn’t talk much, but I could tell that they were very close. To be honest, I was envious! I really couldn’t compare. Comparisons are odious. At that time, I thought, if only I were Chu He! I wouldn’t have to go through so much hard work preparing for pregnancy!”

She sent another long message. “Pregnancy is really tough. I just don’t understand these men. They make it seem like they’re working all day while I’m relaxing at home with a big belly. I must not have any expectations of him. I can’t ask him to accompany me for a walk. He’ll just say that I don’t understand him and how hard it is for him to earn money! Sometimes, I’ll think about it when I’m alone. At night, he’ll just lie beside me and play with his phone by himself. After playing for a while, he’d fall asleep and won’t bother with me. Sometimes at night, I feel terrible and when I cry, he won’t budge!”

“When we got married, he made everything sound so wonderful! He said that he would love me for the rest of his life and understand me, but what happened in the end? Because I was pregnant, I quit my job and focused on staying at home to take care of my husband and children. Now that Da Bao is almost going to kindergarten and I’m pregnant with another child, I still have to send Da Bao to school every morning and play with him at night. When I ask my husband to oversee the child’s work, he simply refuses! I really don’t know what’s the point of marrying him! Now he’s living it up, keeping a b*tch outside! To think I found out about this through his WeChat chat records! Tell me, why did he keep these chat records? For me to discover? Did he show it to me on purpose?! I’d rather he be smarter and more cunning. It's better to delete the WeChat records and lie to me for the rest of his life! Now, I don't even know if I should divorce him!"

"Get a divorce! What are you keeping a man like him for?!"

"But if we got a divorce... He bought the house before we got married, and I paid for renovation. It's a big property sitting on land and costs hundreds of thousands. And the car too. If we got a divorce, I won't have a share of the house. I might not even get custody of the child. And if I got custody, I might not be able to afford it!"

"You have to be careful when it comes to divorce! Divorced women are very discriminated against! No matter how good a woman is, once it's a second marriage, her value drops."

"This isn't fair. It's infuriating!"

At this point, someone said frostily, "When you see others living a bright and beautiful life, it may not mean they're truly happy! Just like how on the surface, you people still love your husbands, but who would be able to see the resentment and grievances that you have suffered in private?! Chu He may be living a life even more bitter than yours!"

"She even acts like she has a strong sense of justice, declaring that her husband would never cheat on her! Hmph, I bet she doesn't even know that he's cheating on her!"

"Don't get angry when you're pregnant. It's not good for the child. Why do you have to punish your own body? You can't control your emotions when you're pregnant. Don't go against yourself."

Chapter 3765: A New Addition (381)

This was a group of pregnant women that, because of some trivial matters of life, became like a group of resentful women.

"Isn't there a gathering soon? We can meet Chu He's husband then. I want to see what the big deal is!"

Chu He didn't know that a few pregnant women had formed a small group and were gossiping about her. By the time Gu Jinglian came home, she was sitting on the sofa, learning from Madam Qin how to knit a scarf.

The weather was turning cold.

She thought that since she was pregnant and did not have much to do, and given everyone in the household had taken such good care of her, she wanted to learn how to knit. It was easy to knit scarves, so she planned to knit scarves for Gu Jinglian, Baby Chu, and Linxi. It would be good practice. Thus, she asked Madam Qin for advice on this handicraft.

Madam Qin naturally taught her everything without reservation. By the time Gu Jinglian came home, Chu He was sitting on the sofa knitting a scarf. She had already cast the stitches and had knitted several rows. The man was stunned. He could not associate such a domesticated task of knitting a scarf with Chu He.

“What are you doing?”

Chu He looked up when she heard him. She was so focused on the knitting that she hadn't realized he was home.

“You're home!” Chu He smiled. “It's getting cold. I want to knit a scarf for you, Baby Chu and Linxi.”

Gu Jinglian did not have the habit of wearing a scarf. Usually, he would get into the car the moment he stepped out of the door. No matter where he went, the heater would be turned on and he had no use for a scarf. However, if it was knitted by her, it would be a different story.

Gu Jinglian was inexplicably happy although he appeared nonchalant. He casually picked up the ball of yarn and asked, “Do you know how to knit?”

“Madam Qin taught me. It's not difficult and the pattern is simple, I've already mastered it.”

“Oh.” Gu Jinglian tried to look calm and said casually, “You can continue later! Let's go downstairs for dinner first!” After saying this, he turned around expressionlessly. As he did so, a smug and satisfied smile appeared on his lips. He was unable to keep himself from smiling.

On his way down, Butler Fu happened to be going upstairs. He saw Gu Jinglian walking down the stairs with a smile on his face as if he had seen a ghost. Noticing Butler Fu's wide-eyed expression, Gu Jinglian immediately stopped smiling and returned to his usual cold expression.

“What's that wide-eyed look about!?”

“Old Master... you seem rather happy about something today?” the butler asked tentatively.

“Why are you asking this!?”

“Look at you, you're grinning so widely!”

Gu Jinglian frowned slightly and subconsciously rubbed the corner of his lips with his hand. Realizing the unmistakable mockery in Butler Fu's expression, he replied angrily, “Your eyesight is failing!” Having said that, Gu Jinglian ignored the butler and continued down the stairs solemnly.

Butler Fu covered his mouth and chuckled. The old master had always had this awkwardness!

When Butler Fu walked into the room and saw Chu He putting the scarf aside, he was surprised. “You're knitting a scarf?”

“Uh huh!”

Madam Qin smiled. “This is for Old Master. Chu He picked a dark gray shade. She is smart and learns everything quickly! I only have to teach her once and she has already gotten the hang of it!”

Butler Fu laughed when he heard this! No wonder the old master looked so pleased on his way down! He must have been feeling happy that Chu He was knitting a scarf for him?!

Chapter 3766: A New Addition (382)

“How awkward!” Butler Fu thought to himself.

Chu He asked him, “Butler Fu, do you think the dark gray color suits Jinglian?”

“Yes, it suits. As long as you think it suits.”

“It can’t be just because I think it suits him. What if he doesn’t look good in it?” Chu He smiled. “I don’t think he wears a scarf usually. I wonder if he will wear it after I complete it.”

Then, she muttered to herself, “Alternatively, I could give it to Baby Chu!”

She did notice that Gu Jinglian did not seem to be very interested in the scarf she was knitting, she was worried that he would not even look at it after all her painstaking efforts. He may even chuck it in the wardrobe and not wear it, and that would upset her!

Butler Fu was anxious when he heard this. “No! Didn’t you say you were going to knit this scarf for Old Master? If you give it to Baby Chu, Old Master will be angry!”

“Angry? Why?” Chu He was somewhat puzzled. “Isn’t it true that he doesn’t like wearing scarves!”

“That’s different.” Butler Fu explained, “As long as it’s knitted by you, Old Master will definitely wear it every day. Even if it’s torn, he won’t bear to throw it away!” He paused and smiled for a moment before continuing. “Chu He, don’t you know what Old Master is like? He has a sharp tongue and a soft heart. He may say that the scarf doesn’t look good when in fact, he’s secretly happy! However, Old Master has always been awkward. He may say he doesn’t like something, when he actually likes it very much! It’s just that he doesn’t say it aloud because of his ego!”

“Really?!” Chu He laughed when she heard this although she did not understand. “I don’t know why he has to be so awkward. One either likes or dislikes. Can’t he be more straightforward?”

“Men are different from women. Hehe, with Old Master’s personality, he would rather suffer than lose face.”

“Fine then!”

Chu He shook her head and looked at the scarf in her hand. She said, “I can finish knitting this scarf in a few days. When the weather gets cold, he can wear it!”

“Uh huh.”

Butler Fu added, “Hurry down and have dinner! I made chicken soup for you. Don’t let it get cold.”

“Uh huh.”

After dinner, Chu He knitted for a while. When her eyes were getting blurry, she put the scarf aside and checked her cell phone. There was a notification.

Unlocking the screen, she saw a message from the woman who had introduced her to the mother-to-be chat group earlier. The woman asked, "Are you coming to the mother-to-be interaction session next week?"

"Are you there? Why aren't you responding?!"

"Are you still angry about what happened this afternoon?"

...

Having read the messages, Chu He replied, "Mother-to-be interaction session? What's this about?"

"Didn't I tell you before!" That person immediately replied, "Apart from taking care of their pregnancies, many mothers-to-be feel lonely. All of us happen to be from the same city, and we are all mothers-to-be. There are also some 'veterans' who have already given birth. It's a rare chance for everyone to gather, chat, and share their thoughts!"

Chu He was a little hesitant. "I've been busy knitting scarves recently. I don't think I have time to go out."

The point was, they were not on good terms, and it would be awkward if they met.

"Knitting scarves? For the baby?"

"No, it's for my husband. The weather is getting cold and I have free time. I learned how to knit a scarf and decided to knit one for him."

Chapter 3767: A New Addition (383)

"Aiya, you should have asked me! I'm an expert at knitting and know all kinds of patterns. I can teach you! I'll definitely teach you everything unreservedly!"

Chu He was amused. "Are you serious? I'm clumsy and a slow learner."

"Don't worry! I'm very patient. Just bring the materials over on the day and I'll draw a pattern for you. I guarantee that you'll get it very quickly!"

"Oh!"

Chu He was tempted.

That woman continued, "Actually, I know that you're probably afraid that you might have caused some unhappiness in the group and that it would be awkward for you to meet them. But it's alright. We're all mothers, so we have no bad intentions. Actually, that woman has been upset and already unhappy. Given what you said, wouldn't you be suspected of attracting hatred?"

Chu He smiled. "I'm not angry anymore. I had good intentions and felt that it was wrong for a man to have an affair. In the end, she became unreasonable and argued with me. Actually, I don't have to say so much to her. I'm living my own life and it's not for others to criticize me. I'm not angry anymore. I just feel wronged!"

She shouldn't have been so kind. They would have thought that she was showing off since they did not share the same frequency. But what she had said was true!

"Then it's settled!" That person probed again, "Will your husband come then?"

"Eh?" Chu He sent an emoticon with a confused expression. "Why should my husband be there?"

"Aiya, it's good that your husband comes along to interact too! It's not appropriate to leave him alone at home when you're out!"

The event was taking place on a Sunday. She had thought that Gu Jinglian would not be at work. In reality, although Gu Jinglian had rest days, they were not fixed days. He could rest any time he wanted to. However, most of the time, he didn't take any breaks.

On Sunday, if Chu He didn't need to go for a prenatal checkup and didn't have anything important to do, Gu Jinglian would still go into the office, but he would be home earlier than usual.

Chu He replied, "My husband is busy. He probably won't go."

"Ah... do come together! Doesn't your husband rest on Sunday?"

"No he doesn't."

"He works so hard?!" That person sent a smiling emoticon. "Is your husband a salaryman? Which company does he work at?"

However, Chu He was not willing to talk too much about Gu Jinglian's profession. Hence, she changed the topic and said, "Now that I know about the event, I will be there. I'll get you to teach me how to knit the cotton-padded clothes for my baby on that day!"

"It's no big deal. As long as you're here, I'll teach you."

After ending the conversation hurriedly, Chu He put down her phone and saw Gu Jinglian walking out of the bathroom.

When she saw him, she recalled the conversation they had earlier in the group chat and started to feel somewhat uncomfortable!

Sitting on the bed, she called out to him, "Gu Jinglian, I have a question for you." Even though they were married, she was still used to calling him by his full name.

The man turned around and raised an eyebrow as he towel-dried his wet hair. "What's up?"

"Let me ask you a question!"

"Yeah, go ahead."

"What's your opinion where extramarital affairs are concerned?"

"Extramarital affairs!?" Confusion flashed across Gu Jinglian's eyes. "Why are you asking this?"

"I want to know your opinion on this matter!" Chu He added, "It's just a question that came to mind, no other reason!"

Chapter 3768: A New Addition (384)

"There's no answer!" Gu Jinglian sat on the sofa and pursed his lips. "Why an extramarital affair? If you don't like your spouse, you can just break up with him or her. And if you've broken up with your spouse and subsequently go out with someone else, that can't be considered cheating!"

"Then... what if you cheated before you broke up?"

Gu Jinglian laughed. "I don't understand. Why would you be thinking of someone else before you break up?"

Chu He hesitated and then said, "Perhaps, your feelings have faded? You don't like your spouse anymore?"

The man replied straightforwardly, "If you don't like your spouse anymore, then you should break up."

"Then... what if you still like your spouse? It's just a spur of the moment..."

"If you still like her, then there's even less of a reason for you to cheat on her. You're already an adult, so you can't use spur of the moment as an excuse for everything."

Gu Jinglian paused and his gaze suddenly became dangerous. He looked at her meaningfully. "Why are you suddenly asking this!? Are you planning to have an affair?!"

"Pffft!" Chu He snorted. "Of course not! Do I need an affair? Besides, I'm pregnant. How do I even have an affair? I might as well kill myself!"

"Kill yourself, you dare?" Gu Jinglian started to look more nervous. "What's the matter? Why are you suddenly asking this? I sense that something's bothering you."

"I've heard that some men would have their physical needs settled by other women when their own wives are pregnant and are unable to have sexual intimacy." Chu He paused and continued, "Will there come a time when you are unable to control yourself?"

At the mention of this, Gu Jinglian turned somewhat gloomy. "What else can we do?" He added meaningfully, "It's not like somebody will understand me."

Cough.

Chu He turned her face away awkwardly.

"But don't worry. I can take it."

Chu He suddenly asked, "Will you forgive someone who cheats on you?"

Gu Jinglian was stunned. Noting that Chu He seemed to be very insistent on this question, he answered solemnly, "Everyone has their bottom line. It depends on what it is. For me, the answer is 'no'! I will never forgive a man who betrays me. No matter what his identity is, all is equal. You are my wife, so you must be loyal to me. Similarly, I am your husband, so I will be responsible and loyal to you. This is my principle and my bottom line.”

Chu He’s eyes lit up. “Are you serious about that?”

“Of course!” Gu Jinglian said disapprovingly, “Do you think I’m joking?! Since we are married, then there will be no divorce in this marriage, only death of a spouse.”

Chu He felt an odd chill down her spine and asked half-jokingly, “If I made you a cuckold, will you strangle me to death?”

“I will. I’ll strangle you before I strangle that adulterer.”

“How violent.”

“Good that you know.” Gu Jinglian snorted. “So behave and don’t betray me, and you won’t be strangled to death by me.”

“What about you?” Chu He suddenly asked with interest, “If you betrayed me, what would you do?”

“What would I do? First of all, there is no ‘if’. The scenario is impossible.”

Chu He found it unbelievable. “You are that confident?”

“I’m married.” Gu Jinglian emphasized again. “Since we’re married, as a husband, I can’t break the rules of marriage. I’ve always kept my word and valued rules. It’s not my style to break rules.”

Chapter 3769: A New Addition (385)

Chu He smiled. She knew what kind of man Gu Jinglian was.

Although he had an awkward personality, he would never say hypocritical sweet nothings. Because he was a very powerful man, there was no need for him to say anything hypocritical to win the favor of others! Only others would try to please him, he had never spent his time and effort to try and please others!

Therefore, everything he said was completely true to what he thought. He would not forgive any betrayal. Similarly, he would not betray.

Since he chose this marriage, he had to be true to his own choice. Rather than saying that he was being loyal to her, a better way to put it might be to say he was being loyal to his own decision. If there came a time that he did not like her anymore, he would break up before going on to the next relationship. To have an affair during his wife’s pregnancy because of the lack of sexual intimacy was something that Gu Jinglian scoffed at!

If a man could not even control his most primitive desires, what difference was there between him and a lowly primitive creature!?

Humans are known to be highly-evolved because they are intelligent and know how to control their emotions and desires. If they were unable to keep themselves under control for ten odd months, then to him, they were only as good as half-evolved, low-level creatures.

Gu Jinglian believed that men were more capable than women. They had great physical strength, tall physiques, and extraordinary charisma. So why couldn't men do what women could?

Initially, Gu Jinglian had some doubts as to why Chu He would ask such a question. However, Chu He did not intend to hide it from him.

"Do you remember the pregnant woman I met during the prenatal checkup?"

"Yeah, I remember."

"Later on, she invited me to a chat group for mothers-to-be. All the members are mothers-to-be. I thought that given our common ground, we would be able to learn from each other."

After a pause, Chu He told him the whole story.

After hearing her out, the man did not take it to heart.

After all, that was the business of other women. What did their husbands' affairs have to do with him? He couldn't be bothered to probe further. Besides, affairs and betrayal were common. He had no interest in knowing what the other pregnant women thought of him.

Chu He went straight to the point, "They even said that my husband must be ugly. Otherwise, how could you bear with me being pregnant for so long, and give your word that you'll never betray me."

"How did you reply?" Gu Jinglian asked. Compared to the opinions of others, he cared more about her opinions and feelings towards him. He didn't care about the others.

Chu He said, "My husband will definitely not cheat on me because even if he cheated on me, he wouldn't be able to find someone as beautiful as me!"

Gu Jinglian was flabbergasted.

Where was her shame?

Shameless.

"Where did you get your confidence from?" Gu Jinglian snorted. "There aren't many who are prettier than you, but there are many who are more feminine, flirtatious, and passionate than you!"

"There are many men who are more gentle than you too!" Chu He added, "And many who are more handsome than you!"

"Who are they? Tell me."

"I think the husband of that woman Yun Shishi, that man by the name of Mu Yazhe, is very handsome."

However, Gu Jinglian was not bothered and sneered. "How can he compare to me?"

"Why not? Isn't he handsome? I think he's more manly than you!"

Gu Jinglian was flabbergasted.

How dare she say that!

Chapter 3770: A New Addition (386)

Chu He was probably referring to his facial features when she used the term “manly”.

Gu Jinglian’s facial features were rather pretty. He was good looking, but his features were more exquisite and outstanding than a woman’s. Especially the mole at the corner of his eye, it gave his eyes a devilish charm.

“Don’t compare him to me.” Gu Jinglian said expressionlessly, “He doesn’t deserve to be compared to me. Hmph.”

“But seriously...” Chu He was genuinely curious. “If men don’t do it for a long period of time, will they really be unable to control themselves?”

“It’s true that it feels terrible, but not to the point that they lose control.” Gu Jinglian added unhurriedly, “After all, not every man has will power like mine!”

“Oh?” Chu He teased, “Have you really never sought self gratification?”

“You seem to know a lot about this?”

Chu He tried to appear casual about it. The fact was, she did know a little about this. Previously, when she served in the mercenary team, many of the men would go to the red-light district in groups after completing their missions. It seemed inevitable.

One time, because she was on a mission, she pitched camp in Africa, in a tent room. When she lay down, the mercenaries thought she was asleep, so they began to talk about lewd things. It was only then she realized that men sometimes resolved these issues with their own hands.

Everyone had their own physiological needs, be it men or women. However, for people in that profession, because they didn’t have the chance to fall in love and date, resolving their biological needs was like a routine. They just needed a woman for the moment to satisfy their desire. They each sought what they needed.

Initially, she felt that it was despicable. However, after some contemplation, she realized it was just a normal biological need.

Gu Jinglian said, “Stop thinking about all that nonsense. Go to sleep early!”

“Uh huh.”

The two of them went to bed early.

...

The day before the event, Chu He completed the scarf she was knitting. She put it on Gu Jinglian as the man stood in front of the mirror. The dark gray scarf complemented his black clothes perfectly.

Gu Jinglian fiddled with the scarf. The point was that he was not used to wearing a scarf. He was only wearing it now because Chu He was the one who knitted it. However, he was not used to having something furry wrapped around his neck. Although, this did not affect his liking for the scarf.

However, no matter how much he liked it and how much he simply could not part with it, he put on a nonchalant expression and even said in disdain, "This scarf is a little long!"

"It's not long. Don't you think that it looks really elegant when it's a little longer?"

The man replied, "You seem to be well-versed in mixing and matching clothes?"

"..."

Chu He blushed.

Actually, the thing she cared least about was dressing up. She was a casual dresser and even Butler Fu couldn't stand it sometimes, and resorted to personally matching her clothes for her.

"Why? You don't like it?"

"It's not so bad."

"You look so reluctant..." Chu He knew that he was only being awkward, however she deliberately reached out to remove his scarf, saying, "I'll take it back if you don't like it. I can give it to Baby Chu."

"What are you doing?" Gu Jinglian instinctively shielded the scarf from her and waved her hand away.

"Didn't you knit this for me?"

Obviously she knitted it for him. Why should it be given to that brat?

Chu He replied nonchalantly, "Yes, but you don't seem to like it!"
