

Sweet Love 3811

Chapter 3811: A Perfect Match (3)

The girl was indignant, "In my heart, Tang Yu is the real Fox Emperor and Phoenix Deity!" she said as she headed out of the cabin.

Frowning, Hua Jin turned and stared steadily after her. His expression started to tense up.

Before Tang Yu debuted, he was a very famous internet celebrity model. With his good looks, he had once been the book model for the original novel "Heavy Snow".

In the official stage play, Tang Yu played the male lead, Phoenix Deity.

When it came to movies and television dramas, Hua Jin stood out from the crowd and became the male lead. Tang Yu, who was not a popular actor, was given only a supporting role.

Scowling, the actor walked over to the girl and grabbed her firmly by the hand. "You're not leaving," he growled. "You haven't made yourself clear!"

"Let go!"

"What do you mean, 'conspiracy'?"

"..."

The boat suddenly started rocking.

The girl was standing right on the edge of the boat.

The boat was already moving. The mooring ropes had long been released.

With the rocking, the actor felt his footing become unsteady. The girl he was holding by the sleeve lost her balance and fell into the boat.

"Ahhhhh..."

The girl let out a small cry and instinctively reached for whatever she could grab at that point. Suddenly, she hooked her arm around his sleeve.

The actor felt himself losing his balance...

The two of them tumbled off the boat and fell into the lake!

Bubbles churned in the lake.

The actor's fiery red gown was a bright flash of color in the icy cold water of the lake.

He saw the girl sinking towards the bottom of the lake and immediately reached out to grab her hand... but the girl struggled violently.

She couldn't swim at all. In her nervousness, she took in a steady stream of lake water through her mouth and nose. She seemed to be running out of air. At this point, Hua Jin swam up beside her, passing whatever air was left in his lungs from his mouth directly into hers...

"Hua Jin?"

"Wake up, Hua Jin!"

In her semi-consciousness, he felt as if someone was slapping her face.

"Wake up, Hua Jin!"

Following this, she felt a huge pressure bearing down on her abdomen.

Liang Yin felt a surge in her chest. Then, almost reflexively, she opened her mouth and spewed the lake water that was choking her lungs and windpipe.

"Ooooooh..."

"That's great. That's great. It's okay. That's okay now ..."

The assistant was ecstatic. She hugged her and cheered!

"Great, Hua Jin, you're finally awake! I thought something bad was going to happen to you! Boohoo... If anything bad happens to you, I won't know how to account for it!"

Something bad?

Something bad...?

Why did she not understand what this person was saying?

And who was this woman crying in her ear?

Why did she keep calling her "Hua Jin"?

She wasn't even...

Liang Yin opened her misty eyes and felt a sharp pain in her throat. She coughed, but the sound she made was that of an extremely unfamiliar man. Her eyes widened in shock, and she instinctively reached for her throat, only to find an Adam's apple there.

Adam's apple!? How could she have an Adam's apple?! Liang Yin was stunned speechless. When the staff saw that she was awake, they immediately crowded around her and wrapped her in a huge blanket.

"It's freezing. Don't catch a cold!"

"Quick, take Hua Jin to a hotel and get him to take a hot shower!"

Chapter 3812: A Perfect Match (4)

"Hua Jin?"

Was it her imagination? Why were the workers surrounding her and calling her “Hua Jin”?

“Wait!” She said nervously, “I... I...”

She wanted to say something, but she wasn’t quite sure how to express it. She wanted to ask what had happened, where they were, and who she was. Although the last question seemed somewhat outrageous.

However, she felt that even if it might be difficult for others to understand, she wanted to ask nevertheless...

Why had her voice changed?

Could she be dreaming?

Liang Yin stood up in a daze and instinctively wrapped the blanket tightly around herself. Then, she heard someone say, “The girl is still unconscious!”

“What’s going on? Why isn’t the ambulance here yet?!”

“Surely she will be fine!?”

“If she’s not, we’ll be in trouble!”

Liang Yin looked in the direction of the voice and saw a group of people not too far away, gathered around someone. They seemed to be in a discussion.

She narrowed her eyes and saw a pair of familiar shoes. Before she could react, the staff gave her a push and said, “Hua Jin, don’t just stand there. Hurry back to the hotel and take a hot shower. If you fall sick from the cold, our schedule will be delayed again!”

In a daze, she was ushered away. Behind her, after some resuscitation, the girl in the center of the crowd finally opened her eyes...

“The hot water is ready. Take a shower and get some rest! Don’t worry, we’ll take care of everything!”
The assistant left the room.

Liang Yin stood in front of the mirror, dumbfounded. The scene in front of her was so strange that she was thoroughly confused and it was difficult to get her head around things.

She took another step closer to the mirror and extended her hand in disbelief. The moment her fingertips made contact with the mirror’s cold surface, she retracted her hand in shock!

Liang Yin looked at the handsome face in the mirror. Even though the lake water had flushed away the makeup on the face, this face of an extraordinarily beautiful man reminded her that this was not her face!

Wasn’t this... Hua Jin’s face?

How did she... become him?

What was going on?!

What on earth was going on?!

It was a dream.

It had to be a dream.

Liang Yin laughed dryly for a while. Suddenly, she reached out and gently rubbed her face. The reality of the contact made her drop to the ground in fear.

When she fell to the ground, the pain from her crotch made her grimace. She lowered her head and felt around the sore spot, but only came into contact with two unfamiliar, soft mounds...

The pain was indescribable because this sort of pain was not something that she had ever experienced. The indescribable pain spread to the top of her thighs.

Perhaps this was what men often called a pain in the balls!

It really hurt!

To the point that her mind went blank and she broke out in a cold sweat.

Liang Yin pulled open her trousers and peered inside. She gasped...

"Psssss..." Her eyes widened in shock. At first glance, she didn't believe it, so she actually reached out to touch it. The softness was unreasonably real...

In fact, as she touched it, the thing in her hand changed subtly! Liang Yin gaped at the mirror. She opened her mouth and let out an extremely short cry. "Ah!"

Chapter 3813: A Perfect Match (5)

In the hospital.

The actor gradually regained consciousness.

The vision that greeted him was a snow-white world. The smell of disinfectant that permeated the ward filled his nose.

He woke to a cacophony of human voices. When he opened his eyes, he followed an IV line and saw the IV drip hanging from an IV stand. Nurses surrounded him. When they saw that he was conscious, one of them said excitedly, "He's awake! He's finally awake!"

Hua Jin frowned and opened his mouth. His nose and throat were painfully dry. Through his blurry vision, he saw a doctor approaching. "How are you, young lady?" he asked nervously. "Are you feeling unwell, or have any pain or discomfort?"

Young lady?!

The actor opened his mouth and frowned. Although in the past, there were people who would mistake him for a woman when they saw him. Now, though, he was lying in a hospital.

No matter how useless these medical professionals were, surely they have general knowledge of physiology?

The actor closed his eyes and felt the dryness in his throat. He cleared his throat instinctively, but heard the feedback of a strange voice.

“Cough... cough...”

It was a crisp voice, but it was actually a weak sound that only a woman could make.

His eyes suddenly widened. He sat up in the hospital bed and looked around blankly. He opened his mouth again, but suddenly saw a face bearing a dazed expression reflected in a doctor’s glasses.

The actor focused his vision immediately!

His brow furrowed, and he suddenly leaned forward, towards the doctor. The doctor saw his unusual reaction and leaned closer, puzzled.

The actor suddenly reached out and caught the doctor’s face between his hands. The doctor jumped and almost lost his balance. Peering into his lenses, the actor finally got a good look at his own face.

No...

Rather than his own face, that face belonged to... a strange woman. Well, it was not totally unfamiliar! Where had he seen this face before?! But the most important question was, why... had he become a woman?!

The actor reached out and touched his own face as he stared into the lens. The woman did the same.

This was... too freaking fantastical!

He... he had turned into... a woman!?

The actor was flabbergasted. The doctors noted his series of abnormal reactions and looked at each other nervously.

“What’s going on?”

“The patient seems to be having some mental issues.”

The actor gave a sudden, stiff smile.

Well, I must be dreaming.

Hua Jin pulled his blanket up and calmly lay down on the hospital bed. However, just as he lay down, the back of his hand came into contact with his chest. The strange softness made him sit up in shock!

“My... chest...?!” He looked down in horror. He raised his hand to his chest and rubbed it. The world twisted and spun...

“Calm down!” The actor put a hand to his head and kept reminding himself. “Calm down!”

“Calm down, you must calm down!”

Standing in front of the mirror, Liang Yin took a deep breath.

She held onto the mirror tightly, ignoring the fact that she was drenched. Even after standing in front of the mirror for so long, it was still difficult for her to calm her racing heart.

It was too fantastical.

She wasn't dreaming, was she?!

However, according to science, there was generally no such thing as soul swaps.

Chapter 3814: A Perfect Match (6)

Therefore, she must be dreaming!

Liang Yin gently rubbed her chin and came to a conclusion. Since it was a dream, she would let nature take its course! She'd just take it as an experience on what it felt like to be a man!

She picked up a towel and was about to head for the bathroom when the doorbell rang. She turned around in confusion and walked towards the door. When she opened the door and saw the handsome young man standing at the door, her eyes lit up!

“Tang...”

The young man at the door smiled politely and humbly. “Senior Hua Jin, I heard that you fell into the lake. I was a little worried, so I came to visit...”

“Tang Yu!” Liang Yin cupped her fists excitedly and looked at Tang Yu with the eagerness of a fangirl.

Tang Yu was genuinely shocked. In his impression, Hua Jin had always been an aloof figure in the production team. After filming, he rarely lingered. It was said that he had a close relationship with Yun Shishi, the wife of the Shengyu Group chairman and an actress who had won the two most prestigious film awards in the industry. The two of them addressed each other as siblings.

In the entertainment industry currently, Hua Jin was considered a popular young actor. His appearance was even more exquisite and beautiful than a woman's. Coupled with his extraordinary acting skills, he established his unchallenged status as a period-style actor. Therefore, some period dramas would wait in line for Hua Jin's availability even at the risk of default, given there was a deadline on the contract for some of the original adaptation projects. If the production team did not start filming within five years, then it would expire.

It was obvious how influential Hua Jin's fans were.

Except... the man had always been lukewarm towards him. After all, Tang Yu and Hua Jin were not on the same level. But now, this man, who had always been high up and aloof, was acting like a young fangirl, clenching his fists and looking at him with such adoration in his eyes.

“Tang Yu, I’m a fan of yours!”

Tang Yu was flattered! However he was a little uneasy. “Real... really? But I haven’t officially debuted yet. This TV series is my first piece of work.”

Liang Yin replied solemnly, “Although you haven’t debuted, I’ve been paying attention to you for a long time! From your debut as a model to participating in the audition, and before that, you’ve been a book model for many novels. You’re the book model for the original publication of “Heavy Snow”. The role of the Fox Emperor belongs to you!”

Tang Yu was stunned.

So it appeared... that Senior Hua Jin paid such close attention to him?! He even knew he was a book model for “Heavy Snow”?

“Surely... surely not?” Tang Yu was too confused to react.

“Actually, I feel that you ought to be the male lead in ‘Demon Eyes’! I’m guessing that there must be something shady going on behind the scenes!”

Tang Yu stared at him as if he had seen a ghost! He was saying that there must be something shady about himself being the male lead?! Tang Yu felt that he must have opened the door the wrong way. Why was Hua Jin... behaving as if he was possessed!

This was too fishy!

“Senior Hua Jin... are... are you alright?”

While Tang Yu was in a daze, Liang Yin looked at him like an infatuated fool.

Heavens, Little Brother Tang Yu is really dashing in every way.

She could never have imagined that she’d come so close to her idol under a circumstance such as this, breathing the same air as him!

Chapter 3815: A Perfect Match (7)

All this time, she’d only been able to look at him from a distance, silently supporting him by buying books on his roles and following his movements on Weibo. Compared to Hua Jin, Tang Yu had been stuck in the 2D fan circle.

After making a name for himself as a book model, Tang Yu had participated in many auditions and applied to the film academy. It wasn’t until this audition for “Demon Eyes” that he was selected by the director for his outstanding performance, extraordinary talent, and versatility. Coupled with the fact that he was once a book model of the original novel and had a certain fan base, he secured a supporting role.

Tang Yu was flattered.

Having been hand-picked from a mass selection exercise, he was already encouraged by the fact that he could get a supporting role... it wasn't even one of those cameos without any lines!

Liang Yin felt happy too, although it wasn't the lead role. The point was that her idol, whom she had been supporting all this while, finally had a meaningful piece of work in his portfolio!

"Tang Yu, good luck. Although you're not the male lead this time round, I believe that once this television drama launches, you'll shoot to fame! Once that happens, directors will come knocking and offering you lead roles!"

Tang Yu stared blankly at Hua Jin, who was speaking like a little girl.

He simply could not shake off the feeling that this delicate tone Hua Jin was using could only come from a girl... and to think there wasn't a sense of violation!

Perhaps Hua Jin had blurred the line between genders with his overly beautiful looks.

Tang Yu thanked him shyly. "Um... Senior Hua Jin, I'm very encouraged by your words! However... do you want to take a shower first? You're drenched..."

"Tang Yu..." Liang Yin suddenly extended out her hand carefully and mustered her courage to ask, "May... may I touch your hand..."

Tang Yu felt goosebumps all over his body for some reason. It felt really strange to hear that from Hua Jin! However, Tang Yu did not dare to reject Hua Jin's request, the latter being a senior in the production team. So he suppressed this strange feeling that he had and slowly raised his hand.

When Liang Yin saw him raising his clean and pale right hand, her heart suddenly started pounding!

THUD! THUD!

Her face flushed red, and she was almost afraid to reach out. She could not even imagine that the living Tang Yu was right in front of her...

Ah.

How could she have forgotten?

This was a dream!

She was in Hua Jin's body now. Besides, no matter what she did in the dream, when she would finally wake up and return to reality, nothing in the dream would matter! Liang Yin suddenly held his hand tightly. She mustered her courage and made up her mind. She intertwined her fingers with Tang Yu's and pulled him into her arms!

Tang Yu was shocked!

There was a difference in height between the two men.

Where Tang Yu was less than perfect, even though in looks he was comparable to Hua Jin, was his height of only 1.75 meters. Standing beside Hua Jin, who was more than 1.8 meters tall, the difference was obvious.

Hence, when Liang Yin pulled him towards herself with no warning, Tang Yu lost his balance and fell into her arms.

Liang Yin held his face and found the courage to close her eyes. She pressed Tang Yu against the door and bent down to kiss him.

“Ooooooh...”

Good heavens!

Tang Yu hiccupped in shock and stood frozen.

Chapter 3816: A Perfect Match (8)

Liang Yin, too, felt that she had gone crazy, being so bold as to kiss her idol just like that? Prior to this, Tang Yu was unattainable to her.

Fan girls who pursued celebrities often secretly placed their idols' postcards under their pillows. It's been said that if you place a photo of the person you love under the pillow, you'll meet him in your dreams.

However, the frustrating thing was that no matter how many times she tried, she still did not dream of Tang Yu. But now, the dream had happened!

So no matter what, Liang Yin had to do in her dream what she had always wanted, But never dared, much less had the chance to. She had to be brave and put it into action!

Except... this kiss that frightened Tang Yu, also frightened her! The direct contact of their lips caused her body to heat up! It was so real it felt as if it was really happening. So much so that Liang Yin could not continue the kiss. She suddenly pushed Tang Yu away and looked at him in shock. She subconsciously stroked her lips that were slightly swollen from being crushed, and asked in a daze, “I...”

“...?”

“I'm not dreaming?”

Tang Yu stared at the man blankly, but dared not say anything. He wondered if Hua Jin was in the right mind. To the extent that he pulled him into his arms and kissed him for no reason! And after that, pushed him away for no reason?!

What the hell was wrong with him?

This was the first time Tang Yu had been kissed by a man, so he was a little embarrassed and angry. However, he feared Hua Jin's status in the production team and did not dare to say anything.

However, the man in front of him suddenly raised his hand and slapped himself hard.

Smack!

Tang Yu gaped in shock.

As if that wasn't enough, "Hua Jin" slapped himself again!

Another crisp smack!

The burning pain spread from her facial nerves to her neural nerves, causing her to come to her senses. This was not a dream!

It was... real?!

What appeared to be happening, was really happening?!

She had become him because of that accidental fall into the water and her soul had been called out to occupy his body? And now that she had become Hua Jin, what then, had happened to him?! Could it be that he was now occupying her body?!

"Are you all right, Senior Hua Jin?" Tang Yu asked carefully again.

Liang Yin suddenly felt extremely dizzy. She barely held onto the door frame and smiled weakly. "I'm... I'm fine..."

"Something doesn't seem right with you... Have you got a fever?"

"I... I'm fine..."

Liang Yin no longer had the courage to look at him. Instead, she retreated with a sudden movement and slammed the door shut. Like a walking corpse, he headed into the bathroom for a shower.

The bathtub was already filled and overflowing. Liang Yin stepped into it and sank herself into the water...

"This is not a dream?"

She had really turned into Hua Jin!

Good heavens. It was too scary. Hurry up and change it back. Change it back...

She hoped that when she opened her eyes again, she'd find herself back in her own body. She didn't want to spend the rest of her life in a man's body! Arghhhhh!

In the ward bathroom.

Hua Jin sat awkwardly on the toilet, staring at his pants, which were gathered around his knees, exposing his legs.

Boohoo, his precious manhood was gone!

What the hell was going on? Why had he become a woman all of a sudden?

Chapter 3817: A Perfect Match (97)

Just now, he needed to relieve himself. He entered the bathroom, stood in front of the toilet bowl and lifted the toilet bowl lid. After searching for a long time, he could not find the missing bit.

After a long moment of stunned silence, he realized with a start that he was now a woman. There was no such thing as a crotch or a little bird.

Unaccustomed as he was, the actor had no choice but to accept the reality of the situation. He sat down on the toilet, spread his legs, and brewed for a while, until the patter came. He shook briefly, but somehow felt aggrieved.

He, who was as straight as steel, actually had his soul called out and plunged into a woman's body. The problem was, wasn't this woman the one who had made a big mistake at the visitation event... Tang Yu's diehard fan?

Furthermore...

Perhaps it was because she was too young, it seemed like she had yet to fully develop?

She was not particularly voluptuous, and her straight and slender legs were as thin as bamboo poles!

He couldn't help but miss the eight-pack and sculpted abs that he had so painstakingly worked for...

No way!

He couldn't just sit back and do nothing! He had to think of a solution quickly.

The actor immediately came to his senses. Now, the only solution was to find Liang Yin as quickly as possible. If he wasn't wrong, she should be occupying his body now.

He could vaguely recall seeing his own body being wrapped in a heavy blanket and sent back to the hotel. From this, he could deduce... that he probably wasn't physically hurt.

His body would currently be in the hotel next to the filming location.

However, now that he was "Liang Yin", it would obviously be a little difficult for him to sneak into the hotel to meet the real Liang Yin, who had become "Hua Jin" appearance wise.

He was filming on set, so while he wasn't accompanied by some grand entourage, he did have four bodyguards accompanying him. In the hotel, there was also 24-hour surveillance. At the end of the corridor, there were security personnel from the crew who were responsible for guarding the safety of the artistes staying in the hotel.

Not even the most experienced paparazzi could get in, let alone him in his current state! Unless he could turn into a fly, he could forget about sneaking into the hotel!

Do it through his manager?

He had the agent's number?

Oh. No he couldn't do that.

This manager was newly appointed by the company and they were not close. If he were to suddenly tell him that he was Hua Jin and he had swapped bodies with that girl called Liang Yin because of an accident... The manager would surely think he's mentally ill, or a die-hard fan trying to sneak into the filming location? They would definitely report him to the police.

So what should he do?

Right now, there was no way he could contact Liang Yin at all, nor could he sneak into the production crew. Could it be that he could only lie in the hospital and wait for Liang Yin to find him?

But what if she didn't come looking for him?!

After all... this stupid woman was Tang Yu's die-hard fan!

Once she had adapted to his body, she could then be intimate with Tang Yu on the set. In that case, she wouldn't want to return his body, right?!

Most importantly... he would be filming some important scenes soon. They were the best scenes of the entire script. The one called Liang Yin was not an actor. If she were to appear on screen and try to act... she'd make a mess of it all!

Hua Jin's head hurt so much that he had to massage the space between his eyebrows. His future was in peril!

If Liang Yin did not pull herself together to put up a good performance and ended up ruining his reputation, he would be at the end of his rope!

Chapter 3818: A Perfect Match (10)

After much consideration, Hua Jin decided to give Yun Shishi a call. He would return to the Mu residence first and then decide on next steps.

He searched the handbag and found a cell phone.

It was Liang Yin's cell phone.

Ohhhh.

But cell phones were secured with 6-digit passwords.

The actor did not know Liang Yin's password. He tried a few of the more common lazy passwords, but they showed errors in entry. If wrong passwords were keyed in, the phone wouldn't work at all.

In his despair, he casually keyed in his birthday. Unexpectedly, it unlocked automatically.

The actor didn't have time to be shocked. He quickly dialed Yun Shishi's number. The phone rang for several seconds before the call was finally answered.

“Hello...”

Before he could speak, Gong Jie’s extremely recognizable cold voice came from the other end.

“Who’s that?”

The man urged him impatiently. “Say something.”

Liang Yin quickly reacted. “Where’s Shishi?”

“Who are you?”

“I ... I’m ...” Liang Yin frowned. If he were to admit that he was Hua Jin in front of Gong Jie...

the man would definitely think he was crazy and just hang up on him. He might even block his number.

It was the sort of reaction he expected from Gong Jie. After all, it was really difficult for most people to understand something as mysterious as soul swap.

Even he, so far, was finding it difficult to accept this reality. If he told Gong Jie the truth, the man would definitely... think he’s an idiot!

Hua Jin contemplated for a moment, then said, “Are you Gong Jie?”

Gong Jie was wary. “Who are you and how do you know my name?”

“Oh dear, I’ve heard so much about you from Shishi. You’re her brother! I saw you at her wedding, but I don’t suppose you remember anything about it!”

His brother was silent for a moment, but said nothing.

The actor asked again nervously, “Where’s Shishi?”

“She’s stepped out. She forgot her phone.”

No...!

Why did this have to happen at the critical moment!?

The actor was so aggrieved he was close to tears now.

Gong Jie raised his eyebrow skeptically. “How may I help you?”

‘Er ... it’s like this ... I broke my leg, but, because I didn’t have any money with me, I couldn’t pay my medical bills and get discharged. So ...’

The actor was mortified. This Liang Yin was really poor! He had searched her entire bag. Other than a wallet with a hundred-dollar bill, there was nothing else in it.

Rather than saying that he was hospitalized, he might as well say that he was detained in the hospital because he could not afford the medical fees!

“Would it be convenient for you to ... transfer some money to me? Ah, for the record, I’m really not a liar ...”

His brother asked bluntly, “Which hospital?”

“The... Renci Hospital near Studio City.”

“Got it.” Then, the line was quickly disconnected.

Did he hang up?

Did that rascal Gong Jie just hang up?

How rude!

The actor frowned, thoroughly confused. He lay on the bed, unlocking the cell phone at the same time. He started scrolling through the phone book.

To his surprise, the phone book was blank. Not a single entry.

Didn’t she have any relatives? Or friends? What about classmates? None?

Opening WeChat, he noted the WeChat interface was also frighteningly empty.

The friend column was empty, as if it was isolated from the world. There was no trace of her background at all.

The actor sighed inwardly. ‘This Liang Yin is a suspicious woman!’

Chapter 3819: A Perfect Match (11)

The actor was lying on the bed like a salted fish, feeling lost and desperate, when he heard footsteps outside the door.

“Wow... god, he’s so handsome!”

“Is he a big star? He’s so handsome. Besides, this man is so tall...”

“Do you dare to go forward and strike up a conversation?”

“Huh. He’s getting ready to go into the ward. Is he a family member of one of the patients?”

Alarmed, the actor sat up and strained his ears to listen. He heard footsteps coming to a halt at the door and thought it might be Liang Yin. He quickly got out of bed in excitement and flew to the door.

The door swung open at the same time.

The actor stared blankly at Gong Jie, who was standing in the doorway, studying him coldly. His lips twitched a few times.

Gong Jie looked at the girl in front of him, who barely came up to his chest. She had a delicate oval face and glistening eyes that were blinking at him as if she had seen a ghost.

“What... what are you doing here?”

Gong Jie stiffened slightly at that question, but crossed his arms and asked calmly, “You seem to know me?”

“Uh...” Awkwardly, the actor straightened up and cleared his throat. “I meant to ask... er... how did you know I was in this ward?” he corrected himself awkwardly.

He didn’t remember telling the man which ward he was in.

Gong Jie studied him as if he were an idiot. He sneered. “Shishi doesn’t even know you.”

Gong Jie’s eyes flashed sharply.

“She doesn’t remember at all that she has a friend by the name of Liang Yin.”

The actor was completely stunned!

Good heavens!

This man...

How resourceful. Within such a short period of time, he had found out Liang Yin’s name, the ward she was in, and... her background through a phone number!? That was scary.

Embarrassed, the actor rubbed his hands together and clenched them into empty fists. He cleared his throat and asked tentatively, “Would you... be willing to believe me if I told you something very fantastical and out of this world, Gong Jie?”

Gong Jie narrowed his eyes in alarm again. He knew his name? This woman... may not be that simple!

On the way here, his subordinates had found out that this Liang Yin was just an ordinary student. But how did an ordinary student know Yun Shishi’s phone number and even call his name as soon as she heard his voice? If she had only known Yun Shishi’s name, then he would have suspected the usual media paparazzi or brainless fans. However, to call out his name directly... that was unusual.

Therefore, Gong Jie had to figure out this person’s background!

He crossed his arms casually and said, “First, you must tell me what it is. Otherwise, how can I believe you?”

Hua Jin asked vaguely, “Do you believe there is such a thing as a soul swap?”

Gong Jie knitted his brow together tightly. Then his hand shot out and grabbed Liang Yin by her lapel. “Are you playing some sort of trick?” he asked impatiently.

Hua Jin’s expression changed drastically, and his teeth started chattering!

Ahhhhh, see, see! He didn’t believe it! No sane person would believe it!

Besides, he had always been afraid of Gong Jie. Usually, he avoided the man. But now that the man was agitated, he was too scared to move!

“Why are you trembling!?” Gong Jie barked, “No trembling!”

The actor hugged the door frame, feeling aggrieved. He had been so intimidated by the man that he lost his tongue. He really didn’t dare tremble anymore!

Chapter 3820: A Perfect Match (12)

“You’re putting on an act, aren’t you?” Gong Jie’s eyes narrowed coolly as he continued in an icy tone, “Or are you toying with me?”

Feeling aggrieved, the actor thought to himself, ‘I wish this was an act!’

The point was...

That wasn’t the case!

“If you have something to say, say it. I have no patience. Time is of the essence.”

Mustering his courage, the actor took a gulp, before he managed, “I... I’m Hua Jin.”

Gong Jie finally looked a little more relaxed, but the expression on his face was one of disbelief rather than surprise. After a moment, he snorted coldly. “Crazy.”

With that, he pulled at his tie with a livid expression and turned around to leave! Gong Jie thought that Hua Jin must have set this up to deliberately mess with him! He was not going to let this guy get away with it!

Seeing that he was leaving, the actor rushed towards him, struggling to keep up. As he did so, he tried to explain. “Gong Jie, listen to me...”

It was difficult because Gong Jie’s legs were way too long. At 1.9 meters, a single stride was almost a whole meter long. In the past, Hua Jin would have been able to keep up. The problem was, with his current 1.63-meter frame and a 30-centimeter difference in height, he had to jog to keep up with Gong Jie’s walking.

“You may not believe this coming from me! But... it’s difficult to explain it to anyone! But I’m not lying to you or playing tricks on you. I’m really Hua Jin!”

The man ignored him, thinking that the girl in front of him, who was jumping up and down like a rabbit, was Hua Jin’s accomplice! After all, who would believe in soul swaps!

Anxious, the actor reached out to grab his arm.

To his surprise, he’d obviously forgotten that Gong Jie was a hygiene freak and never liked anyone touching him!

Gong whirled around and grabbed him by the collar. He lifted him by the back of his hospital gown like he was holding a rabbit up by its ears! The actor struggled for a moment. Instinctively, he tried to push him away. The collar caught his neck, making it difficult to breathe!

Gong Jie pushed him against the wall, his large hands closing easily around his neck.

With little effort, he “fixed” Hua Jin to the wall. His tone was unfriendly, just as his expression was cold. His beast-like eyes bore through Hua Jin!

“Dammit, where is Hua Jin?”

The actor’s eyes widened in shock. He pointed at himself and explained in a panic, “Me, me. I’m him. I just—”

“I don’t remember that the lad had tits.” Gong Jie looked at him coldly from head to toe. “You say you are Hua Jin, do you have any proof?”

“I...” A gurgle escaped the actor’s throat with difficulty. “What proof do you want?” he asked indignantly. “What proof can I give to convince you that I’m telling the truth about something like this?”

Gong Jie didn’t bother to waste time with him.

He let go of the actor and turned around. Behind him, the actor’s eyes darted around as he finally thought of how to prove that he was him. So he gathered his courage and said, “Gong Jie, we... we kissed. Do you remember?”
