

Sweet Love 3851

Chapter 3851: A Perfect Match (43)

Liang Yin had promised to keep it a secret. The problem was that if the actor found out who Sister V was, it would be bad for her.

Sister V was Tang Yu's manager. Her name was Ivy and she was known as Sister V. Tang Yu had a few fans circles that Sister V managed. Sometimes, Sister V would post some gossips in the fans circles. Although she would not reveal the real name of the person involved, it was also possible to tell who it was through the hints.

Sister V had said that Hua Jin made his debut through performing sexual favors. It was no longer a secret in the circle. Everyone knew it. With his powerful resources, the actor had been domineering, arrogant, and unreasonable on the set. He had no regard even for his seniors.

But for some unknown reason, the actor had changed since then. His temper had mellowed. No one knew what had happened to him.

Hua Jin said nothing about it, but his expression was particularly livid. He said no more and maintained his silence on the way back to the hotel. Liang Yin could not be bothered to say anything to him either. They each had their own thoughts.

After returning to the hotel, Liang fell asleep while Hua Jin lay on the sofa, hoping to catch up on his sleep.

Somehow, at some point, Liang Yin was woken up by something.

She opened her eyes and realized the sound was coming from the actor.

It sounded like he was in some sort of pain...

Suppressed, tormented...

Liang Yin sat up, looking confused. She walked over to him and saw that he was curled up on the sofa, shivering, obviously in pain from something.

"What's the matter?" Feeling that something was wrong, she nudged him gently.

Turning around, the actor saw her and said weakly, "My... my stomach hurts." He groaned.

"Why does your stomach hurt?" Liang Yin was puzzled and frowned. "Was it something you ate?"

"I only had those little dumplings this morning."

"Then how could it be hurting for no reason? Could it be diarrhea?"

The actor shook his head. "No urge to have diarrhea. You don't have a gastric issue, do you?"

"Gastric issue? No."

Hua Jin thought that it made sense too. It didn't feel like gastric pains. He had gastric pains once. It felt more like a sharp pain of his intestines twisting together. But this time, it didn't seem to come from the stomach, but the lower abdomen?

Liang Yin's eyebrows twitched as a thought struck her. She calculated the date and remarked, "Could it be... that time of the month?"

"That time of the month!?" Hua Jin sat up, his face flushed a bright scarlet. But as soon as he did so, he felt something was wrong.

"Oh crap..." The actor stood up and looked down. It was hard to tell just by looking. He looked back at the sofa, but it didn't seem to be stained. Except... Something obviously felt wrong.

Liang Yin immediately said, "Go to the bathroom and take a look!"

There was a strange look on the actor's face. He examined Liang Yin meaningfully and asked suspiciously, "Do you... do you get menstrual cramps?"

Liang Yin blushed, but insisted, "How is that possible?! I don't have a history of menstrual cramps."

The actor had no time for questions. He went to the bathroom and did not come out for a long time.

Liang walked to the bathroom door. With her back to the door, she pinched her fingers to calculate the dates again and confirmed that it was indeed time.

She knocked lightly on the door and asked curiously, "Well? Is it what we think it is?"

"Er... yes."

Chapter 3852: A Perfect Match (44)

Hua Jin kept his voice low but he clearly sounded distracted.

Liang Yin thought for a moment, then a thought struck her. "Could the pain have something to do with being soaked in cold water some time ago? Falling into the water and then falling into the pool. After all that, I think... that's the key reason for the pain."

So that was the reason?

Hua Jin frowned. "No wonder I used to always see these actresses on the set who looked so pale even with their thick makeup. And they had to clutch their glass of warm water as if it were the source of their life!"

It turned out that drinking hot water really worked!

"What should we do now?" The actor was at his wits' end. He did not know what to do.

Liang Yin said, "Wear a sanitary napkin and drink more hot water."

A thought suddenly occurred to the actor. "To think you women accuse men of telling girls to drink more hot water during their period," he said mockingly. "In fact, if you were a man, you'd do the same. How shallow!"

Liang Yin argued, "You're not my girlfriend. How do you want me to care for you?"

This stupid woman actually dared to argue with him!

"For whom am I putting up with this pain?!" The actor grumbled, "I'm suffering this pain on behalf of you!"

"What do you mean, on behalf of me?"

"Didn't you cause all this?! If it weren't for you, would I be in such a sorry state?" The actor was practically seething with resentment. If not for Liang Yin, this would not have happened. He was probably the only straight guy in the world who would experience something as magical as menstruation!

It was too embarrassing!

However, his abdomen was in so much pain that he did not have time to think further. He held his forehead and felt at a loss!

Liang Yin didn't want to make any more fuss about this. She looked around and asked suspiciously, "Do you have sanitary napkins here?"

"Did you think..." Hua Jin heaved with anger and pain, finding it hard to form a coherent sentence. "Did you think I'd have such a thing around here?!"

How could this woman be so stupid!

Only then did Liang Yin react. Of course. Why would the actor have such a thing in his room? She quickly said, "I'll go buy some for you then!"

"Wait!" The actor would have thrown himself against the door in agitation if he had not been unable to stand.

Liang Yin heard the misery in his voice and thought that something had gone wrong. She suddenly became nervous. "What's the matter?"

The heaving scared her.

The actor said weakly, "You're going to the shops, just like that?"

"Is there a problem!?" Liang Yin asked in confusion, "Didn't you say that the studio city is very secure and that there are no miscellaneous people wandering around?"

The man almost choked. "It won't be good if the other actors and crew staff see this!"

Although the people at the film studio might not necessarily leak this, but when Hua Jin thought about how these people would spread the news that he had personally gone to the supermarket to buy sanitary napkins, the smarter ones might speculate that there was some woman hidden in his room or that he had bought them for someone. The dumb ones might even think that he had some perverted fetish!

“Get the other assistants to buy it!”

Liang Yin nodded. She went into the living room, took Hua Jin’s cell phone, found the assistant’s number in the phone book, and dialed. The call was answered almost immediately.

She could tell the assistant was still outside.

Liang Yin asked nervously, “When will you be back?”

Chapter 3853: A Perfect Match (45)

“I just left...”

When Liang Yin heard this, she asked tentatively, “Can you... come back?”

“What’s the matter?”

“It’s like this... you know that I hired a new assistant named Liang Yin?” She said her own name with some awkwardness. “She got her period and didn’t bring any ABC with her. We’ll need you to rescue her and bring some ABC back.”

“Who would’ve thought!” The assistant exclaimed in surprise, “I didn’t know you were so familiar with the brand of sanitary napkins. You even know ABC!”

Liang Yin quickly replied, “Liang Yin told me... I don’t know what it is, but she told me to just tell you. She’s shy and embarrassed to say that she only uses this brand.”

“Sure, no problem. Give me five minutes.”

“Oh, remember to get both day and night use packs. Best to get the bigger ones.”

“Understood.”

Liang Yin hung up the phone awkwardly and returned to the bathroom door. Red with embarrassment, she whispered, “Hold on a little longer. She’ll be back with the stuff soon!”

/

Inside, Hua Jin felt as if he was half-dead. He hugged his shoulders and rolled his eyes weakly.

The agony... It was excruciating. How could it hurt so much!? Hua Jin had never known that being a woman was so painful!

“It hurts...” He grunted a few times, obviously having trouble holding on.

When Liang Yin heard this, she inexplicably gloated.

“Hmph, This is nothing. I’m one of the lucky ones. This pain is only temporary. It won’t always be there. Some people get the pain even if they don’t take cold drinks or catch a cold.”

“You certainly sound very gleeful!”

“Of course! Now, we’ve swapped, no matter how much it hurts, it’s out of my power to do anything!” She added, “If we continue this way, you might even experience the pain of the first sexual encounter, or the pain of childbirth. Haha!”

Her words were undoubtedly provocative! However, she had clearly forgotten that the man was now occupying her body.

The actor was clearly dismissive. Instead, he continued, “Very well. Tomorrow, I’ll find a man and experience what it’s like to have my first encounter! And by the way, if I’m lucky, I can experience what it’s like to have a child!”

Liang Yin panicked and almost jumped. “How dare you!”

“We’ll see if I dare!” The actor seemed unfazed by this slight threat. “You wanted me to experience it, didn’t you? Of course I’ll do what you want!”

Liang Yin blushed and retorted, “I don’t want you to experience it! That’s my body. You’re not allowed to mess around! Or else... or else...”

“Or else you’ll sleep with my fans?” The actor paused and laughed mockingly. “Not that I despise you, but do you even know how a man does it?”

Liang Yin’s face heated up at his words! She turned her head away in anger and went back to the sofa. She crossed her arms and fumed.

A few moments later, the assistant returned with the sanitary napkins and rang the bell. Liang Yin was expecting her and walked sullenly to the door to open it. The assistant held the supermarket shopping bag out to her.

“Here! I just bought them.” She kept the receipt for her claims and gave Liang Yin the bag.

Liang Yin received the bag and the assistant took out a box of painkillers. “Here, these are painkillers.”

Chapter 3854: A Perfect Match (46)

Liang Yin nodded and said, “One shouldn’t take too many painkillers, there will be side effects.”

However, the assistant said, “It will be okay. I brought this painkiller back from Japan. The side effects are very, very minimal. Basically, there are no side effects.”

“Oh...” Liang Yin had never seen this painkiller before. It was called EVA or something, but indeed it didn’t cause side effects.

The assistant asked tentatively, “I heard that Qin Zhou hired another assistant for you. But how did it end up being the girl who fell into the water the other day? Where is she now? I tidied up the room yesterday and waited for her to move in. I waited for a long time but she didn’t turn up. I was afraid of disturbing you, so I didn’t come to ask.”

Liang Yin realized this and did not know how to answer. Indeed, it seemed inconvenient if they were to be living under the same roof. But the inconvenience was hardly valid. Although they were a single man and a single woman, now that their genders had been swapped, there didn't seem to be much of a difference.

Liang Yin said, "Let's talk about it later! I'll pass the stuff to her first."

As soon as he said that, his assistant called out,

"Hua Jin..."

Liang Yin turned her head and glanced at her. The assistant walked in on tiptoe and carefully probed, "That girl called Liang Yin, could she be your..."

"My what?"

"Your ... lover?" The assistant asked in a rather obscure manner.

Such things did happen. This was because for celebrities, the more popular they were, the more they had to keep their relationships secret.

However, human beings are full of emotions and desires. Sometimes, when a celebrity fell in love, in order to hide it, they would disguise their lover as an assistant so that they could be together every day. It was both dignified and legitimate, and it would be easy to deceive others.

Still, the vast majority of celebrities who did this were male. Usually, if a female celebrity had a relationship, it would most likely be with wealthy dignitaries. At the very least, contract lovers in the circle.

The so-called contract lovers were mostly second- and third-rate celebrities or outdated celebrities who wanted to use their relationships to hype themselves up and accumulate fame. Therefore, the assistant suspected this.

Liang Yin laughed. "How is that possible?" Then she said awkwardly, "Let's talk about other things later!"

Liang Yin held on to the door frame as she spoke, no doubt giving the silent order for the assistant to leave.

The assistant couldn't help but look embarrassed. She walked out in disappointment and Liang Yin shut the door behind her. The assistant outside looked displeased.

It was jealousy. Pure, undisguised jealousy.

Back then, she had spent a lot of money to become Hua Jin's assistant. She had used connections and favors to finally get what she wanted and became her idol's assistant.

These assistants were further divided into many categories: administrative assistant, production assistant, personal assistant...

She started as an administrative assistant. This category of assistants were only responsible for booking flights, hotels, and waiting behind the scenes for work. They usually didn't get to see their celebrity.

Eventually, the opportunity she'd been waiting for came. Using underhanded tactics, she'd pushed out one personal assistant after another. Finally, she'd gotten what she wanted and became his personal assistant.

Becoming Hua Jin's private assistant was beyond her wildest dreams, but she had always coveted it!

After all, he could be by her idol's side day and night and be paid a considerable commission. It was a great thing!

Chapter 3855: A Perfect Match (47)

After all, she could be by her idol's side day and night while getting a considerable commission. It was a great thing. She was the only one in Hua Jin's tens of millions of fans.

However, now another assistant had appeared out of nowhere and was even sharing a room with Hua Jin...

She was so jealous! What right did this Liang Yin have to receive such privileges!? And she didn't!?

This new assistant had inexplicably come from out of the blue and become Hua Jin's closest assistant. Not only that, but they were also staying together in the same room!

Liang Yin had no idea that the assistant would be jealous. She grabbed a pack of sanitary pad and the painkiller, then walked to the bathroom door, and knocked.

"Hua Jin, here's the stuff!"

After a long time, a barely audible reply came from the bathroom. "Will I die from bleeding so much?"

"Pfft..." Liang Yin hadn't expected that question. Greatly amused, she said, "Don't worry, you won't die!" She tried not to laugh.

"I heard ... if a person loses too much blood, they can go into shock or something ..."

Liang Yin couldn't hold it in anymore and burst into laughter!

When Hua Jin saw that she was laughing, he was so furious that his abdomen hurt even more. "What the hell are you laughing at?!" he snapped.

"This is the first time I'm hearing that someone might go into shock from menstrual blood loss!"

The actor roared at her. "Why didn't you say you were going to get your period?!"

"I forgot to mention it. How could I have expected this to happen?"

Liang Yin quickly changed the topic. "Alright, let's not talk about this anymore! This is how women are. No matter how much you cry, it will still hurt! However, your assistant has thoughtfully brought some painkillers. Have some with hot water and lie down to rest for a while!"

"I ... I don't know how to do this..."

"Do you know how to wipe your ass?"

“Yes...”

“Do you know how to put a Band-Aid on?”

“Yes...”

“Clean yourself like you’re wiping your ass, then stick the napkin on like a Band-Aid. Remember, the gluey side faces your underwear. Don’t stick it the other way.”

“Hmph, got it...”

Liang Yin handed the package to Hua Jin. After some time, he emerged from the toilet, his face deathly pale.

Liang Yin said nothing, but supported him as though he were the Empress Dowager Cixi. She helped him to the sofa and laid him down. Then she put a blanket under him, boiled some water, filled a hot water bottle, and placed it on Hua Jin’s abdomen. She poured more hot water and fed him the painkillers.

“Do you feel better?”

The actor nodded, but it was obvious from the tightness between his brows that his stomach was still hurting.

Although the effect of the medicine was fast, it wasn’t immediate.

“Painkillers take effect slowly. Wait a little longer and the effect will kick in.”

Liang Yin saw that Hua Jin’s face was pale as he lay on the sofa. His eyebrows were knitted together, and it was obvious that he was in extreme pain. She felt upset and a little guilty, so she reached out tentatively and gently pressed her hand against his abdomen, rubbing it gingerly.

Hua Jin studied her for a moment through his narrowed eyes, then quietly drifted off to sleep.

The doorbell suddenly rang again. Liang Yin stood up and walked to the door. She opened it to find his assistant standing outside.

“What’s the matter?”

“Oh, well... I just called the boss and told him about the new assistant.”

Chapter 3856: A Perfect Match (48)

It turned out that this assistant had taken the matter to heart.

Who was this Liang Yin to share a room with Hua Jin?!

Therefore, she secretly reported this matter to Qin Zhou.

She told him on the phone, that no matter how much of a personal assistant they were, they couldn’t be staying in the same room. Although it was safer in the studio city and there weren’t many unwanted characters around, no one knew for sure. If the paparazzi caught them, it would inevitably invite rumors.

Hua Jin's career was on the rise now, and his fan base was huge. If this kind of thing got out, it would not be good.

Qin Zhou kept silent. This assistant had a point. Although he knew full well that the two of them were sharing the same room, and although the actor was going through the script with Liang Yin, it was not a long-term solution. So he booked the room next to Hua Jin's, and gave the actor that room as well.

When the assistant told Liang Yin about this, Liang Yin replied, "Oh, then let's wait until Hua Jin wakes up..."

"What?"

"Oh, no..." Liang Yin immediately corrected herself, "Wait... wait until Liang Yin wakes up. That's what I meant!"

"I was wondering!"

The assistant became serious again.

Liang Yin turned around, biting her fingers nervously.

She had made a slip-up!

The assistant, Xiaoqi, walked over and saw Hua Jin lying on the sofa. "Why is she lying there?" she muttered.

"She's having her period. She's feeling unwell."

"Even then she can't be lying down and not working!? There are so many things to do. I'm the only one doing them."

Liang Yin frowned and walked to Hua Jin's side. She squatted down again and said helplessly, "Her stomach hurts. Let's take it easy!"

Seeing "Hua Jin" gently massaging his new assistant's belly, she felt even more jealous!

"You can't spoil her too much! She's your assistant, after all. If you spoil her so much, what kind of assistant would she turn out to be?"

Liang Yin said nothing.

"Oh, right. The room has been booked. When it's ready, let her move her luggage into the other room. It's unbecoming of her to be staying with you."

Liang Yin nodded distractedly and said, "You may leave now! I'll talk to him when he wakes up!"

"Uh huh." The assistant nodded, but kept looking back every few steps she took, till she finally vanished from sight.

Hua Jin finally woke up in the afternoon. Liang Yin told him about this matter. The actor didn't have a problem with that. It was more convenient to have a room for himself. At least he wouldn't have to sleep on the sofa. He was happy to see that happen!

Liang Yin also accompanied him to buy some daily necessities. He would be staying at the filming location for a long time, and it was not feasible for him to go back to her rented place to get them. Therefore, the daily necessities were all settled in the studio city.

Hua Jin asked her if it was really okay not to go home. Liang Yin told him that her parents wouldn't care if she went home or not. He raised an eyebrow but said nothing.

Noting his reaction, Liang Yin was surprised.

"Strange. Your reaction seems different from the others."

"Different in what way?"

"Every time someone asks about my parents, they try to talk me round saying that there's no parent in the world who doesn't love their child. They even say that as long as they're my parents, they'll love me."

The actor laughed at that. "Well, that's because they don't know that there really are irresponsible fathers and mothers out there."

Chapter 3857: A Perfect Match (49)

"Well, that's because they don't know that there really are irresponsible fathers and mothers out there."

With that, he smiled. She didn't know if it was mockery or something else, but quickly, the loneliness in his eyes disappeared.

Liang Yin could not help but find it strange. He said it as if he could relate to it. However, she did not probe further.

Because now their rooms were next to each other, having returned from shopping, the actor took the bags into his room.

As soon as Liang Yin left, Xiaoqi entered the room. The door had been left ajar, so she could slip in just like that.

"Liang Yin!"

The actor jumped. He looked up and saw her. "Why did you come in without knocking?" he asked sullenly.

"The door was unlocked!"

"Even if it wasn't locked, you'd have to knock to get in. That's basic manners."

Xiaoqi's expression turned icy and she said disapprovingly, "To think that you're a newcomer. You're quite arrogant! Ha!"

The actor scoffed at that. "I don't think it has anything to do with airs. It has to do with the quality of a person." For some reason, he suddenly saw a different and unfamiliar side to Xiaoqi.

In the past, when Xiaoqi was by his side, she was polite, humble, and well-mannered. Now that he had become Liang Yin. This Xiaoqi seemed to have become a little... high and mighty!

Unruffled, the actor asked, "What brings you here?"

Very quickly, Xiaoqi went straight to the point. "I want to swap rooms with you."

"What?" Hua Jin was surprised to hear this. "Why do you want to swap rooms?"

"I can swap if I want. Why are you asking so many questions?"

The actor's irritation at her attitude grew. "This is my room. Do I not even have the right to ask?"

"Okay, then let me ask you something." Xiaoqi started, "What's your relationship with Hua Jin?"

The actor listened, his face expressionless. "He's my employer. I'm his assistant. That's the kind of relationship we have."

"Hmph, I don't think your relationship with him is as simple as it looks! I don't know how Boss Qin Zhou could end up assigning your room to him. I don't know what method you used! Oh! Don't tell me you're thinking of taking advantage of the situation?!"

The more Hua Jin listened to this, the more confused he became. Although he did not understand what Xiaoqi meant, it was definitely unfriendly!

"I don't understand what you're trying to convey."

"I'm sure you do!"

Xiaoqi suddenly became aggressive. "You like Hua Jin, don't you!?"

The actor's lips twitched. That was a difficult question! He was Hua Jin. Was there a problem liking himself?

He suddenly realized...

Could this Xiaoqi be...

"Oh." He gave her a sudden, profound smile. "I see. You're trying to squeeze me out, aren't you?"

"What ... what did you say?"

"Maybe you're jealous because he's being so nice to me and that upsets you. Is that why you're trying to squeeze me out?"

Admittedly, the actor was extremely observant.

Xiaoqi snorted. "Who are you that I have to be jealous? Who do you think you are? I'm Hua Jin's personal assistant, and I've been taking care of him for three years. You're nothing!"

The actor said coldly and expressionlessly, "You'd better watch what you say. There's a limit to my tolerance!"

Chapter 3858: A Perfect Match (50)

“Limited tolerance?”

Xiaoqi burst out laughing as if she'd just heard the biggest joke in the world.

“If you don't even have this bit of tolerance, how can you be a celebrity's assistant?! If a so-called assistant can't even stand this little grievance, then she ought to get lost!”

The actor was furious upon hearing this, but he did not let it show.

“And...” Xiaoqi paused for a moment before continuing, “You're saying that I'm squeezing you out?! Why don't you take a look at your own status? Do I have to squeeze you out?!”

“Are you jealous that I'm sharing accommodation with Liang...” The actor almost slipped up again. He pursed his lips and immediately corrected himself. “Don't tell me you're jealous that I'm sharing accommodation with Hua Jin!?”

“Ha! So what if you're sharing accommodation?” Xiaoqi snorted indignantly and said with indifference, “I've even slept on the same bed as Hua Jin!”

The actor could not help frowning at that remark. He did not expect to see this unpleasant side of Xiaoqi as a result of swapping souls with Liang Yin. In the past, Hua Jin had thought Xiaoqi to be very obedient, sensible, and hardworking. As an assistant, she was willing to work hard and take on any tasks.

Moreover, in front of him, Xiaoqi always appeared very quiet and spoke gently. No matter how difficult the reporters or fans were, she could handle them calmly.

Except... Now, he was now discovering the other side of Xiaoqi. She was jealous, had a vicious tongue and even tried to squeeze out newcomers...

The actor was intrigued. Was she usually like this? He began to wonder what the girl was really like.

“Alright! That's enough. Lest I go overboard, and you go carrying tales to Hua Jin that I bully newcomers!”

The actor cursed silently, what do you mean by carrying tales? It's clearly the truth!

But he kept silent.

Thinking that the new assistant had given in, Xiaoqi said coldly, “If you know what's good for you, hurry up and swap rooms with me. You're a newbie. As a new assistant, there are many things you can't take care of. After all, I've been with Hua Jin for so many years. I'm sure you can't take care of everything as well as I can! So let's just quickly swap rooms!”

“Have you asked Hua Jin's permission for this?”

“I'm sure he'll agree! Previously, if it weren't for the fact that we didn't have this room next door, I wouldn't be separated from him by a floor. Now that we have a room next door, give it up! As far as Hua Jin is concerned, an assistant is an assistant. It's all about taking care of his daily life. What difference does it make?”

The actor smiled meaningfully. "If you want to change rooms with me, you'll have to ask Hua Jin if he agrees, won't you? After all, this room is mine now. You can't just change it!"

"Alright, just you wait!" Naturally, Xiaoqi did not believe that things would work against her. She left the room and walked around to the next door. She knocked and soon heard footsteps on the other side of the door.

Liang Yin opened the door and saw Xiaoqi standing before her. She frowned slightly but remained calm even though she was feeling rather annoyed!

Wasn't this assistant being overly-attentive? She was about to go to bed! She had spent the night reading the script and hadn't slept well during the day. Although she had gone back to the hotel for a short rest, her mind was nevertheless filled with thoughts of Tang Yu sleeping with his fans.

Chapter 3859: A Perfect Match (51)

Liang Yin thought of what Hua Jin had mentioned, and recalled Tang Yu's disapproving attitude when he talked about this matter. There was a dull ache in her heart.

She couldn't accept that her idol, Tang Yu, was such a person. The more she thought about it, the more upset she became. She didn't sleep well either. In a short period of time, she had a series of nightmares. After that, she had been kept busy because of Hua Jin's "period". She was exhausted.

Xiaoqi smiled sweetly and spoke in a coquettish manner, "Master Jin, may I come in?"

She had always called him "Master Jin".

Liang Yin did not let her in immediately. Instead, she asked through the door, "What's the matter? I'm about to go to bed."

"It's like this..." Xiaoqi said coyly, "The room next to yours is empty, isn't it? I was thinking that maybe I should change rooms with that new assistant called Liang Yin! She's the new assistant, so she won't be able to do a good job taking care of you. If I stay next door to you I will be able to attend to all big and small matters and be of assistance to you no matter what. What do you think?"

Xiaoqi waited expectantly for the actor to agree.

However, Liang Yin frowned again when she heard this. She was reluctant to take Xiaoqi's suggestion. This was because it was imperative that the actor stayed next door to her, so that she could get to him quickly when the situation called for it. He'd be only a room away. Now that they were in the same boat, it was like being stuck in the same pair of pants.

She immediately said, "Forget it! It's better to let Liang Yin stay next door to me."

Xiaoqi was so stunned that the smile froze on her face.

"Why!? Am I not taking good care of you?"

"It's not that." Liang didn't know how to explain. She pondered for a moment, then asked tentatively, "Why do you have to live next door to me?"

“Am I not taking good care of you?”

Liang Yin sighed and did not know how to explain. She simply said, “I... I still prefer Liang Yin to live next door.”

Then, before Xiaoqi could say anything, she pretended to yawn and then remarked, “I’m so sleepy. Let’s talk about it tomorrow!”

With that, Liang Yin yawned again and slammed the door shut without waiting for Xiaoqi to respond.

With her back to the door, Liang Yin muttered sullenly, “Why is this assistant harder to deal with than fans?”

Previously, when she had gone to the supermarket to help Hua Jin with his daily necessities, a few fans came up to her and surrounded her. However, after signing and taking photos, they left her alone.

Could it be that this Xiaoqi was also one of Hua Jin’s die-hard fans who had maneuvered her way to becoming his assistant?

What a chilling thought!

Outside the door, Xiaoqi was stunned for a long time before she realized that Hua Jin had blocked her out!

But she simply couldn’t figure it out... This Liang Yin was a newbie. Why did Hua Jin like her so much?

In what ways was she inferior to Liang Yin?!

The more she thought about it, the angrier she became, and her suspicion grew that this Hua Jin’s and Liang Yin’s relationship was not as simple as it seemed.

Therefore, she burst into the next room and marched up to Hua Jin, asking aggressively, “Liang Yin! Answer me, what exactly did you do?!”

She looked hysterical, like a concubine fighting for favor in an ancient harem. The actor looked at her blankly and realized that she must have been rebuffed by Liang Yin. He chuckled.

Chapter 3860: A Perfect Match (52)

“Wash up and go to sleep!”

Xiaoqi narrowed her eyes and said suspiciously, “Did something... happen between the two of you?! Could it be that you want to make use of him, or threaten him with some dirty secret?!”

In the past, she’d heard gossip. It was also about a popular idol. A male celebrity had once gotten drunk. That night, something happened between him and the assistant who was taking care of him. After that, the assistant had used it as leverage to threaten the male celebrity into giving her five million dollars, failing which, she said, she’d sue him for forcing himself on her.

This male celebrity had no choice but to raise three million yuan. This matter was considered a peace offering.

Therefore, Xiaoqi wondered what method Liang Yin had used to “coerce” Hua Jin.

“You’re crazy!” Hua Jin couldn’t stand it any longer. He stood up and shooed her away. “Get out of here.”

There were important scenes tomorrow. Liang Yin was acting for the first time and there’s no telling what would go wrong during filming. He planned to rest early and meet Liang Yin in the morning.

He really did not have the energy to bother with a lousy assistant.

Xiaoqi was so angry that she blurted out, “Bitch!”

“What did you say!?”

“I said you’re a bitch!”

Completely enraged, the actor grabbed her by the face and shoved her out the door.

“If you dare provoke me again, believe it or not, you can forget about your job as an assistant!”

With that, the actor slammed the door shut.

Having been rebuffed again, Xiaoqi was infuriated and aggrieved.

She glared at the door, recalling Hua Jin’s threat. “If you dare provoke me again, believe it or not, you can forget about your job as an assistant!”

“Fine! Liang Yin, you think you’re so great...” Her voice trembled with anger, and she was incoherent. She pointed at the door and said hatefully, “Just you wait!”

...

In the morning, Hua Jin was woken by the alarm.

The wake up call had been set in advance. For once, he didn’t laze in bed. Instead, he got out of bed, dressed haphazardly, and ran to Liang Yin’s room.

There were two card keys issued for the room. Liang Yin had one and he had the other. Therefore, there was no need to use the doorbell. He simply swiped the door open.

In the room, Liang Yin was still in bed, sleeping soundly. The actor walked over to the bed, reached out and patted her cheek.

“Time to get up!”

Liang Yin was in the midst of a dream when she vaguely felt a hand constantly jabbing at her. With her eyes tightly shut, she patted the hand. “Oh, be quiet.”

“It’s getting late. Get up and we’ll go over the script.”

Liang Yin was annoyed by his torture and sat up in bed. Her short hair was in a mess and she seemed resentful. “What are you doing?”

“Get up and rehearse.” The actor tossed the robe on the bed. The room floor heating and air-conditioner were on.

Liang Yin yawned and looked resentful. “Haven’t we gone through it? Why do we have to rehearse again?”

The actor, however, said matter-of-factly, “Let’s go over it again. We’ll be on set today, in case you make an error.”

Liang Yin was even more disheartened!

“Director Gu is a very strict director. If you don’t act well, no matter how many staff members are present, he will scold you in front of everyone.”

Gu Xiaoyang had a fiery temper. At most, he would give someone three chances. If the person didn’t get it right within three takes, he’d definitely lose his temper.