

Sweet Love 3941

Chapter 3941: A Perfect Match (137)

To her surprise, Qin Zhou dealt with the situation so coolly. It inevitably improved her impression of him! She felt that he was a very reliable man indeed! Liang Yin sighed inwardly again.

When they arrived back at the hotel, Hua Jin turned around and noted that Liang Yin was following behind him like a shadow. She was blinking as though feeling conflicted. Something seemed to be brewing within her.

He asked suspiciously, "What's on your mind? Why do you look so serious!"

"Can I ask you something in secret, Hua Jin?"

"Mmm, ask away!" Without waiting for Liang Yin to speak, Hua Jin volunteered, "You probably want to ask questions about Qin Zhou, right?"

Liang Yin felt a little guilty and said in an annoyed tone, "Do you know how to read minds?"

"Why? Are you really interested in him?"

Liang Yin blushed and said awkwardly, "I just wanted to ask, what kind of girl does Qin Zhou like?"

"Anyway, you are not his type!"

Liang Yin was indignant and said suspiciously, "How do you know I'm not his type!?"

"Why? Are you really interested in him?"

"I... I didn't say I was interested in him!" Liang Yin pretended to be calm and said, "I'm just curious why he doesn't have a girlfriend even though he's in his thirties. Is he picky about girlfriends?"

"If you're talking about being picky... Anyway, he likes someone with a more voluptuous figure, but not too voluptuous. For example, ample bosom, a pert butt and slim waist. She must not have a snake-like face or excessively large eyes. In short, she has to be well-proportioned, and most importantly, good-looking! I think you're out of shape just based on your figure!"

When Liang Yin heard this, she refused to admit defeat. "You can train to get the figure you want! Don't look down on others."

This time the actor was certain.

"You want to pursue him?"

"Uh..." Liang Yin was a little fidgety. "I didn't say I was going after him..."

"Although it's said that it's often easier for women to go after men, the fact is, Qin Zhou is not an easy person to pursue."

"Eh? Why? What do you mean by that?"

“He doesn’t like to be passive. He prefers to take the initiative. A man like him, who is used to taking the initiative in everything, doesn’t like being passive! In other words, he doesn’t like the feeling of being chased by women.”

“Doesn’t like being chased by women?”

“In short, there’s basically no hope for the women he has no interest in.” The actor rubbed Liang Yin’s head sympathetically. “Don’t hold any hopes where he’s concerned! It’s impossible between you two! Besides...” he paused, then emphasized, “now, you’re using my body. You want to use my body to go after men. Have you asked my opinion?!”

“Didn’t you also use my body to seduce men? Did you ask for my opinion?” Liang Yin retorted, not to be outdone.

“What... what do you mean I used your body to seduce men!?” The actor’s face darkened with anger. “Did I use your body to attract attention?”

“Of course? Who caused Xu Youwei’s incident yesterday!?”

Upon hearing this, the actor seethed with anger! If this girl hadn’t insisted on sitting at the bar, would this have happened to him?!

“And also, Gong Jie!”

“Gong Jie!” Hua Jin was confused. What did this have to do with Gong Jie?

Chapter 3942: A Perfect Match (138)

Liang Yin got annoyed at the mention of this and said angrily, “Don’t think I don’t know that you slept with that man called ‘Gong Jie’ during our vacation at the Halfway Hotel! Did you ask for my opinion then?!”

“How can you call it sleeping with him?”

“Did you sleep in the same bed? Did you share a blanket?”

“Although we shared a bed, each of us had our own blanket!”

“That’s still called sleeping together!”

“I...” For a moment, the actor was at a loss for words.

“You took my body to sleep with someone. Why can’t I use your body to pick up men?”

“Ha!” The actor looked as if he’d just heard the biggest joke in the world. “If you’re going to use my body to flirt with a man, the prerequisite is that Qin Zhou has to like men! If he doesn’t like men, just take off your clothes and stand in front of him. He won’t even look at you. He’ll be indifferent the entire time!”

Liang Yin blushed and glared at him. Out of the blue, she curled her lips and asked meaningfully, “Who said I was going to flirt with Qin Zhou?”

The actor looked startled.

“Then what?”

“Although it can’t be helped that Qin Zhou likes women, there are many men who like you! Hey, Hua Jin, have you ever imagined that one day, your body will be pinned under another man’s body?!”

The actor widened his eyes at this, but he pretended to be calm. “Oh, you’re just saying that. I don’t think you dare!”

“Who says I don’t dare?” Liang Yin rubbed her chin and smiled. “I have a feeling that Gong Jie is interested in you.”

“...”

“How about I go and flirt with him?”

The actor became alarmed immediately. “Don’t you dare!”

“Let’s see if I dare! Anyway, my sexual orientation is normal! That Gong Jie guy looks handsome too. It’s not that difficult to do! Anyway, I won’t lose out by using your body to flirt with him!”

“You!...” The actor’s momentary anger quickly subsided. “If you dare, you might as well show me your extraordinary courage!”

With that, he turned his face away petulantly and marched back to his room. Seeing that the actor had gone back to his room, Liang Yin turned around and headed back to her own room as well.

They did not speak to each other for the next two days.

Actually, neither of them had done much. It was just that Hua Jin’s teasing tone made Liang Yin feel indignant. Hua Jin, on the other hand, shrugged off Liang Yin’s threat.

Two days later, Liang Yin received a call from Yun Shishi, inviting Hua Jin to go back to the Mu family residence for dinner. Without mentioning this to Hua Jin, she took a taxi back to the Mu family residence.

As it happened, Gong Jie was there.

Seeing that this was the case, Liang Yin suddenly formulated a perfect plan.

Gong Jie’s eyes narrowed suspiciously at the sight of her. When Yun Shishi wasn’t looking their way, he moved closer to Liang Yin and asked tentatively, “Liang Yin?”

Liang Yin turned back with feigned calm and cleared her throat. “I am Hua Jin.”

“You’re back in your own body?” Gong Jie looked rather surprised.

Still, it made sense. If it were that woman, wouldn’t she be afraid of being exposed, coming to the Mu family residence alone?

“When did that happen?”

Liang Yin made something up. “Three days ago.”

Gong Jie did not doubt him.

Liang Yin twitched repeatedly before she finally gathered enough courage and said to Gong Jie, "I have a secret to tell you."

Gong Jie raised a skeptical eyebrow. "What secrets could you possibly have?"

Chapter 3943: A Perfect Match (139)

Liang Yin swept her gaze over him and finally made up her mind. She drew close to him and breathed, "I realize that I seem to have fallen for you!"

Gong Jie was dumbstruck.

Liang tugged at the corner of his shirt, imitating Hua Jin's tone and pretending to be probing. "Don't you have any feelings for me?"

The man narrowed his eyes. "So you have an abnormal sexual orientation?"

"Is liking men described as an abnormal sexual orientation?" Liang Yin said solemnly, "In the past, I couldn't accept the fact that I liked men either. However, I've figured it out now. Actually, I don't like all men. It's just that the person I like happens to be of the same gender as me!"

Gong Jie's eyes narrowed in contemplation.

This Hua Jin... Could he have some sort of masochistic tendency? He liked him? He liked being tortured by him? Or... Was he only playing a trick on him?

Gong Jie was losing patience. "What tricks are you playing?"

"I'm not playing any tricks! I really... have feelings for you!" Liang Yin said as she slowly approached him. "Don't you have feelings for me?"

Gong Jie gripped her jaw and said coldly, "If you make fun of me again, I won't let you get away with it!"

However, Liang Yin was not afraid of his gaze at all. Instead, she narrowed her eyes and smiled. She actually mustered her courage, stood on her tiptoes slightly, and gently gave him a peck on his chin.

This made Gong Jie even more stunned! He examined Liang Yin in disbelief, but the confusion in his eyes deepened...

"I kissed that man today."

In the evening, in his hotel room, Hua Jin was marking out the script for Liang Yin. As he read through it, he ate the strawberries with relish. Her remark came out of the blue.

At first, it didn't register. Then, Hua Jin blinked. "What do you mean?"

"That... Gong Jie! I went back to the Mu family residence for dinner today and confessed to him."

Cough cough cough!!

The actor was stunned for a long time before he suddenly coughed violently. He stood up in shock and stared at her with widened eyes. “Confessed?! What does that mean?!” he said in disbelief.

“Actually, it wasn’t a confession!” Liang Yin pouted and explained, “Actually, I just told him that I’m a little interested in him! Hehe, I was just joking.”

As soon as he heard that it was a joke, Hua Jin frowned and thought that Liang wouldn’t dare mess around. He sat back nervously on the sofa.

“In the future, you’re not allowed to make such jokes, understand?! With Gong Jie’s personality, he’ll definitely take them seriously!”

Liang Yin acted surprised. “Hey! How did you know?”

Hua Jin was dumbstruck.

What did she mean!?’

Liang Yin said with a smile, “He really took it seriously and thought that you were interested in him!”

The actor was speechless.

Liang Yin was amused to see that by now, Hua Jin had sat upright on the sofa, looking petrified!

Serves him right for always unleashing his sharp tongue on her!

Liang Yin had long since realized that the actor had an inexplicable fear of Gong Jie.

However, it wasn’t the sort of fear in the traditional sense. Instead, it carried an inexplicable sense of escapism.

She also knew that Gong Jie was somewhat special to the actor.

Since she had always gotten the brunt of his sharp-tongue, she was compelled to play some little tricks as revenge.

“It’s because you’re always so mean to me! This is my punishment for you!”

Chapter 3944: A Perfect Match (140)

Since she had always bore the brunt of his sharp tongue, she was compelled to play some little tricks as revenge.

After ten seconds or so, the actor sprang to his feet, walked over to the room’s bar, and began rummaging around, looking for something.

Seeing this, Liang asked suspiciously, “What’s wrong?”

“Looking for something.”

“Huh? What are you looking for?”

“Looking for...” The actor spun around suddenly with a paring knife in his hand. The metallic glint almost blinded her.

Liang Yin looked horrified. “What are you doing!?”

“Since you’ve ruined my innocence and reputation, I’ll fight you to the death!” Hua Jin walked toward her, holding the knife in his hand. Liang Yin curled into a ball and immediately said, “Hey! I’m occupying your body now. Even if you no longer give a damn, you don’t want to stab yourself, do you?!”

When Hua Jin heard this, he thought that was a fair comment. He rolled up his sleeves and gestured at his wrists, raising the fruit knife high.

“What?” Liang Yin panicked. She immediately rushed forward and grabbed his wrist, trembling in fear. “Hey, Hua Jin, have you really gone crazy?!”

“I’ll kill you!”

“Ahhhh, no! These are my hands. Calm down, calm down!!”

“Liang Yin, what have I ever done against you for you to harm me like this!?”

“I’m not harming you! I’m only trying to matchmake you because I see that the two of you are so compatible!”

“Can just anyone be brought together like this!? Don’t you know what it means when people say that humans and demons travel on different paths?! He and I are not travelers on the same path!”

Liang Yin was stunned and confused. “What do you mean by humans and demons traveling on different paths? I don’t understand what you’re saying!”

“I’m a human, and he’s a demon, a demon king, okay?! Are you trying to kill me?! I’m going to die because of you. Anyway, if I’m killed, you won’t have an easy time either! Now we’re in the same boat, are you really happy to see me suffering? Huh? Are you happy?!”

“I think there’s true love between the two of you. I’m doing this for your own good!”

“For my own good, eh!?” The actor nodded and snorted. A sudden thought struck him, and his lips curved wickedly. “Well, if you say it’s for my own good, then I appreciate your kindness! Well, didn’t you say you like Qin Zhou!”

“...?”

Hua Jin had a thought. Or rather, a bad idea came to him and he smiled slyly. “Liang Yin, just you wait. I’ll help you pursue Qin Zhou!” Then he stood up, snorted and walked out!

Liang Yin was stunned as she watched the actor leaving the room. For a moment, she did not react.

Ming City Apartments.

Qin Zhou had just come out of a shower when he heard the doorbell ring.

He walked to the door and opened it. Hua Jin stood at the doorway, looking miserable. Although he didn't speak, his watery eyes were clearly saying, "Please take me in, please take me in..."

Frowning, Qin Zhou crossed his arms and stood right in the doorway, making no move to let him in.

"What's this? Where did this stray dog come from?"

The actor had no tail. Otherwise, it would have been wagging vigorously.

"Qin Zhou..." The actor looked exhausted. "I'm suffering inside..."

"What now?"

"Let me in first..."

"What's going on?" The manager showed no sympathy. "Why come and stay with me when you have a hotel to stay in?"

Chapter 3945: A Perfect Match (141)

Her manager, however, showed no sympathy and had no intention of taking him in. "If you're staying at a hotel, why come and stay with me?"

"Hmph! I don't want to be in the same hotel as that woman. She just pisses me off."

"Well, well, looks like the two of you had another fight."

Qin Zhou looked at his watch and said coolly, "It's late now, too. If you really don't want to stay at the crew's official hotel, go out and get another room somewhere. Don't come to my place."

The actor said quietly, "But I didn't bring any money with me when I came out."

Qin Zhou then went to the porch cabinet and casually fumbled in the pockets of one of the coats in it. He found some money and was about to give Hua Jin some cash.

The actor immediately said, "That's all right. Don't bother. I'll make do with one night at your place."

Qin Zhou looked up, disgusted. "I don't wish to oblige."

"..." The actor grumbled, "You should continue your treatment for your OCD?"

"Does it have anything to do with you?"

"There's nothing fraternal about you. You can't be so callous as a friend."

"Callous? Are we friends?"

Hua Jin asked, "If we're not friends, then what are we?"

The manager said solemnly, "Superior, subordinate."

“...” The actor looked hurt.

“Alright, look at how pitiful you are. Come in then!” The manager stepped aside and the actor squeezed past him as if he had been granted amnesty.

Upon entering the living room, the actor lay down on the sofa and complained, “I’m not going to serve that little ancestor! Do you know how detestable she is?! She actually pretended to be me and made a confession to Gong Jie!”

“Pfft...” Qin Zhou almost spat out his coffee at that.

“She’s that bold?” Even Qin Zhou did not dare to be too presumptuous when dealing with a demon king like Gong Jie, let alone Hua Jin. Perhaps, as they say, a newborn calf is not afraid of a tiger.

Liang Yin did not understand Gong Jie’s background at all, let alone how terrifying his existence was. Therefore, she did not have any fear or special respect for him!

Qin Zhou couldn’t stop an image from forming in his own mind, of a kitten starting to scratch at the tiger with its little paws. This image was quite cute in comparison!

“Qin Zhou, let me ask you a serious question.”

The manager quickly set his coffee cup aside. “Ask away.”

“Do you...”

“Mmmm?”

“Do you prefer men or women?”

Qin Zhou didn’t take offense. Instead, he asked, “What do you think?”

“From the way you carry yourself, I’d say you like men.”

“Oh?” The man gave a slow, threatening snort. “I’m going to give you one more chance to make a guess.”

“... women.”

Qin Zhou scowled at him and said, “You know the answer.”

“I don’t care about your private life, so how am I supposed to know if you like men or women?” Hua Jin said, resting his chin on his hand. “In the past, the media said you and Gu Xingze were an item. Word goes around.”

“There used to be rumors that you and Yun Shishi were secret lovers too,” he reminded the actor coolly.

“It’s fine if you say that in private, but if you say it in front of Brother-in-law Mu, he’ll hack you to death and then kill me.”

“That’s not going to happen now that he’s been promoted to a stay-at-home dad. He plays slave to his daughter every day.”

Chapter 3946: A Perfect Match (142)

At the mention of Mu Yazhe, Qin Zhou chuckled and shook his head. "Married men change so easily! In the past, Chairman Mu was a high-spirited young talent. After he got married, this persona suddenly became an old cadre. Nowadays, he doesn't even step out of the house after 7pm. He goes to bed and wakes up early. I heard from Shishi the day before yesterday that he had actually started to focus on keeping himself nourished."

"Pfft. At his age, why would he need to nourish himself?"

"He said he wants to look younger, live longer, and spend more time with his daughter."

Stunned, the actor said, "This daughter slave is... hopeless."

"This is the first daughter slave I've ever seen." The manager raised an eyebrow. "But I think a daughter is better than a son. The little princess is so lovely that even I like her. I can't help but want to carry her."

"If you like, have one yourself!"

The actor asked, "How many relationships have you had, Qin Zhou?"

"I don't remember."

"Can't remember?"

"Because I don't have much time for relationships in the first place, so I can't even remember how many women I've had."

"It's difficult for you to keep this up. You're an adult, after all. Don't you have any emotional needs?" Hua Jin sounded skeptical. "And don't you have any physical needs?"

"You talk a lot of crap today." Qin Zhou asked calmly, "Spill the beans. What is your purpose in coming here today? Why don't you tell me your purpose?"

"Someone is interested in you. I'm here to help her sound you out."

"Of all the people interested in me, whom exactly are you referring to? Would it be a man, or a woman?"

"Neither a man... nor a woman."

"A transvestite?" Qin Zhou raised an eyebrow, looking skeptical. "That's high-class. I can't believe I'm even taking in transvestites now."

"Uh huh. She was a woman, now she's a man, and who knows when she'll be a woman again ... this type, what do you think?"

At this, the manager finally looked at the actor and narrowed his eyes. There was something in his expression that looked odd.

Hua Jin stared at him expectantly.

"Are you referring to... Liang Yin?"

“You live up to your name indeed, making the right guess so quickly!”

The actor had no wish to play a guessing game, so he asked jovially, “What do you think?”

“You want to pimp me out?”

“How... how is this a pimp!?”

The actor said gloomily, “I’m just the messenger. She likes you and has been asking me things about you, so I might as well come here and find out what you think. If you’re interested in her, it’s not a bad idea for the two of you to give things a try!”

“Even if we want to try dating, we have to at least wait till the two of you swap back into your own bodies!”

The actor was speechless.

He let out a wail and lamented like a resentful woman, “If we have to wait until we get back into our own bodies, how long is that going to be?! I don’t even know if that will happen in my lifetime?”

“That might not be the case.” Qin Zhou smiled and said, “Maybe you’ll switch back in the very near future. Or maybe, you’ll stay this way for the rest of your lives.”

The actor covered his face in despair.

Just thinking about being a woman and having to have his period for the rest of his life... or even having to go through childbirth, menopause...

He felt his body go limp with a despair so deep his soul almost drifted away.

Chapter 3947: A Perfect Match (143)

As if reading his mind, Qin Zhou said unhurriedly, “Actually, a woman’s period doesn’t last all through her life. According to research, it stops at a certain age. From then on, a woman officially steps into old age and is no longer troubled by her period.”

Hua Jin rolled his eyes. “Do you read minds?”

Qin Zhou ignored him and walked past him to the bar. He poured himself two glasses of champagne and turned around, gloating. “However, I’ve heard that childbirth is very painful for women. Generally, pain is divided into ten levels. The pain of a woman giving birth is defined to fall within level 10.”

The actor’s teeth started chattering. “I’m not going to have a baby!”

“It won’t be up to you then! It’s said that a woman is only complete when she has gone through childbirth. Be strong.”

“Say, Qin Zhou, if the most painful thing for a woman is childbirth, then... is it more painful to have one’s balls crushed, or give birth to a child?” Hua Jin was like a curious child suddenly.

Qin Zhou also hesitated for a long moment.

“I think having one’s balls crushed is more painful! After all, when a man’s balls get crushed, he may not survive.”

“Good point.”

“But childbirth is a woman’s necessary pain. Getting one’s balls crushed, on the other hand, is not.”

The actor was dumbfounded.

“Anyway, don’t be so pessimistic. Maybe, when you wake up in the morning, you’ll find yourself back in your own body.”

Hua Jin’s lips twitched. “If only it were as easy as you say!”

“What if you change back? Nothing is absolute.”

The actor said coolly, “If I woke up tomorrow morning back in my own body, I’d be so happy that I’ll dash around naked!”

Qin Zhou smiled. “Sure! If you dash around naked, remember to take a picture, post it on Weibo and tag me. I’ll actively re-post it to help you spread it.”

“Hahaha!”

Hua Jin stood up and headed for the bathroom. “It’s getting late. I’m going to take a shower and then to bed.”

“Are you really going to stay here?”

“This is a bachelor pad,” the manager reminded him. “There’s only one bed. Are you sure you want to share the bed with me?”

“Why? Is there a problem with that?”

“I despise you. Besides, I don’t have a woman’s change of clothes here.”

“It doesn’t matter. I’ll sleep in my bathrobe.” The actor added, “I’m not that melodramatic. We’re both men. Why would I be worried that you’d do anything to me?”

He went into the bathroom and shut the door behind him.

Qin Zhou finished his glass of champagne and slouched back on the sofa.

After the actor had left, Liang Yin tried in vain to reach him on the phone. She then went next door and listened through the door panel and heard the ringing through the door.

Could he have gone out alone without his phone?

Could this fellow have gotten into trouble given it was in the middle of the night?

Whatever!

Who cares!

Liang Yin decided not to bother. She returned to her room and finished memorizing the script, then fell asleep.

However, when she woke up the next day, she clearly felt that there was someone was lying beside her! The reason why she felt that there was another person was because when she turned over, her arm clearly came into contact with someone's warm skin...

She woke up in shock and opened her eyes. However, what she saw almost made her heart stop!

There was indeed someone laying beside her.

Chapter 3948: A Perfect Match (144)

There was indeed someone laying beside her.

It was a... man!

This man's features were not unfamiliar...

"Qin... Qin... Qin... Qin... Qin... Qin... Zhou...?!" She was so terrified that she stuttered. However, as soon as her voice escaped her lips, she realized that the sound she made was her original voice. Her eyes widened and she covered her mouth. She was so frightened that she froze!

"I... Damn..."

What the hell was going on!?

She, she, she, she... had swapped back!?

Liang Yin looked horrified and patted her own face gently.

Pat... pat... pat... pat... She snapped back to reality upon the contact and crisp sound!

Liang Yin gently lifted her lapel and looked down her collar and realized... She! Wasn't! Wearing! A! Bra! She was bare naked inside. Apart from the bathrobe, there was no cover! She immediately pulled the bathrobe tightly around herself!'Search NewNovel* on google'

Her mind raced!

Could it be... She and Hua Jin had swapped back into their own bodies!?

And then?!

After leaving the hotel last night, he had come to Qin Zhou's house and used her body to... sleep with him?! At the thought of this possibility, a horrified expression came over Liang Yin's face!

"No way!" Hua Jin... had used her body, to sleep with Qin Zhou!? She slept with Qin Zhou!!!

Liang Yin looked up at Qin Zhou's face again and noted that his eyelids were slightly lowered. His eyelashes were soft and dense, and his handsome features were dashing and charming even when he was asleep...

But! But! That was not the point!

The two of them slept like that all night?

Liang Yin could not tell if she had gone all the way with Qin Zhou or not. She did not know what had happened between the two of them last night... She also did not have any experience, so she did not know if she was supposed to be able to tell if something had happened between them.

She carefully sat up and looked down. There was no blood...

"Oooh..."

Her movements seemed to have disturbed the man next to her. Qin Zhou turned around and in reflex, Liang Yin immediately lay down and kept still...

On the other side.

Hua Jin woke up, too, and found himself back in the filming crew's official hotel. He frowned, sat up, and looked around. Immediately, a bunch of questions surged into his mind.

What was going on?

How did he... end up here?!

Where was Qin Zhou? Wasn't he at ... Qin Zhou's apartment last night? After the shower, he had put on Qin Zhou's bathrobe and shamelessly crawled into his bed. He had fallen asleep. Why was he back here?

"Sleepwalking?" The actor muttered to himself in confusion. Then, belatedly, a realization of the voice he heard caused him to widen his eyes!

He! Was he back in his own body!? Hua Jin immediately kicked aside the blanket, lifted his bathrobe, and peered beneath him...

He was back! There was a feeling of lost-and-found surprise!

Tears of excitement streamed down the man's face as he hugged himself tightly and jumped out of bed, bouncing up and down. "I'm back! Finally! I thought I was going to be a woman for the rest of my life!"

Qin Zhou was right. After a sleep, he would find himself back in his own body!

Was he the legendary prophet! No matter, it was good to be back!

Chapter 3949: A Perfect Match (145)

"Hahahaha!" Hua Jin was beside himself with joy! He jumped off the bed, wiggled his butt, and slapped it triumphantly!

Woo hoo, how familiar it felt! How much he missed it!

The actor rushed to the bathroom to look into the familiar and handsome face in the mirror. He rubbed it. The contact was a repeated reminder...

He wasn't dreaming! This was not a dream! It was real!

Tears of happiness. And then... The actor felt himself up and down all over! There was a thrill of having lost and found! In order to prove once again that this was not a dream, he slapped himself again. The burning pain only made him more excited! This was not a dream! This time, Qin Zhou was right.

Delighted, the actor took a quick shower and sank himself into the tub, enjoying a moment of peace. He hadn't enjoyed this in such a long time. Ever since he occupied Liang Yin's body, she had made it clear that he was not allowed to take a bath because it was not good for girls. On the other hand, the actor loved to soak. As a result of the swap, he had been forced to take showers and give up baths. Sometimes, after filming, soaking in a bath was such a good way to relax.

Meanwhile, on the other end, Liang Yin felt as if a year had passed.

Oh, oh, oh. It wasn't that days felt like years, but every second felt like years. It was too much to bear.

She lay facing up on the bed, her eyes wide open, not daring to close them for fear of the slightest movement around her. So she stared at the ceiling, settled herself, and did not move. She had no idea when Qin Zhou was going to wake up. Or would he just sleep all day? Should she get up, get dressed, and then walk away?'

After she thought about this and mulled it over, Liang Yin mustered her courage and sat up bit by bit.

As she moved, she kept an eye on Qin Zhou beside her. She lifted the blanket, carefully revealing a section of her calf.

"Mmm..." Qin Zhou rolled over suddenly, his eyelids fluttering. Then...

And then?!

He was awake!?

Liang Yin was dumbfounded!

Qin Zhou turned around just in time to see the girl sitting up. She instinctively tightened her bathrobe around herself and pretended to be calm. She had planned to pretend that she was still Hua Jin.

"You awake?" The man raised his arm, resting his head on it. He raised his eyebrows and smiled suddenly. "Why don't you get some more sleep?"

Liang Yin subconsciously tightened her bathrobe and said awkwardly, "Oh... I... I'm already awake!"

The man sensed her shyness and frowned sharply, suspicious. This was unlike Hua Jin.

The actor, despite the fact that he was wearing a bathrobe with no "protection" underneath, was just as carefree in bed with him. He didn't seem to mind at all. On the other hand, Liang Yin, who was before him now, was shy but pretending to be calm. With just a glance, Qin Zhou suspected that she was... Liang Yin, not Hua Jin.

Having been in the entertainment industry for so many years, what hadn't he seen? He had long cultivated a quick mind and sharp eyes. His judgment of people was also relatively accurate.

Initially, when Hua Jin first mentioned this matter to him, he'd been dubious. He'd raised an eyebrow, unconvinced.

Chapter 3950: A Perfect Match (146)

Having been in the entertainment industry for so many years, what hadn't he seen? He had long cultivated an exquisite mind. His judgment of people was also rather accurate.

Initially, when the actor had told him about this matter, he only half believed it.

The reason he believed was that he had a keen eye for people. It was obvious to him that Hua Jin seemed different, and that he was suspicious only because the whole thing was so illogical. It was not something that could be explained by the knowledge that Qin Zhou had learned over the years. And now, Liang Yin clearly gave him a feeling that something was wrong. Hua Jin would never react in such a manner.

Suspicious, he tried calling out, "Hua Jin?"

Liang Yin was stunned for a few seconds, but it didn't take long for her to react. She turned back, smiled, and instinctively ran her fingers through her hair. "Yes?"

The manager frowned again at that action. The action of smoothing down the hair was something only girls would do. Most girls were more image-conscious than men, especially when it came to the hair.

Although some men were also rather vain, at least when it came to Hua Jin, he never had the habit of making these little movements. Hence, Qin Zhou became even more suspicious...

Could the actor and Liang Yin have swapped back? However, Qin Zhou didn't ask the question directly. Instead, he leaned back and deliberately asked something irrelevant. "How do you feel?"

"Mmmm?"

"Yesterday... you cried for a long time. Did I hurt you?"

Liang Yin did not understand at first, but when she contemplated Qin Zhou's words, her heart suddenly started thumping.

Hurt?

Cried for a long time ...?!

This... What the hell was going on!

In fact, Liang Yin had not come to any conclusion. She was already a little suspicious about what had happened between “herself” and Qin Zhou last night. She was already thinking in that direction. Now that Qin Zhou had pointed it out, she became increasingly suspicious.

Actually, anyone smart enough would have seen through Qin Zhou’s probing.

Firstly, last night, it was Hua Jin who was lying next to Qin Zhou. If anything else happened, first of all, the actor would never accept a man. Secondly, even if something did happen, would the man cry like a woman?

Secondly, Qin Zhou knew that the person occupying her body was Hua Jin. No matter how “beastly” he was, he would not target Hua Jin! However, Liang Yin was too nervous and too concerned about what might have happened last night.

In fact, Qin Zhou hadn’t gone to bed until after Hua Jin had fallen asleep. He had wanted to get another blanket, but after rummaging through, he found them all too thin. After all, he lived alone and wasn’t so particular, and the heater in the room was turned on anyway. And so he just went to sleep.

While he himself had the consciousness to pay attention and be discreet, Hua Jin did not, and wasn’t shy at all. He did not even bother to secure the knot on his bathrobe, and left it hanging a little loose. That was the reason why Qin Zhou had gone to sleep with his back to the other man.

Even though he knew it was Hua Jin, but being a hot-blooded man, and because Liang Yin was also a beautiful girl, it was hard not to be tempted when she lay beside him.

Out of sight, out of mind.

Hence, Qin Zhou decided to sleep with his back to Hua Jin.

Alas, on the end, the actor ended up hugging him in his sleep, somehow.
