

Sweet Love 4201

Chapter 4201: The Other Side 170

“Hee hee. I was thinking my little sister would look so pretty, no matter whom she ends up taking after.”

Chu He looked at Yueyao’s back view and muttered, “She looks more like her daddy, doesn’t she? What do you think?”

“Uh huh.”

“Your little sister might be prettier if she ends up looking more like her daddy.”

Gu Linxi disagreed. “Who says so? She’d look very pretty too, if she took after Mommy!”

“What a sweet talker you are!” Chu He couldn’t resist scratching the bridge of his nose.

Halfway through the barbecue, Mu Yazhe suddenly brought in several boxes of fireworks. The moment they saw the fireworks, the twins were so excited that they stopped bothering with the barbecue. They scampered to the beach and circled their father.

Mu Yazhe quickly warned them, “Don’t stand here. It’s dangerous!”

“Hmph. What’s so dangerous about it?” Little Yichen was not impressed. He had even played with fragmentation grenades in the past. Fireworks did not scare him at all.

“Oh, keep an eye on your little brother then. Don’t let him get too close in case he gets hurt.”

“Alright.” Little Yichen immediately took Baby Chu’s hand obediently and walked off to the side.

Baby Chu tried to get closer, but the boy took his hand again and warned him, “Don’t get too close.”

Baby Chu looked incredulous. “Why?”

“If the fireworks misfire, they’ll splash all over you. Then it’ll be dangerous.”

Baby Chu immediately understood the boy’s explanation, but he could not contain his excitement. He looked expectantly at the fireworks and said jubilantly, “Fireworks, fireworks!”

It was their first time setting off fireworks by the sea, and the children were inexplicably excited.

Mu Yazhe studied the surroundings. It was hard to use a lighter on the windy beach, so he did it the old-fashioned way. Lighting a cigarette, he made sure there were no children standing around, he used the spark to light the fuse and stepped back quickly.

After ten seconds of lead time, there was a whoosh as the fireworks shot into the air like meteors and rapidly disappeared into the night. Then they heard a few more whooshing sounds as more fireworks continued to rise into the sky, but there were no fireworks that spread out like they expected.

Baby Chu looked surprised. “Huh? Where are the fireworks?”

Natalia and Yueyao also looked around puzzled.

Normally, when fireworks get launched into the air, they would explode in brilliant colors. But now, nothing of that sort was seen.

As the group looked at each other, they heard a few pops. Dozens of fireworks, like fiery trees, suddenly bloomed in the night sky. The falling fireworks spread slowly against the night sky like tassels.

These fireworks were bought from a local Chinese vendor. It was absolutely top quality, so the dazzling effect did exceed Mu Yazhe's expectations. He had never set off fireworks at the beach, so the idea suddenly struck him.

At that moment, the waves, the evening winds, the dark night, the brilliant fireworks... They were a perfect combination that couldn't be more beautiful.

Yun Shishi stared at the brilliant fireworks in the night sky in stunned silence, momentarily forgetting where she was.

Things that are breathtakingly beautiful always make one forget their worries.

She looked at the fireworks in silence. Almost half of the night sky was illuminated by the bright brilliant display!

"So pretty, So pretty!" Baby Chu clapped his hands excitedly! Despite his wide knowledge base, this was the first time he'd set off fireworks on the beach, and they were such beautiful fireworks. He couldn't get enough of them.

Chapter 4202: The Other Side 171

Therefore, when the fireworks ended, he remained far from being satisfied!

"Are there more?" He looked at his father in anticipation, the expectation in his eyes obvious

"There are." Mu Yazhe added, "But they're in the villa's warehouse. Would you like to go get them with me?"

"Of course!" Baby Chu mustered his courage and asked, "Can I light the fireworks myself?"

"No way!" Mu Yazhe rejected the idea immediately.

!!

Baby Chu immediately looked crestfallen. "Why?"

"Because, you're still too young." The man reasoned with the boy.

When Baby Chu heard this, he was even more disappointed. He said indignantly, "I'm not young anymore! I've grown up!"

"Hahaha!" Mu Yazhe chuckled at that and asked the boy, "How old are you?"

"I..." Baby Chu didn't know how old he was, but he solemnly counted with his fingers.

Gu Jinglian stood there, fuming at his son's "promising" appearance. "Haven't I taught you how to count?"

"Yes but..." Baby Chu scratched the back of his head sheepishly and looked rather helpless. "I've forgotten how old I am myself..."

"Hahaha!" Little Yichen couldn't help laughing at that too.

Thinking that he was mocking him, Baby Chu dodged angrily. "Stop laughing!"

Mu Yazhe chimed in. "You have the nerve to laugh. When you were this age, you couldn't even get your basic arithmetic right."

Seeing that his father was undermining him, Little Yichen stopped laughing. He grinned awkwardly and turned his head away, pretending to play dead.

His real father?! Was this his real father?! Was there a father who would undermine his own son like this?

Little Yichen was displeased. He stood sullenly to the side, glowering at his father with a most resentful expression.

Mu Yazhe didn't bother with him, but said, "I'll go get a few more boxes of fireworks. Just wait here."

"Alright..."

The man returned to the warehouse and returned with a few more boxes of fireworks. This time, Little Yichen said he was going to set them off. Mu Yazhe was completely at ease with that, so he handed him the cigarette butt and led Baby Chu away by his hand.

However, Baby Chu wasn't happy about this. He pouted a little reluctantly. "Why can he light the fireworks but I can't?"

"Uh..." Little Yichen laughed. "I'm older than you, so I can set off fireworks."

After hearing what he said, Baby Chu suddenly had an inexplicable yearning to grow up. "It's so good to be grown up and able to light fireworks. I want to grow up quickly too!"

Beside him, a certain man who had already "grown up" said faintly, "When you grow up, you'll feel that you were happiest when you were young."

Baby Chu looked at the speaker, Mu Yazhe, who was sighing with emotion, and corrected him seriously, "I don't think you're a grown up..."

"Oh? What's that?"

"You're an elderly."

The man's face went rigid and slightly ashen.

"Hahahaha!" Little Yichen burst out laughing at that.

"Daddy, he said you're old!"

Mu Yazhe grunted but did not deny it. "I'm old indeed." He was not an immortal. Growing old was inevitable.

"Move aside!" Little Yichen warned Baby Chu, "I'm about to set off the fireworks. Stay away!"

"Oh, oh..." As he stepped back, Baby Chu looked at him with envy and admiration, thinking that when he grew up, he could also set off fireworks as coolly as Little Yichen! How great that would be! If only he could grow up faster!

Chapter 4203: The Other Side 172

"Cheers!" Yun Shishi raised her glass and smiled, her face slightly flushed. Obviously she was getting tipsy. She smiled at Chu He and Gu Jinglian. "Is this considered a make-up honeymoon? If so, make sure you enjoy yourself."

Gu Jinglian smiled and exchanged a glance with Chu He. He raised his hand and flexed his wrist in a suave manner and the goblet in his hand clinked gently against hers.

Mu Yazhe and Hua Jin raised their glasses as well. With a few clinks, several goblets made contact elegantly.

For some reason, with Gu Jinglian's arrogant personality, he would never have put down his pride and taken his drink sitting down. But Yun Shishi had walked over to him and said something to him that made him smile for some reason. Then they sat down and drank together. Hua Jin secretly sighed with emotion, marveling at the woman's ability to endear people to herself.

Unconsciously, the night passed.

Gu Linxi headed off to bed with Baby Chu in his arms, while Natalia and Yueyao grew tired. Little Yichen carried his little sister back to bed, while Youyou and Natalia returned to the villa early.

The entire beach seemed to have fallen silent, save for the sound of the sea breeze.

One could not help but be soothed by the sound of the waves crashing against the shore and the feel of the gentle sea breeze against the skin.

"I haven't enjoyed myself so much in ages!" Yun Shishi exclaimed.

Chu He was puzzled to hear this from her. "You're no longer filming. You should have plenty of time to take a vacation."

"How would that be possible?" Yun Shishi gave her a resigned look. "Yueyao is still young. We can't bear to leave her alone to go on a vacation. We'll be worried. Now that she's a little older, we worry whether she'd be able to adapt if we traveled too far. Children her age tend to be delicate."

Chu He half-joked at that. "Most kids are posh these days. We never had it so good back then, when we were kids."

“Yeah.”

Chu He’s past came back to her. “I remember when I was a child. At that time, I was born into a time of war and civil unrest. The streets were full of marching protests and many of the military forces were exchanging fire. I remember trying to fill my stomach. Hiding from those people, I had to look for bread among the mud to eat. Some of the bread was spoiled, but to fill my stomach, I couldn’t care less. Even when I ate like this, I didn’t get sick. A child today wouldn’t be able to survive it.”

Yun Shishi was not impressed though. “Well, that just goes to show that you have a good constitution. Everyone’s constitution is different. In fact, many children died in those days because of malnutrition or a bad environment. Just that people don’t know about it. It’s happening less nowadays because conditions are better. But the children in the impoverished regions are still struggling to get enough to eat.”

As a result, Yun Shishi had cut back the volume of work after her marriage to place more focus on charity work. She remembered taking part in a charity event once and learning that 1500 yuan would fund a poor student’s living expenses and tuition fees for a year. She then promptly sponsored three thousand poor students.

Many reporters thought that she was being hypocritical and was trying to raise the reputation of the Shengyu Group by doing that. But in fact, this was what Yun Shishi really thought.

The five of them chatted as they enjoyed the sea breeze.

Chapter 4204: The Other Side 173

The five of them chatted as they enjoyed the sea breeze. There was no deliberate search for a topic, nor did they try hard to maintain the atmosphere. Everyone just enjoyed the sea breeze and quietly enjoyed the silence of the night.

Perhaps this was what a vacation should be like, in the purest sense.

The five of them drank in silence, enjoying the sea breeze. It was late before they dispersed.

Yun Shishi wanted to try parasailing. Chu He, on the other hand, wanted to snorkel, so they agreed to meet at the beach first thing in the morning.

!!

Therefore, in the early hours of the morning, Yun Shishi woke up excitedly, applied sunscreen, changed into a swimsuit, and went to the beach. Chu He was already there, waiting.

Yun Shishi was surprised that Chu He was up before her.

Chu He replied, “I got up in the early hours.”

“Why so early?”

“It’s the first time I’ve watched the sunrise from the beach.’

“Sunrise?!” Yun Shishi was instantly envious to hear this! How could she have forgotten?!

She chided the other woman, “Why didn’t you wake me?”

“I don’t have your cell phone number. It would be embarrassing to knock on your door early in the morning and catch the both of you being intimate.” Chu He was a straightforward person. If she had something to say, she would just say it.

Yun Shishi turned red and retorted, “Hey, don’t talk nonsense!”

“What’s wrong with that?”

Chu He got onto her feet and said, “The coach will be here soon. Let’s just wait here for a while.”

Yun Shishi looked at her then, and suddenly realized in surprise that the woman was in a one-piece bathing suit and all wrapped up.

“Why... are you dressed so conservatively?”

Chu He replied, “Eh? What’s wrong with the swimsuit?”

“You’re in great shape. Don’t you think it’s a shame you’re wrapped up so tightly?” As she spoke, she turned to Chu He. “I have an additional bathing suit with me. It’s new and unused. Why don’t you try it on?”

“Try it! I’ve never even seen you show your figure!” Ignoring Chu He’s protests, she took the woman’s hand and led her towards the villa.

Once they were in the villa, she unwrapped the new package in Chu He’s presence, and drew out the new bathing suit.

Chu He saw that it was actually in a floral print!

“Floral print?” She hesitated.

Yun Shishi nodded. “Yes, this is very girly. It’s beautiful! I liked it so much that I bought many of the same in one go. Will you try it?”

Chu He shook her head. “I can’t. It doesn’t suit me...” The swimsuit she was wearing was a solid black one. She only liked such plain styles. The floral print felt too girlish... Chu He shook her head again. “It doesn’t feel right to me.”

As Yun Shishi reached for the woman’s shirt, she muttered, “Wouldn’t it be a shame not to show your good figure?” As she spoke, she lifted Chu He’s clothes. At once, the sculpted lines on Chu He’s abdomen were revealed. When Yun Shishi saw this, she was terrified!

Chu He saw her expression and became uneasy too. “What’s the matter?”

“My god... is that a vest line?”

Chu He looked startled. “I guess you can call it that?”

“Haven’t you had three children...?”

“Yes, indeed.”

“Well then...” Dazed, Yun Shishi asked, “How did you recover so quickly?”

Chu He thought for a moment, and recalled, “I remember the vest line was always there. Even when I was nine months pregnant, the vest line was obvious.”

Chapter 4205: The Other Side 174

Chu He thought for a moment, and recalled, “I remember the vest line was always there. Even when I was nine months pregnant, the vest line was obvious.”

“...” Yun Shishi was dumbstruck for a moment before asking weakly, “Do you usually exercise?”

“No.”

“Then ... how do you keep your figure?”

Chu He replied, “I don’t have much fats on me. Just muscle.”

Comparisons are odious...

Yun Shishi suddenly remembered that she had yet another bathing suit. After rummaging around for a bit, she finally found what she was looking for at the bottom of her suitcase. The bathing suit was white and not overly flowery. It was simple in design. However, it was much sexier than the one before.

“Try this one! I’m sure this will suit you better than what you’re wearing!” she assured Chu He.

“I don’t think...”

“Don’t you trust my judgment!?” Yun Shishi grumbled, “I think this will suit you for sure. Try it on!”

Unable to stop the woman from pestering her, Chu He had no choice but to pick up the bathing suit and walk into the room. A few minutes later, the door opened again. When Chu He walked out in the bathing suit, Yun Shishi’s eyes almost popped out of their sockets!

Good heavens!

Because this swimsuit was in a relatively sexy style, there wasn’t much fabric, and covered only the critical spots. Therefore, the perfectly sculpted lines on Chu He’s body were displayed in full.

The vest line aside, the important thing was that Chu He really didn’t have any excess fats on her body. It was all muscles!

The point was, her muscles didn't look bulky. Instead, the lines were exquisitely firm, especially her oblique muscles that were half-hidden. As she moved, it was breathtakingly enviable to behold...

Chu He began to feel uncomfortable being stared at like that by Yun Shishi. She put her hands on her shoulders to cover herself. Such a bathing suit seemed too revealing for her.

Yun Shishi, however, pushed her hands away. "Stop covering yourself. If you have a good figure, why wouldn't you flaunt it? I'd wake up from my sleep feeling gleeful everyday if I had a body like that!"

Chu He frowned and asked, "Is there a mirror around here?"

"What's the matter?"

"I can't shake the feeling that my butt is completely exposed..." Chu He felt strangely naked.

Yun Shishi shrugged, "That's not the case at all." She pushed Chu He towards the mirror until Chu He caught sight of her reflection and was startled, too.

Behind her, Yun Shishi nagged, "You're a woman. It's only natural for a woman to be vain! I feel that you have such a masculine personality, so you always dress in a very neutral way. Actually, this is called 'sexy', not 'revealing'."

"Like this?"

"You'll get used to it!"

...

Initially, Chu He was too embarrassed to go out. Yun Shishi had to take her hand and force her out of the door.

At this point, Gu Jinglian happened to stroll to the beach. He had just laid out a mat and was about to lie down to bask in the sun when Yun Shishi turned up with Chu He in tow. Gu Jinglian caught a glimpse of them from the corner of his eye and was so shocked that his sunglasses almost fell off.

He sat up abruptly and looked over until he confirmed that the woman he was looking at was indeed his wife, Chu He. Only then did he believe that this woman dressed so sexily was his wife...

Why was she dressed like that? Gu Jinglian's eyes widened. Chu He obviously hadn't realized he was there.

Chapter 4206: The Other Side 175

Chu He obviously hadn't realized he was there.

At this point, the coach in charge of the parasailing activity had arrived and was waiting patiently. When he saw Yun Shishi and Chu He approaching, he took one look and couldn't take his eyes off them, especially when he saw how slender and sexy Chu He was. He almost couldn't breathe.

Although Chu He had not deliberately trained after giving birth, physically she had a good foundation. She had been training since she was young, so she had always maintained a good figure. Therefore, even if she did not deliberately train, her figure was much better than those women who exercised in the gym. Given the intensity of her training in the past, the gym was pure child's play!

Until Yun Shishi glared at him. "Coach, can we begin?"

"Oh, oh..." The coach snapped out of his daze and immediately said in inexpert Chinese, "Okay, okay..."

"If you keep staring like that, you'll stare a hole right through her."

The coach felt even more guilty of course, except that because he worked under the sun all year round, he was tanned and one wouldn't be able to tell if he was blushing.

Yun Shishi whispered to Chu He, "Look, you're dressed so sexily that people can't take their eyes off you!"

Chu He laughed helplessly. She stared at Yun Shishi, overwhelmed with emotion. Other than Meng Qingxue, it seemed, she had no other female friends. Because of the environment she grew up in, she had developed a masculine personality, straightforward and unrestrained. Therefore, it was difficult for her to get along with her delicate female friends. Still, she seemed to get along with Yun Shishi.

Yun Shishi had a gentle nature, which probably accommodated a broad range of personalities. No matter the nature of the other person, she was able to get along harmoniously. And Chu He cherished meeting such a gentle friend.

The coach asked, "Who will be the first to go?"

Chu He immediately said, "I'll go first!" She wasn't sure that the activity was safe. On top of that, she could see that because it was a high-altitude activity, Yun Shishi was obviously nervous and faint-hearted, so Chu He offered to try it first.

The coach took out the safety vest and life jacket and showed Chu He how to put them on properly. Chu He had experience, so she could put them on herself. The coach harnessed himself up as well.

For safety, Chu He gripped both ends of the rope and pulled tightly. Since she was really strong and it didn't snap when she applied pressure, it gave her certainty that the rope was truly safe!

The coach instructed, "When I yell for you to run, start running, understand?!"

"Yes, I understand." Chu He was well trained, so she answered with competence and confidence.

The coach took the radio and directed the speedboat into motion. The rope was slowly pulled into the water. When most of the rope was in the sea, the coach shouted, "Run! Run!"

Clutching the safety catch, Chu He ran towards the sea. By the time she stepped into the water, the sea breeze rushed over her. With a tug from the speedboat, Chu He felt her feet suddenly lift off the ground. She was lifted off her feet by the drag produced by the parachute structure. She flew into the air.

Actually, it wasn't that high. Compared to parachuting from thousands of meters up in the air, like she used to do, these tens of meters were not high at all.

However, Chu He could hear Yun Shishi's cry of surprise!

"Wow! That's high..." Then her voice drowned out and disappeared.

Chapter 4207: The Other Side 176

"Wow! That's high..." Then her voice drowned out and disappeared.

The wind out at sea was strong and there was no cover. The parachute drifted higher with the breeze. The speedboat pulled on the parachute. Chu He looked relaxed. With the sea breeze and her feet high in the air, Chu He didn't feel nervous at all. Instead, she felt free!

She was reminded of the first time she jumped off the helicopter. She had stood in the helicopter and looked at the sky below her. Even though she tried to look calm, she was in fact feeling uneasy and nervous.

Parachuting is never a hundred percent safe. The accident rate is very high. Especially for newbies, if they do not have a good grasp of the essentials, it is easy to fail in the jump. Even if an accident doesn't happen, injuries are likely. Everything else aside, just the state of mind when facing such a high altitude is definitely not something that most ordinary folks can understand.

Yun Shishi was watching this from the water's edge when Gu Jinglian came over to her. "What's this?" he asked in a daze as he saw Chu He drifting away.

"This is parasailing!" Yun Shishi said nervously, "Why do I feel a little scared? It seems high. Chu He's flown so far out. I wonder if she'll be scared?"

Gu Jinglian glanced at her disapprovingly and said, "Scared? What is there to be scared of? She will not be scared."

"How brave of her." Yun Shishi was genuinely impressed. She had seen many brave men, but not one like Chu He, who had no fear of any hardship. She was even braver than most men.

Ten minutes later, in the distance, Yun Shishi could see the parachute slowly descending over the sea. Chu He had fallen into the sea, but because of the life jacket's protection, she was floating.

The coach descended the boarding ladder and tried to reach for her. Instead of grabbing his hand, however, Chu He climbed onto the vessel by herself with ease. Soon, the speedboat was heading at high speed towards the coast.

Yun Shishi and Gu Jinglian heard the speedboat and turned towards the sound. They then saw Chu He standing on the speedboat, giving them a triumphant thumbs-up.

"It's awesome! You must try it!"

When Yun Shishi heard this, she looked again at the high altitude where Chu He had flown, but still felt a lingering fear.

“Isn’t it too high?”

“I don’t think so.”

Compared to skydiving, this was very friendly. As it was an entertainment activity for the general public, the height was something that most ordinary people could handle.

Chu He said to her, “At this height, I don’t need to wear a safety vest. I can grab the safety catch with my bare hands.”

The parachute had a safety catch that required both hands to grip, but most people didn’t have the sort of grip strength required.

The coach wasn’t impressed to hear this. “How is that possible?! You can’t hold on to anything at this altitude. If you fall, you’ll fall dozens of feet beneath the sea. It’s no different from falling from a tall building.”

Yun Shishi laughed too. “Chu He, that’s too dangerous.”

“Really.” Chu He said solemnly, “When I was a new recruit practicing parachuting, there was one time when I didn’t fasten my safety vest properly. It fell off in mid-air. I held on to the safety lock until I landed safely.”

The coach was aghast when he heard this. Not to mention a thousand meters up in the air, even if it were a few thousand meters, it is definitely not easy to grab the safety lock with one’s bare hands.

Chapter 4208: The Other Side 177

If one wanted to perform a forced landing, in addition to amazing arm strength, an amazing grip is also needed. This is something even top Special Forces soldiers would find difficult to do.

And this woman was claiming that she could actually do it?! Besides, he had never seen a woman perform skydiving! Thinking that skydiving was just her personal hobby, the coach said, “Amateur skydiving is different from this.”

“I’m not an amateur.” As she spoke, she turned to Yun Shishi and said, “Don’t worry. With proper safety measures, we’ll be able to take off and land safely.”

However, the coach remained unconvinced. Instead, he said provocatively, “I don’t believe you. If you have the ability, show me!”

Before Chu He could react, Gu Jinglian glared at the man frostily. How dare he provoke her?!

!!

The coach caught a glimpse of Gu Jinglian’s fierce gaze and was taken aback.

Chu He said, however, "Why should I do so?"

Why would she take unnecessary risks just to prove herself? It was not necessary.

The coach lost interest and then said in his half-baked Chinese, "Come on, come on, next one!"

He picked up the life jacket and beckoned Yun Shishi.

Yun Shishi was about to walk up to him, but Chu He held out her hand to stop the woman and said to the coach, "I'll put it on for her!"

Earlier on, when she wasn't paying full attention, the coach had secretly reached for Chu He's chest. Fortunately, she had reacted in time and evaded his move. Fortunately too, Gu Jinglian did not see this. Otherwise, he would have broken the man's arm.

Chu He was worried that Yun Shishi would be taken advantage of, so she took the life jacket from him and said to Yun Shishi, "Let me put it on for you!"

When the coach saw this, he became worried. "No, you can't. You're not professional. If you don't do it right, it would be dangerous for her!"

"I know these things better than you!"

"I'm the coach. I'm responsible for your personal safety." The coach was taking no chances. He had signed an agreement with the hotel. If the tourists who participated in his activities were to be put in danger, he could risk going to jail!

Chu He glared at him. "If I say you're not responsible, then you're not!"

She turned back to Yun Shishi and asked, "Do you trust me or him?"

Chu He thought she would hesitate, but the woman replied immediately, "Of course I trust you."

Chu He was slightly surprised when she heard that, and smiled in relief!

There was a feeling of being trusted! And it was a good feeling.

The coach was reluctant, nevertheless. He didn't know what kind of work Chu He had done in the past or the sort of experience she had, so he didn't believe her at all.

Gu Jinglian, on the other hand, had little patience. He knew that these tasks were child's play to Chu He, who was so determined to take Yun Shishi through the safety precautions because she was genuinely concerned. Hence, he waved off the coach impatiently. "I told you to get lost. Don't interfere. And stop your bullshitting!"

Because of Gu Jinglian's authoritative aura, the coach did not dare to refute. However, he emphasized, "You have to bear the consequences of everything!"

With that, he stepped onto the speedboat and got the ropes and harness organized.

Chu He helped Yun Shishi put on the life jacket, secured the safety harness, and checked it carefully. Seeing how attentive she was, she suddenly lowered her voice. "You're afraid he'll try to be funny with me, aren't you?"

Chapter 4209: The Other Side 178

Chu He looked up in slight surprise, wondering how Yun Shishi could have read her intentions.

She glanced at the coach and said helplessly, "I saw him trying to take advantage of you earlier. You blocked him, didn't you?"

She knew immediately what Chu He was thinking. The woman was afraid she'd be taken advantage of by the coach. However, Chu He was more reserved. She had always gone about her job silently and did not like to flaunt herself.

Yun Shishi was deeply touched!

Chu He said quietly, "It's all right. I've checked and you're nicely secured now."

Then she stepped aside and said to Yun Shishi, "I'll countdown to one. When you hear one, start running. Don't worry about anything but running. Do you understand?"

Yun Shishi nodded gravely. "Got it."

Chu He gestured to the coach. The coach started the speedboat and pulled away. The rope was slowly dragged into the sea. Chu He looked at the moving rope and started counting down.

"Three..."

"Two!"

"One! Run! Run!"

Yun Shishi immediately followed Chu He's instructions and ran as hard as she could. Because she had to hold on to the parachute and she didn't have Chu He's strength, it was difficult for her to run. When she stepped into the sea, she suddenly felt her body float like a hydrogen balloon. She let out a startled cry and immediately felt herself lifting off into the sky.

"Ahhhhh?!" Pale with fear, she shut her eyes, not daring to look at what was going on!

Chu He shouted, "Open your eyes! Look!"

Then, as she rose higher, she could no longer hear Chu He. Finally, she gathered her courage and opened her eyes. When she lowered her head again, she saw that beneath her feet was the vast sea.

The speedboat was riding the wind and waves ahead. The sea breeze filled the parachute and took it higher and higher. Her body floated in the wind!

And then... She saw the beautiful horizon in the distance.

The horizon and the sea seemed to merge into one. It came together so perfectly that she could not even tell with the naked eye where the sea ended and the sky began. Turning her head, she saw that the yachts, the deck chairs on the beach, and the tourists that were gradually becoming smaller and smaller.

The parachute carried her into the public waters. When the tourists below saw her, they shouted and whistled excitedly!

“Wow...!” Yun Shishi took a small breath and finally let it out. What followed was unprecedented relief!

Although the safety rope was almost strangling her, it gave her a great sense of security!

“Ahhhhh!” She shouted loudly, as if to vent, as if to cheer herself! However, her voice quickly disappeared into the roar of the sea breeze!

Excited and nervous from her first attempt at such a high-altitude activity, she followed Chu He’s instructions and gripped the safety lock tightly. Her entire body relaxed and she floated free with the parachute high above the sea.

Ten minutes later, the speedboat docked.

Yun Shishi jumped off of the speedboat in her life jacket and waded back to shore.

Chu He met her and asked gently, “How was the experience? Was it fun?”

“Yes it’s fun!” Yun Shishi clenched her fists tightly, still on edge. “It’s my first time on a ride like this. I’m a little nervous, but...”

Chapter 4210: The Other Side 179

Chu He interrupted her. “But you did very well.”

Her eyes lit up. “Really?!”

“Uh huh.”

“Phew, that’s good!” Yun Shishi patted her chest, still shaken. “Actually, I’m a little afraid of heights.”

“Fear of heights? Er...” Chu He rubbed her head, struggling to understand what “fear of heights” meant. This was because she had never been afraid of heights. The first time she faced the heights, she was standing in a helicopter 2000 meters from the ground and had to jump. No one knew if there would be an accident, or if you’d get out alive.

Still, Yun Shishi was hungry for more, and wanted to do it all over again. But at this point, Little Yichen suddenly rushed over, looking nervous. “Mommy, bad news.”

Disturbed by his intense expression, the woman hurried over to him. “What is it?”

“Natalia has a fever.”

...

Yun Shishi stepped into Natalia’s room.

Natalia lay limply on her side in the huge room. The air conditioner wasn't on despite the heat. She was even wrapped in a thick blanket. Youyou was sitting silently on the edge of the bed, and rose at the sound of footsteps. He looked at her.

"Mommy..."

"What happened to her?" She walked over to the bed and held out her hand, then spotted a glass of water and a couple of pills on the nightstand.

It seemed to be the fever medicine she had brought over.

"What happened?"

The boy frowned. "She seemed to be unwell this morning. She's been lying in bed since, unable to recover. Uncle Hua Jin was a little worried and took her temperature. He found out she had a high fever of 39.8 degrees."

"39.8?!"

Such a high fever?

That was quite a high temperature. Children were not like adults. At this temperature, her condition was very serious.

The boy continued, "Uncle Hua Jin said it might have been a fever brought on by too much sea breeze last night. Natalia seems to be in poor health and prone to illness, so I assume she's caught a cold."

"How did that happen?" Yun Shishi frowned.

Yueyao was even younger than Natalia but the girl was fine. Why was Natalia running a fever?

The sea breeze on the beach last night wasn't that strong. Besides, the weather was so hot here. How could she be running a fever for no reason?

"I wanted to give her some fever medicine, but I don't know what caused the fever, and I can't just medicate her without knowing. So, I went to town and bought some fever patches. If they don't work, we'll have to take her to the hospital."

There were only simple medical facilities in the small town of Saipan. To get to a proper hospital they would have to drive a long way to the center. Given this, Hua Jin thought he'd use a fever patch and a little medicine and then observe the situation. If she got better, they wouldn't have to go to the hospital.

The hospital was not a pleasant place. Natalia didn't like it. In fact, she resented it.

The actor had offered to take Natalia to the hospital, but when the girl heard this, she kicked at the blanket and protested to make a point of her reluctance. She'd refused to get up and go to the hospital with him, so he'd coaxed her into taking her medicine and putting on a fever patch instead. Following that, the girl settled down.

It didn't take long for the actor to buy some children's fever patches and medicine from the clinic and hurry back. He didn't have experience taking care of a sick child and stood by the bed feeling at a loss.
