

Sweet Love 4311

Chapter 4311: The Other Side 280

“How did that happen? Was I dreaming, or...”

“Did it feel as if your soul was outside of your body?”

“I don’t know what it’s like to have an out-of-body experience, but I felt like I was looking at all this from a god’s perspective.”

“That’s exactly it!” Alice snapped her fingers and explained earnestly, “The personality who controlled this body at that point of time was not you.”

“Then ...” Gong Fan was even more incredulous. “Could it be Youyou? Impossible. How could he possibly do something like that?”

“That’s what worries me the most. It wasn’t you, and it couldn’t have been Youyou. So who was controlling the body at the time?”

If one thought about it deeply, it was rather terrifying.

Alice couldn’t come to a conclusion on what had happened in Gong Fan’s body. But there was one thing she could bet her life on... The person holding the knife was not Gong Fan. Could it be...

An extremely frightening thought struck Alice.

She stood up and said to Gong Fan, “Are you willing to trust me for once?”

Gong Fan looked up at Alice and saw her determined expression. “Trust you to do what?”

“Trust that I am able to help you.” Alice said earnestly, “But you need to come back to the Hurricane Group with me. When you do, I’ll design a treatment plan. It can’t wait. You’re not doing well. You have to be treated and monitored as soon as possible.”

“Return to the Hurricane Group with you?”

“Yes. But I’m afraid your mommy won’t agree. She’s been very worried about me taking you away...”

Without waiting for Alice to finish, Gong Fan said firmly, “I’m willing to go back with you.”

Alice was mildly surprised.

“You’re willing to go back with me?”

“However, I have one condition.” Gong Fan suddenly stood up and closed his eyes, as if he had finally made a final decision. “Whatever happens, no matter whether my condition eventually improves or worsens, please... you must save Youyou and destroy me...”

Those words were said almost through clenched teeth.

Alice choked slightly. She didn't know why Gong Fan had made such a decision. Presumably, it was for Youyou's sake and, more importantly, it was for Yun Shishi. However, it was hard to imagine how much courage he had mustered to make such a decision.

Human beings have very strong survival instincts. What kind of pressure did Gong Fan have to bear to have the courage to face death so directly?

The destruction of a personality was like death for an ordinary person. It wasn't as though he was tired of living. On the contrary, he wanted to live and be well.

"It's good to be alive." Gong Fan said honestly, "If I live, I will be able to see the beauty of the world and be with the people I like. However, if my existence is built on someone else's pain, then such an existence is meaningless."

As he spoke, he felt himself choking up. He immediately looked away, his eyes narrowing as he tried to force back the tears that threatened to flow. He clenched his fists. "I'll go back with you, but you must agree to this condition."

"Your mommy will never forgive me for doing this."

"There's a saying... It's better to get it over with. Instead of living in torture, I might as well... get it over with. Whether it's for Youyou, or Mommy, or anyone else, it's a relief, isn't it?"

Chapter 4312: The Other Side 281

Gong Fan smiled self-deprecatingly. "My existence is a mistake in itself. Since it's a mistake, it's better to end this mistake as soon as possible..." After saying those words, he looked down wearily.

He'd tried and struggled, put down his pride and compromise. He meticulously made changes, gave up his pride to win Gong Jie's favor, to win Mu Yazhe's favor, to win Hua Jin's favor, so that everyone would like him as much as they liked Youyou. He ignored his own frail dignity, just to give everyone a reason to keep him. He had curled up inside a shell, clinging to life, for the sake of his own existence in this world, even if it only allowed him to exist one more day, see it one more time.

But, he had now given up. He'd really given up...

Exasperated, Alice put her hand to her forehead. "You're trying to make me completely evil. If I did that, your mommy will never forgive me. I'd be the equivalent of an executioner, killing her most beloved."

Gong Fan gritted his teeth. Never before had he revealed such a vulnerable side to anyone. Only in Alice's presence did he finally show his sadness and disappointment.

Alice knew that whether it was Gong Jie, Mu Yazhe, or Little Yichen, Gong Fan cared too much about them, so he would never be willing to show them this side of him easily. On the other hand, Alice was an outsider. This made it easy for him to set his burden aside.

Her heart ached for him. She walked over and gently wrapped her arms around his shoulders. She lightly rubbed his shoulders, which were shaking violently from the effort of suppressing his own emotions.

“If you want to cry, just go ahead. If you keep holding back, you’d break down even if you were made of steel.”

Gong Fan kept silent, but Alice could faintly hear a few sobs escaping from between his teeth. The more he held back, the more Alice felt sorry for him. Fortunately, Yun Shishi wasn’t here. Otherwise, her heart would have been completely broken for the boy!

In the end, Gong Fan didn’t bawl. He tightly gripped the corner of Alice’s shirt and suppressed his own sadness.

“Just promise me ...” His voice was grim. “I don’t want to be a burden to Youyou again. It would be best for everyone if I disappeared.”

Alice’s lips tightened with a complicated expression, and she finally managed to nod. “Looks like I’ll have to play the devil again?”

“What? You want to take Gong Fan away?” Gong Jie refused Alice without thinking twice. “Impossible!” he said firmly, “I won’t let you take him away.”

“Please, just get one thing straight. I’m not taking him away. The boy wishes to come with me.”

The man looked bewildered and was stumped.

“It doesn’t matter to me. You can convince your nephew yourself! Besides, in his current situation, what’s the benefit of staying with you? This is like a cancer patient who doesn’t want to go to a proper healthcare facility and insists on staying at home. Is it useful? Do you think keeping him around is the best way to protect him?”

Alice’s sharp words left Gong Jie speechless.

“Since we’ve come to this point and the incident has already happened, why don’t you let me take him back to the Hurricane Group with me? Besides, Gong Fan wants to come with me. Are you worried that I’ll abandon him halfway and feed him to the sharks? I’m not a flood beast, I’m a doctor, hmm? Don’t you trust me?”

Chapter 4313: The Other Side 282

Gong Jie remained silent.

Now that Yun Shishi was still unconscious, he couldn’t make a decision on his own whether to let Alice take Gong Fan away. That was the problem. He too felt that if Gong Fan could return to the Hurricane Group with Alice, it might be a good choice for the boy. But it was not a decision he could make.

"If Shishi wakes up and finds Gong Fan gone, she'll go nuts."

Alice was silent for a moment. She put her hand to her forehead. "Why do I feel like she's the one who's really dependent?"

Gong Jie was stunned by the remark.

Alice continued, "She used to say that the boy was so dependent on her. In my opinion, on the contrary, she seems more dependent on him. Their mother-and-son relationship is in a kind of impasse. The boy relies on her only because she needs him, and she relies on him out of guilt and out of her mother's love. But more than that, she is used to this inseparable relationship between mother and son. In protecting him she achieves a sense of satisfaction for herself. At the end of the day, don't you think such dependence is morbid? She can protect the boy for a while, but can she protect him forever?"

Gong Jie was speechless for a moment. "She just cares too much."

"If she cares too much, it will become a sickness. That won't do. If she continues to rely on the boy, will she be unable to live without him in the future? At the end of the day, the child, whether it's Youyou or Little Yichen, is just a passing visitor in her life. Neither of them is her life partner. Her life partner is Mu Yazhe. They're the married couple. It's their lives that are tied together as one."

Gong Jie finally spoke up at that. "I agree too. She's too dependent on Youyou, overly concerned, whether it's out of protectiveness or heartache, but..."

"But this is not permanent." Alice chimed in. "It might not be good for Youyou to stay here. For one thing, the inability to monitor his physical condition, including his mental state, is detrimental. If he comes back to the Hurricane Group with me, it might greatly improve the situation."

The man nodded in agreement. "Aye, aye. How about this... You discuss it with Mu Yazhe, and if he agrees, you're free to take the boy with you."

"Uh huh..." Alice stood up and said, "Got it."

Alice went of her own accord to discuss the matter with Mu Yazhe. The man listened with less resistance than Alice had expected. The difference, where it came to him, was that while he loved the boy, he was not as dependent on him as Yun Shishi was.

On the contrary, he thought it would be a good idea for both Youyou and Gong Fan to go back to Hurricane with Alice. "You can take him."

Alice was surprised when he agreed. "I thought you'd disagree."

"Why would I disagree?"

"Because..."

"Because I think you might erase his memory again?"

Alice made no comment.

“First of all, other factors aside, it was on Gong Shaoying’s order that you erased his memories, right? You couldn’t oppose him and could only follow the given order.”

“Yes.”

“But Gong Shaoying won’t order you around like that now. What else do I have to worry about?”

Chapter 4314: The Other Side 283

Mu Yazhe grinned broadly. “In that case, why should I worry?”

“Although, besides the boy, I have to take someone else with me.”

“Who?” He eyed her.

Alice looked around the room, her eyes finally settling on the actor.

Hua Jin suddenly felt uneasy.

“Natalia.”

The actor felt strangely uncomfortable upon hearing this. “Do you have to take her with you?”

“Yes, I must.” Alice said matter-of-factly, “The boy’s condition was stable to begin with. However, the recent changes in the boy’s condition are indelibly linked to Natalia. I suspect... it has something to do with Natalia that Gong Fan has become like this. Therefore, I must take her with me.”

The actor listened, then nodded reluctantly. “You can take her with you. I can’t interfere. But I have to make one thing clear. May I come back to Hurricane with you?”

“You wish to come with me to the Hurricane Group?” Alice glanced at him rather speechlessly. “That’s no place for you.”

“Why?”

“You won’t be used to it.”

“There’s nothing to get used to! I’ll go back with you, and I can help take care of the two little ones. Natalia will feel more at ease with me!”

“I mean ...” Alice leaned closer to him. “Are you sure you want to come back with me? I thought you’re afraid of Gong Jie?” In other words, he was heading straight for the Devil’s Den.

The actor suddenly realized that Gong Jie returned to the Hurricane Group every other day. If that was the case, he would have to face the Demon King every so often.

The actor’s lips twitched for a long time before he finally forced himself to say, “It’s okay. I... I’m okay.”

“Fine. In that case, go home and get packed now. We’ll fly back to the Hurricane Group in the morning.”

“Alright.” The actor immediately took a taxi back to the villa and packed his suitcase.

At night.

Yun Shishi finally made it through the post-operative infection phase. Once it was past this critical stage, she was allowed visitors.

Gong Fan suggested that he wished to see his mother and bid her farewell before leaving. However, Little Yichen was worried, so with his father’s permission, he watched over things at the entrance of the ward.

Gong Jie knew very well that Little Yichen was worried that Gong Fan would go crazy again, but the latter was not annoyed at all. After watching the footage himself, he understood that he was now an absolute danger. It was not unreasonable for Little Yichen to be so wary of him.

Little Yichen was surprised enough that Gong Jie had agreed to let Gong Fan into the ward.

After Gong Fan entered the ward, Little Yichen warned him in a low voice, “I’m warning you not to play any tricks. Even if I’m so far away from you, I absolutely have the ability to take you down in three seconds.”

Gong Fan took a deep breath and suddenly smiled. “Got it.”

Little Yichen had expected Gong Fan to flare up, but was instead surprised by the boy’s calm demeanor. However, he didn’t say anything. He only leaned against the door, his gaze never leaving Gong Fan’s back.

Gong Fan walked to the bed and sat down beside it. The temperature in the ward was moderate. He sat in his chair and stared at Yun Shishi in silence.

At this point, Yun Shishi hadn’t woken up. In fact, she’d been awake for a short time once after the surgery, just after the anesthesia had worn off. She’d woken up in a cold sweat from the pain. The nurse had rushed over, changed the dressing, and given her an analgesic pump. She’d drifted back to sleep afterwards.

Chapter 4315: Chapter 284

Mu Yazhe had instructed them not to wake her. Now that the wound had just been sutured, she finally fell asleep after using an analgesic pump.

Gong Fan couldn’t bear to wake her up in any case, so he only watched over her quietly. He took her hand gently and placed his face against it, greedily absorbing the warmth. He wondered if this would be the last time he’d hold her hand.

Now, every second that passed was precious to him.

“Why are you packing?” Natalia watched the actor bustle about, puzzled. “Are you going on a trip?”

The actor snapped the packed suitcase shut and replied, “Not me. We.”

Natalia was surprised. “We? Are we going somewhere for a holiday?”

“No.” Hua Jin didn’t know how to explain. Natalia was far too sensitive. If he were to tell her that she needed to return to Hurricane Group for treatment, she’d be repulsed. He was well aware, from experience, that Natalia despised anyone who stayed close to her for the sake of monitoring her.

For example, whether Natalia or Natalisa, neither of them had grown accustomed to Alice. Natalia had solemnly insisted that she was not a patient. Hence Hua Jin did not know how to explain this to the girl.

Natalia just stared at him. Finally, she sighed. “It’s because of my health, isn’t it?”

“You...” The actor was amazed at her sensitivity. She was more sensitive than he had thought!

“Actually, I know all about it. I’m not like other kids.” Looking a little forlorn, Natalia stepped aside. “Apart from the fact that I don’t have a mother or father,” she said sadly, “I’m well aware that I’m different from other children. Professor Romanka once said there are other personalities inhabiting my body.”

Hua Jin said, “You used to hate it when people said you were sick.”

“Well, because I don’t feel like I’m sick. I feel like they’re all after me, and I hate those people.”

As he listened, the actor wondered if Natalia was referring to the doctors and nurses at Michel Hospital.

“I hate them. I especially hate being in that unfeeling place. I feel like they’re looking at me as though I’m an emotionless corpse,” Natalia said, turning to face him with a softer gaze. “But you’re different. If you say I’m sick, then I believe I am.”

“You’re... willing to trust me?” The actor looked incredulous.

Natalia had such a fragile sense of trust. From the first moment he’d seen her, especially when she’d looked at him with extreme trepidation, he knew the child was insecure.

“I know I have a big sister. Her name is Natalisa. The professor told me. But I also know that she’s not actually my big sister. Her existence is just another me.”

The actor was taken aback to hear this. “What else did the professor tell you?”

“One time, in a dream, I saw someone who looked exactly like me. After that day, I often dreamed of her. I found it strange that she kept appearing in my dreams. Later, I told the professor and he comforted me by saying that it was my sister, Natalisa.”

Chapter 4316: The Other Side 285

“He told you then that she was your big sister, so you believed him?”

“Yeah. Later, though, I began to doubt what he said.”

“Why?”

“Back then, people treated me like a sick person. I hated getting those looks, but gradually, I realized I was really sick. Sometimes, I’d sleep for a long, long time. When I was asleep, there’d be entries made in my diary. When I woke up, the calendar would have been turned to the next page. Sometimes, I couldn’t even tell if I was in a dream or reality. I’d feel as if my body was occupied by another person, and that person was Natalisa.”

Natalia was a child, after all. Her ability to organize her words was not superb, but it was also clear from what she said that she had many questions about the state of her being.

“I actually sensed that something was wrong with me a long time ago. I even realized that the professor used me as an experimental subject.”

“An experimental subject?”

“Uh huh. He seemed to be experimenting on me.” Natalia added, “So, when Alice wanted to take me with her, I resisted for a while because I thought the both of them belonged to the same camp! I thought she must have wanted to take me with her so that she could use me for experiments too.”

The actor had gleaned many crucial clues from her words. “Wait. You said you suspected the professor was experimenting on you. How did you come to that conclusion?”

Natalia turned to the actor, her eyes flashing. He could see that she was weighing her options, evaluating whether she should believe him. Trust did not come easily for her. She must be struggling within, whether to trust him. He started to get nervous. Just when he suspected Natalia would never trust him enough to tell her everything, she sighed.

“I trust you. So, I’ll tell you what I know. I’ll tell you all my secrets. You’re not to tell them to anyone!”

“Uh huh!”

Natalia began to relate her story.

It turned out that Alice and Hua Jin weren’t the only ones who had discovered the secret on the calendar. Even Natalia had.

She had the habit of keeping a diary. But, unlike the others, she didn’t enjoy keeping a journal. She used her diary to record the times that she occupied the body. Sometimes, she would mark her bedside with a floral sticker. Other times, she would secretly write the day’s events and dates on the floor under her bed. It was an extremely hidden corner that few people would notice.

Later, she concluded, she would sometimes fall asleep for three or four days in a row. And when she was asleep, the calendar was always marked with a circle.

Every day, Professor Romanka would come to her room to look through the calendar.

She couldn’t help but suspect that this change in her body had something to do with Professor Romanka. At one point, Natalia tried a sneaky trick. She dug through the drawer and found an identical calendar. When she woke up, she secretly changed the calendar and circled the day's date with a marker.

She realized that perhaps there were two versions of herself in her body. One was her immediate self, and the other was perhaps beyond even her own control. So, pretending that it was Natalisa who had woken up, she checked the reaction of those around her.

Chapter 4317: The Other Side 286

Hua Jin sucked his breath in sharply at that. He hadn't expected Natalia to be so astute as to tamper with the calendar.

This would mean...

During the period that Alice was observing her, there could have been times that it was her and not Natalisa who had woken up and marked the calendar?

He was afraid to ask. Because the moment he asked, Natalia would know about the surveillance. So... Natalia would misunderstand them and think they had some sort of ulterior motive.

"On that day, after I'd replaced the diary, I went out on the balcony to sunbathe. At 9am, the professor came into the room and, as usual, went to the desk to look through the calendar. After that, he came out on the balcony, but it wasn't my name he called out to.

"Natalisa?"

"Yes. He called me Natalisa." Natalia narrowed her eyes. "I suddenly sensed there was a connection between the professor and Natalisa."

The actor listened, intrigued. "What happened in the end?"

"I pretended to be very calm. He called me Natalisa, so I pretended to be Natalisa. He said he wanted to continue his previous homework, so I followed him to a laboratory. In that laboratory, another strange man appeared and taught me some very strange things."

"What did he teach you?"

"Hypnosis?"

Natalia raised her eyebrows in confusion. "I think that's the term. I think it was called hypnosis!"

"Did the man have a crystal ball?"

Natalia shook her head at that. "No."

"No? What did he use then?"

"You know the device used to keep time when playing the piano?"

"I do. A metronome. Did he only use a metronome?"

“No. There was also a clock.”

“A clock?”

“Uh huh...”

Natalia continued, “He began to teach me to experiment. I remember, at the time, he summoned an assistant to his side and began to show me what hypnosis was. He first placed a metronome in front of his assistant. Immediately after that, he gave a long speech. After a few minutes, the assistant was obviously drowsy, so he gently moved the needle...”

“And then the assistant lost consciousness?”

“No. Instead, his eyes widened even more.”

The actor’s jaw dropped. Wasn’t she talking about hypnosis? Why was it so different from what he’d imagined?

Natalia explained, “The assistant’s eyes widened. Then the man started questioning him about what had happened in the past two days. Then the man told him that what had happened in the last two days was nothing more than a dream, and then at the count of three, he would forget all that had happened during that time. After that, he started the countdown. At the end of that, with a snap of his fingers, the man went limp and passed out.”

He was impressed. “So that’s how real hypnosis works?”

“I can’t remember the details. I also felt muddle-headed and scared that day. I kept worrying about my identity being exposed. Actually, I wasn’t sure if the professor really believed that I was Natalisa. I always felt that my acting was poor. I was afraid that he would recognize me, so I was always careful.”

“What happened in the end?”

“I had lessons all day.” After a pause, Natalia continued, “I just had this nagging feeling that the professor was acting strangely towards me that day.”

Chapter 4318: The Other Side 287

“I had a nagging feeling that the professor’s attitude towards me that day was very strange. In the past, he was always gentle towards me, but towards Natalisa, he was condescending, as if he was the one who created her.”

The actor understood. Natalia might not know this, but Hua Jin did. He’d heard from Alice that it was Professor Romanka who had created a second personality in Natalia’s body. Naturally so, it was this way.

Natalia continued, “Professor Romanka was very fierce. His attitude towards me was different from before. Anyway, it just felt rather strange.”

As she spoke, she subconsciously shrank back her shoulders. Clearly, that terrifying side of Professor Romanka still haunted her.

Hua Jin's heart ached as he hugged her. "Alright, don't be afraid. I'll protect you from now on. I won't allow you to be hurt again!"

Natalia nodded and put her arms around him.

"Now, I'm going to take you to Hurricane Group. Are you willing to come with me?" Immediately, he raised his hand and swore, "I will never hurt you. I will protect you with my life..."

"Pfft!" Natalia laughed out loud before Hua Jin could finish his oath. "Why do you make such an oath? It reminds me of those actors in television dramas. Haha!"

The actor grimaced in embarrassment.

Natalia added, "Don't worry. Since I'm willing to go with you to the Hurricane Group, I won't suspect you of anything."

Just as Hua Jin finished packing, Alice called to inform that the private jet would be landing at Huashan Airport. Hence, they arranged to meet there.

Mu Yazhe also instructed one of the servants to pack Gong Fan's suitcase, so that the butler could drop it off at the hospital. Gong Fan was still in the ward, watching over Yun Shishi.

Gong Jie walked to the ward entrance and gently tapped on the jamb. "Time to go. The plane will pick you up in half an hour."

Gong Fan heard him, but acted as if he did not. He continued to sit by the bed, his yearning for his mother growing as he nuzzled against the back of her hand.

Previously, he might not have felt anything. Now, when Gong Jie mentioned that it was time to leave, he was consumed by the sadness in his heart.

"Mommy, I'm sorry..." He tightened his grip on her hand in frustration, and tears of grief rolled down his cheeks.

Little Yichen saw this and froze. He rarely saw Gong Fan cry. In his mind, Gong Fan was an extremely stubborn person. No matter the situation, he rarely shed tears. This was the first time he had seen the boy cry.

Little Yichen's heart softened. He walked over and gently placed his hand on Gong Fan's shoulder, his tone softening. "Stop crying now!"

He couldn't bear to see Gong Fan's tears.

Gong Fan looked up and finally stood up. He said seriously, "Please take good care of Mommy while I'm not around."

"You don't have to tell me that. I'll definitely take good care of Mommy. It's my mission!"

Gong Fan took a deep breath and turned around. He looked down at Yun Shishi wistfully, then bent down and gently kissed her forehead.

“Mommy, I’m leaving...” He lowered his voice, but in the next moment, as he was about to pull away, he saw a tear roll down her cheek.

Gong Fan’s heart ached even more when he saw this.

Chapter 4319: The Other Side 288

Gong Fan’s heart ached even more when he saw this.

He didn’t know why she would be crying in her sleep. Could she have heard him even though when she was unconscious?

Gong Fan couldn’t bear to leave her, so he said, “Mommy, don’t worry. Wait for me to come home, okay?”

Gong Jie pursed his lips. He could not bear to watch such a scene. He raised his wrist and looked at his watch. It was getting late. “Let’s go,” he said immediately. “Let’s not waste time! It’s not like anyone’s dying.”

Gong Fan gritted his teeth and steeled his heart. Without looking at Yun Shishi again, he hurried out the door.

Lisa turned up just as Gong Fan stepped out of the ward. She had come to the hospital in a hurry and now saw Gong Fan with his bloodshot eyes. She frowned, not knowing what had happened.

On the way here, she had only been told very vaguely what had happened, through the butler’s and Mu Yazhe’s phone calls, but there had been no details. She did not believe that Gong Fan would stab Yun Shishi! There must have been some misunderstanding! “What happened?”

Gong Jie saw Lisa, but he didn’t have time to explain anything. He lowered his voice and said, “Gong Fan’s condition has worsened. Alice has proposed taking him back to Hurricane for treatment with Natalia.”

“Back to the Hurricane Group?” Hearing this, Lisa immediately walked up to Gong Fan and said to him, “I’ll go back with you!”

“What?” When Little Yichen heard this, he immediately came out of the ward. “Are you going back with him?”

“Yes! I’m his death guard. I have to protect him.”

“What danger could there be in returning to the Hurricane Group?” the boy objected.

Lisa immediately replied, “If I had stayed by Gong Fan’s side, this wouldn’t have happened!”

Little Yichen was speechless. He did not want Lisa to make the trip with Gong Fan. After all, Gong Fan was a dangerous person now. If Lisa stayed by his side, it might put her in danger.

Like Yun Shishi, Lisa was absolutely close to Youyou and Gong Fan, perhaps even blindly trusting him. But that attitude only made the situation more dangerous.

Lisa turned and gave Little Yichen a long look. "So, do you suspect that Gong Fan was behind this?"

Little Yichen winced. The hesitation Lisa saw in his eyes completely infuriated her.

"Bastard!" She looked so livid that she clenched her fists, drew it back and delivered a solid punch to his face.

"He's your little brother. It's okay if other people didn't believe him, but you, of all people, can't not believe him! You actually doubt your own little brother. Little Yichen, you're too much!"

The boy took a few steps back and gently touched his cheek, but he turned pale at Lisa's words.

He was already silently vexed just then, realizing he had been too harsh on Gong Fan earlier. Now, Lisa's words only made him even more regretful. "I'm sorry..."

"You don't have to apologize to me! You should be apologizing to Gong Fan!"

Lisa went up to Gong Fan and grabbed his hand. "Let's go!"

Before Gong Fan could make sense of what was going on, Lisa led him away.

Confused, he asked, "What are you doing?"

"I'm coming with you to the Hurricane Group."

Gong Fan sighed. "You're too impulsive. This matter has nothing to do with him."

"I know. But, if I were him, I'd absolutely believe you!"

Chapter 4320: The Other Side 289

"I'm coming with you. No matter what, I have to ensure your safety."

Although Youyou had told her that they were no longer master and servant, in Lisa's mind, if Gong Fan or Youyou's life were in danger, she would risk her own to protect them without hesitating!

Gong Fan did not take to the suggestion. "You don't have to come back with me. Just stay here."

"No way." Lisa was adamant. "I'm going back with you. No matter what, I will never leave you alone from now on."

For some reason, Little Yichen felt a little upset when he heard this.

He said to Gong Fan, "If she wants to go back with you, let her guard you! Otherwise, she won't be at ease staying here."

Gong Fan couldn't refute him, so he nodded lightly.

Huashan Airport.

The Hurricane Group's private jet had been waiting on the tarmac. Gong Jie had arrived with Gong Fan and Lisa.

Initially, Mu Yazhe had wanted to come, but Gong Jie suggested that he stayed in the hospital to watch over Yun Shishi. If he really couldn't bear to part with Gong Fan, they could fly to the Hurricane Group to visit when she recovered.

Mu Yazhe agreed.

Before leaving, he pulled Gong Fan aside and squatted in front of him. Seeming a little distressed, he asked, "Do you... hate Daddy?"

Gong Fan was puzzled and turned his head slightly. "Why should I hate you?"

"Because..."

"Because you don't believe me? And you allow them to take me back to the Hurricane Group?"

"..."

"Daddy..." Gong Fan hugged him gently.

The man was rather taken aback. It was an extremely rare move for Gong Fan, taking the initiative to hug him.

"There's something I've never said to you." As Gong Fan spoke, there was a hint of loneliness in his gaze. He wondered if this might be the last time he had a chance to say this. Therefore, he had to seize this last opportunity to make the confession. "Daddy, I love you."

Mu Yazhe felt a lot of emotions when he heard this. He could not help but hug Gong Fan tightly, unwilling to let go for a long time.

At this point, Hua Jin arrived at the airport with Natalia and successfully met up with Gong Jie.

The actor asked suspiciously, "Are you coming back to the Hurricane Group with us?"

"Why?!" Gong Jie raised an eyebrow. "Do you object?"

"Am I allowed to object?"

"Do you dare object?"

"I don't."

"Uh-huh." Gong Jie said, "The plane won't be able to land on Hurricane Group's private tarmac without me."

"Isn't Alice here?"

“Only Gong Shaoying and I have landing authority for the Hurricane Group’s private tarmac.”

The actor had nothing more to say. The boarding went on smoothly. Soon the flight path was approved as well.

The plane took off on time.

On the plane, Lisa sat close to Gong Fan. Before boarding, Alice secretly handed her a pair of handcuffs and instructed her to take action immediately if she were to sense anything wrong with Gong Fan.

Lisa didn’t understand at first. However, Alice said solemnly, “Now, I suspect that another personality might appear in Gong Fan’s body. This personality is not Gong Fan or Youyou. It’s an absolutely dangerous personality. Since you’re going to be accompanying him now, you have to be vigilant at all times. You may not sleep on the plane. You have to watch him until we land. Do you understand?”

“I understand.” Even if Lisa was reluctant, she had to obey unconditionally, since Alice had given instructions.
