

Sweet Love 931

Chapter 931: Just like a koala!

"You're not allowed to do so." He sat by the bed and refused her at once.

She frowned. "Why?"

"You're already so skinny; if you slim down some more, won't you be just a stick figure?"

She pitifully whined, "I'll look better if I'm slimmer – more photogenic, too!"

"So what?"

Hugging her would feel painfully empty.

It was better for her to be a little chubbier, or else she would never fill his embrace.

She commented, "I think I gained some weight recently. Hmph. Say; if I gain more weight, won't I be a pig already?"

The man bluntly replied, "You don't have to wait till then; you're already as stupid as a pig."

She felt very hurt by his statement, as if tens of thousands of arrows had pierced through her heart.

The lights in the bedroom suddenly went out, and he covered the both of them with the quilt.

She was startled, unable to see anything clearly in the dark.

She had a severe case of nutrition loss from a young age, resulting in her severe night blindness; thus, she was afraid of the dark.

It was also from a young age that she stayed alone at home, faced the darkness alone, and hid under the blanket alone; hence, she developed a bad sleeping habit.

n(ovelbin[.]nEt

She groped around in the direction of the man. "Hey, Mu Yazhe... you..."

Her hand was suddenly held tightly by a big, warm hand. With a pull, she was drawn into his arms and spacious chest.

From overhead came his faint voice. "I'm here. Behave when you sleep!"

"Don't I behave when I sleep?!" she argued.

"Your sleeping posture is ungraceful, just like a koala."

Yun Shishi: "..."

The man pulled her more securely into his embrace and locked his arms around her. "Let's sleep!"

She blushed as she mumbled something before lightly shutting her eyes. She fell asleep soon after.

Lightly caressing her silky hair, he pouted his lips and gave her a light peck on the forehead.

She deliberately woke up early the next day. As he was still sleeping, she covered him with the quilt properly. She let him sleep in a little longer since it was rare for him to be on leave.

Treading lightly into the bathroom, she washed up and got dressed to head to the production site.

Before leaving, she checked her phone and saw missed calls from unknown numbers. She pursed her lips at this but did not return the calls as she was rushing to the production site; thus, the calls went unanswered.

After that elevator scare, Mu Xi exposed that hotel on the Internet; following which, it evoked a massive outrage among the netizens.

It then got revealed that the hotel would often receive obscene little cards; its privacy was not secured and so on.

As the hotel was a part of an express hotel chain, the CEO of this hotel specially opened a Weibo page to apologize for the matter, but it still could not calm the fury of the netizens.

What a joke! Gu Xingze and Yun Shishi were trapped in the elevator, and the video of it was still posted online.

It caused the fans of the two to join hands in the siege.

In short... the hotel suffered from terrible consequences.

How the hotel manager wished he could beg for mercy on his knees?! Only after a while did the matter die down, but of course, this was a story for another day.

Fully focusing on filming again after adjustment, Yun Shishi's condition resumed its best.

That day, she received a mysterious gift; it was a Mercedes Benz nanny van.

When her manager passed the set of keys to her, she got startled for a bit. "What is this?"

"Guess!"

She carefully looked at the Benz logo on the keys and asked doubtfully, "A Benz?"

"Well, yes," he said, "a nanny van."

"So generous?" She laughed. "Boss Qin, how extravagant of you!"

Chapter 932: Du Jiayan comes knocking at the door.

"I can't afford such an exorbitant gift."

"Who can that be, then?"

Her manager gave her a side-eye; his gaze was covert.

She carefully tested. "Mu Yazhe?"

“Other than that person, who else can it be?”

“It... doesn’t seem right for me to accept this.” She felt a little hesitant.

In the production team, Yang Mi and Gu Xingze had nanny vans. Owning a nanny van seemed to be a symbol of status for celebrities in the industry.

With a nanny van, she could rest inside for a while after filming.

Yan Bingqing had one, too, yet she still wanted to fight with her for the waiting room.

However, owning a nanny van when she had just debuted recently would inevitably invite gossip.

“What are you afraid of? Whoever dares to gossip about you will be banned.”

She was tickled pink by his bold and generous manner.

He, then, simply explained to her for a bit.

Her man apparently was worried that she would feel tired from filming and be unable to rest properly; thus, he bought her a nanny van.

The nanny van was a recreational vehicle (RV).

The car was parked at the production site’s carpark.

Qin Zhou brought her to look at it. The interior of the nanny van was luxurious and had amenities like the washroom, dining room, TV, audiovisual, refrigerator, vanity table, and so on.

Although there was not much expression on her face, her heart was filled with sweetness!

The man was actually so thoughtful and worried about her tiring from filming.

When she finished filming in the afternoon, Mu Xi told her that there were people waiting for her outside.

“Who are they?”

Shaking her head, her assistant replied, “I don’t know them; it’s a man and a woman. They couldn’t enter the production site, so they got someone to pass the message of them having an urgent matter to discuss with you.”

Her filming had ended as well. She thought, It must be important if they went all the way to here to look for me.

Walking out of the set, she spotted Du Jiayan and Huang Lili standing at the entrance from afar. They immediately schooled their faces into a flattering look upon seeing her.

Their overly sycophantic smiles were meant to curry favor with her.

The woman promptly stepped forward to receive her, first, by handing a bottle of lemonade and, second, by rubbing her palms together. “Shishi... You must be tired from filming; do drink some lemonade first!”

Looking down, she eyed the bottle in her hand and felt a little startled.

This bottle of drink was of a good brand and was especially expensive, costing a lot per bottle. It was obvious that she was fawning on her!

Still, one who was unaccountably solicitous had to be hiding evil intentions, no?

Hence, without further looking at it, she dumped it in the trash bin and blandly said, "I'm sorry; I'm afraid that it's poisoned."

The smile on the other woman's face faltered, but she only laughed in the end. "Look at you! What are you saying? How can there be poison in the drink? Shishi, you really love to joke!"

"Why did you two find your way here?"

She was a little wary of them.

Ever since the last class reunion, she had received many text messages from her former classmates. She joined their WeChat group out of courtesy; Huang Lili had been kicked out of it. Regarding the happenings on that day, everyone had a tacit agreement not to mention it. All were acting overly friendly toward her.

It's probably about what happened that day! she guessed.

With an anxious face and awkward laughter, Du Jiayan came forward, too. "Shishi, I'm sorry for disturbing you. Please don't be offended. This isn't a place for us to chat; why don't we move this talk to a quiet place?"

Chapter 933: A Favor from Her

Yun Shishi was on guard. "What do you two want? Is it something you can't say here?"

She felt that these two had ill-intentions!

Du Jiayan, in particular, had previously treated her so condescendingly, yet now he was being overly passionate. His flattering tone only made her warier of him.

"Don't worry. We have no other intentions. Don't think too much!" Huang Lili softly assured.

"Actually, you probably know why I am here; it's about my family's matter."

"I know nothing," she said. "I doubt it's anything related to me. I have filming later, so I'll take my leave now."

With that, she turned to leave.

Panicking, he scrambled to stop her, and in his hurry, he grabbed her arm.

She felt scalded in the spot he touched and rushed to shake off his hand. "What are you doing? Groping me!"

"I'm sorry for the offense!" He had an ingratiating smile. "Shishi, I heard from the crew that you're done filming for the day!"

Earlier, when he had rushed to the production team, he had given a few cigarettes to the security personnel at the entrance of the set. Through chatting with them, he learned that her filming was done. Only then did he dare look for her.

Her eyes narrowed. Something must have happened for them to act like this.

Considering that it was still broad daylight and that they were at the entrance of the set, she doubted that they could do anything to her. Hence, she said, "I'm a busy person. Be explicit with what you want now."

"Shall we look for a quiet place?"

"Follow me."

She turned and walked toward the RV.

The couple exchanged glances before closely trailing after her. Huang Lili was envious at the sight of her entering an RV.

What a grand RV!

This car must've cost millions, no?

She was absolutely green with envy. Yun Shishi was no longer her past self!

There could be no comparison between people.

Looking at Du Jiayan beside her and then thinking of Mu Yazhe whom she had seen that day, how could there be such a big difference between the two boyfriends?

On second thought, Yun Shishi was in showbiz. The rich were very particular about backgrounds, so what that guy had with an actress like her was probably a temporary fling.

Could she actually marry into a wealthy family and climb up the social ladder?

The rich despised entertainers the most.

With this thought in mind, she followed her boyfriend into the RV.

Yun Shishi poured them each a cup of drink. Once they were seated, she went straight to the point. "Say whatever there is to say; no need to beat around the bush."

Naturally, he was most welcoming of her words, so he spoke openly. "Well, the class gathering that day... You know it, too! We've got some misunderstanding."

"What misunderstanding?" She lifted a brow.

"Anyway, no matter what misunderstanding there is, it's all over already, right? Shishi, I didn't mean to offend you. You may call me blind or say that I unfairly judged a noble person with my despicable mind!"

The matter is already over, right? Isn't it good to let the past be gone?" He spoke with a sincere tone and a reverent face.

She was, however, baffled by his words. "Is there anything you can't say clearly? I really don't understand what you're saying!"

"Well, my father is a rather well-known engineering contractor in the capital. Recently, we've been commissioned by the Mu Group's real estate companies to handle several projects, but a few days ago, they recalled everything from my father! Not only that, they seem to have intentions of banning my father in the real estate agency..."

Chapter 934: Mu Group's Methods!

He recounted the entire matter in detail to her.

It turned out that Mu Yazhe was offended by the things the two had said and done during the class reunion that day.

He did not verbalize it because, in his eyes, such lowly people were unworthy of him opening his mouth to condemn!

Using the simplest example, would one bite back at a mad dog on a roadside for barking at them?

Just because he did not say it aloud did not mean that he would let them off easily!

He was very unhappy with their words and actions!

Since he was unhappy, he must do something to upset them as well!

His character was like this; composed on the outside, but on the inside, a finger of his was enough to crush Du family's business!

He did not know what methods Mu Yazhe had used, but after that day, all the Mu Group projects being handled by the Du family were recanted.

The handling of those projects was termed as a 'collaboration' between the two parties in the contract. The Mu family's action was clearly a breach of contract, but the Du family could sue them for it.

In any case, he he... Did he dare?!

The authority of the Mu Group was more than enough to conceal the truth; where could he go to sue them?

Be it the police or triads, officialdom, political field or even the Supreme Court, the Mu family had people all over the place.

Even though they had openly breached the contract in his face, how would Du Boxiong dare to sue them?

He did not even dare to let out a fart.

Let them cancel it, then! He still had other projects on hand.

Although those were highly profitable, his son having offended Mu Yazhe, he could only accept his abject fate. He was very unwilling, however!

What else could he do, though? Could he actually go against the Mu family?

Little did he expect that things were not that simple.

The methods of this man, who had always been ruthless, were carried out vigorously and speedily. Once determined to do something, he would not give up until the person was driven to desperation!

The next day, Du Boxiong received news that the boss of a business partner, whom he had close ties, had committed suicide by jumping off a building.

Suicide by jumping off a building?!

How did this happen at such a crucial time?

He was mortified!

He understood that this matter had something to do with the Mu Group!

This was not all, though. Several other joint projects were either maliciously bought over or exposed as being in collusion with corrupt officials.

One of the legal persons, whom had deep connections with the Du family, was suspected of corruption and bribery. The central authorities were mobilized to participate in the investigation.

Feeling anxious and frightened, he suspended the development of the project to protect himself.

Unable to sleep soundly due to these unforeseen events over the past few days, he was entirely in a trance.

The projects on hand were all discontinued due to various problems.

How could it be a coincidence?

Why did it have to happen at this juncture?!

It was conceivable that someone was creating trouble!

Was the Mu Group determined to drive him to desperation?!

The contract was terminated; coupled with the project's suspension, the loss amounted to millions daily!

What would be the eventual outcome of losing in millions?

He would be debt-ridden in a matter of days! If this continued, his family would be finished!

Every day, he kept receiving calls demanding for payment. The penalty he must pay from the various breaches of contracts for the suspension of projects were astounding!

Chapter 935: Going Down on the Knees before Her

He got that Mu family was finding trouble with his!

Surviving in the capital for decades, he accumulated some connections, but they were all useless at this critical moment; he was denied entrance when he sought audience from them!

What a joke! Who would dare to have any ties with him at this period?

Were they lacking a punishment?

Mentally and physically exhausted, he suffered a heart attack and was now lying in the hospital.

Yun Shishi took a glance at the man and woman in front of her; both had wan and sallow faces. They spoke emotionally with sadness and agitation. Du Jiayan, in particular, upon seeing his family's business and his father's career, which he had spent half his life on, being destroyed with a few words from Mu Yazhe because of him, felt immensely remorseful.

Naturally, he treated Yun Shishi with fear and hatred, but he was also clear of her status in that man's heart. Even though he hated her, he did not dare to offend her, for it would mean offending that man again!

She was listening to him calmly, yet deep down, she was lamenting.

She did not know about this matter at all!

She was a little in a trance, too.

Never did she expect that a few words from her man could deal a fatal blow to the Du family; it sounded like an exaggeration, but that was truly the case here.

She solemnly said, "Actually, aren't you two pleading to the wrong person? I'm unable to decide the life and death of your family as I don't have such capability."

"You... You'll help us, right?" Filled with worries, he seemed to have aged overnight as a few gray strands could be found on his head.

Huang Lili kept silent at the side.

In fact, at the first sign of trouble, she was prepared to abandon the Du family.

Husband and wife were just temporary communions, after all. They could only go on their separate ways and seek happiness separately when there was trouble.

Besides, she was not married to him yet, and now that his family was in a fix, it was natural for her to leave in search of another wealthy partner!

However, knowing her thoughts, he threatened that if she were to desert him at this critical period, he would kill her!

Only then did she dispel those thoughts as she feared for her life.

He was depressed; at the same time, he resented Huang Lili to the extreme.

He had always been concerned about his reputation and he doted on her a lot. Originally a playboy, he, too, wanted to settle down and start a family with her!

However, he did not expect that a class reunion would bring him such a calamity!

He was now on the verge of collapsing!

After experiencing these matters, he matured overnight and realized that he was insensible for bringing such a destructive disaster to his family!

Upon Yun Shishi's continued silence, he knelt on the ground with great determination.

His action surprised his girlfriend, the latter felt humiliated. She was already down and out, yet he still went down on his knees; where should she hide her face now?

He knelt on the ground and kowtowed to Yun Shishi. Tears were pouring down his face. "I was wrong before, but it's entirely my responsibility; how could I implicate my family for the mistake I've committed alone? I was at fault; I really know now what I've done wrong! Still, could you please take pity on us? I only beg for you not to drive my family to such an end! My father is old, and his body isn't well; he's now bedridden from suffering such a heavy blow! I'll accept your punishment, but now at this stage..."

Chapter 936: I did not say that I will forgive you.

He raised his face and cried, "I don't care what happens to me. If you still hate me, I'll do anything you want me to do! I can even pay with my life, but I beg you to spare my family!"

Huang Lili was thoroughly embarrassed, and she covered her face in utter exasperation.

Although Yun Shishi seemed composed on the outside, she sympathized with him on the inside.

"You don't have to kneel before me; I don't hate you."

"Really?!" He raised his head, a little in disbelief.

She nodded.

He was not the one in the wrong, and she was also not so petty to drive him such an end over a few words!

She had always believed in leaving some leeway for people.

If this was his punishment; it was already enough.

It should end here!

“So you... So you are willing to plead for my family?” Du Jiayan’s eyes were misty.

“I’ll give it a try!”

“Does that mean you forgive me now?!” With a sincere look, he repeatedly explained, “Yun Shishi, I know now that I was wrong previously. Please forgive me, alright?”

“Alright. Quickly get up...” she helplessly answered.

Only then did he dare to stand up, his face finally relaxing a little.

Seeing that she had relented, Huang Lili heaved a sigh of relief, too.

The other, alas, declared, “Huang Lili, don’t be mistaken. I’m only forgiving him, but I didn’t say that I’ll forgive you.”

Because some mistakes are unforgivable even in a lifetime!

Her words shocked her. She wanted to say something, but the other already stood up. “That’s it. I’ll find a way to settle this matter. You all should go now.”

With that, she left the RV and the two with stunned faces.

“Jiayan, what did she mean?”

He wiped his tears away before glancing at her, snorting. “Don’t you know in your heart what she meant?!”

...

The sky had not darkened by the time Yun Shishi reached home.

Pushing open the door to the study room, she found Youyou helping Little Yichen with his homework.

For the past few days, the older brother had been staying over and sticking closely to the younger one.

Even though Youyou had verbally expressed his disdain, he did not seem to hate his brother’s presence that much anymore. The house was also livelier with the two little lads around. At least, it was not as lonely as before.

Little Yichen sat before the desk with his homework spread across in front of him. He wore a bitter look on his face as he held a pen in his hand.

The younger twin stood at the side with his arms crossed and a look of disdain on his face. From time to time, he would roll up the newspaper and hit his brother’s head with it. “Stupid! You don’t even know how to do such a simple question!”

“Woo...” The older boy blinked aggrievedly, as if he were about to cry.

She sighed.

When Mu Yazhe returned home, he found her gently swinging on the swing in the backyard. Her gaze was distant. Sitting amid the moon flower shrubs, she was as beautiful as a goddess in a painting.

He walked over and gave her a hug from the back.

The woman looked up and smiled at him. "You're back."

"Hm!"

He kissed her on the forehead. "When did you come back?"

"Past 3 PM; filming ended early today.

"Oh, yes!" She grinned. "Thanks for the RV; I love it!"

His lips lifted into a smile, but he did not comment further, only gently pushing her up. With a soft sound from the ropes, the swing gradually swayed.

"Mu Yazhe..." she blurted out.

"Hm?"

"Du Jiayan came looking for me today," she slowly confessed.

He raised a brow slightly. "He went looking for you?"

Chapter 937: Pregnant?

"He went looking for you?"

The man knitted his brows.

"Did you do those things?" she asked tentatively.

He did not speak. Getting what she meant, he neither denied nor acknowledged it.

The swing gradually came to a stop.

Standing behind her, he was so silent that not a sound was heard.

She said, "Let the Du family off."

He seized her jaw as his gaze turned cold slightly. His voice was soft and frosty when he spoke.

"Why? Does your heart ache for him?"

"No! Why would my heart ache for him?"

She broke into a smile. "I only think that, if this is a punishment, it's harsh enough. We don't have to drive them to such an end, do we?"

He snorted. "Hmph! This stupid woman is so kind! Are you forgiving him just like that?"

"I may have forgiven him, but I didn't say that I'll forgive Huang Lili! I won't intervene with what you do to her, but the Du family is innocent, after all," she said sincerely.

Looking at her clear and charming eyes, he suddenly dipped his head to seal her little, red lips tightly. With his deep voice, he agreed, "Alright! I promise you that I'll let him off!"

As he pecked her on the lips, he added. "But I'm not letting that woman off!"

She pursed her lips and said nothing.

She would not forgive that woman, too!

After all, Huang Lili was truly abominable. She was not gracious enough to forgive someone who would harm her in such an unbridled manner!

Youyou was done cooking dinner; he specially prepared braised pork belly for tonight.

However, when she sat at the table, she felt nauseous at the sight and smell of this plate of greasy meat.

She tried hard to endure it, but her face showed discomfort.

"Mommy, I've specially prepared your favorite braised pork belly." He gently smiled at her in consideration.

She nodded. Holding up the chopsticks, she picked a piece of pork belly and delivered it into her mouth as she endured her nausea. The fresh and tender meat juice flowed into her mouth cavity when she bit into it, but the nausea was getting more and more intense.

Her shoulders shuddered involuntarily, and she could not help but spit the meat aside.

The lad frowned. "Mommy, what's wrong?"

Mommy loved his braised pork belly; why did she seem weird today?

Was there an aberration in his cooking, resulting in the food to taste bad?

He did not believe it, so he picked a piece to taste for himself; it was fresh, fragrant, and delicious, though.

Why did his mother spit out the meat, then?

He suddenly felt hurt at her action.

Seeing his hurt look, she promptly said, "Youyou, the food is delicious."

"Then, mommy..."

"I don't have much of an appetite today."

He spoke. "Yes, I don't know why, but mommy's appetite is really bad recently; that's why I prepared braised pork belly to make up for it."

Afraid that he would be hurt by this, she picked up the meat in the bowl. Alas, upon seeing the luster of the braised pork belly, she was unable to put it in her mouth. She knew of how delicious it tasted, but just the thought of it alone made her tremble. Covering her mouth, she ran into the bathroom and vomited in the toilet bowl.

Mu Yazhe's gaze changed when he saw her disheveled appearance in the bathroom. "What's wrong?"

"..." Before she could answer him, she retched for quite a while again.

The man suddenly realized that her symptoms seemed to suggest that she was pregnant!

The two kids ran over worriedly. Youyou was especially tensed at the sight of his mommy retching; his little hands tugged at the hem of his clothes as he worried needlessly.

"Mommy, what's wrong?"

Chapter 938: I do not care if you want it or not.

"Mommy is not feeling well. You two go ahead and have your meal first." With a few words, Mu Yazhe waved them aside.

Youyou pouted. Although he was unwilling, he obediently returned to the dining table with his brother, but at this point, he had already lost his appetite.

After vomiting for a while, Yun Shishi picked up the mouthwash to rinse her mouth. As the man walked over to her side, the mirror reflected his strange smile. "What's wrong? Are you not feeling well?"

"Mu Yazhe..." She pursed her lips in embarrassment. "I feel that something is off with me."

"Hm? What's wrong?" he asked in a hushed tone. She failed to pick up on the delight in his eyes, though!

She blushed as she raised her head and asked him cryptically, "Previously, when we did that, did you..."

"What's that?" He seemed to be challenging her as he leaned his handsome face closer.

"It's that..."

She pursed her lips repeatedly in shame and frustration.

How could this man be so evil?! It was clear that he was teasing her!

"Well?" She pressed her lips tightly together and refused to speak further. Her face flushed with shame and annoyance, looking young and ignorant.

"Did you use protection?"

"No."

"Did you... release it... inside... me?" Her whisper was so soft that it sounded like the buzzing of a fly!

He found her appearance to be very interesting and could not help giving her cheek a peck. "Are you pregnant?"

"I don't know, but... I don't have much appetite lately, and I often retch in the morning. My period... is late, too." The further she said, the softer her voice got.

He raised a brow as his pupils dilated slightly, followed by the slight arching of his mouth.

His face of joy formed a sharp contrast to her face of worry.

The woman did not notice the change in his expression and only continued speaking. "It will be bad if I'm really pregnant..."

The man's smile cooled off slightly.

Disgruntled, she pushed him. "It's your fault! Why didn't you take any precaution?" she accused, clearly blaming him.

He frowned and then questioned, "Why is there a need to take precaution?"

"Because I don't wanna get pregnant!" she answered righteously.

"You don't want to give birth?" The smile on his face vanished. Her words were undoubtedly a basin of cold water splashed at him, and his face turned cold completely.

All of a sudden, he pulled her closer to him and grabbed her jaw. In a slightly displeased and dangerous tone, he asked, "Why? Don't want to?"

Did this woman not want to get pregnant or did she not want to have his child?

She was a little taken aback by the dangerous aura he was giving off. "I don't wish to be pregnant at this point in time."

Besides, she already had the twins; it was enough to have the two kids.

His eyes narrowed. He was jovial that she was pregnant with his child, so her look of distress naturally ticked him off!

"I don't care if you want it or not." His tyranny was evident at this moment.

She pursed her lips. "It's not certain that I'm pregnant."

Not allowing any excuses from her, he took her hand and turned to leave.

She struggled for a bit, a little frightened and wary of his actions. "What are you doing?"

"We're going to the hospital!" There was no room for resistance!

He drove her all the way to the hospital.

Chapter 939: Flowers bloom and blossom!

His arrival alarmed the vice president, who happened to be on duty, into leading a team of staff to wait for him at the entrance!

With a hand draped on her shoulder, Mu Yazhe swept them a glance and said, "Do a checkup on her. Remember not to make a mistake!"

The staff naturally followed his order without a word!

After a series of examinations, the doctor carefully watched his mood when he received the report.
“Chairman Mu, the results are out. She’s not pregnant.”

“Not pregnant?”

He raised a brow, clearly surprised by this result.

Yun Shishi was equally astonished, of course. She was surprised at first but soon settled down.

The man took a glance at her, extremely displeased by the result.

“I’ve been retching lately. What’s going on, then? Besides, my period has been delayed for quite some time!”

The doctor answered, “Generally, it is caused by acute gastritis and is associated with weak stomach, heat, and humidity. You should pay more attention to the regularity of your diet and avoid raw, cold, and spicy food. We shall see how it goes! As for your delayed period, it’s probably due to hormonal imbalance.”

His tone was careful yet respectful. “Do you stay up late to work?”

“Yes...” She nodded.

Recently, she had been up late. This was to catch up with the filming schedule. She was not tired from filming, but sometimes, even if the scenes did not require her, she still had to wait on the set.

“It’s best if you can have a regular sleeping pattern, or else hormonal imbalance will persist and result in the delay of your period.”

The doctor advised her again.

At the side, the man’s face had completely cooled off.

Even on their way home, he maintained a cold expression and did not speak a word.

She broke into laughter. “Why? Are you very disappointed that I’m not pregnant?”

He kept his gaze straight ahead.

He was beyond disappointed.

In short, this woman was glad that she was not pregnant.

Once the filming of the movie was concluded, there would be a long period of publicity, and it required her to travel across the country for promotional shows.

She sneaked a peek at him and felt a little helpless at his cold face.

That night, as she lay in bed, his big, imposing body covered her.

She was startled to see his handsome face drawing closer to her; his eyes were dark with raging desires.

She retreated slightly, sticking her back to the headboard, but he got closer and closer, like a determined hunter.

She smiled warily at him. "You... What are you doing?"

Puffing out his breath, the man brushed her cheek in an evily charming manner. "Doing something that is required in lovemaking."

Her face turned hot in an instant; it flushed as red as blood!

This man...

How could he so calmly say such... embarrassing words?!

He pressed his forehead against hers and held her waist in his palms. His thin lips arched into an irresistibly charming smile. "Say; should I work harder for a bit?"

"Work harder for what?"

The man evily answered, "Flowers bloom and blossom."

...

Flowers bloom... and blossom...

Gosh. What a connotation.

Her face heated up and she covered it, feeling that he was bad at times.

"I don't wish to give birth to another child." Her face crumbled. "I already have the twins."

"Not enough."

Already pressed up against her, he pulled her into his embrace, and in an instant, she was in his arms in an ambiguous position. He pressed tightly against her as he reiterated, "Not enough!"

Chapter 940: Imminent

"?"

She struggled, but he did not let her escape. Pressing his hand on her waist, her entire body plastered to him.

A certain area was pressing tightly against him.

She pursed her lips.

"Let's have a daughter, hm?" He had a clear goal in his eyes. Sans giving her a chance to voice her opinion, he sealed her lips with his.

"Umph..."

Her protest was drowned by his aggressive kiss.

That evening, Mu Yazhe was especially hardworking.

Outside the door, the two little lads stealthily stuck their ears to the door and eavesdropped on the 'profound mystery' within. They regarded each other with blank dismay; one had a puzzled look on his face, whereas the other was speechless with shame.

"Youyou..." The older boy lightly jabbed the younger one by the waist and then whispered to his ear, "What are mommy and daddy doing?"

The younger lad got startled by his sudden closeness as he had a guilty conscience. Patting his startled chest, he covered his brother's face with his hand in disdain and pushed him far from him. "This is philosophy; you won't understand it."

"..." The older boy's face turned wooden.

He leaned in again. "Then, do you?"

The younger one cleared his throat and moved to return to their room with a red face.

Little Yichen followed eagerly. He closed the bedroom door and asked cheekily, "What... does 'flowers bloom and blossom' mean, then?"

"I'm not telling you."

"Say it; say it. Since you're so smart, you should know what it means."

The younger twin, in fact, was clueless on the phrase's meaning, too, and just wanted to look omniscient and enigmatic in front of his brother!

"I'm not telling you, and that's final!" He pursed his lips, deliberately keeping his brother in suspense.

The older twin was a little angry at this, so he threw them both to the bed and mounted his attack by pinching the ticklish spots on his brother's waist.

Unable to withstand this onslaught, Youyou burst out in fits of giggles.

"Tell me; tell me..."

"M-Mu Yichen... ha ha ha ha! S-Stop it..."

The older lad very appreciated his pleading look; this tactic was always effective.

His younger brother could not stand being tickled the most.

"Ha ha ha ha... D-Don't do it anymore... It's t-ticklish... Ha ha ha!"

They were so loud that it startled the two people in the master bedroom.

Yun Shishi took a glance at the man and laughed. "Those two fellows aren't asleep yet?"

"Leave them alone." Unhappy that her attention was on other matters, Mu Yazhe leaned over to seal her soft lips with his once more.

Hence, the room was filled with lust.

The Mu residence.

Mu Wanrou paced back and forth in the study room.

She was afraid of going outdoors now, for she knew that no matter where she went, Mu Lianjue would have people tailing her. Aaron's murder was, undoubtedly, a warning to her!

After a period of getting along with him, she knew that he did not like others disobeying him and acting on their own.

This point was very similar to Mu Yazhe!

Her secret rendezvous with Aaron had certainly angered him.

However, even though he had a well-thought-out plan, she still felt greatly uneasy.

The media conference was imminent. Mu Yazhe had already arranged everything, and in another week, he would hold announce to the public their wedding date.

After a psychological turmoil, she realized that this media conference might not be so simple!

Where were Yun Shishi and Yun Tianyou?