

《Sweet Marriage: Smart Cute Wife》

Chapter 106

After sending the little guy to the kindergarten, Xia Jinsheng returned to his school.

Strangely, the students who usually greet her retreat one by one, and some unknown people will always cast strange eyes and point at her. When she was in her sight, she would turn her back to talk to the people around her or see the scenery.

What happened today? Did she do something famous overnight?

This idea was quickly rejected by her. Yesterday she just took a leave to be Qiao qiuruo's car to see Gu Wensheng.

When she arrived in the classroom, the original noisy atmosphere cooled down instantly, and curious eyes looked at her, trying to stop talking.

What evil wind is blowing today? One by one so abnormal. She went to her seat and sat down. A girl at the back table pinched ah Fang's waist and pushed close to her.

Xia Jinsheng held his chest with both hands and was full of momentum. "If you have something, just say it."

Take a deep breath at the same table, take out your mobile phone bravely and devote yourself, click to open a page and hand it to Xia Jinsheng, "what's said above can't be true?"

"What's true or false? I still cook it." Xia Jinsheng didn't understand his intention and joked heartlessly. When she saw the content in her mobile phone, she was completely silent.

What ah Fang showed her was a post on the campus website, which was satirically written in capital black song style, "shock! The title of "helping beautiful school flowers".

Then the landlord explained what it was. A female student of our school didn't work hard because of her beauty. She colluded with men everywhere and wrote that people and gods were angry. Xia Jinsheng had a hunch and slid down. Sure enough, she saw her picture.

The photos are secretly taken. There are photos of yourself entering the luxury car. The first one is Gu Nanchen's car, the second one is er Chun's car, the third one is Wei Qing's Ferrari, and the fourth one looks familiar

It happened that Qiao qiuruo was secretly photographed when he came to pick him up at school yesterday. Xia Jinsheng touched his chin and felt it for a while. It was found that the photographer was very skilled. There must be a man in the photo when the opposite sex came to pick him up, while she was the only one of the same sex.

Its sinister intentions are really amazing.

The people next to her were a little nervous when they saw that she had been staring at her mobile phone for a long time. They asked one after another, "Jin Sheng, isn't this true?"

Some of the people who usually dislike her are even more sarcastic, "is there anything else to say? He looks like a fox face. How can he admit that he has done such a dirty business? "

Fox face? Xia Jinsheng subconsciously touched her face. It seems that she hasn't reached the point of bringing disaster to the country and the people, has she? It's not sudaji.

"This classmate, would you please pay attention to your words and deeds? Be careful I sue you for slander. " Xia Jinsheng slightly hooked his lips, and no one smiled as standard. Some boys were directly bribed by her laughter to cry out for her:

"That is, you can eat freely, but you can't talk nonsense. Do you have any evidence? "

"Isn't the evidence obvious? Those photos are evidence of her assistance. "

The boy who asked the rhetorical question was an interesting person. He drove very happily in the class. At that time, he rudely accepted him back, "tomorrow, I'll take a luxury car too. How about you say I'm kept?"

Suddenly burst into laughter. At first, the girl who scolded Xia Jinsheng couldn't answer and left angrily.

The eyes of the remaining people continued to stay on Xia Jinsheng. The gossip eyes were about to pierce Xia Jinsheng. Without changing her face, she took out her mobile phone, clicked on the post and replied:

The investigation is not true. It has been reported. Thank you.

Then she really reported it. After all this, she sent a text message to Gu Nanchen. Soon, those who were blown out by herself were looking forward to a tear. When she clicked in, she found that the post had been deleted.

Someone opened another post. Boring people gathered together to discuss the deletion of the post.

Passerby A: the post was deleted as soon as the party replied. I smell a different smell.

Passerby B: maybe it's a misunderstanding. The landlord's conscience found that the post was deleted.

Different white lotus: bah! Don't think I'll compromise to the dark ones if I hack my computer. Xia Jinsheng is a disgusting green tea bitch. What's the use of pretending to be pure? He's not selling his body

The content behind was ugly. Xia Jinsheng didn't read it. The ID of this "different white lotus" was the landlord who posted that she helped. She wondered where she had offended him.

Originally, she wanted to send another text message to Gu Nanchen, but she saw a message on the post that the ID of the white lotus had been sealed.

Don't want to know who did it. Her brain made up to the white lotus with a gloomy look on her face. However, Gu Nanchen solved the problem on the Internet, but it has spread in campus life.

People familiar with her believed her character, while people unfamiliar with her still pointed and looked at her strangely.

"Why are you so calm? It's me. I've blown it up! " Ah Fang looked worried and indignant for her at the same time. Because Xia Jinsheng has explained to her that she just has a little money at home. Those are her friends. Ah Fang didn't ask much, but her subsequent exchanges were careful, as if she were a national treasure animal.

Xia Jinsheng knows why she can make friends with people who own Ferrari. Naturally, her identity is different. Now she wants to cut and cook those people who don't know what a low-key is.

In addition, she is not calm at all! She could not wait to find out the man who secretly photographed her, hang him up and whip him.

After school, Xia Jinsheng was still packing up in the classroom. A girl hurried in to inform her, "Jinsheng, Jinsheng, it's over. Some people carry advertisements everywhere to publicize that you are an unmarried mother. Mother and son are expensive. "

What? The book in Xia Jinsheng's hand suddenly fell off his feet. It's painful! She didn't have time to sigh, so she ran out of the school gate and saw two people wearing masks standing at the school gate sharing their work and distributing something.

She walked into the crowded crowd and picked up one of the pieces of advertising paper with a picture of her with the little guy. The words were so ugly.

She said that she was pregnant before marriage. Yuxiu was a wild child without a father. For money, she let children enter the entertainment industry and used the money she got to go to school on her own. She was selfish.

Xia Jinsheng was stunned. After reading those words, he hated himself a little. What's the matter?

The woman who advertised saw it all at once. She pushed away the students around her and pointed to Xia Jinsheng. "Let's have a look. This shameless woman is coming."

Most of her face was covered, but Xia Jinsheng still heard it in her voice. It was clear that this woman was Shang Sijie. So

His eyes turned to the tall man. The other party dodged first, and soon straightened out her chest and pointed at her and scolded, "she is a dissolute woman. She began to climb a man's bed when she was a teenager and gave birth to a little bastard."

The moment he opened his mouth, Xia Jinsheng decided that this man must be Lu Jun, helping an unworthy little star to abuse her. Is he tired of living?

Even in this crucial moment, Xia Jin Sheng did not forget to make complaints about his own blind eyes.

"The children born of bad women are not good things. They play their best at a young age. This kind of person should not live in the world..." Seeing Xia Jinsheng never spoke, Shang Sijie became more arrogant and scolded again with Lu Jun.

Men and women work together, not tired. Shang Sijie is in collusion with Lu Jun. she hasn't stopped talking since the beginning. She is full of vicious language and doesn't have a heavy sample.

The uninformed students sighed for a while, and some "just" people simply scolded together.

Xia Jinsheng didn't say a word in the whole process. His eyes were cold and mixed with frost, which might cause a snowstorm at any time. The scolder gradually lost his voice and was shocked by her aura.

Only Shang Sijie continued. She thought Xia Jinsheng was bluffing and scolding. But slowly she found something wrong, and Xia Jinsheng ignored her.

Instead, she was the one who seemed unreasonable, singing a funny monologue and acting like a clown jumping from a beam in front of her. She was silent, too.

"Finished scolding?" Xia Jinsheng mockingly raised the corners of his lips and smiled. The smile was as terrible and gloomy as the devil in hell. She had taken out her mobile phone, "just scold. Let's wait for the police to have tea."

Seeing that she was going to recruit the police, there was no joke in her serious expression. Shang Sijie immediately withered and pulled Lu Jun to leave, swearing: "crazy, who wants to go to the police station with you? I think cheap people like you should be brought into the police station."

They pushed aside the students who were watching, walked in a hurry, stumbled under their feet and nearly fell down. They looked funny and ridiculous.

"Go? I see who dares to go! "

The voice of domineering side leakage came from outside the crowd. With the king's presence in the world, the noisy atmosphere just now became audible even when a needle fell.

The onlookers consciously made way. Shang Sijie and Lu Jun were going to rush out from here, but their legs and stomach trembled when they saw the man coming in front.

Some people who have seen Gu Nanchen have recognized him. With a cry of surprise, many people take a breath. How can the famous people in this city appear here?

The siren sounded from far to near. Several well-trained policemen ran down from several police cars. Several of them came forward to catch Shang Sijie and Lu Jun and put handcuffs on them.

This sudden change caught the onlookers unprepared. As for Shang Sijie and Lu Jun, they had already been stunned by the battle in front of them, and the atmosphere didn't dare to breathe.

Xia Jinsheng came forward, pretended to be a tiger, pulled down Shang Sijie's mask, patted her beautiful face, applauded clearly, and said word by word: "Miss Shang, didn't you scold crazy just now?"

Now Shang Sijie is a kneaded dough, which is not in sharp contrast with before. Xia Jinsheng was angry and slapped her face.

She suddenly missed the little guy's bamboo board. If she had that thing now, it would make Shang Sijie a brilliant flower on her face.

Gu Nanchen came forward and held her hand. Shang Sijie's grateful star eyes only heard his gentle tone, "don't fight, your hand hurts."

The new lengtouqing policeman looked at the scene in front of him. He felt a little inappropriate. He asked for instructions from his head, but saw his eyes glancing randomly. He sighed, "what a beautiful view of the school! When I was young... "
