

《Sweet Marriage: Smart Cute Wife》

Chapter 108

Shang Sijie returned home restlessly, and there was a wind under her feet.

"Is anyone after you? Why is it so urgent? " A female voice like a yellow warbler suddenly sounded and startled her. Only when she calmed down did she find that she was a little star with the same 18 lines as herself.

The startled discovery was not Xia Jinsheng. She was relieved and spilled her anger on the visitor, "what are you doing here?"

Her tone was not good. The little star scratched a cruel color at the bottom of her eyes, but she quickly covered it up and smiled, "I miss you. Let's have a look."

Bring along to show off that you are a female sophomore now. Because of Shang Sijie's scandal, she succeeded in replacing each other. In the past, Shang Sijie bullied her by taking advantage of her advantages. Now she doesn't return with a tooth for a tooth. How can she be reconciled?

Although Shang Sijie let people into the house, she still didn't welcome this person and even took precautions. Since she fell down, the people who used to flatter her fell down one by one.

When the little star saw the diamond necklace on Shang Sijie's desk that she forgot to clean up, she completely straightened her eyes. Shang Sijie screamed bad, but she was a little elated because of her envy and flattery:

"Sister Sijie, you are a real person. You don't show your face. This necklace is so beautiful."

Vanity was suddenly satisfied. Shang Sijie lied that it was sent by her suitor. When she received the jealous eyes of the other party, she couldn't find the north.

Foiled by the little star, the necklace was vaguely lent to her for a few days. The little star made it a condition to help her find a role.

Of course, Shang Sijie, who was dazzled by vanity, didn't know at all. The little star was completely lying to her. Just to cheat the necklace, I finally want to deny it and take it for myself.

On the other side, Xia Jinsheng was wrapped tightly in the quilt, playing with her mobile phone, and her serious face was faintly illuminated on the screen.

One or two months before the arrival of spring, Wei Qing has begun to plan the spring new product exhibition.

Hearing the news, Xia Jinsheng immediately sent a wechat to Wei Qing: do you still want me to be a model?

can't.

Wei Qing replied quickly. Behind the message was a smiling face.

It turns out that this exhibition is no longer just his personal show, but also a link to raise the popularity of new designers. Give them a chance to show their works, which is very similar to Gu Wensheng's original painting exhibition.

Xia Jinsheng realized that Wei Qing's new product launch was for her to practice her hand. For the first time, it was impossible to put her design on the table without tension.

She hesitated and sent a message to Wei Qing: do you think I can? No confidence.

The other party only returned two words: come on.

The simple two words gave Xia Jinsheng an invisible encouragement. The position of her atrium was pounding. She knew she didn't want to miss this opportunity.

Just about to reply to Wei Qing, the mobile phone suddenly got out of control and was pulled away. The familiar question was introduced into the nasal cavity, so that Xia Jinsheng didn't scream, but he was still frightened by Gu Nanchen's silent appearance.

The light was turned on with a slap. The dazzling white light narrowed the conditioned reflex of the eyes adapted to the darkness. Xia Jinsheng raised his hand to block his eyes, with a little dissatisfaction, "what are you doing?"

"Playing with mobile phones in the dark is bad for your eyes. It's bad for the little guy."

Originally, Xia Jinsheng wanted to refute, but after using the last half sentence, he began to feel guilty. When he raised his eyes, he saw Gu Nanchen staring at her mobile phone and his face was heavy.

Uh, so it's a little cold?

"Contact him so late?" I don't know if it's Xia Jinsheng's illusion. Why does she think his words are so sour? In order to avoid any misunderstanding, she immediately said: "we are talking about the spring new product launch. Wei Qing wants me to practice. If you don't believe it, you can watch it."

Her face was sincere, and Gu Nanchen did not continue to chase. The most important thing between husband and wife was trust. Although he was a little concerned, he chose to believe Xia Jinsheng.

"But I have no confidence." Xia Jinsheng rolled around on the bed with her pillow and almost fell to the ground. Fortunately, Gu Nanchen caught her in time.

The big hand rubbed her soft hair, and her voice was low and hoarse. "I believe you."

The magnetic sound line made Xia Jinsheng blush instantly. He took the pillow and covered his face. What do you believe? It's too ashamed.

The big bed of Simmons beside him suddenly sank. Xia Jinsheng opened the pillow and looked at her suspiciously. "Did you sleep in different rooms?"

"When did we split up?" Gu Nanchen smiled and closed his mouth without mentioning what he had done at that time. He typically blinked and lied.

Xia Jinsheng grinned and decided that adults would not remember villains and would not discuss this topic with him, because she would lose in the end. Would she say it?

With Gu Nanchen's support, Xia Jinsheng pays more attention to design. In addition to normal learning campus life, when she sees her, she is basically reading all kinds of design books or painting on paper.

The design took away most of Xia Jinsheng's attention. Gu Nanchen suddenly regretted that she had been allowed to participate in Wei Qing's new product launch, and they spent less time together.

However, as the new year approached, the company was also busy, and Gu Nanchen was also lack of skills, which made him fail to practice his idea of secretly burning Xia Jinsheng's design book. On Saturday, Er Chun returned the necklace she had borrowed and asked her, "Jin Sheng, is there any mark on your necklace?" Although I don't know why she asked, Xia Jinsheng answered truthfully, "yes, the customized necklaces are engraved with JS and the vouchers of the jewelry store. What's the matter?" "That's right." Er Chun muttered, as if he were thinking about something.

He looked at Xia Jinsheng and wanted to stop talking. At first, Xia Jinsheng didn't pay attention to the drawing. After a long time, she also found something wrong. When she looked up, she saw Er Chun's suspicious face. She couldn't help laughing, "what's the matter?" "I seem to have found the necklace you lost." Xia Jinsheng was present as a family member at the crew's youth killing banquet for the second time. Yu Erchun... Went through the back door and was present as a good friend of the screenwriter. Because they are well-known directors in China, many stars and celebrities have sent congratulatory gifts, and some even attended in person. Just a youth killing banquet has been like this. Xia Jinsheng can't imagine what a grand occasion is when he waits for publicity. "That's the little star who replaces Shang Sijie." Er Chun pointed to a man dressed in a white dress. Xia Jinsheng's eyes were immediately taken away by the necklace around her neck. Isn't that her diamond necklace? With the value of this little star, it is absolutely impossible to afford it. Moreover, on his birthday, the old man specially invited French jewelry designers to customize it. She walked gracefully towards the little star with red wine, raised her glass and smiled, "Miss, can we talk?" The little star looked at her warily. Seeing that she was dressed appropriately, she was worried about what dignified characters did not dare to offend. She licked her lips, "do we have anything to talk about? I don't know you yet." "Of course, like the necklace around your neck." She shook the wine glass in her hand. The gorgeous red liquid was enchanting and made people's mind ripple. The little star had no blood on her face, her fingertips began to tremble, her eyes flashed, but she was still pretending to be calm, "what do you say, why don't I understand?" Xia Jinsheng didn't speak and stared at her, just like the popular expression "I'll watch you pretend quietly" on the Internet. In the end, the little star's psychological quality is not hard enough. In the future, long Qumai made it clear. invite wolves into the house. I had let Shang Sijie be a servant before. It was like inviting wolves into the house. Xia Jinsheng secretly scolded herself for being stupid. At this time, there was a sudden commotion outside. The director asked what was going on. He only heard the security guard at the door say "a woman named Shang Sijie said she was looking for our female number two". Xia Jinsheng's eyes narrowed slightly. She was about to find someone to settle accounts. She came to her door and, of course, went out for a meeting. She saw Shang Sijie pushing and shoving the security guard all the way. She didn't know what to shout. When the aggressive person saw Xia Jinsheng, she trembled fiercely. She almost turned around and wanted to escape from the scene, but Xia Jinsheng was willing? With her life, the bodyguard immediately grabbed her wrist. It was no use for her to struggle, and Xia Jinsheng had come to her. In her hand, there was a diamond necklace shining in the light of the street lamp, emitting beautiful and dangerous light. Shang Sijie's pupils widened several times. Now she was regretful "Aren't you going to explain it?" Xia Jinsheng pinched her chin and looked solemn. Shang Sijie made up her mind and shut up. She smiled, "then I can only call the police. The police will give me an answer." "No." As soon as she finished, Shang Sijie could not hold her breath. Her eyes were full of tears. She looked pathetic, "please." At that time, he was bewitched by this weak appearance. This time Xia Jinsheng will never leave trouble for himself. The police soon took Shang Sijie away. Several reporters interviewed at the banquet noticed that this scene was photographed. Xia Jinsheng borrowed their camera and found that he didn't have his own photo. The next day, the police found out that Shang Sijie had stolen several things from her house. Xia Jinsheng was very angry. Some valuable things had been sold by her. Shang Sijie had to pay back slowly after working. After Shang Sijie's affair broke out, Lu Jun was driven away by Gu Nanchen, and his family was rarely clean“ I've lost my family again. " Xia Jinsheng sat on the sofa and blamed himself. Gu Nanchen hugged her and said, "it's okay, it's not the first time." How can you hurt her in this situation? Xia Jinsheng twitched and pushed him away, picked up the brush and continued to design. About the works of the new product launch, she has slowly come up with ideas and plans to design lovers' clothes in spring. Classical Chinese style elements will be integrated into it, such as typical blue and white porcelain texture, and the collar and tie of Han clothes can be taken into account. Seeing her like this, Gu Nanchen knew that she was addicted to design drawings and that she had been ignored.